"What was it cured of?" asked the new boarder, suspiciously.—What-to-Eat.

Never Came His Way

Bill—Do you believe that riches have wings?

Jil—Can't say; they never seem to fly my way.—Yonkers Statesman.

IVERS & POND PIANOS.
BABY GRANDS.

Small in size, but large in volume and [illegible] tone. Fits beautifully into the corner of a small parlor or the middle of the large music room. It doesn't cost very much more than the upright and doesn't take up much more room. It's a wonderful creation both for power and quality of tone. We will place it in your home for trial at our expense and guarantee satisfaction. Easy monthly payments if you desire. Write us if you cannot call.

IVERS & POND PIANO CO.,

Eruptions.

"An eruption all over my body caused a burning sensation so I could not sleep nights. By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was completely cured." JENNIE THOMPSON, Box 36, Oakesville, N. Y.

Get only Hood's.

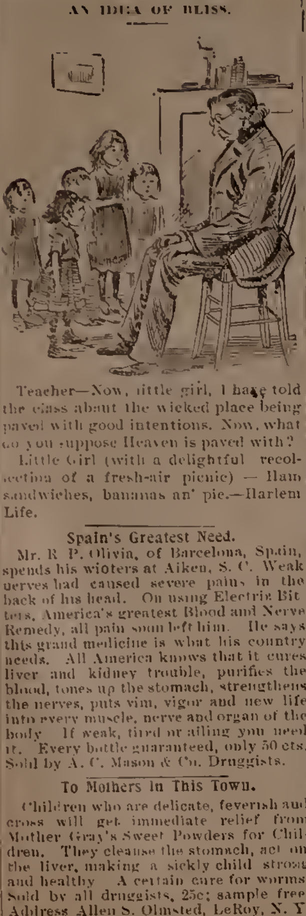
"Like Father, Like Child." Man is the sum of his ancestors." If parents wish healthy children, let them see that they themselves have pure, rich, strong blood. No taint of scrofula, no insidious malady, no lurking microbes or germs to be a curse to posterity. Purify the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the guardian of infants yet unborn. Buy it today.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Dyspepsia.

"I had dyspepsia in its worst form and tried many medicines, but found no relief until I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills. To my great joy I found relief and a cure. I am now well and strong." MARY E. BYRD, Olney, Ill.

AN IDEA OF BLISS.



Teacher—Now, little girl, I have told the class about the wicked place being paved with good intentions. Now, what do you suppose Heaven is paved with?

Little Girl (with a delightful recollection of a fresh-air picnic) — Ham sandwiches, bananas an' pie.—Harlem Life.

Spain's Greatest Need.

Mr. R. P. Olivia, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest Blood and Nerve Remedy, all pain soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. All America knows that it cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nerves, puts vim, vigor and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of the body. If weak, tired or ailing you need it. Every bottle guaranteed, only 50 cts. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. Druggists.

To Mothers in This Town.

Children who are delicate, feverish and cross will get immediate relief from Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children. They cleanse the stomach, act on the liver, making a sickly child strong and healthy. A certain cure for worms. Sold by all druggists, 25c; sample free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

The Fluent Trades.

"Who is that man over there who talks so much?"

"He's either a college professor or a barber."—Chicago Record.

A Difference of Opinion.

Jack—Ah, Mabel, you are the apple of my eye.

Mabel—That's funny. George says I'm a peach.—N. Y. Journal.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

mar17 1yr

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week.......... 50
Single Gallon......................... 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,

17-tfT

Have a Boiled Dinner

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs............10c | Smoked Bacon, strip...10c
Fancy Brisket........10c | Spinach, peck. 25c
Flank .... 6c | Dandelion.. ....30c
Smoked Shoulders..... 8c | Lettuce, each.......... 8c
Radishes, bunch....... 5c

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-tyS

SEND US ONE DOLLAR,

Cut this ad. out and send to us with $1.00, and we will send you this NEW IMPROVED PARLOR GEM ORGAN, by freight C. O. D., subject to examination. You can examine it at your nearest freight depot, and if you find it exactly as represented, [illegible] and far better than organs advertised by others at [illegible] agent OUR PRICE $35.50, less the $1.00 deposit, or $34.50 and freight charges. THE PARLOR GEM is one of the most DURABLE AND SWEETEST TONED instruments ever made. [illegible] the illustration shown, which is engraved direct from a photograph [illegible] some idea of its beautiful appearance. Made [illegible] sawed oak or walnut as desired, perforated [illegible] beautiful marquetry design panels and many other handsome decorations and ornaments, making it the VERY LATEST [illegible] GEM is 6 feet high, 42 inches long, 23 inches wide and weighs [illegible] pounds. Contains 5 octaves, 11 stops, as follows: Diapason, Principal, Dulciana, Melodia, Celeste, Cremona, Bass Coupler, Treble Coupler, Diapason Forte and Vox Humana; 2 Octave Couplers, 1 Tone Swell, 1 Grand Organ Swell, 4 Sets of Orchestral Toned Resonatory Pipe Quality Reeds, 1 Set of 37 Pure Sweet Melodia Reeds, 1 Set of 37 Charmingly Brilliant Celeste Reeds, 1 Set of 24 Rich Mellow Smooth Diapason Reeds, 1 Set of Pleasing Soft Melodious Principal Reeds. THE PARLOR GEM action consists of the Celebrated Newell Reeds, which are only used in the highest grade instruments; fitted with Hammond Couplers and Vox Humana, also best Dolge felts, leathers, etc., bellows of the best rubber cloth, 3-ply bellows stock and [illegible] leather in valves. THE PARLOR GEM is furnished with a 14x14 beveled plate French mirror, nickel plated pedal frames, and every modern improvement. We furnish free a handsome organ stool and the best organ instruction book published.

GUARANTEED 25 YEARS. With every PARLOR GEM ORGAN we issue a written binding 25 year guarantee, by the terms and conditions of which if any part gives out we repair it free of charge. Try it one month and we will refund your money if you are not perfectly satisfied. 500 of these organs will be sold at $35.50. ORDER AT ONCE. DON'T DELAY.

OUR RELIABILITY IS ESTABLISHED If you have not dealt with us ask your neighbor about us, write the publisher of this paper or Metropolitan National Bank, or Corn Nat. Bank, of Chicago; or German Exchange Bank, New York; or any railroad or express company in Chicago. We have a capital of over $700,000.00, occupy entire one of the largest business blocks in Chicago, and employ nearly 2000 people in our own building. WE SELL ORGANS AT $22.00 and up; PIANOS, $115.00 and up; also everything in musical instruments at lowest wholesale prices. Write for free special organ, piano and musical instrument catalogue. Address, (Sears, Roebuck & Co. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. (Inc.), Fulton, Desplaines and Wayman Sts., CHICAGO, ILL.

ja1Tes9t

BRAINARD'S NEW METHOD ORGAN

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
SAVINGS BANK,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, CHAS. J. McKENZIE, } Vice-Presidents.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, Chas. J. McKenzie, E. P. Chapman, Charles Stewart, George W. Wiggin.

STATEMENT APRIL 30, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors	$559,900 72
Guarantee Fund	27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account	6,268 89
Interest Account	6,696 14
Real Estate Income Account	184 53
Tax account	32 25
		$600,835 31

ASSETS.

Real Estate by Foreclosure	$20,76[illegible] 00
Town and City Bonds	7,071 25
Bank Stock	28,189 32
Railroad Bonds	156,262 50
Loaned on Bank Stock	6,350 00
" " Mortgages	166,360 00
" " Personal Securities	144,766 86
" " Railroad Stock	11,000 00
Bank Books	1,500 00
Town Notes	5,000 00
Expense Account	724 03
Bank Furniture	600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$34,373 14
Nat. Bank of Redemption	14,451 53
Mercantile Trust Co	1,926 54
		50,751 21
Cash on hand		1,497 14
		$600,835 31

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.

Sept. 5th, 1879.

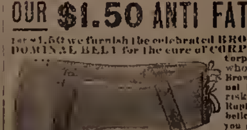
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

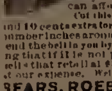
OUR $1.50 ANTI FAT BELT

For $1.50 we furnish the celebrated BROWN'S ABDOMINAL BELT for the cure of CORPULENCY. Corpulent people who wear the Brown's Abdominal Belt run no risk of Navel Rupture or Umbelical Hernia; you get a comfort and ease of action you will appreciate. No corpulent person can afford to be without this belt.

Cut this Ad. out and send to us with $1.50 and 10 cents extra for postage, state height, weight, age and number inches around the body, largest part, and we will send the belt to you by mail postpaid, with the understanding that if it is not perfectly satisfactory and equal to belts that retail at $3.00 and upwards you can return it at our expense. Write for free Belt and Truss Catalogue.

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO., CHICAGO





PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

11-4wmy

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md. Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

News and Opinions OF National Importance.

THE SUN
ALONE
CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN
EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON)

Orders leave Franklin at 8 05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

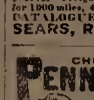
Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-F1f

ONLY $5.00

SEND US $5.00 as a guarantee of good faith and we will send you any fire proof safe by freight, C. O. D., subject to examination. You can examine it at your freight depot and if you find it the equal of any fire proof combination lock iron and steel safe made and about one-third the price charged by others for the same size and grade, pay your freight agent our special factory price and freight charges, less the $5.00 sent with order; otherwise return it at our expense and we will return your $5.00. 100-lb. combination lock safes for the home, $6.95; 300-lb. office and store safes, $11.95; 500 lbs., $17.95; 700 lbs., $21.95; 1000 lbs., $28.50; 1250 lbs., $33.50; very large double outside and double inside door safes for large business, factory, jewelry or bank, 50 inches high, 2400 lbs., $63.75; 68 inches high, 5000 lbs., $89.75. Freight averages 25 cents per 100 lbs. for 500 miles; for 1000 miles, 40 cents. WRITE FOR FREE SAFE CATALOGUE and special liberal C. O. D. offer.

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. Chicago.



CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co. Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

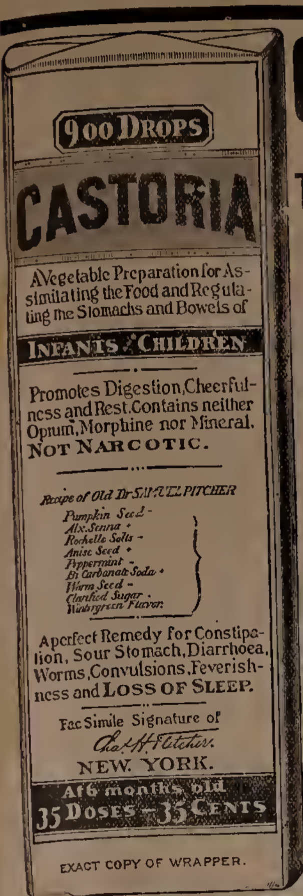
ap27-4w

No Medicines! No Appliances!

PERFECT HEALTH, BODILY DEVELOPMENT and BEAUTY ASSURED. Life power, nerve force and freedom from disease by simple forms of self aid. ADVICE FREE.

Address: BOSTON DIETARY, Box [illegible] Boston, Mass.

ap27-4w



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna +
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed +
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda +
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar .
Wintergreen Flavor.
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES — 35 CENTS
EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Destiny.

I was once a great reformer with a purpose stanch and true,
To show misguided people just the things they ought to do.
But the way the opposition tried to cheat me was a shame.
My only chance to beat 'em was to learn their little game.

So I had to drop my objects philanthropic and high-toned.
My plans of reformation for the present were postponed.
Quoth I: "Unless I hit the pace and lead 'em in the dance,
My elevated purposes will never get a chance."

But when I got elected and had climbed to lofty heights,
Their scheme to throw me down brought weary days and anxious nights.
I had to keep on guessing as to "who" and "when" and "how."
I was once a great reformer. I'm a politician now.
—Washington Star.

A Lowly Life.

So uncomplainingly she bore the moil
Of housewife care and unremitting toil,
And, be it said, throughout her length of days
Her womanly reward was stinted praise.
She lived a life as lowly as the loam,
Yet just her patient smile suggested home
And mother-love that watched o'er trundle-bed,
Till e'en the praiseless husband often said
She made his home-life happy.

So, when the friends had crossed upon her breast
Her tired hands, that she might better rest,
And noted the angelic smile of peace
She wore at labor's end and toil's surcease,
An epitaph to mark her grave they framed,
And, while no deed of martyrdom was named,
The lines told all of wife and mother strife—
They writ beneath her name: "A Farmer's Wife—
She made his home-life happy."
—Roy Farrell Greene, in Good Housekeeping.

Life's Daily Tasks.

Thy daily tasks are hard for thee,
O toiler of the earth!
Thou seest not the dignity
That gives them priceless worth.

So might a child, with careless thought,
Throw by the half-writ page,
Nor even know how far it taught
The lessons of his age.

Thou learnst o'er and o'er again
In painful ways and slow,
The wisdom God would share with men—
The lore His angels know

'Tis He who sent necessity
To guide thy wayward tread,
And bids thee find in service free
Thy daily heavenly bread.

O love thy life and hold it dear—
O count it sweet and blest!
It is thy friend, to show thee clear
Thy loving Lord's behest.
—Elizabeth French, in Springfield (Mass.) Republican

You May Need
Pain-Killer
For ACCIDENTS
Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Wounds, &c., &c.
It gives instant relief and cures quickly.
In case of sudden illness
Cramps
Diarrhœa
Dysentery
and
All Bowel Complaints
it is a sure, safe and quick remedy.
There's ONLY ONE
Pain-Killer
Perry Davis'.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)
ALL DRUGGISTS.
ja10-1y

NO SMART GIRL YARNS.

How a Proud Father Was Taken Aback by an Unsympathetic Companion.

A man with a characterless mouth and a sappy expression boarded a downtown Fourteenth street car with a man with an iron jaw and a lucid eye.

"Well, sir," said the man with the uncertain face, as soon as they were seated, "that little girl of mine is the greatest—"

"Certainly, I think we ought to hang onto 'em," interrupted the firm-jawed man. "What did we cough up $20,000,000 for 'em for?"

The man with the indeterminate countenance looked puzzled.

"I guess you didn't catch me right," he said, after a pause. "I was going to tell you a funny thing that little girl of mine said this—"

"Well, I don't think it'll make much difference whether congress passes another financial bill or not," said the strong-faced man, calmly. "Country's getting along all right as things are right now. The more they tinker with the money question the more of a muddle there'll be."

"Er—yes; that's so," replied the man with the receding chin. "But this little six-year-old girl o' mine is the brightest—"

"Yes, I think the prospect for a continuance of good times looks pretty bright," was the reply. "We won't read of half so many cases of distress during this winter as we did last winter and a couple of winters before."

"Well, when she came down to the breakfast table this morning," pursued the father of the phenomenal young one, "she looked at the buckwheat cakes on the table and—"

"Now you hit me where I live," said the square-jawed man. "Don't think I could put in the cold season without buckwheat cakes for breakfast. What kind do you use at home—the old-fashioned buckwheat or this new-fangled self-raising kind?"

"Er—I don't know what kind my wife prefers. Anyhow, as soon as my little girl saw the buckwheats she—"

"Well, for my part I prefer the old-fashioned things. I like any old thing. Friend of mine brought me a bottle of 20-year-old Bourbon from Kentucky the other day. Finest tang to it I ever tasted."

"That so?" weakly inquired the parent of the extraordinary little girl. "Well, she looked at those buckwheat cakes solemnly for a minute, and—"

"I think Jeffries'll knock the nose off of him—that's my honest opinion," said the man with the countenance denoting strength. "Fact is, I believe that California boiler-maker could have put up a pretty stiff argument with John L. when John was in his prime."

"—and then she looked first at her mother and then at me, and then she pointed at the cakes, and—"

"Talking about pointing, my friend Jim Pothunter's got the finest pointer dog that I've seen in a month o' Sundays. It's a foxy bird that gets away from that dog."

"Look a-here," said the man with the vapid physiognomy, "I wasn't talking about any—"

"Well, here's where I fall off," complacently remarked the square-jawed man, stepping onto the running board. "S'long. Be good."

"Any man," growled the firm-jawed man, in his mustache, as he swung along toward his office, "who thinks he's a-going to shoot yarns concerning the corruscating brilliance of his kids into me while I'm trying to get some comfort out o' my after-breakfast cigar has got to heave me into a subterraneous donjon, keep and buck and gag me, and that's no pianissimo pipe-fantasy!"—Washington Post.

A Hard Thing to Do.

Mrs. Punkhorn (reading the paper)—Oh, sat's foot! What fools some men be! Here's the chief of a city fire department sayin' there wouldn't be nigh as many folks burnt ter death if they'd keep cool.

Mr. Punkhorn—Well, what's the matter with that?

Mrs. Punkhorn—How on airth is a body goin' ter keep cool with a hot fire 'round 'em?—Brooklyn Life.

An Observing Friend.

Winks—That job you have now is a soft snap, isn't it?

Jinks—Um—rather.

"Nothing at all to do, have you?"

"Well—er—not much."

"Good pay, too?"

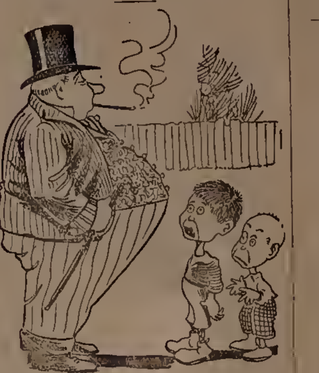
"Very fair. How do you happen to know so much about my job?"

"I notice you stick to it."—N. Y. Weekly.

The Old India Jar.

This quaint old jar is precious; still
No rose leaves its deep bosom fill;
It was not brought from lands afar
By some old uncle once a tar;
But in my heart I hold it dear,
For quince preserves it holds each year
—Chicago Record.

HEARD IN NEW JERSEY.



"Gee, dat must a been a whoppin' big skeeter dat stung yer, mister."—N. Y. Evening Journal.

Worse Than Frost.

The frost is on the pumpkin,
But I don't care for that—
My wife has twenty dollars'
Worth of birds upon her hat!
—Chicago Times-Herald.

An Aristocrat.

Mrs. Flannagan—Me daughter, Julia, th' taycher tells me that yure little Patsy is in wan av th' lower grades at her school.

Mrs. Finnigan (excitedly) — Lower grades, did yez say? Oi'll go down t' thot school this blissed minnit an' tear th' hair av th' taycher thot dared pit my Patsy in the lower grade, aven iv he is Oirish!—Brooklyn Life.

Willing to Please.

"I won't take those pictures," said the woman, angrily. "Why, they make me look like a fright."

"Madam," said the suave photographer, "I see that you do not want a photograph, but a fancy picture. Just make your own selection from the showcase."—Chicago Post.

Schedule Time.

Hungry Traveler (at railway dining station)—How soon will the train start, conductor?

Conductor—I'll start on time to-day. I ain't got much appetite.—N. Y. Weekly.

Geographical Item.

"How is the earth divided?" asked the confident teacher of his class before the examiners.

"By earthquakes, sir," was the prompt answer from one of the most eager of pupils.—Tit-Bits.

Feels Bigger.

"Lit a grocer call a bhoy in knae panties 'young man,'" remarked the janitor philosopher, "an' thot same bhoy will lug his muther's oil can to thot store avin if he passes six ither stores on th' way."—Chicago Daily News.

Expert Judgment.

"That's Mrs. Selldom-Holme. She is making quite a reputation as a new woman."

(Inspecting her apparel.) "Well, she isn't new. She's dreadfully out of style."—Chicago Tribune.

After the Concert.

"Doesn't he play with a great deal of expression?"

"I should say so. He made up more than 40 different faces."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

His Eyes Were Opened Then.

Biggs—Poor Dobbs never knew what a jewel of a wife he had until—

Boggs—Until he lost her?

Biggs—No, until he married again.—San Francisco Examiner.

Good Thing for Them.

She—I believe all the honest men are dead.

He—That's good. I hate to think of them as having to starve to death.—Town Topics.

Not Picking Up.

"Business is picking up," said the merchant.

"On the contrary," replied the pugilist, "business is knocking down."—Chicago Post.

One of Nature's Hold-Ups.

"I've got the drop on you," said the rain to the seed.

"Hold on!" cried the seed, "I'm liable to shoot up at any moment."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Marriage Makes a Difference.

Jack—There was a time when that girl was always in my thoughts.

Dick—And now?

Jack—Now she is always in my pocketbook.—Brooklyn Life.

His Way.

"Is Junks a troublesome customer?"

"Yes; he makes as much trouble about the fit of his clothes as if he expected to pay cash."—Chicago Record.

Expectations.

The man who signs his name and draws
His placid dollars from the bank
In boyhood dreamed of loud applause
For an adventurous soldier's rank.
The man who fights from day to day
For fame or fortune—or for bread—
Was wont to boast that he'd display
Such wealth that lords must bow the head.

The man who tries to speak a jest
Speeds thoughtless darts which cause a tear;
And when he turns to wisdom's quest
A laughing world will mock and jeer.
Fate loves our prophecies to slight,
Lest pride should flaunt her plumes too free.
The things we are are never quite
The things which we have meant to be.
—Washington Star.

Gallantry.

He was strong and she was fair,
They hurried through the street,
And sheets of rain were falling there,
And water splashed their feet.

She carried no umbrella; he Held one above his head:
"Pray share my shelter, miss, with me,"
He very gently said.

A frail old woman, poorly clad,
Trudged on the way they went;
Her head was bare, her look was sad,
And she was pale and bent.

The girl looked up and then replied:
"You're very, very kind!"—
They hurried onward side by side,
The woman trudged behind.
—S. E. Kiser, in Chicago Times-Herald.

The Open Heart.

Would you understand
The language with no word,
The speech of brook and bird,
Of waves along the sand?

Would you make your own
The meaning of the leaves,
The song the silence weaves
Where little winds made moan?

Would you know how sweet
The falling of the rill,
The calling on the hill—
All tunes the days repeat?

Neither alms nor art,
No toil, can help you hear;
The secret of the ear
Is in the open heart.
—John Vance Cheney, in Century.

The Bravest Man.

The bravest man I ever knew
Was neither famed nor great,
Nor one who rushed to dare and do,
Prepared for any fate.
He never faced an enemy,
Nor trod the trackless wild,
He never plunged into the sea
To save a drowning child.

The bravest man I ever knew
Smoked ten cigars a day;
It was a foolish thing to do,
As you yourself will say;
But, foolish as it was, he told
His friends he couldn't quit it,
And it was brave of him, I hold,
To stand up and admit it.
—S. E. Kiser, in Chicago Times-Herald.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night "All thought she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1 00. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason's drug store.

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask your grocer today to show you a package of Grain O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it like it. Grain O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress; one fourth the price of coffee; 15c. and 25c per package. Sold by all grocers

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Jell-O, the New Dessert,
pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

Not Necessary to Talk Much.

"You know," she said, "I am not much of a conversationalist."

This seemed to him the opportunity for which he had been waiting.

"Well," he returned, "if I do the preliminary talking your conversational ability will be sufficient to enable you to say 'Yes,' won't it?"

After all, in courtship there is nothing like getting your answer before you ask the question.—Chicago Post.

Consumption
is robbed of its terrors by the fact that the best medical authorities state that it is a curable disease; and one of the happy things about it is, that its victims rarely ever lose hope.

You know there are all sorts of secret nostrums advertised to cure consumption. Some make absurd claims. We only say that if taken in time and the laws of health are properly observed, will heal the inflammation of the throat and lungs and nourish and strengthen the body so that it can throw off the disease.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

We have thousands of testimonials where people claim they have been permanently cured of this malady.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

THE TOUGHENING PROCESS.

How to Harden the Constitution of Weak and Delicate Children.

Some very crude ideas have existed, and still receive some credence in certain quarters, relative to the process of "hardening the constitution," as it is called. Many people are not yet sufficiently cognizant of the fact that the constitution is never toughened or "hardened" by undue exposure to the summer's sun, the winter's wind, or by indulgence in strains or over efforts.

Ill-informed mothers sometimes dip their infants in cold water with this same fallacious idea of manufacturing hardiness. It is a constantly weakening, enervating process, and when the babe succumbs to some acute malady, and is laid away under the "mysterious dispensation of Providence" idea, it ought to be thundered through the land that exposure does not toughen, while the sentiment should appear in letters as startling as those which Belshazzar saw on the wall of old, that Providence works no miracles to counteract human folly, and that nature's laws are inexorable, standing on the statute book of time subject to no amendments at the hands of man.

The best way to harden the human constitution is to do it as we would harden the constitution of a horse, by taking good care of it, fostering its vitality, always remembering that this exposure idea doesn't show the human body as much courtesy even as we show to a hat or a garment, which are never made better, but always worse, by being banged about. Good care, then, is the thing needed. This does not mean coddling and over swathing, which are quite as bad as undue exposure. It means the happy medium in this as in all things.

Weakly children may be greatly strengthened by sun baths and anointings with oils. These two statements need qualifications and explanation. As to the sun baths, it were well if every dwelling was so constructed that one room could be had specially for sun baths—a room on the sunny side, of course, having a broadside of glass, and arranged so that uniform temperature can be maintained. In this room both the young and the old could get much benefit by exposure of this sort of the whole body to the sun's rays, being careful at first to avoid sunburn. Nervous and weakly ones generally would find in sunlight thus applied a fine nerve tonic.

As to anointings of oil, if the work is thorough the body may receive considerable nourishment in the absorption of the oil, and this room where the sun baths are taken would be just the best place in which to apply oils to the body. As to the kinds of oil to be used I would suggest olive oil, codliver oil or lanolin, diluted with vasaline. After these injunctions, all surplus oil remaining on the skin should be wiped off, and when baths are taken salt should be used in the water in the proportion of, say, one teaspoonful to each four quarts of water.

For a change now and then, bi-carbonate of soda may be used, or a little borax. Let nothing that I have said here be construed to mean that the little ones should be deprived of outdoor exercise in the cooler seasons, my remarks being intended simply as a plea for protected exposure—an exposure stopping short of allowing a child to get actual suffering from the elements as a means of toughening—a fallacious idea, fraught only with danger to innocent and helpless creatures to whom humanity owes its tenderest, most merciful care.—Portland (Me.) Transcript.

BITS OF FEMININITY.

The Newest Notions in Materials and Make of Seasonable Costumes.

White cloth turbans are considered extremely smart.

The newest models in waists show a little more blouse effect in front.

Light pink corals, set in diamonds, are the newest things in jewelry that Paris offers.

The outlook for the summer season indicates even a greater rage for elegant diaphanous materials in black than existed last summer.

It is rumored that sage green foulards, figured with white, will take the place this spring of the ever popular bright blue ones

Red Hot From the Gun

Was the gun that hit G. B. Steadman of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for 20 years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures cuts, bruises, burns, boils, felons, corns, skin eruptions. Best pile cure on earth. 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Use Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy, cures corns, bunions, swollen, hot, sweating feet. At all druggists and shoe stores, 25c; sample free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Love's Mistakes.

Man pledges flowers to strew the grave
Of her he holds most dear—
While what she wants is big pot plants
To fuss with while she's here.
—Indianapolis Journal.

"There is no little enemy." Little impurities in the blood are sources of great danger and should be expelled by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

OCT. 22, 1899.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 05, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 36, 4 32, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 15 a m, 5 15, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 49, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 58, f5 21, 6 10, f7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f1 01, 5 25, 6 1?, f7 28, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; 1 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 35, 6 50 p m. S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Trains leave Unionville for

MILFORD—9 25 a m; 1 19, 4 37, 5 42, 6 57, S 6 44 p m

FRANKLIN—6 49, 8 41, 11 28 a m; 4 03, 6 19 p m. S 8 15 a m.

GEO. L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

G. A. Martin, M.D.,
.. AND ...
C. B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

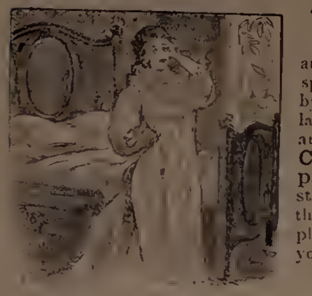
A. J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS,
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

TAKE ADVANTAGE
Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.



THAT "TIRED FEELING"

and dull headache that comes with spring and early summer is caused by impure blood clogging the circulation and rendering the liver torpid and the vital functions inactive. Our Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla will purify the blood, strengthen the nerves and revitalize the whole system, make your complexion clear, your eye bright and your step elastic, if used now.

LARGE BOTTLES, 50c.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.
DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

The annual gentlemen's night of the Holly club was held Wednesday evening in Odd Fellows' hall. Mrs. Mary F. Freeman of Boston gave an interesting talk on "Heidelberg and German University Life."——Mrs. H. A. Matthews and daughter of Sharon have been guests at G. W. Jackson's.——W. H. Wade has been appointed to take the next government census.——Mrs. A. W. Harris and daughter, Miss Anne W. Harris, are in town for the summer.——C. E. Dupee of Roslindale has purchased a piece of land on Archers pond and will build a cottage.——Miss Florence Crocker of Boston is visiting Mrs. Charles Hamilton's before leaving for England.

Gave Herself Away.

After he had kissed her and pressed her rosy cheek against his, and patted her soft, round chin, she drew back and asked:

"George, do you shave yourself?"

"Yes," he replied.

"I thought so," she said. "Your face is the roughest I ever—"

Then she stopped, but it was too late, and he went away with a cold, heavy lump in his breast.—Tit-Bits.

Why He Refrained.

"What made you take all that impudence from that fellow?" asked the friendly passenger of the conductor. "Why, he didn't even pay his fare."

"That's it," said the conductor. "If he had paid his fare, I'd have broken his head; but he's riding on a pass, and maybe he has a pull."—Harlem Life.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar coated globule of health that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co.

Hot Campaign.

He—I went through the fight with that man.

She—In the Spanish war, I suppose you mean?

"Oh, no; in a church choir."—Yonkers Statesman.

The Non-Irritating Cathartic

Easy to take, easy to operate—

Hood's Pills

Silk warp henriettas, all-wool India cashmeres and fine French mohairs in black will be among the most desirable cloths for early spring wear.

A beautiful peacock tail feather trims a toque of white tulle, which is worn with a gown of gray crepe de chine, with which is combined ecru lace and sky blue moire.—Detroit Free Press.

Not Many Bible Students.

Young men, before entering one of the principal medical schools of this country are examined as to their general knowledge. One of the questions given to the candidates for one of these schools last year was: "What are the names of the books of the Bible?" Of 120 answers, only five were correct. Among the names of the books were: "Philistines," "Marcus Aurelius" and "Epistle to the Filipinos."—Ladies' Home Journal.

Satisfactorily Explained.

"Jane," said the mistress, just a trifle impatiently, "you were a long time coming up here. Didn't you hear me calling?"

"No, ma'am," replied Jane, "not till ye ca'led th' third toime, ma'am."—Philadelphia Press.

Did the Right Thing.

Sharon Heights, Mass., May 11, 1900.—Miss Alice Knowlton, P. O. Box 15, at this place, who has been troubled with pimples breaking out on her face, has been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has relieved her of this trouble and made her feel much better. Thousands of people take this medicine in the spring. It is America's Greatest Blood Medicine. It cures all blood diseases.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell-O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

A Test of Endurance.

Askim—Did the Smithson heirs succeed in breaking their father's will?

Tellum—No. They went broke before the will did.—N. Y. Journal.

Better Than None.

He—Do you believe in long engagements?

She—Well, they're better than none.—Town Topics.

W IS for Walking, just half of the night,
When Baby is teething and chock full of fight.
Take good counsel early, come, say, eight o'clock,
And get him a Cart from the "Cook Rolling Stock."

X IS for Xerxes, who conquered the world
A task now quite easy for babies and girls;
For smiles nowadays win out more than hard knocks—
Those smiles round the Coaches of "Cook's Rolling Stock."

Y IS for yesterday, gone with the past,
Like frolics of childhood too pleasant to last.
But everything goes in this age of shocks,
As well as the Coaches from "Cook's Rolling Stock."

Z IS is for Zenith, the point overhead
Where cherubs all come from with nice curly heads.
And lest they return while the death angel knocks,
Save their lives in the Carts of the "Cook Rolling Stock."

Concluded.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

Dainty Things for Graduation

Sheer and pretty Victoria Lawn, India Linen, Plain and Dotted Swiss Muslin and Organdie from 10c. to 37 1-2c. yard.

French Lawn we can especially recommend for its firm, yet sheer and dainty quality—50 inches wide, 60c., 70c., 90c. yard.

Beautiful Ribbons and Laces. Valenciennes Lace in all qualities and widths, with insertion to match. Allover Lace, Tucking and Embroidery from 50c. to $3.50 yard.

Marston Sanborn,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.
BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

Church Services.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 3. Sunday school at 2. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D. D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "Ruskin's Crown of Wild Olive." Afternoon service at 5; subject, "What We Think Now of the Conditions of the Future Life." Y. P. C. U. at 6.

Congregational church.—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. I. W. Sneath, Ph. D. Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30. Evening service at 7.30; theme, "The Chinese Boxers."

Methodist church.—Preaching at 10.30 by S. A. Cook, pastor; subject "The Baptism with the Holy Spirit." Sunday school at 12. Junior league at 3.30. Epworth league at 6.30. Evening service at 7.30; subject, "The Prayer of Faith."

Baptist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. F. B. Sleeper, pastor; theme, "Preparation." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Preaching by pastor at 7.30, the third in series of discourses on "The Fine Arts;" theme "The Fine Art of Christian Endurance." Short testimony meeting in vestry.

SHELDONVILLE.

J. F. Dingman is entertaining his brother-in-law from Vermont.

Mrs. Fred Hawkin's is at her father's, L. L. Whiting, for a few days.

Mrs. W. O. Newell is spending two weeks with relatives in Boston.

T. E. Rhodes of Providence has moved his family here for the summer.

Miss Nettie Follett has returned home after spending a few days in Brockton.

J. E. Grant and his force of men are giving the streets their annual spring cleaning.

Miss Ella Thayer of Attleboro spent Sunday with her grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Outhouse.

George Heffron has purchased a horse and will soon commence a route and sell farm produce.

Miss Edith Holland of Scituate, a former teacher here, has been visiting at W. C. Averill's.

Quite a number from here attended the summer dress party given by Miss Razee at Franklin last Thursday evening.

Only One.

"Only one kiss," he pleaded.

"Only one?" she asked, coyly, and—could it be? with a tinge of disappointment in her air.

"Only one!" he said again, beseechingly, and the maiden yielded. But it lasted from 8:15 to 11:45 p. m.—Somerville Journal.

Perhaps by Mistake.

Mrs. Fairfax—Mrs. Horton had the compliment of her life last week. She had her photograph taken.

Miss Eager—Was it so flattering?

Mrs. Fairfax—Well, rather. It was taken by the man who burgled her house.—N. Y. World.

Varying Circumstances.

"I am told that you have a great many friends."

"Oh, I don't know," answered the cynic in plaid clothes; "it all depends with me, the same as with other people, on whether I'm trying to borrow or willing to lend."—Washington Star.

WANTED AT ONCE.

Trimmers on Ladies' Straw Hats.

BASSETT BROS.

At WOODWARD'S every description of INSURANCE can be placed. This AGENCY officially represents the LEADING American and Foreign COMPANIES.

P. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.
my4-1yF

The Alphabet Advertiser

A for apricots, both dried and canned,
B for biscuits of all the best brands,
C for crackers and clams for chowder,
D for doughnuts and Dalmation powder,
E for extracts of Baker's best make,
F for fish that will make fine fish cakes,
G for groceries kept neat and in shape,
H for honey to eat on wheat cakes,
I for Indian corn meal and ink,
J for fruit juice for a summer drink,
K for Kennedy, whose goods we stand by,
L for lemons that make a nice pie,
M for mince meat, molasses and mace,
N for Nestle's, whose milk suits the taste,
O for onions, a sure cure for the croup
P for potatoes to eat in your soup,
Q for Quaker, those rolled oats so nice,
R for raisins for puddings and rice,
S for sugar, sand soap and saleratus,
T for tubs, tapioca and tomatoes,
U for undoubtedly the cheapest in town,
V for vinegar as sour as can be found,
W for with hazel that makes one strong,
X for Xebec, a vessel it was used on,
Y for yeast that will raise bread best,
Z for zeal in which we stand the test.

C. L. FALES, Grocer.
no17-F

Just the Thing...

If you need something to give you an appetite, make you strong and drive away that tired feeling, try

FRANKLIN MALT.

17c. per bottle $1.75 per dozen.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist.
PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Kid Glove News...

Special line of NEW SHADES just received.

$1.00 and $1.25.

Butterick's Patterns and Publications.

N. C. NYE,
FLETCHER BLOCK.

THINGS THAT ARE NOW IN DEMAND,

WITH FOLLOWING LOW PRICES:

Window Screens, each	19
Screen Doors, all sizes, 6.6 to 7 ft., complete	$1.45
2-Burner Oil Stoves, each	95
4-Burner Oil Stoves, each	1.90
2-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each	1.48
3-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each	1.73
4-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each	1.98
Watering Cans, 6 quarts, each	30
3 Oil Stove Wicks for	5

SPECIAL--5 gallons Oil for 55c.

Fresh Berries, Dandelions and Spinach received daily.

◆◆◆

Bresnahan Grocery Co.
fe9-4m

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF

SEEDS! SEEDS!

All the 5c. packages of GARDEN SEEDS we sell for 3c., two 5c., or 25c. per dozen. These Seeds are new this year, direct from the CLEVELAND SEED CO.

All kinds of FLOWER SEEDS, 5c. and 10c. per package.

All other kinds of Garden Seeds at the lowest prices—HOLTON, MAINE, EARLY ROSE, HEBRONS, NEW QUEENS.

Before buying your Seeds come and see what we can do for you.

McKinnon's Grocery Store,
CENTRAL SQUARE.

YOU WILL FIND AT

CROWNINSHIELD'S STORE

Glass, Tin, Granite, Copper, Crockery and Wooden Ware, Croquet Sets, Carts, Brooms, Brushes, Oil Stoves, Chimneys, Window Screens, Baskets, Tea, Coffee and Baking Powder, 5c. and 10c. Goods—a fine line.

No. 2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4mS

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

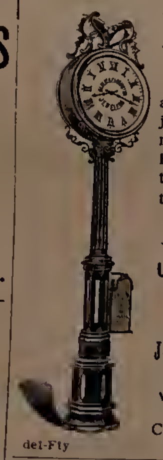
T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary
Summer St., Franklin, Mass.
ap27S



REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,
Jewelers and Opticians
160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.
de1-Fty

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Alice G. Cowell, late of Wrentham, in said county, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Aaron B. Cole of Wrentham, or to some other suitable person, without giving surety on his bond,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said county of Norfolk, on the twenty-third day of May, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this first day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
my4,11,18

∴READ the Business Announcements.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board.

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

REGULATIONS
... OF THE ...
Board of Health,
1900.

Extracts from Public Statutes, Chapter 80.

"The Board of Health of a town shall make such regulations as it judges necessary for the public health and safety. Whoever violates any such regulations shall forfeit the sum of one HUNDRED DOLLARS."

The Board of Health of Franklin, as authorized by the statutes, has made and published, as is provided for in the statutes, the following regulations:

1. Physicians having under their care cases of small-pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, phthisis or typhoid fever are requested to promptly report the same to the Board of Health, as required by law on blanks furnished them.

2. When any householder knows that a person within his family or living in his house is ill of small-pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhoid fever or any other disease dangerous to the public health he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Board of Health.

3. All diseases dangerous to the public health will be promptly quarantined by this Board and red flags will be displayed for public protection. Whoever violates the quarantine established by the Board, either by going out of the house or apartment quarantined, or permitting any person other than the nurse or physician to enter the same; and any person other than the nurse or physician going into the said house or departments in violation of said quarantine WILL BE PROMPTLY PROSECUTED according to law. And whoever meddles with any flag put up by the Board of Health or its agent, to remove, deface, cover, or handle the same in any way whatsoever will be dealt with according to law. This Board will permit no trifling with any of its rules of quarantine or any measures taken by it against infection, under any circumstances, by ANY PERSON WHATSOEVER.

4. No quarantine established by the Board of Health will be removed till the person or persons so quarantined have been personally examined by a member of this Board or its authorized agent, and found to be no longer in condition to convey the disease, nor until the premises have been disinfected by an agent of the Board and according to its directions. Sulphur fumigations will not be regarded a sufficient disinfection.

5. Any person recovered from a disease dangerous to the public health who is a pupil in any school, public or private, shall not be permitted to return to such school, nor received into such school, without a certificate from the Board of Health or some member thereof. Nor shall any person be received into nor employed in any mill, factory, shop, store or place of business unless he has complied with the requirements of the Board of Health in regard to contagious diseases.

6. Whenever a nuisance or cause of sickness shall be found on private property within the town any member of the Board shall order the owner or occupant thereof to remove the same, at his own expense, within the time specified in the notice served upon him. When legal notice has been served on the owner or occupant of any premises, if any owner or occupant neglects to abate or remove the nuisance complained of within the time specified in said notice the Board of Health will cause the nuisance to be abated at the expense of the party or parties responsible for the same.

7. The owners or keepers of swine and milch cows are notified that no product from these animals can be used or sold unless such animals are fed on wholesome food and are in a perfectly healthy condition. In case of neglect or violation of this rule all such products will be condemned. All milch cows from which milk is sold in this town are subject to inspection by the Board of Health, and when found in a healthful condition a certificate to that effect, good for sixty days, will be furnished to the owner by this Board.

8. All owners and drivers of horses having any disease known as the horse distemper and glanders are notified not to allow said horses to drink from any public watering trough or fountain in town.

9. All persons are notified not to cart the contents of privy vaults or cesspools through the streets between 6 o'clock a. m. and 9 o'clock p. m. from May 1 to Nov. 1; and all such filth must be conveyed so as to prevent any portion being dropped along the street.

10. No person shall use the public street or any sewer or drain, made for the sole purpose of conveying water from said streets, as a deposit for filth, slops or offal of any kind.

11. The Board requests all persons to promptly notify them of the existence of any contagious or infectious diseases among domestic animals, such as glanders, pleuro-pneumonia, hog cholera, etc. On such notice the Board will cause such animals to be securely isolated and held till released by order of the cattle commissioners.

12. Nuisances or unusual causes of sickness must be reported to the Board of Health by complaints in writing, clearly stating the nature and causes of the same so far as known.

13. The law requires the vaccination of all children as a condition of admission to the public schools. The School Committee, as well as the Board of Health, is required to enforce this statute. Children are also required by law to be vaccinated before reaching the age of two years.

14. House owners are required to provide that all escape pipes from sinks and closets shall be properly trapped and that waste water from such shall not be permitted to empty on the ground. Filth so accumulating and decomposing is a potent cause of diphtheria and other diseases. Covered drains and cesspools must immediately be provided for such waste.

15. No person shall throw into or leave in or upon any street, court, lane, public square or enclosure, or any vacant or occupied lot owned by the town or the public, or into any pond, creek or stream of water within the limits of the town any dead animal or vegetable matter, or waste water, rubbish or filth of any kind. All yards, passageways, inclosures and cellars shall be kept in as cleanly a condition as the Board shall direct.

16. All persons riding or being upon any street car within the limits of this town are directed not to spit upon the floors or platforms of such car, and proprietors of street railways wholly or in part within the limits of this town are directed to post a notice in each end of each car to the effect that spitting in or upon said cars is prohibited by the Board of Health.

GREGORY A. MARTIN,
DWIGHT M. HODGE,
MARSTON SANBORN,
Board of Health.

Franklin, Mass., May 1, 1900.
my18-3iF

Herman M Fisher 1Jan00

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 41. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, MAY 22, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Boston Evening Transcript	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
"	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 "
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 A. M.
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.05 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.30 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

MATTHEW F. CONROY, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 17, 1898.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Mrs. Ella F. Metcalf is visiting friends in Somerville.

The rains the past week have put out the forest fires.

Butman's brick block on Main street is to change hands.

George Cody is recovering from a week's illness with malaria.

Mrs. Harry Spence is critically ill at her residence on Summer street.

R. K. Stevens has about completed his building job at North Attleboro.

Dr. J. M. Crowley entertained his brother from Vermont over Sunday.

D. W. Fisher and S. W. Nickerson left this week for a business trip to New York.

George L. Winsor, confidential clerk for E. K. Ray, is ill at his home with the mumps.

Rain prevented the Dean-Providence and Heliotype Trowbridge games on Saturday.

Clark & Gaskill are carting eight loads of ice a week from Camp's ice houses at Caryville.

Dean is booked to play the Brown Sophomore on the campus tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Alice Ford of Attleboro is visiting at the home of her grandmother on Cottage street.

Landlord S. T. Capron of the Crescent house has been sick with neuralgia the past three days.

The steam drill has begun work in the ledge on the Medway road, opposite the N. A. Daniels place.

Main street continues to be littered with old paper and rubbish by careless or malicious persons.

The houses on Garfield street belonging to the James M. Freeman estate are being brushed up with fresh paint.

Mrs. Jessie Gibbs and little son, of Boston, were the guests of her brothers, Jacob and Clarence Quilter, last week.

Oliver D. Pond, E. H. Sherman and N. E. Newell have been appointed appraisers of the estate of the late D. J. Fisher.

Frank Snow, while fishing in the pond at Bush Factory last week, landed a pickerel weighing four and a half pounds.

The class of '01, High school, will give a reception to the graduating class in the Horace Mann building on Wednesday, June 8.

The 7th Mass. Veteran Volunteer association will hold its 32d annual reunion in G. A. R. hall, Brockton, on Friday, June 18.

Farmers report early garden stuff a little backward, but the warm sun of the past few days has given it a good push forward.

Medical Examiner Gallison was called to Milford Sunday to investigate the death of an Italian who was run over by an electric car.

The road men have nearly completed the spring cleaning on the highways outside the center and are attending to matters in the village.

Work on the Medway-Franklin line is being hurried and the tracks will soon be laid well into the town. The company hopes to have the line in full operation by July 1.

We should have credited the new cottage at Archer's to Floyd Hosie, Will Stewart and Arthur Bennett, instead of to Hosie Bros. They call themselves the "Winneganock club."

Among the attractions at the Congregational church on Wednesday evening at the strawberry festival will be a "clipping bee," a novelty which will surely be of interest to all.

The amusement season at the Opera house is about over, except for local business and parties who want to rent. After the middle of May it needs a great attraction to draw a paying audience.

Miss Mary Quinn was surprised at her home on King street Friday evening by a number of her young friends, who presented her with a gold ring. An evening of rare enjoyment followed the presentation.

Conductor H. C. Moulton of the N. Y., N. H. & H. road is enjoying a fortnight's vacation. Conductor James Colgan of Woonsocket, and brother of Baggage-master John Colgan here, is taking his place here.

Mrs. Essie Smith Sanborn of Brockton has been visiting Misses Crocker and Briggs, returning home yesterday. She will go to San Francisco, Cal., next week to join her husband, who has been practicing there.

The annual meeting of the Mothers' class will be held May 25 at Mrs. E. C. Abbott's, Main street. A full attendance is requested. Members are requested to bring all books and magazines in circulation.

Willie, the 7 years old child of Mr. and Mrs. William George of Pond street, was buried Saturday morning, at 9 o'clock, in St. Mary's cemetery. The child had been sick with bronchitis for the past few weeks, death resulting Thursday evening.

Mrs. N. G. Knight and Mrs. Charles Rand attended the Sankey meetings in Boston yesterday and report them delightful. Tomorrow afternoon Rev. Ralph Gillam will have charge at 2.30, and a number from here are planning to hear him.

The shopmates of Hugh Murphy of Fisher street presented him with a gold ring Saturday morning in token of their esteem. He has been employed as percher in Haywood's mill and leaves to take a similar position at the American Woolen mill.

The selectmen Friday evening ordered a number of bills paid, and discussed the routine matters in regular order. The Morse Opera house was granted a license for the ensuing year, and George R. Stewart was recommended for a peddler's license.

F. M. Ballou, the concreter, is expected here this week, and those who want concrete sidewalks and wish to have the benefit of the appropriation made by the town for part payment of such improvements should notify the selectmen at once.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Pratt and Frank Eames of Milford passed through here last week for New York, where they joined a party of twenty-five men and women headed by W. H. Rowe, formerly of Montpelier, Vt., whose destination is the gold fields of Cape Nome, Alaska.

The first strawberry festival of the season will be held at the Congregational church tomorrow evening. There will be an entertainment in the chapel at 7.30. Music by Mann's orchestra. Refreshments, including strawberries, ice cream and home made candy, for sale in the dining room.

Rev. Mr. Koehne, who delivered such a fine series of lectures here recently at the Congregational church gave his "Modern Skepticism" before the Congregational Ministers' association in Boston yesterday, and was remarkably well received. This will aid him materially in making his fall bookings.

It may not be generally known that Ganzell, who will take Everett's place at first on the Chicago league team, is a brother of Charles Ganzel, the famous member of the Boston "Pretzel" battery and the Carter's first baseman and manager. Ganzel bids fair to become more famous than his brother as a baseball player.

Dr. Hodge will read on the evening of Decoration day at the Universalist chapel. The reading will be for the benefit of the Y. P. C. U., and consequently a small admission will be charged. Those who have enjoyed Dr. Hodge's readings without cost heretofore will be glad to show their appreciation of his generous endeavors to entertain them.

A delegation of Post 60, G. A. R., and of the W. R. C. went to Norfolk Sunday afternoon to decorate soldiers' graves and participate in special religious services. There were interesting exercises by the children from the public schools, singing, etc., and Rev. Alfred Noon, secretary of the State Total Abstinence society delivered a most helpful address, which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Bear in mind that subscriptions for the SENTINEL are accepted for three months at a time as readily as for an entire year. The subscription price for three months 50 cents; six months $1.00; one year $2 00. In many cases one family purchases the SENTINEL and it is passed around among several families. By paying quarterly every family can have it without feeling the expense.

The New Haven road recently leased the hack privilege at the station in Norwich, Ct., but in response to numerous petitions from the general public finally concluded to recede, and informed the hackmen that for a merely nominal fee they would be permitted to solicit passengers at the station as usual. Each was allotted a certain position, the stipulation being they should made no unnecessary noise.

The fire alarm is now in working order again. Last Thursday evening it was tested by sounding the number of each box. At the start some people looked around for the fire, but after a few moments the truth got abroad and the racket was endured as a necessary evil of modern civilization. A number from West Medway came to Franklin mistaking the trial of the fire alarm system for a regular prolonged alarm.

It will interest all to know the full bench of the supreme court has handed down an opinion in which it ruled that the sale of cigars on the Sabbath day was a violation of the law. The sale was made to a police officer, who, upon making the purchase, informed Mr. Goldsmith, a druggist, that he intended to use the fact against him as evidence. Mr. Goldsmith said that he would sell them to the officer as "drugs."

It is not generally known by parents that recent laws not only require the attendance at school of all children of school age, unless exempt by physical causes, but also have a penalty for the parent or guardian who neglects to cause his children to attend. Non-attendance at five full-day sessions or ten half-day sessions during any six months, unless the cause is sickness or something of that nature, constitutes a liability to prosecution.

It is announced that the blowing of a horn under the trees will bring caterpillars to the ground in showers. The explanation is that the pests are partial to martial music and taking the blow for a bugle call drop down for the purpose of falling into line. It has been suggested that this plan be tried with the gypsy moths, if the legislative committee can be induced to invest in horns. If there is any virtue in this remedy the serenade of a Fourth of July morning should prove effective.

Milford base ball looks a trifle doubtful, as the directors of the M., H. & F. street railway company could not see their way clear to fence the old athletic grounds on East Main street and erect bleachers and a grand stand for the base ball association. They offer a donation of $150 toward supporting a team. The only remaining hope of the association is the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket company and unless they provide grounds Milford will have no base ball worthy of the name this year.

Franklin is sure to have a large number of people from out of town coming here to enjoy base ball and other sports by electrics this year, as that method affords such easy and reasonable means of transportation. Milford is already, according to one of its papers, bemoaning the fact that it is possible there will be no ball nine there and the crowds will go to Franklin. Well, Franklin will be ready to receive them, so it is hoped they will bring all their money with them and leave some of it here.

About 50 guests attended a May party given by Miss Katherine Kenney at her home on Wachusett Friday evening. Various amusements were indulged in and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. The following programme was rendered: Piano solos by Miss Louisa Fiorani and Charles McCarthy, vocal solos by Alexander Boucher and George Pendergast and violin duets by Miss Mary Walsh and Miss Mary Fiorani. Refreshments were served and the pleasure seekers departed at an early hour next morning.

A large gang of laborers are at work over the Franklin-Medway line laying the track for the electric road. It is now laid from the Franklin bridge to the site of the Hopkins canning factory and is being rapidly pushed along. The Medway approach to the bridge is to be enlarged somewhat and the entire track on Sanford street paved, so that quite an amount of work yet remains to be done before the track is connected with the main line. It does not seem probable that cars will run to Franklin in much less than a month.

Herman M. Fisher, a well known citizen of King street, died Saturday morning in the 80th year of his age. Mr. Fisher was a native of Franklin, and in early manhood went to New York city, where he was engaged in the straw goods trade for many years. He returned to Franklin several years ago and lived at the old Maxey Fisher homestead until his death. For a number of months past he has been gradually failing, completely wasting away. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. I. W. Sneath officiating.

The surveyor has found a good deal of trouble in finding bounds at Hoag's pond, so far as the old deeds give any directions. The old stumps and stakes and stones have disappeared or changed so they are no longer recognized. The proposed location of a summer resort there has caused an attempt to locate the right land divisions by the parties interested. The pleasure boats at Highland lake have been bought for service at Hoag's pond and the turnout on the railway at that point is being made longer, so as to accommodate several cars at the same time. Over 100 men are at work on the line from Bellingham Four Corners to Milford.

The Norfolk County commissioners having completed their apportionment of the county tax of $165,000 for the present year among the twenty-seven towns and one city of the county, announce the following result: Avon $761.16, Bellingham 687.50, Braintree 4,272.32, Brookline 59,517.85, Canton 3,977.68, Cohasset 5,082.59, Dedham 7,292.41, Dover 908 48, Foxborough 1,767.86, Franklin 2,823.66, Holbrook 1,276.79, Hyde Park 8,397.32, Medfield 1,301.34, Medway 1,301 34, Millis 638.39, Milton 17,825.89, Needham 2,921.88, Norfolk 466.52, Norwood 3,339.29, Quincy 16,377.23, Randolph 2,062.50, Sharon 1,645.09, Stoughton 2,799.11, Walpole 2,136.16, Wellesley 6,703.12, Westwood 933.04, Weymouth 6,408.48, Wrentham 1,375.

Dr. John T. Prince, agent of the state board of education, was in town yesterday visiting schools, and had the pleasure of inspecting nearly all of the departments of the various schools. He expressed himself as being very much pleased at their condition. Very little except the usual daily routine was gone over, so that he had an excellent opportunity of seeing in just what condition the schools were. In the afternoon he addressed the teachers and quite a number of others interested in education, speaking on "Some of the Needs of the Newer Education." His remarks were practical and timely and he emphasized the necessity of more money to properly do the work that ought to be done here.

Sullivan Family Quarantined.

The board of health has quarantined the Sullivan house, just on the edge of Caryville, together with Mr. Williams' house, where the nurses board. The sum of $100 was contributed by the mill hands in Caryville, which is being used for the benefit of the stricken family. One child died last Thursday and another passed away early Saturday morning. One member of the family has eluded the quarantine and gone to Providence. Another member of the family is said to have been sick before leaving Ireland, and another is in the hospital in Boston. No hope is expressed for the two, a boy of 15 and a girl of 12, now sick. The disease is thought by some to be the black fever, and it is rumored that the state will hold the steamship company responsible. The family has been in this country less than five weeks and it will probably never be known whether the disease was contracted on ship or brought with them, or whether they are the victims of the house which they occupy.

The family is destitute, except as supplied by the state through Franklin. The funerals of the two that died were public and if the disease is contagious a large number have been exposed already. It is a very serious matter, and has thus far occupied the attention of four doctors.

A Notable Work.

J. A. Lansing of Cambridge occupied the Congregational pulpit on Sunday morning, relating his experiences in traveling about Austria and noting the work done by Dr. Albert W. Clark, who has been doing missionary work among the Catholics of Bohemia. Dr. Clark's labors have been so marked with success that the Austrian government, Catholic though it be, has sanctioned it, and forbidden molestation on the part of the priests, who naturally dislike this proselyting among their flock. The Catholics themselves have welcomed the work in many places where at first it was viewed with suspicion and distrust. He spoke most eloquently of John Huss, whose memory was revered and honored by liberal Catholics throughout all Bohemia, Prague holding him in especial honor. He told of the hindrances originally put in Dr. Clark's way by the clericals, and the methods to which it was necessary to resort to have public worship of any kind or to distribute Bibles. Many of these hindrances have now been done away with, and Mr. Lansing regards the field as a most promising one. A collection was taken with a view to assisting Dr. Clark in his work.

Flowers for Decoration Day.

All orders for baskets, wreaths, bouquets, crosses and potted plants will receive prompt attention if given in good season at Slade's greenhouse, or by mail, box 179.

Looks Like Business.

For the first time a smoke was seen to issue yesterday from the huge smoke-stack at the Unionville power house, indicating that the fire had been started in the big boilers, and that the 250 horse-power engine would soon be ready to force the electric fluid as far out into the surrounding towns as should be required. The battery of two boilers is already in position, one engine is up and the big 650 horse power is already being set up. The combined horse powers in the engines will be about 900 and in the boilers something over 700.

With Unionville as a distributing point the current will easily speed the cars as far as Plainville, Milford and even to City Mills, should the company ever care to work out in that direction. With the extension of the line toward or into Worcester a new power house would be built the other side of Milford, as it looks now as if this line would be an important link in the electric line between Providence and Worcester through Woonsocket and Milford.

As soon as the equipments at the power house are all put in the time between here and Woonsocket will be materially lessened, possibly to thirty minutes, with more frequent accommodations, which will be thoroughly appreciated. Franklin now has every reason to be proud of its means of communication with its neighbors, after having been practically isolated, except by the steam cars in a direct line, for so many years. This will have a tendency to invite outsiders to locate here, tenements will rent better, it will bring new business into our stores, and it will permit egress and ingress to the satisfaction of all who may desire it.

Laying Rails to Milford.

Active constructive work on the direct route of the Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket street railway from Bellingham Four Corners to Milford was begun last week, when 150 Italian laborers commenced laying rails. With fine weather this force should have the road completed as far as the green store in South Milford by Saturday, and by June 1 the tracks will be laid into Milford. Fifteen days later cars will leave Main street for Milford, Woonsocket, Attleboro, Wrentham and Foxboro.

The company desires to cross the tracks of the N. Y., N. H. & H. railroad in North Bellingham at grade and the railroad commissioners, who have been asked to grant that permission, viewed the crossing Friday afternoon.

As soon as the tracks are laid into Milford from Bellingham Four Corners work will be commenced on the Hopkinton and Westboro branch and cars will be running over the entire system of forty-five miles by August 15. The company has made arrangements with the Westboro and Marlboro road whereby through cars may be run from Milford to Marlboro.

Prepare to Tell.

Next week Friday Messrs. Newell and White will commence the work of taking the census. Each enumerator is provided with a badge of office, which he is required to wear when on duty, and to display it or not, as the duty of the hour seems to require. He is also armed with a commission, "To all who shall see these presents, greeting." Under the census law the enumerator has the right of admission to every dwelling and institution for the purpose of obtaining the information required, and the right to answers to each and every question and truthful answers. If the authority is disputed the census man is directed to show his badge, and commission if needed, to accomplish the object of his visit, and if these fail the case is reported to higher authority for settlement.

The enumerator must consider all information as confidential and is liable to heavy penalty if he wilfully betrays his trust. He is not to accept any statement which he has good reason to think is false. It has been found in the past that some people think that local assessors make use of the information obtained for the purpose of taxation, but the suspicion is entirely without foundation.

Free Notices.

The SENTINEL will continue to insert a liberal free notice in its columns of all entertainments, etc., when orders for job printing of the same are filled at this office. But this notice should not be construed to mean a $2 free notice will be given for $1 worth of printing. Give us your order and see if we do not use you right.

Plant Sale.

Mrs. King's annual sale of fine potted plants will commence on Friday at Crowninshield's store, lasting till Memorial day. Unusual selection. Also fine cut flowers of all kinds for decorations.

A clean fish market, complete stock of sea food, prompt and satisfactory service. Let us call. PAINE, THE FISHMAN.

Fine hair cutting, smooth shaving, razors honed and put in order. Ochee the barber.

Read the business announcements

The Choir Committee's Gordian Knot.

With haggard look and tearful eye,
The choir committee vainly try
An ancient maxim to refute,
An entire church at once to suit.

Rash men, they did but tempt their fate,
Nor saw their error till too late;
Now, with their cup of sorrow full,
They'll ne'er attempt the impossible.

Their duty this: A church quartette,
To suit the varying tastes, to get.
They listen long to candidates,
Discuss their manners, tones and rates.

A basso comes, robust and strong,
And tells the tale of Christ in song.
His range—the lowest tones he hit;
His price—'twas quite the opposite.

And thus they come in endless throng,
With voices weak and voices strong.
Some sing too fast and some too slow,
Too mild, too rough, too high, too low,
To thick of speech, a nasal twang,
'Twas thus the various singers sang.

Then with determination grim,
Regardless now of wish or whim,
They finally select a choir
And brave the congregation's ire.

Let the dissatisfied rebel
The die is cast—for truth to tell,
Who fails to suit the tastes of all
Should suit himself and end the thrall.

The Fences.

The SENTINEL has for years advocated the removal of front fences, especially the old dilapidated ones, and the result has been, where they have been taken down, most satisfactory, so far as the beauty of the surroundings is concerned. This has been noted and commented upon quite frequently. In many cases, however, the practical results have not been favorable in view of the fact that pedestrians have selfishly considered these private lands as public highways, resulting in the destruction of the grass and quite often pretty flower beds. If a little more consideration could be exercised in this direction the people who have removed their fences would be more reconciled to having contributed something towards making their homes more attractive.

Memorial Day Resolution.

The nineteenth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, held at Portland, Me., in 1885, adopted the following:

"Memorial day is the choicest in the calendar of the Grand Army—a day of sweet remembrances, dear to every loyal heart, and any violation of its sacredness by making it the occasion for frivolity and amusement, such as characterizes the Fourth of July, should be treated as an indignity to the comrades who died that their country might live."

This protest against the desecration of Memorial day, uttered so many years ago by the order, should not be forgotten.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Two pleasant lower rooms to let. Apply at SENTINEL office. 22*

Up stairs tenement to let on Central street. Inquire of A. M. Haggart. 6tf

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

Orders for Allen's wood yard taken here can be transmitted by telephone at once.

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18 tf

For Sale.—A good "Household" sewing machine cheap for cash. Inquire of Mrs C. W. Clark, King street. 18,22*

Good assortment of carpets and couches at Sanford Bros., Medway. "A word to the wise is sufficient. 15,18

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Mrs. S. H. Frost, Alpine street, will fill all orders for flowers for Memorial day, or for any occasion, at short notice. 22-tf

Wanted — Two furnished sleeping rooms and kitchen for light housekeeping. Rent, $2.50 per week, or less. K, SENTINEL office. 22*

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

For Sale Cheap.—A quantity of good English hay and a lot of oat straw; also a generous supply of hard wood ashes. Mrs. Harriet N. Gowen, 20 Pleasant street. 22,25,29,1*

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Briggs. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Views of Residences.

Now, before the trees leaf fully, is the best time to arrange for photos of your home, either exterior or interior. Call and see samples and let me quote prices. Business hours during the summer, 8 to 12 a. m., 1.15 to 5 p. m., 7 to 8 Saturday evenings.

CALKIN, Photographer,
Depot St.

E. B. Guild's auction sale of store and household goods, at City Mills, advertised for the 19th, will not take place till the 26th.

Remember the strawberry festival at the Congregational church Wednesday evening. Admission 10 cents.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 In..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

TUESDAY, MAY 22, 1900.

THE ice trust in New York is slowly melting.

MEMORIAL DAY should indeed be memory day.

McKINLEY evidently regards these envoys as decided bores.

SELEE ought to take his Boston ball team somewhere out West and lose it.

IN view of its name we should have expected St Louis to have behaved better in this strike matter.

QUAY announces his candidacy to succeed himself as senator. Pennsylvania ought to [illegible] this case once and for all.

WE are waiting for Lodge to endorse Long for vice president. Some day Lodge may need an endorsement from Long.

"GAY PAREE" and the exposition is the Mecca for this summer, but not for the average newspaper man. It's a little too rich for his blood.

IF you want a cigar on Sunday now you will have to tell the druggist that you want your usual Sunday "drug," and then it's easy to get around the law.

TOM REED prefers not to be called Mr. Speaker any more, desiring not to usurp the title rightfully belonging to Speaker Henderson. He will always be "the" speaker, while the others will be simply speakers.

THE Boer envoys come a trifle too late, since everything is now going England's way. It is the Biblical case reversed, one is not putting ten thousand to flight, but ten thousand is engaged in putting one to flight. The one will flee.

BOURKE COCHRAN wants to disfranchise the negroes. There was a time when the eloquent Mr Cochran had no vote. What if the darkies should decide that he ought not to vote further, and were able to enforce their decision?

THE supreme court of the United States decides that Beckham, the successor of Goebel, is the rightful governor of Kentucky. That ought to settle it, though it is impossible to satisfy all parties, even by a mandate of the highest court in the land.

THEY are now talking of having religious services aboard western passenger trains bound on long runs. Well, they have had gambling, drinking, smoking and nearly all the vices, so it won't do any harm to try a little religion. If an accident should happen the passengers will be all the more ready for a future world.

CORBETT, the pugilist, as congressman from a Tammany district in New York, would not be so much out of place, after all, and if he goes in for it he will probably get it. He will make a better congressman than some we might name, as he has never been charged with lack of brains. Just the same we shouldn't vote for him.

THE postal scandal in Cuba is bad enough, in all conscience, but the redeeming feature of it is that it was discovered so soon. It is doubtful, too, if the guilty ones have sufficient political "pull" to secure immunity from punishment. However, this stealing was something that Cuba had suffered right along under Spanish rule, so they were not greatly surprised.

CONGRESS has passed a measure authorizing the payment to Confederate soldiers for losses growing out of the war, paying those who surrendered at Appomatox for the loss of horses and other personal effects taken from them in violation of the terms of Lee's capitulation to General Grant by which officers and men of Lee's army were allowed to retain their baggage, side arms and horses. We can afford to be magnanimous at this late day.

CLARK'S surprising somersault, now you see him as senator, now you don't and now you do, has alienated nearly every fair minded citizen, who considers that the United States senate ought not to be treated with such indignity. Then Gov. Smith nominated another for senator, thus complicating matters. Doubtless neither will be seated, owing to the brief time before adjournment. Clark has abundant means, abundant gall and abundant friends, and is a very "slick" man, but often it doesn't pay to be too slick.

IT'S NO USE—

A man simply can't make any sort of success in business if he's tortured with backache.

That means if his kidneys are out of order.

Backache is really kidney ache.

It is one of the first indications of kidney disease. It's bad enough of itself, but it leads to a great deal worse.

Unless it is stopped.

How?

Doan's Kidney Pills

There's not a form of kidney trouble that this wonderful little remedy will not cure, and the people stay cured.

Mr. John C. Melloon, grocer and provision merchant at the corner of Bridge and 7th streets, Lowell, Mass., says:—

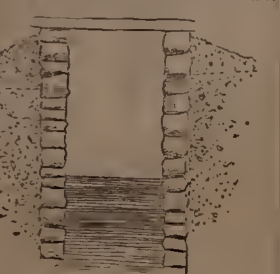
"In the spring of 1896 I was forced, from severe pain in the back, to procure Doan's Kidney Pills at Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store, at the corner of Merrimack and Central streets, and take a course of the treatment. It was speedily followed by absolute relief, and up to date I have not had a symptom of a return."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers, or sent by mail on receipt of price. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

KEEPING WATER PURE.

How to Keep Surface Water and Other Deleterious Substances Out of the Farm Well.

Where wells are dug on sloping ground there is always liability that surface water may find its way into the well and carry in deleterious matter. In such cases it is wise to have the soil removed from the well when it is being dug in the form of a mound about the top, as suggested in the cut, and, to make matters still safer, to lay a tile drain around the upper side to an outlet on the lower side, laying the tile all the way about the proposed opening, before digging is begun. This will keep the well absolutely free from surface water, which, as suggested, is, in many cases, a positive source of danger.—Orange Judd Farmer.



TO KEEP THE WATER PURE.

SHALLOW CULTIVATION.

Experiments at the Nebraska Station Conclusively Prove That It Is Best for Corn.

A test of the relative values of deep and shallow cultivation of corn at the Nebraska experiment station developed beyond doubt the superiority of the latter method. Four acres of land were divided into tracts of one acre each, and each tract was cultivated with a different cultivator, the same one being used on each throughout the summer. The same number of cultivations were given in each case. In the fall the corn was picked from each acre and weighed. The yield was as follows:

Method of cultivation	Yield per acre
Deep cultivation	[illegible] bushels
Shallow cultivation	[illegible] bushels
Shallow cultivation	[illegible] bushels
Shallow cultivation	69 bushels

The land receiving shallow cultivation was stirred to a depth of three inches, that receiving deep cultivation to a depth of six inches. Shallow cultivation for corn possesses two advantages over the other method. In the first place, by stirring the soil to a depth of only three inches the air does not penetrate so deeply, and it does not dry out to such a depth. A study of the roots of the corn plant shows that many of them would naturally grow within three or four inches of the surface, but when the upper layer of soil is dry they cannot obtain any nourishment from this portion of the ground.

Another injury to the corn crop from deep cultivation is the tearing out of the roots by the deep tooth cultivators. By pruning these roots the industry of the plant to secure nourishment is greatly hindered and the crop injured thereby. It is very important that the cultivation should be sufficiently frequent to prevent a hard crust from remaining on the ground any length of time.—Farm, Stock and Home.

By the [illegible]

The funny man [illegible] stage with a huge red handkerchief before his face.

"What's the trouble, Percy?" inquires the orchestra professor.

"It's that awful hay-fever. Gussie pays me right, too."

"How does it pay you right, Percy?"

"Why, I went and married a grass widow."

Then the thunder of the gallery gods vibrates through the house.

The Colonel Collapsed.

At Devonport a soldier was brought before the commanding officer for selling part of his kit, when the following dialogue took place:

Colonel—Now Private Murphy, why did you sell your boots?

Private Murphy—I'd worn em for two years, sorr, and thought they were my own property.

Colonel—Nothing of the sort, sir These boots belong to the queen.

Private Murphy—I'm sure I'm sorry sorr but I didn't know the lady took twelves." (Collapse of colonel).—Tit Bits.

Sauce.

Hawker—Good morning, mum; any pins, tapes, needles, cottons or buttons I can show you?

Miss Eldersere—Not to-day, my man. Go away.

Hawker—Any pipe cleaners, boot laces or collar studs for your husband mum?

Miss Eldersere—Go away. I tell you, I haven't got a husband.

Hawker (cheerfully, as he departs)—Ain't yer miss? Well, don't take it too much to 'eart; while there's life there's 'ope.—Ally Sloper.

His Parting Shot.

"Marry you?" scornfully exclaimed the young woman. "No—not if you were the last man on earth! I'll never marry a 306-pounder with a No. 14 foot and a hand like a split ham!"

"I perceive, Miss Flyppe," rejoined the overgrown young man, his entire frame trembling with indignation, "that you are not only wasp-waisted, but you can sting!"

And he went away, not wholly crushed.—Chicago Tribune.

His Idea.

Little Willy—Pa, what is a bigamist?

Papa—A bigamist, my son, is a man who has more wives than the law provides.

Little Willy—Why, pa, I didn't know that the law provided a man with any wives at all; I thought he had to go out and hustle one for himself if he wanted her?—Puck.

Sure of Himself.

She laid her head against his breast and looked fondly up into his eyes.

"Alfred," she sighed, "are you sure that you will always love me as you do now?"

"Yes," he replied. I am sure. "Your father has promised to endow no colleges and he hasn't an expensive hobby of any kind."—Chicago Daily News.

The Woman Question.

Perry Patettic—Wonder why women always is so much better lookin' than men?

Wayworn Watson—Look at the trouble they take. Most any woman washes her face every day, jist fer looks.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

His Reason.

Customer—Tell me, waiter, why do you only recommend stewed tripe today. Is it so excellent?

Waiter (confidentially)—No, it isn't even fresh, but if there's anything left we have to eat it.—N. Y. World.

Shocking.

"Mamma, what bad manners Mrs. Busybody must have!"

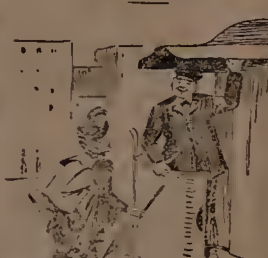
"Why?"

"Why, I heard Aunt Jane say she wants to have her finger in everybody's pie."—Brooklyn Life.

Our National Birds.

The eagle may lead us in battle
And soar where the victory starts;
But, unto his sorrow, the turkey
Gets very much closer our hearts.
—Judge.

AN OPTIMIST.



"Why didn't you stop the car? You saw me wave my hand to you."

"Oh I thought you were throwing me a kiss."—Das Kleine Witzblatt.

He Knew It.

The Good Man—Do you know that there are breakers ahead of you?

The Wicked One—Ye—hic—yes I 'spose my—hic—wife and her mother'll break my—hic—head when I git home.—Chicago Daily News.

A Lawyer's Suits.

A lawyer can afford to dress well if he has [illegible] law suits on hand.—Chicago Daily News.

The Cure that Cures

Coughs,
Colds,
Grippe,

Whooping Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis and Incipient Consumption, is

OTTO'S CURE

The GERMAN REMEDY

Cures throat and lung diseases.
Sold by all druggists. 25&50cts.

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

Eradicates Scrofula

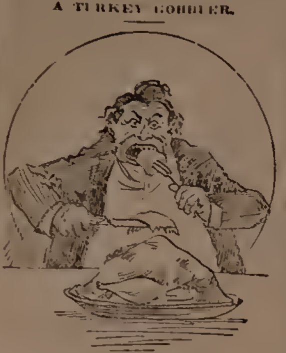
Subdues and heals Salt Rheum, cures Boils, removes Pimples and Eruptions, gives fair, clear, complexion. It thoroughly purifies, vitalizes and enriches the blood.

The Final Touch.

Ready for all that might befall, the female detective prepared to venture forth on the track of the desperate criminal. At the threshold she paused and cast one more look back.

"Is my disguise on straight?" she asked.—Philadelphia North American.

A TURKEY GOBBLER.



—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Beware of a Cough.

A cough is not a disease but a symptom. Consumption and bronchitis, which are the most dangerous and fatal diseases, have for their first indication a persistent cough, and if properly treated as soon as this cough appears are easily cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven wonderfully successful, and gained its wide reputation and extensive sale by its success in curing the diseases which cause coughing. If it is not beneficial it will not cost you a cent. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

A Short Story.

Fido was small, but dreadfully brave,
As every one knows, for one day
He barked at a great big railroad train,
And the railroad train ran away!
—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

"There is no little enemy." Little impurities in the blood are sources of great danger and should be expelled by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The little folks love Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Pleasant to take; perfectly harmless; positive cure for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Lesson Revised.

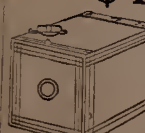
During a dictation lesson a schoolmaster read out the following sentence: "His choler rose to such a height that passion well-nigh choked him."

On correcting the exercises he found to his amusement that one little fellow had rendered the above as follows: "His collar rose to such a height that fashion well-nigh choked him."—Tit Bits.

Eastman Kodak Co.'s

BROWNIE CAMERAS

$1.00



Make pictures 2¼ x 2¼ inches. Load in Daylight with our six exposure film cartridges and are so simple they can be easily

OPERATED BY ANY SCHOOL BOY OR GIRL.

Fitted with fine Meniscus lenses and our improved rotary shutters for snap shots or time exposures. Strongly made, covered with imitation leather, have nickeled fittings and produce the best results.

Brownie Camera, for 2¼ x 2¼ pictures,	$1.00
Transparent-Film Cartridge, 6 exposures, 2¼ x 2¼,	.15
Brownie Developing and Printing Outfit,	.75

THE BROWNIE CAMERA CLUB.

Every boy and girl under sixteen years of age should join the BROWNIE CAMERA CLUB. Fifty Kodaks, valued at over $500.00, will be given to members of the club as prizes for the best pictures made with the Brownie Cameras and every member of the club will be given a copy of our Photographic Art Brochure. No initiation fees or dues if you own a Brownie. Ask your dealer or write us for a Brownie Camera Club Constitution.

Send a dollar to your local Kodak dealer for a Brownie camera. If there's no Kodak dealer in your town, send us a dollar and we will ship the camera promptly.

EASTMAN KODAK CO.
Rochester, N. Y.

SEND 50 CENTS

BOWERS VIOLIN

CUT THIS AD OUT and send to us with 50 cents, and we will send you this Violin Outfit by express C. O. D. subject to examination. This violin is a genuine Stradivarius Model, made of old wood, curly maple back and sides, top of seasoned pine, specially selected for violins, edges inlaid with purfling, best quality ebony finished trimmings. THIS IS A REGULAR $8.00 VIOLIN, beautifully finished, highly polished, rich [illegible] tone quality. Complete with a genuine Brazil wood Tourte model bow, 1 extra set of strings, a neat, well made violin case, large piece of rosin, and one of the best violin instruction books published. YOU CAN EXAMINE IT at your express office, and if found exactly as represented and the greatest bargain you ever saw or heard of, pay the express agent $3.75 less the 50 cent deposit, or $3.25 and express charges, and the outfit is yours.

SPECIAL PREMIUM OFFER. With every order accompanied by cash in full we will give one lettered fingerboard chart, which can be adjusted to any violin without changing the instrument and will prove a valuable guide to beginners, and we will also allow the instrument to be returned after ten days' trial if not found entirely satisfactory in every respect. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded in full. Address, SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. (Inc.) Chicago. (SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

Have a Boiled Dinner

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Smoked Bacon, strip	10c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Spinach, peck.	25c
Flank	6c	Dandelion	30c
Smoked Shoulders	8c	Lettuce, each	8c

Radishes, bunch....... 5c

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fei-tyS

1817 1900

CARPETS.

Every purchaser of Carpets—whether for the smallest room or the biggest hotel—wants his mind satisfied on three points, namely:

PRICE—QUALITY—STYLE.

It is because we convince our customers as to every one of these requirements that we confidently expect YOUR patronage.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.,
658 Washington Street . . . BOSTON.
Opp. Boylston Street.

SEND US ONE DOLLAR

BRAINARD'S NEW METHOD ORGAN

Cut this ad. out and send to us with $1.00, and we will send you this New IMPROVED PARLOR GEM ORGAN, by freight C. O. D., subject to examination. You can examine it at your nearest freight depot, and if you find it exactly as represented, the greatest value you ever saw and far better than organs advertised by others at more money, pay the freight agent OUR PRICE $35.50, less the $1.00 deposit, or $34.50 and freight charges. THE PARLOR GEM is one of the most DURABLE AND SWEETEST TONED instruments ever made. From the illustration shown, which is engraved direct from a photograph you can form some idea of its beautiful appearance. Made from solid quarter sawed oak or walnut as desired, perforated key slip, full panel body, beautiful marquetry design panels and many other handsome decorations and ornaments, making it the VERY LATEST STYLE. THE PARLOR GEM is 6 feet high, 42 inches long, 23 inches wide and weighs 350 pounds. Contains 5 octaves, 11 stops, as follows: Diapason, Principal, Dulciana, Melodia, Celeste, Cremona, Bass Coupler, Treble Coupler, Diapason Forte and Vox Humana; 2 Octave Couplers, 1 Tone Swell, 1 Grand Organ Swell, 4 Sets of Orchestral Toned Resonatory Pipe Quality Reeds, 1 Set of 37 Pure Sweet Melodia Reeds, 1 Set of 37 Charmingly Brilliant Celeste Reeds, 1 Set of 24 Rich Mellow Smooth Diapason Reeds, 1 Set of Pleasing Soft Melodious Principal Reeds. THE PARLOR GEM action consists of the Celebrated Newell Reeds, which are only used in the highest grade instruments; fitted with Hammond Couplers and Vox Humana, also best Dolge felts, leathers, etc., bellows of the best rubber cloth, 3-ply bellows stock and finest leather in valves. THE PARLOR GEM is furnished with a 10x14 beveled plate French mirror, nickel plated pedal frames, and every modern improvement. We furnish free a handsome organ stool and the best organ instruction book published.

GUARANTEED 25 YEARS. With every PARLOR GEM ORGAN we issue a written binding 25 year guarantee, by the terms and conditions of which if any part gives out we repair it free of charge. Try it one month and we will refund your money if you are not perfectly satisfied. 500 of these organs will be sold at $35.50. ORDER AT ONCE. DON'T DELAY.

OUR RELIABILITY IS ESTABLISHED if you have not dealt with us ask your neighbor about us, write the publisher of this paper or Metropolitan National Bank, or Corn Nat. Bank, of Chicago; or German Exchange Bank, New York; or any railroad or express company in Chicago. We have a capital of over $700,000.00, occupy entire one of the largest business blocks in Chicago, and employ nearly 2,000 people in our own building. WE SELL ORGANS AT $22.00 and up; PIANOS, $116.00 and up; also everything in musical instruments at lowest wholesale prices. Write for free special organ, piano and musical instrument catalogue. Address; (Sears, Roebuck & Co. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. (Inc.), Fulton, Desplaines and Wayman Sts., CHICAGO, ILL.

ja1Tesot

PATENTS GUARANTEED

Our fee returned if we fail. Any one sending sketch and description of any invention will promptly receive our opinion free concerning the patentability of same. "How to Obtain a Patent" sent upon request. Patents secured through us advertised for sale at our expense.

Patent taken out through us receive special notice, without charge, in THE PATENT RECORD, an illustrated and widely circulated journal, consulted by Manufacturers and Investors.

Send for sample copy FREE. Address,

VICTOR J. EVANS & CO.,
(Patent Attorneys,)
Evans Building, - WASHINGTON, D. C.

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPH

Better than a Piano, Organ, or Music Box, for it sings and talks as well as plays, and don't cost as much. It reproduces the music of any instrument—band or orchestra—tells stories and sings—the old familiar hymns as well as the popular songs—it is always ready. Prices, $7.50 to $100.00. See that Mr. Edison's signature is on every machine. Catalogues of all dealers, or NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 135 Fifth Ave., New York.

mh1-cow

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,

....BOSTON.

Telephone 1839.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

PATENTS

DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

FREE

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN

EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON)

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14 t f

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER

Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna -
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed -
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda -
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar -
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

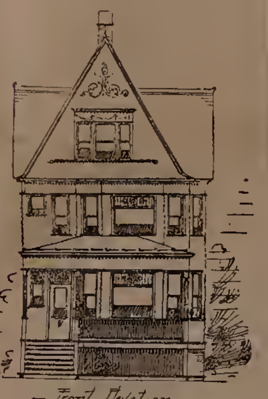
CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

ART IN ARCHITCTURE.

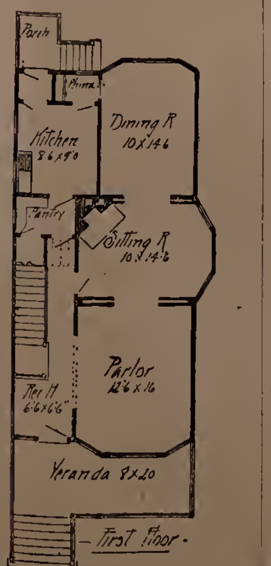
THIS neat and attractive residence can be erected for $1,700.

There are nine rooms, as follows: Parlor 12½ by 16 feet; sitting room 10 by 14½ feet; dining-room 10 by 14¼ feet; kitchen, 8½ by 9 feet; and five rooms upon second floor, sizes as shown upon floor plan. The veranda is 8 by 20 feet. All chambers have large closets. The parlor has one end treated as a bay window and this feature is carried out with all the principal rooms. The sitting-room contains a corner fireplace, one chimney answering for the entire house. Arched openings are used between the reception hall and parlor; also between front chamber and alcove.



—Front Elevation—

Sliding doors are used between parlor and sitting-room and between sitting-room and dining-room. The kitchen is fitted with a white porcelain-lined sink, maple floor, fuel gas outlets, wainscoting, speaking tubes and electric bells leading to front and rear doors, bath room and front chamber. The first and second story have double floors with felt paper between rough and finished floors.



—First Floor.

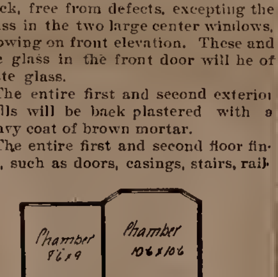
All plastering is two-coat work—the first coat a rough brown mortar coat and the second a finishing coat, a plaster of Paris hard finish, or putty coat.

All exterior painting is three-coat work, excepting the roof and veranda floors, including steps. The roof on the main part of the building and veranda roof shingles will receive one brush coat of olive green paint. The veranda floor and steps will receive four coats of the best paint for floor purposes, having tongues and grooves well leaded at the time the floor is laid. The finishing coat of paint for the exterior part of the building will be a terra cotta color, with white trimmings. The brick used for face of the chimney is of a buff color, press brick chimney capped with stone.

The down spouts, flashing and gutters are of galvanized iron. Art glass is used when shown on front elevation; all other glass is American, double thick, free from defects, excepting the glass in the two large center windows, showing on front elevation. These and the glass in the front door will be of plate glass.

The entire first and second exterior walls will be back plastered with a heavy coat of brown mortar.

The entire first and second floor finish, such as doors, casings, stairs, railing, newel posts, banisters and base boards is of Georgia pine, all prepared for oil finish.



—Second Floor—

The outside of the building is sheathed with fence flooring and is covered with two thicknesses of tar paper, over which the finished siding is placed.

The studding are 2x4 inches placed 16 inches on centers; joist 2x10 inches; roof rafters 2x6 inches.

The foundation wall is built with rubble stone 16 inches thick.

Height of basement is 7 feet; first story 9½ feet, second story 9 feet.

The carving shown is of composition. Suitable hardware is used throughout the building. The attic is floored with fence flooring.

The doors are all five cross panel doors, 2 feet 8 inches wide by 7 feet high; front and rear doors are 3 feet 2 inches wide by 7 feet high.

The entire house is piped for gas and furnace.

The shingles used on roof are cedar. Wood mantel, mirror above tile facing and hearth.

This residence upon the ground is 28 feet front by 40 feet depth, and is suitable for a 25-foot lot.

The price stated fully covers the cost for good, substantial material and the best labor. The building when completed must be ready for occupancy, having been scrubbed out, windows cleaned and all work thoroughly finished.

GEO. A. W. KINTZ.

A Simple Thing.

Belle—How did you find out the name of Maude's new beau?

Leno—I gave her my new pen to try

ELECTRICAL TERMS.

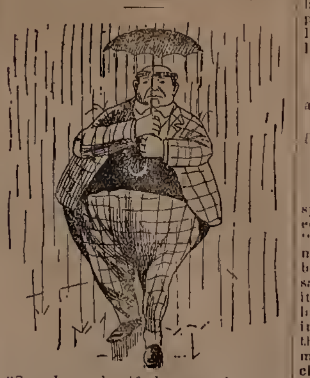
They Are Simple Enough, Says an Authority, Once You Get the Hang of Them.

A consulting electrical engineer, who was asked to put one of the less common electrical terms in plain language, said: "I am frequently resorted to for just such explanations, and nothing surprises me more than the haziness which still exists in the minds of even intelligent folks in regard to the simplest electrical terms. To most people the electrical units are still mere Greek, and comparatively few go to the trouble to take hold of the more common of them, such as 'volt,' 'ampere,' 'resistance,' 'electro-motive force,' etc., and fix their meaning, once for all, in the mind. A man who knows me only by reputation wrote to me the other day that he had done this with much satisfaction to himself, as he has now a far more intelligent idea of electrical doings than he had before. But still, he said, from time to time some electrical words creep into the daily press, which conveyed nothing to him. He mentioned as one of these, the term 'watt hour.' Now, this is quite simple. The watt is the unit of electric power. It means the power developed when 44.25 foot-pounds of work are done per minute, or .7375 foot-pounds per second. A foot-pound is the amount of work required to raise one pound vertically through a distance of one foot. When this is figured down so as to be defined in 'horse-power,' which is understood by every one, it can offer no difficulty, and if anyone to whom the word watt is puzzling will remember that a watt is the 1-746th of a horse-power he will have no more uncertainty about it. Having gotten so far, it is an easy gradation to the 'watt hour,' which is the term employed to indicate the expenditure of an electrical power of one watt for an hour. In other words, the energy represented by a watt hour is equal to that expended in raising a pound to a height of 2,654 feet. An even easier way of fixing it is to remember that two watt hours correspond almost exactly to raising a pound to a height of one mile. The understanding of such terms opens out some very curious facts to the uninitiated. For instance, a certain dry battery, weighing 6.38 pounds was known to yield 130 watt hours. If this force were applied to raising the battery itself, it would lift it to a height of over ten miles. Again, in one hour the energy translated in an ordinary 16 candle-power lamp weighing about an ounce would raise that lamp to a height of 400 miles at a velocity of nearly seven miles per minute. Yes, it pays a man to expend a little pains on mastering the ordinary electrical terms."

Extremes.

Full many a twist of phrase and word
 The English tongue has got for us,
For we always think the world is cold
 When it makes a place too hot for us
—Judge.

A NATURAL REFLECTION.



"Say, I wonder if the man that gave me this umbrella last week had anything against me."—N. Y. World.

Sunlight and Health.

Sunlight, says the Lancet, has a well-known effect upon the life of pathogenic organisms. Direct sunlight will kill tubercle bacilli in a few hours or perhaps in a few minutes; whereas they will live for days if exposed to a very strong diffused daylight. The exhilarating effect of a burst of sunshine in the spring is probably not due to mere luminosity, but to an increased actinic action, a chemical action which we cannot very well explain, but which everyone feels. In estimating, therefore, the value of a health resort, the amount of this actinic value in the sunshine ought to be taken into account, no less than the number of days upon which the sun shines during the month

GAMBLER'S FEVER.

When Men Have It They Can Utilize Almost Anything to Satisfy Their Desire for Game.

"If a man's naturally inclined to gamble you can't keep him from gambling," said a floor walker to a Times-Democrat man, the other day in a big dry goods house.

"Yesterday afternoon," he continued, "two sporty looking men were sitting in front of that notion counter over there waiting for their wives to get through shopping. The top of our stools, if you will notice, revolve on a pivot and have a row of brass tacks around the edge.

"Well, sir, one of the sporty men took out a pencil while he was waiting and marked a number opposite each tack on the stool next to where he sat. 'Here's a pretty good wheel,' he said to the other. 'How would you like to make a little play against it?' The other man fished out a wad of bills, quick as a wink, and they went to playing right before the women and everybody. I was so shocked and surprised I didn't know what to do.

"The man that started the thing would give the stool a twirl and then they would watch and see what number came opposite a tackhead in the counter. If the other fellow called it right he paid twelve for one, and in less than five minutes half the clerks in this end of the store were edging up to watch the game.

"I must admit it was pretty exciting, and I was just wondering how I could break it up without giving offense, when along came a big fat woman and planked herself down on top of the stool. The sporty men tried to get her to move, but she wouldn't do it, and while they were hunting for a vacant stool that revolved easy, so as to make another lay-out, their wives got through and carried them away.

"It's just as I tell you—if a man wants to gamble he's bound to find some way to do it.

"But that's the first time we ever had a roulette department in this store."—N. O. Times-Democrat.

His Life Work.

Lady—Go away, you horrid tramp!

Tramp—Kind lady, you misjudge me. I ain't no tramp. I'm a collector.

Lady—A collector?

Tramp—Yes, marm. De world owes me a livin', an' I'm tryin' ter collect it —N. Y. Journal.

Surprised.

"This matrimonial rumor is very extraordinary!" exclaimed Miss Cayenne.

"Why, there are a great many of them."

"Yes. But this one seems to be true."

Did the Right Thing.

Sharon Heights, Mass., May 11, 1900 — Miss Alice Knowlton, P. O. Box 15, at this place, who has been troubled with pimples breaking out on her face, has been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has relieved her of this trouble and made her feel much better. Thousands of people take this medicine in the spring. It is America's Greatest Blood Medicine. It cures all blood diseases

A Hint.

"With your permission I will light a cigar."

"Ah, must you be going so soon?"—Heitere Welt.

A Sprained Ankle Quickly Cured.

"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed. This remedy has also been used in my family for frost bitten feet with the best results. I cheerfully recommend its use to all who may need a first-class liniment." Sold by Albert C. Mason, druggist

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life Was almost wild Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently, after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley street, Saugerties, N. Y.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

The Artist Gets Even.

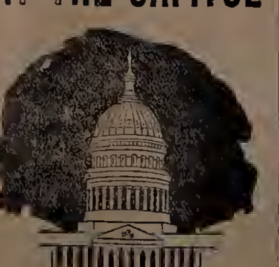
Critic—If that picture is a work of art, then I am an idiot.

Artist—That is conclusive evidence that it is a work of art.—N. Y. Journal.

A Frequent Disappointment.

I asked my friend for good advice,
 My action now I sorely rue,
For he advised—it wasn't nice—
 Just what I didn't wish to do.
—Washington Star.

THE RESTAURANT AT THE CAPITOL



Is an interesting place. There you may see the best men in the land and there you can get the best food.

You should also be able to get the best tea.

A capital tea is the only kind that is suitable for the Capitol, and a capital tea is Chase & Sanborn's package tea, fit for the most fastidious.

These package teas of Chase & Sanborn's come in pound and half-pound air-tight leaded forms.

By this method the excellent flavor of the teas is not lost by contact with the air.

Another advantage of packing them in this way is that it makes it impossible for their teas to be adulterated.

Among the most popular kinds of their famous package teas are the following: — the Kohinoor, an English Breakfast Tea, the Orloff, a Formosa Oolong, and the Orange Pekoe, an India and Ceylon tea.

Any one of these that you buy, that may best suit your taste, will prove itself to be a capital tea.

ONE POUND WILL MAKE OVER 200 CUPS.

CHASE & SANBORN'S TEAS.

I beseech you, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that none of you do run so lazily in the way to Heaven as to hinder either yourself or others.—John Bunyan.

There never was a day that did not bring its own opportunities for doing good that never could have been done before and never can be again.—Christian Budget.

To live on, even when life seems all a failure and the comfort of life is gone, to count patient living the real thing, with or without comfort—that is to be truly brave.—Phillips Brooks.

To continual watchfulness and prayer ought to be added continual employment. For grace fills a vacuum as well as nature, and the devil fills whatever God does not fill.—John Wesley.

EVERY MOTHER SHOULD Have it in the House

For common ailments which may occur in every family. She can trust what time indorses. For Internal as much as External use. Dropped on sugar it is pleasant to take for colds, coughs, croup, colic, cramps and pains.

I have used your Anodyne Liniment in treating our infant (only six months old) for colic, and our little three year old daughter for summer complaint and bowel diseases generally, and found it to be excellent. JOHN I. INGALLS, Americus, Ga.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Relieves Every Form of Inflammation. Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. No remedy has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Parsons' Pills

"Best Liver Pill made." Positively cure Biliousness, Sick Headache, all Liver and Bowel complaints. They expel impurities from the blood. Delicate women find relief from using them. Price 25c. I. S. JONHSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS.

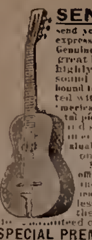
For a distance of 5 miles or less,	-	10c
5 to 15 miles,	- -	15c
15 to 25 "	- -	20c
25 to 35 "	- -	25c
35 to 45 "	- -	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F



SEND 50 CENTS to us with this ad. and we will send you our celebrated LA BERTA GUITAR by express, C. O. D., subject to examination. It is a Genuine La Berta American made instrument of great beauty, perfect rosewood finish, very highly polished. Handsomely inlaid around sound hole and inlaid stripe in back, celluloid bound top edge. Fingerboard accurately fretted with raised frets, inlaid pearl position dots, American made patent head, and finest nickel plated tail piece. A REGULAR $8.00 GUITAR, powerful and sweet toned, furnished complete with an extra set of best quality steel strings and a valuable instruction book which teaches anyone how to play.

EXAMINE THE GUITAR at your express office and if found exactly as represented and the greatest bargain you ever saw or heard of pay the express agent $3.65 less 50c, or $3.15 and express charges and the complete outfit is yours, satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded in full.

SPECIAL PREMIUM OFFER. With every order accompanied by $3.65 cash in full we will give a Lettered Fingerboard Chart. It is an accurate guide, having all notes, with sharps and flats in full view, and can be easily adjusted to any guitar without changing the instrument. With the use of the lettered fingerboard anyone can learn to play without the aid of a teacher. Write for free musical instrument and piano and organ catalogue. Everything at lowest wholesale prices. Address,

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO., CHICAGO

(SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

no. 8 S

THE NEW YORK WORLD

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year

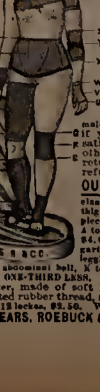
FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

ELASTIC GOODS AT HALF PRICE.



If you want us to make to your MEASURE and ORDER ELASTIC GOODS for the RELIEF AND CURE OF VARICOSE VEINS, WEAK, SWOLLEN OR ULCERATED LIMBS, CORPULENCY, ABDOMINAL WEAKNESS OR TUMOR, state your height, weight and age, state number of inches around body or limb at each letter shown in cut and send to us with our SPECIAL PRICE. We will make the goods to order from the very finest fresh rubber elastic material, guarantee a perfect fit and if you do not find it perfectly satisfactory and equal to goods others get double the price for, return at our expense and we will refund your money.

OUR SPECIAL PRICE for all fine silk elastic thigh stocking, A to I, $7.50; thigh legging, C to I, $6.00; thigh piece, G to I, $2.50; knee stocking, A to G, $5.00; knee legging, C to G, $4.00; knee cap, E to G, $2.00; garter stocking, A to E, $3.00; garter legging, C to E, $2.00; anklet, A to C, $2.00; abdominal belt, X to Z, $10.00. COTTON ELASTIC GOODS, ONE-THIRD LESS. Special Covered Elastic Abdominal Supporter, made of soft lisle thread, interwoven with protected rubber thread, 8 inches wide, $2.00; 10 inches, $2.25; 12 inches, $2.50. Write for Surgery Catalogue.

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO., (Inc.), CHICAGO, ILL.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

OCT. 22, 1899.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 36, 4 32, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 15 a m, 5 15, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 40, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 58, f5 21, 6 19, f7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f1 01, 5 25, 6 14, f7 28, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; 1 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 35, 6 50 p m. S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 6 35 p m.

Trains leave Unionville for

MILFORD—9 25 a m; 1 19, 4 37, 5 42, 6 57, S 6 44 p m
FRANKLIN—6 49, 8 41, 11 28 a m; 4 03, 6 19 p m. S 8 15 a m.

GEO L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: * Daily and Sundays, f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

J. A. GEB.

House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE,
McCARTHY STREET.

22-1y

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.

33-tf

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

G. A. Martin, M. D.,
. . AND . . .
C. B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL.

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M. D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.

92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

TAKE ADVANTAGE

Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

THAT "TIRED FEELING"

and dull headache that comes with spring and early summer is caused by impure blood clogging the circulation and rendering the liver torpid and the vital functions inactive. Our Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla will purify the blood, strengthen the nerves and revitalize the whole system, make your complexion clear, your eye bright and your step elastic, if used now.

LARGE BOTTLES, 50c.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Daniel Brown and daughter Grace have been visiting relatives in Worcester.——Tuesday afternoon the Holly club was entertained by Miss A. Smith and Mrs. Elbridge J. Whitaker at one of the club houses at Archer's pond and the officers for the coming year were elected.——The recent frost ruined the peach crop in town, Daniel Brown alone losing 1,000 bushels, while various other citizens also lost heavily.——Owing to a request made at the annual town meeting calling for an itemized account of the $100 appropriated to the G. A. R post at Plainville the post this year voted not to accept the money. There will, therefore, be no music or marching on Memorial day.——William Smith will go into farming quite extensively this season and will plant 10 acres of potatoes and six of corn. His farming tools are all of modern make. The machine for dropping potatoes makes the furrow, drops both the fertilizer and potato and covers them up.

PUMPKINS FOR HOGS.

Estimates as to Their Value Based on Experiments Conducted at the Oregon Station.

We did not think pumpkins as valuable for feeding to hogs as we did to cattle, but when they were plenty the hogs had some every day, for we could not keep them late in the winter. We never cooked them unless to throw in a few when boiling small potatoes or other roots for the hogs, as we thought them too watery when boiled, and they seemed to be relished better when given raw. We notice in a bulletin sent out by the Oregon Experiment station that they tested pumpkins for hogs weighing 140 to 200 pounds each for four periods of 14 days each. The pumpkins were cooked with shorts. For the first two weeks it took 15.43 pounds of pumpkins and 2.12 pounds of shorts to make a pound of gain. The next two weeks it took 14.95 pounds of pumpkins and 1.3 pounds of shorts. In the third period 14.39 pounds of the pumpkin and 1.79 pounds shorts, and for the last two weeks 14.46 pounds of pumpkins and 2.54 pounds of shorts. The average gain for each hog during the whole time was about 1½ pounds per day, and counting pumpkins at $2.50 a ton and shorts at $12 the cost per pound of gain was 2.9 cents. This may have been cheap enough, but we think it could have been made cheaper upon raw pumpkins, and by using a little more shorts, or perhaps a mixture of equal parts of cornmeal and shorts. After a hog weighs 200 pounds alive we are not afraid to give him as much cornmeal as he will eat until we get him fat enough to kill. They tried to increase the amount of pumpkin and reduce the amount of shorts, but the pigs objected, and, as will be seen above, they had to increase the proportion of shorts. We never tested pumpkins for sheep feeding, but have no doubt they would work excellently well. We never removed the seeds when feeding them and never saw that they were doing any injury to either cattle or hogs.—American Cultivator.

Thanksgiving.

The pessimist may still be glad
  When dinner's served in jovial state:
He may evolve some comment sad
  Upon the turkey's hapless fate.

Your Liver

Will be roused to its natural duties and your biliousness, headache and constipation be cured if you take

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

"A Dish of Tay."

A gentleman travelling through the mountains of western North Carolina, recently, tells the following story on himself: Having heard that tea was not much used in this part of the country, the traveler provided himself with a pound of his favorite brand, thinking to have a cup prepared at his various stopping places. His first experience, however, was his last—the entire pound of tea being served to him in a vegetable dish, together with a lump of home-smoked pork which had been boiled with it!—N. Y. Truth.

Taking Sides.

"A woman always seems to take sides against her own sex," remarked the man who affects great wisdom.

"Yes," answered Mrs. Meekton. "It's invariably the case. I was reading an account of a man who beat his wife aloud to Henrietta this morning. She said it was the woman's own fault; that she ought to have known how to train her husband better."—Washington Star.

Source of His Knowledge.

Tibbs—Yes, sir, it is mighty hard to collect money just now; I know it.

Gibbs—Indeed? Have you tried to collect and failed?

Tibbs—Oh, no.

Gibbs—How, then, do you know that it is hard to collect?

Tibbs—Because several people have tried to collect of me.—Illustrated American.

Disinterested Advice.

Mr. Buyer—Mr. Green, there seems to be something serious the matter with the horse I bought of you yesterday. He coughs and wheezes distressingly, and I think perhaps he is wind-broken. What would you advise me to do?

Jay Green (promptly)—Sell him as quickly as you can; jes' like I did.—Tit-Bits.

She Was Interested.

Little Ethel—Mamma, I wish you'd wash Willie Prettie's face.

Mamma—The idea! He's a neighbor's little boy. I have nothing to do with him.

Little Ethel—But I have. We've become engaged, an' I want to kiss him.—Tit-Bits.

Amiability Explained.

"No matter what I say," she remarked, "my husband never talks back to me."

"Of course not," said her companion. "He's a professional pugilist, and doesn't believe in taking his business home with him."—Washington Star.

Dressed to Kill.

The turkey cock that struts around,
  With elevated bill
And feathers fine that sweep the ground,
  Is simply dressed to kill.

Bodily pain loses its terror if you've a bottle of Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the house. Instant relief in cases of burns, cuts, sprains, accidents of any sort.

Read the Business Announcements.

Good Little Boy.

Mother—I don't like the look of that boy I saw you playing with to-day. You mustn't play with bad little boys, you know.

Son—Oh, he isn't a bad little boy, mother. He's a good little boy. He's been sent to a reformatory two times, and they've let him out each time on account of good behavior!—Tit-Bits.

W IS for Walking, just half of the night,
When Baby is teething and chock full of fight.
Take good counsel early, come, say, eight o'clock,
And get him a Cart from the "Cook Rolling Stock."

X IS for Xerxes, who conquered the world
A task now quite easy for babies and girls,
For smiles nowadays win out more than hard knocks—
Those smiles round the Coaches of "Cook's Rolling Stock."

Y IS for yesterday, gone with the past,
Like frolics of childhood too pleasant to last.
But everything goes in this age of shocks,
As well as the Coaches from "Cook's Rolling Stock."

Z IS is for Zenith, the point overhead
Where cherubs all come from with nice curly heads
And lest they return while the death angel knocks,
Save their lives in the Carts of the "Cook Rolling Stock."

Concluded.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name

W. S. JOHNSON,
SPECIAL AGENT FOR
The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

Assets over - - - $300,000,000
Paid to policy holders over 500,000,000
Insurance in force over - 1,000,000,000

Issues the most liberal and attractive policies on the market, including Cash Surrender Values. Extended Insurance,
Loan Values, Paid-up Insurance,
Grace in payment of Premiums, etc.

Afterward.

Vera Goodhart—Poor fellow, she flirted with him dreadfully!

Sallie DeWitte—Yes, but just think how well he thought of himself all that time.—Brooklyn Life.

Grand Gift Distribution.

EDITOR SENTINEL:—We believe that the most effective advertising we can do is to get samples of our goods into the homes of the people. Therefore we are sending an elegant sterling silver plated sugar shell, such as we sell regularly at 40c. each, to every married lady in the United States who writes for it. There is nothing to pay. The gift is absolute. You will confer a favor upon your lady readers by making this announcement in your paper. Each lady will send her own name only, as this is too valuable a gift to send to persons who don't ask for it themselves. We give choice of any of our 40c designs, and will send illustrations from which selection may be made. Quaker Valley M'f'g. Co., Morgan and Harrison Sts., Chicago.

Scrofula, salt rheum, erysipelas and other distressing eruptive diseases yield quickly and permanently to the cleansing, purifying power of Burdock Blood Bitters.

Work of an Amateur.

First Tramp—Dat's homemade pie ain't it?

Second Tramp—Must be. No baker what wuz responsible fer dat pie cud stay in de business.—Puck.

A Gallant.

Lady—I think you are the worst-looking tramp I ever saw.

Tramp—Ma'am it's only in the presence of uncommon beauty I looks so bad.—N. Y. World.

Everybody Knows About
Pain-Killer
A Household Medicine

Used by millions in all parts of the world

A SAFE and SURE REMEDY for

Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Cuts
Dysentery Croup Burns
Sprains and Strains.

Gives instant relief. Cures quickly.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)

ALL DRUGGISTS.
ja10-1y

WANTED AT ONCE.

Trimmers on Ladies' Straw Hats.

BASSETT BROS.

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript

No Sunday Edition.

THE GREATEST PAPER
IN NEW ENGLAND
FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms.

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT
Is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

At WOODWARD'S
every description of
INSURANCE
can be placed. This AGENCY
officially represents the
LEADING
American and Foreign
COMPANIES.

F. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.
my4-1yF

If you want to buy or sell anything have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow

FRESH DAIRY NOTES.

Do not change milkers if possible to avoid it.

Color is subservient to flavor in good butter.

No one knows what a cow will do until she is tested.

The milking qualities of a cow depend more upon those of her sire's mother than upon those of her own.

In breeding see that the males come from milking ancestors, in order to get good heifer calves for the dairy.

Allowing the cream to remain in the milk too long before skimming will often cause white specks in the butter.

Each year finds the silo reaching out and it is becoming popular on farms where dairy herds are kept. The round silo is in the lead.—Rural World.

He Got His Sleep.

Doctor—I see what the matter is. You do not get sleep enough. Take this prescription to a druggist's.

Mr. Blinkers—Thank you. I presume that's what's the matter.

Doctor (next day)—Ah, good-morning! You are looking much better today. Slept last night, didn't you?

Mr. Blinkers—Slept like a top. I feel first rate.

Doctor—How many doses of that opiate did you take?

Mr. Blinkers (in surprise)—I didn't take any. I gave it to the baby.

An Occasion of Great Joy.

"Was the dear girl happily married?" asked the friend.

"Yes, indeed," answered Miss McGabble. "It was one of the happiest weddings I ever saw. I never saw so few duplicates among the presents of cut glass and silver ware."—Washington Star.

The Business for Him.

Little Charles—Sister told mamma yesterday you was born to be a politician.

Mr. Skimpley—A politician? I wonder why she thinks so.

Little Charles—She says you can do so much talkin' without committin' yourself.—Chicago Times-Herald.

His Disposition.

"Yes," said the benevolent man, "I thank heaven for my happy disposition. I am satisfied with what the day brings forth, and quickly forget the pain and trouble that has passed."

"Ah!" replied the physician, "that explains your overlooking my little bill."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Something Wrong.

Quads (reading)—"A poet contracted a fatal case of blood-poison from handling an old $100 bill." Now, what do you think of that?

Spose—The mere fact that a poet and a $100 bill are mixed up in the affair brands it as a malicious falsehood.—Chicago Daily Record.

Just the Thing...

If you need something to give you an appetite, make you strong and drive away that tired feeling, try

FRANKLIN MALT.

17c. per bottle $1.75 per dozen.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist.

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF

SEEDS! SEEDS!

All the 5c. packages of GARDEN SEEDS we sell for 3c., two 5c., or 25c. per dozen. These Seeds are new this year, direct from the CLEVELAND SEED CO.

All kinds of FLOWER SEEDS, 5c. and 10c. per package.

All other kinds of Garden Seeds at the lowest prices—HOLTON, MAINE. EARLY ROSE, HEBRONS, NEW QUEENS.

Before buying your Seeds come and see what we can do for you.

McKinnon's Grocery Store,
CENTRAL SQUARE.

—YOU WILL FIND AT—
CROWNINSHIELD'S STORE
Glass, Tin, Granite, Copper, Crockery and Wooden Ware, Croquet Sets, Carts, Brooms, Brushes, Oil Stoves, Chimneys, Window Screens, Baskets, Tea, Coffee and Baking Powder, 5c. and 10c. Goods—a fine line.

No. 2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4mS

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary
Summer St., Franklin, Mass.
ap27S

Franklin and Wrentham STAGE LINE.

Leave Wrentham P.O. for Franklin at 8.15 a.m., 3.30 p.m. Leave Franklin depot for Wrentham at 9.30 a. m., 4.30 p. m.; connecting with trains for Boston and Providence via N. Y. & N. E. railroad, trains leaving Boston at 7.40, 8.30 a. m. and 3.30 p. m.; leaving Providence at 8.35 a.m.
☞ Orders may be left at Railroad Station.
N. B. WEBBER, Prop.

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.
Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps
Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.
UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Edwin J. Fairbank, Jr., to Abner Chute, dated December 21, 1895, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 752, folio 233, will be sold at public auction upon the premises, on at two o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, the said premises being described in said mortgage deed as follows, viz.:

SATURDAY, the SECOND day of JUNE, 1900,

A certain parcel of land situated easterly of Union street, in Millis, commonwealth of Massachusetts, being lot 111 on a "Plan of building lots in Millis, Mass., owned by Helen E. Van Kleeck Oct. 13, 1893, Geo. A. Kimball, civil engineer," recorded with Norfolk Deeds, containing according to said plan 6484 square feet, and bounded as follows. Beginning at the southeasterly corner of said lot, at land now or formerly of Timothy Bullard and at a point 43.64 feet west of the westerly line of a proposed street 40 feet wide, as shown on said plan; thence running westerly by said land formerly of Timothy Bullard 50.14 feet to a corner; thence in a straight line a little west of northerly by lot 110 on said plan 128.03 feet to the southerly line of a proposed street 40 feet wide, as shown on said plan; thence in a direction a little north of easterly by the southerly line of said proposed street which leads easterly from Union street 50 feet to the northwesterly corner of lot 112 on said plan; thence in a direction a little east of southerly by lot 112 on said plan 131.75 feet to the point of beginning; together with a right to use for all the purposes for which public streets are ordinarily used all the streets laid down on said plan.

ELLA E. MORSE,
Assignee of said mortgage.

my8,15,22

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscribers have been duly appointed executors of the will of Mary Sullivan, sometimes called Maria Sullivan, late of Franklin, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, testate, and have taken upon themselves that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

JEROME B. FITZPATRICK,
METCALF E. POND,
Executors.

Address, Franklin, Mass.
May 8, 1900. my8,15,22

AGENTS WANTED.

Liberal contracts to intelligent men of good character and address. Can earn in commissions from $3000 upwards per year by applying to Wm. F. Buche, Gen'l Agt. NORTHWESTERN MUT. LIFE INS. CO., 7 Water st., Boston, Mass., from 9 to 10 A. M., from 12 to 1 P. M.

ANNUAL STATEMENT JANY. 1, 1900.

Assets	$126,810,728.45
Liabilities	121,[illegible]30.71
Surplus	5,531,097.74
Insurance in force	$497,006,125.00

mh2 2ms

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board.

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Patrick Hart to the Medway Savings Bank, a corporation duly established in Medway, in the county of Norfolk, by the laws of Massachusetts, dated May 14, 1891, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 654, folio 554, and by the said Medway Savings Bank assigned said mortgage deed to Peter Hart, dated May 7, 1900, recorded in Norfolk county deeds, for a breach of the conditions thereof and to foreclose said mortgage deed, will be sold on the premises in Medway, in said Norfolk county, in said Massachusetts, at public auction, on at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed. Excepting such lots as have been released under this mortgage deed by said Medway Savings Bank, and known as lots Nos. 50, 60, 71 and 72 on plan of farm plots of the Boston Agricultural City Co. drawn by H. S. Partridge, April 16, 1896, to which reference may be had.

FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1900,

All that certain lot or tract of land situate in said Medway, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the Medway branch railroad bridge on Charles river; thence running southerly on said river ten (10) rods and fifteen (15) links to land formerly of Aaron L. White; thence southwesterly on said White's land to a stone bound; thence running northwesterly across the open plain on a line parallel with the line of said railroad to the Franklin road, so called, bounding on the west by land formerly of Bucknam and Rayner; thence running northeasterly on said Franklin road to the line of the railroad aforesaid (excepting heretofore a house lot of forty and five-tenths (40 5-10) rods conveyed to Edward Eaton, lying near to said railroad); thence southeasterly on said railroad to Charles river aforesaid. Together with all the rights and privileges of water and otherwise belonging to said premises, together with all improvements on said estate, same as described in deed to me from John J. Raynor, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 546, fol. 605.

Also another tract of land in said Medway, and in Franklin, in said county of Norfolk, near to Medway village, so called, containing about thirty (30) acres, be the same more or less, and bounded as follows, viz: Beginning at a point where a town road crosses the old Medway branch railroad; thence running southerly on said road to land formerly of Aaron L. White; thence running southwesterly and bounded southeasterly by said White's land to land sold by Pierce and Ammidown to Edward Eaton; thence continuing to run southwesterly on said Eaton's land (formerly) seventy-three (73) rods and nine (9) links to land formerly of Clark Walker; thence continuing westerly on said Walker's land ten (10) rods and twenty-one and a half (21 1-2) links to a bound; thence continuing to run on said Walker's land westerly ten (10) rods and twenty-one and a half links more to land formerly of Pierce and Ammidown; thence running northerly on Pierce and Ammidown's land twenty-five (25) rods to a bound on other land formerly of said Pierce and Ammidown; thence running easterly fifteen (15) rods and fifteen (15) links on the land last mentioned to a street or way reserved for passage to other parcels of land conveyed by Bucknam and Rayner; thence running northerly on the west line of said street and bounded westerly by land formerly of said Pierce and Ammidown twelve (12) rods and seven (7) links to land formerly of Mrs. Adeline Fuller; thence on Mrs. Fuller's land twelve (12) rods and two and a half (2 1-2) links to a house and lot (since conveyed) of Pierce and Ammidown; thence on said lot five (5) rods and twenty-four and a half (24 1-2) links to land formerly of said Pierce and Ammidown; thence on said last named land to the Franklin road, so called, twenty-eight (28) rods and twenty-four and a half (24 1-2) links; thence running northeasterly on said Franklin road to the line of the old Medway Branch Railroad Company fifty-six (56) rods and six (6) links; excepting therefrom a lot of land containing forty rods and five-tenths (40 5-10) near the said railroad, sold by Bucknam and Rayner to Edward Eaton, as by his deed will appear; thence running southeasterly on land of said railroad company to the town road aforesaid; subject to the reservations contained in deed of said Pierce and Ammidown see Norfolk Deeds, libro 392, fol. 58, and also plan of various lots drawn by J. C. Lovering in June, 1860.

Also one other tract of land in said Medway, described in a previous mortgage from grantor to grantee. (See Norfolk Registry of Deeds, libro 480, folio 281.

Terms given at time and place of sale.

PETER HART,
Assignee of said mortgagee.

my15,22,29

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Patrick Hart to the Medway Savings Bank, a corporation duly established in Medway, in the County of Norfolk, by the laws of Massachusetts, dated June 14, 1876, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 480, folio 281, and by the said Medway Savings bank assigned said mortgage deed to Peter Hart, dated May 7, 1900, recorded in Norfolk County Deeds, for a breach of the conditions thereof and to foreclose said mortgage deed will be sold on the premises in Medway, in said Norfolk county, in said Massachusetts, at public auction, on

FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1900,

at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, to wit:

A certain tract of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Medway and bounded and described as follows. Beginning at an elm tree on the southerly side or bank of the water course or canal below the batting mill of Eaton & Wilson, thence in a straight line in a southeasterly direction to land of said Eaton & Wilson one hundred (100) feet more or less to a stake and stones which is fifty (50) feet southerly from said canal, in the northerly line of said Eaton & Wilson's land; thence southerly on said Eaton & Wilson's land eighty-four and a half (84 1-2) feet more or less to a stake and stones at a corner; thence westerly on said Eaton & Wilson's land one hundred and seventy (170) feet more or less to Populatic street; thence southeasterly by a varying line around the engine house upon said street, and land formerly of the Medway Branch Railroad Co. to Charles river, near the railroad bridge over said river; thence in a general northwesterly course by said river to the place of beginning at the elm tree; said tract containing ten (10) acres more or less, and was conveyed to said grantor by Edward Eaton and M. M. Fisher and was a part of the Clark Walker farm. Terms given at time and place of sale.

PETER HART,
Assignee of said mortgage.

my15,22,29

Herman M Fisher 1Jan00

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 42. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Boston Evening Transcript	4
Citation	4
Railroad Commissioners' Notice	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 "
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 A. M.
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.05 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.30 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.
MATTHEW F. CONROY, P. M.
Franklin, Mass., June 17, 1898.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.
Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Milford is now a next-door neighbor.

The Franklin National bank is to have a new sign.

It's about time base ball "got a move on" in town.

Have you got your glass already smoked for the eclipse?

Henry Byrnes is quite ill at his home on Cottage street.

Dr. Randall will be out of town every day after 2 p. m. until June 1st.

Miss Nellie Razee has returned from a visit with friends in Cumberland.

The Ramblers will play the Giants of Blackstone here tomorrow afternoon.

Tuesday the roadmen were engaged on Alpine, Crescent and School streets.

George H. Grant is changing the color of his house with the help of the painters.

The Dean and Roxbury High teams will meet on the campus tomorrow afternoon.

A. B. Fletcher's house and C. E. Johnson's house on Main street are being painted.

Mrs. George W. Harvey of Gloucester is visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles L. Stewart.

Artist H. H. Gallison of Boston is in town today, visiting his cousin, Dr. J. C. Gallison.

Mrs. Joanna Russell and daughter Mary of Dorchester are the guests of Mrs. Erbin Holmes.

The Heliotype and Trowbridge teams will meet on the Indian Rock park diamond tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Ethel Clark, who has been staying here a number of weeks, left on Thursday for her home in Philadelphia.

Holy communion will be celebrated for St. John's mission at the rectory Sunday morning next, at 8 o'clock.

E. H. Rathbun has just been elected one of the committee of investment of the Woonsocket Institution for Savings.

Fisher, the candy man, is moving into the store vacated by the Providence Clothing company in Metcalf's block.

Officers for the ensuing year will be nominated at the regular meeting of Ladies' Auxiliary, A.O.H., this evening.

A number of the Masonic fraternity went to Woonsocket last evening and were hospitably entertained by the local lodge there.

The Feast of the Ascension was observed at St. Mary's chapel yesterday morning, masses being celebrated at 5 and 8 a. m.

A class of 25 children will receive holy communion for the first time at the 9 o'clock mass in St. Mary's chapel Sunday morning.

Miss H. R. Easton, who has been the guest of Mrs. Moses Farnum the past ten days, returned to her home in Nantucket yesterday.

Local bicycle dealers tell us that about the only wheels that are selling are those that run at about $25. The season is opening very slowly.

Mrs. Edward Geb and child of Boston, who have been guests of Mrs. Jacob Geb and Mrs. John Geb the past week, returned home Monday.

There was no decoration of graves at Norfolk last Sunday, merely memorial services. The decorations do not occur until May 30, as usual.

There will be a prayer meeting at the almshouse Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock under the auspices of the Baptist Young People's union.

The family of Isaac Marks removed to Manchester, Conn., today, where he removed the business of the Providence Clothing company last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Stewart arrived home from Vermont yesterday. His sister died last week Wednesday, the funeral occurring on Saturday.

A number of new telephones will shortly be put in, among them being L. W. Millikin, George W. Wiggin, George E. Duffy, and others are expected.

H. W. and C. H. Gay have returned to Franklin for the summer. They purchased a restaurant in Boston, but found the work too confining and arduous.

The president on Tuesday appointed Henry A. Talbot postmaster in place of Matthew F. Conroy, subject to the approval of the senate, which is a foregone conclusion.

The violin solo and accompaniments at the Universalist church last Sunday morning and afternoon, and the singing by Miss Phillips, were very much enjoyed by the audience.

Mrs. I. W. Sneath gave a Bible reading before the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. in Cambridge last week. A large number of her Cambridge friends were present to hear her.

Mrs. L. J. Cronkhite sang very sweetly "Your Misson," Lincoln's favorate song, at the prayer meeting of the Congregational church last evening. She has a remarkably sweet voice.

Mrs. Harriet Walker of Los Angeles, Cal., has been a guest at Dr. J. C. Gallison's this week. She is a niece of the famous Kimball brothers, the well-known carriage manufacturers.

A very interesting sight can be witnessed each evening at the Congregational church, when at about 7.15 o'clock 500 or more swallows enter the large ventilating chimney for the night.

The union temperance meeting will be held on Sunday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, in the Congregational church, Rev. Isaiah W. Sneath will speak upon "The South Carolina Dispensary System or No License."

The members of Franklin W. R. C. will meet in the vestry of the Baptist church next Sunday morning, at 10.15 o'clock instead of at G. A. R. hall. Will form in line with Post 60 when they arrive at the church.

Mrs. Melvin Sanborn, who has spent a year and a half South for her health, has returned much improved and will spend some weeks here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Marston Sanborn. Her daughter, Miss Ethel, is also with her.

Mrs. C. C. Burnett, whose husband, the superintendent of the Worcester division of the New Haven road, died recently, has gone to Pinewood farm in Bellingham and will shortly be joined by her father, E. P. Mason, of Providence.

The poem in another column, "A Bright Tomorrow," was written by a lady 76 years old and whose relatives have almost all been taken to the heavenly world. It is a gem of plaintive poetry, showing that she has not lost her finest thought power in her old age.

Mrs. C. E. Kemp and daughter Adelaide left at 6 p. m. Wednesday from Charlestown on the New England for Southport, England, where she will remain about a month, and from thence to Manchester, paying a visit to her sister, who was here a year ago. They will return about Sept. 1.

The scholars of the High school have started a fund for the benefit of the High school base ball team. The money thus contributed will be used to pay the expenses of games, and if any of the citizens of Franklin wish to help the team along George Estey, chairman of the fund committee, will be pleased to hear from them.

There has been a good deal of discussion over Edwin Markham's poem, "The Man With the Hoe," and much difference of opinion as to just what he teaches by it. Does he think labor degrading? Has man degenerated under it? These are some of the questions it suggests. Dr. Hodge's interpretation will be given Sunday morning.

It is hoped that every member of the Alden club who can be present will feel it her duty to attend the last meeting of the year next Monday evening. Important business is on hand. An interesting "History of the Club" will be read and a cordial fraternal social hour enjoyed before parting for the summer vacation. Members are requested to bring pencils.

Dean scored a victory in the contest with the Brown Sophomore team on the campus Wednesday afternoon, 14 to 10. The academy boys won the game by superior all round work and had their opponents practically beaten from the second inning. While both pitchers were hit freely, Jenness had by far the best of it, being very effective when men were on bases.

Archdeacon Babcock of the archdeaconry of New Bedford made a visitation to the missions in Franklin and Medway yesterday and was the guest of Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Miner. His visit was for the purpose of looking over the ground in reference to the structure for St. John's mission soon to be built. In Medway he inspected the parish house now under construction.

The doors of G. A. R. hall will be opened next Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock to receive flowers. Will the school children help gather them for us as in former years? All members of the W. R. C. that can be present to render assistance will be welcome. Let us stand ready with willing hearts and hands to render the comrades every assistance they may require of us on Memorial day.

Scores of Franklinites will be on the watch next Monday morning for the eclipse, which will be partially visible here. The time of total eclipse is very short, only one minute and twenty-six seconds at Norfolk, Va. The first contact, or beginning, of the partial phase will be at 7.41 eastern standard time, at Norfolk; totality will begin at 8.52; last contact, or the close of the eclipse, will occur at 10.12. If it is a good day it will be viewed by millions.

Mrs. Harry Spence, after a protracted sickness with bronchitis, died at her late home on Summer street at an early hour this morning. Mrs. Spence was a devout and consistent member of St. Mary's church and was esteemed by a large circle of friends, who regret her passing away. She leaves a husband, four sons and four daughters. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Mary's chapel.

Franklin Prohibitionists should remember that their national convention is to be held in Chicago next week. The delegates at large from this state will be Edward Kendall of Cambridge, Alfred W. Richardson of Springfield, Frank M. Forbush of Newton and Rev. Charles A. Crane of Boston; alternates, John Bascom of Williamstown, N. B. Johnson of Milford, Hubbard Lawrence of Palmer and George D. Crittenden of Buckland.

The saying of Abraham Lincoln that "you may deceive all the people part of the time and part of the people all the time, but not all the people all the time," is applicable to business as well as to political affairs. You can get a little custom without advertising by selling the best commodities; you can get some custom by advertising though your goods be bad. But you can get much custom by advertising persistently, selling only the best goods and treating the public well. Try the SENTINEL and be convinced.

The Norwood Advertiser of May 18 has the following pleasant mention: "Last Sunday we were favored by Mrs. Lettie J. Cronkhite of Little Falls, N. Y., who sang three selections. She has a pleasing and sympathetic mezzo contralto voice which lends itself to gospel music with very good effect." Mrs. Cronkhite will sing at the Young People's meeting at the Baptist church next Sunday evening. She is stopping at Mrs. Henry Phelps, Cottage street, and is placing agents for the Abner Royce Laboratory, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Work is rapidly progressing on the Medway and Franklin street railroad. A steam drilling machine has arrived and is used in connection with the blasting of many big rocks which are directly on the route of the railroad. The tracks are all laid up to the meadow this side of S. C. Bourne's, and the poles are along the roadway, with the holes already dug. Linemen will follow stringing wires as soon as the roadmen are out of the way. The work is being pushed, the only delay being the ledge just above Mr. Bourne's house, which is requiring a good deal of attention.

Ivers S. Paine, a former Franklin boy, has just contributed an interesting criticism upon the Van Dyck portrait of Baby Stuart, one of the children of Charles the First, for the Out and About column of the Worcester Spy. He closes as follows: "Looking on the face of this chubby, guileless baby in his cap, we forget Scotland's reign of terror, Monmouth's bloody tomb, the inhuman Jeffreys and Boyne's crimson waters. It is a merciful provision that truth, innocence and beauty only are truly immortal. In our best moments we are one with Jean Paul Richter when he said: 'I love God and little children.'"

Nothing has been done as yet in regard to the enforcement in Franklin of the curfew, as the by law passed by the town must first be approved by a judge of the superior court. Milford appears to have struck a snag, and if the objection holds good the law may strike similar snags in other places. Judge Gaskill of the superior court seems to question the constitutionality of the Milford law and isn't satisfied that there is any statute on which to base such a regulation. To say that the people of Milford are surprised is only stating a fact that is very patent, as it was the same law applying there as found approval in Natick by another judge. These judges ought to get together.

The gentlemen who are interested in the formation of a base ball association in town discussed the matter pro and con at the office of P. A. Woodward on Wednesday evening, but deferred action for the present as to organizing. The prevailing opinion among those present appeared to be that unless Milford has a good team in the field this season and without the co-operation of the street railway company in the matter of improving the ball grounds and taking an interest in the proposed association it would not be a wise move to attempt to carry out the scheme. A committee will confer with the company in reference to receiving support and in the meantime it will be definitely ascertained whether Milford is to have a team.

The ladies of the Congregational church provided a most pleasing affair on Wednesday evening, attracting a large number. There was an entertainment in the chapel, consisting of music by Mann's orchestra, readings by Miss Caroline Rockwood, a piano duet by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Johnson, and a recital by Master Ernest Abbott. After the entertainment the banquet room below was opened, and was speedily filled by those desiring ice cream, strawberries, cake, candy, etc., everything meeting with ready sale. In addition to this there were various articles suspended from strings, and a small fee was charged for the privilege of cutting a string and becoming possessor of the package. This was a novelty and was also successful. A generous sum will be netted, which will be devoted to the building of the veranda at the parsonage.

Tuesday a brisk fire started near the residence of Reed Newell on Washington street and near the line of the Providence branch railroad, and burned through to King street before it was under control. About the same time a fire started near the railroad and near the line between Franklin and Wrentham, burning over a large tract toward the West Wrentham depot. Notwithstanding the recent rains, the fire made rapid progress and swept everything in its path. There were a considerable number of men in the vicinity and they responded to the alarm, doing what they could to stay the progress of the blaze. It is supposed the fires started from engine sparks. The number of forest fires the present season has been much larger than last year and the territory burned over is larger. There is good reason to suppose that some of them could have been avoided by the exercise of due care.

Mrs. Frances Woodford of Boston has been in town making an appeal for aid for poor, sickly and neglected children, representing the children's health fund, which is incorporated under the laws of the commonwealth It aids poor, sickly and neglected children throughout the state of Massachusetts, rescues children from unhappy homes and provides for little ones when parents are unable to on account of misfortune. Such are boarded in private families until parents are in a position to care for them, or until permanent homes are secured. In many instances legal guardianship is secured. Children are aided in their own homes, as far as possible, in order to keep the families together, and thus save the little ones from becoming dependent upon charity. The work is non-sectarian and is supported solely by voluntary contributions. Contributions may be sent to the Children's Health Fund, 36 Bromfield street, Boston, Mass.

Off to Porto Rico?

Among the Washington correspondence of the Boston Advertiser yesterday was the following:

"It is said that Dr. Gallison of Franklin, who was a passive candidate for the postmastership of that place, may be called upon to serve the government in some responsible position in Porto Rico under Gov. Allen."

We violate no confidence when we say that the doctor is at present in correspondence with Secretary of State Hay and Mr. Cortelyou, private secretary to President McKinley, in regard to the matter, although he has absolutely no idea of the nature of the work which such an appointment might entail.

Fresh Lobsters.

Our lobsters are boiled fresh every Saturday morning and received here at 4.30 p. m. Also asparagus, string beans, spinach, dandelions, radishes, lettuce, rhubarb, cucumbers, Bermuda onions; fresh killed fowls, lamb, veal, pork, choice beef, and as a delicacy we have Van Camp's celebrated concentrated soups of all kinds. Try them. Also the Brunswick canned goods.

EMERSON'S MARKET.

Beautiful Flowers.

Mrs. King's plant sale is now on in Crowninshield's store. See the display.

Those in search of bargains in household furniture, store goods, etc., should remember the E. B. Guild auction in City Mills on Saturday, at 1 o'clock.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

Electrics to Milford.

The first electric car into North Bellingham was run Wednesday afternoon. It started at 4.30 from Bellingham Four Corners and made the trip to the railroad crossing at the North Bellingham depot, a distance of about three miles, in a little over twenty minutes. The car was in charge of Supt. H. M. Young, with Charles Rogers, superintendent of overhead construction of the M., A. & W., on the rear platform.

President George W. Wiggin and Treasurer E. K. Ray of the M., A. & W. Co., Selectman Henry A. Whitney of Bellingham, Miss Ray and Miss Irwin, Mr. Ray's private stenographer, and two Reporter men were on the car when it left Bellingham Four Corners. When the car reached the outskirts of the village of North Bellingham the people ran from their houses in glad surprise to watch it go by. When the North Bellingham mill was passed and the car stopped at the terminus just beyond it, more than half the mill help came out to see the sight. The first car in the village created a sensation. Thirty or forty school children clambered on board and many of the older townspeople boarded the car and were given a free ride.

The return trip to the Four Corners was made under twenty minutes without unusual speed. The roadbed, although new, is in excellent condition and the riding was delightfully pleasant.

Thursday afternoon workmen in the employ of the company went over the line distributing a number of guard rails, which will be put in position on the extension of the line from North Bellingham to Caryville. The first car was run over that line from Milford Thursday afternoon, and thus connection is now made from Franklin to Milford, the Framinghams, the Medways and Boston.

Supt. Young said that the direct line from Bellingham Four Corners through Bellingham centre to Milford will be completed June 1. A large gang of men are now pushing the construction work. None of the overhead work on that line has been done, but will be started on as soon as the overhead gang completes its work on the Wrentham and Attleboro branch. He also expected the latter branch would be running next week some time. The overhead work, such as hanging braces, stringing wires, etc., is almost completed, and as soon as it is the cars will be operated.

Air brakes for the big bloomer cars are expected to arrive within a week, and as they come will be affixed to the cars. These brakes will greatly facilitate the safe running of the cars.

Sunday Memorial Services.

The memorial service at the Baptist church next Sunday forenoon for Franklin Post, No. 60, G. A. R, the W. R. C. and the Sons of Veterans promises to be exceedingly interesting. The church will be finely decorated with flags and bunting. The singing will be by a male quartet and a chorus choir. The old army songs so dear to every soldier's heart will be sung. Adjutant A. C. Dana will read the commander's order for memorial services and the list of soldiers connected with the local post who have died within three years. The pastor, Rev. F. B Sleeper, will preach on the theme "Modern Idolatries."

The following will be the order of exercises:

"Tramp, Tramp, Tramp"..................Chorus
Scripture Reading.
"Tenting on the Old Camp Ground"—
Male Quartette
Commander's Order—List of Soldier Dead—
Adjt. A. C. Dana
"The Vacant Chair"..............Male Quartette
Prayer..Pastor
"Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean".......Chorus
Hymn—"America."
Sermon—"Modern Idolatries..Rev. F. B. Sleeper
Hymn.

Post 60, G. A. R., accompanied by Sons of Veterans and Woman's Relief corps will meet at G. A. R. hall Memorial Sabbath, May 27, at 1 o'clock, p m, to take barges for Bellingham to decorate soldiers' graves. At the hall a lunch will be served for out-of town comrades immediately after memorial service at Baptist church.

PROGRAMME FOR MEMORIAL DAY,

WEDNESDAY, MAY 30, 1900.

At 7 o'clock a. m. Post 60, G. A. R., accompanied by Sons of Veterans Camp, No. 44, as escort, will take barges at G. A. R. hall for Norfolk and City Mills cemeteries and decorate comrades' graves. Returning, arrive at G. A. R. hall at 12 noon, where dinner will be served by Woman's Relief Corps, No. 89.

At 2 p. m. line will be formed and march to Catholic church and escort children of St. Mary's parish to Catholic cemetery, Beaver street, and decorate comrades' graves.

Thence down Union street to School street and escort the children of the public schools to the Union street cemetery and decorate the soldiers' graves. Services for the unknown dead by Women's Relief Corps and the usual exercises.

D. W. Corson will be marshal of the day.

Fine hair cutting, smooth shaving, razors honed and put in order. Ochee the barber.

THE BRIGHT TOMORROW.

BY MRS. E. D. CHOATE.

I am groping in the shadow
And can hardly find my way,
Waiting for the bright tomorrow
In the home of endless day.

Dearest loved ones gone before me,
Lo! I see them as they stand,
See their harps and hear their voices
Bid me welcome to that land.

Here I wait, with rapture gazing
On that heavenly scene so grand;
I am saying "I am coming,
Jesus guide me by Thy hand."

God makes answer "Simply trust Me,
I will guide you safely through
Valley of the deepest shadow
Where the loved ones wait for you."

Napoli, N. Y., May 20, 1900.

How Will You Treat Them?

Because of the expected coming of the trolley into town Franklin merchants have been counting upon not a little new trade, and rightly so, especially from Medway and Wrentham, but there is another thing to be considered in the Wrentham matter The same road which permits Wrenthamites to come to Franklin also permits them to go to the Attleboros and Pawtucket at a slight additional expense. Now there is but one way to secure the new trade and hold it, and that is to offer inducements equal to what they will receive elsewhere, and further, to let prospective customers know what you have to sell through the columns of some newspaper which reaches those customers, and that is what the SENTINEL does. These facts are decidedly worth thinking about, and having given them thought they should be acted upon. Merchants, the coming of new business to Franklin depends almost entirely upon the inducements you have to offer and the way you offer them.

A Rare Treat.

Prof. Peirce has secured for the after dinner speakers at the Dean graduation, June 14, a number of the most interesting personages in our state, and whom it will be a rare treat to hear. They are the Hon. Samuel L. Powers of Newton, Mrs. Mary A. Livermore of Melrose, Rev. Dr. Rohlin of Boston, Rev. E. A. Horton of Boston, besides a number of the alumni. To miss it will be to miss a feast.

Richardson's Market.

Meat is rising, but we shall continue to sell the best the market affords at prices as low as possible. Our line of vegetables includes everything obtainable at present. Our corned beef ranges from 5 to 12 cents; everyone suited. Home killed veal, choice roasts, prime butter, etc. We have some selected tomato plants at 25 cents a dozen for home gardeners. Remember our strawberries are selected fruit and "full boxes."

Flowers for Decoration Day.

All orders for baskets, wreaths, bouquets, crosses and potted plants will receive prompt attention if given in good season at Slade's greenhouse, or by mail, box 179.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Up stairs tenement to let on Central street. Inquire of A. M. Haggart. 6tf

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one 11tf

Orders for Allen's wood yard taken here can be transmitted by telephone at once.

Teaming.—Teaming of all kinds at reasonable rates. Hector McCulloch, Chestnut street. 25,29*

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18 tf

Good assortment of carpets and couches at Sanford Bros., Medway. "A word to the wise is sufficient. 15,18

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Mrs. S. H. Frost, Alpine street, will fill all orders for flowers for Memorial day, or for any occasion, at short notice. 22-tf

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

Pasture to Rent.—Persons desiring pasture for horses or cows can rent same on reasonable terms. Call on or address Enoch Waite for particulars. 11,18,25

For Sale Cheap.—A quantity of good English hay and a lot of oat straw; also a generous supply of hard-wood ashes. Mrs. Harriet N. Gowen, 20 Pleasant street. 22,25,29,1*

Wanted — Lady to represent Abner Royce Laboratory, Cleveland, Ohio., manufacturer extracts, perfumes. Inquire Mrs. Lettie J. Cronkhite, 13 Cottage street. 25

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Briggs. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Round trip tickets to Milford, 48c; Providence, 90c; Boston, $1.05. Get them of Chas. H. Prince at SENTINEL office and thus save 33, and 12c from regular fare charged for respective trips. Mileage books to let.

Views of Residences.

Now, before the trees leaf fully, is the best time to arrange for photos of your home, either exterior or interior. Call and see samples and let me quote prices. Business hours during the summer, 8 to 12 a. m., 1.15 to 5 p. m., 7 to 8 Saturday evenings.

CALKIN, Photographer,
Depot St.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word; no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1900

To Norfolk, Va., belongs the distinction of having the oldest masonic lodge [illegible] this organization. [illegible] lodge, No. 1, was in[illegible] and chartered under the [illegible] Exchange lodge, No. 172, [illegible] grand lodge of England [illegible] 1741, when it surrendered its [illegible] charter and received one from the grand lodge of Scotland, which conferred the title of St. John's lodge, No. 177. Then came a period when the revolutionary war cut it off from communication with the grand lodge. At Williamsburg, in 1777, a convention of Virginia lodges was held. [illegible] M. Mathew Phripp, of St. John's lodge, was elected president. Four years later the grand lodge of Virginia was organized, and in 1790 St. John's was chartered under its present title.

Hans Hanson, a Yankton county farm hand, is entitled to the honor of being named the Rockefeller of South Dakota farmhands, for he has demonstrated that steady application to his apparently humble occupation results in a gratifying degree of success. During this fall, says a Sioux Falls exchange, he husked 4,410 bushels of corn in 47½ days of eight hours each. For the work he received three cents per bushel, or a total of $132.30. With $182 added for wages received by him since April 1 last makes a total of $314.30 clear for a little over eight months' work. He has over $2,000 in cash saved up, all of which he earned by farm work.

From a New Jersey inventor comes a top which revolves 43 minutes, and stands erect when at rest. It is perfectly balanced with weights inside, and the "peg" is no larger than a fine needle. The weight is four ounces, and only ten inches of string are required. The inventor is a schoolmaster, and when he lectures at educational meetings, he spins the toy "to illustrate the beauty of a systematically developed life."

Emperor William is said to have told some American ladies that women have no business to interfere with affairs outside of the four K's—"kinder, kirche, kuche and kleider" (children, church, cooking and cloths). The success of the remark in alliteration indicates that it may not cover the subject in other respects.

According to recent statements of well-known physicians who have performed autopsies on persons dying from intestinal diseases, the seeds of grapes and other fruit, also the hard, indigestible portions of pop corn, are frequently the cause of fatal intestinal disorders.

Adjt. Gen. Axline, of Ohio, asserts in his annual report that Ohio sent the first volunteer regiment into the field in the Spanish-American war and completed the mustering and dispatching of her quota of troops first of all the states. Its total number of men was 15,354.

A Hartsborn (Mo.) editor, who believes in all the comforts of home, says: "We would prefer living in a small town, where the people will sympathize with you in trouble, and if you haven't any trouble they will hunt up some for you."

"Stamp licker's tongue" is the name recently [illegible] by an English physician to a form of sore mouth occurring in clerks who have many letters to stamp and seal, and who moisten the adhesive surface with the ever ready tongue.

The factory inspectors in Pennsylvania report 2,228 accidents for the last year. Three fourths of them are ascribed to carelessness.

It is reported that there are between 700 and 800 breeders of Guernsey cattle in this country, and the cattle number about 12,000 head.

BLUES

Ever have them? Then we can't tell you anything about them. You know how dark everything looks and how you are about ready to give up. Somehow, you can't throw off the terrible depression.

Are things really so blue? Isn't it your nerves, after all? That's where the trouble is. Your nerves are being poisoned from the impurities in your blood.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

purifies the blood and gives power and stability to the nerves. It makes health and strength, activity and cheerfulness.

This is what "Ayer's" will do for you. It's the oldest Sarsaparilla in the land, the kind that was old before other Sarsaparillas were known.

This also accounts for the saying, "One bottle of Ayer's is worth three bottles of the ordinary kind."

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

Write the Doctor.

If you have any complaint whatever and desire the best medical advice you can possibly receive, write the doctor freely. You will receive a prompt reply, without cost. Address,
DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

WHAT FLOWERS

POETRY AND LANGUAGE OF F[illegible] RAREST GIFTS.

Symbols Used in the Grand Army Ceremonies—Martial Valor and Virtues Typified—How the Poets Interpret Form and Color.

[Copyright, 1900, by R. C. Eichorn.]

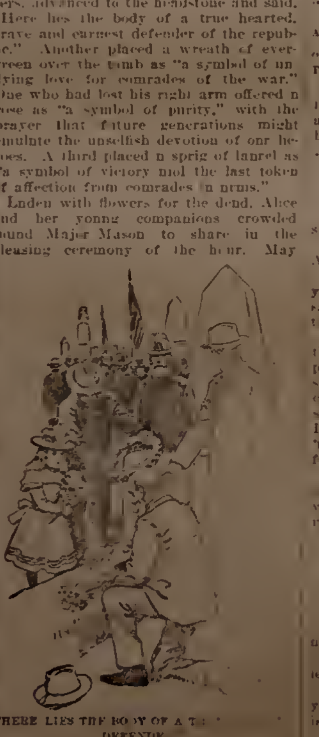
The elements had combined to make Memorial day one of perfection. All nature bloomed with the fragrance of early summer, and the trees swayed in majestic splendor, overshadowing the green swathed hillside graves. Veterans of 1861, together with many of 1898, surrounded by sympathizing groups of of old and young, stood awaiting the bugle call to attention. A child dressed in white and holding a tiny flag on high suddenly arose on the edge of the crowd nearest the soldiers and repeated with nervous resolution these lines:

> And we in our busy waiting
> Pause reverent each year to pay
> The small but soulful tribute
> Of grateful love and pray
>
> That the dear All Father may bless you
> With a fuller, richer life
> Than that so freely proffered
> In the aid of a noble strife.
>
> Once more, brave hearts, we thank you
> For the grand free land of ours.
> Once more we whisper, "God bless you,"
> And leave our love with our flowers.

The tender tone and beautiful sentiment appealed to every heart. Sensative Alice Mason clung to her father's hand and buried her tear stained face in the folds of his worn blue jacket that had seen service in the field. And she would not be comforted until the bugle call demanded his presence in the front ranks, then only letting him go when he promised to take her with him at the distribution of flowers.

The soldiers fell in place about the grave of their comrade. An elderly commander, with gray hair and bowed shoulders, advanced to the headstone and said, "Here lies the body of a true hearted, brave and earnest defender of the republic." Another placed a wreath of evergreen over the tomb as "a symbol of undying love for comrades of the war." One who had lost his right arm offered a rose as "a symbol of purity," with the prayer that future generations might emulate the unselfish devotion of our heroes. A third placed a sprig of laurel as "a symbol of victory and the last token of affection from comrades in arms."

Laden with flowers for the dead, Alice and her young companions crowded round Major Mason to share in the pleasing ceremony of the hour. May



"HERE LIES THE BODY OF A T[illegible] DEFENDER."

R[illegible]

in garlands so that each warrior might share alike. "Every one must have a sprig of laurel, a rose and some evergreen," she added, "for

> "Not richer the tints of the red rose
> Than the blood they so lavishly gave,
> Not purer the lilies' white petals
> Than the cause they perished to save,
>
> "And the unfading green of the myrtle
> Tells of faith to the seeking eye
> That memory is true to the dear ones
> Who now in their long furlough lie."

"It is the first verse that we want here. You see, there will scarcely be a rose, a sprig of laurel and some evergreen for them all," said Alice, looking doubtfully at the great heap of flowers.

"That is right," observed the major. "We have plenty of other flowers, and we can use those. Every flower and bud has some meaning. The poets have lavished beautiful attributes upon every plant of nature, and they have seen fit to seize each particular beauty and give it some human quality, thus making it dearer to the heart of man. Longfellow wrote of them as 'stars that in earth's firmament do shine,' adding > "Wondrous truths and manifold as wondrous

> God hath written in those stars above,
> But not less in the bright flowerets under us
> Stands the revelation of His love."

"Then we can have no trouble in finding flowers for each that will be symbolic of those three virtues," said thoughtful Agnes, Alice's older sister, and continued, "Here is a pansy to begin with. That means thought."

At Major Mason's suggestion they assorted the flowers in order to simplify the distributing of them.

"Forgetmenots, for true love," said Jennie.

"Roses, for reward of virtue, and the palm for victory," was the major's remark as he laid them side by side on the grass.

A WILDERNESS OF SWEETS.

"I wish we had more palms," said patriotic Robert Shaw.

"Here is a great branch of cedar. Where shall I put that, Major Mason?" was Katie Hyde's query.

"There, Robert, you wanted more palm, take the cedar. They both represent much the same virtue, for this signifies strength."

"And where there is strength does victory follow?" asked Alice.

"Not always," was the reply, "but it is one sure thing that victory is seldom gained without strength."

"Don't forget the daisies that—

> "Uplift in praise their little glowing hands
> O'er every hill that under heaven expands, and does not the daisy mean innocence?" asked Florence.

"Yes, 'innocence and purity,' the poet says, 'are the heaven bestowed virtues of the daisy,'" responded the major. "But," he added, "what of the hawthorn. I see a great branch of that here?"

"That is red. Can we use it—

> "The red for the valorous blood you lost,
> Who so gallantly played your parts?"

queried Jennie.

"Yes," said the major, "red hawthorn is the emblem of hope, by no means an unworthy virtue. Let us place it with the roses?"

"The elm, shall I place it by itself? Such beautiful green leaves!" mused Robert.

"No. The elm signifies patriotism. I should place it beside the palm and the cedar," said the major.

"These snowballs are beauties. Where shall I put them?"

"Snowballs mean 'thoughts of heaven,' Alice; so put them with the lilies," said Agnes.

"The ferns are so delicate we must use them."

"If we use them, Alice, we'll have to take the moss, too," said Robert, "because

> "The fern loved the mountain, the moss loved the moor,
> For the ferns were the rich and the mosses the poor.
>
> "Then the fern and the moss they grew wiser in grief,
> And each turned to the other for rest and relief.
>
> "And thus and forever, where'er the ferns grow,
> There surely the mosses lie sparkling below."

"That was well quoted, Robert," said the major. "And now I wonder does any one know a verse that will be symbolic of all these flowers? I am sure Agnes does."

But Agnes was silent.

"Well, then, Alice, do you know one?"

The little curly head shook its reply.

Robert spoke up. "A wilderness of sweets."

"I have thought of one, papa," said Agnes.

"We want to know yours, Agnes, for you always think of something good," said appreciative Robert and cuddled up to the major for approval.

"Agnes is so thoughtful and serious that we know hers must be quite as appropriate as Robert's," said the major, stroking the little head beside him. Encouraged by such appreciation, Agnes said, "I think it was Leigh Hunt, the English poet, who spoke of flowers as 'marvels, sweet forever, more true than fables and equally beloved.'"

"Marvels, sweet forever," repeated [illegible] I [illegible] sweets to [illegible] head. [illegible]

[illegible]

R[illegible] A. C. [illegible]

Procrastination of advertising plans may be the thief of prosperity.

In almost every business there is one leader. Where is your place in line?

The public is just as anxious to buy your goods as you are to sell—if the merit is there.

The proper time to prepare an advertisement [illegible]

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Cures All Blood Humors
America's Greatest Spring Medicine.

Saddest of All.

> Of all the [illegible]
> With which we seek,
> The worst is to > Have nothing to eat.
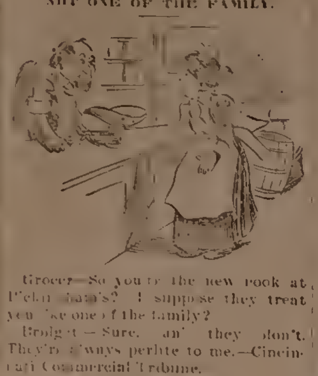
> —Philadelphia North American.

NOT ONE OF THE FAMILY.



Grocer—So you're the new cook at Pelham's? I suppose they treat you like one of the family?

Bridget—Sure, an' they don't. They're always perlite to me.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

A One-Sided Affair.

"M[illegible]" said she, "is a lottery [illegible] the law devises."
"True," said he, "and one in which W[illegible] get all the prizes."
—Chicago Daily News.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50c. at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

"Only" Fancy.

Husband (on his return from business)—Why, my dear, what is the matter? You look ill.

Wife (faintly) — Oh! Jim, I've just been reading some patent medicine advertisement, and I find I have 16 diseases, any one of which may prove fatal. —Ally Sloper

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine
Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION
GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.
Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

mar17-1yF

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS

For a distance of 5 miles or less, - - 10c
5 to 15 miles, - - 15c
15 to 25 " - - 20c
25 to 35 " - - 25c
35 to 45 " - - 30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au2'F

Have a Boiled Dinner
FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs............10c | Smoked Bacon, strip...10c
Fancy Brisket........10c | Spinach, peck.........25c
Flank..................6c | Dandelion.............30c
Smoked Shoulders.....8c | Lettuce, each..........8c
Radishes, bunch.......5c

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-1yS

SEND NO MONEY WITH YOUR ORDER, cut this ad. out and send to us and we will send you OUR HIGH GRADE DROP CABINET BURDICK SEWING MACHINE by freight, C. O. D. subject to examination. You can examine it at your nearest freight depot and if found perfectly satisfactory, exactly as represented, equal to machines others sell as high as $60.00, and THE GREATEST BARGAIN YOU EVER HEARD OF, pay your freight agent our Special Offer Price $15.50 and freight charges. Machine weighs 120 pounds and the freight will average 75 cents for each 500 miles. GIVE IT THREE MONTHS TRIAL in your own home, and we will return your $15.50 any day you are not satisfied. We sell different makes and grades of Sewing Machines at $8.50, $10.00, $11.00, $12.00 and up, all fully described in our Free Sewing Machine Catalogue, but $15.50 for this DROP DESK CABINET BURDICK is the greatest value ever offered by any house.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS by unknown concerns who copy our advertisements, offering unknown machines under various names, with various inducements. Write some friend in Chicago and learn who are reliable and who are not.

THE BURDICK has every MODERN IMPROVEMENT, EVERY GOOD POINT OF EVERY HIGH GRADE MACHINE MADE, WITH THE DEFECTS OF NONE. Made by the best makers in America, from the best material money can buy.

$15.50

This illustration shows the machine open, ready for use.

This shows the machine closed to be used as a center table, stand or desk.

SOLID QUARTER SAWED OAK DROP DESK CABINET, piano polished. One illustration shows machine closed (head dropping from sight) to be used as a center table, stand or desk, the other open with full length table and head in place for sewing. 4 fancy drawers, latest 1899 skeleton frame, carved, paneled, embossed and decorated cabinet finish, finest nickel drawer pulls, rests on four casters, adjustable treadle, genuine Smyth iron stand. Finest large High Arm head, positive four motion feed, self threading vibrating shuttle, automatic bobbin winder, adjustable bearings, patent tension liberator, improved loose wheel, adjustable pressure foot, improved shuttle carrier, patent needle bar, patent dress guard, head is handsomely decorated and ornamented and beautifully nickel trimmed. GUARANTEED the lightest running, most durable and nearest noiseless machine made. Every known attachment is furnished and our Free Instruction Book tells just how anyone can run it and do either plain or any kind of fancy work. A 20-Years' Binding Guarantee is sent with every machine. IT COSTS YOU NOTHING to see and examine this machine, compare it with those your storekeeper sells at $40.00 to $60.00, and then if convinced that you are saving $25.00 to $40.00, pay your freight agent the $15.50. WE TO RETURN YOUR $15.50 if at any time within three months you say you are not satisfied. ORDER TO-DAY. DON'T DELAY. (Sears, Roebuck & Co. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

Address, SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. (Inc.) Chicago, Ill.

no28 S

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
SAVINGS BANK.
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, } Vice-Presidents
CHAS. J. McKENZIE, }
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, Chas. J. McKenzie, E. P. Chapman, Charles Stewart, George W. Wiggin.

STATEMENT APRIL 30, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$559,930 72
Guarantee Fund		27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account		6,268 89
Interest Account		6,696 13
Real Estate Income Account		184 13
Tax account		32 25
		$600,835 31

ASSETS.

Real Estate by Foreclosure		$20,761 00
Town and City Bonds		7,071 25
Bank Stock		28,189 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
Loaned on Bank Stock		6,350 00
" " Mortgages		156,360 00
" " Personal Securities		144,766 88
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Bank Books		1,500 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		724 03
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$34,373 14
Nat Bank of Redemption	14,451 53
Mercantile Trust Co.	1,926 54
		50,751 21
Cash on hand		1,497 14
		$600,835 31

News and Opinions
OF National Importance.

THE SUN
ALONE
CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

ONLY $5.00

SEND US $5.00 as a guarantee of good faith and we will send you any fire proof safe by freight, C. O. D., subject to examination. You can examine it at your freight depot and if you find it the equal of any fire proof combination lock iron and steel safe made and about one-third the price charged by others for the same size and grade, pay your freight agent our special factory price and freight charges, less the $5.00 sent with order; otherwise return it at our expense and we will return your $5.00. 100-lb. combination lock safes for the home, $6.95; 300-lb. office and store safes, $11.95; 500 lbs., $17.95; 700 lbs., $21.95; 1000 lbs., $28.50; 1250 lbs., $32.50; very large double outside and double inside door safes for large business, factory, jewelry or bank, 60 inches high, 2400 lbs., $62.75; 68 inches high, 3000 lbs., $80.75. Freight averages 25 cents per 100 lbs. for 500 miles; for 1000 miles, 40 cents. WRITE FOR FREE SAFE CATALOGUE and special liberal C. O. D. offer.
SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. Chicago.

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative
Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE,
McCARTHY STREET.

22-1y

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

No Medicines! No Appliances!

PERFECT HEALTH, BODILY DEVELOPMENT and BEAUTY ASSURED

Life power, nerve force and freedom from disease by simple forms of self aid. ADVICE FREE.

Address: BOSTON DIETARY, Box 42 Roxbury Station, Boston, Mass. ap27-4w

OUR $1.50 ANTI FAT BELT

For $1.50 we furnish the celebrated BROWN'S ABDOMINAL BELT for the cure of CORPULENCY. Corpulent people who wear the Brown's Abdominal Belt run no risk of Navel Rupture or Umbilical Hernia; you get a comfort and ease of action you will appreciate. No corpulent person can afford to be without this belt. Cut this Ad. out and send to us with $1.50 in 110 cents extra for postage, state height, weight, age and number inches around the body, largest part, and we will send the belt to you by mail (postpaid), with the understanding that if it is not perfectly satisfactory and equal to belts that retail at $3.00 and upwards you can return it at our expense. Write for free Belt and Truss Catalogue.
SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO., CHICAGO

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co.
Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

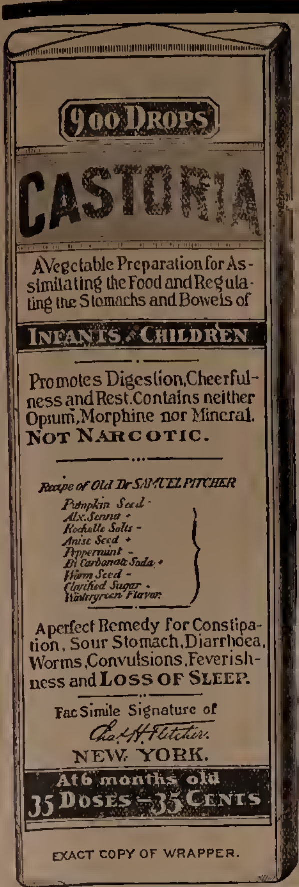
m25-4w

PARKER'S
HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

11-4wmy

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.



900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER

Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna +
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed +
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda +
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar +
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

RHYMES AND RUNES.

When Peggy Goes to Market.

When Peggy takes her basket up
And off to market goes,
I'm stupefied with wonder at
How very much she knows.
She makes her way between the stalls
And with judicial air
Decides that this is "so and so"
And that is "pretty fair."

She knows if fish are fresh or not,
And wise as any owl,
She differentiates between
A chicken and a fowl.
She thumbs the breastbone of the one
And pulls the other's legs:
She squints her pretty little eyes
To test the new-laid eggs.

The veg'tables must be just right,
For with a critic's eye
She scans them, not inclined to pass
Their imperfections by.
She calls the market folks by name;
Ah, what a lot she knows,
When Peggy takes her basket up
And off to market goes!
When Peggy does the marketing,
My heart with pride she fills;
I go along, a useless thing,
Except to pay the bills.
—Johnstone Murray, in What to Eat.

CHURNING MADE EASY.

To Change an Ordinary Dash Into a Crank Churn Is Not a Difficult Matter.

There are a large number of butter makers who will use only the old-fashioned dash churn, believing that it gives the best results, quality and quantity of butter considered. The great fault of the dash churn is the labor of operating it, so much of the exerted force of the operator being lost on account of no machinery to utilize it as in the crank churn. In Figs. 1 and 2, dash churns are converted into crank churns. In the device shown in Fig. 1 an old buggy wheel can be used for the fly-wheel. All the iron work, such as the crank shaft, bearings, pitman, etc., can be made by any blacksmith at a small expense.

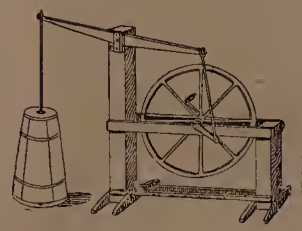


FIG. 1.

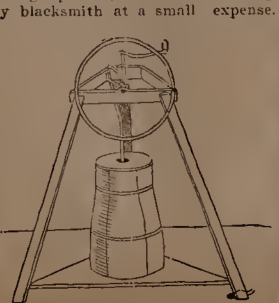

FIG. 2.

The framework any farmer will be able to make himself. The two posts used in the first device need not be very large or heavy, but just wide enough to permit the wheel to turn inside of the two supports on which the bearings rest. In the second figure an iron fly-wheel such as is found on an old cider press is used. It is adapted to a small churn.—Orange Judd Farmer.

You May Need

Pain-Killer

For ACCIDENTS
Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Wounds, &c., &c.

It gives instant relief and cures quickly.

In case of sudden illness
Cramps
Diarrhœa
Dysentery
and
All Bowel
Complaints

it is a sure, safe and quick remedy.

There's ONLY ONE

Pain-Killer

Perry Davis'.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)

ALL DRUGGISTS.

jn10 1y

NEW BUTTER MARKET.

American Product Brings Five Cents a Pound More in Berlin Than the Home Article.

A cablegram from Berlin announces that the other day in Germany's capital city American butter sold over all competitors at an advance of 20 pfennig, or five cents of our money.

When we consider that Germany has been the most persistent foe to American agricultural exports, going so far even as to attack our apples and shut them out of her markets, we may see in this incident a hopeful change. But we may be sure of one thing—that butter was sold on its merits and the consumers paid five cents more per pound for it than other butters could be had, not because it came from the United States, but because it was gilt-edge in quality, pleasing in flavor and bore the stamp of honesty and purity.

This is only one incident, but it indicates great possibilities, not along the line of oleomargarine and process butter, but in the future of the first-class, pure article, such as American dairymen know how to produce, can produce in almost unlimited quantities and at less cost than any other people in the world. What occurred at Berlin will be possible in many other cities of Europe if we but keep our standard high, and insist that nothing but the genuine article be permitted to leave our shores.—Farmers' Voice.

The Last Stage.

Mrs. De Fashion—My dear, late hours, late suppers, and general social dissipation, have ruined your constitution.

Miss De Fashion (belle of six seasons)—I know it, ma.

"And your health is miserable."

"Yes, ma."

"And you are losing your beauty."

"It's all gone, ma."

"It really is. And so is your plumpness."

"I'm nothing but skin and bones."

"There's no denying it, my dear. You are a mere wreck of your former self."

"Too true."

"What are you going to do about it?"

"Get married."—N. Y. Weekly.

Hard Lines.

Sprogles—I used to think my face was my fortune, but I've got over that idea.

Bingle—What has changed your mind?

Sprogles—I was on one of those juries when the bribing was done, but the fellows with money didn't approach me, because, as I have just learned, they thought I had too honest a face.

One of Those Queries.

"Father," said the boy, with big, serious eyes, "I want to ask you something."

"What is it, my son?" asked the old gentleman, closing his book and looking wise.

"If a monkey wore shoes on his hind feet would they be mittens?"—Washington Post.

The Surest Cure.

"They say that Nell Gadleigh has broken off her engagement with Harry Hippleson."

"Yes, she says he was so affectionate that he wearied her."

"Oh, if that was all, why didn't she just marry him and have done with the wearisome part of it?"—Chicago Record.

An Old Maid's Last Words.

Be calm, my heart, for soon shall end
Thy longing, love-sick sighs;
For soon I'll have a man—a man—
A mansion in the skies.
—N. Y. World.

AN EFFECTIVE ALIBI.

Mr. Grumble—I see by the paper that Mount Vesuvius is in eruption.

Mrs. G.—Oh, I'm so glad!

Mr. G.—There you are again, Maria. Now why on earth should you be glad?

Mrs. G.—Well, you can't blame me for it, that's all!—Punch.

Turn About.

He used to lead her through the dance,
But love will have its way:
Dan Cupid spoke—she's leading him
A merry dance to-day.
—Chicago Daily News.

Safe from Drowning.

Winter Visitor (in Florida)—I should love dearly to go sailing, but it looks very dangerous. Do not people often get drowned in this bay?

Waterman—No, indeed, mum. The sharks never lets anybody drown.—N. Y. Weekly.

Easily.

"Could you tell me what this prescription calls for?" asked the inquisitive citizen.

"Yes," answered the clerk as he glanced over it rapidly, "50 cents."—Washington Star.

A Matter of Necessity.

"Why are brides always led to the altar?"

"Because they are so busy looking at their bridal fixings that they can't see where they are going."—Chicago Record.

Ready and Willing.

She—Although my father is rich I have never cared for wealth but as a means to an end.

He—Well, I'm ready to go as end man at a moment's notice.—Chicago Daily News.

Probably the Reason.

Mr. Spelter—Oh, you may talk as you please, Jane; but you were an ignorant woman when you married me.

Mrs. Spelter—Yes, that probably accounts for it.—Boston Transcript.

Reassuring.

Him—Will you scream for your father if I kiss you?

Her—Yes; but I am so hoarse with a cold that I'm positive he won't hear me.—N. Y. World.

A Domestic Tyrant.

Mrs. Foleigh—Oh, John, the paper is offering a prize for a description of a model husband.

Mr. Foleigh—You want to take a try at it?

Mrs. Foleigh—Yes, please.

Mr. Foleigh—All right. Just get the pen, ink and paper, and I'll dictate to you.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Does the Baby Thrive

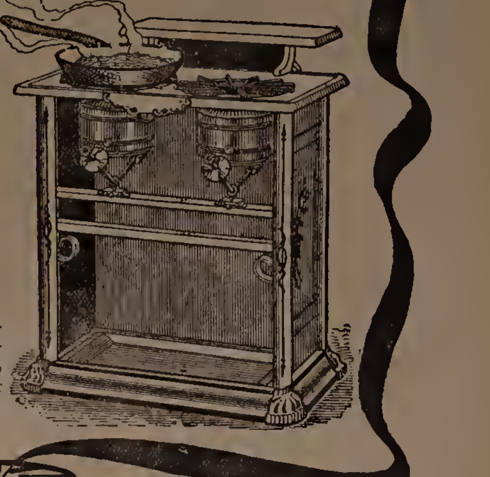
If not, something must be wrong with its food. If the mother's milk doesn't nourish it, she needs SCOTT'S EMULSION. It supplies the elements of fat required for the baby. If baby is not nourished by its artificial food, then it requires

Scott's Emulsion

Half a teaspoonful three or four times a day in its bottle will have the desired effect. It seems to have a magical effect upon babies and children. A fifty-cent bottle will prove the truth of our statements.

Should be taken in summer as well as winter.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.



House Keepers

Don't you know the news about oil stoves? They have been perfected so that they now equal any stoves made for cooking efficiency, safety, beauty and convenience. The most economical stove you can use and the most comfortable in hot weather is the

Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove

It burns the same oil you use in your lamps, at a cost of one-half cent an hour for a burner. Makes no soot and no odor. Sold in all sizes. If your dealer does not have them, write to

STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

THE DEACON.

The annual convention of the Universalist church will be held in Atlanta July 11 to 18.

A report of the membership of the Boston Young Men's Christian union issued April 1 shows 5,554 members, the largest in the history of the union for nearly 50 years.

Dr. John Watson (Ian Maclaren) has just completed the twenty-fifth year of his ministerial life. After laboring in Scotland he became minister of Sefton Park church, Liverpool, in 1880.

The Presbyterian board of home missions comes out with a clear balance sheet, carrying over no debt to the next fiscal year. The board of foreign missions is behind, but hopes to pull out.

The Moody Bible institute of Chicago is considering the inauguration of a system to teach the Bible and theology by mail, a sort of correspondence Bible class. The idea was suggested by the number of letters received by the board of trustees from people outside of the city asking for instruction.

RECENT INVENTIONS.

Potatoes are rapidly dug, cleaned and sacked by a new apparatus, which has a plow to unearth the tubers, the dirt and potatoes falling into an endless chain elevator, which delivers them into a hopper, which removes the dirt and drops the potatoes into a bag.

Water reservoirs are automatically kept at the proper level by a new waste gate, which is pivoted on either side of the outlet, with a pocket attached to the gate at right angles, to be lifted with the overflow, the weight of the water overbalancing the gate and allowing it to open.

Leaves can be rapidly and cleanly picked up from lawns by an Ohio woman's invention, which has a large hopper mounted on wheels, with fan blades set in the mouth of the hopper close to the ground, to be rapidly revolved by gearing inside the wheels, thus fanning the leaves into the hopper.

THE CYNIC.

A $20 suit looks better in a window than a $40 suit does on your back.

Make your business talks as short as your prayers and you will be a winner.

The fear that people will find them out serves most men better than a conscience.

Persistence in doing one's duty ends in liking it, something like acquiring a taste for olives.

You know how freely and recklessly you talk about other people? Well, that's the way they talk about you.

This world will never be satisfactory to cross old people until children regard work as they do pie and demand their share.

A man's memory never gets so poor that he forgets to tell his children how often he has walked the floor with them in the night.—Atchison Globe.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened; I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed; nothing helped me; I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief; I continued to use it and am now well and strong; I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50c. and $1. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason & Co's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Use Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy, cures corns, bunions, swollen, hot, sweating feet. At all druggists and shoe stores, 25c; sample free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

PEN, PENCIL AND BRUSH.

Carolus Durer always smokes while painting on a portrait, except, of course, when a lady is the sitter. He says that he finds the greatest inspiration in a pipe.

James M. Barrie, the novelist, in consenting to stand for parliament, shows a decided change of opinion in such matters, since only five years ago he said that he would rather be flogged than have to go into politics.

South Africa seems the magnet for authors these days, and J. M. Barrie is the latest to join the writers' colony at the front, which included, up to recently, Conan Doyle, Kipling, Richard Harding Davis, Julian Ralph and several others.

Lady Stanley, the wife of Sir Henry Stanley, whose delightful pictures of London street arabs are so well known, does most of her work in a large room, which is filled with curious relics collected by her husband on his various explorations. Her studio, in fact, is a piece of Africa itself.

BRITON AND BOER

Both rains and reputations are reported to be falling in South Africa.—Baltimore American.

Between farming, fighting and moving, the Boers are about the busiest people on earth.—New York World.

The mortality rate among British military reputations in South Africa is unusually high.—Scranton Times.

The British conquest of the Boer republics seems to be one long succession of relief expeditions.—Buffalo Express.

Boer talents in the matter of getting out of tight places might well be studied by Baden-Powell and other gentlemen who have found such gifts extremely handy.—Brooklyn Times.

The Appetite of a Goat

Is envied by all poor dyspeptics whose stomach and liver are out of order. All such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, gives a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25c at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

Literally True.

As the newly-captured horse-thief
Dangled from the lofty tree,
In a whisper hoarse he muttered:
"This suspense is killing me!"
—N. Y. World.

"Catch the opportunity." By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now you may build up your health and prevent serious illness.

Does Coffee Agree With You?

If not, drink Grain-O—made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain O I did not like it, but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." The children can drink it freely with great benefit. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 15c. and 25c.

To Mothers in This Town.

Children who are delicate, feverish and cross will get immediate relief from Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children. They cleanse the stomach, act on the liver, making a sickly child strong and healthy. A certain cure for worms. Sold by all druggists, 25c; sample free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
16-tf

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Clark, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

OCT. 22, 1899.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 36, 4 32, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 15 a m, 5 15, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 49, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 58, f5 21, 6 19, f7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m. S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f1 01, 5 25, 6 13, f7 28, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; 1 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 35, 6 50 p m; S 8 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Trains leave Unionville for

MILFORD—9 25 a m; 1 19, 4 37, 5 42, 6 57, S 6 44 p m

FRANKLIN—6 49, 8 41, 11 28 a m; 4 03, 6 19 p m. S 8 15 a m.

GEO L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G. A. Martin, M. D.,
..AND...
C. B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

TAKE ADVANTAGE
Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

THAT "TIRED FEELING"

and dull headache that comes with spring and early summer is caused by impure blood clogging the circulation and rendering the liver torpid and the vital functions inactive. Our Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla will purify the blood, strengthen the nerves and revitalize the whole system, make your complexion clear, your eye bright and your step elastic, if used now.

LARGE BOTTLES, 50c.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Next Sunday Rev. William J. Minchin will preach a sermon before the veterans of Geo. H. Maintien post, No. 138, G. A. R., at the Congregationalist church.——Miss Florence A. Crocker sailed this week for England on board the New England.——Dr. Alice Bennett is at her old home during the illness of her mother.——Hiram A. Cowell had a handsome May basket hung at his front door Monday night filled with pinks, oranges, bananas, candy, fancy crackers and olives, together with a large assortment of useful articles.——The marriage of David B. Oliver and Miss Nina I. Cudworth took place on Monday.——Chas. E. Williams of Mansfield and Miss Ella E. Webber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Webber, were married in Foxboro Wednesday night.——The Holly club met Tuesday afternoon at the "Pokonoket club house" for the election of officers.

SHELDONVILLE.

Miss Alma Scott is on the sick list.

Miss Lena Newell visited in Boston last week.

Mrs. Eliza Darling entertained friends from North Attleboro Sunday.

Miss Annie Pitman of Salem is visiting her brother, C. E. Pitman of West Wrentham.

Miss Nina I. Cudworth and D. B. Oliver were united in marriage last Thursday evening by Rev. F. C. Osgood of North Attleboro.

Sunday morning, while C. E. Thomas' team was standing in front of D. A. Cudworth's, the horse became frightened by passing bicyclists and started down the street on the run. Esther M. Thomas' ten year old daughter, clung to the reins but was unable to stop the horse. Unsuccessful attempts were made to stop him, but at H. A. Follett's he was finally captured by Levi Follett. No harm was done.

Sunday evening in the Christian Endeavor service a letter was read from Miss Charlotte Hancock of Mansfield, formerly of this place. Twelve years ago that night she attended church and gave her testimony for the Master and the next day she was stricken with sickness and has been an invalid ever since. Undoubtedly it afforded the writer great pleasure to write the letter and it certainly was appreciated by the members of the C. E. society.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending May 23, 1900:

Ladies—Miss Mathilda Gosselin, Clara Roberts (package), Mrs. J. Long.

Gentlemen—Henry Armds, J. V. Darepulnner, Andrew Green, Wallie Hester, Frank McKenzie, E. G. Morrell, J. H. Packard, Seth H. Paine, Luigi Passgandonio, Edward Thibault (2)

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Liberty's Limitations.

Immigrant—At last I am in free America. A man can do pretty much as he pleases in this country, can't he?

Native—Y-e-s, unless he's married.—N. Y. Weekly.

Cupid's . . .

. . . Is there anything that wi . . . this . . . tle . . . ares?

. . . n . . . kser . . . ght

"A Single Fact

Is worth a shipload of argument." What shall be said, then, of thousands of facts? Every cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla is a fact, presenting the strongest possible evidence of the merit of this medicine. Thousands and thousands of such facts prove that Hood's Sarsaparilla will cure all diseases caused or promoted by impure blood. It is the best medicine money can buy.

Indigestion, nausea are cured by Hood's Pills.

International Troubles.

"What do you think about this universal peace movement?"

"I will do to quarrel about as well as anything."—Chicago Record.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from rectal fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

No Gripe, Pain

Or discomfort, no irritation of the intestines—but gentle, prompt, thorough healthful cleansing, when you take

Hood's Pills

Sold by all dr . . . 25 cents.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

How to Manage It.

Miss Fuzzle—I want to break my engagement with Mr. Sapple, but I don't know how to do it without driving the poor fellow to suicide.

Little Brother—Why don't you let him see you in curl papers just once?—Roxbury Gazette.

W IS for Walking, just half of the night.
When Baby is teething and chock full of fight.
Take good counsel early—come, say, eight o'clock.
And get him a Cart from the "Cook Rolling Stock."

X IS for Xerxes, who conquered the world.
A task now quite easy for babies and girls;
For smiles nowadays win out more than hard knocks—
Those smiles round the Coaches of "Cook's Rolling Stock.

Y IS for yesterday, gone with the past.
Like frolics of childhood too pleasant to last.
But everything goes in this age of shocks.
As well as the Coaches from "Cook's Rolling Stock.

Z IS is for Zenith, the point overhead
Where cherubs all come from with nice curly heads.
And lest they return while the death angel knocks.
Save their lives in the Carts of the "Cook Rolling Stock."

Concluded.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

Dainty Things for Graduation

Sheer and pretty Victoria Lawn, India Linen, Plain and Dotted Swiss Muslin and Organdie from 10c. to 37 1-2c. yard.

French Lawn we can especially recommend for its firm, yet sheer and dainty quality—50 inches wide, 60c., 70c., 90c. yard.

Beautiful Ribbons and Laces. Valenciennes Lace in all qualities and widths, with insertion to match. Allover Lace, Tucking and Embroidery from 50c. to $3.50 yard.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.
BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

Church Services.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 3. Sunday school at 2. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Universalist church—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D. D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "The Man With the Hoe." No afternoon service. Y. P. C. U. at 6.

Baptist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. F. B. Sleeper, pastor; sermon before Franklin post, No. 60, G. A. R. Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. I. W. Sneath, Ph. D., theme, "All Things for Good." Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30. Union temperance meeting at 7.30.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 by S. A. Cook, pastor; subject "The Baptism with the Holy Spirit." Sunday school at 12. Junior league at 3.00. Epworth league at 6.30. Evening service at 7.30; subject, "The Prayer of Faith."

Barely Possible.

Proudleigh—My father, you know, was a member of congress, and—

De Sinnick—That's all right, old chap! I daresay you'll be able to live it down.—Town Topics.

WHY NOT EXCHANGE THAT OLD PIANO

That has outgrown its usefulness for a beautiful new Ivers & Pond Upright? We will make you a liberal allowance for your old instrument, balance in easy monthly payments. If inconvenient to call, write to-day and we will send a man to place a value on your instrument. We will place a piano in your home at our expense for trial and guarantee satisfaction. It will not be necessary to part with the old till you have seen and approved the new.

IVERS & POND PIANO CO.,
114 & 116 Boylston St., Boston.

The Alphabet Advertiser

A for apricots, both dried and canned,
B for biscuits of all the best brands,
C for crackers and clams for chowder,
D for doughnuts and Dalmation powder,
E for extracts of Baker's best make,
F for fish that will make fine fish cakes,
G for groceries kept neat and in shape,
H for honey to eat on wheat cakes,
I for Indian corn meal and ink,
J for fruit juice for a summer drink,
K for Kennedy, whose goods we stand by,
L for lemons that make a nice pie,
M for mince meat, molasses and mace,
N for Nestle's, whose milk suits the taste,
O for onions, a sure cure for the croup
P for potatoes to eat in your soup,
Q for Quaker, those rolled oats so nice,
R for raisins for puddings and rice,
S for sugar, sand soap and saleratus,
T for tubs, tapioca and tomatoes,
U for undoubtedly the cheapest in town,
V for vinegar as sour as can be found,
W for witch hazel that makes one strong,
X for Xebec, a vessel it was used on,
Y for yeast that will raise bread best,
Z for zeal in which we stand the test.

C. L. FALES, Grocer.

no17-F

—YOU WILL FIND AT—

CROWNINSHIELD'S STORE

Glass, Tin, Granite, Copper, Crockery and Wooden Ware, Croquet Sets, Carts, Brooms, Brushes, Oil Stoves, Chimneys, Window Screens, Baskets, Tea, Coffee and Baking Powder, 5c. and 10c. Goods—a fine line.

No. 2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Erasmus A. Pond, late of Rutland, Vermont, having estate in said county, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Metcalf E. Pond of Franklin or to some other suitable person.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the twentieth day of June, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this 22d day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

my25,je1,8

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

BOARD OF RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS,
BOSTON, May 22, 1900.

On the petition of the Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket Street Railway company for authority to cross the tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company at the same level therewith on Maple street, in the town of Bellingham, the Board will give a hearing to the parties in interest at their office, No. 20 Beacon street, Boston, on Monday, the eleventh day of June next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

And the petitioner is required to give notice of said hearing by publication hereof two times prior to said date in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper printed in the town of Franklin, to serve a copy hereof on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company and to make return of service at time of hearing.

Per order of the Board.

WM. A. CRAFTS, Clerk.

A true copy.
Attest: JEROME B. FITZPATRICK,
Deputy Sheriff.

my25,je1

Just the Thing...

If you need something to give you an appetite, make you strong and drive away that tired feeling, try

FRANKLIN MALT.

17c. per bottle. $1.75 per dozen.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist.

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Kid Glove News...

Special line of NEW SHADES just received.

$1.00 and $1.25.

Butterick's Patterns and Publications.

N. C. NYE,

FLETCHER BLOCK.

THINGS THAT ARE NOW IN DEMAND.

WITH FOLLOWING LOW PRICES:

Window Screens, each 19
Screen Doors, all sizes, 6.6 to 7 ft., complete $1.45
2-Burner Oil Stoves, each 95
4-Burner Oil Stoves, each 1.90
2-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each 1.48
3-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each 1.73
4-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each 1.98
Watering Cans, 6 quarts, each 30
3 Oil Stove Wicks for 5

SPECIAL--5 gallons Oil for 55c.

Fresh Berries, Dandelions and Spinach received daily.

Bresnahan Grocery Co.

fe9-4m

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF

SEEDS! SEEDS!

All the 5c. packages of GARDEN SEEDS we sell for 3c., two 5c., or 25c. per dozen. These Seeds are new this year, direct from the CLEVELAND SEED CO.

All kinds of FLOWER SEEDS, 5c. and 10c. per package.

All other kinds of Garden Seeds at the lowest prices—HOLTON, MAINE, EARLY ROSE, HEBRONS, NEW QUEENS.

Before buying your Seeds come and see what we can do for you.

McKinnon's Grocery Store,

CENTRAL SQUARE.

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap27S

At

WOODWARD'S

every description of

INSURANCE

can be placed. This

AGENCY

officially represents the

LEADING

American and Foreign

COMPANIES.

F. A. WOODWARD, Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.
my4-1yF

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,

Jewelers and Opticians

160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Sign of the Electric Clock.

del Fly

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid

FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month $1 00
" " three times per week 50
Single Gallon 06

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.

17-tfT

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board.

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

REGULATIONS

... OF THE ...

Board of Health,

1900.

Extracts from Public Statutes, Chapter 80.]

"The Board of Health of a town shall make such regulations as it judges necessary for the public health and safety. Whoever violates any such regulations shall forfeit the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS."

The Board of Health of Franklin, as authorized by the statutes, has made and published, as is provided for in the statutes, the following regulations:

1. Physicians having under their care cases of small-pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, phthisis or typhoid fever are requested to promptly report the same to the Board of Health, as required by law, on blanks furnished them.

2. When any householder knows that a person within his family or living in his house is ill of small-pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhoid fever or any other disease dangerous to the public health he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Board of Health.

3. All diseases dangerous to the public health will be promptly quarantined by this Board and red flags will be displayed for public protection. Whoever violates the quarantine established by this Board, either by going out of the house or apartment quarantined, or permitting any person other than the nurse or physician to enter the same; and any person other than the nurse or physician going into the said house or departments in violation of said quarantine WILL BE PROMPTLY PROSECUTED according to law. And whoever meddles with any flag put up by the Board of Health or its agent, to remove, deface, cover, or handle the same in any way whatsoever will be dealt with according to law. This Board will permit no trifling with any of its rules of quarantine or any measures taken by it against infection, under any circumstances, BY ANY PERSON WHATSOEVER.

4. No quarantine established by the Board of Health will be removed till the person or persons so quarantined have been personally examined by a member of this Board or its authorized agent, and found to be no longer in condition to convey the disease, nor until the premises have been disinfected by an agent of the Board and according to its directions. Sulphur fumigations will not be regarded a sufficient disinfection.

5. Any person recovered from a disease dangerous to the public health who is a pupil in any school, public or private, shall not be permitted to return to such school, nor received into such school, without a certificate from the Board of Health or some member thereof. Nor shall any person be received into nor employed in any mill, factory, shop, store or place of business unless he has complied with the requirements of the Board of Health in regard to contagious diseases.

6. Whenever a nuisance or cause of sickness shall be found on private property within the town any member of the Board shall order the owner or occupant thereof to remove the same, at his own expense, within the time specified in the notice served upon him. When legal notice has been served on the owner or occupant of any premises, if any, owner or occupant neglects to abate or remove the nuisance complained of within the time specified in said notice the Board of Health will cause the nuisance to be abated at the expense of the party or parties responsible for the same.

7. The owners or keepers of swine and milch cows are notified that no product from these animals can be used or sold unless such animals are fed on wholesome food and are in a perfectly healthy condition. In case of neglect or violation of this rule all such products will be condemned. All milch cows from which milk is sold in this town are subject to inspection by the Board of Health, and when found in a healthful condition a certificate to that effect, good for sixty days, will be furnished to the owner by this Board.

8. All owners and drivers of horses having any disease known as the horse distemper and glanders are notified not to allow said horses to drink from any public watering trough or fountain in town.

9. All persons are notified not to cart the contents of privy vaults or cesspools through the streets between 6 o'clock a. m. and 9 o'clock p. m. from May 1 to Nov. 1; and all such filth must be conveyed so as to prevent any portion being dropped along the street.

10. No person shall use the public street or any sewer or drain, made for the sole purpose of conveying water from said streets, as a deposit for filth, slops or offal of any kind.

11. The Board requests all persons to promptly notify them of the existence of any contagious or infectious diseases among domestic animals, such as glanders, pleuro-pneumonia, hog cholera, etc. On such notice the Board will cause such animals to be securely isolated and held till released by order of the cattle commissioners.

12. Nuisances or unusual causes of sickness must be reported to the Board of Health by complaints in writing, clearly stating the nature and causes of the same so far as known.

13. The law requires the vaccination of all children as a condition of admission to the public schools. The School Committee, as well as the Board of Health, is required to enforce this statute. Children are also required by law to be vaccinated before reaching the age of two years.

14. House owners are required to provide that all escape pipes from sinks and closets shall be properly trapped and that waste water from such shall not be permitted to empty on the ground. Filth so accumulating and decomposing is a potent cause of diphtheria and other diseases. Covered drains and cesspools must immediately be provided for such waste.

15. No person shall throw into or leave in or upon any street, court, lane, public square or enclosure, or any vacant or occupied lot owned by the town or the public, or into any pond, creek or stream of water within the limits of the town any dead animal or vegetable matter, or waste water, rubbish or filth of any kind. All yards, passageways, inclosures and cellars shall be kept in as cleanly a condition as the Board shall direct.

16. All persons riding or being upon any street car within the limits of this town are directed not to spit upon the floors or platforms of such car; and proprietors of street railways wholly or in part within the limits of this town are directed to post a notice in each end of each car to the effect that spitting in or upon said cars is prohibited by the Board of Health.

GREGORY A. MARTIN,
DWIGHT M. HODGE,
MARSTON SANBORN,
Board of Health.

Franklin, Mass., May 1, 1900.

my18-3tF

Herman M Fisher

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 43. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, MAY 29, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Lake Pearl	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
"	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 "
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 A. M.
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.05 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.30 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.
MATTHEW F. CONROY, P. M.
Franklin, Mass., June 17, 1898.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Lake Pearl opens for the season Memorial day.

Mrs. Laura Lee Whitney is visiting friends in Boston.

George D. Heaton is ill at H. W. Eaton's on Emmons street.

The banks and post office will be closed as usual tomorrow.

A son was born to Mrs. Marjorie White of Chestnut street yesterday.

Miss Lizzie Moynan is spending a couple of weeks in Newburyport.

Ray Whitney left Saturday for a week's visit at his home in West Freeman, Me.

Several of the town lines are due to be perambulated this year, according to law.

It was teachers' payday Friday. They will have one more before the summer vacation.

Wilton Pond, who has been confined to the house seven weeks, is gradually recovering.

Post 60, G. A. R., and invited guests will have dinner at G. A. R. hall Memorial day.

There are a few applications in for concrete sidewalks, but so far the number is small.

Mrs. S. C. Bailey and daughter are spending a few weeks with relatives in Newport, R. I.

Chas. J. McKenzie has been entertaining his brother, Frank S. McKenzie, of Woodstock, Vt.

W. F. Moore of Rutland was the guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore of Central street.

The board walk up from the railroad station has been replaced by new planking, a much needed improvement.

The Ramblers were defeated, 18 to 11, by the Giants at Blackstone on Saturday. They will play at Milford tomorrow.

The linemen employed by the electric railway worked Sunday on the Wrentham line in order to open the line by Memorial day.

Mrs. H. M. Howard and two children of West Newton are spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Stanley's.

Estimates on the population are in order. The guesses generally are that there will be a small increase over the 1895 census.

Mrs. H. B. Haslam left today for a few days' visit at South Windsor, Conn., where Mr. Haslam is to deliver the Memorial day address.

The all collegiate nine of New England will open the season tomorrow morning with the strong North Attleboro team at North Attleboro.

A number in town received on Saturday postals from Dr. A. J. Gallison, recounting incidents of his trip and showing interesting scenes abroad.

The next meeting of the Mary Warfield Missionary society will occur Thursday, June 7, instead of this week Thursday, as previously announced.

Dr. Hodge will give one of his justly popular readings in the chapel of the Universalist church tomorrow evening. A social will follow the reading.

The county tax this year of $2,823 is $85 more than last year, and thus it goes on increasing from year to year, with a marble court house to show for it.

Quite a delegation of veterans and friends went to Bellingham Sunday, exercises being held at the Centre cemetery, S. S. Huse delivering the address.

Mrs. Roy Southworth of Ware and Mrs. G. F. Ribero and son of Roxbury Crossing are spending a few days with Mrs. Ribero's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bright.

The will of Henry Bemis has been allowed, H. E. Ruggles being the executor in the bond of $1,500. Inventory upon the estate of the late Thaddeus M. Turner, $8,217.68.

A number of the lady members of the Boston board of education were in town Tuesday visiting our schools. They came with Mrs. Hosmer, superintendent of musical instruction.

At 10 a. m. tomorrow the Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church will place flowers upon the graves of Dr. Dean, Dr. Bartholomew and Rev. Mr. Squire. All interested are invited.

The Franklin, Foxboro, Attleboro, Mansfield and Pawtucket colonies of the United Order of Pilgrim Fathers, are to shortly hold a union picnic at Lake Pearl. Notice of date will be given later.

There were very fair views of the eclipse to be had yesterday morning about 9 o'clock, as the rifts in the clouds made smoked glass not a necessity. While a clear sky could have afforded better views, yet those obtained were fairly satisfactory.

Fliers have been distributed about town announcing a parish meeting of St. Mary's church, which is to be held in Music hall this evening. This meeting is called by order of the committee and only members of the parish are requested to be present.

The sewer on Depot street has been causing trouble this week. There are several drains in the vicinity and no one seems to know just what one makes the trouble. The town has a drain there for surface water and the other pipes are for the convenience of private parties.

Manager McKinnon is making improvements at Hotel Briggs, having just put in a modern kitchen range suitable for so large a hotel. Other needed improvements will be made throughout the house, until it shall be one of the most convenient and pleasant in this vicinity.

At the last business and literary meeting of the Epworth league, held at the residence of Mrs. Minnie Smith on School street, it was unanimously voted to extend invitations to the Holliston and Woonsocket leagues to be guests of the local chapter on Wednesday evening, June 13.

The manufacturing schedules in this town have been withdrawn from the regular enumeration in June and will be attended to later. The enumerators have the population and farming schedules and special schedules for the deaf, dumb and blind persons, and for live stock not on farms.

Dr. Hodge's reading tomorrow evening at the Universalist chapel promises to attract a full house. It is in all probability the last time Dr. Hodge will read this season, and his selections from Dickens will be sure to be appreciated. He will read from "A Holiday Romance" and give other selections.

We are pleased to state that another new industry, employing a number of hands, has come to town, that of manufacturing wooden heels and shanks for shoes, E. L. Dunbar moving here from Mansfield and taking rooms and power at the new shop of Metcalf & Son. Mr. Dunbar will move his family here shortly and will be warmly welcomed.

The Greenhalge Literary society held its regular meeting Friday afternoon. It was voted to hold a public meeting of the society on the evening of June 25. After business was transacted the following programme was given: Piano solo, George Sneath; reading, Maisie Whiting; reading, Ellen Butters; cornet solo, Geo. Estey; reading, Linna Ferrer; piano solo, Alice Nixon.

When you accompany the G. A. R. on their rounds tomorrow remember that since last Memorial day 30,000 veterans—an entire army corps—have laid down their arms since the surviving soldiers of the war last paused to lay their wreaths on the tombs of their fallen comrades. Thirty thousand more will win their honorable discharge before this day comes round again.

Many here saw the fire at Foxboro last evening destroying the Union Straw Works and causing a loss to the company of nearly $150,000. The straw works was probably the oldest in the country, having been started in 1856, and at the close of the war was doing a business estimated at two million dollars a year. Three hundred hands are thrown out of employment by the fire. It will not be rebuilt.

The Roxbury High school team did not show up to play with Dean on the Campus Saturday afternoon, so Dean crossed bats with the same picked nine they have engaged in battle with on several occasions of late, and a rattling good contest was the result, the score at the end standing 8 to 5 in favor of the Academy boys. The batteries were W. Fiske and Sammy Fiske for the picked nine and Knowles and Towles for Dean.

Sunday was the banner day in the matter of public patronage on the line of the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket Street Railway company, the cars being run half hourly the entire day, and averaging nearly 100 passengers on every trip from 10 a. m. until late in the evening. The only drawback was long delays at the switches. The run from Bellingham Four Corners to Caryville is made in about twelve minutes.

The funeral of Mrs. Harry Spence occurred Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Mary's chapel, where Rev. Father Laliberte of Woonsocket performed the service for the dead in the presence of a large number of mourning friends and relatives. Many beautiful floral pieces were contributed. The remains were interred in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery. The bearers were Patrick Marky of Pawtucket, Eugene Riordan of North Bellingham, Frank Murphy of City Mills and Edward F. McConnell of Franklin.

The following program was carried out in the upper forms of the High school on Friday in honor of Memorial day: Address, Dr. Geo. E. King, for Post 60, G. A. R.; piano duet, Misses Corbin and Reed; song, "Flag of Freedom," school; reading, "Union of Blue and Gray," Alden Abbott; reading, "A Russian Soldier's Funeral," Elwin Thayer; song, "Star Spangled Banner," solo and school; recitation, "Bay Billy," Helen Thompson; song, "Memorial Day," Mary Hutchinson; "America," school; flag saluted, school.

The trouble caused by the big tree at Plainville to the street railway will probably be settled by building the railway around it. The objection of the state authorities to such a plan is to be overcome by widening the crushed stone part of the highway at the expense of the railroad company. The company tried to buy the farm where the tree is located so as to go the other side, but the owner would not state a price, although it was claimed that he wanted to dispose of the property. The expense of widening the street will be several hundred dollars, but that seemed the only way to get around the tree and the objections to cutting it down.

The body of Mrs. Merrill Carter arrived here on Saturday from Como, Fla. funeral exercises were held at the house of Mr. Davis Thayer yesterday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Sneath officiating. Mrs. C. L. Stewart sang. Mrs. Carter was a former resident here, though she and her husband have been in the habit of spending their winters in Florida, and their summers in the north. Mrs. Carter was the last of the Adams family, well known here, and an intimate friend of Mr. and Mrs. Thayer. She was also related to Mrs. Calvin Claflin and Mrs. F. H. Bartholomew. The body was sent here by express, as Mr. Carter was sick and not able to accompany it. The remains were interred in the Union street cemetery.

It was indeed a hot game between the Heliotype and Trowbridge teams at Indian Rock park Saturday afternoon, and the two umpires, Lombardie and Brown, had their hands full in deciding many fine points that arose during the contest. It was nip and tuck between the two nines up to the last half of the ninth, when the score stood 15 to 14 in the Helios' favor. The Trowbridge nine were at the bat with two men out, when McKenzie sent the ball away out and got to third on the hit. Just here Umpire Brown called the runner back to second base, which it was claimed he had "cut" several feet in running to third. The player refused to go back, and after a heated argument the umpire awarded the game to the Helios, 9 to 0. The batteries were Knowlton and Morrill for the Helios and McKenzie and Smith for Trowbridge.

The High school ball team went to Walpole Saturday afternoon and played an exciting game with the High school nine of that place, or rather with a portion of the High school team, as it is claimed by the Franklin boys that their opponents "rung in" a battery who were not pupils of the school. The contest, however, was an interesting one and the result was in doubt until the third man was out in the ninth. The Walpoles started in with five runs in the first inning, but they drew blanks in the remaining eight innings, Grant, who was in the box for the Franklin boys, proving an enigma thereafter and allowing only a few scratch hits. The Franklin High got three men across the plate during the game, being unable to overcome their opponents big lead, and the score stood 5 to 3 in Walpole's favor at the finish. The batteries were Grant and Hood for Franklin and Sline and Collins for Walpole.

Mrs. E. K. Ray and Mrs. Charles Whiting go to Milwaukee on Saturday to attend the National Convention of Women's clubs. They go on a Raymond excursion, and will be quartered at the Plankinton, Milwaukee's famous hostelry. They expect to return June 11, unless they take one of the fine "side trips" planned, that of ride to Duluth, and down the Great Lakes to Buffalo, a ride of 2,000 miles of remarkable scenery. The convention promises to be one of the most interesting yet held, and the Alden club is extremely fortunate in being so ably represented and being entitled to its two votes in convention. Mrs. Ray as one of Vice Presidents will also have a vote in the inner councils of the organization. On the trip out the party will spend the entire day of Sunday at Niagara Falls, and have a magnificent opportunity of viewing this wonderful work of Nature.

A class of 35 girls and boys received Holy communion for the first time at the 9 o'clock mass in St. Mary's chapel yesterday morning, and in the afternoon at 3:30 there was a reception of the Children of Mary sodality and the crowning of the statue of the Blessed Virgin. Fifteen new members were received into the sodality. Masters Willie Murphy and Leo Mehan reading the acts of consecration for the boys, and Miss Annie Kennedy for the girls. After the reception, a procession, led by the Infant Jesus sodality, and followed by the Angel and Children of Mary sodalities marched from the chapel to the church grounds, where the Blessed Virgin was. After the singing of hymns, the statue was crowned with a wreath of lilies of the valley by Miss Emma Moreau, after which Miss Rose Walsh read the act of consecration. After the ceremony, the sodalities marched back to the chapel, where there was benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, Rev. Father Lalibertie officiating.

Honest and Unpurchasable.

Representative Burrington found himself in a rather unpleasant predicament on Friday morning when he reached the legislative halls in Boston. It seems that a very important bill came up in his absence Thursday and he was charged by the newspapers as having "dodged" a vote on the question. This was a mistake, however, as he had "paired" with Representative Ames of Lowell, who had forgotten to register the "pair," thus placing our Franklin representative in a false and decidedly unpleasant light. The charge was all the more unwelcome, as the bill was one upon which no less than twenty-one members had changed their vote upon a reconsideration, thus laying themselves open to the charge of having been "manipulated" by the lobby, a stigma which no honest man is willing to have rest upon him. It was the Westminster Chambers bill, that building having been erected in defiance of the law to a greater height than is permissable. Representative Burrington was upon the right side of the bill, had spoken upon the subject, and had he been present when it came up the second time it is safe to say the members who had changed their votes in such a suspicious manner would have been handled without gloves, as our friend has the habit of speaking his mind freely in matters which pertain to public morals and honesty of action. It seems to have been a simple question as to whether a wealthy and influential firm of contractors should be permitted to openly and knowingly violate the law. Gov. Crane will doubtless veto the bill.

A Worthy Promotion.

The friends of Winthrop B. Nye, a former Franklin boy, will be pleased to learn of his good fortune. For several years he has been in charge of the Woonsocket office of the Woonsocket Street Railway company, and now has been appointed assistant superintendent of both the Woonsocket company and the Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket Street Railway. Mr. Nye has made a close study of street railway management and there is no doubt but the intelligent assistance he will be able to give to Supt. Young will be of great value in the operation of the constantly growing railway system connecting Woonsocket with the villages for miles around. He will have charge of the money end, and will remain in the office at Woonsocket most of the morning, and will then "go out on the line" and look after the motormen and conductors. The promotion is a distinct recognition of his faithful and efficient service and he is to be congratulated.

An Enjoyable Affair.

Everybody who is interested in good literature is invited to be present at the Universalist chapel, Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock. Dr. Hodge will give a reading (his selections being mainly the works of Dickens) under the auspices of the Y. P. C. U. The admission is only ten cents. After the reading a social hour will be enjoyed in the church parlor where ice cream and cake can be procured at reasonable prices.

Card of Thanks.

To all friends who tendered so many acts of kindness during our late bereavement we extend our most grateful thanks.
HARRY SPENCE AND FAMILY.

Patriotic and Impressive.

Every seat in the Baptist church was taken on Sunday morning, and it was found necessary to bring in extra seats to accommodate the large number who had come out to do honor to the G. A. R. and to listen to a patriotic discourse from Rev. Mr. Sleeper. The choir had been augmented by a number of new voices, and was composed of Mrs. U. F. Coleman, Miss Fannie Darling, Miss Gertrude Drew, Mrs. L. P. Rich, Miss Etta Eddy, J. Ray Wyckoff, J. R. Hosford, L. P. Rich and Bert Briggs, Miss Alice Blake presiding very acceptably at the organ.

The church had been trimmed most artistically with flags and bunting, with flowers here and there making a most attractive setting. A flag draped from the organ, another hung back of the choir, the pulpit and platform also showed the national colors, while in one corner a picture of Lincoln looked down benignly upon the audience. Upon the pulpit platform there were two stacks of arms, and as Franklin Post 60, the Woman's Relief Corps and the Sons of Veterans filed into the church to appropriate music upon the organ two little girls dressed in white, one with a red sash and the other with a blue one, led the procession. They were Lilian Coleman and Clara Laycock. They also welcomed the societies to the church by standing upon the steps and waving their flags.

Commander Bird read the orders from department headquarters calling upon Adjutant Dana to read the record of those who had died during three years. Then the regular church service was followed out, the music by the choir being unusually fine. The programme was interspersed, accompanied with the familiar bugle calls from the rear of the choir by Messrs. Hosford and Bly. Pastor Sleeper's address was extremely patriotic, meeting the important issue of the day, and teaching at the same time a lesson which will not soon be forgotten.

MODERN IDOLATRIES.

His text was Exodus xx., 3: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me." His thoughts grouped around three great principles—(1) worship of country, (2) worship of political party, (3) worship of earthly things. The prosperity of our nation is the miracle of all history. Yet herein is our peril. There is a motto having altogether too much influence in our land. It is, "My country whether right or wrong." And sometimes this has been enforced by the party whip. Men who have dared stand true for God and righteousness have felt the sting of the scorpion lash. Ah, friends, there is the dynamite of hell in this motto. It has shivered scores of kingdoms to atoms and will our own if we are not divinely right. He who handles the infinite stars and darts His lightnings along the boundless sky will crush us in the grasp of omnipotence if we rebel.

It is necessary that we have at least two political parties in our land watching each other as keen-eyed censors, giving neither sleep to their eyes nor slumber to their eyelids by day or by night. The safety of our land lies in the free discussion of every great public question, until each school boy or school girl fully understands it. The worst danger to our country is a gagged tongue throughout the land, when men are afraid to speak out their honest convictions. The most terrible foe of our nation is the political autocrat determined to rule with a rod of iron, and who when he cannot will blight and kill. We say, "Hands off from men's souls and consciences." Each citizen is to carry his political sovereignty under his own hat and none must dare interfere.

No man is true unto his land who is not true to God and an eternal heaven. In you, soldiers, the Divine is calling louder than earth can speak. You need a religious faith piercing the sky and take sure hold on the eternal throne. If not your life will be as a vapor that appeareth for a little time and then vanisheth away.

Programme for Memorial Day.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 30, 1900.

At 7 o'clock a. m. Post 60, G. A. R., accompanied by Sons of Veterans Camp, No. 44, as escort, will take barges at G. A. R. hall for Norfolk and City Mills cemeteries and decorate comrades' graves. Returning, arrive at G. A. R. hall at 12 noon, where dinner will be served by Woman's Relief Corps, No. 89.

At 2 p. m. line will be formed and march to Catholic church and escort children of St. Mary's parish to Catholic cemetery, Beaver street, and decorate comrades' graves.

Thence down Union street to School street and escort the children of the public schools to the Union street cemetery and decorate the soldiers' graves. Services for the unknown dead by Women's Relief Corps and the usual exercises.

D. W. Corson will be marshal of the day.

A clean fish market, complete stock of sea food, prompt and satisfactory service. Let us call. PAINE, THE FISHMAN.

Fine hair cutting, smooth shaving, razors honed and put in order. Ochee the barber.

Pleasantly Remembered.

Edwin J. Pond, a former resident here, died at his home in Providence of pleurisy on Friday, aged 60, the funeral occurring yesterday. He leaves a widow and three children. Mr. Pond was well known in Franklin and vicinity, having been for a number of years an organist at the Universalist church and a music teacher of no little note. He lived until the death of his parents upon the "home farm" in Unionville, removing from here about eight or nine years ago. During his stay in Providence he has been an undertaker. He was of a genial disposition, having a kind word for everyone, open-hearted and generous, and will be missed by a large circle of friends who recall him with a kindly interest and a loving remembrance.

Opening at Lake Pearl.

The annual opening at Lake Pearl is announced for tomorrow, Memorial day. This is one of the few pleasant summer resorts handy to the people of Northern Rhode Island and Southern Massachusetts. It is a favorite picnic ground for societies, churches, military organizations and private parties, and with the opening of the trolley lines is made easy of access. All the attractions of a shore resort are to be found there. Manager Enegren never allows any rowdyism at Lake Pearl.

Better Sanitary Measures.

The Boston Board of Health has adopted the following rules for [illegible] shops: "The place of business, to[illegible] with all the furniture, shall be kept, at all times, in a cleanly condition. Mugs, shaving brushes and razors shall be sterilized by immersion in boiling water after every separate use thereof. A separate clean towel shall be used for each person. Alum or other material, used to stop the flow of blood, shall be so used only in powdered form and applied on a towel. The use of powder puff is prohibited. The use of sponges is prohibited. Every barber shop shall be provided with running hot and cold water. No person shall be allowed to use any barber shop as a dormitory. Every barber shall clean his hands thoroughly immediately after serving each customer."

The Way to Do It.

The first ten days of no license in town were "hot" days for the liquor sellers. There has been an enforcement of the liquor law that has made the town one of the dryest in the state. Day and night the officers have been on duty and a reign of terror has truly been inaugurated and kept up. This should be the condition in any no license town, if necessary, until law indeed is conqueror. Where there is a certain amount of "sand" and mental determination this can be accomplished; and what is done in one place can usually be done in another.—Spencer Sun.

Flowers for Decoration Day.
All orders for baskets, wreaths, bouquets, crosses and potted plants will receive prompt attention if given in good season at Slade's greenhouse, or by mail, box 179.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Up stairs tenement to let on Central street. Inquire of A. M. Haggart. 6tf

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

Orders for Allen's wood yard taken here can be transmitted by telephone at once.

Two pleasant rooms to let at 16 Cottage street. Apply there or at SENTINEL office. 29

Teaming.—Teaming of all kinds at reasonable rates. Hector McCulloch, Chestnut street. 25,29*

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18-tf

Good assortment of carpets and couches at Sanford Bros., Medway. "A word to the wise is sufficient. 15,18

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

For Sale Cheap.—A quantity of good English hay and a lot of oat straw; also a generous supply of hard-wood ashes. Mrs. Harriet N. Gowen, 20 Pleasant street. 22,25,29,1*

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Briggs. J. B. McKINNON, Agent.

Round-trip tickets to Milford, 48c; Providence, 90c; Boston, $1.05. Get them of Chas. H. Prince at SENTINEL office and thus save 33, and 12c from regular fare charged for respective trips. Mileage books to let.

Views of Residences.
Now, before the trees leaf fully, is the best time to arrange for photos of your home, either exterior or interior. Call and see samples and let me quote prices. Business hours during the summer, 8 to 12 a. m., 1.15 to 5 p. m., 7 to 8 Saturday evenings.
CALKIN, Photographer,
Depot St.

Read the Business Announcements.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word; no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

TUESDAY, MAY 29, 1900.

Last year there reached the dead letter office 6,855,983 pieces. Included in this large number were 25,824 letters which were absolutely without an address, and of these 12,443 contained money. Probably in some of these cases the result was due to absent-mindedness, but, making this allowance, is it not about time to revive the old profession of the peripatetic writing master, or, if that be not practical, would it not be a good idea to establish a chair of letter addresses in our colleges or to enlarge the study of penmanship in the public schools by including instruction in the useful art of addressing an envelope so that over 6,000,000 letters may not go astray in a single year?

A get-rich-quick man is missing in Philadelphia, and each mail brings an average of 4[illegible] letters from his dupes. He made a specialty of hunting up young men just come into possession of money and inviting them to take a yacht trip, during which he persuaded them to open a branch of his "Investors' trust," with his own shadowy concern as the chief depository. The yacht that figured in the affair was an old craft and passed through the hands of a succession of confidence operators. Boston appears to be the heaviest sufferer from the absent "banker."

The Chicago Times-Herald editor has made the discovery that a boy is one year old when he is born; that a bicyclist has run a century when he completes his ninety-ninth mile; and that the completion of the nineteenth century occurs 1,899 years after the birth of Christ. Why didn't the large-browed mathematician of that paper settle the century question some time ago, asks the Aurora Beacon, and save all this argument about the beginning of the twentieth century instead of keeping so still when he knew it all the time?

The farmers of Muscatine Island, Ia., who raise sweet potatoes, melons, garden truck and other tender stuff, have made arrangements with the Davenport weather office to receive the warnings and forecasts by telephone. Two high staffs will be placed at convenient points easy of observation by all the farmers, and on these will be displayed the proper flags, in accordance with advices from the Davenport weather man. The weather is an important consideration to these farmers in the spring and fall particularly.

Money is close all over the world, though there is an abundance for all legitimate purposes, says an exchange. Only those who gamble in one form or another feel the pinch. This is not altogether true, but there is enough of truth in it to warrant its publication.

A fox and hound belonging to a gentleman in Kennebec, Me., are affectionate companions, and constantly sport and sleep with each other. When both were young they were placed together and have ever since continued frolicsome comrades.

More than a thousand replies were received by a farmer in Pennsylvania who advertised that he wanted a wife able to talk, willing to help on the place and to sit by the fire with him in the long winter evenings.

Latest reports from some 40 cities and towns show that an era of almost unprecedented building activity has set in, despite the high and advancing prices of iron, steel, lumber, glass, paint and other material.

Chemical analysis shows that in its nature buttermilk greatly resembles koumyss, with the exception of which it is the most grateful, refreshing and digestible of the product of milk.

A Kiowa (Kan.) county man who has more leisure than his neighbors has agreed to assume the offices of justice of the peace, constable, road overseer and coroner.

HUNTING

Is steadily growing more popular in this country.

A few years ago Newport was the only place where any interest was taken in it.

Now there are many hunt clubs, the Essex County and Norfolk County being the nearest at home, and the Hunt Breakfasts and meets are keenly enjoyed.

Hunting no doubt has its pleasures, but finding is better still.

If you are hunting for a really delicious coffee, buy Chase & Sanborn's coffee and you will find what you were hunting for.

These coffees will make your Hunt Breakfast or any other meal a delightful event.

Those who have learned by experience and wish to be absolutely sure that they are getting pure coffee and the best coffee, without a grain of adulteration, ask for and insist upon having Chase & Sanborn's Coffees.

There is none better on the market.

The fact that these coffees bear the seal of Chase & Sanborn is in itself a sufficient guarantee that they are full weight and in every way perfect.

Seal Brand Coffee comes in one and two-pound tin cans, and their other high grades in richly colored parchment-lined imported bags.

Chase & Sanborn's Coffees.

THE GALLANT NEWSBOY.

Bravery of a Young Confederate on the Field of Battle.

After General Hood had assumed command of the Confederate army at Atlanta he made several attacks upon the Federals in their fortifications. One of these occurred on July 27, 1864, and chiefly involved that portion of our army which included the Louisiana brigade. The latter had responded with courage and alacrity and had made their way to the very breastworks of the Federals over the many difficulties and obstacles which lay in their road and in spite of the terrible fire which was directed against them. The loss suffered by the Louisianians was very great, and many of the commands were almost annihilated in that fearful charge. Among others who thus suffered was the First regiment of Louisiana, regular infantry.

A great part of those who had gone into the engagement lay dead or wounded at the enemy's works. The standard bearer of the regiment had been struck down early in the action. His place was promptly filled by another, who soon shared the same fate. Another sprang forward to take his place, and he in turn went down before the deadly fire to which the Confederates were exposed. This continued until at last the few survivors were compelled to fall back. In the retreat it was discovered that the color bearer had been shot and that the colors were lying upon the ground at his side where he had fallen. There was a lad, formerly a newsboy in New Orleans, who had enlisted in the regiment as a drummer and who had lately shouldered a musket and served as a private in the ranks. Rushing back to where the color bearer lay, the youth seized the colors and rejoined his comrades in their retreat.

It was now his turn to meet the fate of his predecessors on the bloody field. He was soon mortally wounded, but with expiring energy he dragged the colors along with him, and then, having brought them off in safety, he sank exhausted upon the ground and breathed his last.—Selected.

JOHN A. LOGAN IN BATTLE.

The Very Incarnation of War—His Power Over Men.

It has been tersely said of Julius Cæsar that the secret of his success in battle lay in his power of "projecting a soul into his army, making the legions and the leader one." This could not have been more true of Cæsar than it was of John A. Logan. In action Logan was the radiant incarnation of war. With Logan on the front of the line, carrying his hat in the air on the point of his sword, determined to rout the enemy, it was hard for any of his men to be less than good soldiers. He seemed at times to be drunk with enthusiasm, which was the only form of inebriety possible to him in the army, as he was very temperate.

The air of battle seemed to mount to his brain like the fumes of wine and with nearly the same outward effect. But he never lost control of himself in the wildest delirium of war. He kept his command under absolute control always and seemed gifted with the power of omnipresence while his troops were in action. He rode his lines constantly and always in front. Once he thought he saw a little faltering of a small portion of his troops under a heavy fire, and he called to one of his staff officers to "stick a flagstaff in the ground with a flag on it and see if the boys wouldn't rally round it." And they did. He would stop in the intervals of battle to talk to the boys of his old regiment, the Thirty-first, and to tell them they had been doing so well that he would write home and tell their mothers what good soldiers they were.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

IN THE LAND O' CAKES

HOW MEMORIAL DAY IS CELEBRATED IN SCOTLAND.

Brave Scots Who Fought In the Civil War Are Not Forgotten—Statue of Abraham Lincoln In an Edinburgh Burying Ground.

As each succeeding Memorial day comes around the American residents of Edinburgh assemble in the old Calton burying ground, at the statue of Abraham Lincoln, and hold ceremonies in memory of the Scottish-American soldiers who fell in the American civil war. This is the only spot on the globe where Memorial day services are held regularly outside of the borders of the United States, and great interest attaches to it on that account.

The ceremonies are in charge of the United States consul in Edinburgh and will this year be attended by hundreds of Americans now traveling in the British Isles as well as many subjects of the queen who are in hearty sympathy with the United States. Hundreds of floral tributes will be placed around the statue, which has been thus decked every year since it was unveiled on Aug. 21, 1893.

While the statue was erected through the efforts of Wallace Bruce, the United States consul at Edinburgh, and by the generosity of well known citizens of the United States, many of whom were of Scottish descent, it is practically unknown to most people in that country. That regular ceremonies similar to those held in every cemetery in the United States each year in memory of the heroes who fell in defense of the Union take place in this beautiful old home of the dead just without the walls of this historic old city, around which the bitterest civil war of the world's history centered, is well worthy of recognizance.

Like many another memorial to the greatness of American institutions and triumphs, this statue of the martyr president was the outgrowth of a humble story, carried out by the good will and the well earned dollars of men who owe their fortune to the stability of American institutions and the fulfillment of Lincoln's ideas that the Union should be one and indivisible.

In the summer of 1890 Mrs. McEwan, widow of a Scottish-American soldier, called on Mr. Wallace Bruce, United States consul at Edinburgh, to aid her in securing a pension from the government in Washington, as her husband had recently died. The proper proof was obtained and the pension granted. One day when she called at the consulate Mrs. Bruce chanced to be present and became interested in her story.

Mrs. McEwan told Mrs. Bruce how she and her children had worked for 5 shillings a week to keep a husband and father from the poorhouse and gave, with singular pathos, the account of his last illness; how he loved to have the old gun near at hand, where he could touch it; how he told the doctor on one of his last visits that he had nothing to give him but his sword, and the kind hearted doctor replied that it was his business to save life, not to take it, and that he wished neither the sword nor any other recompense but pleasant remembrance, and the wife said, "We will keep the sword for the laddie." And at last, when the poor soldier, after long months of suffering, died, they found the gun under the coverlet beside him, pressed close to his heart.

Mrs. Bruce asked where he was buried, that she might go with Mrs. McEwan and place some flowers on his grave, although Memorial day had passed, but the widow answered, with tears in her eyes: "The ground in the common field is all level. I could not mark the spot. In fact, the next Sabbath after his death I visited it with the bairns, and we found another mourning group had possession. Another body was being buried in th same grave."

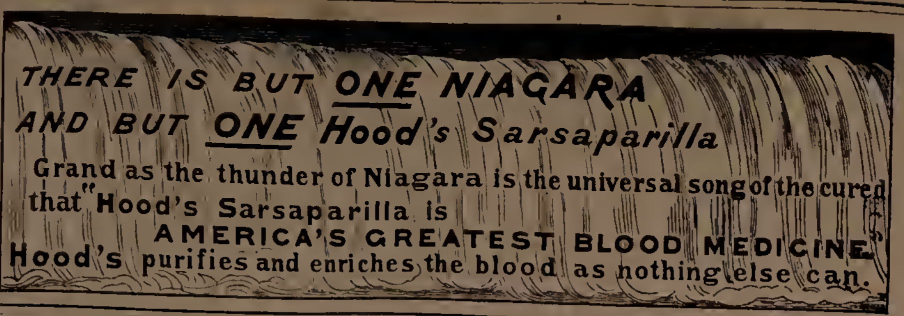
This story, told in the beautiful border language of the Tweed and the Yarrow, suggested to Consul Wallace Bruce the idea of a burial place in Edinburgh for Scottish-American soldiers. He wrote to several American friends and talked with others who visited at the consulate. All heartily approved of the plan. Some time afterward Mr. Bruce was walking on the banks of the Tweed near Peebles with Lord Provost Russell of Edinburgh.

He told McEwan's story and the following day wrote a letter to the lord provost, magistrates and town council asking for a plot in one of the city cemeteries. The request was cordially granted. It then occurred to the consul that the spot should be marked with a memorial worthy of the site in the very heart of the beautiful city.

Through Mr. Bruce's endeavors enough money, about $6,000, was subscribed in this country, and the statue of Lincoln was dedicated Aug. 21, 1893. Miss Bruce, who unveiled the monument, was attired in a flowing white costume, her hair encircled with a band of gold, representing Columbia. The monument was loudly cheered by all present, and the sculptor was compelled to bow his thanks and appreciation many times.

Consul Bruce in formally turning over the monument to the custody of the corporation of Edinburgh spoke of the great civil wars of Scotland and urged that the placing of the Lincoln monument should be a further tie between Great Britain and America.

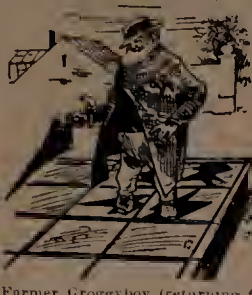
The monument itself is a work of art. It is 15 feet in height. It is massive without being heavy. The pedestal stands upon two steps of polished red Aberdeen granite. Inscribed on the first of these are the words, "In Memory of Scottish-American Soldiers." On the second step are the words, "To Preserve the Jewel of Liberty In the Framework of Freedom. Abraham Lincoln."



THERE IS BUT ONE NIAGARA
AND BUT ONE Hood's Sarsaparilla

Grand as the thunder of Niagara is the universal song of the cured that "Hood's Sarsaparilla is AMERICA'S GREATEST BLOOD MEDICINE." Hood's purifies and enriches the blood as nothing else can.

SIMPLY A FROST.



Farmer Groggyboy (returning from market)—Well, thatsh funny! Who'd a-thought there was any icesh yet awhile.—Ally Sloper.

A Modern Perplexity.

"The hero comes!" arose the cry,
With loud and general acclaim.
"What was he in?" one paused to sigh,
"A battle or a football game?"
—Washington Star.

Maybe Both Are Right.

"Why do Mrs. Beasley and Mrs. Snargum look down upon each other so?"

"Mrs. Beasley's son is engaged to Mrs. Snargum's daughter, and each thinks her child is being roped in."—Cleveland Leader.

Beware of a Cough.

A cough is not a disease but a symptom. Consumption and bronchitis, which are the most dangerous and fatal diseases, have for their first indication a persistent cough, and if properly treated as soon as this cough appears are easily cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven wonderfully successful, and gained its wide reputation and extensive sale by its success in curing the diseases which cause coughing. If it is not beneficial it will not cost you a cent. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Scrofula, salt rheum, erysipelas and other distressing eruptive diseases yield quickly and permanently to the cleansing, purifying power of Burdock Blood Bitters.

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life. Was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently, after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley street, Saugerties, N.Y.

"Catch the opportunity." By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now you may build up your health and prevent serious illness.

Mean Inference.

Lodger—How do you buy your sausages, Mrs. Knag?

Mrs. Knag—Oh, by the pound.

Lodger—Ah, I thought it was somewhere near the pound, from the doggy flavor.—Larks.

CELERY KING
NATURE'S CURE

Headache for Forty Years.

For forty years I suffered from sick headache. A year ago I began using Celery King. The result was gratifying and surprising, my headaches leaving at once. The headaches used to return every seventh day, but thanks to Celery King, I have had but one headache in the last eleven months. I know that what cured me will help others.—Mrs. John D. Van Keuren, Saugerties, N. Y.

Celery King cures Constipation and all diseases of the Nerves, Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. Sold by druggists. 25c. and 50c. 2

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript

No Sunday Edition.

THE GREATEST PAPER IN NEW ENGLAND

FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms.

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

Have a Boiled Dinner

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Smoked Bacon, strip	10c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Spinach, peck	25c
Flank	6c	Dandelion	30c
Smoked Shoulders	8c	Lettuce, each	8c

Radishes, bunch....... 5c

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe1-1yS

1817 1900

CARPETS.

Every purchaser of Carpets—whether for the smallest room or the biggest hotel—wants his mind satisfied on three points, namely:

PRICE—QUALITY—STYLE.

It is because we convince our customers as to every one of these requirements that we confidently expect YOUR patronage.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.,
658 Washington Street . . . BOSTON.
Opp. Boylston Street.

SEND US ONE DOLLAR

Cut this ad. out and send to us [illegible], and we will send you this NEW IMPROVED PARLOR GEM ORGAN, by freight C. O. D., subject to examination. You can examine it at your nearest freight depot, and if you find it exactly as represented, the greatest value you ever saw and far better than organs advertised by others at more money, pay the freight agent OUR PRICE $35.50, less the $1.00 [illegible], or [illegible] and freight charges. THE PARLOR GEM is one of the most DURABLE AND SWEETEST TONED instruments ever made. From the illustration shown, which is engraved direct from a photograph you can form some idea of its beautiful appearance. Made from solid quarter sawed oak or walnut as desired, perforated key slip, full panel body, beautiful marquetry design panels and many other handsome decorations and ornaments, making it the VERY LATEST STYLE. THE PARLOR GEM is 6 feet high, 42 inches long, 23 inches wide and weighs 350 pounds. Contains 5 octaves, 11 stops, as follows: Diapason, Principal, Dulciana, Melodia, Celeste, Cremona, Bass Coupler, Treble Coupler, Diapason Forte and Vox Humana; 2 Octave Couplers, 1 Tone Swell, 1 Grand Organ Swell, 4 Sets of Orchestral Toned Resonatory Pipe Quality Reeds, 1 Set of 37 Pure Sweet Melodia Reeds, 1 Set of 37 Charmingly Brilliant Celeste Reeds, 1 Set of 24 Rich Mellow Smooth Diapason Reeds, 1 Set of Pleasing Soft Melodious Principal Reeds. THE PARLOR GEM action consists of the Celebrated Newell Reeds, which are only used in the highest grade instruments; fitted with Hammond Couplers and Vox Humana, also best Dolge felts, leathers, etc., bellows of the best rubber cloth, 3-ply bellows stock and finest leather in valves. THE PARLOR GEM is furnished with a 10x14 beveled plate French mirror, nickel plated pedal frames, and every modern improvement. We furnish free a handsome organ stool and the best organ instruction book published.

GUARANTEED 25 YEARS. With every PARLOR GEM ORGAN we issue a written binding 25-year guarantee, by the terms and conditions of which if any part gives out we repair it free of charge. Try it one month and we will refund your money if you are not perfectly satisfied. 500 of these organs will be sold at $35.50. ORDER AT ONCE. DON'T DELAY.

OUR RELIABILITY IS ESTABLISHED If you have not dealt with us ask your neighbor about us, write the publisher of this paper or Metropolitan National Bank, or Corn Nat. Bank, of Chicago; or German Exchange Bank, New York; or any railroad or express company in Chicago. We have a capital of over $700,000.00, occupy entire one of the largest business blocks in Chicago, and employ nearly 2,000 people in our own building. WE SELL ORGANS AT $22.00 and up; PIANOS, $115.00 and up; also everything in musical instruments at lowest wholesale prices. Write for free special organ, piano and musical instrument catalogue. Address, (Sears, Roebuck & Co. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. (Inc.), Fulton, Desplaines and Wayman Sts., CHICAGO, ILL.

ja1Tes9t

THE

NEW YORK WORLD

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year

FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.

Telephone 1839.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

READ the Business Announcements.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW

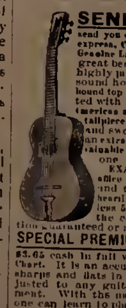
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.



SEND 50 CENTS to us with this ad. and we will send you our celebrated La BERTA GUITAR by express, C. O. D., subject to examination. It is a Genuine La Berta American made instrument of great beauty, perfect rosewood finish, very highly polished. Handsomely inlaid around sound hole and inlaid stripe in back, celluloid bound top edge. Fingerboard accurately fretted with raised frets, inlaid pearl position dots, American made patent head, and finest nickel plated tailpiece. A REGULAR $8.00 GUITAR, powerful and sweet toned, furnished complete with an extra set of best quality steel strings and a valuable instruction book which teaches anyone how to play.

EXAMINE THE GUITAR at your express office and if found exactly as represented and the greatest bargain you ever saw or heard of pay the express agent $3.65 less 50c, or $3.15 and express charges and the complete outfit is yours. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded in full.

SPECIAL PREMIUM OFFER. With every order accompanied by $3.65 cash in full we will give a Lettered Fingerboard Chart. It is an accurate guide, having all notes, with sharps and flats in full view, and can be easily adjusted to any guitar without changing the instrument. With the use of the lettered fingerboard anyone can learn to play without the aid of a teacher. Write for free musical instrument and piano and organ catalogue. Everything at lowest wholesale prices. Address,

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO., CHICAGO
(SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

no28-8

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address,
THE PATENT RECORD,
Baltimore, Md.
Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

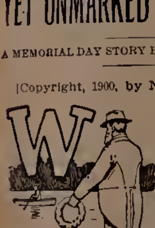
900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna -
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed -
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda -
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar -
Wintergreen Flavor.
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES – 35 CENTS
EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

YET UNMARKED BY A STONE

A MEMORIAL DAY STORY BY NEIL MACDONALD

[Copyright, 1900, by Neil Macdonald.]



WAS the man insane? He knelt praying upon the bank of the Yazoo, a memorial wreath in each hand, and as I watched him from my boat he arose and cast the wreaths one after another into the river.

"Pardon me, sir," said I as I stepped ashore, "if I ask the meaning of these wreaths. As this is Memorial day, I suppose your action is inspired by some sad memory of the civil war."

"Yes," he replied solemnly. "The strange act which you saw me perform memorializes what was to me one of the saddest incidents of the civil war. I was decorating the grave of John Douglas, private in a Pennsylvania regiment of volunteers, a brave man and the truest friend I ever had."

"His grave!" I exclaimed. "I see no grave—only water."

"And only water covers my hero. His grave is there somewhere in the river."

"What you say," I remarked, "excites my curiosity. I served in the campaigns along this river, and I shall be deeply interested if you will tell me the story." This he did as we sat side by side on the bank of the river.

"The Pennsylvania regiment to which I belonged," said he, "formed part of the force with which General Sherman attempted to attack Vicksburg by way of the Yazoo river. We ascended the river on transports on Dec. 25, 1862, and began operations on the following day. Between us and Vicksburg lay a swampy region intersected by numerous bayous. After several skirmishes it was found impossible to force a passage through the swamps, which were passable only by narrow causeways, commanded by Confederate batteries, and the attempt was abandoned after a few days.

"In the last of these skirmishes I was severely wounded and was left unnoticed by my comrades in a dense canebrake upon their return to the Yazoo after the attempt had failed. I lay for some time in a semiconscious condition, securely screened from the eyes of my enemies, as I had been, unfortunately, from those of my friends. My condition was truly deplorable, for I was not only seriously wounded and weak from the loss of blood, but the causeway was now patrolled by Confederate soldiers, and even were it otherwise the Federal troops had probably by that time re-embarked on the transport, and should I reach the Yazoo it would only be to fall into the hands of the enemy.

"Without any definite purpose to guide my steps, but impressed by the necessity of leaving a position where I was in danger of being captured, I moved aimlessly through the dense thicket in a direction which led me away from the causeway. A slight frost had rendered the swampy soil more firm, and the chief difficulty encountered was in making my way through the cane and bushes and interlacing vines.

"After slowly groping about in this manner for three or four hours I saw rising ground in front of me and an opening in the thick growth of trees crowning it which I thought indicated a near approach to the abode of man. If my conjecture were correct, temporary relief was at hand, for even enemies would not refuse to aid one in my pitiable condition. Upon reaching the opening in the woods I saw a neat, whitewashed cottage, surrounded by an orchard, a short distance in front of me, while in rear of the house a small, well cultivated farm extended down the opposite slope to a bayou where the oasis abruptly ended.

"Completely exhausted and feeling that even death would be a relief, I painfully made my way to the gate leading through the orchard to the cottage. Upon reaching it I saw in the path before me a tall, beautiful girl, and then I remember nothing more. When I recovered consciousness, I found myself lying in bed in a tastefully furnished room. The conclusion was forced upon me that I had fallen into kind hands, and then, just as I recalled the vision of a beautiful being in white, the girl herself stood before me.

"How can I describe her beauty—her perfection of form? I thought of Murillo's masterpiece, 'The Immaculate Conception,' but here was a beauty transcending the painter's inspiration, and the music of her voice was like the trill of a song bird, softened by the coo of a dove!

"She came forward with some degree of hesitancy and apparent maidenly reserve, and in a tone of sympathy inquired after my condition. She told me that I had been very ill and delirious and had already passed two nights in the house. Her father, she added, was ardently devoted to the southern cause, as she was herself, but they were always ready to respond to the calls of humanity and in ministering to the sick they made no distinction between a Confederate and Union soldier.

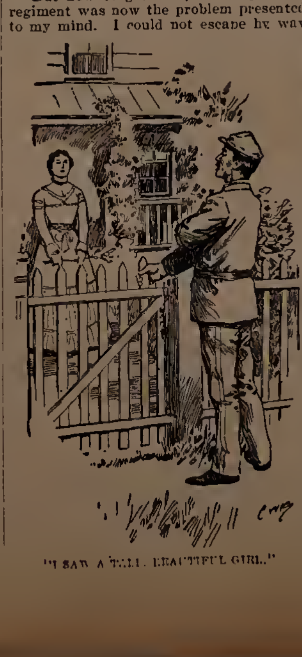
"As you may judge from my enthusiasm, I fell in love with this fair angel of the Yazoo, Olympia Le Moyne. I convalesced rapidly, all too rapidly, for I dreaded the approach of the time when I would be compelled to rejoin my regiment and leave her, perhaps forever. I was soon on a footing of the most friendly intimacy with her father, Francis Le Moyne, who had been at one time engaged in business in New Orleans. Why he and his daughter Olympia had removed to that lonely spot, in a region of swamps and bayous, I did not inquire, and they volunteered no explanation. They were people of refinement, and whatever their motive in so secluding themselves I felt it to be one that could cast no discredit upon them.

"I remained a month in the Le Moyne cottage. Olympia and myself were together on every possible opportunity, and finally she made me supremely happy by confessing that she loved me. How well I remember each separate incident in this delightful and romantic period of my life! I was oblivious of everything but that contained within my narrow environment. Olympia 'was the ocean to the river of my thoughts,' and all my hopes and desires centered in her.

"About the end of January Mr. Le Moyne told me that his son, who was a captain in the Confederate service, had been wounded and was coming home on leave in a few days. He, as well as myself, knew it would be at least embarrassing were we to meet. My cheek mantled with shame when I thought of my comrades fighting the battles of their country while I, an intruder upon the hospitality of the enemies of the cause I loved, was passing my time in happy but inglorious ease.

"I at once sought Olympia and told her I would be compelled to leave on the day following. She exhausted all the resources of a fascinating and beautiful woman to dissuade me, but seeing that all her arts were in vain finally gave a reluctant consent.

"But how to get away and rejoin my regiment was now the problem presented to my mind. I could not escape by way of Vicksburg, and, for anything I knew to the contrary, the banks of the Yazoo might be in possession of the Confederates and their vessels instead of Union gunboats might be patrolling the river.



"I SAW A TALL, BEAUTIFUL GIRL."

"Just at this juncture a scouting party of Union troops from one of our gunboats appeared upon the scene. Among the number I was delighted to see my boon comrade and tent mate, John Douglas, who greeted me with a warmth and enthusiasm which did not require the evidence of tearful eyes to convince me of their earnestness.

"'My dear fellow,' he exclaimed, his face aglow with surprise and pleasure, 'I thought you had gone to the land of shades, and here I find you by the side of a beautiful girl in an Arcadian paradise which seems to have arisen by magic amid the swamps and bayous of the Yazoo river. I let your family know of your disappearance and my fears as to your safety. Now you can let them know that my fears were groundless and that you are still living and ready to fight for the Union, unless,' he continued laughing, 'the beautiful Confederate who just now left your company has converted you to the cause of her people.'

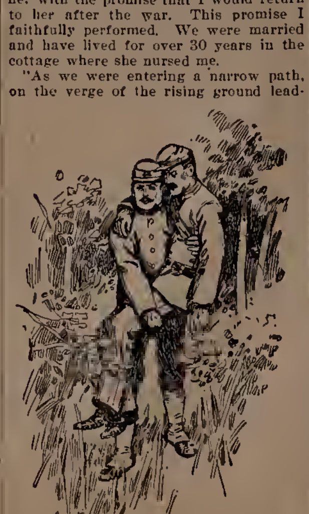
"While we were absorbed in our greetings, Aunt Dinah, a domestic of the household, came hurriedly toward us from the opposite side of the farm. Seeing me, she rushed forward and exclaimed excitedly:

"'Massa, massa! De Confeds are comin shua—a whole reg'ment. Youse habe time yet to 'scape, if yuah lebe now.'

"Though doubting the accuracy of the faithful creature's account, so far as the strength of the enemy was concerned, we deemed it prudent to avoid encounter with them, if possible, as our party numbered but 21.

"I sought Olympia and bade her a tearful, heartbreaking farewell, consoling her with the promise that I would return to her after the war. This promise I faithfully performed. We were married and have lived for over 30 years in the cottage where she nursed me.

"As we were entering a narrow path, on the verge of the rising ground leading to the nearest of the causeways, we saw the Confederates rapidly approaching and in such numbers that there was no possibility of our coping with them. So we rushed along at our outmost speed, our progress being much impeded by interlacing vines, which in some places had fallen across the track and in others hung from the trees just low enough to entangle our heads in their meshes.



"HE BORE ME TO THE BANK OF THE RIVER."

"As we reached the causeway there was no indication of the enemy, and we began to hope that they had not discovered the route we took. We did not slacken our speed, however, and when we had covered most of the distance to the river we saw them following at full speed. Henceforth it was a race in which the stakes were death or captivity and safety. As our leading files had reached the bank of the river a Confederate bullet, fired at long range, hit me in the leg, and I fell helpless into the bushes by the wayside. Our men then fired a volley at the foe, which did some execution and checked their advance.

"Soon after I fell John Douglas was by my side and raised me to my feet. It was impossible for me to walk or even to stand alone, and I begged him to leave me to my fate and save himself from capture or perhaps death. But the noble hearted fellow, not listening to my remonstrances for a moment, picked me up in his powerful arms and bore me to the bank of the river. Our comrades who in the hurry of boarding their boat had not probably missed us, were now beyond hailing distance. Fruitful in resources, my companion rushed to a part of the bank where he saw a plank and, returning at once, placed me on it in the water. Attempting to go on it himself, he found it would not bear us both, so he gave the plank a vigorous push and said:

"'Try to paddle in the direction of the gunboat. They will soon see you and come to your rescue. I can swim.'

"Following his advice and using my hands as paddles, I had made some progress toward the vessel when I saw a rowboat coming to our rescue. My heroic, self sacrificing friend still kept me company. The boat approached nearer and nearer until she was only two lengths away. Then I turned and looked for my friend, and I saw his head disappear beneath the water. I threw myself from the plank into the water in an agony of despair, wishing to share the fate of my comrade, but I was soon rescued and taken into the boat.

"Can you wonder now," he continued, while tears flowed down his pale cheeks, "that I cast a flower wreath on the dark waters of the Yazoo on Memorial day?"

Memorial Day Sentiments.

This is our day for all our patriotic saints and heroes.—General Anderson.

Every boy and girl of 15 should know the names and places which have made American bravery famous throughout the world.—Judge Richards Yates.

The nation that cherishes the graves of its soldiers and assembles to honor them is the nation that preserves and enlarges national life.—Benjamin Harrison.

The nation or country that can grow men of such character and such loftiness of soul that they will go down to death if need be, for a principle can rule the world.—Webster Davis at Arlington.

A Deathless Flower.

His hope is treacherous only whose love dies
With beauty, which is varying every hour.
But in chaste hearts, uninfluenced by the power
Of outward change, there blooms a deathless flower
That breathes on earth the air of paradise.

—Wordsworth.

Everybody Knows About
Pain-Killer
A Household Medicine
Used by millions
In all parts of the world
A SAFE and SURE REMEDY for
Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Cuts
Dysentery Croup Burns
Sprains and Strains.
Gives instant relief. Cures quickly.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'!
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)
ALL DRUGGISTS.
ja10-1y

A Nation's Tribute to Valor.

Somebody has said that a Gothic cathedral is a petrified religion. On the lines of this quaint aphorism it may with equal force and propriety be contended that the graves of the Union soldier dead tell the story of the most momentous epoch in her history. Responsive to the call of duty and the mandate of patriotism, they had fought and toiled and bled to preserve intact "a new nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men were created equal," and the flowers that we strew so lavishly upon their graves are as much an expression of the nation's gratitude as they are a beautiful tribute of personal respect for their memory.—Philadelphia Times.

National Cemeteries.

The earliest of the national cemeteries were established in 1861. From that year to 1895 the number grew to 83, which has not been exceeded since. A report made in 1874 by the army inspector of these places shows that there were then interred 308,331 Union soldiers. In addition, there are 7 242 citizens and 21,661 Confederate prisoners of war who share grave space with the patriotic Americans. Of the 308,331 there were 152,117 known and 119,496 unknown white dead soldiers; of colored soldiers there were 13,005 known and 20,505 unknown, and 3,208 unknown and unclassified.—Exchange.

A Red Letter Day.

Memorial day, May 30, has become a red letter day indeed in the American calendar. More than half the states of the Union have made it by law a legal holiday. By common consent thousands upon thousands of loyal people of the land look forward to its observance with a spirit of love, tenderness and thankful appreciation which pertains to none other of the anniversaries they delight to celebrate. The growing esteem in which it is held is a constant tribute to the great organization which instituted and perpetuates it—the Grand Army of the Republic.—New York Tribune.

Heroes In the Ranks.

The unwritten roster of the brave bears many names of men who never rose above the ranks. All honor to them! Thousands earned a place that history has never offered to them. Brave men there were among the privates who died in battle; brave men among those whose suffering was only that of marching soldiers who never heard the minie bullet's deadly song. Heroes all! The nation may not know their honorable names, the nation may not know their honorable deeds, but if the nation finds their honorable graves those graves will be flower decked. It is well.—Exchange.

An Inference.

The Doctor's Friend—The papers say that "the best medical skill was summoned and Dr. Boneset arrived promptly."

Another Friend—H'm! I suppose the best medical skill wasn't in.—Puck.

Eastman Kodak Co.'s
BROWNIE CAMERAS
$1.00
Make pictures 2¼ x 2¼ inches. Load in Daylight with our six exposure film cartridges and are so simple they can be easily
OPERATED BY ANY SCHOOL BOY OR GIRL.
Fitted with fine Meniscus lenses and our improved rotary shutters for snap shots or time exposures. Strongly made, covered with imitation leather, have nickeled fittings and produce the best results.
Brownie Camera, for 2¼ x 2¼ pictures, . . . $1.00
Transparent-Film Cartridge, 6 exposures, 2¼ x 2¼, . .15
Brownie Developing and Printing Outfit, . . .75
THE BROWNIE CAMERA CLUB.
Every boy and girl under sixteen years of age should join the BROWNIE CAMERA CLUB. Fifty Kodaks, valued at over $500.00, will be given to members of the club as prizes for the best pictures made with the Brownie Cameras and every member of the club will be given a copy of our Photographic Art Brochure. No initiation fees or dues if you own a Brownie. Ask your dealer or write us for a Brownie Camera Club Constitution.
Send a dollar to your local Kodak dealer for a Brownie Camera. If there is no Kodak dealer in your town, send us a dollar and we will ship the camera promptly.
EASTMAN KODAK CO.
Rochester, N. Y.
de19-6mT

North and South After Battle.

In the retreat the colonel's headquarters wagon was missing, so they were all without rations, save a stray hard tack or slice of bacon that some provident man still retained in his saddle pocket. An incident occurred here that I shall never forget, and I should like to know the name of the man and where he is now. As I lay there, weary and in pain, hungry and thirsty, with no prospect of anything to eat before the morrow, if then, some one bent over me. I looked up and recognized my captor, behind whom I had ridden off the field. He held in one hand a hard tack on which was a small piece of bacon; in the other a tin cup of hot coffee.

As he handed it to me he said, "Here, pard, you are as hungry as I am, and I will divide with you." Was there ever an act that more fully denoted the true soldier? To deny himself that he might relieve the suffering of one who but three hours before would have killed him in the line of duty or whom he would have killed, but now, being in his power, sought to show him every courtesy consistent with his duty! With him, and with all such as he, hostilities ceased with surrender.—Blue and Gray.

Still Unsatisfied.

"You wanted a goat," said Mrs. Bunting to little Willie sternly; "and now you have one you are not satisfied. What is the matter with you?"

"I want a disinfected goat," blubbered little Willie.—Judge.

"A Single Fact
Is worth a shipload of argument." What shall be said, then, of thousands of facts? Every cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla is a fact, presenting the strongest possible evidence of the merit of this medicine. Thousands and thousands of such facts prove that Hood's Sarsaparilla will cure all diseases caused or promoted by impure blood. It is the best medicine money can buy.
Indigestion, nausea are cured by Hood's Pills.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought Necessary Precaution.

Attendant—Shall I put a ticket "Do Not Touch" on this picture?

Gallery Superintendent—What picture is it?

Attendant—Portrait of a millionaire.—Town Topics.

With Years WISDOM.
The answer to that old query, "What's in a name?" was not hard to define in the case of one justly celebrated Family Remedy that had its origin away down in Maine, which proves that with age comes wisdom about
JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT
An old lady called at a store and asked for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment; the clerk said "they were out, but could supply her with another just as good." The engaging smile that accompanied this information was frozen stiff when she replied:
Young Man, there is only one Liniment, and that is Johnson's.
Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. There is not a remedy in use which has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Could a remedy have existed for nearly a century, except that it possess extraordinary merit?
Our book on INFLAMMATION free Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Clark, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

ELASTIC GOODS AT HALF PRICE.
If you want us to make to your MEASURE and ORDER ELASTIC GOODS for the RELIEF AND CURE OF VARICOSE VEINS, WEAK, SWOLLEN OR ULCERATED LIMBS, CORPULENCY, ABDOMINAL WEAKNESS OR TUMOR, state your height, weight and age, state number of inches around body or limb at each letter shown in cut and send to us with our SPECIAL PRICE. We will make the goods to order from the very finest fresh rubber elastic material, guarantee a perfect fit and if you do not find it perfectly satisfactory and equal to goods others get double the price for, return at our expense and we will refund your money.
OUR SPECIAL PRICE for all fine silk elastic thigh stocking, A to I, $7.50; thigh legging, C to I, $6.00; thigh piece, G to I, $2.50; knee stocking, A to G, $5.00; knee legging, C to G, $4.00; knee cap, E to G, $2.00; garter stocking, A to E, $3.00; garter legging, C to E, $2.00; anklet, A to C, $2.00; abdominal belt, K to M, $10.00. COTTON ELASTIC GOODS, ONE-THIRD LESS. Special Covered Elastic Abdominal Supporter, made of soft lisle thread, interwoven with protected rubber thread, 8 inches wide, $2.00; 10 inches, $2.25; 12 inches, $2.50. Write for Surgery Catalogue.
SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO., (Inc.), CHICAGO, ILL.

SEND 50 CENTS
TO US WITH THIS AD and we will send you this Violin Outfit by express C. O. D. subject to examination. This violin is a Genuine Stradivarius Model, made of old wood, curly maple back and sides, top of seasoned pine, specially selected for violins, edges inlaid with purfling, best quality ebony finished trimmings. THIS IS A REGULAR $8.00 VIOLIN, beautifully finished, highly polished, with splendid tone quality. Complete with a genuine Brazil wood Tourte model bow, 1 extra set of strings, a neat, well made violin case, large piece of rosin, and one of the best common sense instruction books published. YOU CAN EXAMINE IT at your express office, and if found exactly as represented and the greatest bargain you ever saw or heard of, pay the express agent $3.75 less the 50 cent deposit, or $3.25 and express charges, and the outfit is yours.
SPECIAL PREMIUM OFFER. With every order accompanied by cash in full we will give one lettered fingerboard chart, which can be adjusted to any violin without changing the instrument and will prove a valuable guide to beginners, and we will also allow the instrument to be returned after 10 days' trial if not found entirely satisfactory in every respect. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded in full. Address, SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. (Inc.) Chicago.
(SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)
mo28-8

WHAT A BLESSING.
Many of Our Readers are Learning to Appreciate.
What a blessing it is.
Sought after by thousands.
Many a miserable man is happy now.
Nights of unrest, days of trouble.
An itching skin disease means this.
Itching Piles mean it.
Eczema just as bad, and just as hard to cure.
But Doan's Ointment relieves at once, and cures all itchiness of the skin.
A blessing to a suffering public.
Here's proof to back our statement.
Mr. Samuel Carr, of 8 School street, Haverhill, Mass., says: "I procured Doan's Ointment for an eruption on my leg which caused me considerable anxiety. The treatment gave satisfactory results and warrants me in saying that Doan's Ointment acts up to the representations made for it."
Doan's Ointment for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitutes.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

OCT. 22, 1899.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON — 5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 36, 4 32, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 15 a m, 5 15, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 49, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 58, f5 21, 6 19, f7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f1 01, 5 25, 6 15, f7 28, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m. 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD — 9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; 1 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 35, 6 50 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Trains leave Unionville for

MILFORD—9 25 a m; 1 19, 4 37, 5 42, 6 57, S 6 44 p m

FRANKLIN—6 49, 8 41, 11 28 a m; 4 03, 6 19 p m. S 8 15 a m.

GEO. L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days, Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
.. AND ...
C.B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

TAKE ADVANTAGE
Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

COPYRIGHT 1897

THAT "TIRED FEELING"

and dull headache that comes with spring and early summer is caused by impure blood clogging the circulation and rendering the liver torpid and the vital functions inactive. Our Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla will purify the blood, strengthen the nerves and revitalize the whole system, make your complexion clear, your eye bright and your step elastic, if used now.

LARGE BOTTLES, 50c.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

H. B. Fisher, a prominent business man of Kalamazoo, Mich., is the guest of old friends in town.——Tax collector C. W. Pond has collected about $800 in back taxes of the $5000 to be collected.——The funeral of Dr. C. M. Newell was held Sunday in East Watertown.——Miss A. S. Farrington is visiting her sister in law, Mrs. Geo. Farrington, in Bristol.——Miss Amelia B. Cook has arrived at her summer place for the season.——Miss Fern Smith of Boston is the guest of Edson W. George.——The Cypress Aid society will give the drama "Me and Otis" in the hall June 20. Following the play a social dance will be held.

MEN OF MARK.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has a Sunday school class of 63 young men at the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, New York.

Frederick B. Whitney, the business manager of the Boston Transcript, who died recently, had been connected with The Transcript for 37 years.

W. A. Pinkerton, the detective, is an advocate of the whipping post for footpads. He says that burglars deserve the same treatment as murderers.

Ex Senator Gorman of Maryland said the other day that he did not seem to look like a politician. "Invariably," he said, "strangers mistake me for either a diplomat or a priest."

Joseph Chidester of Lyndon, Clay county, Mo., calls himself "the solid Republican vote of that town." Out of 262 votes in Lyndon he was the only one who voted for McKinley in 1896. The other 261 voted for Bryan.

Frank Gould's horses are to have a $90,000 building, in which they can take indoor exercise. He has bought for this purpose a plot of ground in the most aristocratic part of New York. The price of the site alone is $80,000.

Andrew Carnegie's reason for giving his money to establish libraries rather than for other charitable purposes is because "libraries give nothing for nothing. In order to get benefit from them a man must help himself, must read and study."

Galusha A. Grow of Pennsylvania has been a member of congress off and on since 1851. His present term will expire March 4, 1901. He was originally elected as a Free Soil Democrat, but is now one of the pillars of the Republican party.

Henry Irving has developed the Yankee trait of answering one question by asking another. He was recently asked, "Has the theater any other mission than to amuse?" Sir Henry replied, "Has food any other mission than to please the palate?"

Senator Baker of Kansas says he started his son, E. Burgoyne Baker, in newspaper work because he believes journalism is the best of training for any young man, no matter whether he intends to keep it up or to go into some other profession.

General de Villebois-Mareuil, who was recently killed while in the Boer service, is said to have amused himself in Paris by writing some love stories for the Parisian papers, which he never allowed to use his name. He was also the author of some valuable military textbooks.

MATRON AND MAID.

Dr. Alice H. Luce of Wellesley college has accepted election as dean of Oberlin university.

Harriet P. Dame, war nurse from New Hampshire, known by name to thousands of Union and Confederate soldiers, died in Concord, N. H., a few days ago.

Dr. Maud Speer of the Tamaqua board of health and Dr. Ida V. Reel, who for seven years has been secretary of the Coatesville health board, are said to be the only women in Pennsylvania to sustain such honors.

Mrs. Alexander Sullivan is the first American woman journalist to be recognized in an official capacity in France. At the opening of the exposition she was given the chair fourth from that of the president of France.

Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst has presented to the University of California a complete equipment for the department of pathology, which will make this department equal to if not greater than that of any university in America.

The people of St. Paul and Minneapolis are raising a fund to pay off a mortgage on the home of Mrs. M. C. Wilkinson, whose husband, Major Wilkinson, was killed in the Indian outbreak at Leech Lake, Minn., in October, 1898.

Mrs. Jerry O'Neill, who recently died at Rockland, Mich., was known to have had money, but she refused to make known its hiding place before she died. The neighbors were called in, and a digging bee was held, resulting in the unearthing of $5,400 in the garden back of the house.

Miss Janet Russell Perkins of Chicago, who recently took the degree of doctor of philosophy at Heidelberg university, has been made a member of several leading German scientific societies. She has passed all her examinations with the highest possible mark that has been given man or woman in these societies.

Mrs. Leland Stanford has given the old Stanford home in Sacramento to Bishop Mora of the Catholic church, together with a $75,000 endowment with which to maintain it as an orphanage. This is the house where Senator Stanford lived for 20 years and where his son, in whose memory the Stanford university was founded, was born.

Mrs. Charles Ewing Green has established an alcove in the Chancellor Green library, Princeton, N. J., to the memory of her husband. It will consist of books on general, ancient and classical philology. This alcove will help to carry out the late Mr. Green's wish of making this library "the best 30,000 volumes for a university reference library in the world."

THE BEEKEEPER.

Frames should be added as the size of the colony increases.

See that each colony has a good laying queen and plenty of food.

Use the best combs for the brood nest, the roughest for storage.

Do not shift the location of the bees from one place to another.

When the season opens, give the bees abundance of room for storing honey.

Explained at Last.

Suitor—Your daughter, sir, is the light of my existence.

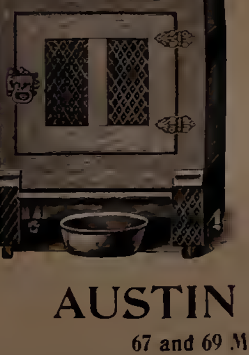
Her Father—Oh, that's it, eh? I've often wondered how you could ever see her with the gas turned down so low.—Chicago Daily News.

Constipation

Headache, biliousness, heartburn, indigestion, and all liver ills are cured by

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.



THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND, with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain.

Our Store is Light and Cool,

the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

W. S. JOHNSON,

SPECIAL AGENT FOR

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York,

Assets over - - -	$300,000,000
Paid to policy holders over	500,000,000
Insurance in force over -	1,000,000,000

Issues the most liberal and attractive policies on the market, including Cash Surrender Values, Extended Insurance, Loan Values, Paid-up Insurance, Grace in payment of Premiums, etc.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., · Prop'r and Mgr.

ANNUAL OPENING

..ON..

Memorial Day

MAY 30, 1900.

AMUSEMENTS.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

DANCING FREE

During the day.

Music by American Band Orchestra.

REFRESHMENTS

Of all kinds in our well-stocked cafe. Dinner will be served on the European plan at moderate prices in the pavillion. No intoxicating liquors allowed on the grounds.

ADMISSION 10c.

Children will be admitted free.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Good accommodations for horses.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Circulars free on application.

my30-1t

—YOU WILL FIND AT—

CROWNINSHIELD'S STORE

Glass, Tin, Granite, Copper, Crockery and Wooden Ware, Croquet Sets, Carts, Brooms, Brushes, Oil Stoves, Chimneys, Window Screens, Baskets, Tea, Coffee and Baking Powder, 5c. and 10c. Goods—a fine line.

No. 2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4m8

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap27S

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN

EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.

(Successor to RAZEE & SON)

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

Franklin and Wrentham STAGE LINE.

Leave Wrentham P.O. for Franklin at 8.15 a.m. 3.30 p.m. Leave Franklin depot for Wrentham at 9.30 a.m., 4.30 p.m.; connecting with trains for Boston and Providence via N. Y. & N. E. railroad; trains leaving Boston at 7.40, 8.30 a.m. and 3.30 p.m.; leaving Providence at 8.35 a.m.

☞ Orders may be left at Railroad Station.

N. B. WEBBER, Prop.

AGENTS WANTED.

Liberal contracts to intelligent men of good character and address. Can earn in commissions from $3000 upwards per year by applying to Wm. F. Bache, Gen'l Agt. NORTHWESTERN MUT. LIFE INS. CO., 7 Water st., Boston, Mass., from 9 to 10 A. M., from 12 to 1 P. M.

ANNUAL STATEMENT JAN'Y 1, 1900.

Assets	$126,846,728 45
Liabilities	121,112,039.71
Surplus	5,534,697.74
Insurance in force	$497,600,125.00

mh2 2ms

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

A GRAND ARMY CATECHISM.

Items of Information About the Order of Veterans.

What is the G. A. R.?

An association of veteran soldiers who served in the northern armies between April, 1861, and August, 1865. The first G. A. R. post was instituted at Decatur, Ills., in April, 1866. The posts in the several states are organized into departments, as department of New York, department of Iowa, and so on. The heads of departments bear the title of department commander. The head of the national body is called commander in chief.

What is the uniform?

The uniform varies in the several departments, and many posts adopt an individual pattern. As a rule, the uniform is a modification of former military styles. The prevailing color is dark blue.

Is there any distinctive hat?

The large black hat with gilt cord and deep crease in the crown has become known as the Grand Army hat. Gray hats of the same shape are also much worn. The army fatigue cap with a straight visor has been officially adopted by some posts and departments.

What are the badges worn by the G. A. R. men?

On parade the veterans wear the badges of the army corps in which they served during the war, army society badges, regimental badges and the G. A. R. membership badge surmounted by an eagle and having a five pointed pendant. The G. A. R. badge is an honorary decoration bestowed upon each comrade at the time of his muster into the order.

What does the eagle on the G. A. R. badge signify?

The eagle, perched on crossed cannon and clutching a sword in its talons, is emblematic of defense. The object of its protection is the flag, which is the ribbon of the order.

What do the figures on the center of the star represent?

The Goddess of Liberty stands for loyalty, the soldier and sailor clasping hands for fraternity, and the children symbolize the third virtue held sacred by the order—namely, charity. The star of every badge is made from metal of cannons captured in battle.

What good purpose does the G. A. R. serve?

The order keeps alive the memory of patriotic sacrifices in time of public danger and also carries on an extensive benevolent work in relieving cases of need among disabled veterans and dependent members of the families of veterans, irrespective of the relation of the needy ones to the Grand Army organization. Each post maintains a relief fund sacred to emergency calls, and many millions have been disbursed through this channel.

What is the significance of the G. A. R. button?

The bronze button worn by veterans in the coat lapel is a badge of recognition, being a conspicuous evidence that the wearer is a member of the G. A. R. It is unlawful for any person not a member of the order to wear either the G. A. R. button or official badge.

What is the most imposing feature of Memorial day exercises?

The parade of the veterans and the formal ceremonies of decorating the graves of the dead. Memorial day originated with the G. A. R., having been established by order of Commander In Chief John A. Logan in 1868. The decorations were originally limited to the dead who fell in the war.

Scene: The stone quay of a small fishing village in Cornwall. Two urchins are wrangling at the sea end in somewhat dangerous proximity to the deep water. An old retired salt, "the father of the hamlet," watches these antics for a few minutes from his sunning place against the signal staff, then makes stealthily for the offending pair and administers a sound cuff each, afterward returning complacently to his pipe as the youngsters march tearfully shoreward.

A visitor, having noticed the episode, came up and tackled the old fellow on his seemingly unreasonable molestation.

"They were not harming you in any way," he protested, "so why spoil their games?"

"Well, it be jest this yer way," retorted the veteran after a thoughtful expectoration. "'Tisn't as I cares a darn whether they tumbles in an gets drownded or whether they do stop aboord, 'cos they bean't no kin o' mine. 'Twere the bloomin uncertainty which were agoin ter happen as was too much fer me ter stan it no longer, zo I barbetrates the matter as you zeed."

THE ROLL OF HONOR.

Memorial Day Recalls Names of the Nation's Heroes.

Thirty-five years ago the war was declared at an end, and it is a matter of thankfulness that the nation, preserved by such a costly sacrifice, has never been menaced since by a domestic foe.

As memory recalls in succession on Memorial day the names of the valiant men who have fallen we are more and more impressed with the magnitude of the work they aided to consummate. Note the roll of individual dead, illumined with brilliant deeds and records, all along the vista of time from 1861 down to the present day! The loyal Lyon, the intrepid Ellsworth, the eloquent Baker, the accomplished McPherson, the inflexible Thomas, the manly Fairchilds, the patriotic McDowell, the fiery Hooker, the dashing Kilpatrick, the brave and impetuous Custer, the thoughtful Meade, the conscientious Burnside, the scholarly Garfield, the organizer and inscrutable McClellan, the matchless Logan, the superb Hancock, the peerless Grant, the invincible Sheridan and the unequaled Sherman. Not alone are these familiar and oft repeated names remembered on Memorial day, although their services entitle them to the exalted distinction they hold in the minds and hearts of a grateful people, for even these gifted generals, without the rank and file, who executed their plans and so contributed to their individual fame and glory, would have remained comparatively unknown beyond their friends and the institutions that prepared them for their work.

And if the language of panegyric may be appropriately used when referring to the leaders in statesmanship and war whose genius directed the movements of the citizen soldiery who gave their lives that the nation might be saved, what language can be used that shall give proper praise to the humble heroes who slumber in forgotten and neglected graves whose ashes are mingled with the southern soil and also to those who survived the mighty conflict? The empty sleeves of those who returned, their bent forms, their gray locks and their unsteady steps are all reminders of what they suffered and endured.—Selected.

Nucleus as applied to bee culture signifies a small swarm of bees of from one-fourth to one-tenth of a full colony.

Black bees may easily be changed to Italians by simply removing the black queen and introducing an Italian in her place. This may be done in any hive.

In breeding queens artificially it is very important at first to get good cells from brood that is of the right age for transformation. It is safest to use fully developed cells.

Plenty of storage room has much to do with the swarming of bees. So also has the size of the hive. The honey season also has much to do with it. A very large hive does not give good results.—St. Louis Republic.

A Sprained Ankle Quickly Cured.

"At one time I suffered from a severe sprain of the ankle," says Geo. E. Cary, editor of the Guide, Washington, Va. "After using several well recommended medicines without success, I tried Chamberlain's Pain Balm and am pleased to say that relief came as soon as I began its use and a complete cure speedily followed. This remedy has also been used in my family for frost bitten feet with the best results. I cheerfully recommend its use to all who may need a first-class liniment." Sold by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Bodily pain loses its terror if you've a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil in the house. Instant relief in cases of burns, cuts, sprains, accidents of any sort.

The little folks love Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Pleasant to take; perfectly harmless; positive cure for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Just the Thing...

If you need something to give you an appetite, make you strong and drive away that tired feeling, try

FRANKLIN MALT.

17c. per bottle. $1.75 per dozen.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist.

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF

SEEDS! SEEDS!

All the 5c. packages of GARDEN SEEDS we sell for 3c., two 5c., or 25c. per dozen. These Seeds are new this year, direct from the CLEVELAND SEED CO.

All kinds of FLOWER SEEDS, 5c. and 10c. per package.

All other kinds of Garden Seeds at the lowest prices—HOLTON, MAINE, EARLY ROSE, HEBRONS, NEW QUEENS.

Before buying your Seeds come and see what we can do for you.

McKinnon's Grocery Store,

CENTRAL SQUARE.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Patrick Hart to the Medway Savings Bank, a corporation duly established in Medway, in the county of Norfolk, by the laws of Massachusetts, dated May 14, 1891, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 654, folio 551, and by the said Medway Savings Bank assigned said mortgage deed to Peter Hart, dated May 7, 1900, recorded in Norfolk county deeds, for a breach of the conditions thereof and to foreclose said mortgage deed, will be sold on the premises in Medway, in said Norfolk county, in said Massachusetts, at public auction, on at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed. Excepting such lots as have been released under this mortgage deed by said Medway Savings Bank, and known as lots Nos. 50, 60, 71 and 72 on plan of farm plots of the Boston Agricultural City Co. drawn by H. S. Partridge, April 16, 1896, to which reference may be had.

FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1900,

All that certain lot or tract of land situate in said Medway, bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the Medway branch railroad bridge on Charles river; thence running southerly on said river ten (10) rods and fifteen (15) links to land formerly of Aaron L. White; thence southwesterly on said White's land to a stone bound; thence running northwesterly across the open plain on a line parallel with the line of said railroad to the Franklin road, so called, bounding on the west by land formerly of Bucknam and Rayner; thence running northeasterly on said Franklin road to the line of the railroad aforesaid (excepting heretofore a house lot of forty and five-tenths (40 5-10) rods conveyed to Edward Eaton, lying near to said railroad); thence southeasterly on said railroad to Charles river aforesaid. Together with all the rights and privileges of water and otherwise belonging to said premises, together with all improvements on said estate, same as described in deed to me from John J. Raynor, recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 546, fol. 605.

Also another tract of land in said Medway, and in Franklin, in said county of Norfolk, near to Medway village, so called, containing about thirty (30) acres, be the same more or less, and bounded as follows, viz: Beginning at a point where a town road crosses the old Medway branch railroad; thence running southerly on said road to land formerly of Aaron L. White; thence running southwesterly and bounded southeasterly by said White's land to land sold by Pierce and Ammidown to Edward Eaton; thence continuing to run southwesterly on said Eaton's land (formerly) seventy-three (73) rods and nine (9) links to land formerly of Clark Walker; thence continuing westerly on said Walker's land ten (10) rods and twenty-one and a half (21 1-2) links to a bound; thence continuing to run on said Walker's land westerly ten (10) rods and twenty-one and a half links more to land formerly of Pierce and Ammidown; thence running northerly on Pierce and Ammidown's land twenty-five (25) rods to a bound on other land formerly of said Pierce and Ammidown; thence running easterly fifteen (15) rods and fifteen (15) links on the land last mentioned to a street or way reserved for passage to other parcels of land conveyed by Bucknam and Rayner; thence running northerly on the west line of said street and bounded westerly by land formerly of said Pierce and Ammidown twelve (12) rods and seven (7) links to land formerly of Mrs. Adeline Fuller; thence on Mrs. Fuller's land twelve (12) rods and two and a half (2 1-2) links to a house and lot (since conveyed) of Pierce and Ammidown; thence on said lot five (5) rods and twenty-four and a half (24 1-2) links to land formerly of said Pierce and Ammidown; thence on said last named land to the Franklin road, so called, twenty-eight (28) rods and twenty-four and a half (24 1-2) links; thence running northeasterly on said Franklin road to the line of the old Medway Branch Railroad Company fifty-six (56) rods and six (6) links; excepting therefrom a lot of land containing forty rods and five-tenths (40 5-10) near the said railroad, sold by Bucknam and Rayner to Edward Eaton, as by his deed will appear; thence running southeasterly on land of said railroad company to the town road aforesaid; subject to the reservations contained in deed of said Pierce and Ammidown (see Norfolk Deeds, libro 392, fol. 58, and also plan of various lots drawn by J. C. Lovering in June, 1860.

Also one other tract of land in said Medway, described in a previous mortgage from grantor to grantee. (See Norfolk Registry of Deeds, libro 480, folio 281.

Terms given at time and place of sale.

PETER HART,
Assignee of said mortgagee.

my15,22,29

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Patrick Hart to the Medway Savings Bank, a corporation duly established in Medway, in the County of Norfolk, by the laws of Massachusetts, dated June 14, 1876, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 480, folio 281, and by the said Medway Savings bank assigned said mortgage deed to Peter Hart, dated May 7, 1900, recorded in Norfolk County Deeds, for a breach of the conditions thereof and to foreclose said mortgage deed will be sold on the premises in Medway, in said Norfolk county, in said Massachusetts, at public auction, on

FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1900,

at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, to wit:

A certain tract of land with the buildings thereon, situate in said Medway and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at an elm tree on the southerly side or bank of the water course or canal below the batting mill of Eaton & Wilson, thence in a straight line in a southeasterly direction to land of said Eaton & Wilson one hundred (100) feet more or less to a stake and stones which is fifty (50) feet southerly from said canal, in the northerly line of said Eaton & Wilson's land; thence southerly on said Eaton & Wilson's land eighty-four and a half (84 1-2) feet more or less to a stake and stones at a corner; thence westerly on said Eaton & Wilson's land one hundred and seventy (170) feet more or less to Populatic street; thence southeasterly by a varying line around the engine house upon said street, and land formerly of the Medway Branch Railroad Co. to Charles river, near the railroad bridge over said river; thence in a general northwesterly course by said river to the place of beginning at the elm tree, said tract containing ten (10) acres more or less, and was conveyed to said grantor by Edward Eaton and M. M. Fisher and was a part of the Clark Walker farm. Terms given at time and place of sale,

PETER HART,
Assignee of said mortgage.

my15,22,29.

M Fisher 1Ja00

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 44. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Executor's Notice	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West...........	7.20 A. M.
Providence..............................	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces..........	9.30 "
West and South.........................	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces..........	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South.........................	5.10 "
Providence..............................	6.40 "
Boston and East........................	6.40 "
Milford..................................	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence..............................	9.05 "
Eastern States and Provinces..........	8.45 A. M.
West and South.........................	9.00 "
Milford..................................	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces..........	11.30 M.
West and South.........................	4.05 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces..........	4.30 "
North, South, East and West...........	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.
MATTHEW F. CONROY, P. M.
Franklin, Mass., June 17, 1898.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Mrs. Thomas A. Clark is quite seriously ill.

O. W. Bughee of Willimantic is here for a few days.

Mrs. Nellie Miller of Milford spent Wednesday with friends in town.

The condition of Henry Byrnes is reported to be somewhat improved.

Rev. Father Lee returned Monday from a week's stay in New York state.

Not all of the dogs are licensed. The dog officer will be appointed this month.

Miss Mary Hurley of Boston is visiting Miss Mary O'Sullivan of Pleasant street.

A new Plummer steam heater is being put into L. R. Whitaker's house by Hosie Bros.

Nearly two miles of track was laid on the Franklin-Medway electric route last week.

Dean is booked to play the Thayer academy nine on the campus tomorrow afternoon.

Manager McKinnon has decided to give Hotel Briggs a new name, calling it Hotel Windsor.

Spence & Granger removed Monday from Depot street to the Rogers shop on Cottage street.

Edward Whitaker will move from McCarthy street to the house of Eudora Cargill, Summer street.

Mr. Newell commences today, and if you treat him right you'll find that the census man isn't a "bogey man."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Darling and daughter, of Providence, are the guests for a week of Mr. and Mrs. Orin Fiske.

The Misses Elizabeth, Gertrude and Mary McCormick of Roxbury were the guests of Mrs. Desmond on West street Wednesday.

The field meeting at City Mills for June 6 is postponed one week (June 13) on account of the Pomona grange meeting at Foxboro.

Ornamental flowering plants are being set out in profusion about A. M. Thayer's new place, a landscape gardener having the matter in charge.

Fred Gratton of Unionville set sixty-six eggs in his new incubator three weeks ago, and removed sixty five lively little chicks Monday.

The Haywards and a picked nine met in friendly rivalry with bat and ball on Wednesday, the latter retiring winners by a score of 14 to 13 and an interesting game.

Supt. and Mrs. E. D. Daniels have taken a cottage at Lake Pearl for the month of June just adjoining the one occupied by Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Rockwood.

Mrs. A. H. Morse is on her way home from California, where she has been spending the winter. Upon the Morse lot in the cemetery on Memorial day was a floral piece, the words "From California" being marked with red berries.

The school committee have two petitions, one asking for the reopening of the South Franklin school, and the other for the present arrangement to continue. As yet the committee have taken no action in repairing the house, which must have considerable repairs.

Thursday afternoon the assessors had a picnic. They went to view a tract of woodland in the northern part of the town burned over recently. It was a walk in the woods that failed to appeal to the poetic spirit of assessors, even, and they care not for more.

Frank W. Derby of the Millers River National bank, Athol, was in town today looking up the proofs of death of Agustus Waldemeyer, who was a member of the lodge of the United Workmen of that place. This indicates how promptly that organization looks after its death claims.

At the meeting of St. Mary's parishioners in Music hall on Tuesday evening the 250 members present voted unanimously in favor of repairing the church, and P. Henry O'Donnell was appointed to confer with Rev. Father Lee in regard to the matter. The conference was held on Wednesday.

Electric connection is now possible between Franklin and the Providence river by taking the trolley to Woonsocket, from there to Manville, where the Interstate connects direct into Providence. Later, when the Wrentham and Attleboro branch is completed, the route will be somewhat shortened.

The following were neither absent or tardy during the month of May at Primary No. 2: Carleton Corbin, Ervin Cummings, Walter Bristow, Irvin Daniels, Edwin Ferrer, Harry Gray, Herbert Gray, Carl Johnson, George Joyce, Walter Palmer, Esmah Metcalf, Mildred Rockwood, Grace Russell.

The new Dictionary of the Bible now being issued by the Scribners and edited by some of the most eminent and scholarly men of the present time may be found, so far as issued, at the Franklin library. The "Life of Mr. Moody" by his son, may also be found there. Some other additions have recently been made to the book list.

Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Martin are having a few days' hunting and fishing in New Brunswick, their headquarters being Rock Haven camp. They report the fishing as remarkably good and the hunting all that could be desired, as both the doctor and Mrs. Martin shot a bear last week. The weather has been cold there the past few days, with heavy frost.

Manager Enegren was nearly overwhelmed by the crowds which took possession of Lake Pearl on Memorial day, the trolley cars, private carriages, bicycles, etc., furnishing means of conveyance to that cool and pleasant outing place. He did not anticipate quite such a rush, but says another time he will be all fixed to handle all who come, and with the electric cars running regularly he will have large crowds right along.

In referring to Representative Burrington's position on the Westminster Chambers matter in Tuesday's issue perhaps we should have added that when Representative Ames, who was paired with Prof. Burrington, discovered that his neglect to announce his pair with our representative was subjecting the latter to unfair criticism he at once hastened to apologize in the house, thus setting matters right in so far as it lay within his power.

The Mothers' section met last Friday with Mrs. Alice Abbott, selecting the following officers for the year ensuing: Chairman, Mrs. Mittie E. Whitaker; secretary, Mrs. Mary Fisher Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. Sarah Talbot; executive committee, Mrs. Marion Nye, Mrs. Lucy B. Knapp, Mrs. Alice I. Rockwood. The meetings have been of unusual interest and have been well attended. Many helpful subjects have been discussed by the members and outside speakers have contributed valuable thoughts.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Sleeper were the recipients of a generous May basket Thursday evening after their return from the evening meeting. It was a genuine surprise to them when the door bell rang and they found a large basket laden with many good things on the piazza, too heavy for them to handle. About fifty of the Baptist church people were standing near by in the shadows and came to their assistance. An hour or more was spent in songs and social cheer. The substantial blessings in the May basket will be appreciated for many days to come.

Memorial day is a time for reunions in every place in our country and Ivywild, North Franklin, was no exception. J. B. Sanger and family of Natick, W. H. Sanger and family of Dorchester, A. E. Sanger of Boston and A. H. Sanger of Chelsea (thirteen bearing the name of Sanger), also G. B. Blackwell and Miss Jennie Rice of North Attleboro, with Misses Burr and Bullard, all cousins more or less remote, enjoyed the day with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sanger. They felt honored to have one bearing the name who wore the badge of the G. A. R., a veteran of the Civil war. Patriotic songs and reminiscences were the order of the day till the last "good bye" was waved at its close, with many a fervent wish for another reunion in the future.

The trolley lines to Milford and Medway by way of North Bellingham and Caryville were well patronized on Memorial day, the cars running on half-hour time, the delay at North Bellingham being the only unpleasant feature. The waiting here was somewhat alleviated by the refreshment booth put up by C. O. Whitney. The comfortable chairs and cooling shade seemed like an oasis in the desert. Connection with the Medway cars at North Bellingham was better, and at Medway the Norfolk Western people had a car waiting going east. The Lake Pearl cars were crowded nearly every trip, and on the whole the trolley line people have every reason to feel pleased at the patronage afforded.

After a brief illness Augustus Waldemeyer died at his home on Crescent street at 6.30 Wednesday morning. He was taken suddenly ill with an epileptic fit early on Monday and remained unconscious to the time of his death. Mr. Waldemeyer was a skilled cabinet maker and had been employed in the Clark machine and foundry works for a number of years past. He came here with his family from Athol about eight years ago and was first employed at the Trowbridge piano manufactory. He was born in Germany 50 years ago and leaves a widow, one daughter and a son, the latter being at present in California. The funeral was held at 9 o'clock this morning from St. Mary's chapel, when a requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Lee. There was a large attendance of mourning friends, and beautiful floral pieces from the family, employees of the Clark works, pupils of the ninth grade of St. Mary's school and others were placed upon the casket.

The readings by Dr. Hodge at the Universalist chapel Wednesday evening were well attended, the audience filling the chapel. Considering that Dr. Hodge has read gratuitously many times an that on this occasion an admission fee was charged, Dr. Hodge must feel it a compliment that this was one of his largest audiences. He read from Dickens' "Holiday Romance," the first part, a selection new to most of the audience; and also the chapter from "Dombey and Son," entitled "The Midshipman Makes a Discovery." The representation of Captain Cuttle was given with a deep appreciation of that essentially Dickensian character and was greatly enjoyed by the audience, the awkward rough tenderness of the captain being brought out with care and discrimination. After the reading the audience remained to the refreshments which followed. A brief program of music and recitations followed, Misses Corbin, Nixon, Metcalf, Grant and Newman taking part. By special request Dr. Hodge repeated some dialect anecdotes which he was known to have given somewhere else, greatly amusing the audience. The whole affair was a pleasant success.

Satisfactorily Settled.

There was a ripple of excitement on the street Tuesday afternoon over the report that the selectmen had refused permission for the Lake Pearl electrics to run, which would prevent the crowds from enjoying transportation on Memorial day, and thus disappoint many. This proved not to be the case, beyond this fact: While the cars could cover the distance all right, yet the roadbed, as to the width of highway and manner of leaving it, was not in all places such as to commend the work to the selectmen, and they did not wish to forfeit their right in the matter by permitting the cars to run without a distinct understanding that the road would shortly be put in satisfactory condition. Deputy Sheriff Fitzpatrick served the paper upon Superintendent Young, who turned it over to Treasurer E. K. Ray. He immediately sought the selectmen, who assured him that all they desired to do was to protect the town in its rights. Selectman McCarthy and Mr. Ray, with a number of the others of the town officials, then rode over to Lake Pearl and inspected the road, Supt Young sending the car back from the lake to Franklin in a trifle less than fifteen minutes. Mr. Ray assured the selectman that he would attend to the matter as speedily as possible, and the road was open for transportation the day following.

Alden Club Meeting.

The Alden club was called to order by the president, Mrs. Ray, on last Monday evening, for the annual election of officers. The reports of the secretary and treasurer for the past year showed an increase in membership of sixteen and $160 in the treasury. The club voted $3.00 to the Longfellow Memorial fund of Washington. Mrs. Addie E. Winsor, Mrs. Marion Nye and Mrs. James F. Ray were elected delegates to the Mass. State Federation on June 15, and Mrs. E. K. Ray and Mrs. Charles Whiting were elected delegates to the National Biennial Federation, which meets in Milwaukee in June.

Miss Ham as chairman of the reception committee for the social meeting of May 14 suggested that a vote of thanks be tendered to Mrs. Ray and Mrs. Whiting for the excellent music which the club enjoyed on that evening. Mrs. Whiting engaged Mr. Kerr at her own expense, and the other artists were secured through the generosity of Mrs. Ray. A most delightful break in the business of the evening was the reading by Miss King of the Alden club history from the magazine, this number having been omitted on the magazine evening. The magazine has been printed in a

Continued on Second Page.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Touching and Tender Tributes to Fallen Comrades in Arms.

Nearly perfect weather marked the annual Memorial day on Wednesday affording the veterans and their friends a magnificent opportunity to fittingly commemorate the day. To the rapidly thinning ranks the day cannot be other than a hard one, commencing as it does at early morning and lasting till late afternoon, with its usual accompanying dust, heat, etc., and only the high spirit of devotion which actuates them would ever induce them to undergo the hardships of the day. But with the same feeling of duty which led them to offer themselves in the service of their country in '61 they now offer themselves to the arduous work of keeping alive the memory and deeds of their fallen comrades. That this same spirit of devotion finds so little response in the hearts of their countrymen is indeed a sad commentary on the American people.

The veterans, the Woman's Relief corps and the Sons of Veterans went first to Norfolk, where they followed out the program laid down in decorating the graves and enjoyed lunch, returning to the town hall where the exercises by the school children and the address by Rev. Mr. Sleeper were enjoyed. Then to City Mills, where the decorations were made.

At Norfolk Rev. Mr. Sleeper dwelt especially upon the life and services of the late Rev. Daniel Rounds, who had been one of the most faithful members and chaplains of the G. A. R. for more than twenty years. The reference to Chaplain Rounds was especially pleasing to the soldiers, who had known and loved him for so many years. At City Mills the speaker alluded to the greeting of flowers which was given the Northerners in the city of Richmond a few years ago, indicating the fraternal feeling which those of the Southland bore to their Northern brethren.

Misses Lilian Coleman and Clara Laycock, who served so finely as flag girls on Sunday, attended the Post going to Norfolk and City Mills. Doubtless the girls enjoyed this very much and it was certainly highly appreciated by the soldiers.

Upon their return here, accompanied by the Norfolk band, they repaired to G. A. R. hall, where the ladies had arranged a most appetizing dinner, and full justice was done thereto. After the dinner there were addresses by Selectman Gallison, Revs. Hodge and Sleeper, the substance of which we append below:

Dr. Gallison extended in behalf of his colleagues the hearty greetings of the town to Post 60 and its associates; called attention to the early spring days of '61 and its rapidly moving events; pictured the acts of the south in reducing the army, scattering the navy and robbing the United States treasury; told of the indifference of the north to the overt acts of rebellion of the troops of South Carolina; the firing into the Star of the West in January, 1861; the attack upon Fort Sumpter and its defence by Anderson with the United States troops; recalled the army of "southern chivalry," edicts of secession and defiance of the north; the indifference of the north until the call for troops; pictured the arousing of the men of the north; the acts of John Brown at Harper's Ferry; his death upon Virginia gallows; told of Admiral Farragut at the battle of Mobile bay; the acts of Sherman's arm, "the resistless human current that swept from Atlantic to the sea;" Phil Sheridan at Winchester; the battles of Lookout Mountain, Vicksburg, Shiloh, Fredericksburg; the determination of northern troops, "never daunted or discouraged by defeat;" hand-to hand at Gettysburg, "windrows of heroic dead;" fall of Richmond, "Let us have peace;" the flags and their silent story in the state house dome eloquent memorials of heroic strife; bloody endeavor and martyrs' death; reminders of the curse of slavery and the energy of a free people; justice to the freed man and the keeping in endless memory the men who fell; referred to the silent wing of the G. A. R. surging over the dark river to form again upon the shores of the ocean of eternity; when the last survivor shall have paid his lonely visit to the ranks of his dead comrades may their memory be kept green by the acts of their sons and successors; may the high purpose of Memorial day never be lost sight of or transformed into a thoughtless desecration of the memory of those whose lives and services were devoted to their country.

Commander Bird introduced Rev. Dr. Hodge as a friend and speaker whose humorous anecdotes had in previous years done so much to enliven the occasion of Memorial day. Beginning thus with a reputation to sustain, Dr. Hodge amused the assemblage for some minutes with witty stories and illustrations, evoking applause and laughter. He then said that as the years go by we see more and more the results of the work done by the men who made the bloody sacrifices of the Civil war. We should not have humbled so easily the proud and insolent power of Spain had not the men who wore the blue, or their sons, been able to stand side by side with the men who loved the gray. We would not be reaching out across the seas, establishing great lines of trade which are to make the twentieth century such a magnificent era in the world's life if we were not a united people. The consequences of the battles fought in the early sixties were now revealing themselves and would go on revealing themselves in the wonderful years to come. If the souls that went up through the battle smoke look out upon the happenings of the after years they must surely feel that all their sacrifice and labor have by no means been in vain.

Rev. Mr. Sleeper jocosely said that the Memorial time of 1900 was especially significant because it had so much of the "sleeper" in it; a Sleeper in the pulpit, in the cemeteries, at the dinner table and for an after-dinner toast. He alluded to the very solemn fact that 31,000 soldiers during the past year had passed from the scenes of earth into eternity.

At 2 o'clock the line was set in motion to the Beaver street cemetery, Marshal Corson having as aids Charles O. Greene of Norfolk and Daniel Norris of Boston, a colored man well known in this vicinity. Led by the band the line moved up Main street to the cemetery, joined by this time by a large number of carriages and persons on foot. At the cemetery Chaplain Fales read the prayer and Comrade Jackson read Lincoln's address at Gettysburg, the children of St. Mary's church sang, the graves were decorated, each veteran being accompanied upon the rounds by one of the school children. The salute to the dead was the closing feature.

The march was again taken up to the Union street cemetery, being joined here by the children from the public schools, who sang under the direction of Principal Frazer. The graves were decorated and the beautiful service by the ladies of the Corps for the unknown dead was then performed. Two lads from the Norfolk school recited a war poem with effectiveness and were greeted with applause. They had done the same thing at Norfolk and City Mills and received merited applause. Commander Bird read the Gettysburg address and Senior Vice Commander Jackson made the prayer. Rev. Dr. Sneath then delivered a brief address, the substance being as follows:

You have again fulfilled the beautiful custom of strewing flowers upon the graves of your departed comrades. And it is a beautiful custom—one which shall continue to be observed through the coming years. The children taught in the schools the great facts of the Civil and the results thereof will ever appreciate the efforts of the men in blue and show their gratitude by the continuance of this simple memorial service. There is a race which as yet has not had the opportunity to show its heartfelt gratitude. The colored man will in time be able to let it be known how much he values the work of the Northern soldier. I often wish he might be privileged to do so today, before all the men of the Grand Army have gone. If on one Memorial day all the preachers and orators could be colored men it would prove a most helpful movement to the colored man and a satisfaction to the soldier. I also believe that in the new century organizations will with new interest carry forward the work that is being done today by the G. A. R. Just as various societies are at the present time honoring in special ways the heroes of the Revolution, so will new organizations, the Sons of Veterans and the Relief corps, do the same for the men of the Civil war. Finally, God above will never forget the men who went forth to battle, saved a nation from disruption, redeemed an enslaved race and gave to this nation a new impetus to become the peer of the nations of the world and a blessing to other nations in need.

One interesting feature of the parade was the presence of two veterans of the Spanish war, the two brothers Schaefer from City Mills, Valentine of the navy and Jacob of the army, interesting letters from both of whom we have been privileged to publish. One carried Capt. Sommers' naval flag and the other bore the Sons of Veterans' flag, whose guests they were.

Richardson's Market.

Less meat and more vegetables this weather is the best; have some choice spring vegetables such as new peas, ripe tomatoes, choice beets, juicy rhubarb, the succulent string beans, etc. Fresh killed poultry, home killed veal, selected cuts of beef, prime pieces of corned beef, the best butter in town, strawberries, full baskets and finely flavored fruit. We will leave you a box daily if you desire during the season.

Don't Bother

with a hot stove this coming warm sultry weather, but call in and see our new Enterprise kerosene wick oil stove, quicker than wood, hotter than coal and cheaper than either; absolutely odorless, simple, easy to keep clean, has blue flame instantly, no delay, perfectly harmless, all the desirable features, two and three burners from $9.50 to $14. Call and see it at Hosie Bros.

Fine hair cutting, smooth shaving, razors honed and put in order. Ochee the barber.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

Electric Road Attractions.

The theatre at Hoag lake is rapidly nearing completion. The floor is all laid and soon the pleasures of this beautiful spot, which is being improved greatly by the street railway company, will be ready to be enjoyed. The building being erected will cost about $5,000 and there will be a building for refreshments. Cars will run from Woonsocket to the lake every 15 minutes this summer, and to allow for the new service a side track will be built at Rand's crossing. This turnout will be 400 feet long and give a good chance for fast service over the lines.

The cars began running on the half-hour schedule on the Franklin-Woonsocket route yesterday and will leave 15 minutes of and after the hour. The roadbed has been rebuilt in order that the speed might be increased and is now up to steam railroad standard. On all the curves the outside track has been elevated and braces put on, so that it is almost impossible for the rails to spread. There was need of this improvement, not only on account of the faster time, but also because of the weight of the big bloomer cars, having a capacity of nearly twice as many passengers as the smaller ones.

A Valuable Periodical.

The Y. P. C. U. Post Office Mission of the Universalist church have lately subscribed for the "Conklin Tracts," a weekly publication of sermons, essays and addresses, in exposition of the Universalist faith and practice, which is issued by Rev. Charles Conklin of Springfield. These leaflets are all written by men and women of exceptional ability and will be found most interesting and helpful.

Rev. W. C. Crowe, D. D., of New York City, who recently gave a remarkably fine lecture on "Shakespeare, at Dean academy, has written two of the series, "Universalist Idea of God" and "Universalist Idea of the Bible." Rev. W. C. Selleck has one on "The Truth About the Holy Spirit." Rev. I. M. Atwood, D. D., one on "Why the Universalist Church?" and Rev. Almon Gunnison, D. D., president of St. Lawrence university, one on "The God We Make and Worship." Other important ones in the series are "Thoughts on Immortality," Rev. Lee McCollister; "The Opportunity of the Universalist Church," Rev. Asa Saxe, D. D.; "Why a Mother Should be a Universalist," Rev. Abbie Danforth; "A Man With a Will of His Own," Rev. C. W. Biddle, D. D.; "God's Goodness, Man's Salvation," Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

The sermon recently given in Boston by Rev. Lyman Abbott, D. D, "Why I am Not a Universalist," and the reply to it by Prof. Tousey of Tufts college have been published together in book form, also a sermon by Rev. D. M. Hodge, D. D., on "Shall Men Resist God Forever?"

Any person wishing any of these leaflets or sample numbers of the "Universalist Leader," the church paper, can have them free of charge by applying in person or by letter to the P. O. Mission Committee, Miss May Fales, (chairman) Miss Mary Farnum, Mrs. H. B. Haslam, Mrs. Addie Morey, George F. Grant.

Emerson's Market.

Get your selected strawberries here. New peas and asparagus, string beans, spinach, dandelions, radishes, lettuce, rhubarb, cucumbers, Bermuda onions; fresh killed fowls, lamb, veal, pork, and our lobsters are boiled fresh every Saturday morning and received here at 4 30 p.m.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Up stairs tenement to let on Central street. Inquire of A. M. Haggart. 6tf

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

Orders for Allen's wood yard taken here can be transmitted by telephone at once.

Two pleasant rooms to let at 16 Cottage street. Apply there or at SENTINEL office. 29

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18-tf

Good assortment of carpets and couches at Sanford Bros., Medway. "A word to the wise is sufficient. 15,18

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Boarders Wanted.—A man and wife or two gentlemen; a nice front room. Apply to A. S. Wales, Dale street. 1,8,15*

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

For Sale Cheap.—A quantity of good English hay and a lot of oat straw; also a generous supply of hard-wood ashes. Mrs. Harriet N. Gowen, 20 Pleasant street. 22,25,29,1*

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J.B.McKINNON, Agent.

Views of Residences.

Now, before the trees leaf fully, is the best time to arrange for photos of your home, either exterior or interior. Call and see samples and let me quote prices. Business hours during the summer, 8 to 12 a. m., 1.15 to 5 p. m., 7 to 8 Saturday evenings.

CALKIN, Photographer,
Depot St.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in.	1	1 [illegible]	1 [illegible]	1 75	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
2 in.	1 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	2 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
3 in.	2 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	4 00	6 [illegible]	8 00	14 00	[illegible]
4 in.	[illegible]	4 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	11 00	[illegible]
5 in.	4 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
6 in.	4 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
½ col.	7 00	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	18 00	[illegible]	40 00	[illegible]
1 col.	[illegible]	[illegible]	18	21 00	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	100 [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] such as society, [illegible]

FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1900.

A Choice of Evils.

The regular monthly temperance meeting was held on Sunday evening in the Congregational church. A large audience was present and Revs. Hodge, Sawyer, Cook and Sneath occupied the pulpit and took part in the services. Rev. Mr. Sneath spoke upon the theme, "The South Carolina Dispensary System or No License." Mr Sneath said: There is a tendency in certain quarters in Massachusetts to introduce the South Carolina method of dealing with the liquor problem. Last one year ago the temperance cause, organ of the Massachusetts Total Abstinence Society intimated that it might be "the scheme on which the temperance forces of Massachusetts could unite". More recently the committee on temperance of the general association of Congregational churches of Massachusetts in its annual report, while not commending the dispensary system, nevertheless suggest that some such modified measures as this is needed in communities where a no license vote is impossible. Under state regulation in South Carolina there are about one hundred dispensaries and no saloons. It requires a majority vote or signed petition in any community to have a dispensary. The place must be fitted up in plain style and is open only from sunrise to sunset, but not open on Sunday, holidays and election days. The agent of the dispensary is appointed by the state, given a salary, must be of temperate habits, must sell only pure liquors, put up in packages and sealed by the state chemist. No liquors are to be drank on the premises, no less than one half pint and not more than five gallons are to be sold at one time to one customer. All liquors must be purchased by means of an application blank and none are to be sold to minors, intoxicated persons, habitual drunkards and to persons to a family who have made complaint. The books are open to the public. The [illegible] are divided by the [illegible] among the [illegible] for the [illegible]. [illegible] It is [illegible] claimed that [illegible] use of stronger [illegible] increase of [illegible]. [illegible] here are now only one hundred dispensaries, and before the system was [illegible]. Theoretically the system appears a most admirable one, but the following objections show the superiority of the no-license system: First, its alliance with politics and the use of a moral movement to strengthen a political machine. It has a state board of commissioners, there are agents to be appointed, places to be rented, liquors to be sold, etc. This alliance with politics has been the most damaging factor in the administration of the plan. Second, the tendency to increase the number of dispensaries each year for revenue, to lower taxes and to provide places for political appointees. Third, incapable and dishonest agents and officials, leading to impure liquors, illegal sales and dishonest returns. Fourth, many of the good features are not enforced because there is not community sentiment to demand it. Fifth, the "blind tigers" or places of illicit sales are not conquered any more than under other systems. Sixth, the ethical question arises whether an open place for the sale of liquors, the proceeds of which are to be appropriated to the support of the public schools, will prove a temperance education for the rising generation in the direction of moderation, if not total abstinence. It is to be feared that it will not. Seventh, it is a contest with the liquor problem like the no-license measure, but with only a partial result. There is no outlook for prohibition: it has a quasi-sanction of the good people and its tendency is in the direction of a state monopoly of the liquor business to be controlled by the political party in power. Franklin certainly is not willing to surrender the system it possesses today, with all its imperfections, for a new method, only seven years on trial, and which has attached to it so many evils and uncertainties.

HEADACHE

Pain back of your eyes? Heavy pressure in your head? And are you sometimes faint and dizzy? Is your tongue coated? Bad taste in your mouth? And does your food distress you? Are you nervous and irritable? Do you often have the blues? And are you troubled about sleeping?

Then your liver is all wrong.

But there is a cure. 'Tis the old reliable

Ayer's Pills

They act directly on the liver. They cure constipation, biliousness, sick headache, nausea, and dyspepsia. Take a laxative dose each night. For 60 years years they have been the Standard Family Pills.

Price 25 cents. All Druggists.

"I have taken Ayer's Pills regularly for six months. They have cured me of a severe headache, and I am now walk from two to four miles without getting tired or out of breath, something I have not been able to do for many years."

S. E. WALWORKS,
July 13, 1899 Salem, Mass.

Write the Doctor.

If you have any complaint whatever and desire the best medical advice you can possibly receive write the doctor freely. You will receive a prompt reply without cost. Address,
DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

Alden Club Meeting.

Continued from First Page.

most attractive form and can be purchased of Miss King, Miss Blake at the National bank or Miss Lovering at Nye's dry goods store.

Mrs Whitaker reported the work of the Mothers' section, inviting all mothers in the club to join them another year.

Term limit of office was discussed at some length, and it was voted to elect three directors for a term of two years and to elect three auditors each year for a term of one. The offices of secretary and treasurer, president and vice-presidents are to have no term limit. The balloting resulted in the election of Mrs. Margaret L. Ray, president; Mrs. Mary A. Wiggin and Miss Lydia P. Ray, vice-presidents; Mrs. Ella Sneath, recording secretary; Miss Bertha Hood, corresponding secretary; Miss Frances King, treasurer; Mrs. Marion Nye, Mrs. Ella Sneath, Mrs. Annabelle Woodward auditors, and Mrs. Mabel P. Doe, Mrs. Mabel Mason and Miss Laura Blake directors for two years.

The hospitality committee had arranged a most attractive and pretty table in one corner of the hall and served dainty refreshments during the social hour.

Two Americans.

Mr. Hardhead (crazy [illegible])—Ah ha! Caught you at last, have I? I understand, sir, that you have been calling me a liar and a thief, and a [illegible] scoundrel, a wife-beater and a bigamist and a drunkard.

Mr. Greathead—Really you surprise me. I have no recollection of—

Mr. Hardhead (hotly)—I know it's true. Mr. Goodheart said he heard you.

Mr. Greathead—Goodheart? I remember now what you refer to. But that my friend, was during the election campaign.

Mr. Hardhead—Oh! The campaign! Beg pardon. What'll you take?—N. Y. Weekly.

A Frightful Blunder.

Will often cause a horrible Burn, Scald Cut or Bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures Old Sores, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, all skin Eruptions. Best Pile cure on earth. On 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. Druggists.

To Mothers in This Town.

Children who are delicate, feverish and cross will get immediate relief from Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children. They cleanse the stomach, act on the liver, making a sickly child strong and healthy. A certain cure for worms. Sold by all druggists, 25c; sample free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Use Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy, cures corns, bunions, swollen, hot, sweating feet. At all druggists and shoe stores, 25c.; sample free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

pleases all the family. Four flavors Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Look! There are younger faces
That pass in the ranks today
In step with the veteran soldiers
Who [illegible] the gray.
[illegible]
[illegible]
The jacket [illegible] canvas
A[illegible]

Brave [illegible] fathers,
That [illegible]
The [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
In [illegible] as An[illegible]

[illegible] Weekly.

THE GRAVE ON THE HILLSIDE.

"Only for that it would be perfect," sighed little Mrs. Leonard as her eyes wandered over the lovely scene outspread before her and then returned again and again to rest on one obnoxious spot.

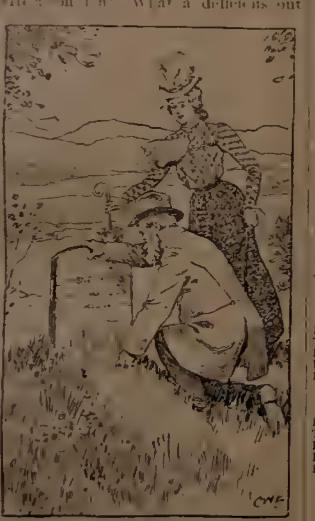
"Look in another direction," suggested her husband. He was a grave, middle aged professor of chemistry, generally much amused by the whims and vagaries of the pretty young wife he had lately taken to himself, but this jarred upon him. It seemed to imply a small weakness of nature, a lack of delicate, womanly sympathy.

Cynthia pouted. "I can't," she said. "It's my favorite bit of all, the view across the valley under those two great trees to the hills beyond. I wanted to go over and sit there every day with my books and the guitar. We could put up a hammock. The sunsets would be enchanting from that point, and on moonlight nights—oh Robert!"

She slipped her hand into his arm caressingly. Leonard smiled down at her. After all, she was nothing but a spoiled child, a butterfly whose joyous existence had been passed in the sunshiny gardens of life. Why should he expect her to divine instinctively, as he did, that some sad story must be connected with the lonely grave on the hillside, in which she saw only a reminder of unpleasant things to spoil her enjoyment of the summer? He had been strongly impressed by the hint of a tragedy, and when he was negotiating with the agents for the purchase of the deserted farm he tried to find out something of the history of the family to whom it had once belonged. But their dealings with the owner had been confined strictly to business, and they could throw no light upon the past. The professor meant to pursue his inquiries when the proper time should come and they should have made the acquaintance of some of their neighbors.

Meantime an army of workmen had transformed the old red farmhouse into a luxurious country home, and Mrs. Leonard, arriving the day before to take possession, was charmed and delighted at the taste and thoughtfulness her husband had displayed. Only, whether she paced the wide veranda on the front of the house or sat at the window in her own dainty morning room up stairs or hovered over the boxes of flowers on the balcony, her eyes were drawn as if by a spell to the grassy knoll a few rods distant, topped by the tall twin elms. Below it the land fell away to a rich, fertile valley and then far off in the distant west swelled upward again to dim, purple [illegible]. No other point in the large estate [illegible] just such a ravishing prospect as that framed by the [illegible] of the old elms, and [illegible] feeling of disagreeable [illegible] a silent occupant [illegible] was presently [illegible] resentment.

What a capital place it would be to [illegible] her [illegible] house parties for afternoon tea! What a delicious out of door parlor could be made there! But, no; the presence of the green mound with the weather stained slab of marble at its head put all plans of that sort out of the question. The more she reflected upon it the greater grew her annoyance and she could think or speak of little else to her husband's bewilderment and chagrin.



THE PROFESSOR DROPPED ON HIS KNEES BEFORE THE HEADSTONE.

When he had smiled at her so indulgently after her wistful "Oh, Robert!" an idea darted into her mind, at which she took new heart.

"Surely something can be done about it!" she murmured, appealing to him.

"Well, what, my dear? To be sure we can have the house turned to face another way."

"That would be dodging the [illegible] [illegible] and we [illegible]

CONTINUED ON FIRST PAGE.

The Woman's Page.

"Why don't you have a woman's page in your paper?" asked the visitor from "town."

"We have," said the editor of the Jazeville Gazette. "I always use the [illegible] page for the births, deaths, marriages and divorce suits."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Draw.

Tommie—Hello, Jimmie, what kep' you?

Jimmie—Me an' the ol' man had an arg'ment. He wanted me to haul some wood into the back yard.

Tommie—How did it end?

Jimmie—In a draw—I drawed it in. —N. Y. Truth.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

Southern senators are almost proverbially long lived, and attention is called to the fact that Senator Vest of Missouri is 70 years old, Senator Cockrell of the same state 66, Senator Morgan of Alabama 76, Senator Bacon of Georgia 61, Senator Bate nearly 75 aad Senator Pettus of Alabama 79.

$225 New Upright PIANOS.

Of course these are not Ivers & Pond, but they represent the best possible value for $225, and appeal strongly to economical buyers. Our low terms make it easy to pay for one. $10 down and $6 per month. We will exchange them at any time at a liberal valuation for our beautiful new Ivers & Pond Uprights. It will pay you to write us if you cannot call.

Ivers & Pond Piano Co.,
114 & 116 Boylston St., Boston.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

SAVINGS BANK,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, CHAS. J. McKENZIE, Vice-Presidents
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, Chas J. McKenzie, E. P. Chapman, Charles Stewart, George W. Wiggin.

STATEMENT APRIL 30, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors	$559,910 72
Guarantee Fund	27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account	6,218 89
Interest Account	6,686 13
Real Estate Income Account	184 13
Tax account	82 25
		$600,835 31

ASSETS.

Real Estate by Foreclosure	$20,761 00
Town and City Bonds	7,071 25
Bank Stock	28,189 32
Railroad Bonds	156,362 50
Loaned on Bank Stock	6,350 00
" " Mortgages	166,360 00
" " Personal Securities	144,766 86
" " Railroad Stock	11,000 00
Bank Books	1,500 00
Town Notes	5,000 00
Expense Account	724 03
Bank Furniture	600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank $34,373 14
Nat. Bank of Redemption 14,451 53
Mercantile Trust Co. 1,926 54	50,751 21
Cash on hand	1,497 14
		$600,835 31

LIES vs. FACTS

Some men wishes to buy a pig in a bag. [illegible] one places confidence in the advertisements of Scale makers which

SOUND

[illegible] nothing for nothing [illegible] [illegible] and who [illegible] indefinitely as to leave a percentage for the imagination, investigate carefully.

BIG

Some people are fascinated, etc., to them we [illegible] Actions

SPEAK

[illegible] and [illegible] a cent's [illegible] article made of good material

FOR

a fair price is it better that the facts [illegible] the case should be looked into by fair-minded men for before buying any kind of a Scale?

THEMSELVES

Full information regarding patterns, patents, costs, etc., in one book, sent free by

JONES OF BINGHAMTON,
Binghamton, N. Y.

[illegible]

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA

In stomach troubles, has a "magic touch," promptly relieves distress and all other dyspeptic symptoms. It makes rich, pure blood, gives strong, steady nerves.

CREATES AN APPETITE, AIDS DIGESTION.

Have a Boiled Dinner

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Smoked Bacon, strip	10c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Spinach, peck	25c
Flank	6c	Dandelion	30c
Smoked Shoulders	8c	Lettuce, each	8c
Radishes, bunch	5c

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-1y8

SEND NO MONEY WITH YOUR ORDER, cut this ad. out and send to us, and we will send you OUR HIGH GRADE DROP CABINET BURDICK SEWING MACHINE by freight, C. O. D. subject to examination. You can examine it at your nearest freight depot and if found perfectly satisfactory, exactly as represented, equal to machines others sell as high as $60.00, and THE GREATEST BARGAIN YOU EVER HEARD OF, pay your freight agent our Special Offer Price $15.50 and freight charges. Machine weighs 120 pounds and the freight will average 75 cents for each 500 miles. GIVE IT THREE MONTHS TRIAL in your own home, and we will return your $15.50 any day you are not satisfied. We sell different makes and grades of Sewing Machines at $8.50, $10.00, $11.00, $12.00 and up, all fully described in our Free Sewing Machine Catalogue, but $15.50 for this DROP DESK CABINET BURDICK is the greatest value ever offered by any house.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS by unknown concerns who copy our advertisements, offering unknown machines under various names, with various inducements. Write some friend in Chicago and learn who are reliable and who are not.

THE BURDICK has every MODERN IMPROVEMENT, EVERY GOOD POINT OF EVERY HIGH GRADE MACHINE MADE, WITH THE DEFECTS OF NONE. Made by the best makers in America, from the best material money can buy.

SOLID QUARTER SAWED OAK DROP DESK CABINET, piano polished. One illustration shows machine closed (head dropping from sight) to be used as a center table, stand or desk, the other open with full length table and head in place for sewing. 4 fancy drawers, latest 1899 skeleton frame, carved, paneled, embossed and decorated cabinet finish, finest nickel drawer pulls, rests on four casters, adjustable treadle, genuine Smyth iron stand. Finest large High Arm head, positive four motion feed, self threading vibrating shuttle, automatic bobbin winder, adjustable bearings, patent tension liberator, improved loose wheel, adjustable pressure foot, improved shuttle carrier, patent needle bar, patent dress guard, head is handsomely decorated and ornamented and beautifully nickel trimmed. GUARANTEED the lightest running, most durable and nearest noiseless machine made. Every known attachment is furnished and our Free Instruction Book tells just how anyone can run it and do either plain or any kind of fancy work. A 20-Years' Binding Guarantee is sent with every machine.

IT COSTS YOU NOTHING to see and examine this machine, compare it with those your storekeeper sells at $40.00 to $60.00, and then if convinced that you are saving $25.00 to $40.00, pay your freight agent the $15.50. WE TO RETURN YOUR $15.50 if at any time within three months you say you are not satisfied. ORDER TO-DAY. DON'T DELAY. (Sears, Roebuck & Co. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

$15.50

This shows the machine closed to be used as a center table, stand or desk.

This illustration shows the machine open, ready for use.

Address, SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. (Inc.) Chicago, Ill.

PATENTS GUARANTEED

Our fee returned if we fail. Any one sending sketch and description of any invention will promptly receive our opinion free concerning the patentability of same. "How to Obtain a Patent" sent upon request. Patents secured through us advertised for sale at our expense.

Patent taken out through us receive special notice, without charge, in THE PATENT RECORD, an illustrated and widely circulated journal, consulted by Manufacturers and Investors.

Send for sample copy FREE. Address,

VICTOR J. EVANS & CO.,
(Patent Attorneys,)
Evans Building, - WASHINGTON, D. C.

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPH

Better than a Piano, Organ, or Music Box, for it sings and talks as well as plays, and don't cost as much. It reproduces the music of any instrument—band or orchestra—tells stories and sings—the old familiar hymns as well as the popular songs—it is always ready. See that Mr. Edison's signature is on every machine. Catalogues of all dealers, or NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 135 Fifth Ave., New York.

mh1-eow

ONLY $5.00

SEND US $5.00 as a guarantee of good faith and we will send you any fire proof safe by freight, C. O. D., subject to examination. You can examine it at your freight depot and if you find it the equal of any fire proof combination lock iron and steel safe made and about one-third the price charged by others for the same size and grade, pay your freight agent our special factory price and freight charges, less the $5.00 sent with order; otherwise return it at our expense and we will return your $5.00. 100-lb. combination lock safes for the home, $6.95; 300-lb. office and store safes, $11.95; 500 lbs., $17.95; 700 lbs., $21.95; 1000 lbs., $28.50; 1250 lbs., $33.50; very large double outside and double inside door safes for large business, factory, jewelry or bank, 50 inches high, 2400 lbs., $63.75; 63 inches high, 3000 lbs., $89.75. Freight averages 25 cents per 100 lbs. for 500 miles; for 1000 miles, 40 cents. WRITE FOR FREE SAFE CATALOGUE and special liberal C. O. D. offer.

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. Chicago.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	-	10c
5 to 15 miles,	- -	15c
15 to 25 "	- -	20c
25 to 35 "	- -	25c
35 to 45 "	- -	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

J. A. GEB.

House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE,
McCARTHY STREET.

22-1y

OUR $1.50 ANTI FAT BELT

For $1.50 we furnish the celebrated BROWN'S ABDOMINAL BELT for the cure of CORPULENCY. Corpulent people who wear the Brown's Abdominal Belt run no risk of Naval Rupture or Umbilical Hernia; you get a comfort and ease of action you will appreciate. No corpulent person can afford to be without this belt. Cut this Ad. out and send to us with $1.50 and 10 cents extra for postage, state height, weight, age and number inches around the body, largest part, and we will send the belt to you by mail postpaid, with the understanding that if it is not perfectly satisfactory and equal to belts that retail at $3.00 and upwards you can return it at our expense. Write for free Belt and Truss Catalogue.

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO., CHICAGO

News and Opinions
OF National Importance.

THE SUN
ALONE
CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

[illegible] New York.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co. Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

m25-4w

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

11-4wmy

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE GRAVE ON THE HILLSIDE.

[CONTINUED FROM SECOND PAGE.]

off. Why can't you have the grave removed? I have read of such things being done, and there was a pretty little cemetery we passed on the way from the station. I have no doubt the rest of his people are buried in it."

Lennard looked wonderingly at the sweet, fair face upturned to him and listened more wonderingly still to the hard matter of factness of her voice. Were all women such mysteries? The intricacies of organic chemistry were as nothing to the complex structure of one feminine mind as it had already been revealed in his brief matrimonial experience.

"Suppose we walk over to the knoll," was all the answer he vouchsafed. "Remember, you have not seen it except from a distance, and perhaps the morbid sensitiveness you feel about it may disappear when you find what a peaceful, pleasant spot it is."

"No, no!" cried Cynthia, shrinking back. But he caught her and swept her after him, half laughing, half serious, down the steps and across the sunlit sward.

Peaceful and pleasant it certainly was in the cool shadows of the great trees, where the liquid note of a woodthrush drifting downward through the boughs was the only sound that broke the stillness. The professor dropped on his knees before the headstone, parting the grasses that had grown up and hidden the name cut upon it.

ABNER PETTIS,
Died May 10, 1862.
Aged 29,

he read, then added quietly as if to himself, "A soldier, maybe."

"Wait. There's something more," said Cynthia, who was poking the toe of her little shoe deep down among the clover blooms.

Lennard pushed aside the thick tufts of green and, standing out in larger letters, saw the one significant word of an epitaph:

"COWARD!"

The hot blood rushed stinging to his cheeks as he released the merciful leaves and blossoms that sprang back into place, shutting out the dead man's shame.

"What does that mean?" asked Cynthia in a hushed tone, awed not so much by the inscription as by her husband's emotion. He moved away from the grave a step or two and, seating himself in the long grass, drew her down to his side.

"It means that we can't be blind to the sorrows and sadness of other lives, little one. They rise up and confront us wherever we go. Very likely we shall never know anything more about Abner Pettis than we know now, but this glimpse of his history is enough to convince me there must have been a reason why they laid him in this lovely spot. And I am sure it was by his own desire. Dear, you can't grudge it to him."

"I don't know," returned Mrs. Lennard slowly. "It seems to me a coward is a pretty poor specimen of humanity. And to have it on his tombstone too!"

> "The evil that men do lives after them;
> The good is oft interred with their bones," quoted the professor. "We are ignorant of the circumstances. Perhaps in his place you and I would have been cowards too."

"You?" She broke into soft, incredulous laughter. His manliness and courage had appealed to her above everything else. They were the very foundations of her love for him. "You run from an enemy?"

"Sometimes the coward stays and fights, the brave man walks away," answered Lennard, fixing a long gaze on the misty hills.

"But not in battle, Robert!" she protested. "That is only in a moral scrap."

"The moral scraps are the mighty battles of the world, sweetheart, and they are being fought all about us every day, unseen, unheard. Their victims fall by thousands. Even those who come out of them bear scars they carry to their graves."

He spoke very earnestly, and Cynthia, wondering in her turn, went on with energy:

"Well, Abner Pettis may have been that sort of a coward. I don't believe it, though. He was a soldier in the army, mark my words, did something to be ashamed of, and his family would not have him put in the lot with those whose name he had disgraced. Let us ask some one in the village about it, Robert. If I am right, then you surely cannot object to having this removed."

The professor drew a deep breath and buried his face in a handful of the fragrant clover that he had been pulling absentmindedly while he talked. Then he shook his head, and round his mouth crept the determined expression that she had cause to know so well. When she saw that, she realized that she had run up against an iron will, rigid, inflexible, not to be bent by love or broken by time.

"No," he said. "I have made up my mind that we will not ask any one in the village. Let the dead past bury its dead. Many a man is honored by his fellows as a hero who is a coward at heart, and there may be some cowards who would wear the proudest laurels and sit on the thrones if the true story of their lives was known."

"So there's no credit in facing a cannon's mouth?" said Cynthia sarcastically.

"Credit, yes. It takes a brave spirit to march into the jaws of death, into the mouth of hell, but that's only for one mad, excited day, when one may be swept along by a torrent and have no chance to choose deliberately what he shall or shall not do. Can't you see, Cynthia, what a finer, nobler kind of courage it is that turns away day after day from fierce temptations, not even yielding to the satisfaction of fighting them, sure as one may be of coming off conqueror in the end?"

She scrambled to her feet.

"Are you going to be quixotic, Robert?" she asked, brushing back her ruffled curls and looking particularly young and girlish as she stood before him. "You can't forbid me to ask questions, and when I learn the romance of Abner Pettis, aged 29, which is sure to be quite commonplace, you'll have to hear it. Hark! Is that music?"

The sounds of fife and drum were blown distinctly to their ears from the winding road, of which they could catch glimpses here and there through the trees below.

"Oh, yes!" she pursued. "It is Memorial day. The procession must be going to the cemetery. It sounds as if it were very near."

She ran to the brow of the knoll and peeped again.

"Robert, they are turning down our lane! What does it mean?"

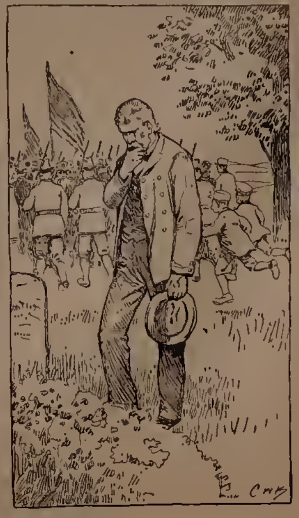
She looked over her shoulder at him, all excitement, her lovely face flushed, her golden hair flying in the breeze.

Lennard rose up and saw that she was not mistaken. Louder and louder grew the music. The stars and stripes gleamed among the boughs, advancing steadily toward them, and presently out into full view across the meadows straggled a small, scattering company of soldiers attended by swarms of children and idlers.

"They are coming here!" cried Cynthia, astonished. Then a sudden illumination burst upon her.

"Robert, it is Abner Pettis! But—if he was a coward why do they decorate his grave?"

The professor made no reply, but drew her back where they were screened from observation by the huge mossy trunks of the elms, and the bustle and stir of the miniature procession ascended the slope, pausing with a shrill flourish of bugles about the solitary grave. A hollow square was formed. The officers stepped forward and dropper garland after garland of white and purple lilacs over the long green mound. One older than the rest in a shabby uniform took from a lad in the ranks a basket of lilies of the valley, which he placed carefully in front of the headstone, lingering for a moment before it, lost in thought, while Cynthia's sharp eyes fancied they saw meaning glances exchanged among the bystanders. Then the tattered flag was raised high in the air and waved above the grave. The music broke out again, piercing and waking the echoes with "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," and the ceremony was over.



ONE PERSON OUT OF ALL THE CROWD REMAINED BEHIND.

The little company marched off in the same irregular order in which it had come, treading down the long grass and stumbling comically over the rocks and stones that were scattered through the pastures below. One person out of all the crowd remained behind, so absorbed and preoccupied that he did not notice the professor and his wife stepping out of their hiding place behind the trees. This was a gray haired man, soldierly and upright in bearing, handsome still, who stood bending his uncovered head before the discolored marble. His lips moved silently. His back was toward them. They saw the stalwart shoulders shaken with grief, and as the noise of the passing procession was dying away in the distance he threw up his arms in a splendid gesture of despair.

"Greater love," he muttered brokenly, "hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friend! Abner, can you hear me? Have you ever heard me?"

Taking out of his pocket a huge clasp knife, he knelt down and cut away, stroke upon stroke, the thick growing green things from the base of the stone. Pitilessly clear in the light of day that cruel brand was revealed,

"COWARD!"

"Why should it be hidden?" they heard him say to himself. "It is a crown of glory."

Then, with one last, long look at the smiling landscape outspread before him, he turned and strode away like the rest.

The Lennards were left alone upon the hilltop. The air was faint with the spicy smell of lilacs, and far off in the distance the afternoon shadows lay lengthening over the land.—Boston Herald.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

OF COD-LIVER OIL WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES

should always be kept in the house for the following reasons:

FIRST—Because, if any member of the family has a hard cold, it will cure it.

SECOND—Because, if the children are delicate and sickly, it will make them strong and well.

THIRD—Because, if the father or mother is losing flesh and becoming thin and emaciated, it will build them up and give them flesh and strength.

FOURTH—Because it is the standard remedy in all throat and lung affections.

No household should be without it. It can be taken in summer as well as in winter.

50c. and $1.00, all druggists.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, New York.

Unappreciated.

"I did my best to be entertaining," said the young man in a voice of sorrow.

"Did you succeed?"

"I'm afraid not. I recited Hamlet's soliloquy. She looked at me reproachfully for several seconds, and then exclaimed, 'I don't think that's very funny.'"—Washington Star.

No Soot
on Your Pans

Cleanliness is one virtue of the Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove that good housekeepers appreciate. Perfect safety is another. Convenience and cool cooking are others.

If you're figuring on saving money on fuel this summer, figure on getting a

Wickless
Blue Flame
Oil Stove

It burns the cheapest fuel you can buy—the same oil you burn in your lamps. No odor. If your dealer does not have them, write to

STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

Where Heroes Sleep.

They died for country. 'Neath the somber sod
They lie in [illegible], heroes all.
Where the soft winds murmur and the grasses nod
They died for country at their country's call.
Deck with flowers their sacred mound
In solemn gratitude on hallowed ground
Ye stand where brave men sleep, a saddened throng.
Your tearful tribute and your solemn song
Shall prove the fervor of a nation's woe,
The glory of the sacrifice they made.
And as your chant arises, soft and low,
Upon the grave God's gentle sunlight plays
As if in blessing on the resting place
Of those who perished in the darksome days.
—Edward S. Van Zile.

Where?

Though the ear be full of kernels,
Where among the mighty mob
Is a man who doesn't want a Few more grains upon the cob?
—Brooklyn Life.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on Albert C. Mason & Co., druggist, and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

False Economy.

"Went home Thursday night and found my wife ill. Symptoms alarming. Dosed her best I could. Friday morning she was no better. Felt worried. Wife dull and stupid. No life in her. Started for doctor. Struck by happy thought. Turned back. Cure complete."

"What was it?"

"Simple as pie. Just said, 'Too bad you have to be sick on bargain day, my dear.' She bounced up. 'What!' she cried. 'How stupid of me to forget!' In five minutes she was up and dressed and frizzing her hair."

"Wouldn't it have been cheaper to have fetched the doctor?"

"By Jove, I guess it would!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

True Democracy.

Pip—After all, do you suppose when a man's elected he's really the choice of the people?

Nip—Why, yes, I fancy so—if he's spent enough money.—Brooklyn Life.

"He that seeks finds." He that takes Hood's Sarsaparilla finds in its use pure, rich blood and [illegible] good health.

The Worm Turns.

Mrs. Henry Peck—Always remember that I am your better half.

Henry Peck (sadly)—And you are one of those people who doesn't care how the other half lives.—N. Y. Truth.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
TRADE MARK.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.
mar17-1yF

Did Not Belong There.

While Willie was sleeping his mother had curled his hair for the first time. As soon as he became awake she lifted him up before the looking glass.

"Oh, mamma!" exclaimed the little fellow quickly, "let me get down and shake off the shavings."—Judge.

Does Coffee Agree With You?

If not, drink Grain-O—made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain-O I did not like it, but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." The children can drink it freely with great benefit. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 15c and 25c.

A Compliment on Ice.

Mrs. Gadd—You do not show your age at all.

Mrs. Gabb (delighted)—Don't I?

Mrs. Gadd—No. I see that you've scratched it out of your family Bible.—N. Y. World.

You May Need
Pain-Killer
For ACCIDENTS
Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Wounds, &c., &c.
It gives instant relief and cures quickly.
In case of sudden illness
Cramps
Diarrhœa
Dysentery
and
All Bowel Complaints
It is a sure, safe and quick remedy.
There's ONLY ONE
Pain-Killer
Perry Davis'.
Two sizes, 25c and 50c.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)
ALL DRUGGISTS.
sa10-1y

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. Fisher, President. Vice-Presidents—A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

Oct. 22, 1899.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 36, 4 32, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 15 a m, 5 15, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 49, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 58, f5 21, 6 19, f7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m. S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f1 01, 5 25, 6 14, f7 28, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; 1 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 35, 6 50 p m. S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Trains leave Unionville for

MILFORD—9 25 a m, 1 18, 4 37, 5 42, 6 57, S 6 44 p m
FRANKLIN—6 49, 8 41, 11 28 a m; 4 03, 6 19 p m. S 8 15 a m

GEO L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays, f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday, * runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
AND . . .
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON,
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS,
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

TAKE ADVANTAGE
Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

THAT "TIRED FEELING"

and dull headache that comes with spring and early summer is caused by impure blood clogging the circulation and rendering the liver torpid and the vital functions inactive. Our Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla will purify the blood, strengthen the nerves and revitalize the whole system, make your complexion clear, your eye bright and your step elastic, if used now.

LARGE BOTTLES, 50c.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.
DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Memorial exercises by the Wrentham schools were held Tuesday afternoon in the Town hall. Brief remarks were made by Rev. W. J. Minchin, Commander Johnson and Comrades Morse and Smith. Comrade Morse also presented the schools with several fine volumes on the late war. Prof. Reed of Pawtucket conducted the music.——Memorial day was celebrated very quietly, a detachment from Geo. H. Maintien post, No 133, decorated the graves of comrades in town. The services were held in Plainville, among the exercises being an oration by Rev. E. J. Hale.——H. B. Fisher of Kalamazoo, Mich., left here Thursday for Providence on his homeward journey.——The ashes of the late Dr. C. M. Newell, the remains having been previously cremated at Mt. Auburn, were brought here for interment Tuesday afternoon. For many years he resided in the Sandwich Islands as the guest of Benjamin Pitman, the prime minister of the islands. He was a member of the Hawaiian club, a Royal Arch Mason and was decorated by Kalakaua, king of Hawaii. He was a writer of many books for children.

"Opportunity is the Cream of Time."

Now is your opportunity. There is no time when the system is so much in need of a good medicine, like Hood's Sarsaparilla, and no time when it is so susceptible to the benefits to be derived from such a medicine. By purifying, enriching and vitalizing the blood and tuning up the system Hood's Sarsaparilla starts you right for a whole year of health.

Constipation is cured by Hood's Pills.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

---

Terrible to Contemplate.

Mabel—Tom says he'll marry me or die.

Sadie—Gracious! What an alternative! Town Topics.

Easy to Take
Easy to Operate

Because purely vegetable—yet thorough, prompt, healthful, satisfactory—

Hood's Pills

Church Services.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 3. Sunday school at 2. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D. D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "The Spiritual Quality of Modern Religion, a Whit Sunday Sermon." No afternoon service. Y. P. C. U. at 6.

Baptist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. F. B. Sleeper, pastor; theme, "An Expository Chapter of Divine Love." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Evening service at 7.30; theme, "An Age of Shams."

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. I. W. Sneath, Ph. D.; theme, "Christ the Light of the World." Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30. Evening service at 7.30; theme, "A Man Better than a Sheep."

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 by S. A. Cook, pastor; subject "The Office of the Holy Spirit in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper." Sunday school at 12. Junior league at 3.00. Epworth league at 6.30. Evening service at 7.30; subject, "What Manner of Love!"

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., Druggists.

None of His Affair.

The Mormon smiled placidly as he leaned against the front gate and listened to the noise of conflict which floated out of the house.

"Aren't you frightened?" asked a neighbor.

"No. My four wives are settling it among themselves as to which of them is really bossing me. I never interfere when this dispute occurs. I simply take a vacation and enjoy myself."—

THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND,

with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain.

Our Store is Light and Cool,

the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

Dainty Things for Graduation

Sheer and pretty Victoria Lawn, India Linen, Plain and Dotted Swiss Muslin and Organdie from 10c. to 37 1-2c. yard.

French Lawn we can especially recommend for its firm, yet sheer and dainty quality—50 inches wide, 60c., 70c., 90c. yard.

Beautiful Ribbons and Laces. Valenciennes Lace in all qualities and widths, with insertion to match. Allover Lace, Tucking and Embroidery from 50c. to $3.50 yard.

Marston Sanborn,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.
BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

The Eminent Kidney and Bladder Specialist.

The Discoverer of Swamp-Root at Work in His Laboratory.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Then the richness of the blood—the albumen—leaks out and the sufferer has Bright's Disease, the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root the new discovery is the true specific for kidney, bladder and urinary troubles. It has cured thousands of apparently hopeless cases, after all other efforts have failed. At druggists in fifty-cent and dollar sizes. A sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling about Swamp-Root and its wonderful cures. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. and mention this paper.

O A M

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending May 30, 1900:

Ladies—Miss F. Rollins.

Gentlemen—John Carey, J. Cavanagh, Holliston Yarn Mills, Dr. O. L. Judge, George H. Kinsman, William H. Mann, E. N. Pierce, R. J. Reed, Gaetaui Brugnadi Pasquale.

YOU WILL FIND AT

CROWNINSHIELD'S STORE

Glass, Tin, Granite, Copper, Crockery and Wooden Ware, Croquet Sets, Carts, Brooms, Brushes, Oil Stoves, Chimneys, Window Screens, Baskets, Tea, Coffee and Baking Powder, 5c. and 10c. Goods—a fine line.

No. 2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4mS

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary
Summer St., Franklin, Mass.
ap27S

The Alphabet Advertiser

A for apricots, both dried and canned,
B for biscuits of all the best brands,
C for crackers and clams for chowder,
D for doughnuts and Dalmation powder,
E for extracts of Baker's best make,
F for fish that will make fine fish cakes,
G for groceries kept neat and in shape,
H for honey to eat on wheat cakes,
I for Indian corn meal and ink,
J for fruit juice for a summer drink,
K for Kennedy, whose goods we stand by,
L for lemons that make a nice pie,
M for mince meat, molasses and mace,
N for Nestle's, whose milk suits the taste,
O for onions, a sure cure for the croup
P for potatoes to eat in your soup,
Q for Quaker, those rolled oats so nice,
R for raisins for puddings and rice,
S for sugar, sand soap and saleratus,
T for tubs, tapioca and tomatoes,
U for undoubtedly the cheapest in town,
V for vinegar as sour as can be found,
W for with hazel that makes one strong,
X for Xebec, a vessel it was used on,
Y for yeast that will raise bread best,
Z for zeal in which we stand the test.

C. L. FALES, Grocer.
not:-F

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Henry Bemis, late of Franklin, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to HENRY F. RUGGLES, Executor.

Address Franklin, Mass.
May 31st, 1900. je1,8,15

Just the Thing...

If you need something to give you an appetite, make you strong and drive away that tired feeling, try

FRANKLIN MALT.

17c. per bottle. $1.75 per dozen.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist.
PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Kid Glove News...

Special line of NEW SHADES just received.

$1.00 and $1.25.

Butterick's Patterns and Publications.

N. C. NYE,
FLETCHER BLOCK.

THINGS THAT ARE NOW IN DEMAND.

WITH FOLLOWING LOW PRICES:

Window Screens, each	19
Screen Doors, all sizes, 6.6 to 7 ft., complete	$1.45
2-Burner Oil Stoves, each	95
4-Burner Oil Stoves, each	1.90
2-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each	1.48
3-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each	1.73
4-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each	1.98
Watering Cans, 6 quarts, each	30
3 Oil Stove Wicks for	5

SPECIAL--5 gallons Oil for 55c.

Fresh Berries, Dandelions and Spinach received daily.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Bresnahan Grocery Co.
fe9-4m

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF

SEEDS! SEEDS!

All the 5c. packages of GARDEN SEEDS we sell for 3c., two 5c., or 25c. per dozen. These Seeds are new this year, direct from the CLEVELAND SEED CO.

All kinds of FLOWER SEEDS, 5c. and 10c. per package.

All other kinds of Garden Seeds at the lowest prices—HOLTON, MAINE, EARLY ROSE, HEBRONS, NEW QUEENS.

Before buying your Seeds come and see what we can do for you.

McKinnon's Grocery Store,
CENTRAL SQUARE.

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,
Jewelers and Opticians
160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.

del-Fty

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test. ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 50
Single Gallon.................................... 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.

t:-tfT

At WOODWARD'S
every description of
INSURANCE
can be placed. This AGENCY
officially represents the
LEADING
American and Foreign
COMPANIES.

F. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.
my4-tyF

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.
PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Erasmus A. Pond, late of Rutland, Vermont, having estate in said county, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Metcalf E. Pond of Franklin or to some other suitable person.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the twentieth day of June, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this 22d day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
my25,je1,8

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
BOARD OF RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS,
BOSTON, May 22, 1900.

On the petition of the Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket Street Railway company for authority to cross the tracks of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company at the same level therewith on Maple street, in the town of Bellingham, the Board will give a hearing to the parties in interest at their office, No. 20 Beacon street, Boston, on Monday, the eleventh day of June next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.

And the petitioner is required to give notice of said hearing by publication hereof two times prior to said date in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper printed in the town of Franklin, to serve a copy hereof on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company and to make return of service at time of hearing.

Per order of the Board.

WM. A. CRAFTS, Clerk.

A true copy.
Attest: JEROME B. FITZPATRICK,
Deputy Sheriff.
my25,je1

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board.

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

REGULATIONS
... OF THE ...
Board of Health,
1900.

Extracts from Public Statutes, Chapter 80.

"The Board of Health of a town shall make such regulations as it judges necessary for the public health and safety. Whoever violates any such regulations shall forfeit the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS."

The Board of Health of Franklin, as authorized by the statutes, has made and published, as is provided for in the statutes, the following regulations:

1. Physicians having under their care cases of small-pox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, phthisis or typhoid fever are requested to promptly report the same to the Board of Health, as required by law, on blanks furnished them.

2. When any householder knows that a person within his family or living in his house is ill of small-pox, diphtheria, scarlet fever, typhoid fever or any other disease dangerous to the public health he shall immediately give notice thereof to the Board of Health.

3. All diseases dangerous to the public health will be promptly quarantined by this Board and red flags will be displayed for public protection. Whoever violates the quarantine established by this Board, either by going out of the house or apartment quarantined, or permitting any person other than the nurse or physician to enter the same; and any person other than the nurse or physician going into the said house or departments in violation of said quarantine WILL BE PROMPTLY PROSECUTED according to law. And whoever meddles with any flag put up by the Board of Health or its agent, to remove, deface, cover, or handle the same in any way whatsoever will be dealt with according to law. This Board will permit no trifling with any of its rules of quarantine or any measures taken by it, against infection, under any circumstances, BY ANY PERSON WHATSOEVER.

4. No quarantine established by the Board of Health will be removed till the person or persons so quarantined have been personally examined by a member of this Board or its authorized agent, and found to be no longer in condition to convey the disease, nor until the premises have been disinfected by an agent of the Board and according to its directions. Sulphur fumigations will not be regarded a sufficient disinfection.

5. Any person recovered from a disease dangerous to the public health who is a pupil in any school, public or private, shall not be permitted to return to such school, nor received into such school, without a certificate from the Board of Health or some member thereof. Nor shall any person be received into nor employed in any mill, factory, shop, store or place of business unless he has complied with the requirements of the Board of Health in regard to contagious diseases.

6. Whenever a nuisance or cause of sickness shall be found on private property within the town any member of the Board shall order the owner or occupant thereof to remove the same, at his own expense, within the time specified in the notice served upon him. When legal notice has been served on the owner or occupant of any premises, if any owner or occupant neglects to abate or remove the nuisance complained of within the time specified in said notice the Board of Health will cause the nuisance to be abated at the expense of the party or parties responsible for the same.

7. The owners or keepers of swine and milch cows are notified that no product from these animals can be used or sold unless such animals are fed on wholesome food and are in a perfectly healthy condition. In case of neglect or violation of this rule all such products will be condemned. All milch cows from which milk is sold in this town are subject to inspection by the Board of Health, and when found in a healthful condition a certificate to that effect, good for sixty days, will be furnished to the owner by this Board.

8. All owners and drivers of horses having any disease known as the horse distemper and glanders are notified not to allow said horses to drink from any public watering trough or fountain in town.

9. All persons are notified not to cart the contents of privy vaults or cesspools through the streets between 6 o'clock a. m. and 9 o'clock p. m. from May 1 to Nov. 1; and all such filth must be conveyed so as to prevent any portion being dropped along the street.

10. No person shall use the public street or any sewer or drain, made for the sole purpose of conveying water from said streets, as a deposit for filth, slops or offal of any kind.

11. The Board requests all persons to promptly notify them of the existence of any contagious or infectious diseases among domestic animals, such as glanders, pleuro-pneumonia, hog cholera, etc. On such notice the Board will cause such animals to be securely isolated and held till released by order of the cattle commissioners.

12. Nuisances or unusual causes of sickness must be reported to the Board of Health by complaints in writing, clearly stating the nature and causes of the same so far as known.

13. The law requires the vaccination of all children as a condition of admission to the public schools. The School Committee, as well as the Board of Health, is required to enforce this statute. Children are also required by law to be vaccinated before reaching the age of two years.

14. House owners are required to provide that all escape pipes from sinks and closets shall be properly trapped and that waste water from such shall not be permitted to empty on the ground. Filth so accumulating and decomposing is a potent cause of diphtheria and other diseases. Covered drains and cesspools must immediately be provided for such waste.

15. No person shall throw into or leave in or upon any street, court, lane, public square or enclosure, or any vacant or occupied lot owned by the town or the public, or into any pond, creek or stream of water within the limits of the town any dead animal or vegetable matter, or waste water, rubbish or filth of any kind. All yards, passageways, inclosures and cellars shall be kept in as cleanly a condition as the Board shall direct.

16. All persons riding or being upon any street car within the limits of this town are directed not to spit upon the floors or platforms of such cars; and proprietors of street railways wholly or in part within the limits of this town are directed to post a notice in each end of each car to the effect that spitting in or upon said cars is prohibited by the Board of Health.

GREGORY A. MARTIN,
DWIGHT M. HODGE,
MARSTON SANBORN,
Board of Health.

Franklin, Mass., May 1, 1900. my18-3tF

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 45. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
A. C. Dana & Son	4
Lake Pearl	4
Citation	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 "
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 A. M.
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.05 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.30 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.
MATTHEW F. CONROY, P. M.
Franklin, Mass., June 17, 1898.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Joseph Watkins, killed in the Foxboro fire, was born here.

J. G. Ray Engine company, No. 3, will meet tomorrow evening.

Griffin court, M. C. O. F., will hold a regular meeting tomorrow evening.

A special meeting will be held by the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., this evening.

A large job of concreting is being done at the Whiting and Thayer residences.

Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Fletcher have returned from New York for the summer season.

Henry Byrnes is regaining strength and altogether his condition is much improved.

Charles H. Prince of the SENTINEL spent Sunday at his parents' home in Danielson, Conn.

All of the churches are preparing for special exercises next Sabbath in honor of Children's day.

One of Pond & Tingley's lumber men, while handling logs Friday, had one hand badly injured.

Everett Messenger is assisting as clerk in the grocery store formerly occupied by J. B. McKinnon.

The Framingham High school team will be opponents of Dean on the campus tomorrow afternoon.

The new piazza at the Congregational parsonage is nearly finished, O. B. Blake doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Richardson are entertaining her sister, Mrs. Charles Whiting, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn and son of Hyde Park were guests of Mrs. Daniel Lamont of Arlington street on Sunday.

Rev. I. W. Sneath is planning to enjoy a season at Northfield, at the Moody school, this summer in the way of a vacation,

A number from here were among the 20,000 spectators that witnessed "Buffalo Bill's Wild West show" at Providence yesterday.

The juniors will give a reception to the seniors in the High school hall on Friday evening, invitations having already been issued.

Rev. F. B. Sleeper's Memorial sermon given before Post No. 60, May 27th, is printed in full in Monday evening's Woonsocket Reporter.

Thomas Heywood, who has been visiting his son, Robert Heywood, of the Worcester Textile Co., left last week for his home in Rochdale, Eng.

The Sunday schools are already talking of picnics and this year the matter of transportation will settle itself with our improved electric facilities to Lake Pearl.

Michael Cullen went into service as conductor on the Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket electric line last Saturday. He is now undergoing the "breaking in" process.

Bobby Sherman umpired the North Attleboro-All Collegiate game in Attleboro on Wednesday, the former winning by a score of 14 to 3. Slade did some great work.

It is quite likely that a number of new Sunday trains will go on shortly between here and Providence for the benefit of those who desire a day "down the Providence river."

The household furniture of the late Henry Bemis will be sold at auction next Monday, at 1 o'clock p. m. There are some rare bargains.

The Providence river season has now opened and will doubtless attract Franklinites about every day. Steam cars, trolleys and bicycles will be impressed into the service.

Grocer McKinnon is preparing to close his grocery store by disposing of the goods at private sale at reduced prices and at auction, his hotel now requiring all his time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Thayer left this morning for Cornwall-on-Hudson to attend commencement exercises at the New York military academy, where their son Robert is a cadet.

The question of a base ball association is not being agitated of late, although those who are in the scheme say the idea of the proposed association has by no means been abandoned.

Fidelity lodge, A. O. U. W., has extended an invitation to Ames lodge of Woonsocket, together with the degree team, to be present at its next meeting on Thursday evening, June 14.

The Franklin Odd Fellows have been invited to participate in a big I. O. F. parade in Providence on Thursday. The invitation will not be accepted as a body, though some of the members may attend.

Miss Sadie Murphy has resigned her position as clerk in the postoffice. Miss Murphy has occupied the position for three years and was a smart, capable young lady, and well liked by all the townspeople.

Last week a lady 65 years of age walked all the way from Sheldonville to Franklin, making the trip in two hours. She stood the trip remarkably well and could give her younger sisters some points on pedestrianism.

Druggist Dana has just put in a counter fan, which is driven by a Backus water motor, and which will serve to keep the air in motion at the soda fountain and repel the flies. It is an up-to-date improvement.

A bright mind has evolved an "auction party" to which everyone must bring something of value, the goods being sold at auction ~~at the close to the~~ highest bidder. It is proving very attractive and interesting.

Hector McCulloch, who is in the teaming business on Chestnut street, was thrown from his team on Main street Saturday morning and injured about the head. He was able to drive to his home without assistance.

When the bloomer cars turn into Main street from Emmons the rear end swings over a few inches onto the sidewalk, so that people standing there when these cars go by should take care not to get their feet pinched or clothing torn.

Miss Julia James, a former well known resident here, was united in marriage to Joseph Huut of Providence today, the ceremony taking place at New London, Conn., where Miss James' parents reside. The couple will live in Providence.

Mrs. Barney McMahon last week broke a leg in Oxford. Mrs. McMahon has been visiting friends at Howarths, and Wednesday evening in getting over a wall she jumped to the ground and broke both bones of her right ankle.

Mrs. E. K. Ray and Mrs. Charles Whiting left on Saturday for Milwaukee as delegates from the Alden club to the biennial meeting of confederated women's clubs, which promises to be the most interesting in the history of the confederation.

No special business was attended to at the selectmen's meeting Friday evening. J. M. Whiting appeared and asked for the location of the street at the corner of Central and East streets. A number of forest fire ward bills were approved and other regular bills.

The absence of cross arms is delaying the completion of the Wrentham branch into Plainville, and as soon as these arrive the wiring will be finished and the line opened, which will give direct communication with the Attleboros, Pawtucket and Providence.

Improvements continue at the Union street cemetery and the grounds are assuming a uniform appearance, indicating care and attention. The location of the grounds for this purpose was unfortunate at the beginning, but the forefathers did not dream of the growth which was to come.

The Hayward and Trowbridge nines played a lively and interesting game of ball at Indian Rock park Saturday afternoon, the contest finally ending in favor of Trowbridge, 15 to 14 The batteries were Smith and McKenzie for Trowbridge and Chilson and Dion for Hayward.

Mrs. Ellen Carson died at her home on Howard street Sunday afternoon at 12.30, aged about 68 years. She leaves a married daughter and one son. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. G. W. Miner officiating. The remains were taken to Blackstone for interment.

Postmaster Conroy has been notified that money orders payable in Paris may be issued at same rates as if drawn on postoffices in this country, as the government has decided to establish a regular U. S. post office on the Paris exposition grounds, exactly as if the premises were on U. S. territory.

The Providence line between New York and Providence is now running. Passengers from Franklin leaving at 4.25 will be due at Union station, Providence, at 5 09. Electric cars leave station for wharf at 6.10, 7.10 and 7.30 p. m. Steamer leaves wharf, Providence, 8.10 p. m., week days only.

Rosalie Rebekah lodge of West Medway has invited Norma lodge of Milford and will invite Lady Franklin lodge of Franklin and the district deputy, Mrs. Annie L. Stanley of Milford, to be its guests Monday evening, June 11, when nine candidates will be initiated.

The selectmen of Middleboro have granted two telephone companies franchises. The old company never had a franchise, but did business without it. They will force the companies to use the same poles, which promises a lot of fun. The people expect free telephones, with a souvenir for putting them in.

Franklin employers of labor should note that there is a growing sentiment among employers of labor to refuse employment to workmen addicted to intoxicating drinks, which leads the Westboro Chronotype to pointedly and truthfully say "this is better than all the laws ever made against the liquor traffic."

There was a lively row in the Italian colony on Ray street Sunday morning, in which an outsider was roughly handled for an alleged attempt to cheat one of the residents out of some money. The victim was under the influence of liquor, as were also some of those who took a hand in beating him. No arrests were made.

Pedigree is a great thing these days, and searching the records for the births, deaths or marriages, is an occupation that comes often under the observation of every town clerk. There is not much money in it for most of those who engage in it, but there seems to be a great fascination and the emolument is probably gained that way.

Supt. Young of the street railway company has signed a contract with the Cornet band of Woonsocket to play at the Hoag pond summer resort during the season, commencing June 19, when, it is expected, the new theatre will be completed, the hobby horse ready to prance around the ring, and other attractions will be in full swing.

H. A. Worthley & Co. have leased the Indian Rock trotting park for the season and will inaugurate a series of races, bicycle and horse, together with base ball. Arrangements have not been entirely perfected as yet, but the opening affair will take place upon Saturday, June 16, in anticipation of "Bunker Hill day." Particulars later.

A case of non-attendance at school, which has attracted considerable attention among the school authorities, has been referred to the state board of education for consideration, and further steps are awaiting the advice of that board. If the compulsory school law amounts to anything probably a test of its efficiency will be made.

The following children of the Nason street primary school have not been absent or tardy during May: Clarence Arnold, Burley Clarke, Byron Coleman, Raymond Dean, Percy Fairfield, George Geb, Raymond Schuster, Ray Tyler, Edward Westland, George Hutchinson, Maud Blackmar, Marion Bowers, Gladys Baldwin, Annie McCabe, Gladys Guigon.

The American Woolen company, of which the Ray mill is a part, has filed the following certificate of condition with the commissioner of corporation at Boston: Assets, real estate and machinery, $39,807,901; cash on hand, $11,398,500; stock in process, $10,394,784; total, $61,601,185; liabilities, capital stock, $49,292,600; debts, $12,303,586; total, $61,601,186.

A new train will probably be put on next week between Boston and New York, stopping at Franklin, and making the terminals in six hours. It will leave each end at 8 o'clock and make but few stops, probably going through here westward about 8.30 in the morning and eastward about 1.30 in the afternoon. Franklin is fortunate in having this made one of the stopping places.

In some towns the removal of ashes from cellars is under the control of the board of health, and works to the satisfaction of the board as well as the citizens. The boards finds no trouble in disposing of the ashes, as many citizens in different sections of the towns have low lands they wish to be covered. The boards intend that the teams shall visit every house in town that can be reached.

The treat of the season is coming on Tuesday evening, June 19. The noted lecturer, George K. Morris, S. T. D., of Boston, is to give, at the Methodist church, his famous lecture on "That Mysterious Man." Dr. Morris is an orator of the first order. You cannot afford to miss hearing him. The proceeds of the lecture are to go towards liquidating the Methodist church debt. which is now being raised.

The prospects are that there will be a large number of Franklinites at Lake Pearl and Archers this season, and cottages are in active demand. Land that could have been bought a few years ago at "any old price," cannot now be purchased at any price, the owners preferring to lease or erect cottages to rent. With the trolley line in operation there is a fine future for those attractive bits of water in the way of summer outings and fresh air.

Housekeepers will regret to learn that within the last ten days the wholesale price of refined sugar has advanced forty-five cents a hundred pounds. The advance was made by the sugar trusts and also by the independent refiners, and this is taken as proof that the long and bitter war between the rivals in this industry is at an end. At the price now prevailing for refined grades of sugar the refiners make a profit of thirty-four cents a hundred pounds.

Charles H. Kemp, baggage master on Conductor H. C. Moulton's train, was the victim of a painful accident at Franklin Saturday morning. He was uncoupling cars in the yard about 9 o'clock when one of them backed up unexpectedly and squeezed him on the chest. He made light of the injury at first and worked on the return trip to Milford, but fainted before he arrived there and had to be taken to his home. Examination showed that a rib was cracked. He is laying off.

During the past few months there have been several occasions when street boundary lines have been in question, and almost without exception it has been found rather difficult to find exact layouts of highways established fifty or more years ago. County as well as town layouts have the same uncertainty about them, and it has shown the importance of enduring marks at all angles as well as a clear record of lines. In recent years this matter has been more carefully attended to and such trouble is avoided.

The record of the organization of the Universalist society in town is dated 28 years ago and the list of subscribers has 45 names. The number now remaining in town shows the changes of little more than a quarter of a century in a striking degree. Eight or nine have removed from town: 24 have finished their earthly work and passed on, leaving only a dozen of the original members in active local life. As some of those do not take any active part in parish affairs, and perhaps all can be reckoned in that class, it can be seen that the work is practically entirely in new hands.

Dean and her opponents, the Thayer academy nine, gave an exhibition of crack ball playing on Saturday afternoon, furnishing, perhaps, the best game of the season. Up to the eighth inning it was nip and tuck, the visitors leading a trifle in batting and Dean showing superior work in fielding; in fact, star work. In the eighth, however, with the score two to two, and with a man at first, Smith fumbled a ball and threw wild to first, allowing a run to be scored, and a hit following scored the second run, making it four to two in favor of Thayer. Aside from that fatal inning it was a game worth paying an admission to see.

Twenty Franklinites who were in Woonsocket Saturday night were greatly disappointed when they found that the car which has heretofore left there on Saturday nights for Franklin at 10.45 had been taken off. The party, not knowing of any change in the time table, had counted on taking the 10.45 car, and when they discovered the last car to Franklin for the night had departed means were at once taken to have one run here for their accommodation. Supt. Young was communicated with through the telephone and result was that a special car left Woonsocket with the belated Franklin men a little after 12 and arrived here shortly before 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

With the opening of the new lines of the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket Street railway, the duties of Herbert M. Young, who is superintendent of both that line and the Woonsocket Street railway, and whose duties at the present time are numerous and arduous, will be much increased. Mr. Young has done his work with faithfulness ever since he was put in charge of the street railway, and in appreciation of this faithfulness, the owners of the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket Street railway have made him superintendent of that line. Mr. Young will have charge of the whole electric car system around Woonsocket, which will be nearly fifty miles in length by midsummer.

Messrs. Newell and White will soon be around to interview you. In order to prepare our readers for their coming we would say they are expected to ask you these questions: Location: Such as street, house, number. Name: Such as surname, given name and middle initial, if any, of every person living on June 1. Relationship of every person to the head of the family. Personal description: Such as color or race, sex, date of birth, age at last birthday; whether single, married, widowed or divorced; number of years married, mother of how many children, number of these children living. Nativity, that is, place of birth of each person enumerated; place of birth of his father, place of birth of his mother. Citizenship: Such as year of immigration to the United States, number of years in the United States, naturalization, months not employed. Occupation, trade or profession of each person ten years of age or over. Education: Such as how long attended school, (in months) can read, can write, can speak English. Ownership of home: Whether owned or rented, owned free or mortgaged, farm or house.

Almost Here.

The Franklin-Medway street railway is being pushed as rapidly as possible, and it is now expected that a car will run over from Medway as far as the brick schoolhouse on Saturday. The only delay now is the girder rails for Main street. The track is already laid about up to Deacon Baker's, and the link at the ledge opposite Nathan Daniels' was put in today, the road having been straightened. The blasting has materially delayed the track laying, although the steam drill has been of especial value in expediting the work. The explosions were all made with dynamite, set off by electricity. The wire men will follow immediately behind the pole men and can easily string a mile of wire a day. The road is being finished up in a thorough manner as fast as it is laid, so there ought to be but little delay when the track is all down. Unless further delayed by lack of rails the road ought to be open in less than two weeks.

Thirty-Fourth Annual Commencement.

The following is the program for commencement at Dean academy:

Sunday, June 10—7.30 p. m., sermon before graduating class, Grace church, Rev. Chas. Conklin, Springfield.

Tuesday, June 12—8 p. m., concert, Academy chapel.

Thursday, June 14—10 a m., exercises of graduating class, Academy chapel. 1 p. m., annual dinner of Alumni and friends of the school. After-dinner speeches may be expected from the following: Hon. Samuel L. Powers, Newton; Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, Melrose; E. I. Comins, Worcester; Rev. S. H. Roblin, D D, Boston; Charles E. Hatfield, '82, Boston; Miss Clara A. Carpenter, '86, Valley Falls; Rev. Clarence L. Ball, '88, Webster; Prof. F. G. Wren, '90, Tufts college. 4 p. m., social reunion and business meeting of alumni, Academy parlors. 8 p. m., reception of teachers and class, gymnasium, 8 to 12.

A Distressing Outlook.

Franklin extends its deepest sympathy to its sister town of Foxboro in its losses by fire, which are of such a nature as to cripple its largest industry and seriously affect the town. The fire of Monday morning, which destroyed the town hall and also the high school building, resulting in a loss of life as well as injury, illustrates the saying that misfortunes never come singly. The fact that one of our chief industries is also the straw business aids us in appreciating the condition in which Foxboro is placed, and it is not too much to say that we shall be only too pleased to do all to assist our neighbor in any way that may lie within our power. Foxboro citizens have indeed a serious problem before them, both to grapple with the future and to discover, if possible, the fiends who are responsible for this conflagration and consequent loss of life.

Change to Sunday.

Sporting matters were numerous Wednesday which calls to mind the question of whether it would not be for the best of all concerned to have the sacred ceremonies of memorial day changed to the last Sunday in May, or to some other Sunday. While there is no fault found at the attendance, yet the counter attractions are becoming so strong and numerous that in time the brave deeds performed in '61 and '65 are liable to be easily forgotten by the rising generation, who in a few years will be the only ones left to do honor to the occasion. Not a few of the Grand Army men are in favor of a change, and so far as the public is concerned it is thought it would be a move in the right direction.—Uxbridge Compendium.

To Alden Club Members.

As only one-half the club were present at our last meeting when the magazines were ready for distribution it is hoped every member will show her loyalty and interest by purchasing at least one copy. The magazine is entirely original, it makes a pleasant souvenir "to have and to hold," and a pretty one to send to our friends in other clubs. Besides, it is our duty as club members to stand by each other and support our club. Let no member fail to obtain her copy. Every member thereby shows her club interest. They are to be found with Miss King, Miss Blake and Miss Lovering.

M. L. RAY, Pres.

Heard From Again.

Representative Burrington had the pleasure of making one of the closing speeches upon a bill last week which vitally interested Franklin. It was one of the many labor bills and limited the working hours to eight. This, in case of a rush in the straw goods line, would certainly insure loss upon our manufacturers, as it is often the case that a "rush" order has to be done at night. The bill was killed, as it deserved to be, and our representative's speech had not a little to do with the final vote in the matter.

Franklin will "take no back seat" with any town in the state in the matter of the honesty and intelligence of its representative, Prof. Burrington, and in this connection the following from Brother Cook, of the Milford Journal, has a distinct application. Our representative is one in whom the district, and the state as well, may take an honest pride:

"Let the people in every legislative district send none but men tried and true to the legislature—men whom the lobby cannot and will not approach—and the lobby will cease to exist for the simple reason that it will starve to death. The lobby exists because the people send to the statehouse men who can be 'approached' and 'influenced.' It is not the fault of the lobby that they are so 'approached' and 'influenced.' It is the fault of the people that men of this class are made legislators by their consent and by their votes. It is supreme idiocy to assert that good men cannot be sent, because it is being done in numerous legislative districts all over the state."

That's true; Franklin did it.

Mass. State Federation of Woman's Clubs.

Mrs. Addie E. Winsor, Mrs. Marion Nye and Mrs. James Ray as delegates, and many others of the Alden club will attend the Mass. State Federation meeting in the Union Congregational church South Weymouth, Friday, June 15, beginning at 9.45 a. m. The whole day will be devoted to the business of the federation. This will include an account of the year's work as given in the reports of the secretary, treasurer and the several standing committees, the delegate to the C. C. C., and the address of the president.

Club members are requested to bring their federation song books, or these may be purchased at the door.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To Let—House and barn on Winter street. Emily F. Aldrich. 5,8*

Up stairs tenement to let on Central street. Inquire of A. M. Haggart. 6tf

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

Orders for Allen's wood yard taken here can be transmitted by telephone at once.

Two pleasant rooms to let at 16 Cottage street. Apply there or at SENTINEL office. 29

To Rent.—5 room tenement, Central square. Inquire E. B. Sherman, Emmons street. 5tf

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

To Let—A small tenement, six rooms, corner of King and Union streets. Apply to A. F. Everett. 5,12*

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18-tf

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

For Sale or to Let—Cottage of eight rooms and barn on Peck street; pleasant view of the town; fruit, and well of good water. Inquire of Peck & Field. 5,8,12

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Lost.—A lady's small red enameled chataline watch and pin, between Mrs. Stetson's on Maple street and No. 37 Cottage street. Finder will receive reward by leaving same at F. W. Guild's jewelry store. Mrs F. W. Guild. 5*

Views of Residences.

Now, before the trees leaf fully, is the best time to arrange for photos of your home, either exterior or interior. Call and see samples and let me quote prices. Business hours during the summer, 8 to 12 a. m., 1.15 to 5 p. m., 7 to 8 Saturday evenings.

CALKIN, Photographer,
Depot St.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

Fine hair cutting, smooth shaving, razors honed and put in order. Ochee the barber.

A clean fish market, complete stock of sea food, prompt and satisfactory service. Let us call. PAINE, THE FISHMAN.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year In Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1900

During the absence of the family a few nights ago a tramp entered a Wabash (Ind.) dwelling, and while prowling around the second floor fell into an open shaft and tumbled down two flights. At the base of the opening in the cellar stood a vat of sorghum molasses, into which "Weary Willie" plunged. He was not seriously hurt, though considerably dazed by the tumble, but was covered from head to foot with the saccharine material, a liberal quantity of which splashed over the walls. He crawled off to the hay mow and spent the night, and when discovered next day, decorated with the telltale sorghum, explained that he was drunk and wandered into the house by mistake. The family cleaned him up and sent him on his way.

Although not generally known, it is nevertheless a fact that Washington, the fourteenth city of the union in point of population, contains the greatest negro population of them all. There are more negroes in Washington than in any other city of the union, not excepting the great cities of St. Louis, Baltimore and New Orleans, all situated in former slave states, and, excepting New Orleans, with more than double its population. There are nearly three times as many black people in Washington as St. Louis. Washington contains more than double the number of negroes counted among New York's 3,5[illegible]0.

Father Macklin, who married Mrs. Hazen to Admiral Dewey at his rectory in Washington, some time ago wrote to Mrs. Hazen when her quarterly pew rent was due. In his note he said that her pew, No. 61, in his church was getting mouldy, and feared she might be going to some other church than his. On the wedding morning she reminded him of it, and said: "Now, Father Macklin, could you not say my pew is 'Mrs. Dewey,' instead of that very ugly word?"

Up to a late date the British government has purchased 11,200 mules in the United States, all of which have been shipped from New Orleans. In money fully $1,500,000 has been spent and there is no prospect of any let-up. Besides mules the British agents have purchased thousands and thousands of halters, mule shoes and other paraphernalia.

A Connecticut man who had injured his hand was in such a hurry to apply salve to the wound that he picked up a can of dynamite by mistake, and finding that the top would not come off readily, he hit it with a hammer. Some people go all to pieces over the smallest difficulties.

The smallest city in the world is Fenton, on beautiful little picturesque Meramec river, 15 miles to the south and west of St. Louis. It is the only incorporated city of its size in the world, and has been incorporated for more than 25 years.

In the four cities of New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Cleveland the Salvation Army provided dinners for a total of [illegible] people on Christmas day. These uniformed Christians are able to do a vast deal of good with their limited means.

During the year ending August 31, 1899, the United States furnished 64 per cent. of Britain's foreign food supply, Canada furnished ten per cent., Argentine less than eight per cent., and Russia less than four per cent.

Seventy-seven per cent. of the men enlisting in the army during the past year were native-born Americans. Five years ago America's soldiers were principally men of foreign birth, Irish and Germans predominating.

An intimate friend of the late Mr. Moody says the remark he heard the revivalist make the oftenest was: "One thing I know, and that is humanity is not disposed to be bad as a rule."

The 14th part of one cent isn't very much :-

Yet that is all the difference in price between a cup of ordinary tea and a cup of

CHASE & SANBORN'S PACKAGE TEA.

Just think! It takes one thousand four hundred cups of tea to make the difference of one dollar. It will take you almost four years, drinking one cup a day, to save a dollar.

Don't you think it is worth 1-14th part of a cent a cup to have your tea scientifically packed, under thorough hygienic conditions, in air-tight, moisture-proof packages?

Yet all this costs you nothing. It's the quality of the tea for which you pay 1-14th of a cent a cup more

This fourteenth of a cent on each cup gives you 30 per cent better tea than is ever sold for 50c a lb. If you doubt it, buy a single pound of Chase & Sanborn's Package Tea. It will make over 200 cups.

The Kohinoor — an English Breakfast.
The Orloff — an Oolong.
The Orange Pekoe — a Ceylon-India.

Money cannot buy better Teas

GLEANINGS.

In an office building in Chicago a 215 pound janitor is called "Cherub," and an elevator boy, whose weight is 105 is known as "Ox."

The timber supply of Georgia has been estimated by lumbermen of that state as sufficient to last only nine years at the present rate of sawing, 2,600,000 feet daily.

The American Mouse club is a recent addition to New York clubdom. The purpose of the organization is not to exterminate the little rodents, but to develop fine species.

"Incircumscriptibleness," meaning incapable of limitation, has been admitted into Dr. Murray's new English dictionary on the strength of its use by a covenanting Byfield of the seventeenth century.

In Brazil parents and guardians may, before consenting to the marriage of their charges, require a medical certificate from the bride or bridegroom certifying that he or she has been vaccinated.

All tourists in Egypt are expected to go inside the pyramids. The entrance is a long tunnel chute, or inclined plane, three or four feet wide, whose bottom and sides are polished stone. It is very dark, and candles are used.

CHIPS FROM CHINA.

Our trade with China increased more than two and one-half fold in seven years, and all this increase came to us without either fighting anybody or making an open door bargain with anybody —Chicago Chronicle.

The United States probably occupies a stronger position in China today than any other nation in the world, and this condition has been brought about because the United States has exhibited none of the spirit of greed that has characterized European nations.—St. Joseph Herald.

Americans have yet to learn that the Chinese are very shrewd and worldly wise, that they are a nation of traders, with successful merchants, large exporting houses, etc., and that they know how to look after their own interests as well as any people on earth.—Indianapolis Journal.

Chinese hunger for the things of western civilization is being aroused—trifles like the kodak stimulate it wonderfully—and it will soon be seen that we can hardly build ships fast enough to carry to that wondrous market the American products for which it is daily becoming more eager.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

PERT PERSONALS.

The ameer of Afghanistan does not propose to let the world rest under the impression that he only exists as a comic opera theme.—Baltimore News.

Mr. Clark of Montana may take occasion to remind Mr. Daly that one losing hand does not decide a game and that he has a number of chips left.—Washington Star.

Herbert Spencer has just celebrated his eightieth birthday. Forty years ago the doctors decided that he could not live, but Mr. Spencer very sensibly decided otherwise.—Minneapolis Journal.

Andrew Carnegie has gone to Europe for rest and recreation, after having been tied down to the Florida golf links all winter. This thing of being rich is terribly oppressive.—Chicago Times-Herald

It Naturally Follows.

"They say that married people get to look alike."

"Of course; a man's wife is bound to look like him when she wears all his collars and cravats."—Chicago Record.

HIS LIFE SAVED

By Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I am sure that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at one time saved my life," says A. E. Latalette, of Gregory Landing, Clark county, Missouri. "I was in such bad shape that the doctors said I could not live. When I was at the lowest ebb, one of my neighbors brought me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I took it and got instant relief. I soon got up and around. That was nine years ago and I am still in good health. Since then that medicine has always been in my house and always will be. It is the best on earth." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

A RACETRACK DREAM

THE RESULT FOR THE MAN WHO HAD THE VIVID VISION.

As He Was a Believer in Betting on Horses on Form, He Couldn't Figure Out Loantaka as a Winner and So Missed a Sweet 40 to 1 Shot.

"Back in 1891, when I was working at my occupation as telegraph operator for one of the big commercial companies," said a former customer of poolrooms, "I had an odd experience. I was working the Buffalo end of the New York wire and had access to all the inside information which the eastern horse owners were sending to the western plungers. That was before the advent of the tout, with his collect message sure thing, and two or three boys in the office, myself included, had made a little money by playing this information judiciously, and I at least was in a position to bet considerable money on anything that I thought was real juicy.

"Well, the spring handicaps came along. Tenny, the grand little swayback, piloted by Pike Barnes, won the Brooklyn handicap in a common canter. The Suburban, to be run a month later, looked like a gift to the little swayback—at least, I thought so—and I made up my mind to bet the bank roll on him. The night before the Suburban was to be run I had the most realistic dream I have ever had. Up to that time I had never been on any but a trotting track and had never seen a running race, but I dreamed I was on the right hand side at the finish and its plowed up course, and I was in the stand, where I saw the entire track. I heard the cry, 'Loantaka—Loantaka wins!' and saw the crowd waving their hands and throwing hats into the air. Just then a black horse all lathered with sweat passed the judges' stand in front of a bunch, and, most remarkable of all, the name 'Loantaka' was branded in letters of fire in the black coat of the horse, while the boy on his back was looking around, with a smile on his face.

"Now, before I go any further, I want you to understand that in all big handicaps such as this race I was a player of form, and form only. I was wise enough to know that a common, ordinary race might be framed up, but a big handicap worth probably $50,000 could not be framed, and they were all out for the coin. How then could I, being a form player, play the despised outsider Loantaka when Tenny figured? I went to work the next day, but every tick of the telegraph instrument seemed to say, 'Loantaka, Loantaka.' Try as I would I could not get that dream out of my mind. I had to stop work that morning because of nervousness.

"I went up to the poolroom in the afternoon, made a few bets on the first three races, and then came the Suburban. Tenny, with Isaac Murphy up, was favorite at 7 to 5. Tea Tray, who had shown great speed in the Brooklyn, but who was an ugly beast at best, was second choice at 3 to 1. Loantaka, with Marty Bergen in the saddle, was at 40 to 1. It was Tenny everywhere, and everybody with whom you talked about the race would say: 'Nothing to it. It's a walk for Tenny.' I pulled out two $50 bills and walked up to the receiver's window.

"'One hundred and forty to 10, Tenny,' sang the man who takes the money. I sent another hundred over to another poolroom across the street and got it down at 8 to 5. Just then the operator yelled:

"'Here's a flash! Tenny is now even money at the track.'

"I forgot my dream and bet another $150 at even money. Then I sat down to experience that sweet delirium which is familiar to all poolroom and track fiends. My eyes instinctively wandered over to the blackboard where the names of the horses were posted, and somehow the first name that caught my eye was Loantaka. That name seemed larger than all the rest. When I turned away, I repeated the word to myself. It had fixed itself in my mind, and I couldn't shake it. I thought I saw it written all over. I felt strange, and yet I laughed. To humor a vague fancy or inner command I pulled out a $2 bill—my last, by the way—and told a friend of mine to put it on Loantaka. I was ashamed to do it myself. He came back and handed me a ticket marked 'Loantaka, 80 to 2,' and he smiled a little. After a long delay they were off, and if I live 100 years I shall never forget the description.

"'They're off all together. Major Domo at the quarter; Cassius, second; Banquet, third. Same at the half. Domo at the three-quarters; Demuth, second; Cassius, third; Tenny is back in the bunch. Domo at the mile; Cassius, second; Fitzjames, third; Tenny is eighth. Now comes the stretch. Domo in the stretch, a head; Demuth, second, a head in front of Cassius; Loantaka is fourth, a head away on the inside and coming fast.'

"No need of singing it out to me. I read it only too plainly off the telegraph instrument. Then there was a pause. I was dazed. I heard the instrument no longer.

"'Loantaka wins!' called the operator. 'Tenny finished eighth.'

"I staggered out of the room. Alas, poor form player! And I've never had another such chance."—New York Sun.

Husband and Wife Are One.

In Guilford county, N. C., a young man who was courting a young woman was forbidden by her father to come on the premises. The girl's mother told him he was welcome, and he followed her advice. The angry father sued him for trespass. The mother signed his bond. The case was tried, and the father lost, the magistrate holding that as husband and wife are one she had a right to invite the young man.

This Month Take Hood's Sarsaparilla

And have new pure and bright blood. Then you will enjoy life.

The Best In the World.

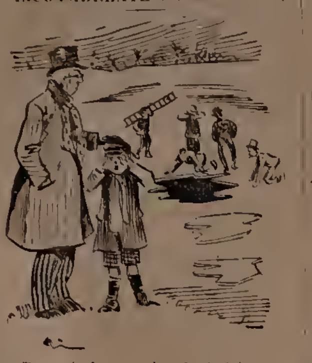
The Manager—Want to enter the six-day walking match? Have you trained?

The Applicant—Have I trained? Why, sir, I have just returned from starring in "Hamlet."—N. Y. Journal.

A Cheaper Joy.

When the shirt waist in the window
With the season's tide recurs
Maud is glad, but I am gladder,
For it takes her mind from furs.
—Chicago Daily News.

INCONSIDERATE OR CARELESS.



"Poor little man! And it's your brother that has gone through the ice, is it?"

"Yes—wif my new ska-ates on—what I've never wore! If they'd been his own he wouldn't have gone and drowned!"—Judy.

No one would ever be bothered with constipation if everyone knew how naturally and quickly Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach and bowels.

Cures croup, sore throat, pulmonary troubles—Monarch over pain of every sort. Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil.

Medical Progress.

Cohwigger—Medicine has made wonderful strides since the days of Sangrado, with his bleeding and hot water.

Merritt—That's so. The doctors have shut down on the hot water.—Town Topics.

Eastman Kodak Co.'s BROWNIE CAMERAS $1.00

Make pictures 2¼ x 2¼ inches. Load in Daylight with our six exposure film cartridges and are so simple they can be easily OPERATED BY ANY SCHOOL BOY OR GIRL.

Fitted with fine Meniscus lenses and our improved rotary shutters for snap shots or time exposures. Strongly made, covered with imitation leather, have nickeled fittings and produce the best results.

Brownie Camera, for 2¼ x 2¼ pictures,	$1.00
Transparent-Film Cartridge, 6 exposures, 2¼ x 2¼,	.15
Brownie Developing and Printing Outfit,	.75

THE BROWNIE CAMERA CLUB.

Every boy and girl under sixteen years of age should join the BROWNIE CAMERA CLUB. Fifty Kodaks, valued at over $500.00, will be given to members of the club as prizes for the best pictures made with the Brownie Cameras and every member of the club will be given a copy of our Photographic Art Brochure. No initiation fees or dues if you own a Brownie. Ask your dealer or write us for a Brownie Camera Club Constitution.

Send a dollar to your local Kodak dealer for a Brownie Camera. If there is no Kodak dealer in your town, send us a dollar and we will ship the camera prepaid.

EASTMAN KODAK CO.
Rochester, N. Y.

de19-6mT

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript

(No Sunday Edition.)

THE GREATEST PAPER IN NEW ENGLAND

FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more f[illegible] houses of ten rooms.

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

Have a Boiled Dinner

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Smoked Bacon, strip	10c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Spinach, peck	25c
Flank	6c	Dandelion	30c
Smoked Shoulders	8c	Lettuce, each	8c

Radishes, bunch....... 5c

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe13S

1817 1900

CARPETS.

Every purchaser of Carpets—whether for the smallest room or the biggest hotel—wants his mind satisfied on three points, namely:

PRICE—QUALITY—STYLE.

It is because we convince our customers as to every one of these requirements that we confidently expect YOUR patronage.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.,
658 Washington Street . . . BOSTON.
Opp. Boylston Street.

SEND US ONE DOLLAR

Cut this ad. out and send to us with $1.00, and we will send you this NEW IMPROVED PARLOR GEM ORGAN, by freight C. O. D., subject to examination. You can examine it at your nearest freight depot, and if you find it exactly as represented, the greatest value you ever saw and far better than organs advertised by others at more money, pay the freight agent OUR PRICE $35.50, less the $1.00 deposit, or $34.50 and freight charges. THE PARLOR GEM is one of the most DURABLE AND SWEETEST TONED instruments ever made. From the illustration shown, which is engraved direct from a photograph you can form some idea of its beautiful appearance. Made from solid quarter sawed oak or walnut as desired, perforated key slip, full panel body, beautiful marquetry design panels and many other handsome decorations and ornaments, making it the VERY LATEST STYLE. THE PARLOR GEM is 6 feet high, 42 inches long, 23 inches wide and weighs [illegible] pounds. Contains 5 octaves, 11 stops, as follows: Diapason, Principal, Dulciana, Melodia, Celeste, Cremona, Bass Coupler, Treble Coupler, Diapason Forte and Vox Humana; 2 Octave Couplers, 1 Tone Swell, 1 Grand Organ Swell, 4 Sets of Orchestral Toned Resonatory Pipe Quality Reeds, 1 Set of 37 Pure Sweet Melodia Reeds, 1 Set of 37 Charmingly Brilliant Celeste Reeds, 1 Set of 21 Rich Mellow Smooth Diapason Reeds, 1 Set of Pleasing Soft Melodious Principal Reeds. THE PARLOR GEM action consists of the Celebrated Newell Reeds, which are only used in the highest grade instruments; fitted with Hammond Couplers and Vox Humana, also best Dolge felts, leathers, etc., bellows of the best rubber cloth, 3-ply bellows stock and finest leather in valves. THE PARLOR GEM is furnished with a 10x14 beveled plate French mirror, nickel plated pedal frames, and every modern improvement. We furnish free a handsome organ stool and the best organ instruction book published.

GUARANTEED 25 YEARS. With every PARLOR GEM ORGAN we issue a written binding 25 year guarantee, by the terms and conditions of which if any part gives out we repair it free of charge. Try it one month and we will refund your money if you are not perfectly satisfied. 500 of these organs will be sold at $35.50. ORDER AT ONCE. DON'T DELAY.

OUR RELIABILITY IS ESTABLISHED if you have not dealt with us ask your neighbor about us, write the publisher of this paper or Metropolitan National Bank, or Corn Nat. Bank, of Chicago; or German Exchange Bank, New York; or any railroad or express company in Chicago. We have a capital of over $[illegible]00,000.00, occupy entire one of the largest business blocks in Chicago, and employ nearly 2,000 people in our own building. WE SELL ORGANS AT $22.00 and up; PIANOS, $115.00 and up; also everything in musical instruments at lowest wholesale prices. Write for free special organ, piano and musical instrument catalogue. Address, (Sears, Roebuck & Co. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. (Inc.), Fulton, Desplaines and Wayman Sts., CHICAGO, ILL.

ja1Tes9t

THE NEW YORK WORLD

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year

FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.

Telephone 1839.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

SEND 50 CENTS TO US WITH THIS AD. and we will send you this Violin Outfit by express C. O. D. subject to examination. This violin is a Genuine Stradivarius Model, made of old wood, curly maple back and sides, top of seasoned pine, specially selected for violins, edges inlaid with purfling, best quality ebony finished trimmings. THIS IS A REGULAR $6.00 VIOLIN, beautifully finished, highly polished, with splendid tone quality. Complete with a genuine Brazil wood Tourte model bow, 1 extra set of strings, a neat, well made violin case, large piece of rosin, and one of the best common sense instruction books published. YOU CAN EXAMINE IT at your express office, and if found exactly as represented and the greatest bargain you ever saw or heard of, pay the express agent $3.75 less the 50 cent deposit, or $3.25 and express charges, and the outfit is yours.

SPECIAL PREMIUM OFFER. With every order accompanied by cash in full we will give one lettered fingerboard chart, which can be adjusted to any violin without changing the instrument and will prove a valuable guide to beginners, and we will also allow the instrument to be returned after [illegible] days' trial if not found entirely satisfactory in every respect. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded in full. Address, SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. (Inc.) Chicago. (SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

no28-S

SEND 50 CENTS to us with this ad. and we will send you our celebrated La BERTA GUITAR by express, C. O. D., subject to examination. It is a Genuine La Berta American made instrument of great beauty, perfect rosewood finish, very highly polished. Handsomely inlaid around sound hole and inlaid stripe in back, celluloid bound top edge. Fingerboard accurately fretted with raised frets, inlaid pearl position dots, American made patent head, and finest nickel plated tailpiece. A REGULAR $8.00 GUITAR, powerful and sweet toned, furnished complete with an extra set of best quality steel strings and a valuable instruction book which teaches anyone how to play. EXAMINE THE GUITAR at your express office and if it is not exactly as represented and the greatest bargain you ever saw or heard of pay the express agent $3.65 less 50c, or $3.15 and express charges and the complete outfit is yours. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded in full.

SPECIAL PREMIUM OFFER. With every order accompanied by $3.65 cash in full we will give a Lettered Fingerboard Chart. It is an accurate guide, having all notes with sharps and flats in full view, and can be easily adjusted to any guitar without changing the instrument. With the use of the lettered fingerboard anyone can learn to play without the aid of a teacher. Write for free musical instrument and piano and organ catalogue. Everything at lowest wholesale prices. Address,

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO., CHICAGO
(SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

ONLY A MIRAGE.

Weary I trod the desert one day,
And fiercely the sun beat down;
The goal I sought was not far away,
But the sands were hot and brown.
It must be near, I said to my heart,
Unless I have missed the track;
Only a few more furlongs can part
From the home that welcomes me back.

Ah, what is this! I have been unwise;
Behold there stretcheth a sea
Near to the lovelit home I prized
It was not wont so to be.
Forward I rushed on my way once more,
My heart o'ercharged with despair,
Till I stood where should have been the shore,
And, lo, there was no sea there!

Oh, joy of heart, here my trouble ends!
"Only a mirage," I cried.
"Now for the sunshine of loving friends
And safety at eventide."
'Tis thus, thought I, all life's journey through,
We are held captives by fear—
Fear for the dangers our fancies view,
That vanish as we come near.
—New York Home Journal.

"THE LONG ARM."

A Case of Plagiarism.

It was 6 o'clock in the evening, and the editor of The Monthly Record sat alone in his room at a large desk strewn with papers and cuttings, gazing thoughtfully at the sheets of manuscript which he had taken from a pile before him.

"I can't understand it at all," he was thinking. "Except for the change of scene and the matter of turning a collision into a fire the two stories are practically identical. At any rate, they're rather too similar for me to pass the matter over. The extra chapter is original enough, though, and really well written, I'll admit. But what on earth possessed the fellow to send it here, out of all the offices in town where it might have gone instead? The whole thing is quite beyond me.

"I don't know quite what to say at this early stage in the proceedings," he said slowly. "But, let me see, first of all, what's the sender's name and address? Ah! 'Claude Hellingham, 14 Cadogan street, W.'"

He paused irresolutely for a second and then wrote on the sheet in front of him:

"Dear Sir—If the author of the short story, 'The Solitary Soul,' will call at this office at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, I or my representative will be glad to see him."

"There, that ought to fetch him," said the man, with a peculiar smile, as he signed the letter 'Douglas Baird, Editor.' Then, directing the envelope to the address given on the manuscript, he posted it at the corner of the street on his way home.

On the afternoon of the following Thursday Douglas Baird sat in his office again. He was obviously not quite at his ease, and from time to time he would open one of the drawers of his desk and examine the papers it contained as if to assure himself that none of them were missing. Presently he looked at his watch.

"H'm! A quarter past 3 already," he mused. "I wonder if my correspondent is going to fight shy after all."

A tap at the door interrupted his soliloquy. In answer to his somewhat surly "Come in," the visitor entered.

The editor of The Monthly Rocket slightly raised his eyebrows. Accustomed as he was to all sorts and conditions of visitors, it was not often that such a pretty girl as this invaded his office. His surliness vanished instantly. He could be charming to ladies when he chose. This was one of these occasions. Accordingly, he set a chair for the visitor and returned her timid greeting with a geniality calculated to dispel her very obvious nervousness.

It was a young but sad and troubled face that looked at him across the desk. The soft, fair hair might have adorned the sunny head of a child, but the girlish mouth had assumed a curve of unnatural determination, and the blue eyes were full of that awful fear which is to be seen only in the eyes of the refined poor.

"I have a letter from Mr. Baird, the editor—I don't know if you are he—asking me to call at 3 today," said the girl.

"I am the editor, certainly, but I can't recollect writing to Miss—Chester. In fact, I expect some one else at this hour."

"Mr. Claude Hellingham, perhaps?"

"Yes. Do you know him, then?" asked the man eagerly.

"Oh, yes, I think I may say I do, a little," she replied, smiling again. "In fact, I—I am the individual himself!"

"I don't quite understand," returned Baird wonderingly. "Is there such a person at all, then?"

"Oh, yes, very much so. I'm he, or, rather, he's my nom de guerre," she answered quietly, seeming to enjoy his evident mystification.

"You?" he replied. "You? What on earth made you take such a pseudonym?" he demanded wonderingly.

"Oh, because I thought a man's name would give my story a better chance of acceptance. But why did you write to me?" she continued anxiously. "I was so glad to get your letter! I thought you had accepted the tale. You are going to publish it, aren't you?" she added, all her smiles vanishing.

"No," said Baird, looking at her steadily. "I don't think I shall."

The girl's eyes filled at the answer, and, as he saw the bitter disappointment in her face, the editor began to feel quite remorseful. It was a deuced awkward business, he told himself.

"I am sorry, Miss Chester," he said, pulling himself together with an effort, "that you should have thought my letter meant acceptance of your contribution. Before we go any further, however, let me ask you one question. Did you send in that story, 'The Solitary Soul,' as original matter?"

A pause ensued. The ticking of a clock on the mantelpiece alone broke the silence of the room. The editor watched the woman keenly. A sudden spasm passed over her face and a hunted look came into her eyes. Then for the first time the man noticed her pallor and the poverty of her attire; she had clasped her hands together, as if to make an appeal, and he saw that even her gloves were carefully mended.

"If you would rather not answer," he said gently and in a very different tone from that which he had intended to adopt toward "Mr. Hellingham," "you need not do so. Only, I think you must acknowledge that it is impossible for me to publish the story in my magazine."

"Will you tell me w—why?" she asked, trying to control her voice. "I will own that I shouldn't have offered it to you without an explanation, perhaps. But I—I"—

For answer he took from a drawer a newspaper and a pile of manuscript. "This is your manuscript," he remarked, watching her keenly as she put out her hand for it, "and this," he added gravely, taking up the paper, "is the journal in which a certain story entitled 'The Liar' appeared. Now perhaps you will understand."

The girl's hand trembled so that she could hardly hold the printed sheet. After a momentary glance she laid it down again, and then, turning her blanched face to him, she said tremulously, "I ask your pardon."

"Will you tell me, Miss Chester," he asked slowly, "why you sent this to me? Was it for the sake of getting into print—a natural enough vanity, I'll allow—or," he continued in a softer tone, "was the payment that you would have received had the manuscript been accepted an important consideration?"

"Oh, Mr. Baird," she exclaimed, trying to regain her composure, "I know it was a dreadfully dishonorable thing to do, but—but you don't know how hard it has been for me in London. A woman has no chance at all, and for a girl like me, without interest or friends, it seems impossible to get work. I've lost heart utterly now, and I'm so tired of it all."

"Have you met with any success at all?" he asked sympathetically.

"Yes, a little, but not very much and nothing regular. I got some fairly regular work on The Morning Comet, but the paper failed last summer and left some money owing to me, too," she added sadly.

"That was hard lines. Did you write much for it?"

"Yes, a good deal. I did all those articles on 'The Provincialism of London' and also the serial 'The Heart of a Woman,' with some short tales as well."

"By Jove! Was it you who wrote 'The Heart of a Woman,' then?" he exclaimed, with interest. "How silly of me! I ought to have remembered the name. It was a capital story. You should get it published in volume form I'm sure it would succeed."

"I've tried to, but it was no good. The first firm I offered it to kept it for seven months and then wrote to say they would bring the story out if I would bear the expense. The next people who considered it were not so bad. They asked me to pay only half the cost. I knew they were a good firm and would treat me well, and so I tried to get the money before the book would be too much out of date."

"That is why you sent this manuscript to me then?"

"Yes; I saw that you were offering 25 guineas for the best 10,000 word story. The money meant such a lot to me, and I was so awfully hard up! I began a story and got half way through with it, but it wasn't alive, and I somehow couldn't get on with it. Then one day I came across an old file of the Cape Town Mercury in the reading room at the museum. I saw a story called 'The Liar' in it and liked the central idea very much. I worked it up and changed the construction a little and added another chapter, and then—well, then I sent it here. I never imagined any one would recognize it. The paper was over ten years old and had lasted only a dozen numbers.

"And now I think I've nothing more to say," she went on, "except that I'm ever so sorry about it all! I hope you won't think too badly of me. It was such a temptation! Will you tell me, though"—her voice faltered—"how it was you found out? I didn't think any one in London could have read the Cape Town Mercury or, even if they had read 'The Liar,' that they could remember it now. It is a curious coincidence, of course."

"Yes," answered the man slowly, "an extraordinary coincidence. The fact is, though—er—I myself happen to be the original author of 'The Liar.'"—Sketch.

Everybody Knows About
Pain-Killer
A Household Medicine
Used by millions In all parts of the world
A SAFE and SURE REMEDY for
Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Cuts
Dysentery Croup Burns
Sprains and Strains.
Gives instant relief. Cures quickly.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'!
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)
ALL DRUGGISTS.
ju10 ly

The Cunning of the Crow.

In the inn garden I saw a dog eating a piece of meat in the presence of several covetous crows, says a contributor to Our Animal Friends. They evidently said a great deal to each other on the subject, and now and then one or two of them tried to pull the meat away from him, which he resented.

At last a big strong crow succeeded in tearing off a piece, with which he returned to the pine, where the others were congregated, and after much earnest speech they all surrounded the dog, and the leading bird dexterously dropped the small piece of meat within reach of his mouth, when he immediately snapped at it, letting go the big piece unwisely for a second, on which two of the crows flew away with it to the pine, and with much fluttering and hilarity they all ate or rather gorged it, the deceived dog looking vacant and bewildered for a moment, after which he sat under the tree and barked at them inanely.

No Good in His Case.

"They put a man in a hot oven to thaw the rheumatism out of him according to the recipe of the latest cure."

"That would never do in my case. I wouldn't be allowed to bake ten minutes before some darn creditor would be fooling with the oven door!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Save Your MONEY.

To save your money, by getting more for it, ask your dealer in medicine to show you the new 50 cent size bottle of JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. It contains over three times as much as the old 25 cent style which is a great saving to those who use this valuable family medicine. The superior quality of this old Anodyne has never been equaled.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Fifty years ago this month, Dr. Johnson left with me some Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I remember him distinctly, and could tell you just how he was dressed on that day. I have sold Johnson's Liniment ever since. Can truly say it has maintained its high standard from that time to this. No medicine today possesses the confidence of the public to a greater extent. JOHN B. RAND, North Waterford, Me., Jan., 1891.

As a family remedy it has been used and indorsed for nearly a century. Every Mother should have it in the house for many common ailments, Internal as much as External. Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Family Resemblance.

Something less than 50 blocks from the corner of Franklin and Jackson streets, says the San Francisco News Letter, resides a young mother, the fourth wife of a venerable and dignified husband, who is immensely proud of his latest paternity.

"Don't you think my baby is very like her father?" asked the fond and anxious young mother of her satirical sister.

"Yes," was the enthusiastic answer. "She is the very image of the old gentleman. She hasn't a tooth in her mouth nor a hair on her head!"

After the Honeymoon.

Crimsonbeak—A few weeks make a great difference in a young married couple.

Yeast—Oh, my, yes!

"The first week we were married I remember how my wife would fly to meet me when I came home at night."

"Yes."

"And now when I come home at night she flies at me."—Yonkers Statesman.

One Method of Treatment.

Jones—Our minister is apt to take an original view of any subject. He is to preach next Sunday on the parable of the prodigal son.

Smith—I don't see how he is going to say anything new about that.

Jones—You can't tell. He may make his sermon an expression of sympathy for the fatted calf.—N. Y. Journal.

Didn't Get Her Share.

Mrs. Newcombe (as she puts down the family paper, fondly to her husband)—Oh, Herbert, if I could only read such a lovely obituary notice in the paper about you as I've just read about a man down in Pittston! Somehow, blessings seem to me awfully unevenly divided nowadays.—Judge.

To Keep Out Tuberculosis.

In keeping the herd of dairy cows free from tuberculosis a few general rules at least should be observed. First, know that the herd is free from the disease. Then do not bring a new cow into the herd unless she has been first tested by tuberculin. If milk is taken to a creamery and skim-milk brought back, do not permit it to be used till it has been pastuerized. This will not only make it safe to feed to calves, but if it is fed to pigs will also prevent the disease being spread in that direction, which means its getting a foothold on the farm. Do not under any circumstances permit strange cattle to run in the pastures or occupy the stables. Above all, do not permit a consumptive person to take care of the cows.

When a woman doesn't take any interest in her housework—
When the least exertion tires her—
When her back aches constantly—her head troubles her—limbs pain, and she feels generally miserable, it's a pretty sure indication that her kidneys are not doing their duty.
That backache is simply kidney ache—
The poison the kidneys should take out of the blood is left in, and is breeding all sorts of dire diseases—
But you can stop it—

Doan's Kidney Pills

Act directly on the kidneys—strengthen them, help them to do their duty.

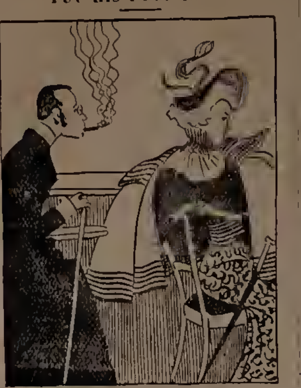
Read what one grateful woman has to say about it.

Mrs. S. Lake, professional nurse, residing at 39 Temple street, Nashua, N. H., says:

"It afforded me great pleasure early in the spring of 1896 to testify to the wonderful value of Doan's Kidney Pills. I had suffered for four or five years with severe pain across the small of my back and had been unable to obtain any permanent relief until I took a course of their treatment. It affords me greater pleasure now, and it is nearly three years since I gave my original statement for publication, to say that my opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills has been strengthened instead of weakened by the lapse of time. Not only was the cure effected in my case permanent, but I know of many others in Nashua who have reason to be thankful for the existence of this remarkable preparation."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

PUT HIS FOOT IN IT.



Mr. Footinit—You are the first woman I ever loved.

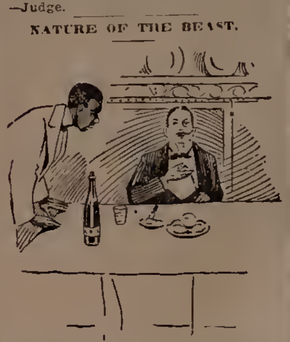
Miss Ripe (reproachfully)—How can you say that when you have had a wife before?

Mr. Footinit—Pshaw! She was a mere girl when I married her.—N. Y World.

A Wise Precaution.

He holds her hand for half an hour
While tender words they say.
For well he knows, thus in his power,
The piano she cannot play.
—Judge.

NATURE OF THE BEAST.



Guest—Waiter, what about that terrapin I ordered?

Waiter—Coming along slowly, sah. Terrapin is pow'ful slow, yo' know, sah.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune

A Good Cough Medicine.

It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to any other. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to myself and customers," says Druggist J. Goldsmith, Van Etten, N. Y. "I have always used it in my own family both for ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following la grippe, and find it very efficacious." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Keeping an Eye on It.

"How did you find business abroad?"

"Well, I noticed that everything was looking up at Naples."

"Indeed?"

"Yes, at Mount Vesuvius."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Opportunity is the Cream of Time."

Now is your opportunity. There is no time when the system is so much in need of a good medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, and no time when it is so susceptible to the benefits to be derived from such a medicine. By purifying, enriching and vitalizing the blood and toning up the system Hood's Sarsaparilla starts you right for a whole year of health.

Constipation is cured by Hood's Pills.

After the Election.

He ran for office, great the cost,
And, losing, let this sentence fall:
"'Tis better to have run and lost
Than never to have run at all."
—Town Topics.

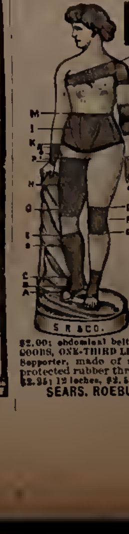
It's a mistake to imagine that itching piles can't be cured; a mistake to suffer a day longer than you can help. Doan's Ointment brings instant relief and permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

A blessing alike to young and old; Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; Nature's specific for dysentery, diarrhea and summer complaint.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.



ELASTIC GOODS AT HALF PRICE.

If you want us to make to your MEASURE and ORDER ELASTIC GOODS for the RELIEF AND CURE of VARICOSE VEINS, WEAK, SWOLLEN OR ULCERATED LIMBS, CORPULENCY, ABDOMINAL WEAKNESS OR TUMORS, state your height, weight and age, state number of inches around body or limb at each letter shown in cut and send to us with our SPECIAL PRICE. We will make the goods to order from the very finest fresh rubber elastic material, guarantee a perfect fit and if you do not find it perfectly satisfactory and equal to goods others get double the price for, return at our expense and we will refund your money.

OUR SPECIAL PRICE for all fine silk elastic thigh stocking, A to I, $7.50; thigh legging, C to I, $6.00; thigh piece, G to I, $2.50; knee stocking, A to G, $5.00; knee legging, C to G, $4.00; knee cap, E to G, $2.00; garter stocking, A to E, $3.00; garter legging, C to E, $3.00; anklet, A to C, $2.00; abdominal belt, K to M, $11.00. COTTON ELASTIC GOODS, ONE-THIRD LESS. Special Covered Elastic Abdominal Supporter, made of soft lisle thread, interwoven with protected rubber thread, 8 inches wide, $2.00; 10 inches, $2.25; 12 inches, $2.50. Write for Surgery Catalogue.

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO., (Inc.), CHICAGO, ILL.

The Cure that Cures
Coughs,
Colds,
Grippe,
Whooping Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis and Incipient Consumption, is OTTO'S CURE
The GERMAN REMEDY
Cures throat and lung diseases.
Sold by all druggists. 25&50cts

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

OCT. 22, 1899

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 36, 4 32, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 15 a m, 5 15, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 49, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 58, f5 21, 6 19, f7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f1 01, 5 25, 6 14, f7 28, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; 1 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 35, 6 50 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Trains leave Colonville for

MILFORD—9 25 a m; 1 19, 4 37, 5 42, 6 57, S 6 44 p m

FRANKLIN—6 49, 8 41, 11 28 a m; 4 03, 6 19 p m. S 8 15 a m.

GEO L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, ~~but on Saturday runs two hours later than time~~ given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
...AND...
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office—FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON,
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS,
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

Crescent House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

TAKE ADVANTAGE
Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

because in the case of moth it is the only remedy possible. Our Moth Balls and Camphorine will render furs and other articles of winter clothing absolutely secure against the ravages of these pests. Don't delay action where the emergency is immediate. Today, and not tomorrow, is the Moth Ball time, since mischief once done is irreparable.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

W. L. Eurgren held a dance at Lake Pearl, Saturday night. During the summer he will give band concerts every week.——Mrs. F. C. Holmes of Newark, N. J., and daughter, Henrietta, are guests of Mrs. Lewis W. Fisher.——Miss A. M. Sullivan and Miss Helen Keller have arrived at their cottage at Lake Pearl.——The death is announced of ex-Mayor John Gill of Orange, N. J., a brother in law of Mrs. Mary Ketchum and Mrs. J. M. Russell.——Joseph E. Chamberlain entertained the Authors' club of Boston Saturday afternoon at his residence, Red Farm.——Daniel Brown has bought the strip of land between the park and Red Springs and is having it cleared up. There is talk that the electric railway company will purchase the land with Red Springs, run a track to it and open up a new park. Surveyors have been at work laying out the track.——Mrs. J. N. Fiske has presented the fair committee with a check for $100.——The comedy drama, "Me an' Otis," was presented in the Town hall June 1 before a fair sized audience by the members of the Cypress Aid society. Dancing followed the drama. Music was furnished by the Philharmonic orchestra of Franklin. The following took part: Walter A. Hatch, Arthur L. Jenness, Stuart S. Bean, Howard Fisher, Jesse T. George, Edith B. Bean, Fern A. Wing, Florence E. Warner, Helen M. Bonney. The acting was firstclass in every feature and the performance showed careful study and hard work.

SHELDONVILLE.

Mrs. N. F. Parmenter is visiting in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Nickerson of Boston spent Sunday in town.

Miss Lena Newall has gone to Hatland G. Bacon's at Plainville for awhile.

Mrs. Nancy Bagnel and son of South Framingham visited in town last week.

Mrs. M. J. Gilmore has returned from a short visit with her sister in North Attleboro.

Mrs. Lydia Draper Oliver died at her residence in Sheldonville Saturday, aged 73 years. The funeral was held Monday and the remains taken to Peabody, her former home. She leaves one son David B. Oliver. Her husband died nearly thirty years ago in South Africa, where he went on a trading voyage.

TALES OF CITIES.

The night lunch cars have been driven from the streets of Chicago by a city ordinance that went into effect on May day.

That Calais, Me., is a city of "magnificent distances" is evidenced by the fact that the mayor has his residence nine miles from the city hall.

Edinburgh is noted for its aristocracy, Glasgow for its engineers and shipbuilders, Dundee for its jute merchants and Aberdeen for its "canny going bodies."

Northfield, Vt., has a liquor agency under the town's supervision, where the name of every purchaser of wet goods is entered in a book, and the list is published in the local paper every month.

Boston park commissioners are urgent on the need of more playgrounds for the children. The city has six tracts of ground provided for this purpose, with a total area of about 40 acres, but the need of more land for similar use becomes every year more evident.

Headache

Biliousness, sour stomach, constipation and all liver ills are cured by

Hood's Pills

The non-irritating cathartic. Price 25 cents of all druggists or by mail of C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

TRUST THRUSTS.

Why not have a law compelling the trusts to disclose their affairs and thus make investigations unnecessary?—Cleveland Leader.

To charge the American trusts with the rise of raw materials in foreign markets is only to weaken the real charges against them.—Boston Transcript.

Already the trust problem is beginning to solve itself by the action of individual states which prohibit trusts incorporated in other states from doing business within their borders.—Spokane Chronicle.

The trust question has a very strong hold upon the public mind, and it would be very difficult to excuse a failure on the part of congress to take action in regard to it intended to have immediate results in the public interest.—Omaha Bee.

THE NURSERY.

Caraway water is useful to relieve flatulence in infants. A teaspoonful should be administered after each nursing, or, with hand fed infants, given in the bottle.

Brain trouble is indicated when an infant is frightened at or attracted by an imaginary object, striving to escape it or grasp it. No time should be lost before calling in medical aid.

Indigestion in infants is often caused by too tight bandaging. The linen binder should never be used. A wide strip of flannel about five inches deep round the body to keep the bowels comfortably warm is all that infants require.

In Strict Confidence.

"Now that we are married, Lucy, we will have no further secrets from each other."

"Then tell me truly, Jack, how much did you pay for the ring?"—Tit-Bits.

Still Going.

"Am glad to see you have been riding a horse. The bicycle, I say, must go."

"Well, it does, doesn't it? What more do you want?"—Brooklyn Life.

To Teachers Attending National Educational Convention at Charleston, S. C.

A more delightful trip cannot be had than to take a side trip to the mountains of Western North Carolina, the "Land of the Sky," on their return from the Charleston convention. The route of the Southern railway, New York to Charleston, carries you in touch with the mountain region of North Carolina; in its entirety makes one of the choicest summer resorts of the world. In area, the mountain regions of North Carolina is almost as extensive as that which encompasses the Alps. The peak of the "Land of the Sky," Mount Mitchell, is by far the highest mountain of the East. It rises 6,711 feet and is one of 43 peaks which look down on the highest of New England summits.

Those going to Charleston by the Southern railway pass through the historic battlefield section of Virginia, where Union and Confederate blood was spilled, and then through the most interesting section of the south. Interesting literature of the trip will be furnished upon application. The round trip rate to Charleston for the occasion of National Educational association is one fare for the round trip, plus $2 membership fee. For full particulars apply to George C. Daniels, N. E. P. A., 228 Washington street, Boston.

No Occasion for Worry.

"I must warn you, dearest," he said, "that after we are married you will very likely find me inclined to be arbitrary and dictatorial in my manner."

"No matter," she replied, cheerfully. "I won't pay the slightest attention to what you say."—Chicago Post.

THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND,

with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain.

Our Store is Light and Cool,

the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

W. S. JOHNSON,

SPECIAL AGENT FOR

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

Assets over - - -	$300,000,000
Paid to policy holders over	500,000,000
Insurance in force over -	1,000,000,000

Issues the most liberal and attractive policies on the market, including

Cash Surrender Values. Extended Insurance.
Loan Values. Paid-up Insurance.
Grace in payment of Premiums, etc.

FOUR BALLS.

Imposing fines on impudent players on the ballfield has begun early, but not too early to meet the impudence, apparently.—Boston Herald.

One thing can be said in favor of the St. Louis Baseball club—it usually manages to occupy first place at least once during the season.—St. Louis Republic.

It is to be hoped that the separation of Washington from the League will not create the impression among baseball enthusiasts elsewhere that the District of Columbia has been taken off the map.—Washington Star.

THE ICEMAN.

It is too bad that ice does not grow in summer, when it is most needed.—Ridgewood (N. J.) News.

Paradoxical as it may sound, the burning question of the hour in New York is ice.—New York World.

In Chicago ice must be weighed in the presence of the customer. But the iceman is not unhappy. He may use his own scales.—Kansas City Journal.

Wants a Creditable Showing.

"You said Buster was getting ready to fail."

"He is; but he hasn't got his liabilities big enough yet."—Chicago Record.

"He that seeks finds." He that takes Hood's Sarsaparilla finds in its use pure, rich blood and consequently good health.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

YOU WILL FIND AT

CROWNINSHIELD'S STORE

Glass, Tin, Granite, Copper, Crockery and Wooden Ware, Croquet Sets, Carts, Brooms, Brushes, Oil Stoves, Chimneys, Window Screens, Baskets, Tea, Coffee and Baking Powder, 5c. and 10c. Goods—a fine line.

No. 2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4ms

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - Prop'r and Mgr.

Acknowledged the Most Charming and Fully Equipped Picnic Grounds in New England . . . .

Avail yourselves of the cool breezes and the charming scenery from the high bluff overlooking the Lake.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

Large hall, with piano. Restaurant, Beautiful Grove and Summer Houses, Dining Pavilion, Stable, etc.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses. Circulars free on application.

OPEN EVERY DAY

ALL PRICES MODERATE.

☞ No Liquor.

je5-3mT

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test. ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 50
Single Gallon.............................. 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.

t7-tfT

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law and all other persons interested in the estate of William B. Nolen, late of Franklin, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, Henry R. Jenks, executor of the will of said deceased, has presented to said court his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offers named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of two certain parcels of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts, legacies and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said county, on the twenty-seventh day of June, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

je5.12.19

BARNUM'S FIRST CIRCUS.

It Was Located In Washington During the War.

"It is a fact, though not generally known, that Barnum's first venture as a circus man was made in Washington," volunteered an old circus rider who is now a clerk in an up town department to a Star reporter, "as it is also a fact that his engaging in the circus business came about from a suggestion of a Washington boy, Hugh Coyle. In the fall of 1863 Coyle, who had been employed during the previous summer as a drummer in the band connected with Gardner, Hemming & Co.'s circus, returned to Washington, having finished his engagement, the circus going into winter quarters.

"W. E. Sinn was then running Canterbury hall, on Louisiana avenue, as a variety theater, and he gave Coyle a job selling tickets. He never sold any, however, for in talking over circus matters with Sinn he said he thought it would be a good thing and make barrels of money—circus people always talk of money by the barrel—if a winter circus was opened up in Washington. The war filled the city with soldiers, and they spent their money freely. Coyle further suggested that, as a circus he had been with was doing nothing, he thought it could be brought here, but that to make it as attractive as possible there should be some animals secured.

"Up to that time Barnum had been before the public only as the proprietor of bull shows and museums. It was known that he had about a dozen bears in New York which the people there had tired of, and he thought they might be secured. Correspondence was entered into with the owners of the circus, Adam Forepaugh, James E. Cooper and John O'Brien, all of whom have gone to their reward since.

"The upshot of the matter was that Barnum agreed to contribute his bears, handled by 'Grizzly' Adams, famous since as a clown; Forepaugh, Cooper and O'Brien to furnish their circus, and Sinn to furnish the lot, pay for advertising, billposting and the city license. The proceeds were to be divided up, Barnum to get one-third, the circus one-third and Sinn the remainder. Colonel Sinn got permission of B. B. French, then commissioner of public buildings and grounds, to establish the circus on Louisiana avenue, between Ninth and Tenth streets.

"As Barnum was favorably known as a museum owner the establishment was styled 'P. T. Barnum's circus, museum and wild animal exhibition.' The museum part consisted of a lot of stuff which had been saved from the fire when Barnum's museum in New York was burned. The bears were rather old and out of form, but they went just the same. Barnum's principal contribution was his name, but the concern paid handsomely. Two performances were given most every day, and the audiences were made up almost wholly of soldiers and others brought here by the war. I was a leading attraction, riding a bareback horse, which was then a sensation on account of its novelty.

"We played there for the fall and part of the winter. Barnum was pleased very much with the amount of money that was weekly sent as his share of the receipts. The new business caught his fancy, and two years afterward he started out in the circus business on his own account. The museum business in New York had been about played out, and the tent show offered more certain proceeds."—Washington Post.

THE VERDICT.

"Don't underrate the Empire State!" shouts the New York World. We don't. It is one of 45 states of this glorious Union.—Omaha World-Herald.

The St. Paul man who was bunkoed by the tin box game has the same consolation as had the life saver who grabbed a drowning man by the wig—he has the tin box.—St. Paul Globe.

The coming statue of Thomas F. Bayard is to be the work of a woman. Woman has usually molded us as she would. Why shouldn't she be successful in modeling us in plastic clay?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE DRESS MODEL.

Durable twilled silks of various kinds are being revived. They are used for waists, linings, underskirts, sash draperies and gowns entire.

The fancy still continues for mousseline de soie and chiffon yokes and guimpes on all sorts of bodices to wear under tailor made jackets and waists.

Tiny gold buttons are seen used by French ateliers on gowns of ceremony formed of white cloth, drap d'ete, lace, net, chiffon, crepe de chine and veiling.

Fine sheer nainsook embroideries, with medallions of lace introduced here and there, add effective variety to the season's handsome dress trimmings for thin summer gowns.

Pink and white or violet and pale green pond lilies trim some of the large round hats otherwise decorated with choux and loops of chiffon or mousseline de soie and black velvet ribbon of generous width.

In attempting to originate something novel in the shape of evening bodices the old time corselet models have been revived. Some of the gored skirt tops are finished in this form instead of ending at the belt. They are very little decorated.

One of the most satisfactory skirt models for making up light sheer wools for summer wear is cut in circular shape, with plain panel front, medium wide side plaits and a shapely box plait at the back. The plaits flare gracefully around the bottom of the skirt, which is cut with a slight dip.

At their first introduction there were many doubts and conjectures concerning the fate of plaited skirts, but the matter is settled for the summer season at least, for among the models in many other styles are prominently set forth the plaited waists and skirts arranged in every possible variety.

Among new French jacket and basque bodice models are those made with front dart and side seams at the back that extend to the shoulders. These gracefully curved lines impart a look of slenderness and extra length to the form and are therefore particularly desirable for women of full figure.—New York Post.

BEE BUZZES.

Use the best and straightest combs for breeding.

If honey only is desired, keep the hive full of bees.

Select the very best stock from which to raise queens.

The strength of the colony and the flow of honey determine the putting in of surplus boxes.

If hives are not properly made and the proper number of combs used, we may have trouble with brace combs, as the bees will fill every available space in the hive.

There is nothing in the world that will keep worms from getting into beehives unless you have the kind of bees that will keep them out. Italian bees are proof against worms and ants.

Piping of queens is heard only when there is a plurality of queens, mainly in the case of swarming. Sometimes as many as three or four young queens yet imprisoned will answer to the piping of the older queens.

Secure all the hives necessary to accommodate the swarms and the surplus honey crop before the time comes when they will be actually needed. This is the only safe plan to avoid losses in a busy season.—St. Louis Republic.

POULTRY POINTERS.

Give young turkeys a good range on sunny days.

Vertigo in fowls arises from a bad condition of the digestive organs.

Have the perches not more than two feet high and all on the same level.

By removing the eggs from the nest as fast as laid the turkey hen will lay much larger number of eggs than if left alone.

One advantage with the larger breeds of fowls over the small ones is that the larger fowls are usually much easier controlled.

The air cell and germ are in the broad end of the egg, and if this part is smooth and even and the germ is fertilized, that is all that is necessary.

Geese may be picked every six weeks in warm weather, but when picked so often they do not lay, as the growth of new feathers debilitates them.

To a considerable extent the market fowl must be bred with special reference to market qualities. It must have an abundance of meat upon the choicest parts. It can only be brought to perfect condition by proper feeding.—St. Louis Republic.

Just the Thing...

If you need something to give you an appetite, make you strong and drive away that tired feeling, try

FRANKLIN MALT.

17c. per bottle. $1.75 per dozen.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist.

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF

SEEDS! SEEDS!

All the 5c. packages of GARDEN SEEDS we sell for 3c., two 5c., or 25c. per dozen. These Seeds are new this year, direct from the CLEVELAND SEED CO.

All kinds of FLOWER SEEDS, 5c. and 10c. per package.

All other kinds of Garden Seeds at the lowest prices—HOLTON, MAINE, EARLY ROSE, HEBRONS, NEW QUEENS.

Before buying your Seeds come and see what we can do for you.

McKinnon's Grocery Store,

CENTRAL SQUARE.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board.

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap27S

At WOODWARD'S every description of INSURANCE can be placed. This AGENCY officially represents the LEADING American and Foreign COMPANIES.

F. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.

my4-1yF

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.

(Successor to RAZEE & SON)

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW

Enclosed • Arc • Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

Franklin and Wrentham STAGE LINE.

Leave Wrentham P.O. for Franklin at 8.15 a.m. 3.30 p. m. Leave Franklin depot for Wrentham at 9.30 a. m., 4.30 p. m.; connecting with trains for Boston and Providence via N. Y. & N. E. railroad; trains leaving Boston at 7.40, 8.30 a. m. and 3.30 p. m.; leaving Providence at 8.35 a.m.

☞ Orders may be left at Railroad Station.

N. B. WEBBER, Prop.

AGENTS WANTED.

Liberal contracts to intelligent men of good character and address. Can earn in commissions from $3000 upwards per year by applying to Wm. F. Bache, Gen'l Agt. NORTHWESTERN MUT. LIFE INS. CO., 7 Water st., Boston, Mass., from 9 to 10 A. M., from 12 to 1 P. M.

ANNUAL STATEMENT JANY. 1, 1900.

Assets.................................. $126,646,728.45
Liabilities............................. 121,112,030.71
Surplus................................. 5,534,697.74
Insurance in force...................... $497,606,126.00

mh2 2ms

Hattie M Fisher

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 46. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Monthly Statement Benjamin Franklin Savings Bank	2
Citations	4
N. C. Nye	1
A. C. Mason	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
"	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 "
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 A. M.
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.05 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.30 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.
MATTHEW F. CONROY, P. M.
Franklin, Mass., June 17, 1898.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Guild are visiting friends in New York.

Mrs. A. W. Edson of Worcester is the guest of friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Rogers removed to Woonsocket this week.

Concert by the Franklin band at Lake Pearl next Tuesday evening.

James W. Wilkinson is sick at his boarding place on Oak street.

Clarence Abbott has returned from the dental college at Philadelphia.

Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., will hold a regular meeting this evening.

Martin Kelly is spending a few weeks with his sister in Winsted, Conn.

Henry Byrnes is now able to walk out and is steadily gaining in health.

The junior reception to the seniors of the High school takes place this evening.

Edward Whittaker removed this week from McCarthy street to Summer street.

Dean defeated the High school nine on the campus yesterday afternoon, 12 to 5.

The big chimney at the power house is trying to make Unionville a smoky city.

The Benry Bemis household furniture is to be sold at auction Monday at 1.30.

It is expected a Medway car will be run to the brick school house tomorrow.

Edward H. Rathbun and family have returned to their residence on Alpine street.

Judge O. T. Doe attended a reunion of law students at Boston Tuesday evening.

Rev. William J. Reardon of Amesbury was a guest at St. Mary's rectory on Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Martin returned from their hunting trip in New Brunswick today.

Mrs. Frank Clark of Millville is visiting her sister, Mrs. Dennis Fitzgerald, of Central street.

Arrangements are being made to have a new carpet for Masonic ball, an improvement much needed.

John Dunning is in Washington caring for a brother who fell and injured himself quite severely recently.

Mr. E. S. Crossman is visiting relatives in Freeport, Me., her husband joining her this week by wheel.

Miss Ellen E. Hoter, of New Haven, prominent as a church vocalist, has been a guest for a few days at Dean parsonage.

Mrs. Elbert Gilmore of Lynn is enjoying a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Hartshorn, of Peck street.

The work of the assessors is far enough along so that it is believed the town valuation will not vary a great deal from that of last year.

By decision of the State tax commissioner, your piano or organ is not taxable unless your house furnishings exceed $1000 in value.

C. R. Russell's horse ran away on Main street Wednesday afternoon, but was stopped by Walter Clark and no damage resulted.

Conductor McCarthy is to have the Boston Willimantic run, taking Conductor Cowell's train, the latter being promoted to the new Boston-New York flier.

Mrs. E. C. Clark of Union street is entertaining Mrs. Frank Mills and daughter of Providence, and Mrs. Hiram Hawes of Boston.

A number from here will go to Providence next week to the Brown university commencement, when Fred V. Hussey will graduate.

The last meeting of the Mary Warfield Missionary society was held yesterday afternoon. Refreshments were served and a profitable time spent.

Rev. Mr. Sneath has been elected a member of the committee on Sabbath observance by the General Association of Congregational Churches.

A number of children are to be christened at the Congregational church on Sunday, and especially interesting children's exercises are to be held.

A meeting of the Double Ten circle of King's Daughters will be held next Wednesday evening, at 7.30, at the home of Miss May Morey, Dean avenue.

Lady Franklin lodge, Daughters of Rebekah, will visit Rosalie lodge of West Medway on Monday evening, the barge leaving Odd Fellows' hall at 6.30.

Rev. F. B. Sleeper will preach on a special subject next Sunday forenoon adapted to Children's day. His theme will be "A Christless Education."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Thayer left Wednesday for a ten days' outing near Bangor and the Mt. Katahdin region in Maine.

The reception to be tendered to the senior class of the High school by the juniors will be given tonight. All invitations must be presented at the door.

Mrs. A. M. Willard, Albert R. and Miss Lulu Willard attended the wedding of J. M. Ritchie and Miss Ida Hager of Milford, N. H., at Lynn on Wednesday.

The programme being arranged by Manager Worthley for Saturday, June 16, at Indian Rock park, includes horse racing, bicycle racing and a base ball game.

On Thursday evening next Fidelity lodge, A. O. U. W., will have as guests the degree team and a delegation of members from Ames lodge of Woonsocket.

The ladies of the Baptist Aid society are preparing for a fine lawn party to be held at the home of Mrs. A. F. Pendleton, 9 Union street, Friday evening, June 15.

George K. Morris of Boston will lecture at the Methodist church Tuesday evening, June 19, for the benefit of the church debt. Subject, "That Mysterious Man."

Miss F. Alma Martin of Springfield is at present visiting her sister Mrs. C. L. Stewart. Miss Martin is a graduate of Hartford hospital and is hoping to locate in this vicinity.

Special preparation has been made for the Sunday school concert at the Baptist church next Sunday evening. A fine program has been arranged in honor of "Children's day."

John W. Fryer of New York is the guest of his sister, Mrs. David Fisher. Mr. Fryer is attending the Steam Fitters' convention in Boston, and is a master steam fitter himself.

At the meeting of Excelsior lodge, A. F. & A. M., Monday evening, Grand Lecturer Charles M. Avery was present and witnessed the work. After the work refreshments were served.

A little girl, Erna Woodnan, was shut up by mistake in the Universalist church about 6 last evening, her frightened calls attracting the attention of a passer-by, who secured a key and released her.

Herbert W. Nye and Walter L. Partridge, both of whom formerly resided here and are now engaged in the straw business at West Upton, made a flying trip here Tuesday and were warmly greeted by friends and relatives.

C. H. Rood, the agent of the railroad company, was in town Wednesday looking up damages caused by brush fires along the railroad line. There are a number of localities that have been scorched this spring in this vicinity, Foxboro had another fire on Tuesday, destroying two fine large ice houses storing 2,000 tons of ice, the loss being about $30,000. It was owned by a Boston firm, and was across the line in Walpole. It was probably incendiary.

Isadore Buxton died at Unionville Sunday, aged 45 years, from dropsy. The funeral occurred on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Mr. White of Woonsocket officiating. The remains were taken to North Smithfield, R. I., for burial.

Miss Mary O'Sullivan and Miss Belle Murphy, president and vice president, respectively, of Ladies' Auxiliary, No. 12, A. O. H., attended the annual state convention of the order in Boston yesterday, being the delegates sent by the local auxiliary.

There will be no Epworth league service at the Methodist church on Sunday evening on account of the Children's day concert, which will occur at 6.00 p. m. There will be special music, with exercises by the children of the Sunday school, and a short address by the pastor

As George C. Lasher was in Milford the other evening he was assaulted by John J. Donahue and robbed of a watch. The accused was tried yesterday and found probably guilty and bound over in the sum of $1,500. Mr. Lasher has but one leg and is a brother in law of J. E. Hunt of Wachusett street.

The Trowbridge Piano company has an office in Milford and one or more of its fine pianos is on exhibition there. The Milford branch of the business is conducted by F. P. Bly. Over 100 of the Trowbridge pianos are now in use in Milford homes.

Mrs. C. W. Clark and her daughter, Mrs. L. M. Morrison, left on Tuesday for Brighton, where Mrs. Clark will remain with her other daughter, Mrs. G. P. Mason, for the summer. Mrs. Morrison remains there about a week and then returns to her home in Philadelphia.

Manager Enegren proposes to "push things" at Lake Pearl this season, and has arranged a band concert and dance for next Tuesday evening. The amphitheatre is being remodeled and made ready for a grand opening in the near future. Electrics run every half hour.

The town and the street railway company have made a great improvement to the roadway on Main street, between Central square and Emmons street, and Depot street is now being looked after. Selectman McCarthy is taking a special interest in seeing that the work is properly done.

An exchange tells of a man who claimed he was to poor to take his home paper, but all the same he read a notice in a down east paper, telling how to prevent a horse from slobbering, and sent $1.50 for the receipt. When the $1.50 worth of information came it said: "teach your horse how to spit."

The ball game between Dean and the Framingham High school teams, to have been played on the campus Wednesday afternoon, was cancelled at the eleventh hour by the Framingham boys. The Friends' school nine of Providence are scheduled to play Dean on the campus tomorrow afternoon.

The Our Boys base ball nine have organized for the season as follows: G. Williams c., T. Connolly p., T. Kenney 1b., J. Farley 2b., Morse 3b., C. Murphy s. s., J. Kenney l. f., J. Murphy c. f., S Bourbeau r. f. Challenges sent to P J. Connolly will receive attention. The team will make its first appearance tomorrow, when they play the Ramblers.

The summer timetable of the Eastern district of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R will go into effect on Sunday, June 10, for the season of 1900. The usual increase in train service will be made for the summer travel, and timetables showing the new train service will be ready for distribution and may be obtained upon application at ticket offices of the company a day or two before the change goes into effect.

A number of the Woman's Relief corps went to West Medway on Tuesday to enjoy the twelfth anniversary of the organization there. A reception was tendered the department officers, Mrs. Mary Gillman, president; Miss Maria Goring, vice president; Mrs. Davis, chaplain, and Mrs. Stillings, inspector. A fine dinner of salads, cold meats, rolls, ice cream and fruit followed, and an entertainment.

A number of our teachers have been giving their pupils practical lessons in geography by taking them off upon trolley trips to Unionville, where is afforded an excellent opportunity to study the hill and valley formations, water courses, etc., which is of vastly more material benefit to a student than much of the mere memorizing of abstract geographical data, which is valueless for the time and soon forgotten.

A great many of the bike riders seem to have forgotten the statute against riding on the sidewalk and the one regulating speed, or perhaps they think them honored in the breach rather than the observance. Throwing handbills into the streets or yards is a common occurrence that ought to be checked. A little revival in the activity of some of these wise laws for the public safety and private peace would serve for the good of the commonwealth.

The second team of the Franklin High school met and defeated the second nine of the Woonsocket High by a score of 20 to 12 on Wednesday afternoon at the trotting park. Until the fifth inning it was anybody's game, when the Franklin High braced up and won in a walk. The battery for the home team was Palmer and Hood until the ninth inning, when Grant entered the box. This makes six games won out of seven for the Franklin boys. The all round playing of the home team was a feature of the game.

William P. Cook of Chelsea and Miss Ethel Z. Jordan of this town were united in marriage at the Baptist parsonage on Wednesday evening, Rev. F. B. Sleeper performing the ceremony. Miss Annie L. Naylor of Wrentham attended the bride and Roscoe Jordan was best man. A wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents on Jordan street after the ceremony, immediate friends and relatives being present. The couple were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts. They will make their home in Chelsea.

Last Wednesday Mrs. T. M. Turner, president, and her suite, consisting of Mrs. David Corson, Miss Louisa Gillson, Mrs. M. L. Jackson of the Woman's Relief corps, and W. H. Jackson of Post 60, G. A. R., presented the High school, in behalf of the corps, a fine copy, neatly framed, of the delaration of independence. It is to be kept in the upper school of the Horace Mann building, and will prove a great aid in stimulating right patriotism among the youth of our school. The gift was a great and most acceptable surprise.

As noted last Tuesday, there are to be two Sunday trains for Providence and "down the river," commencing next Sunday, the running time being as follows: A train will leave Providence at 7.35 a. m., reaching here at 8.22, making close connection with the train for Boston at 8.26. The train for Providence will leave here at 8.58 a. m., reaching Providence at 9.45, in time to catch the boats down the river or to Block Island, Newport and elsewhere. In the evening the train will leave Providence at 7.05, reaching here at 7.52, and will return to Providence at 8.13, reaching there at 9 o'clock.

It is understood that the new train from Boston to New York is not to stop here, as at first planned, but at Blackstone. This is quite a disappointment, but it could be obviated by giving us a train to Blackstone just preceding the flyer. But, better still, a petition is already in circulation requesting that the train stop here regularly, or at least be made a flag station, in view of the fact that we are now connected by the electrics, and passengers from Milford, the Medways and Wrentham would find this the best point at which to take the cars to New York, thus giving them the benefit of the rapid transportation.

William Chism, better known as "Peck," has just sent to David Fisher some handsome specimens of handkerchiefs made from the leaf of the banana. The fabric has all the appearance of silk, and with the dainty embroidery makes it a gift well worth receiving. He also sent some Manila cigars. Mr. Chism is fighting for "Uncle Sam," his letter being sent from Iloilo. He appears to be quite comfortably situated, and expresses no desire to hurry home to the states. When he speaks of going out to fight the natives he calls it "looking for trouble," but he says that natives are very wary, and have no desire to encounter Uncle Sam's regulars.

The development of business on the street railway has been a matter of surprise to most people who were interested enough, when the project of building was started, to consider the subject. At that time one of the chief promoters of the enterprise, in talking about it, did not profess to expect any profit for a few years, and said that even paying expenses for the first year or two would be all that could be reasonably expected. It is understood that as it stands at present the returns have been more than enough for this purpose and have gone beyond expectation, even with much of the feeder system uncompleted. Of course this is very satisfactory to the stockholders, and with a continuance of the same conditions will afford pleasant contemplation for the future.

A survey has been made and stakes driven with a view to widening Central street between Summer street and the Wrentham line. The street railway track which has been put in leaves, in places, a very narrow roadway for carriages outside the rails, and more space for this is considered necessary. There is no doubt that a good many years ago the space provided for the highways was enough for present needs, but there seems to be no way to find out just what this layout was. The street is a part of the old stage road from Taunton to Worcester, and an effort will be made to establish a compromise line by agreement with the abutters without calling upon the county commissioners for a new layout. Such a course, however, may be necessary if no agreement can be reached without such a move.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our heartfelt thanks to the pupils of the eighth and ninth grades of St. Mary's school, members of Fidelity lodge, A. O. U. W., neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness during our late bereavement.

MRS. A. WALDEMEYER AND DAUGHTER.

Richardson's Market.

Less meat and more vegetables this weather is the best; have some choice spring vegetables such as new peas, ripe tomatoes, choice beets, juicy rhubarb, the succulent string beans, etc. Fresh killed poultry, home killed veal, selected cuts of beef, prime pieces of corned beef, the best butter in town, strawberries, full baskets and finely flavored fruit. We will leave you a box daily if you desire during the season.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

An Amusement Resort at Beaver Pond.

The advent of the trolley has been the means of inducing local capitalists to invest in new enterprises in Franklin and vicinity, and at present there are a number of proposed improvements receiving serious consideration from the moneyed men of the town that would never have been thought of had not Franklin been given electric railway service.

The latest announced enterprise that has been decided upon among some of our citizens, and which in some respects will be a rival of Lake Pearl and Hoag's Pond for public patronage, is the opening up of a new summer amusement resort on the shores of Beaver Pond, where Enoch Waite is the owner of several acres of land that border the pond and which are splendidly adapted for a summer amusement resort. Those behind the enterprise, one of the foremost of whom is Mr. Waite, have already contracted for the erection of a pavilion 60x100 feet, and a large part of the lumber to be used in its construction is now upon the ground, the intention being to have the pavilion erected and open for business by July 4 It will contain a dancing hall, bowling alley, billiard hall, shooting gallery and refreshment booth. Chutes similar to those at all the large summer resorts are to be one of the features, and all who desire to experience the novelty of "shooting the chutes" will be accommodated at old Beaver. Pleasure boats are to be put on the pond and various other attractions that are to be enjoyed at all up-to-date summer resorts will be found here for the pleasure of patrons. The electric cars pass the road at the point of Beaver and Central streets which leads only a short distance to the grounds, and this will be a great convenience to out-of-town pleasure seekers.

High School Graduation.

The exercises will take place this year in the Opera house on Friday evening, June 29, at 8 o'clock, and the baccalaureate sermon will be delivered at the Congregational church on Sunday evening, June 24, by Rev. E. L. Atkinson, pastor of the Church of the Ascension in South Boston. He can be relied upon to give the young people many thoughts of interest and profit.

The graduating class this year is composed of Misses Charlotte and Ellen J. Butters, Clementine and Caroline Guigon, Mary E. Hutchinson, Mabel H. Aldrich, Angelina McManus, Maisie D Whiting, James H. Hood. After graduation Miss Whiting expects to enter Boston university, Miss Hutchinson goes to Mt. Holyoke and Mr. Hood to some school of technology.

The school closes a week later than usual owing to the loss of a week through the scarlet fever epidemic in March. This, by the way, is no unusual thing this year, as many schools are not closing until July and some extend a week into the month. Principal Daniels expects some very interesting exercises this year and he is having the active co operation of the pupils interested.

The Golf Tournament.

The members of the Franklin Country club will hold their first golf tournament on the course on the Wrentham road next week Saturday afternoon, when it is expected that nearly if not all of the members will participate. Each player will be handicapped according to the record he or she may hold, so that all will stand upon an equal footing. E. H. Rathbun at present has the credit of making the best score upon the grounds, and a number of other players hold excellent records. There will be two prizes offered, these being the gift of Mr. Rathbun, the club's vice president. There are a number of golf enthusiasts in the club who improve every opportunity to lower their record, so that it is expected that the tournament will develop not a little good natured rivalry. The course is a good one, the club has its own club house for the benefit of its members, and the electric cars make the ground very accessible to the players, as the cars go within a very short distance of the club house. The following are the officers of the club: President, A. Burt. Palmer; vice president, E. H. Rathbun; secretary and treasurer, Palmer A. Woodward.

When It's Fly Time

Then it's high time that you put up your screen doors to keep out the flies. It's cheaper to put in screen doors than to waste time killing flies or buying fly-paper. We have the doors at $1, $1.25 and $1.75. Screens for windows and the wire netting also for sale.

HOSIE BROS.

Emerson's Market.

New peas and asparagus, string beans, spinach, 15 cts a peck; radishes, lettuce, rhubarb, cucumbers, Bermuda onions, cabbages, 3 cts a pound; new beets and turnips, new potatoes. Boiled ham 25 cts a pound. Try our Imperial cheese. Fresh-killed fowls, lamb, veal, pork, and our lobsters are boiled fresh every Saturday morning and received here at 4.30 p. m. Get your selected strawberries here.

Views of Residences.

Now, before the trees leaf fully, is the best time to arrange for photos of your home, either exterior or interior. Call and see samples and let me quote prices. Business hours during the summer, 8 to 12 a. m., 1 15 to 5 p. m., 7 to 8 Saturday evenings.

CALKIN, Photographer,
Depot St.

COMMUNICATIONS.

[The editor assumes no responsibility for matter under this caption. This column is entirely at the disposal of the public, avoiding, as far as possible, trivial and controversial matter.]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE SENTINEL:—As a townsman—although not a constant resident—of Franklin, I have been a good deal impressed by a paragraph in Tuesday's issue, of which the purport is that the electric cars, in rounding a certain corner, overhang the sidewalk, and that it therefore behooves people to beware lest they suffer injury to their persons or apparel. It strikes me, Sir, that the warning should go just the other way—that the company should keep its cars off the sidewalk, or be punished for not doing so. An electric car has no more right to occupy one inch of the sidewalk than an ice cart, a circus wagon or a load of hay, and no location of tracks, however granted, can convey that right, unless the exact portion of ground to be so occupied be distinctly and formally discontinued by due process of law as a part of the sidewalk which has been hitherto duly established and occupied as such.

As I understand the law of the case, if any person should have his foot pinched or his clothing torn by a car trespassing upon the sidewalk where he has a citizen's right to be, he would have the basis for an action of damages against the town which permitted the encroachment. Under well ordered and cautious jurisdiction no curve would be allowed to be laid and used, the sweep of which could involve such peril as your paragraph implies. The inconvenience and cost to the company in correcting such a result of reckless or incompetent engineering are as nothing compared to the rights of the community and of its individual members; and the longer a trespass is allowed to continue the more serious it becomes, and the more likely to cost the town which endures it when some persistent man, who knows his rights and will fight for them suffers some damage and demands compensation.

Yours truly,
HOWARD M. TICKNOR.

Boston, June 6, 1900.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

Barn and carriage house to let on Winter street. Apply to Mrs. Emily F. Aldrich. 8*

To Rent.—5 room tenement, Central square. Inquire E. B. Sherman, Emmons street. 5tf

Two hundred bushels potatoes for sale at Mt. Vernon farm. Address Box 25, Franklin, Mass. 8,12,15,19*

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. Allen.

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18-tf

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Boarders Wanted.—A man and wife or two gentlemen; a nice front room. Apply to A. S. Wales, Dale street. 1,8,15*

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15 tf

Lost—A sum of money, between Winter street and the postoffice, about five weeks ago. Reward will be paid. Apply at SENTINEL office. 8*

To Let—Small tenement on West street to man and wife without children. Rent $8. Apply at stable of A. M. Thayer any day but Sunday. 8

Cut flowers, wedding bouquets, flowers for graduation, all kinds of funeral designs made up at Slade's green house at short notice. P. O. Box 179.

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

For Sale or to Let—Cottage of eight rooms and barn on Peck street; pleasant view of the town; fruit, and well of good water. Inquire of Peck & Field. 5,8,12

For Sale—A lot of good household furniture and several Brussels carpets. Apply at stable of A. M. Thayer before 9 a. m. or after 5 p. m. any day but Sunday. 8

Round-trip tickets to Milford, 48c; Providence, 90c; Boston, $1.05. Get them of Chas. H. Prince at SENTINEL office and thus save 12, and 33c from regular fare charged for respective trips. Mileage books to let.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J.B.MCKINNON, Agent.

The summer season at the Tremont theatre will open June 11 with the tremont theatre stock company under the management of J. H. Gilmour and L. J. Rodriguez. The opening play will be a dramatization of Theodore Burt Sayre's novel, "The Son of Carleycroft", by special arraugment with Harper Brothers & Co., Publishers, and this is one of the few in which the dramatization appears before the publication. Mr. Sayre is regarded as one of the best of the younger school of American play-wrights. The play will have the advantage of scenic investiture, which has been especially prepared. The story is laid in Devonshire, in the time of Charles the Second, affording all possibilities of colors and atmospere for which that period was famous.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1900.

IT is understood that Dewey is now anxious to be the tail to Bryan's kite, but that will probably be denied him. When the people really desire Mr. Dewey they will notify him.

THERE is political talk of putting up a negro candidate for president and securing the support of all the colored men of the country, irrespective of politics. He would probably be a "strong" candidate.

A FEW local coal dealers in Kansas City "combined" to regulate prices, and they have been fined about $1,000. Of course its easy enough to get after the small fry, but why not try for bigger game while you are about it?

LONG stock for the vice presidency is still at par, though candidates are looming up here and there. He will have the support of the entire New England delegation, but "practical politics" may step in and demand a western man. The country would be the loser thereby.

GOV. ROOSEVELT says. "In life, as in a foot ball game, the principle to follow is, hit the line hard; don't foul and don't shirk, but hit the line hard." That sounds very nicely, but we notice that when "the guvner" finds that Tom Platt is lined up against him on the other side he usually drops on the ball, calls "down" and surrenders to the wily "boss." The latter has been in the game a trifle longer than the governor and "knows a thing or two."

MAYOR VAN WYCK of New York appears to be in "quite a hole" in the ice trust matter, and Tammany is as deep in as he is, so much so that even the New York Journal cannot swallow the combination. Gov. Roosevelt is considering the advisability of removing the mayor for violation of law, and will do so if he finds himself legally empowered to do so. It would give the Democrats in New York quite a "jar" if the governor should do this, and it looks as if he intended it.

ALTHOUGH the curtain appears to have been rung down, yet not all of the actors have as yet left the stage in the South African affair. The end is in sight, notwithstanding Kruger says that he is determined "to fight to the last." His better judgment will prevail and the slaughter of men will cease. Then will come the vexing question of pacifying the inhabitants, which may take years to accomplish, and quite a large standing army for the present at least. England has now a fine chance to show her magnanimity.

A FIGHTING PLATFORM.

The New York state Democrats have selected the delegates to Kansas City and outlined the following platform, with Hill and Croker on the delegation

"The Democracy of New York favor the nomination of William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska for president of the United States.

"We express our unqualified opposition to those immense combinations of capital commonly known as 'trusts,' which are concentrating and monopolizing industry and business, crushing out independent producers of limited means, destroying competition, restricting opportunities for labor, artificially limiting production and raising prices.

"We favor both gold and silver as the standard money of the country.

"We are opposed to that foreign policy of the present national administration, commonly known as 'imperialism,' which contemplates schemes of conquest and the establishment of colonial governments in accordance with British theories.

"We demand that our solemn ante war pledges made by congress to Cuba and to the world should be speedily fulfilled in good faith.

"Our plain duty is to abolish all custom tariffs between the United States and Porto Rico and give her products free access to our markets."

The reaffirmation of the Chicago platform was defeated 33 to 7.

HAIR WEALTH

Wealth of hair is wealth indeed, especially to a woman. Every other physical attraction is secondary to it. We have a book we will gladly send you that tells just how to care for the hair.

If your hair is too thin or losing its luster, get —

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

Growth becomes vigorous and all dandruff is removed.

It always restores color to gray or faded hair. Retain your youth; don't look old before your time.

$1 00 a bottle. All druggists.

"I have used your Hair Vigor now for about 25 years and I have found it splendid and satisfactory in every way. I believe I have recommended this Hair Vigor to hundreds of my friends, and they all tell the same story. If anybody wants the best kind of a Hair Vigor I shall certainly recommend to them just as strongly as I can that they get a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor."

Mrs. N. E. HAMILTON,
Nov. 28, 1898. Norwich, N. Y.

Write the Doctor.

If you don't obtain all the benefits you desire from the use of the Vigor, write the Doctor about it. Address,

DR. J. C. AYER,
Lowell, Mass.

THE PLAYERS' VACATION.

Viola Allen will go to a Long Island farm.

Mr. and Mrs. James K. Hackett will camp out in the Adirondacks.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sothern will be among the European travelers.

Modjeska has already sought her California ranch home near San Diego.

Miss Nethersole will take a much needed rest at her beautiful home in England.

Ada Rehan will spend a portion of the summer at her English country residence.

Alice Nielsen will go to her ranch on the Pacific slope and later may take a trip to Honolulu.

Maude Adams will go abroad for a few weeks, but later will take a month's rest on her Long Island farm.

May Irwin will divide her time between Irwin island, in the Thousand isles, and Paris, going first to the exposition city.

Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Goodwin will recuperate under English skies, spending the entire summer at Jackwood, the residence they have owned for two years. Miss Gertrude Elliott will be with them.

THE SICK MAN.

The sick man of Turkey doesn't even try to cough up.—Minneapolis Times.

Sultan Abdul Hamid is at least thrifty in starting his war taxes in advance of the war.—Philadelphia Ledger.

If Uncle Sam wants to find out what his Turkish claim is worth, let him try to sell it.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

When it comes to standing off a dun, Turkey shows up as the smoothest artist in the entire dead bent gallery.—Kansas City Times.

Turkey wants, it is said, to "settle the matter quietly." The quiet way is to pay the bill and say no more about it.—Buffalo News.

Perhaps the sultan has a curiosity to see if the American brand of ultimatum differs materially from the European brand.—Kansas City Journal.

If it is true that our charge d'affaires at Constantinople has handed the porte a peremptory note, the next thing we shall probably hear is that the sultan has had the note discounted.—Newark Advertiser.

THE ROYAL BOX.

The literary proclivities of King Oscar of Norway and Sweden moved him while in London the other day to leave his card on Swinburne and Henry James.

Count Elemer Lonyay will be unable to take his bride, the Crown Princess Stephanie, to his home after the honeymoon, as his castle at Bodwag Olaszi has just been burned down.

The health of the young king of Spain will necessitate his leaving Spain earlier than usual this year. Accompanied by the queen regent, he will in a few days go to Covandonga, in Asturia.

Abdurrahman Kahn, the ameer of Afghanistan, who is now trying to get more money by playing the Russians off against the English, is already receiving from the latter people $1,000,000 a year.

Don't Stop

taking Scott's Emulsion because it's warm weather. Keep taking it until you are cured.

It will heal your lungs and give you rich blood in summer as in winter. It's cod liver oil made easy.

50c. and $1. All druggists.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

Good and great men represent the architecture of good and great thoughts, of noble and pure ideas.—Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, Congregationalist, Brooklyn.

Spring of All Actions.

The heart is the spring of all our actions, and the state of the heart determines the character of the action.—Rev. Dr. H. W. Provence, Baptist, Montgomery, Ala.

Loyalty to Christ.

Be loyal to Christ and his truth, and God will be loyal to you. Be patient. The relief is approaching. Christ's triumph is near. God reigns. God loves.—Rev. Carl W. Scovel, Presbyterian, St. Paul.

Need of Personal Responsibility.

What our age needs more than anything else is an increased sense of responsibility. We must each do our share if the world is to be regenerated.—Rev. J. K. Brennan, Episcopalian, St. Louis.

Patience.

Patience is not the product of fair weather. We don't come to patience by being swung in the hammock of a rainbow or by walking with golden sandals on the sunny side of life.—Rev. J. R. Shannon, Methodist, Toledo.

Reunion in Heaven.

One of the sweetest expectations of heaven is reunion with the loved ones who have gone before, and this very instinct is a proof that one day our desire shall be realized.—Rev. Dr. M. B. Chapman, Methodist, Kansas City.

Sacredness in Work.

A man's profession is sacred. He ought not to have a profession which is not sacred. Even the business of the clerk is sacred. His figures are telling for righteousness, and in that measure he is accomplishing what Jesus would do.—Rev. M. E. Harlan First Church of Christ, Brooklyn.

Need of God's Spirit in the Church.

Nothing short of a complete subjection of the church to the spirit of God, which will lead her to a readjustment of the whole present plan of working, will justify her boast and prophecy of converting all men and purifying the fountains of political and social life.—Rev. Howard MacAyeal, Congregationalist, St. Louis.

Perfect Religious Life.

The perfect religious life is not to be found by hiding ourselves away from the responsibilities of citizenship and of the home, but by throwing ourselves into the struggle of humanity, sacrificing ourselves to help our fellows and putting the highest, purest motives into our humblest toil.—Dr. Camden M. Cobern, Episcopalian, Denver.

Christ's Religion.

If my religion can teach me to live without a regret, it will also enable me to die without a fear. That kind of religion covers the career of the soul from the moment of birth until it safely lands on another shore, where it will find something grander to believe and something better to do.—Rev. George H. Hepworth, Congregationalist, New York.

Goodness Inspires Love.

A man who is honest and virtuous only by the exercise of an iron will may command our respect, but he never has our love. The one out of whom goodness is reflected like a light is the one who inspires love. It is not enough to be good; to be beautifully good is necessary to make virtue attractive.—M. M. Mangasarian, Society Ethical Culture, Chicago.

Keep True to God and Christ.

Life is your workday; toil is your business. Trim and train yourself, kill your evil tendencies, cherish every noble inclination. Take yourself in hand, keep in touch with the beautiful, the true, with God and Christ. Heaven and the angels are above you. Prayer will bring both angels and heaven closer day by day.—Rev. George H. Hepworth, Congregationalist, New York.

Parents as Molders of Children's Fortunes.

Whatever it shall be—whether lives of moral beauty and power or the opposite—lies largely in the hands of the parents. Every parent can become the fortune teller and also the fortune maker of his own children. It is your privilege now in advance to write their histories and put in them what you will.—Rev. Josephus Stephan, Methodist, St. Louis.

Work For Mankind.

All mankind should work. Work is the order of God, the law of nature. Achievement is the glory of man, and we are essentially a working people. True, there exist various kinds of working people, but what we need and must have is the man with the hoe and the woman with the needle. That is what constructs and preserves a republic.—Mrs. Vandalia Varnum Thomas, People's Church, Chicago.

Religion in Business.

Let the employer, as a religious duty, favor the participation in all profits, in fair proportion, of all those who have been instrumental in producing the profits. Let the employee recognize the necessity of honest and true work, whether he likes his employer or not. Then will mutual respect and co-operation be promoted to the advancement of the best interests of all labor.—Rev. Dr. William White Wilson, Episcopal, Chicago.

The Christian's Responsibility.

A great responsibility rests on the Christian man and woman as they go out into the world. Out there you are in a sublime sense the ministers of Christ. In your business or your profession, in society, you preach to the people with an influence beyond compute. The flavor of your character, the method of your speech, the sacredness of your thought unseen but always present are such influences upon humanity.—Rev. Dr. Madison, Methodist, Denver.

"Seeing is Believing."

When you see people cured by a remedy, you must believe in its power. Look around you. Friends, relatives, neighbors all say that Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Medicine, cleansed the blood of their dear ones and they rise en masse to sing its praises. There's nothing like it in the world to purify the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Different.

"So you've invented an airship?" said the skeptical friend.

"Yes," answered the high-browed young man.

"You're aware, of course, that a great many airships have been invented—in fact, that they are being invented all the time?"

"Yes. But I have a new idea, different from all the rest. Mine isn't cigar shaped."—Washington Star.

Could Take His Choice.

Oklahoma Landlord—Sorry, pardner, an' all that; but thar hain't no bathroom in this hotel. I'm sorter figurin' on puttin' one in next year or the year follerin', an'— Hypercritical Tourist—Thunder and Mars! I don't want to take a bath year after next.

Landlord (calmly)—Wu-al, you don't have to; you kin do without.—Judge.

The Irony of Fate.

That wealth has its grievances many have heard.
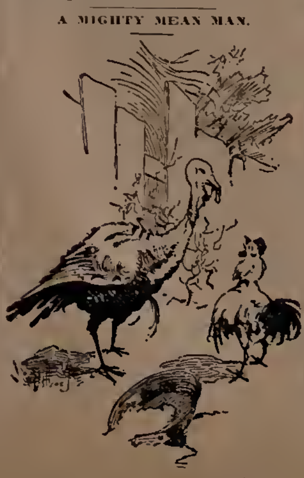
'Tis a fact which is sad beyond question
That the man who can purchase the heaviest bird
Has often the lightest digestion.
—Washington Star.

A MIGHTY MEAN MAN.



Rooster—Did you say anything rude to the cook?

Turkey—No. Why?

Rooster—He says he's going to cut you dead when he sees you Christmas eve.—Detroit Free Press.

A Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost me $5 00 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason's drug store.

No Chance About It.

Parson Jackson—Am yo' suah yo' didn't acquiah dat tuhkey in a game ob chance?

Mose Mokeby—Dead suah, pahson! I used mah own dice.—Town Topics.

Street Incident.

"My dear sir," exclaimed Lawyer Bartholomew Livingston, meeting the Rev. Dr. Archibald Windham on the village street, "What does this mean? I thought you were laid up with all sorts of bad diseases?"

"And so I was," replied the reverend gentlemen, "I had an attack of indigestion and from that time on my whole system has been in a disordered condition until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla which has put me on my feet and cured all my stomach troubles."

"I don't doubt it," said the lawyer. "This same medicine cured my wife of rheumatism and my little girl of scrofula. When they say it's the best medicine money can buy, they only tell the truth."

"Yes, yes, so they do," replied the minister, and the two passed on.

Entitled to Consideration.

The Judge—You must stop these interruptions! I won't allow you to waste the time of the court!

The Prisoner—But, my lord, you know I have got no lawyer to do it for me.—Tit-Bits.

Does Coffee Agree With You?

If not, drink Grain-O—made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain-O I did not like it, but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." The children can drink it freely with great benefit. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 15c. and 25c.

To Mothers in This Town.

Children who are delicate, feverish and cross will get immediate relief from Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children. They cleanse the stomach, act on the liver, making a sickly child strong and healthy. A certain cure for worms. Sold by all druggists, 25c; sample free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Have a Boiled Dinner

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Smoked Bacon, strip	10c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Spinach, peck	25c
Flank	6c	Dandelion	30c
Smoked Shoulders	8c	Lettuce, each	8c
Radishes, bunch	5c

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe1-ly8

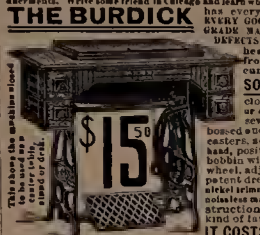
SEND NO MONEY WITH YOUR ORDER, cut this ad. out and send to us and we will send you OUR HIGH GRADE DROP CABINET BURDICK SEWING MACHINE by freight, C.O.D. subject to examination. You can examine it at your nearest freight depot and if found perfectly satisfactory, exactly as represented, equal to machines others sell as high as $60.00, and THE GREATEST BARGAIN YOU EVER HEARD OF, pay your freight agent our Special Offer Price $15.50 and freight charges. Machine weighs 120 pounds and the freight will average 75 cents for each 500 miles. GIVE IT THREE MONTHS TRIAL in your own home, and we will return your $15.50 any day you are not satisfied. We sell different makes and grades of Sewing Machines at $8.50, $10.00, $11.00, $12.00 and up, all fully described in our Free Sewing Machine Catalogue, but $15.50 for this DROP DESK CABINET BURDICK is the greatest value ever offered by any house.

$15.50

This illustration shows the machine open, ready for use.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS by unknown concerns who copy our advertisements, offering unknown machines under various names, with various inducements. Write some friend in Chicago and learn who are reliable and who are not.

THE BURDICK has every MODERN IMPROVEMENT, EVERY GOOD POINT OF EVERY HIGH GRADE MACHINE MADE, WITH THE DEFECTS OF NONE. Made by the best makers in America, from the best material money can buy.



$15.50

This shows the machine closed to be used as a center table, stand or desk.

SOLID QUARTER SAWED OAK DROP DESK CABINET, piano polished. One illustration shows machine closed (head dropping from sight) to be used as a center table, stand or desk, the other open with full length table and head in place for sewing. 4 fancy drawers, latest 1899 skeleton frame, carved, paneled, embossed and decorated cabinet finish, finest nickel drawer pulls, rests on four casters, adjustable treadle, genuine Smyth iron stand. Finest large High Arm head, positive four motion feed, self threading vibrating shuttle, automatic bobbin winder, adjustable bearings, patent tension liberator, improved loose wheel, adjustable pressure foot, improved shuttle carrier, patent needle bar, patent dress guard, head is handsomely decorated and ornamented and beautifully nickel trimmed. GUARANTEED the lightest running, most durable and nearest noiseless machine made. Every known attachment is furnished and our Free Instruction Book tells just how anyone can run it and do either plain or any kind of fancy work. A 20-Years' Binding Guarantee is sent with every machine.

IT COSTS YOU NOTHING to see and examine this machine, compare it with those your storekeeper sells at $40.00 to $60.00, and then if convinced that you are saving $25.00 to $40.00, pay your freight agent the $15.50. WE TO RETURN YOUR $15.50 if at any time within three months you say you are not satisfied. ORDER TO-DAY. DON'T DELAY. (Sears, Roebuck & Co. are thoroughly reliable.—Editor.)

Address, SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. (Inc.) Chicago, Ill.

PATENTS GUARANTEED

Our fee returned if we fail. Any one sending sketch and description of any invention will promptly receive our opinion free concerning the patentability of same. "How to Obtain a Patent" sent upon request. Patents secured through us advertised for sale at our expense.

Patent taken out through us receive special notice, without charge, in THE PATENT RECORD, an illustrated and widely circulated journal, consulted by Manufacturers and Investors.

Send for sample copy FREE. Address,

VICTOR J. EVANS & CO.,
(Patent Attorneys,)
Evans Building, - WASHINGTON, D. C.

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPH

Better than a Piano, Organ, or Music Box, for it sings and talks as well as plays, and don't cost as much. It reproduces the music of any instrument—band or orchestra—tells stories and sings—the old familiar hymns as well as the popular songs—it is always ready. See that Mr. Edison's signature is on every machine. Catalogues of all dealers, or NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 135 Fifth Ave., New York.

mh1-eow

News and Opinions OF National Importance.

THE SUN ALONE CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

SAVINGS BANK.

FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, CHAS. J. McKENZIE, Vice-Presidents.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, Chas. J. McKenzie, E. P. Chapman, Charles Stewart, George W. Wiggin.

STATEMENT MAY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$559,245 21
Guarantee Fund		27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account		6,268 80
Interest Account		8,831 98
Real Estate Income Account		184 23
Tax account		32 2[illegible]
		$602,315 35

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,759 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		6,350 00
" " Mortgages		116,310 04
" " Personal Securities		114,870 86
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Bank Books		1,500 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		735 27
Bank Furniture		100 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$10,919 15
Nat. Bank of Redemption	9,018 65
Mercantile Trust Co	12,075 38
		32,013 18
Cash on hand		2,074 97
		$602,315 35

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

CHAS. J. McKENZIE,
Committee of Examination.

June 6, 1900.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less, -	10c
5 to 15 miles, - -	15c
15 to 25 " - -	20c
25 to 35 " - -	25c
35 to 45 " - -	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25tf

J. A. GEB.

House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE,
McCARTHY STREET.

22-1y

OUR $1.50 ANTI FAT BELT

For $1.50 we furnish the celebrated BROWN'S ABDOMINAL BELT for the cure of CORPULENCY.

Corpulent people who wear the Brown's Abdominal Belt run no risk of Navel Rupture or Umbilical Hernia; you get a comfort and ease of action you will appreciate. No corpulent person can afford to be without this belt. Cut this Ad. out and send to us with $1.50 and 10 cents extra for postage, state height, weight, age and number inches around the body, largest part, and we will send the belt to you by mail postpaid, with the understanding that if it is not perfectly satisfactory and equal to belts that retail at $3.00 and upwards you can return it at our expense. Write for free Belt and Truss Catalogue.

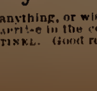
SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO., CHICAGO

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH

PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

m25-4w



PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

je8-4w

If you want to buy or sell anything! have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE BEST OF ALL.

As down the stream of life we glide,
And vistas open far and wide
Along the way.
We seek the pleasures of the hour
And, like the bee from flower to flower,
Live our life's day.

Or else perchance by care opprest
Or weary work we seek for rest
When day is done.
Whate'er our imperfections be
No perfect man on earth we see,
Ah, no, not one.

And so, contented with our lot,
A peaceful mind and humble cot,
From envy free,
Ne'er strive with human pride to cope,
But wend our way with faith and hope
And charity.
—C. S. Kingsland.

The Scarlet Spider.

Whether They Skated In Winter or Swung In a Hammock In Summer, They Were Caught In Its Web.

"Love, the scarlet spider, will in a night hang between two that have been apart a web too fine for either to see, but the strength of both will never be able to break it."

Who was he? She hardly knew. A partner. She thought of him as nothing else. All the women were given partners as a matter of course.

"Dick," their host had said, "will you have the goodness to look after my niece, Miss Blynn? Edith, let me present Mr. Kirkland." They bowed. They could not well see one another's face there in the starlight. It was a skating party at Lake Geneva, Wis., and two big companies had come down for a week of winter sports, throwing open the houses which ordinarily knew the sound of human voices only in the summer time. The two parties met the first evening after dinner on the ice. It was cloudy, with rifts of indigo where the stars showed, and there was a gusty, cold wind from the west. Now the ice looked bright. A silver ribbon would appear to stretch itself out waveringly, now it was shadowy and mysterious.

Miss Blynn held out her hand automatically to the man to whom she had been introduced.

"I see your skates are on," she said indifferently. "So are mine. Let us skate rather slowly with a long sweep."

A band began to play in the boathouse by the shore.

"I didn't know we were to have music. It is a waltz. Now I am ready, Mr. Kirkland."

He took her mittened hand in his firm grasp. They moved slowly and easily down the gleaming floor. They crossed the silver ribbon and entered the shadows.

"We shall presently be out of sound of the music," protested Miss Blynn gently. Not that she cared; she and her new companion were moving along with perfect rhythm.

"Perhaps if we listen hard we shall hear the music of the spheres," he said.

"The shadows are black," she remarked, "and the wind is cold. After all this is too serious for pleasure. It is hard to be frivolous in a place like this. See how forbidding the trees look on the shore and how solemn and menacing the sky is. This is a sermon—this winter night—or it is a tragedy. Let us go back to the house where the lights are burning."

"There is a fire in the boathouse. I heard your uncle say coffee was to be served there. But if you are too much oppressed I wish you would listen to the tragedy a little longer."

"Listen to it?" I look at it. It is a tragedy for the eyes, not for the ears." They swung along together with fine momentum. They were conscious of their youth and strength and vigor. Miss Blynn gave voice to her thoughts in an indirect fashion.

"Some people," she said, "are old and weary and sit by the fire and wonder if the winter will never pass."

They both laughed at this—it made a harmonious but startling duet, that laughter, and it echoed from the wooded shore.

"Some people," he responded, "go to winter and drag him out of his den, and shake him out of his sulks and make him dance like a trained bear." They laughed again, though neither of them had been witty.

"I have been skating with you an hour," said he at length, "and I have not an idea of how you look."

"I have been skating with you an hour," she retorted, "and I do not know whether you have red curls or black elf locks."

"Come to the boathouse," he suggested, "and see."

They went in where the fire crackled and where their friends stood in groups drinking coffee and chatting. He undid his cap with its ear laps; she untied her scarlet velvet hood. What she beheld was a young man of 24 or 25, with deep set gray eyes, a dark skin, dark hair, heavy brows, a smooth face and a large sensitive mouth.

What he beheld was a woman with a snow white skin, black eyes, melancholy and timid in their expression; a high brow, abundant dark hair and a mouth that, essentially serious, broke into unexpected illuminating smiles.

"It would be rude of me to say what a service the light has done me," he said stupidly.

"The light has told me a number of things," she responded daringly.

"What?" he importuned.

"That you have been a student, loving solitude; that you are melancholy oftener than you are merry, and that you like a good book better than a good friend."

"No, no; not the last!"

She laughed and took the cup of coffee he offered her. He took note of her gray skating frock, with its edging of black fur, of her scarlet velvet vest and little hood and the white, pensive face peering above her voluminous boa. She fell to talking with some others, and presently she flashed up to him for a second.

"I was rude to you with my personal comments," she said under her breath, speaking quickly. "Please forgive me. I knew at the time that I was doing wrong."

Before he could get over thinking how quaint a speech this was she was gone. He saw her no more that night.

There was nothing, it would seem, in this brief association to keep him waking till dawn. There was nothing to make her hold her fingers close upon her eyes as if to shut out a vision. The mystery remains always beyond explanation. There is no definition to the magic word; there is no fashion in which the necromancy can be accounted for.

The morning found him eager to see her and found her wondering by what means she could avoid him. There was ice boating, and while he searched for her he saw her flying by in one of the skimming craft, sitting erect and fearless while the great white boat took to itself the wings of a reckless bird.

In the afternoon there was a musical, and he saw her sitting, demure and sober, in a corner where he could not reach her, and later, at dinner, in all the witchery of her gleaming toilet of white, he had the sorry satisfaction of glimpsing her as she went down to dinner with another man.

In the evening she seemed to flit before his eyes like a will-o'-the-wisp. He could never get near enough to speak. He gave up at length and went away angry and hurt, and the next morning a telegram came calling him back to town. He said to himself that he would meet her somewhere, though he was quite aware that her life was much more given up to fashionable pleasures than his own. But the winter wore away, and he met her nowhere. He could not think of trying to call upon her. She had not asked him to do so. She had seemed not to care for him after that first night, but accuse himself as he might of having been an infatuated fool he could not rid himself of the idea that for a few hours his soul was nearer to hers than it had ever been to that of any other human being. To be sure, their happiness and sweet intimacy had been hidden under badinage and an affectation of indifference, but they were there, all the same.

Summer came.

"I shall see her at the lake," said Kirkland, and he put himself in the way of being invited up, but she was not at her uncle's house. She had gone to the Canadian lakes with an English family. Kirkland concluded that he ought to see Canada. A man really had no business gadding off to the other side of the world till he had seen his own continent. He went rowing on Canadian lakes and nearly lost his life, but after a fortnight's patience he found his way to the lodge where Miss Blynn's friends lived.

"Miss Blynn grew tired of our grim solitude," said her host. "She says Chicago is pleasant in the summer, though I myself have yet to see the time when I would call it pleasant, and she has gone back home to study something or other. I never knew her so studious."

"She's restless," commented Kirkland. "I wonder why?"

He put all shyness and sense of propriety behind him and determined to find out why. The morning after reaching the city he made himself gay in white duck and boldly called at her house. She was out on a porch at the rear of the severe looking city house and had made herself a miniature country seat there with palms and ferns and flowers. The hammock was moving as if she had just quitted it, but when he met her she was rising decorously from one of the chairs that surrounded a reading table littered with the midsummer magazines.

"You haven't your skates on!" she cried mockingly, extending her hand. Her eyebrows went up and came down in a funny, nervous little way and the corners of her mouth seemed tremulous.

"Is it necessary for me to have my skates on in order to recommend myself to your favor?" he inquired.

"I cannot tell," she responded, "till I see how well you converse in Oxford ties and summer ducks."

They talked nonsense like this for half an hour, but both of them were desiring to keep still and enjoy the happiness of being together again. Neither had the courage to become serious. He arose finally.

"I know how impertinent I have been in calling," he said. "It is justified only by—by my temptation."

"We can resist everything but temptation, a clever man once said," smiled Miss Blynn.

"Then I may come again?"

"You may come—in two weeks."

"I am coming in a week or not at all."

"Then let it be in a week," she laughed.

But it was not a week. It was three days.

"I've been miserable for seven months through not seeing you," he explained. "I won't stand it any longer unless you condemn me to it."

Her eyebrows went up and down in that curious way of hers.

"I shan't condemn you to it," she said, "because—well, because I came back from Canada, because—well"—

"Well, why?"

"Because it was such a long way from—from Chicago."

But something in the accent of the speech made it personal and precious to Kirkland. And he lifted her hand to his lips.—Chicago Tribune.

You May Need

Pain-Killer

For ACCIDENTS
Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Wounds, &c., &c.

It gives instant relief and cures quickly.

In case of sudden illness
Cramps
Diarrhœa
Dysentary
and
All Bowel
Complaints

it is a sure, safe and quick remedy.

There's ONLY ONE

Pain-Killer

Perry Davis'.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)

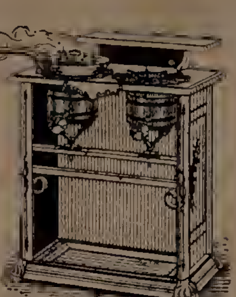
ALL DRUGGISTS.

Truly Rural.

A truly rural lover, with a truly rural cot,
Wooed a truly rural maiden all the May:
Said the truly rural lover, "Truly rural is our lot;
Let us marry in a truly rural way!"

So a truly rural wedding and a truly rural feast
Made two true truly rurals truly one.
For nought not truly rural truly cared they in the least.
Oh, two truer truly rurals there are none!

Hot meals and cool cooks



You'll not need to regulate your cooking by the thermometer when you get a Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove. On the hottest days you can cook whatever you choose, in whatever way you wish, without suffering any additional discomfort while cooking. The comfort you'll gain is only one of the advantages of using a

Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove

It is handier than a coal stove and cleaner and cheaper. The Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove is absolutely safe; it burns ordinary kerosene, without wicks and causes neither smoke, smell nor soot.

Made in various sizes for various-sized families; sold at prices to suit any sized pocketbooks—wherever stoves are sold. If the dealer does not have them, write to the

STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

Opposed to Further Change.

Cholly—I hope the Scotch dialect will not become fashionable.

Algy—I hope not, bah Jove! We had trouble enough in acquiring an English accent, doncherknow.—Brooklyn Life.

Always the Same.

Briggs—Isn't that the same suit you had last year?

Griggs—Yes, and it's the same suit you asked me last year if it wasn't the same suit that I had the year before.—N. Y. World.

What He'd Experienced.

Willie (after watching Norah peel and put to soak the potatoes for dinner)—Oh, mamma, I've just been seeing Norah take the clothes off the potatoes and give them a bath.—Judge.

Narrow Escape.

"That was a risky play we saw last night, wasn't it?"

"Well, yes; I did think the actors ran a risk of being mobbed by the audience."—Philadelphia Times.

Not Especially.

Henshaw—Do you consider opals unlucky?

Hardup—Oh, I don't know that they're pawned any more than other jewels.—N. Y. Evening Journal.

Glorious News

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile of Washita, I. T. He writes "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists. Guaranteed.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot Ease, a powder. It cures painful, smarting, swollen feet and ingrowing nails and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores; by mail for 25c. in stamps; trial package free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Too Bad for Him.

He was very tall and thin, and a facetious friend used to call him "a pedestrian competition." He stood it for some time; at last he asked: "Why?"

"Because," said the F. F., "because you always remind me of a walking-match!"—Ally Sloper

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

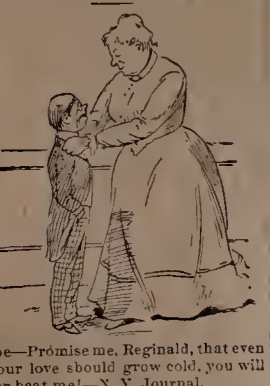
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE
Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

HARDLY PROBABLE.



She—Promise me, Reginald, that even if your love should grow cold, you will never beat me!—N. Y. Journal.

The Health Problem

Is much simpler than is sometimes supposed. Health depends chiefly upon perfect digestion and pure blood, and the problem is solved very readily by Hood's Sarsaparilla. You may keep well by taking it promptly for any stomach or blood disorder. Its cures of scrofula, salt rheum, catarrh, dyspepsia, rheumatism and other diseases are numbered by the thousands.

The favorite family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

The Christmas Package.

There is one thrill ever joyous,
Tho' we've known it oft before;
'Tis now as keen as it was last year—
The expressman's at the door!
—Chicago Record.

Bismarck's Iron Nerve

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where stomach, liver and kidneys and bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25c. at A. C. Mason & Co.'s

A Self-Conscious Estimate.

"How do you think modern American statesmanship compares with the old school?"

"Well," answered Senator Sorghum, "I'm willing to give the old fellows their due. They could write better school-book recitations than we can, but they didn't have our idea of business."—Washington Star.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. Fisher, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

Crescent House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r,

33-tf

ONLY $5.00

SEND US $5.00 as a guarantee of good faith and we will send you any fireproof safe by freight, C. O. D., subject to examination. You can examine it at your freight depot and if you find it the equal of any fire proof combination lock iron and steel safe made and about one-third the price charged by others for the same size and grade, pay your freight agent our special factory price and freight charges, less the $5.00 sent with order; otherwise return it at our expense and we will return your $5.00. 100-lb. combination lock safes for the home, $6.25; 200-lb. office and store safes, $11.85; 500 lbs., $17.25; 700 lbs., $21.25; 1000 lbs., $28.50; 1250 lbs., $32.50; very large double outside and double inside door safes for large business, factory, jewelry or bank, 50 inches high, 2400 lbs., $63.75; 68 inches high, 3000 lbs., $89.75. Freight averages 25 cents per 100 lbs. for 500 miles; for 1000 miles, 40 cents. WRITE FOR FREE SAFE CATALOGUE and special liberal C. O. D. offer.

SEARS, ROEBUCK & CO. Chicago.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

—AND CONNECTIONS.—

EASTERN DISTRICT.

Oct. 22, 1899.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 36, 4 32, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 15 a m, 5 15, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 49, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 pm. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 58, f5 21, 6 19, f7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f1 01, 5 25, 6 14, f7 28, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m. 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; 1 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 35, 6 50 p m, S 8 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Trains leave Unionville for

MILFORD—9 25 a m; 1 19, 4 37, 5 42, 6 57, S 6 44p m
FRANKLIN—6 49, 8 41, 11 28 a m; 4 03, 6 19 p m. S 8 15 a m.

GEO L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: • Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

..AND...

C.B.Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.

92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.

18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS,

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

TAKE ADVANTAGE

Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

MOTH PROOF
COPYRIGHT

Prevention Better Than Cure.

because in the case of moth it is the only remedy possible. Our Moth Balls and Camphorine will render furs and other articles of winter clothing absolutely secure against the ravages of these pests. Don't delay action where the emergency is immediate. Today, and not tomorrow, is the Moth Ball time, since mischief once done is irreparable.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.
DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

The Episcopal society is getting up a fair to be held next month ——Miss Mabel Dean entertained the Kipling club at the residence of her aunt, Mrs. Betsey, on High street, North Attleboro, on Wednesday evening. The club went down in one of N. B Webber's barges. Cards were played until a late hour, Mr. H. A. Cowell and Miss Mary Stone winning the first prizes and Mrs. M. A. Smith and Fred Blatchford the consolation prizes.——Daniel Brown has bought of James J. Newman his land bordering on Lake Pearl, and, it is reported, has leased it to the electric road company, with his Red Springs property, which he bought some time ago for a term of years, to be used by the company as a pleasure resort ——Miss Bessie Perry of Rochester, N. Y., is visiting her uncle, Lewis M. Farrington.

IMPERTINENT PERSONALS.

John James Ingalls has written a book entitled "National Oddities" and uses his own picture as a frontispiece.—Denver Post.

If King Oscar goes to Paris next month, as proposed, will he pay more attention to the French fair or to the fair French?—Boston Globe.

Rudyard Kipling's current South African effusions are neither journalism nor literature. Can no one gag him for awhile, to give his reputation a fair chance to recover?—Boston Journal.

Stephen Crane says that Mr. Markham, the poet, is "the greatest man America has ever produced." This is news to America. America was under the impression that Mr. Crane was her greatest and grandest production.—Kansas City Journal.

A woman lawyer of Chicago in defending a woman accused of vagrancy contended that the charge was absurd, as women were not intended to work. She won her case. It was delightfully characteristic, because counsel contradicted her own plea—unless, of course, the practice of law is not work.—New York Sun.

Hood's Pills

[illegible]

Give Comfort

[illegible]

Parting Compliments.

So reckless and wild was he.
The grave and reverend faculty,
Observing he had no thirst for knowledge,
One day expelled the young man from the college.

He heard, as he rode away,
A neighboring donkey's lusty bray
"'Tis the mournful goodby," he said, "of my class,
And the valedictorian, of course, is an ass."

—Chicago Tribune.

Natural History.

Sandy Pikes—When a woman shakes her head, 'tain't no use to argue any longer.

Pellrcid Pete—Same way when a bull shakes his head.—Chicago News.

Her Chin, Too, Is Indispensable.

Lots of people get through life on self assurance. Even the bearded lady of museum fame wouldn't stand much of a show if it wasn't for her cheek.—Philadelphia Record.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but skin eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them, also old, running and fever sores, ulcers, boils, felons, corns, warts, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, chapped hands, chilblains. Best pile cure on earth; drives out pains and aches. Only 25c a box; cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co, druggists.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today 10 cts.

When you say your blood is impure and appetite poor you are admitting your need of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Begin taking it at once.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

He Wasn't Afraid.

Her Papa—You must remember, sir that my daughter has been used to an atmosphere of refinement.

The Young Man—Yes, she told me the other night that the perfume she uses costs $2.40 an ounce, but I know where I can get a big discount on the same stuff.—Chicago Daily News.

THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND, with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain

Our Store is Light and Cool,

the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name

Dainty Things for Graduation

Sheer and pretty Victoria Lawn, India Linen, Plain and Dotted Swiss Muslin and Organdie from 10c. to 37 1-2c. yard.

French Lawn we can especially recommend for its firm, yet sheer and dainty quality—50 inches wide, 60c., 70c., 90c. yard.

Beautiful Ribbons and Laces. Valenciennes Lace in all qualities and widths, with insertion to match. Allover Lace, Tucking and Embroidery from 50c. to $3.50 yard.

Marston Sanborn,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.
BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

Church Services.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 3. Sunday school at 2. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10 Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M Hodge, D. D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "Can One Love One's Neighbor as Himself." Y. P. C. U. at 6.

Baptist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. F. B Sleeper, pastor; theme, "A Christless Education." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Children's day concert at 7.30.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 by S. A. Cook, pastor; subject "The American Sabbath a Holy Day or a Holiday." Sunday school at 12. Junior league at 3.00. No Epworth league service. The Sunday school will give a Children's day concert at 6.00.

Congregational church—At 10.30, Children's day services; special exercises by the Primary department. Baptism of children at 11. Address to the Sabbath school by the pastor. Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30. Floral day service at 7.30; address by the pastor on "A Trip to Alaska."

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending June 6, 1900:

Ladies—Mrs Minnie Arnold, Mrs. John Madden, Miss Alice Whittier.

Gentlemen—Bliss Chapman, Martin V. B Kant, William Metcalf, Peter H. Moran (2), S. A. Peatley, Wm. M. Reinhardt, G. W. Sawyer

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

YOU WILL FIND AT
CROWNINSHIELD'S STORE
Glass, Tin, Granite, Copper, Crockery and Wooden Ware, Croquet Sets, Carts, Brooms, Brushes, Oil Stoves, Chimneys, Window Screens, Baskets, Tea, Coffee and Baking Powder, 5c. and 10c. Goods—a fine line.
No. 2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4mS

At WOODWARD'S
every description of
INSURANCE
can be placed. This AGENCY
officially represents the
LEADING
American and Foreign
COMPANIES.
F A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.
my4-1yF

The Alphabet Advertiser

A for apricots, both dried and canned,
B for biscuits of all the best brands,
C for crackers and clams for chowder,
D for doughnuts and Dalmation powder,
E for extracts of Baker's best make,
F for fish that will make fine fish cakes,
G for groceries kept neat and in shape,
H for honey to eat on wheat cakes,
I for Indian corn meal and ink,
J for fruit juice for a summer drink,
K for Kennedy, whose goods we stand by,
L for lemons that make a nice pie,
M for mince meat, molasses and mace,
N for Nestle's, whose milk suits the taste,
O for onions, a sure cure for the croup
P for potatoes to eat in your soup,
Q for Quaker, those rolled oats so nice,
R for raisins for puddings and rice,
S for sugar, sand soap and saleratus,
T for tubs, tapioca and tomatoes,
U for undoubtedly the cheapest in town,
V for vinegar as sour as can be found,
W for with hazel that makes one strong,
X for Xebec, a vessel it was used on,
Y for yeast that will raise bread best,
Z for zeal in which we stand the test.

C. L. FALES, Grocer.

no17-F

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, SS.
PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Edwin J Pond, late of Providence, in the State of Rhode Island, deceased, intestate.

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Metcalf E. Pond of Franklin, or to some other suitable person,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on Thursday, the 5th day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this 6th day of June, A D. 1900.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

je8,15,22

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Henry Bemis, late of Franklin, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

HENRY E. RUGGLES, Executor.
Address Franklin, Mass.
May 31st, 1900. je1,8,15

MEN OF MARK.

General MacArthur escaped death in the battle of Kenesaw owing to a package of letters which he carried in the bosom of his coat.

Senator Depew, an excellent authority on gastronomy, asserts that a banquet costing more than $2 a plate is likely to be a very stupid affair.

Fred Titus, who has gained fame in the theatrical world as the husband of Edna May, has secured a position on the New York police force.

Lieutenant Governor Woodruff of New York took occasion to tell some Brooklyn ladies to whom he was making a speech that he was 42 years of age.

George Croall of Edinburgh is the only survivor of the theatrical fund dinner of 1827 at which Sir Walter Scott proclaimed himself the author of "Waverley."

Ex-Senator Sherman of Ohio had intended to visit the Paris exposition this summer, but on the advice of his physician he will remain quietly at his old home in Mansfield.

The will of the late Samuel Howard of Milwaukee leaves practically his whole estate, valued at $200,000, in trust for the support and education of orphan children. He had no near relatives.

General Ludlow has appointed First Lieutenant H. E. Aultman, Second artillery, United States army, as census enumerator for all posts and stations within the geographical limits of the department of Havana.

Secretary Long is looking forward with pleasure to his summer vacation at his old home in Buckfield, Me. Last year he spent some of his time in manufacturing three rustic chairs. He cut the wood and fashioned the chairs himself.

Senator Pettus makes a traveling desk of his big slouch hat. When he starts out in the morning, he fills his hat with letters and papers. He distributes them in sections as he visits the White House and the departments, but the old slouch hat is still bulging with documents when he reaches the senate.

Isaiah C. Wears, colored, of Philadelphia, whose death at the age of 79 years is announced, was elected in 1840 a member of the first suffrage convention ever held by colored men. In 1865 he was elected as the Philadelphia representative in the first national suffrage convention held by the freedmen after the civil war.

Moses W. Richardson of Boston has built and equipped a handsome inn in Templeton Center, Mass., which he has given to the town. He spent his boyhood in the town and long cherished a purpose to do something to benefit it. He found, however, that it already possessed an excellent library and school building, so he concluded that a model hotel would be most appropriate.

THE RED ABOVE THE GREEN.

The London papers incline to the belief that Salisbury forgot to remove his hat before he made his last speech.—New York World.

It is increasingly and sadly evident that Lord Salisbury's usefulness to the British empire is nearly over.—New York Times.

Lord Salisbury evidently wants the Irish Home Rulers to cherish no illusions on the strength of the queen's visit to the Emerald Isle.—New York Tribune.

In his Primrose league address the prime minister of England did an unusual thing for a diplomat. He spoke the truth. He deliberately declared that home rule for Ireland is a delusion and a myth and maligned the memory of the great statesman, Gladstone, the latchets of whose shoes Salisbury was never worthy to loosen.—Boston Traveler.

Salisbury's latest speech is a brutal challenge to Ireland, a formal notice that if it ever expects a liberal measure of autonomy it will have to fight for it. But Ireland is not foolish enough to accept that challenge. It knows the Salisbury ministry cannot last forever and that it does not represent popular English sentiment concerning Ireland.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Carelessness with matches is rebuked in a shocking manner by the fatal accident to the wife of General Wilson of Matanzas, Cuba. The modern match cracks like a torpedo when it is stepped upon and flashes like a miniature torch.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

BUG DEATH...
A NON-POISONOUS POWDER.

Is sure death to potato, squash and cucumber bugs, currant and tomato worms, and other plant and vine-eating pests. It is a benefit to the plant and the man. Freely used, the better the plant will thrive. For potatoes when blight is prevalent the extra yield will more than pay all expense of Bug Death.

1 lb. pkg, 15c. 3 lbs., 35c. 5 lbs., 50c. 12 1-2 lbs., $1.

Perfection Shaker, 50c.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist.
PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Are You That One?
LOOKING FOR LATEST STYLES IN FIGURED LAWNS,
DIMITIES or
FANCY GINGHAMS?
CALL AND EXAMINE EARLY.
N. C. NYE,
FLETCHER BLOCK.

THINGS THAT ARE NOW IN DEMAND.
WITH FOLLOWING LOW PRICES:

Window Screens, each	19
Screen Doors, all sizes, 6.6 to 7 ft., complete	$1.45
2-Burner Oil Stoves, each	95
4-Burner Oil Stoves, each	1.90
2-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each	1.48
3-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each	1.73
4-Quart Ice Cream Freezers, each	1.98
Watering Cans, 6 quarts, each	30
3 Oil Stove Wicks for	5

SPECIAL--5 gallons Oil for 55c.
Fresh Berries, Dandelions and Spinach received daily.

Bresnahan Grocery Co.
fe9-4m

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF
SEEDS! SEEDS!

All the 5c packages of GARDEN SEEDS we sell for 3c., two 5c., or 25c. per dozen. These Seeds are new this year, direct from the CLEVELAND SEED CO.

All kinds of FLOWER SEEDS, 5c. and 10c. per package.

All other kinds of Garden Seeds at the lowest prices—HOLTON, MAINE, EARLY ROSE, HEBRONS, NEW QUEENS.

Before buying your Seeds come and see what we can do for you.

McKinnon's Grocery Store,
CENTRAL SQUARE.

A HOME...
If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...
what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...
per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary
Summer St., Franklin, Mass.
ap27S

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,
Jewelers and Opticians
160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.

de1-Fly

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, SS.
PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Erasmus A. Pond, late of Rutland, Vermont, having estate in said county, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Metcalf E. Pond of Franklin or to some other suitable person,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the twentieth day of June, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this 22d day of May, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

my25,je1,8

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, SS.
PROBATE COURT.

To the next-of-kin and all persons interested in the estate of Philip Dolan of Franklin, in said county, an insane person:

Whereas, John Dolan, the guardian of said ward, has presented his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, certain real estate therein specified of his ward for his support,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the fifth day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each of you fourteen days at least before said court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this fifth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

je8,15,22

Hattie M Fisher

1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 47. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, JUNE 12, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Citation	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 "
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 A. M.
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.05 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.30 "
North South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.
MATTHEW F. CONROY, P. M.
Franklin, Mass., June 17, 1898.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Go to Dean tonight.

Next Sunday will be children's day at the Universalist church.

Mrs. M. H. Pearson of Newburyport is visiting at C. W. Stewart's.

Miss Mattie Fisher left today for her usual summer stay at Onset.

Mrs Charles Whiting arrived home from Milwaukee yesterday morning.

William Rockwood has received $5 from the state for the loss of his cow.

Master Robbie Thayer has returned from his school at Cornwall on-the-Hudson.

C. M. Butman is connecting his business block near the bridge with the new sewer.

Frederick L. Farnum is spending a short time here while convalescing, and will go to Nantucket shortly for the summer.

The Hustlers defeated the Wrentham High school nine, 20 to 12, Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. Burke of Rockland spent Sunday with the latter's parents here.

Amos P. Woodward is recovering from his recent illness and has gone to Ware for ten days.

Miss Sadie Sullivan entertained Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Griffin of Medfield on Sunday.

Miss Jessie Hosie is spending a couple of months with relatives in Buffalo and Liberty, N. Y.

Dr. G. A. Martin shot four and Mrs. Martin two bears on their recent hunting trip in New Brunswick.

Miss Caroline Rockwood is spending a few days at Norton, enjoying the Wheaton commencement.

Charles Whitney has left the High school, having accepted a position in the telegraph office at Fairmount.

S. H. Barrett has removed his family, father, mother and sister to Milford. J. H. Barrett accompanied them.

Fred. and Rupert Bent of Marblehead and James Bent of Everett are visiting their sister, Mrs. Wesley J. Beckett.

Mrs. Edwin Childs of Highlandville is spending two weeks with his sister, Mrs. Joseph Snodgrass, of Crescent street.

Frank Conti and the Misses Norena and Amelia Conti of Boston were guests at the home of R. Fiorani on Sunday.

Mrs Lucy E. Case pioneer to the Freedmen under the American Missionary association is the guest of Miss Emma C. Ware.

Bert Connor and Herbert Griffin are among the new conductors who have recently gone into service on the street railway.

George Barnes and sister, Miss Effie, of the Bellevue House, Intervale, N. H., have been visiting Maud and Ursula Lincoln for a few days.

There is a good deal of interest among members over the golf contest to be played on the Country club links on Saturday afternoon.

The New England telephone company is to establish a pay station at North Bellingham at once. It will be connected with the Franklin circuit.

The United Workmen expect an unusually pleasant time on Thursday evening, as a visiting team from out of town is expected here to confer the degrees.

There was a large attendance at the Bemis auction yesterday afternoon, and Auctioneer Corson managed to hustle off the goods in a lively and satisfactory manner.

Conductor Mathes has been laid off of the Boston Providence train for a number of weeks by sickness. His place is now taken by Conductor Murphy of Norfolk.

The Grange meeting will be held on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in Grange hall. Subject, Pomona, Flora and Ceres night entertainment; work, third and fourth degrees.

Conductor James M. Morrissey of the Boston Elevated street railway has resigned to accept a similar position on the Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket street railway.

Thursday afternoon Miss Pearl Jacobs, teacher at one of the Nason street schools, took her scholars from 2 to 5 on a geography lesson to places of interest in and about Unionville.

The remains of Benjamin Chamberlain, who died at Wrentham on Saturday, were brought here for interment in the Union street cemetery today. The deceased was 86 years of age.

The attractions at Indian Rock park on Saturday, arranged by Worthley & Co., promise to attract a large number, as base ball, bicycling and horse racing are among the list of attractions.

"Uncle Nate" Arnold attended the Odd Fellows' parade in Providence last week and reports it a decided success. He went all of the way by trolley, by way of Woonsocket and Pawtucket.

Norfolk lodge of the N. E. O. P. meets tomorrow evening and two candidates will be initiated. Business of importance is to come before the lodge and all members are requested to be present.

The public meeting of the Greenhalge Literary society will be held next Friday evening, at 7.45, in the main room of the Horace Mann High school building. A very pleasing program will be given. All are cordially invited to attend.

A. D. Thayer sent his land locked friends here a sample of his catch last week, being no less than a 10 1-4 pound salmon which he captured in Maine waters. It was a beauty and must have furnished fine sport in the catching.

Charles Guild, employed as clerk in Emerson's, has resigned his position to go into business for himself in Somerville. Frank Foote, a former resident, has moved his family here from Boston and taken Mr. Guild's place in Emerson's market.

A good sized party of the young people went to Lake Pearl Thursday evening to enjoy the dance and social hour at that place. The evening was cool enough for comfortable exercise. A band concert by the Franklin band is announced for this evening at the lake.

The last rail was laid on the Medway bridge yesterday and the remainder of the girder rails were brought here to finish the track laying from the brick school house down to Emmons street. A car is expected to run today as far as the rails are laid, to the brick school house.

The fence surrounding the residence of Mrs. Cotton on Main and Depot streets has been spiked on the top in order to prevent loungers from sitting thereon who are either waiting for a car or are out for an airing on Main street, and who have made this particular spot a loafing place.

Rev. Messrs. Shenk and Cook are going to Europe this summer, making the trip together, and enjoying the Paris exposition. Rev. Mr. Shenk will preach at the Methodist church here the Sunday previous to his departure, June 24, sailing the next day. They will be absent about two months.

Cards are out announcing that "Mr. and Mrs. Edgar K. Ray will give in marriage their daughter, Eleanor, to Mr. Edward G. Brœnniman, on Monday, June the eighteenth, at 12 o'clock, at Elm Farm, Unionville, Massachusetts." They will be "at home" at Hotel St. Andrew, New York City, after Oct. 1.

The new Boston-New York flier went through here yesterday morning a couple of minutes late, the running time between Boston and here being thirty-eight minutes. The train was fairly well patronized, considering it was the first train. It is still hoped that Franklin will be made one of the regular stops.

High street is being concreted, and it is understood that the residents on School street hill are arranging to have their property thus attended to. It is not unlikely the town will concrete the walk in front of the William M. Thayer school house, the Baptist people are to have some laid and Mrs. Farnum will have her walk concreted.

Conductor McCarthy made his first trip on the 9.17 train west yesterday. The familiar call of Conductor Cowell, who had the run for so many years, of "Blackstone, Putnam, Willimantic, Hartford, Waterbury, Danbury, Newburgh and Poughkeepsie, Middletown, New Haven and New York," was decidedly missed, as the new conductor did not indulge in the refrain.

While F. W. Howland and family were away one day last week someone visited the farm on Prospect street, South Franklin, and gathered in about 100 small chickens. The exact number could not be told and the owner has several hundred in all. There were two dogs on the place, but no one in the vicinity heard any unusual noise.

There will be a lawn party at the home of Mrs. A. F. Pendleton, 9 Union street, Friday evening, under the auspices of the Baptist Ladies' Aid society. The house is large and the lawn exceedingly pleasant and the latter will be lighted with Japanese lanterns. There will be good music and other interesting exercises. Ice cream and cake will be for sale.

A delegation of about seventy-five members of the Epworth leagues from Woonsocket and Holliston will be guests of the local chapter tomorrow evening at the Methodist church. The various committees in charge have prepared a very interesting program for their entertainment, which will be augmented by talent from the visiting leagues. Members and friends of the church are invited.

The electric road did an enormous business last Sunday, taking large crowds to and from Lake Pearl. Indeed, one car in the afternoon had 171 passengers, and many had to wait for other cars to return home. It would seem almost necessary to put on cars more frequently or provide trailers. Wheelmen were not in evidence so much, proving that the car is bound to supplant the wheel to some extent.

Tickets are selling well for the lecture in the Methodist church next week Tuesday evening, as the proceeds are to go toward paying off the church debt. Concerning Dr. Morris' lecture, "That Mysterious Man," the Cincinnati Times-Star says: "The large audience was delightfully entertained for an hour and a half. The lecture abounded in wit, pathos, eloquence and common sense, and displayed the wide range of the doctor's oratorical powers, and he fully maintained the position accorded him as ranking with our foremost speakers."

Work on the Plainville route of the electric railway was resumed yesterday morning. There remained 700 feet of track to be laid on the Plainville road at the point where a large tree stands directly in the way of the line. The tree is to be unmolested and the track is to be built to one side. The uncertainty as to the way the line was to be built at this point, together with the fact that the company was short of rails, has retarded the completion of this line, but the necessary iron arrived on Saturday and it is hoped now to have the route from Franklin to Plainville finished this week.

The services at the Baptist church last Sunday, Children's day, were well attended. In the forenoon the pastor, Rev. F. B. Sleeper, preached on "A Christless Education," drawing his forcible illustrations from the city of Athens in Paul's day. There is no redeeming power in philosophy or the fine arts. These things, separate from pure and undefiled religion, tend only to corruption. If our young people leave Christ out of their education their knowledge affords no blessing. In the evening there was a very fine Sunday school concert that was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience. The church was beautifully decorated.

Dean and the Friends' school of Providence crossed bats on Saturday afternoon, and provided a rattling good game. Though Dean was defeated, it was nothing to be ashamed of, as our boys played a thoroughly good game, having a semi-professional league pitcher stacked up against them, Dunleavy, of the North Attleboro team. It was a "one, two, three" game, the innings being rolled off with remarkable rapidity, the score being 3 to 1 in favor of the visitors. Dean stood a good chance to win throughout the game, but the pitcher was a trifle too much for them, so they had to be content with good fielding, which was really excellent.

After the finest game of the season the second team of the Franklin High school defeated the Textiles on Saturday afternoon by a score of 6 to 4. All through the game the Franklin team was a leader but by such a small margin that both sides were on their mettle. The fine pitching of Palmer was a feature of the game not giving one their bases on balls; and although the Unionville pitcher was a star, he received poor support and allowed a considerable number to walk. The diamond was in as poor shape as can be conceived, abounding in rocks and humps. The battery for the Franklin team was Palmer and Hood. Next Saturday the second team will play the Haywoods in Metcalf's field.

Owing to the absence of rails the Medway-Franklin road was not completed last week, as hoped, so it was impossible to send a car over as far as the brick school house. This week it is expected that the finishing touches will be put on, so that the cars will be in operation shortly. The company has purchased of W. H. Carey the lower block of tenement houses on the Flat in Medway. This will be taken down and a car barn built in its stead. There will be three tracks inside, with accommodation for at least six cars. One good-sized elm tree at the east end of the building will have to be cut down, but the large elm directly in front, it is said, will not be disturbed. This is the tallest elm in Norfolk county and attracts the attention and admiration of strangers at first sight. One of the occupants of the tenements has made his home there for over forty years.

At the Congregational Church.

Children's day exercises were unusually interesting at the Congregational church, the large auditorium being completely filled. The music by the choir was selected for the occasion, and the recitations by the little ones, both singly and together, were all that could be desired. The pastor stated that this occasion belonged to the little ones, and if they made mistakes, or forgot, it was all just as well. But they did excellently, and would have received abundant applause had it been given elsewhere. At the close of the service all of the children in the infant department were presented with a small flowering plant in a pot. The collection of the morning was remarkably large, being nearly $35. There was an unusually large number of children christened, as the names will indicate:

Helen Brackett Knapp—Mr. and Mrs. James H. Knapp.

Malcolm Fisher Johnson — Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Johnson.

Ethel Pauline Snodgrass—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Snodgrass.

James Vernon Mann—Mr. and Mrs. William D. Mann.

George Lucien Blake—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Blake.

Ernest Bassett Corbett, Horace Sumner Corbett, Ruth Dunlop Corbett—Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Corbett.

Genevieve Sophie Cook—Mr. and Mrs. James H. Cook.

Harold Waburton Ellis—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ellis.

A Joyous Time.

The annual reception tendered the senior class of the High school by the juniors on Friday evening of last week was largely attended by friends and relatives of the scholars. The entertainment and reception room was artistically decorated in the floral beauty of Nature. After the reception, which ended at 8.30, a short farce was given, entitled "The Advertising Girls," the following members of the school in the cast: The Bicycle Girl, Miss Helen Thompson; the Girl Who Did, Miss May Neelon; the Girl Who Didn't, Miss Mary Morey; the Violet Extract Girl, Miss Linna Ferrer; the Patent Dressing Girl, Miss Mildred Lyon; the Flare's Soap Girl, Miss Genevieve Allen; the Frantic American Soup Girl, Miss Alice Nixon; the Washing Powder Girl, Miss Edith Metcalf; the Chief Rabbit, Alden Abbot; Mrs. Motherly, Miss Ida Pond. Miss Grace Whiting acted as director. During the play George Estey gave the reading, "Mr. Dooley on Microbes," and Miss Edna Thompson gave a mandolin solo, with Miss Vera Billings as accompanist, and Miss Grace Bly gave a piano solo. After the music refreshments were served, consisting of cake and ice cream.

Death of Mrs. Reid.

Mrs. Rebecca Reid died at her home on Brook street Sunday morning after a severe and painful illness. She was 65 years of age and leaves a husband, one son and three daughters. Her funeral will be attended from her late residence tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. F. B. Sleeper officiating. The Baptist Young People's Union passed resolutions of condolence at their meeting on Sunday A floral offering will be sent by the society to the funeral.

Card of Thanks.

Franklin Post 60, G. A. R., extends to all who assisted in the Memorial day exercises heartfelt thanks. To the orator, Rev. I W. Sneath, and Rev. F. B. Sleeper, and those who assisted him on Memorial day, also his services on Memorial day; to the ladies of W. R. C. for service during the day; to the Sons of Veterans for efficient escort, and all others who may not be specially mentioned.

JOSEPH H. BIRD, Commander.
A. C. DANA, Adjutant.

Views of Residences.

Now, before the trees leaf fully, is the best time to arrange for photos of your home, either exterior or interior. Call and see samples and let me quote prices. Business hours during the summer, 8 to 12 a. m., 1 15 to 5 p. m , 7 to 8 Saturday evenings.

CALKIN, Photographer,
Depot St.

Auction.

At West Wrentham, Thursday, at 1 o'clock, a cottage house and barn, with household furniture, stable goods, etc.

D. CHAPMAN.

A clean fish market, complete stock of sea food, prompt and satisfactory service. Let us call. PAINE, THE FISHMAN.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

Timely Words.

The address of Rev. Charles Conklin of Springfield before the graduating class of 1900 of Dean academy, in the Universalist church, on Sunday evening, called out an audience large enough to nearly fill the auditorium. The class and the instructors occupied front seats, Rev. Dr. Hodge conducting the exercises. The closing selection by the choir, Longfellow's "Psalm of Life," was especially appropriate and beautiful.

The address of Rev. Mr. Conklin was remarkably clear, forceful, inspiring and helpful, and was listened to with the closest attention. Mr. Conklin has a pleasing delivery, a distinct enunciation, and had manifestly "sought out many things" in order to properly impress his young hearers with the importance of the occasion. He took his text from Col. 3: 23, 24, "And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men. Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance; for ye serve the Lord Christ." He said in part:

The minister who "tells what he is preaching about" is the one that impresses his hearers. I have not to preach at you, which is usually most ineffective and ungraciously received. You have come not to pay a tribute to form, but for the honor and glory of God. Religion is the main thing. It suffices for the active, the strenuous life. It is needed by the reformer, the philanthropist, by all who are engaged in furthering the interests of our common humanity. We all desire to have some part in relieving human life of its miseries, sorrows and sufferings.

A famous painting shows a Christian upon one knee in adoration, while with the other foot he is ready to spring into consecrated action An earnest spirit is the true source of all success. My three points are: be serious, be strenuous and be earnest, the last being the greatest. A grave peril of the hour is buffoonery. This is the age of the funny man. Jocularity creeps into all places, appropriate and inappropriate. Everything not funny is voted down. But seriousness may be carried too far. Good people have given the impression that religion is austere, and to be pious is to be severe. Religion is health of body and mind and spirit. Holiness is wholeness Religion is meant to be enjoyed. "That my joy might be fulfilled in you" is the glory of sainthood.

The strenuous life may be overstrained. It may be a wasting life, which is unmoral, if not immoral. Health should not be sacrificed. You should wear out evenly; but you can never be too earnest. Earnestness is the source of all true success. It must be vivified and energized. A pound of pluck is worth a ton of luck. Don't wait for something to turn up, but turn it up. A bushel of acorns is not in itself a forest of oaks. Mere capacity is not enough. Be not content with being simply a success; the supreme importance is to be a full rounded success. Social success is nothing. Jesus Christ would hardly select his successful ones from among the "four hundred." I commend to you, then, religion as the source of power which leads to success You cannot fail to realize the inspiration that comes from mental culture. Matthew Arnold says that true culture is to know the best that has been thought in the world. You need persistence. Seeking for knowledge is discipline. Knowledge increases capacity, but is not necessarily power unless it is utilized.

Religion is the consecration of your God-like powers. "The kingdom of God is within you.' The spirit moves by means of man's faith. The Christian kindles his heart at the altar of the Lord of Lords and the fire transfigures common life. Man is not a creature of circumstances, the sport of chance; he is the child of a king and has not the inheritance of a slave. Men should realize that it is a good thing, a manly thing, to be a Christian. To please God is to reach the highest standard of excellence.

The difference between the fanatic and the enthusiast is that the former is swayed, controlled and possessed by one idea, and that of minor importance, while the latter is moved by things as great as the universe. If you "sow your wild oats" every grain will take root in your spinal chord. Life is too great to be trifled with or treated with stolid indifference. The longest life is too short to realize your highest ideals. At your best you may not be able to realize the full glory of your humanity.

Life is not a blind alley; it is a thoroughfare to another and better world. Write every day your best day. This may seem to be the highest point, but there are peaks beyond. Your friends may have made great sacrifices for you; do not disappoint them. To spare you they have not spared themselves. Sweeten their toil by realizing their fondest hopes in regard to you. Remember this institution as you go out into life. Do nothing to lower its standard. Be mindful of its needs. Bear yourselves as true men and women. You may not be famous. Renown may or may not come to you, but do your best, be earnest and faithful and you shall have your reward.

At Dean Tonight.

The Dean quarterly concert takes place in the chapel this evening and will no doubt be well attended. The following entertaining programme has been arranged and the pupils of Miss Pauline Woltmann, Miss Marion Sherman and Charles P. Scott will assist in its rendition:

Piano Duet (ballet music from Rosamunde)—Schubert
Miss Patterson and Miss Grant.
Reading—"The Horse Trade," from "David Harum" .... Westcott
Miss Nellie Wilder.
Song—(a) "I'm Wearin' Awa'," .... Foote
(b) "The Dying Flower". .... Rotoli
Miss Lena Cross.
Piano Solo .... Chopin
Miss Elizabeth Lamont.
Reading—"The Ballad of Sweet P" .... Cloud
Miss Alice Marjorie Ray.
Song Duet—"It Was a Lover and His Lass"—Walthew
Miss Kellough and Mr. Richardson.
Piano Solo—"Idillio" .... Lack
Miss Marion G. Grant.
Reading—"The Organist."
Miss Mollie G. Higgins.
Song—"Irish Love Song" .... M. R. Lang
Miss Mabel Goddard.
Piano Solo—"Valse Brillante" .... Lack
Miss Laura M. Patterson.
Reading—"The Day of Judgment" .. E. S. Phelps
Miss Maude L. Barron.
Song Trio—"Lullabye" .... Brahms
Miss Cross, Miss Marshall and Miss Goddard.
Piano Solo—Spinning Song from "Flying Dutchman" .... Wagner-Liszt
Miss Helen L. Tappan.
Scenes from the "Little Minister" .... Barrie
(Arr by Miss Sherman.)
Miss Bullock and Miss Sherman.

Scene I.—The Minister bewitched. Babbie has just passed herself off as Mr. Dishart's wife, to escape capture by the soldiers of Thrums, whose authority she has evaded.

Scene II.—"Filling the Pans." Lovers.

THE GRADUATES

The following are the graduates of class 1900:

Mollie Garfield Higgins, Bar Harbor, Me ; Harriet West Kellough, East Boston; Myrtis Methyl Longee, East Douglas; Mary Louise Mann, Franklin; Clara Marshall, Nashua, N. H ; Alice Elizabeth Phillips, West Medford; Edith Ardelle Phipps, Watertown; Clara Babson Woolford, Pigeon Cove; William Victor Burnell, Boston; James Currier Clough, Enfield, N. H ; James Murry Gallison, Franklin; Winthrop Young Haycock, Calais, Me.; Earl Roy Jenness, Barton, Vt.; Ernest Prescott Nowell, Reading; George Edward Pearson, Salem; Harry Elmer Richardson, East Aurora, N. Y.

An exchange says: "It is hard to exercise too much caution in dealing with strangers who travel about the town selling all manner of merchandise. Don't pay them any money until you get the goods, and above all things don't sign any agreement, no matter how innocent it may read. By remembering and acting on these suggestions you may save money—you certainly won't lose any." But it is far better not to buy of them at all, but patronize your local stores, which pay taxes and help support the town, which the others do not.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

To Rent.—5 room tenement, Central square. Inquire E B. Sherman, Emmons street. 5tf

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

Two hundred bushels potatoes for sale at Mt. Vernon farm. Address Box 25, Franklin, Mass. 8,12,15,19*

To Let—A small tenement, six rooms, corner of King and Union streets. Apply to A. F. Everett. 5,12*

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. Allen.

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff 18-tf

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Wanted.—A girl to assist in the care of a child part of the day and some evenings. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 12,15

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1 10 per hundred delivered to any part of town Orders at Chilson's market O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

To Let—Small tenement on West street to man and wife without children. Rent $8 Apply at stable of A. M. Thayer any day but Sunday. 8

Cut flowers, wedding bouquets, flowers for graduation, all kinds of funeral designs made up at Slade's green house at short notice. P. O. Box 179.

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

For Sale or to Let—Cottage of eight rooms and barn on Peck street; pleasant view of the town; fruit, and well of good water. Inquire of Peck & Field. 5,8,12

For Sale—A lot of good household furniture and several Brussels carpets. Apply at stable of A. M. Thayer before 9 a. m. or after 5 p. m. any day but Sunday. 8

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R , trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. See Chas. H. Prince, SENTINEL Office,

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKINNON, Agent

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

ADVERTISING RATES

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

TUESDAY, JUNE 12, 1900

Farmers' Bank Deposits.

It is a subject of congratulation that while the eastern financial centers, around which rage the storms of stock market panics, have been undergoing the stress of a severe financial stringency, the country at large, and especially the west, has been wholly free from any disturbance of that sort. If money has been scarce and hard to get in New York and Boston, it has been easy and plentiful in all western business centers. The situation in Minnesota is to a great extent illustrative of that throughout the northwest. The statements of the financial condition of the banks of St. Paul, recently published in the Pioneer Press, showed that they were all in first-class condition, with abundant reserves and overflowing deposits, with more money to loan than they knew what to do with. The same is true of all the country banks. Formerly at harvest time there was a great demand for eastern money to buy wheat and other products and help move the crops. Now this demand in Minnesota is almost wholly supplied by the country banks to the exclusion in a large degree of even the city banks. Years of agricultural prosperity have filled the country banks in the older and better developed districts of this state with farmers' deposits. The industrial and commercial prosperity of the last two years has filled the city banks with the deposits of prosperous merchants, manufacturers and railroads. What is true of Minnesota is true of the northwest—indeed, of the entire central west. The west has, in fact, become financially independent of the east, and its financial independence rests on the solid foundation of the cash returns of productive industries managed with conservative prudence. Formerly western farm mortgages were a favorite field for the eastern investor. But these mortgages have been largely paid off, and the eastern money lenders now find it so difficult to loan money on western farms that some of them who have been in the business for years have given it up or are about to give it up. The farmers have themselves become money lenders instead of borrowers.

A Grammatical Difficulty.

There is a young man uptown with a fondness for pets that are a bit out of the ordinary, reports the New York Times. A friend traveling in the West Indies forwarded to him a mongoose, and with this addition to his menagerie he was happy. Two weeks ago another arrived, and now the owner of the menagerie is miserable. He does not know whether to call the two "mongooses" or to refer to them as "mongeese." Just now he does this sort of thing when he meets an acquaintance who is familiar with his fad: "You know that mongoose that Tom sent me last summer? Well, he has sent me another, and they are a lively pair, I assure you." "What are you going to do with them, raise mongooses, or—er—, whatever you call 'em, for the market?" "Can't do that, you know, for both of my mon—, whatever you call 'em, are males." "Better kill one of them at once then; a fellow'd know what to call one of them, but when it comes to referring to more than that single one it would have everybody crazy trying to guess which is the right thing as between mongeese and mongooses."

Smallpox is rife in Altoona, Pa., and the town board of health ordered the killing of all dogs and cats in infected houses, that they might not distribute the germs of the disease. The bodies of the animals were burned.

The Kansas bureau of immigration has shipped east samples of corn 17 feet high; also tomato stalks six feet high, with fruit at the very top. How's that for tall truck?

THE MAN IN THE MOON

Sees strange sights and grows used to them in time, no doubt.

Even our ugly hansom automobiles will soon cease to surprise him; but he never can understand why people are willing to drink poor, health-menacing coffee when the best the world produces is easily obtained.

When we speak of the best coffee, we of course refer to the kind sold by Chase & Sanborn. Their Seal Brand Java and Mocha is famous for its excellence, and their high grade coffees which come packed in parchment lined richly colored bags are in great demand.

The greatest care in selection and packing is exercised.

With coffee pure like this, more enjoyment is experienced. No danger to health need be feared.

These coffees produce that deep port wine color before cream, and golden after cream, so much desired by coffee lovers.

Chase & Sanborn's Coffees.

MATRON AND MAID.

The firm of Curran & Davies, shoe dealers, of New York city is composed entirely of women.

Nancy Washington, a colored woman, has just celebrated her one hundred and fifth birthday in Boston. She has been married six times and is now a widow.

Miss Edith Rhodes, sister of the South African "diamond king," is an expert landscape gardener and is laying out a flower garden for the Yeomanry hospital at DeAar.

Liliuokalani, the former queen of Hawaii, is said to be grieving and brooding over her fate and is about to return to her native land, having already prepared her burial robes.

A granddaughter of Wolfe Tone, the famous leader of the Irish rebellion of 1798, has just died in Brooklyn in her seventy third year. She was Mrs. Grace Georgiana Tone Maxwell.

Lady Curzon accompanies the viceroy on his tour through India for the relief of the plague stricken districts. The personal devotion and self sacrifice of the vicereine are winning the hearts of all classes.

Mrs. Rosine Rynn and Mrs. Bettie Bryan were prominent delegates at the transmississippi commercial congress recently held at Houston. These ladies conduct a prosperous real estate business in the city named.

Sarah Bernhardt has returned the copy of Gabriel d'Annunzio's novel "Fire," presented to her by its author, for the alleged reason that the heroine of the story is Eleanora Duse, who is depicted as the greatest actress of her day.

It is worth noting that one of the supporters of Olive Schreiner's husband when he at last succeeded, after several attempts frustrated by mobs, in presenting the Boer side of the South African dispute to a London audience was Mrs. Despard, a sister of General French, General Roberts' well known cavalry leader.

Miss M. R. Cheston was elected a church warden at a meeting of the southwest convocation of Episcopal clergymen, held recently at Holy Trinity parish house, Philadelphia, the presiding officer being the Rev. G. Wolsey Hodge of the Church of the Ascension. This is a most unusual thing and created considerable comment.

Miss Effie Duggan of Norristown, Pa., has received a letter from General Lord Kitchener. After the outbreak of hostilities the little girl sent General Kitchener a sprig of laurel plucked from the hills of Valley Forge. With it she inclosed a few lines extending her best wishes. Lord Kitchener promptly wrote acknowledging the favor.

A Good Reason.

"What did you have your gear altered from 60 to 90 for?"

"Because pa's is 60 and Jack's is 90."

"Oh!"—Pick-Me-Up.

Definition.

A bigot is a [illegible] sort of chap,
Whose narrow judgment goes so far astray
That [illegible] our views he does not care a rap,
But holds his own, no matter what we say
—Chicago Record

CELERY KING
NATURE'S CURE

Headache for Forty Years.

For forty years I suffered from sick headache. A year ago I began using Celery King. The result was gratifying and surprising, my headaches leaving at once. The headaches used to return every seventh day, but thanks to Celery King, I have had but one headache in the last eleven months. I know that what cured me will help others.—Mrs. John D. Van Keuren, Saugerties, N. Y.

Celery King cures Constipation and all diseases of the Nerves, Stomach, Liver and Kidneys. Sold by druggists. 25c. and 50c. 2

THE GEISHA GIRL.

BY SADA YACCO.

The moon goddess had almost shed her pure whiteness on the Geisha quarter in Tokyo.

The lanterns in the teahouses were already flickering faintly as their flames diminished. The night watchman, making his rounds, could be heard heralding the hour of dawn in his monotonous tones, when Takao, the most beautiful Geisha girl in Tokyo, sat by the window of her room, with a sad heart in her eyes.

If she had been a beauty of the occident she would have cried and sobbed aloud, but in oriental countries we hide our sufferings.

She was a poor girl, a daughter of one of the poor nobility of Japan.

Takao had excessive beauty and distinction of manner, for she was very proud, but she had humbled her spirit, so that her parents could be saved from extreme poverty.

For this reason, according to Japanese custom, she had entered the Geisha quarter, receiving the sum of 300 "yedos" to bind her presence there for three years.

In a short while Takao became the queen of the Geisha, and all the nobility and rank of Japan assembled at her teahouse.

Among the gallants who paid their respects to this beautiful Japanese woman was Tuzaburo Shimada, a knight and a soldier.

He was poor compared to the other suitors for Takao's hand, but he was the handsomest, biggest, finest Japanese man of them all, and Takao loved him.

She had never told him this because in Japan women are not brought up to be demonstrative in their love affairs, but she knew that Shimada loved her, for he had told her that some day, when he was rich, he would make her his wife, and what could he say more?

But still Takao was much troubled, for where love is in the heart there is often sadness too.

So she was thinking, wondering if her sweetheart would ever become rich enough to take her to his home.

It takes a long time, and one can think a long while about these things that is why Takao found herself sitting by the window in her teahouse watching the sun god slowly steal in golden splendor over the harbor and the hills in the distance.

The night before a great feast had been given in her honor by Sendaiko, a feudal lord of Japan and the wealthiest man in the country.

Repeatedly Sendaiko had asked her to become his wife, and repeatedly she had refused him, for in her heart was the picture of Tuzaburo Shimada, the knight whom she loved.

Sendaiko had pressed his suit earnestly, with great ceremony, with splendid festivals, with presents and with promises, but without success, for the heart of a Japanese girl is made only for one lover, one husband.

Sendaiko was at first surprised, and finally grew angry at Takao's persistent refusal. She accepted his fetes in her honor and the presents he gave her because in the Geisha quarter she was obliged to treat all visitors with ceremony and respect.

As the moon goddess disappeared in the mist of early dawn and the sun god peeped in at the window where Takao sat his yellow eye saw a queer sight.

The sun god searched every corner of the teahouse carefully, and everywhere he found sparkling gold lying untouched about the floor.

In one corner he found a pair of great scales, and most of the money bags were placed on one side of these scales.

The night before Sendaiko had laid a wager with his friends that he would buy Takao's love for her weight in gold.

During the feast he had the scales brought in, and while the attendants piled the gold on the scales Sendaiko coaxed Takao to balance her weight against his money.

Laughingly she had complied, and as she stood on the scales Sendaiko said:

"This, all this, will I give you if you will become my wife."

Takao leaped instantly from the scales and in the presence of the company refused to marry Sendaiko, even for her weight in gold.

Sendaiko, enraged at the public humiliation, refused to accept her answer, and, leaving the money in the teahouse, said:

"Tomorrow I will take you to my country, which is called the country of Sendaiko, in the northeast part of Japan."

And when they had all gone Takao, trembling and frightened, sat down at the window of her teahouse and looked for her sweetheart, Shimada, to rescue her.

But he did not come, for he had been sent on a mission into a far distant country by the influence of Sendaiko.

Suddenly the door of the teahouse was pushed open, and some men crept stealthily in.

Before Takao could utter a cry of alarm she was seized, her head was wrapped in a scarf, and she was carried out of the teahouse to the seacoast; there she was placed on a ship anchored in the harbor of Tokyo and owned by Sendaiko.

When the ship was well out at sea, Sendaiko had the beautiful Takao brought before him on deck, and, holding a sword to her breast, he demanded if she would marry him, for he loved her greatly and would make her his wife.

Takao, true to her sweetheart, again refused.

The attendants of Sendaiko tried their best to restrain their master, but in a passion of rage he plunged the sword into Takao's heart, and her body was thrown into the sea.

As all Japanese stories have a moral, the moral of this one is to show that love in the heart of a Japanese girl is greater than fear of death.—Translated For New York World.

Beaten by His Friends.

In the eighties the late Dr. Thomas K. Beecher of Elmira was nominated for congress from his district, and the politicians had about conceded that he would be elected, when his church people found out that his prospects were good and set out to defeat him. One of the most singular campaigns in the history of American politics resulted. All of Mr. Beecher's personal and church friends worked like beavers against him and voted solidly for his opponent, with the result that he was defeated by a narrow margin. The attitude of the church people was that they could not afford to lose their [illegible] they won the fight.

The Rivals.

Mrs. Tiptop—I am sorry you were not at my reception last evening.

Mrs. Highup (coldly)—I received no invitation.

Mrs. Tiptop (with affected surprise)—Indeed? It must have miscarried. I had among my guests three foreign counts.

Mrs. Highup—So that is where they were? I desired to engage them last evening to wait on table at our theater party supper, but the employment agent told me they were out.—N. Y. Weekly.

An Expensive Luxury.

"Isn't Jinks a man rather inclined to borrow trouble?"

"I should say so. Talk about the fellow that worried for fear his halo wouldn't fit when he came to be an angel, why Jinks was so sure when the war broke out that he would be drafted before it was over that he hired a substitute for $300, and the substitute never so much as caught cold."—Detroit Free Press.

Giving a Blessing.

"Rev. Billwbacker received a present of a dressed chicken Tuesday. Wednesday a church brother from out of town brought his family of five to eat dinner at the parsonage, and they were a little puzzled when the parson said grace."

"What did he say?"

"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away."—Judge.

Disappointed.

"They are very careless about bestowing names in this country," remarked the critical tourist.

"Some names are rather inappropriate."

"Absurdly so. Why, I was in Indianapolis two weeks and did not see a single Indian."—Washington Star.

New National Hymn.

"Do you know," remarked Mrs. Darley, "I rather wish that the report would prove true that the United States is to buy Greenland?"

"Why?" asked her husband.

"In that case, 'From Greenland's Icy Mountains' would become one of our national hymns."—Judge.

Just What He Supposed.

"Confound it, sir! Do you think my feet were made for a fool to walk on?" exclaimed the angry man to the fellow who had stepped on his corn.

"Yes; that was what I supposed," replied the stranger.—Yonkers Statesman.

A Great Improvement.

Philanthropist (with tears of joy)—Oh! you good man! You say you have been a second-story thief all your life, but you wish to do better?

Criminal (fervently)—Yes, lady; if I ever git out uv here alive I'll be a first-class bank sneak or nuthin'.—Puck.

Cruel Girl.

Clarence—I don't know what's the matter with me. I feel like a fool tonight.

Myrtle—Now I know he was wrong.

Clarence—Who was wrong?

Myrtle—The man that said looks are deceiving.—Chicago Daily News.

His Summer Girl.

He finds her love was merely art,
The mercenary thing!
For while she gives him back his heart,
She keeps his diamond ring.
—Judge.

Important Announcement.

The Seaboard Air Line railway, "Florida and West India Short Line," has pleasure in announcing to the public that it will open its new line to Florida June 3rd 1900, with through sleeping cars between New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, D. C., Richmond, Va., Columbia, S. C., Savannah, Ga., Jacksonville and Tampa, Fla., etc.; also through sleeping cars from New York, etc., to Atlanta, Ga., where connections are made in Union Depot for all points South and Southwest. The Old Dominion S. S. Co's steamship from New York, and the Merchants & Miners Transportation Co's Steamship from Boston and Providence make connection with these trains at Norfolk, Va.

The Seaboard Air Line railway is the short line to the principal cities of the South and to all points in Florida and the West Indies. It is also the direct line to Athens, Alanta, Augusta, Macon, Montgomery, New Orleans and all points South and Southwest. It enters the capitals of the six states which its traverses, not including the national Capital, through which many of its trains are operated.

Two trains conveying passengers via this route will leave New York daily at 1 p. m., and 12 15 o'clock midnight from Pennsylvania R. R. depot.

For full particulars in regard to sleeping car arrangements and dining car service please refer to ticket agents of connecting lines, W. C. Shoemaker, General Eastern Passenger Agent, 371 and 1206 Broadway, New York; Charles L. Longsdorf, New England Passenger Agent, 306 Washington St., Boston, Mass.; W. M. McConnell, General Agent, 1434 New York Ave., Washington, D. C., or to L. S. Allen, General Passenger Agent Portsmouth, Va.

HIS LIFE SAVED

By Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I am sure that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at one time saved my life," says A. E. Lafaette, of Gregory Landing, Clark county, Missouri. "I was in such bad shape that the doctors said I could not live. When I was at the lowest ebb, one of my neighbors brought in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I took it and got instant relief. I soon got up and around. That was nine years ago and I am still in good health. Since then that medicine has always been in my house and always will be. It is the best on earth." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

When you say your blood is impure and appetite poor you are admitting your need of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Begin taking it at once.

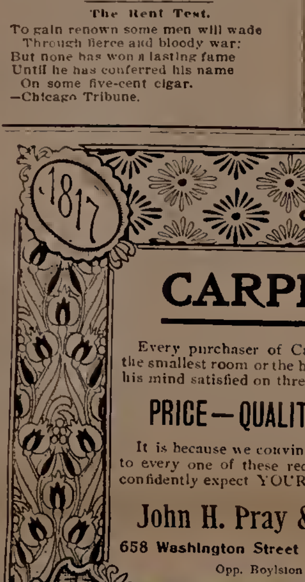
CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

"Brevity is the Soul of Wit."

Wit is wisdom. Blood is life. Impure blood is living death. Health depends on good blood. Disease is due to bad blood. The blood can be purified. Legions say Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Blood Medicine, purifies it. A brief story but it tells the tale.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

THE BEST WAY.



The Gusher—Never try to part man and wife

The Guyer—That's right. Let 'em fight it out between themselves.—N. Y. Evening Journal.

The Rent Test.

To gain renown some men will wade
Through fierce and bloody war;
But none has won a lasting fame
Until he has conferred his name
On some five-cent cigar.
—Chicago Tribune.

The Kind He Needed.

She—It cannot be. I am not worthy of you

He—Nonsense.

She—It is true.

He—Impossible! You are an angel!

She—No, no, you are wrong I am an idle, silly girl, utterly unfit to become your companion through life

He—This is madness. What sort of a wife do you think I ought to have?

She—A careful, calculating, practical woman, who can live on your small salary.—Tit-Bits

Evening Things Up.

"Look at me," exclaimed the leading lawyer warmly, "I never took a drop of medicine in my life, and I'm as strong as any two of your patients put together."

"Well, that's nothing," retorted the physician. "I never went to law in my life, and I'm as rich as any two dozen of your clients put together."—Brooklyn Life.

The Sporting Girl.

She knows the golf language
From "bunker" to "tee!"
She knows all the yachting
Vocabulary.
She knows the bike babble
Intimately!
She knows tennis tattle
Excellently!
And that's all she does know—
Betwixt you and me!
—Town Topics.

All for One Price.

"What a lovely new coiffure Miss Oldtimer has. Where did she get the style?"

"That comes with the hair."—Cleveland Plaindealer.

Mutual Bliss.

"Yes, my wife and I have separated."

"Indeed? What is the trouble?"

"There isn't any now."—Indianapolis Journal.

CASTORIA.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

1817 1900

CARPETS.

Every purchaser of Carpets—whether for the smallest room or the biggest hotel—wants his mind satisfied on three points, namely:

PRICE—QUALITY—STYLE.

It is because we convince our customers as to every one of these requirements that we confidently expect YOUR patronage.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.,
658 Washington Street . . . BOSTON.
Opp. Boylston Street.

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript
(No Sunday Edition).

THE GREATEST PAPER IN NEW ENGLAND

FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms."

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT

Is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:
One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 60
Single Gallon.............................. 05
All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES.
P. O. Box 481.

17-tf T

THE NEW YORK WORLD

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year

FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS·

For a distance of 5 miles or less, - - 10c
5 to 15 miles, - - 15c
15 to 25 " - - 20c
25 to 35 " - - 25c
35 to 45 " - - 30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

BABY'S WAY.

Everything's in the baby's way
Whenever she wants to run and play;
It's either a chair, a table or door
Or clutter all over the playroom floor.
When she starts to run, she gets a bump,
And we have to kiss her forehead plump
And start her off with a smile to play
And clear things out of the baby's way.

Everything's in the baby's way,
She wants her do, and she wants her say;
She wants to do the things which are wrong,
And her will each day it grows more strong,
And we try so gently to guide her right
And ask the Father of all for light;
But to her who wants her do and say
Everything seems in the baby's way.

Everything's in the baby's way
From morning till night, so babies say,
And so they are cross and fretful, too,
And do the things they oughtn't to do,
And their ways are not our ways at all,
And so they must cry and scold and fall,
But we turn a hundred times a day
And smile because it is baby's "way."

—Joe Cone in National Magazine.

ONE OF THE CITY'S OWN

How a Young Man Came to Go to the South African War.

"Mr. Redbolt is to go to the governor at once."

Mr. Redbolt strode briskly across the room. A moment later he was in the private office.

Young Mr. Dewhurst, who had managed the business since the death of his father, gave him a furtive look as he entered and then turned hurriedly to a bundle of correspondence by his side and selected a letter with an air of malicious satisfaction.

The ball was opened by Mr. Dewhurst unfolding a cantankerous complaint from an unimportant customer. It was the merest trifle and quite unworthy of the occasion. Nevertheless Joe Redbolt was by no means surprised at the tone adopted. For some time past the smallest opportunities had been seized for fault finding, and he knew by instinct that the climax had been reached.

"How do you account for this blunder?" asked Mr. Dewhurst suspiciously.

His clerk gave a simple, straightforward explanation, which, to a reasonable man, would have been sufficient.

But Mr. Dewhurst was not in a reasonable humor.

"It appears to me, then, that you are not in any way to blame, Mr. Redbolt," he said cynically.

"I think not."

"You never make a mistake?"

"Not very often."

"Who is to blame, then?"

There was a moment's silence, and the two men looked into one another's eyes.

"You are, sir," said Redbolt respectfully. "I acted under your instructions."

This appeared to give the unworthy little tyrant his opportunity.

"You are more than half impertinent," he said roughly.

"I give you my word that I don't intend to be so," said Redbolt, with perfect good temper.

"Perhaps not, but I'm tired of it. You forget your proper position and have crossed my will in several ways."

Mr. Redbolt colored rather painfully, and his principal continued, with a smile of spiteful triumph:

"You understand what I allude to?"

The clerk bowed slightly.

"Then I think you had better look about for another situation."

"Shall we calculate the month from last Monday?" inquired Joe Redbolt in a perfectly even, matter of fact voice.

"Eh—yes," said Mr. Dewhurst. "But I won't ask you to continue your work here."

With that he pushed across the table a little pile of coins which had been counted out already, clearly showing that he intended from the first to make use of the opportunity.

For the first time Joe Redbolt looked angry. It was adding insult to injury to send him away at a moment's notice, as if he had disgraced himself.

It was the more outrageous because he was a distant relation of the Dewhursts by blood. The two young men had been for a short time at school together. They had entered the firm together, and Redbolt had worked his way up by sheer ability under old Mr. Dewhurst's eye to a responsible position.

Naturally they knew the same people and to some extent visited the same houses, and it was in this way that Dewhurst's inherent jealousy had ripened into positive rancor, for that there was a member of the fair sex at the bottom of it is almost obvious.

The innocent cause of the trouble, little dreaming of the mischief she was creating, had thoroughly enjoyed the rivalry of the two men, as every daughter of Eve is bound to do, and she had not made it quite clear which of them was to be favored, which is certainly a woman's privilege.

But Joe Redbolt was generally believed to be the lucky man, and Dewhurst had vented his unmanly spite by a thousand annoyances in the office.

However, in love, as in war, it is the unexpected that often happens. Joe Redbolt proposed and was refused point blank.

Now, most men, when they see a dangerous rival put out of court, bury their animosity and even become generous.

But this was not the case with Fred Dewhurst. Petty annoyances developed rapidly into daily insults until the morning, as we have seen, he had found an excuse to cut his former schoolfellow adrift.

Joe Redbolt picked up the pile of coins, counted them deliberately and put them in his pocket.

"Now, Fred Dewhurst," he said huskily, "we are no longer master and man, so that I can say what I think."

Dewhurst looked rather alarmed and drew a small silver bell near to his side.

"Oh, don't be frightened," said Joe, with a smile of amusement. "I'm not going to thrash you! It wouldn't be fair to hit a man of your size!"

Mr. Dewhurst tried to sneer, but only looked mightily relieved.

"I want to tell you what I think of you," said Joe.

"Go on," said Dewhurst, with a grin. "Seeing that you've had the worst of it all through, I suppose I mustn't mind a few spiteful words!"

"I want to tell you that you're the meanest cad I've met, and if that poor girl marries you I'm sorry for her!"

"In fact, you're so sorry," said Dewhurst, "that you'd even marry her yourself. Capital! And, now you've said enough, I'll wish you good morning."

With a mighty effort of self restraint, Joe pulled himself together, and, resisting the impulse to knock him down, swung out of the room.

He had lost everything—the girl he loved and the means of earning his living. He was alone in the world, with no prospect but that of commencing life again in some counting house, and— Then suddenly he remembered. Only two nights before he had attended drill at the headquarters of his volunteer corps. The men had been asked which of them wished to join the C. I. V. for the front. He thought of the glow that had burned through his veins, how he had longed to offer himself and had only been prevented by his feeling of obligation to his old friend's business. Now he was free!

That settled it. Old England was in need of help from men such as he. He was as sound as a bell in wind and limb. He had done his turn at volunteering and could shoot more than a little.

Within half an hour his name was entered as one of those who were ready for service at the front, and he was ordered to go before the doctor.

That gentleman laughed at him.

"If we get 1,400 men as fit as you are," he said, "we shall do well!"

Having successfully passed all the tests and been duly enrolled as one of the City of London Imperial volunteer corps, he felt slightly easier in his mind.

It must be confessed that he was in that pleasant frame of mind when a man firmly believes that there is nobody to grieve over him and finds a morbid pleasure in the prospect of a soldier's grave.

Most of us get these attacks of despondency some time in our lives, and, to tell the truth, it lasted a very short time with Joe Redbolt. After a few days of hard drill he had lost sight of the possibility of getting killed and was looking forward to making things as unpleasant as possible for the enemy.

At last the final moment came. He had attended the services at St. Paul's and sung the national anthem until he was hoarse. He had been slapped on the back by hundreds of warm hearted but heavy handed citizens. He had even fought his way successfully through a mob of enthusiastic patriots all the way from Bunhill row to Nine Elms, where he was one of the first to arrive.

There stood the train waiting to take them to Southampton. There, too, stood the long suffering band, and every minute groups of breathless, excited men in khaki, who had also fought their way through the crowd, rushed on to the platform.

Of course it was all over. There was nothing to be done but get into the train and say goodby to old London for months—perhaps forever. Once more a gloomy sense of loneliness came upon him. Everybody else had a chum or a relative to see him off. And then—an angel came from heaven? Not quite. But an earthly angel appeared in the shape of a slight form in a long, black cloak, who was pushing her way feverishly through the crowd, eagerly scanning the faces of all the "gentlemen in khaki."

Then their eyes met, and in a minute he was clasping in his arms the girl who had refused him a month before and in whose presence he had always been so shy that he had never yet dared to press her hand.

How had it happened? There seemed no need, and certainly no time, for explanations. Why had he accepted her foolish "no" when she never meant him to? She always thought he would speak to her again. Why had he been so awkward and brusque in the way he had asked her? He had given her no chance to say "yes." And it was only last night she had learned what had happened—from Dewhurst's own lips—and she had cried all night at the mischief she had done, and would he forgive her? And did he still care for her a little bit?

"Take your seats, there!" roared an officer.

It was not the time for mock modesty. With her arms around his neck and tear stained cheeks pressed to his, she promised to wait for him.

"God bless you!" he whispered.

"And bring you back to me," she answered.

And then, with cheers and whistles and the band playing "God Save the Queen" and men shouting and laughing and crying, the train moved out, and the City's Own was en route for the front.—Answers.

Everybody Knows About Pain-Killer

A Household Medicine

Used by millions in all parts of the world

A SAFE and SURE REMEDY for

Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Cuts
Dysentery Croup Burns
Sprains and Strains.

Gives Instant relief. Cures quickly.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)

ALL DRUGGISTS.

Gambling.

Mrs. Green—They do say that Mr. Slyder gambles. Isn't it awful?

Mrs. Gray—I should say it was. Why, it's almost as bad as stealing. If he wins, he robs some other man; if he loses, he robs his family.

Mrs. Green—At any rate, it is terribly wicked. By the way, I forgot to tell you I won the first prize at the whist tournament last night, a beautiful silver cup.

Mrs. Gray—Oh, you lucky woman! How I envy you!—Boston Transcript.

ADVERTISING AXIOMS.

Advertising is the "golden gate" to prosperity.

Advertising is the lever that moves the business world.

Do you want to feel the pulse of the buying world? Advertise.

EVERY MOTHER SHOULD Have it in the House

For common ailments which may occur in every family. She can trust what time indorses. For Internal as much as External use. Dropped on sugar it is pleasant to take for colds, coughs, croup, colic, cramps and pains.

I have used your Anodyne Liniment in treating our infant only six months old for colic, and our little three year old daughter for summer complaint and bowel diseases generally, and found it to be excellent. JOHN I. INGALLS, Americus, Ga.

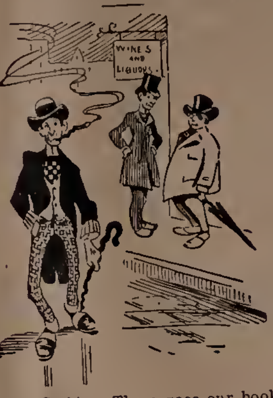
JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Relieves Every Form of Inflammation. Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. No remedy has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Parsons' Pills

"Best Liver Pill made." Positively cure Biliousness, Sick Headache, all Liver and Bowel complaints. They expel impurities from the blood. Delicate women find relief from using them. Price 25c. I. S. JONHSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

APPEARANCE AGAINST HIM.



WINES AND LIQUORS.

The Cashier—There goes our bookkeeper. I'll bet that he absconds some day.

The Come-on—He looks crooked.—N. Y. Journal.

This World.

It is indeed a funny world—
But hard truths mingle with the chaff.
It takes some study ere a man
May know exactly when to laugh.
—Washington Star.

Wanted a Real Man.

Ella—I refused to accept an apology last evening.

Hattie—Why, how was that?

Ella—Because I'd rather die an old maid than marry a brainless dude.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

New Courage.

Figgles—I understand that Wynkenpoup is going to contest his wife's will.

Waggles—Yes.

Wiggles—Well, it's something he never dared do when she was alive.—Somerville Journal.

Nothing for Baby to Pull.

"Mean? He's the meanest man I ever knew," she asserted.

"In what way?"

"Why, his wife says that the very day after their baby was born he shaved off his nice, long beard and hasn't worn one since."—Chicago Post.

The Health Problem

Is much simpler than is sometimes supposed. Health depends chiefly upon perfect digestion and pure blood, and the problem is solved very readily by Hood's Sarsaparilla. You may keep well by taking it promptly for any stomach or blood disorder. Its cures of scrofula, salt rheum, catarrh, dyspepsia, rheumatism and other diseases are numbered by the thousands.

The favorite family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

A blessing alike to young and old; Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; Nature's specific for dysentery, diarrhea and summer complaint.

In Proof Thereof.

Customer—Are these eggs strictly fresh?

Grocer's Clerk—Yes, sir. You haven't found anything wrong with the eggs you've been getting here for the last month, have you?

Customer—No.

Grocer's Clerk—Well, these are a part of the same lot.—Chicago Tribune.

NO MAKESHIFT.

In This Case the Work was Properly Done.

Any reader who has had backache and found relief by rubbing the back with liniments and lotions, understands that the relief obtained was but a makeshift, for the ache returns. There's a way to do it so the ache will not come back. Read how it's done.

Mr. Fred A. Wood, of 103 Thurbers avenue, Providence, R. I., messenger for the Earle and Prews Express Co., says: "In the winter of 1897 I became so enthusiastic an admirer of Doan's Kidney Pills, after they cured me of kidney trouble, I wrote to the agents unsolicited, telling them about my cure and stating that if my recommendation would help the preparation along I would be only too pleased to furnish it. It has appeared in our Providence newspapers since, and now in the month of May, 1899, I emphatically state there is not one word I wish to retract. On the other hand, I am only too pleased to re-endorse a preparation which acts so faithfully to the representations made for it as Doan's Kidney Pills."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

TIME AND SPACE are practically annihilated by the ocean cables and land telegraph systems which now belt the circumference of Old Earth in so many different directions. "Foreign parts" are no longer foreign in the old meaning of the term. Europe, Africa, Asia, are "next door" to us. What happens there to-day we know to-morrow—if we read THE CHICAGO RECORD, whose Special Cable Correspondents are located in every important city in the world outside of the United States. No other American newspaper ever attempted so extensive a service; and it is supplemented by the regular foreign news service of The Associated Press. For accurate intelligence of the stirring events which are shaking the nations—of wars and rumors of wars—of the threatening dissolution of old governments and the establishment of new—of the onward sweep of the race in all parts of the world—the one medium of the most satisfactory information is the enterprising, "up-to-date" American newspaper, THE CHICAGO RECORD.

FREE A large map of the world on Mercator's Projection, about 23¼x16 inches in size, beautifully printed in colors, with a large-scale map of Europe on the reverse side, will be mailed to any address free of charge on receipt of request accompanied by two 2-cent stamps to cover postage and wrapping. The maps illustrate clearly how comprehensively the special cable service of THE CHICAGO RECORD covers the entire civilized world. Address THE CHICAGO RECORD, 181 Madison street, Chicago.

In Blessed Singleness.

Squire (engaging coachman)—Are you married?

Coachman—No, sir. These 'ere scratches came from a cat.—Punch.

Making It Unanimous.

To be advanced in all things
With her becomes a rage,
When she cannot longer hide the fact
That she's advanced in age.
—Detroit Journal.

Sounds Plausible, Doesn't It?

Bobby—What is a fan as applied to baseball, pa?

Pa—It's an abbreviation of the word fanatic.—Syracuse Herald.

The Acme of Happiness.

Happiness is sometimes portrayed
By the man who has reached the top,
And then again it comes to a man
Who is "next" in a barber shop.
—Chicago News.

A Good Cough Medicine.

It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to any other. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to myself and customers," says Druggist J. Goldsmith, Van Etten, N. Y. "I have always used it in my own family both for ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following la grippe, and find it very efficacious." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

It's a mistake to imagine that itching piles can't be cured; a mistake to suffer a day longer than you can help. Doan's Ointment brings instant relief and permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark. Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton. Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. F Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer. Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December. Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

Franklin and Wrentham STAGE LINE.

Leave Wrentham P. O. for Franklin at 8 15 a.m. 3.30 p. m. Leave Franklin depot for Wrentham at 9.30 a. m., 4.30 p. m.; connecting with trains for Boston and Providence via N. Y. & N. E. railroad; trains leaving Boston at 7.40, 8.30 a. m. and 3.30 p. m.; leaving Providence at 8.35 a.m.
☞ Orders may be left at Railroad Station.
N. B. WEBBER, Prop.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 49, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 58, f5 21, 6 19, f7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f1 01, 5 25, 6 14, f7 28, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 29 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; 1 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m. S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m. S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

GEO. L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.
☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days, Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

∴READ the Business Announcements.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

Because in the case of moth it is the only remedy possible. Our Moth Balls and Camphorine will render furs and other articles of winter clothing absolutely secure against the ravages of these pests. Don't delay action where the emergency is immediate. Today, and not tomorrow, is the Moth Ball time, since mischief once done is irreparable.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Religious services will commence in the church at 4 p. m., next Sunday, 17th inst. Rev. W. C. Selleck, of Providence, R. I., will preach. A feature of special interest will be the presentation to the church of a beautiful sacred picture, the gift of two friends. The meetings at this historic church have grown in interest and value for the last few seasons. It is hoped that they will be more largely attended this summer than ever before. They will be continued until the last of August at least. The general public is cordially invited.——Sunday was observed as children's day at the Congregational church. In the morning a special service for children was held by Rev. W. J. Minchin, with solos by Mrs. C. E. Brown and Ralph Nowell. In the evening a concert was given, at which C. M. Dunbar of North Attleboro played several selections on the cornet, the children marching out to the tune of "Onward, Christian Soldier."——Mrs Lydia Jenness, who was found on her kitchen floor Friday morning suffering from a shock, died Saturday morning without regaining consciousness. Mrs Jenness has lived in town many years and was a member of the Congregational church. She was in her 82d year. Her nearest relative is a niece who lives in the west.——Benjamin Chamberlin, father-in-law of Asahel W[illegible], died at his residence on Franklin street Saturday after an illness extending over a year. He was 86 years old.——The Wrentham and City Mills nines played a game at [illegible] on the common Saturday, Wrentham winning by a score of 19 to 9.

THE ROYAL BOX.

The income of the crown prince of Germany is $375,000 a year.

The German emperor is a believer in the luck attending horseshoes, never passes one by, and was once seen walking home through the streets of Berlin carrying a huge shoe in his left hand.

Queen Victoria's birthday will be officially celebrated in London on Saturday, May 26, this year. The ministers will give large banquets, and the Prince of Wales will dine with Lord Salisbury.

Leo XIII has greatly altered in the last year or so. He is much thinner and much paler than he was a few months ago. His face looks pinched. On the other hand, his eyes are bright, and his voice is fairly strong. His intellect is as strong as ever, and his memory is clear and precise.

PITH AND POINT.

Some people are always too late.

A man who lives by his wits usually lives by dishonesty.

The man who goes around with a chip on his shoulder is generally disliked.

A girl cannot be said to be wholly self possessed until she can sit down to a piano in a public hotel and own it.

The Lord knows if it when a man does a good deed, but somehow he would rather the man next door found it out.

The women realize at this season that their husbands will scold if they clean house and their neighbors will talk about them if they don't.—Atchison Globe.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

Read the business announcements.

After Dinner

To assist digestion, relieve distress after eating or drinking too heartily, to prevent constipation, take

Hood's Pills

Sold everywhere. 25 cents.

The Lecture and the Lecturer.

Mrs. Learned—Had you no engagement for to-night, dear?

Prof. Learned (jumping to his feet)—By Jove! I was booked to lecture at 7:30 on "The Cultivation of the Memory," and here it is ten o'clock! Why in blazes couldn't you have asked that question three hours ago?—N. Y. Truth.

Almost Cruel.

Alice—Isn't it too bad! The romance of my life has been shattered.

Winifred—Oh, I'm so sorry! What's happened? Have you and Charley quarreled?

Alice—No; but just as we had got all ready to elope, papa and mamma spoiled it all by deciding to give their consent.—Chicago Daily News.

Developed Just One Idea.

"How is your club for the interchange and development of ideas getting along?"

"Well, so far, it has developed the idea in each member that he is the only man who has any ideas."—Stray Stories.

Quite Willing to Do It.

It was intended as a gentle hint.

"Our rule here," he said, "is pay as you go."

"Quite right," replied the other, pleasantly, "but I'm not going yet."—Chicago Post.

The March of Civilization.

"Are you the widow of the man who was shot?" asked the Texas coroner of the woman who stood before him.

"Two hours ago I was," she replied, "but now I am the wife of the man who got the drop on him."—N. Y. World.

Serious Indeed.

"I was going on the stage once—vaudeville."

"That so, Kitty? Did your more serious nature come to the rescue?"

"Yes. I got too fat."—Chicago Daily Record.

A Wonderful Man.

Crimsonbeak—That man Butts is an original fellow.

Yeast—What makes you think so?

"Why, he borrowed five dollars from me yesterday, and paid it back to-day."—Yonkers Statesman.

How It Happened.

Mrs. Good—My poor man, are you married?

Soiled Spooner—No'm; I got dis hunted look from always bein' chased from the place to place by de police.—Judge.

Wayside Discussion.

Wayworn Watson—Here is a funny advertisement: "Bathe in comfort." The idea!

Perry Patettic—It wouldn't be so bad as bathin' in soapsuds.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Quite the Proper Thing.

The Father—I hear you have been borrowing money from your mother again.

The Son—Quite proper, papa; you know the prince of Wales does that same thing.—Yonkers Statesman.

Unnecessary.

Coldplunks—I think I'll put a clause in my will that if any of my relatives contest it they won't get a cent.

Friend—Oh! their lawyers will see that they don't.—Puck.

Read the Business Announcements.

THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND, with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain

Our Store is Light and Cool,

the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name

W. S. JOHNSON,

SPECIAL AGENT FOR

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

Assets over - - -	$300,000,000
Paid to policy holders over	500,000,000
Insurance in force over -	1,000,000,000

Issues the most liberal and attractive policies on the market, including

Cash Surrender Values, Extended Insurance,
Loan Values, Paid-up Insurance,
Grace in payment of Premiums, etc.

THE DRESSY WOMAN.

Among the dainty things in the shops are offered Japanese striped silks, said to be easy to wash and difficult to crush.

Venise lierre and other handsome all over nets, copying rich lace designs, are this season made into waists of many different varieties.

Silk warp gypsy cloth and silk warp eolienne are new and fashionable dress fabrics that appear in all the beautiful pastel colorings of the season.

Thus far among the French models shown there are more gowns made with tiered, plaited or trimmed skirts than with short or long overdresses.

Besides being greatly en evidence everywhere else, bolero and Eton jackets will be used for cycling, mountain climbing, golf and mornings on the beach.

Notwithstanding the rage for tulle, net, chiffon and taffeta silk, manipulated in countless ways, ribbons, either plain or patterned, are popular decorations for both gowns and hats.

Shirred skirts are close rivals of the plaited styles, and some of the models in this fashion have pointed hip yokes made of all over embroidery wrought variously on china silk, taffeta, grenadine, drap de chine and cashmere.

Summer textiles will again be made up without lining, giving the wearer an opportunity to make any number of effective changes in the low cut underwaist and skirt or closely fitting princess slip of silk, lawn or mercerized batiste.

The new piques are attractive both in quality and coloring, and in the shades of blue, old rose, brown, tan and pink are notably fine. They are shown in dots, stripes and checks, in bright colors or in black and white.—New York Post.

TAKING THE REINS.

The demand for saddle horses has not been so brisk for years as it has this spring.

John Kinney is going to train the Penn Valley stud campaigning string at the Belmont tracks, Philadelphia, this spring.

A sister to Nic[illegible], 2:08¼, was recently foaled on J. Malcolm Forbes' farm, and those who have seen her say she is a good one in every way.

The trotter Fitz Royal, 2:13¼, is being worked at a pace over the Jewettville covered track and shows great speed. He was formerly in the Hamlin stable.

Green Morris of New York, who has made numerous entries in English races, says he will take a small stable over next fall, provided his stable races up to expectations.

The pacer Ethel A. whose record of 2:10¼ was made when she was a 3-year-old several seasons ago, is to be out this season with the hobbles added to her equipment.

YOU WILL FIND AT

CROWNINSHIELD'S STORE

Glass, Tin, Granite, Copper, Crockery and Wooden Ware, Croquet Sets, Carts, Brooms, Brushes, Oil Stoves, Chimneys, Window Screens, Baskets, Tea, Coffee and Baking Powder, 5c. and 10c. Goods—a fine line.

No. 2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - Prop'r and Mgr.

Acknowledged the Most Charming and Fully Equipped Picnic Grounds in New England . . . .

Avail yourselves of the cool breezes and the charming scenery from the high bluff overlooking the Lake.

Boating, Rowing, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Petter, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment

Large hall, with piano Restaurant, Beautiful Grove and Summer Houses, Dining Pavilion, Stable, etc.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

OPEN EVERY DAY

ALL PRICES MODERATE.

☞ No Liquor.

je5-3mT

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Sar[illegible] Whiting, late of Franklin, in said county, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said court for probate by Ann O. Bennett of Franklin, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the [illegible] day of June A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel a newspaper published in Franklin the last publication to be one day at least before said Court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

et2,19,26 JONATHAN COBB, Register

TAKING THE REINS.

Five of the 12 horses named in the $20,000 stallion stake are owned in New England.

Orrin Hickok is now at Patchen Wilkes farm, Lexington, Ky., at work on a few good ones which he is preparing for the grand circuit campaign.

Steve Phillips, who drove Sleepy Tom, 2:12, when the blind pacer was a grand circuit sensation, has been nominated for sheriff of Fayette county, O.

Should Alta Belle and Monbels come up to expectations this year Beautiful Bells will lead all brood mares, with 11 standard performers to her credit.

Prince of India, 2:13½, by Baron Wilkes, is in Charley Lyon's stable at Louisville and is said to be much faster than he has ever shown before.

Lucie May, 2:22½, by Oakland Baron, winner of the pacing division in the Kentucky Futurity last year at Lexington, Ky., is being trained at the trot this year. She is in James L. Dodge's stable at Paris, Ky.

The 5-year-old stallion Director Peek, by Director, dam Mambrino Maid, 2:15½, by Mambrino Startle, has been added to W. L. Snow's stable. He is owned by the veteran A. J. Peek of Syracuse and is said to be an unusually promising horse.

Malden, in the string of Phil Dwyer, will do to watch, as he ran a cracking good race in the Bouquet Stakes. He was interfered with at least four times while coming down the hill, and he will win shortly at a good price.

After an absence of over a year from the saddle Jockey Charley Ballard has been signed to ride for the Canadian turfman William Hendrie for this season. Ballard is now training hard and has reduced his weight to 110 pounds and expects to ride much lighter.

CURTAIN RAISERS.

Minnie Palmer is playing in London in her old success, "My Sweetheart."

Mrs. Felix Morris is to go on the vaudeville stage as a monologist.

Augustus Thomas was at one time a ticket seller in the Olympic theater, St. Louis.

Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer have written a play called "The New Minister."

James J. Jeffries will take the part of an Arizona sheriff in the new play Clay M. Greene is writing for him.

Charles H. Hoyt has a new play well in hand for next season. The title is to be "A Bunch of Blue Ribbon."

Mme. Sarah Bernhardt and M. Coquelin, it is announced, will make a tour of the United States to last six months.

Sir Arthur Sullivan's new opera, "The Rose of Persia," is to be produced in New York by the original London company.

Mme. Patti has for some time held the record for the highest sum that has been earned in a year by a woman, her highest total for the 12 months being $350,000.

Elita Proctor Otis, now playing the leading role in "Woman and Wine," is considering an offer to star in David Belasco's "Zaza" in Australia next season.

The first role of any length Della Fox assumed was Editha in Augustus Thomas' "Editha's Burglar," which was the first of Mr. Thomas' plays produced. This was in 1884.

If you do up your own shirt waists, you will find a shirt waist board a convenience. On such a board the sleeves may be ironed without leaving creases. It should be covered with at least two thicknesses of flannel and then with clean white cotton.

TOWN TOPICS.

Boston has an Omar Khayyam club. Has Boston gone back on Browning?—Washington Post.

Chicago is looking for a public school superintendent who is as wise as a serpent and with no more politics than a dove.—Minneapolis Journal.

Philadelphia has made up her mind to spend $12,000,000 in filtering her water supply. Chicago spent $30,000,000 to give St. Louis something to filter.—St. Louis Star.

Chicago is boasting of the establishment of several new lines of "autobuses." Dear, dear! No wonder the fastidious Mr. Andrews refuses to live in the place any longer.—Indianapolis Journal.

Kansas City's pluck and enterprise have now made it certain that, as per original announcement, that undaunted town will be the scene of the gathering of the Democratic national convention of 1900.—St. Louis Republic.

ELECTRIC SPARKS.

The flashing electric sign—the kind that winks—is decidedly unpopular in London. The county council has just made a regulation providing a fine of £5 for the exhibition of such signs in the streets.

There are 1,200,000 miles of copper wire used in telephone service in the United States, and 4,000,000 calls are received daily in the telephone exchanges of the country. The wire would girdle the earth at the equator 48 times or reach from the earth to the moon five times.

The new electric power plant at the Armour packing houses in Chicago replaces 93 steam boilers, 16 engines and 17 refrigerating machines. It develops 4,000 horsepower and feeds 10,000 incandescent lamps, 300 arc lamps and 120 power motors, scattered over an area of more than 60 acres.

BRITON AND BOER.

The reports that the Boers were discouraged do not appear to have reached Oom Paul and his burghers.—Washington Item.

The British army will take time to recuperate and the Boers will probably embrace the opportunity to do some more farming.—Washington Star.

Some war automobiles are going to be tried in South Africa. It will be a struggle between Boer mobility and British automobility.—New York World.

The war in South Africa seems to have outlived its interest. The news from there is more monotonous than the soldiers find the fighting.—Boston Globe.

BEAUTY SPOTS.

Brisk walks in a misty rain are recommended to give the skin a delicate freshness and glow.

The stomach is responsible directly for an oily complexion. The eating of fruit, green vegetables, lean meats and other simple foods always will result in a clear skin.

No one would ever be bothered with constipation if everyone knew how naturally and quickly Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach and bowels.

Cures croup, sore throat, pulmonary troubles—Monarch over pain of every sort. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher The Kind You Have Always Bought

BUG DEATH...

A NON-POISONOUS POWDER.

Is sure death to potato, squash and cucumber bugs, currant and tomato worms, and other plant and vine-eating pests. It is a benefit to the plant, and the more freely used the better the plant will thrive. For potatoes when blight is prevalent the extra yield will more than pay all expense of Bug Death.

1 lb. pkg., 15c. 3 lbs., 35c. 5 lbs., 50c. 12 1-2 lbs., $1.

Perfection Shaker, 50c.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Have a Boiled Dinner

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs...........	10c	Smoked Bacon, strip...	10c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Spinach, peck.	25c
Flank	6c	Dandelion.............	30c
Smoked Shoulders......	8c	Lettuce, each.........	8c
Radishes, bunch.......	5c

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe1-3tS

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF

SEEDS! SEEDS!

All the 5c packages of GARDEN SEEDS we sell for 3c., two 5c., or 25c. per dozen. These Seeds are new this year, direct from the CLEVELAND SEED CO.

All kinds of FLOWER SEEDS, 5c. and 10c. per package.

All other kinds of Garden Seeds at the lowest prices—HOLTON, MAINE, EARLY ROSE, HEBRONS, NEW QUEENS.

Before buying your Seeds come and see what we can do for you.

McKinnon's Grocery Store,

CENTRAL SQUARE.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES, Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap27S

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN

EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.

(Successor to RAZEE & SON)

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a. m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW

Enclosed • Arc • Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law and all other persons interested in the estate of William B. Nolen, late of Franklin, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, Henry R. Jenks, executor of the will of said deceased, has presented to said court his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offers named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of two certain parcels of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts, legacies and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said county, on the twenty-seventh day of June, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register

je5,12,19

AGENTS WANTED

Liberal contracts to intelligent men of good character and address. Can earn in commissions from $3000 upwards per year by applying to Wm. F. Bache, Gen'l Ag't NORTHWESTERN MUT. LIFE INS. CO., 7 Water st., Boston, Mass., from 9 to 10 A. M., from 12 to 1 P. M.

ANNUAL STATEMENT JAN'Y 1, 1900.

Assets.........................	$126,946,728.45
Liabilities....................	121,112,630.71
Surplus........................	5,834,097.74
Insurance in force.............	$437,096,126.00

mh2 2ms

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 48. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, JUNE 15, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

"STRIVE TO CONQUER."

PEIRA NIKAN.

Although Dean was not blessed with what might be called June weather for the annual graduation yesterday, yet the elements did not appear to dampen the ardor of the friends of the school in the least. The attendance was excellent and the interest of the townspeople was also manifested by their presence and attention. The graduating class of eighteen ranks well with its predecessors, and cannot fail to make its mark in coming years. The exercises in the chapel commenced promptly at 10 o'clock, with a most interesting program, the order being as follows:

Music, Orchestra.
Salutatory with Essay—"The Educative Value of Athletics,"
James Murry Gallison.
Essay—"The Myths of Star Land,"
Clara Babson Woolford.
Scene from "Merchant of Venice." Act I. Scene 2.
Portia, Mollie Garfield Higgins,
Nerissa, Clara Marshall.
Song—"The Two Grenadiers,"........ Schumann
Harry Elmer Richardson.
Oration—"Why a College Education?"
George Edward Pearson.
Scene from "The Sunken Bell,"...... Hauptmann
Rautendelein, Alice Elizabeth Phillips
Heinrich, Arthur Ray Marshall
Wood-Sprite, Earl Roy Jeneuss.
(The work of the bell-founder, Heinrich, is destroyed by a malicious wood-sprite. In despair Heinrich wanders up the mountain to die, where Rautendelein, a radiant elf, finds him. By her mystic power she gives him the strength and inspiration for one more achievement.)
Essay—"The Coming of the Birds,"
Edith Ardelle Phipps.
Class Will,
James Currier Clough.
Violin Solo—1er Air Varie," ....Dancla
Arthur Ray Marshall.
Paper—"A Volunteer in the Spanish War," Ernest Prescott Nowell.
Essay—"Our New Possessions,"
Myrtis Methyl Lougee.
Song—"The Spirit of Spring,".............Parker
Harriet West Kellough.
Class Prophecies,
Edna Gilmore Smith,
William Victor Burnell.
Valedictory with Essay, "A Plea for the Ideal,"
Mary Louise Mann.
Music, Orchestra.
Presentation of Diplomas.
Benediction.

After selections by the Salem Cadet orchestra, prayer was offered by Pres. Capen. The orchestra again favored the audience, and James Murry Gallison, a son of Dr. A. J. Gallison of this place, delivered the salutatory, feeling assured that the presence of friends there indicated their interest in the class. He welcomed them most heartily. To the statement that athletics was a waste of time he dissented, insisting that wisely directed it gave broad shoulders, clear brains, sinewy muscles, a sound body and a sound mind. The foot ball teams of England were vital forces in the battle of Waterloo. Athletics trained the moral nature, induced temperate habits, brought about control of will, taught them to accept defeat without despair, aroused a healthy and wise enthusiasm, and helped round out the whole nature, thus benefiting the whole student and making him better able to fight the battles of life.

Miss Woolford's stories in regard to the stars, believed by the ancients, were interesting indeed, showing an intimate knowledge of astronomy as well as mythology, many of the stories being new to her audience. The next event, the scene from the "Merchant of Venice," was finely done, both Miss Higgins and Miss Garfield receiving the warmest commendation.

The vocal selection by Mr. Richardson was thoroughly enjoyed, his fine voice being under excellent control and cultivation. He was followed by Mr. Pearson, who showed conclusively the advantages of a collegiate education. It is mainly objected to because it is misunderstood. It is considered unprofitable because, it is asserted, it unfits young men for hard work. This is not so. Nothing that one learns is valueless. One learns one thing in order to know another. As knowledge is capital, it is impossible to have too much of it. The main thing is the discipline one gets and the use he makes of his knowledge. At college he gains an experience valuable in his struggle with the world. He comes in contact with all sections of the country and learns that he and his section are but the small part of a mighty whole. He is thus better fitted for his life work.

"The Sunken Bell" was finely done, and though rather more pretentious than is usually attempted, could hardly have been improved upon. Mr. Marshall's conception of his part was excellent and his acting strong. Miss Phillips handled her part with pleasing grace, and Mr. Jenness was forceful and clear. The applause was enthusiastic and well merited. "The Coming of the Birds," by Miss Phipps, was a delightful wood picture, and she evidently has an eye for seeing many things about the woods and fields that ordinarily escape the casual observer. She happily described the habits of our songsters and other birds, likening them to participants in a church, with officers, organ, listeners, etc.

Mr. Clough's bequests on behalf of the class of 1900 to the class of 1901, were very humorous and elicited continued applause, as the many "hits" given were recognized to fit the victims so applicably. Mr. Marshall followed with a selection upon the violin, which he gave with fine execution and musical power. The vivid pictures painted by Mr. Nowell in his personal reminiscence of the Spanish war were enthusiastically received, as he brought again to memory many of the fearful things our soldiers were forced to suffer through incompetency and haste. It was doubly effective because he had lived what he wrote.

Miss Lougee made a happy turn to the thoughts by her essay upon "Our New Possessions." Of course everyone expected she was going to speak upon Porto Rico, Manila, etc., but instead she described the various pictures which now hung upon the walls of Dean, and which represented love on the part of former classes and individuals. These pictures taught the pupils lessons; they spoke of love and loyalty, and could not fail to have a potent influence upon the lives of the students, increasing their taste for the beautiful and sweetening their lives. She referred most touchingly to the classmate whom they had lost, Miss Thayer, paying her a most loving tribute.

Miss Kellough's fine voice was shown to decided advantage in a vocal selection, winning warm applause for the singer and the song. The appearance of the class prophets, Edna Gilmore Smith and William Victor Burnell, the two youngest members of the class, prepared the audience for something enjoyable, and as they drew the gifts from the bag the accompanying remarks were received with laughter and evident enjoyment. It was a novel and interesting change from the stereotyped method of "dealing in futures."

Miss Mann's effort was one of the fine things of the programme as she made a plea for the ideal in life. Many of our ideals are nearer to truth than our real things In literature the temperament of the author colors all that he does; in sculpture it is the same. Children love the fairy stories of their childhood and cherish them, even though aging years prove them to have been unreal, yet they taught a lesson. The spirit of Santa Claus lives, though as person he does not exist. The invisible spirit of our inner being affects us, and though shadowy and unreal become later living truths. In her valedictory she spoke of the separation now to take place, when they should no longer be a class but individuals. They were to go out for greater trials and joys. Here had been laid the foundation for life work.

In turning the class over to Dr. Pullman, the president of the Board of Trustees, Prof. Peirce took occasion to say that the graduating class had done well, and was worthy the honor that was now to be conferred upon it. Dr. Pullman expressed his happiness in being the instrument in distributing the magic bit of parchment, which the students had every reason to prize. He said that the end of education was to put them in possession of themselves. The world today is looking for strong men and women, for man now holds mightier forces than ever before, and unless these forces were rightly used there was going to be trouble. You are going out to sink or swim. Banish the idea that all you have to do is to take care of yourself and pursue happiness. Happiness is a coy creature and is won only by industry, and even then only secondarily. Use the best force God has given you; keep the relish and joy of your young life. Life is a divine opportunity. Keep the sense of the peril of life. The world is wild and lawless and devilish. Keep ever in mind the Lord Jesus Christ. God has His place for every man. The world has need of men and women brave enough to battle with sin, vice, disease and death. Take the side of the oppressed against the oppressor; take the side of righteousness. Beware of insincerity; be honest of heart. "To thine own self be true." He then awarded the diplomas. Benediction was also pronounced by Dr. Pullman and the class united for the last time as a class in the college yell.

THE GRADUATES.

‖Mollie Garfield Higgins, Bar Harbor, Me.
*Harriet West Kellough, East Boston.
‖Myrtie Methyl Lougee, East Douglas.
‖Mary Louise Mann, Franklin.
*Clara Marshall, Nashua, N. H.
†Alice Elizabeth Phillips, West Medford.
*Edith Ardelle Phipps, Watertown.
*Edna Gilmore Smith, Wakefield.
‖Clara Babson Woolford, Pigeon Cove.
‡William Victor Burnell, Boston.
‡James Currier Clough, Enfield, N. H.
†James Murry Gallison, Franklin.
‡Winthrop Young Haycock, Calais, Me.
‖Earl Roy Jenneas, Barton, Vt.
*Arthur Ray Marshall, Manchester, N. H.
‡Ernest Prescott Nowell, Reading.
†George Edward Pearson, Salem.
‡Harry Elmer Richardson, East Aurora, N. Y.

* English ‖ Academic † College Preparatory ‡ Technical Preparatory

THE DINNER AND ADDRESSES.

An intermission was then given until 1.30, when the teachers, pupils, parents, friends and interested guests assembled in the dining hall for the annual dinner. The room had been beautifully trimmed for the occasion, the class color, pink, showing in graceful draping and festoons about the room, and all the electric lights were daintily trimmed. The tables were set for about 250 and nearly all the seats were taken, fully 225 sitting down to enjoy one of Dean's famous institutional banquets, exceeded nowhere and rarely excelled. The tables looked very inviting and were loaded with salads, cold meats, salmon, croquets, rolls, coffee, cake, fruit jellies, ice cream, ices, etc. Dr. Cushman asked the blessing and for nearly an hour the guests bestowed their attention upon the dainties, and there was surely no lack of appreciation on the part of any who partook.

At the close of the banquet Prof. Peirce said that at times it seemed as if the country failed to look with approval upon the attempts at education, but with the coming of the June days the interest increased. In good old New England now everything tended toward the building up of mind and character. Back of all was the interest in the schools. He gave a hearty welcome to all who had grown gray in the fostering care of the school, the alumni and all friends of the school. Every year brings its gains and its losses. The school gained in strength and influence and power every year. Kind friends had been raised up to assist the school. Mrs. Goddard, Charles Booth, Mrs. Morse had made substantial gifts. Beautiful pictures had been donated, gracing the walls. The school had had its losses, in classes graduating, which was at the same time an element of strength, as they went out into the world better equipped to fight its battles, broadening the school's influence.

There had been a severe loss in the death of four members of the board of trustees, Messrs. Whittier, Ballou, Smith and Ray, who had given of their time, their devotion, their money and their loyalty. Mr. Ray had come to seem almost a part of the school itself, and without him it could almost be said existence would have been impossible. The school must now look to the graduates for support, for loyalty, for devotion, and that it had a right to expect. He then introduced Hon. Samuel L. Powers of Newton, noting the fact that it was hoped Mr. Powers might later represent the state in the national Capitol at Washington as congressman from this district.

Mr. Powers said that he regarded himself as fortunate that he could be present at this 34th anniversary of Dean. He recalled the sacrifices made by those who had founded and fostered the institutions of learning not only here but in England. He traced the history of Harvard, Yale, the preparatory schools of England like Eton, Winchester, Rugby, the colleges like Oxford and Cambridge. England had come to depend upon her educated men. As we were now about to enter upon a new colonial era the United States had a need for educated men, men who could steer the ship of state safely. The work done in institutions like these would bring to the front men who could grapple with the prolems of the future and solve them. He then related with touching pathos hits from "Tom Brown at Oxford," and "The Newcomes," showing how the memories of school days would come back with tender and ennobling influences.

The gem of the afternoon's addresses was that by Mrs. Mary A. Livermore, who was introduced by Prof. Peirce by the remark that usually the addresses were all directed to the young men, but this time he desired the young ladies to have a chance. Mrs. Livermore said she thought the days had gone by when it was necessary to have one thing for the young men and another for the young women. However, the last twenty-five year have evened up the sexes; doors are opening in all directions for women. Now they are warmly welcomed in science, in art, in medicine, on municipal boards, as trustees of estates, etc. Athletics is also doing much to emancipate woman, improving her health, which is the prerequisite for happy living. Don't try to be a public woman. Remember that the bulk of future teaching must be by women, and they ought to be magnificently equipped. She was glad to note that the "twentieth century baby" was coming out. Daughters should be taught how to keep house. She related her despairing attempts, and told how she delighted to step out of her kitchen into the world of literature. She spoke of her experience in seeking admission to Harvard college, with five others, simply as listeners. President Quincy frowned upon their presumption, and she impetuously told him she hoped God would annihilate every woman from Eve down to the youngest infant, and then he (Quincy) and God could have it all to themselves.

Public women live in glass houses; they are obliged to behave; they can't "cut up". She deplored the fact that women were moral cowards, and then immediately added, in defense of her sex, "but I don't know as they are more so than the men." She instanced the case of the Federation women at Milwaukee, who felt but did not dare to act. She closed with a beautiful story of the sculptor who had made his statuary to exactly fit the niche intended. Throughout the address, lasting three-quarters of an hour, she used the choicest language, never hesitating for a word or an idea, and kept her audience in the best of humor by her ready wit, her brilliant thought and sound common sense. Although in her eightieth year she well bore out the appellation which Dr. Roblin applied to her, "The noblest Roman of them all."

E. I. Comins of Worcester was proud that he had been educated in the "little red schoolhouse." He had at one time been invited to teach at Dean and had a warm feeling toward her. He traced the early history of Massachusetts in regard to education, saying that Horace Mann's picture ought to have a place upon the walls of Dean. He spoke of the educational condition of Nantucket at one time, due to the wise foresight of Cyrus Pierce. He praised the instructors at Dean and felt that their work would be lasting.

Dr. Roblin attached himself to Dean by a humorous story. He felt that what the class had learned would go with them through life. He advised against an unwise pessimism, and also against an unwarranted optimism, suggesting a wise normalism. He would advise patience. If Puritan and Pilgrim mothers attained so much, how much more would be required of women of today, to whom so much is given. Set about your work with loyal hearts, intrepid spirits and undaunted souls before your fellowmen and your Maker.

Charles E. Hatfield, '82, was glad to be back at Dean, and paid a loving tribute to Chester B. Smith. Miss Clara Carpenter, '86, of Valley Falls, was living again the delightful life at Dean. She spoke of the loving and patient work of the teachers, and said that if Dean should suddenly be blotted out of existence its influence would go on and on in ever broadening circles. Prof. Wren of Tufts spoke of his pleasure at being again back at Dean, and the afternoon's exercises were brought to a close. Then followed the annual alumni meeting in the parlor, electing the officers for the coming year. They were as follows: President, F. G. Wrenn; vice president, Miss Edith Hodge; secretary and treasurer, Miss Lulie B. Shaw; executive committee, Charles A. R. Ray, James M. Gallison, Miss Clara Carpenter.

In the evening the reception to the class was held in the gymnasium, which was largely attended, and one of the most enjoyable yet held. The room was charmingly decorated, a large number of electric lights having been put in. An arc light hung in the centre, circled by incandescents draped with colored paper, while at either end of the hall the "'00" and "D. A." were accentuated with white and red lights, making a most brilliant effect. Large mirrors were also placed at the head of the hall. After the reception the social was enjoyed, about seventy-five participating in the grand march. This number was increased later as the dancing began. The costumes were unusually elaborate and the young people appeared to be enjoying every moment, with little thought that this was the closing scene of school life. The picture was delightful in the extreme.

NOTES.

Prof. Peirce had every reason to feel proud yesterday at the success of the graduation, the presence of the distinguished guests, the complimentary remarks in regard to the pupils and school, and he can hardly fail to be encouraged to continue in the work which he is doing, realizing as he must, the important influence it is to have upon the life of the community and nation.

Mrs. Livermore paid a deserved tribute to the cuisine of Dean academy when she said she could hardly bring herself to believe that all the toothsome dainties were products of the Dean housekeeper. Her compliments found ready response in the hearts of every one of the nearly 225 guests at the tables.

There was an unusually large number of former students at graduation, showing how they cherish the memories of their school life there.

Every moment that the Salem Cadet orchestra was playing was one of pleasure, as there is no finer body of instrumentalists to be had than these musicians. Their playing is a distinct treat.

The outsider sees only the social and recreative life of Dean. To the faithful teachers who are doing so much for their young charges within those walls every moment must seem fraught with responsibility. How well the young people shall carry out the lessons learned there depends entirely upon themselves, and from this time on the responsibility has been shifted onto them. Many prayerful thoughts and earnest and high hopes will go with the students as they go out into life to make the most of themselves. That they will continue to be a credit to Dean is assured.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Golf contest Saturday afternoon.

E. C. Craig is home from his teaching for the summer.

Miss Nellie Robinson of Boston has been visiting relatives in town.

Postmaster Talbot will take possession of the office on Monday morning.

Division 8, A. O. H., will hold a regular meeting next Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. William Moore is entertaining her sister, Miss Schaefer, of New York.

Mrs. L. E. Case, honorary matron of Atlanta university, is visiting in town.

Almon Sanborn was called into Boston this week by the illness of his brother.

Charles Hutchinson, youngest son of J. T. Hutchinson, is ill with scarlet fever.

Miss Annie Briggs of Stoughton was among the guests in town for commencement.

The street railway company expect to run a car over the Wrentham route tomorrow.

Miss Rose McGroary is ill with rheumatic fever at the home of her parents on Ruggles street.

The hand of fellowship will be given to new members at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon.

St. Mary's school graduating exercises will be held in the Opera house on Thursday evening, June 21.

Miss Catherine Graham of Brooklyn, N. Y., is visiting at the home of Mrs. Doherty on Union street.

Miss Nellie Razee has just returned from a several days' visit in Springfield, the guest of Miss Lillie Capron.

Manager Enegren has arranged for attractions at Lake Pearl every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

It is said that the proposed enterprise of establishing a pleasure resort at Beaver pond has been abandoned.

Rev. William Sheafe Chase of Woonsocket will preach at the evening service at St. John's church, at 3 o'clock, on Sunday.

There will be a dance at Lake Pearl this evening and tomorrow evening. The American band orchestra will furnish the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Johnson attended the Wheaton commencement at Norton on Wednesday, Mrs. Johnson being a former graduate.

D. C. Coates on Pond street picked green peas from his own vines yesterday, which, so far as we can learn, are the first of the season.

Rev. Mr. Selleck will preach at West Wrentham Universalist church next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, instead of Wrentham centre, as previously announced.

W. Elkerton has taken the bake shop formerly occupied by E. Lovell Metcalf on Central street and will open a new bakery there as soon as necessary repairs are made.

A ball team made up of some of the best local players and ex-leaguers from out of town will play the Hyde Park team tomorrow afternoon at Indian Rock park.

Lake Pearl was well patronized Tuesday evening by Franklin people. A fine concert, given by the American brass band, was part of the evening's enjoyment. Dancing was also indulged in.

Conductor Mark Knowlton had his right arm injured by a fall from a trolley car on Tuesday and was compelled to suspend work for a few days owing to the injury. The accident was caused by getting his heel caught between the car and the side platform.

The United Workmen entertained about 45 from Ames lodge of Woonsocket last evening, a degree team coming here also to initiate one candidate. The visiting brethren and Master Workman Cody made speeches, a collation was served and a fine time enjoyed.

Don't forget the public meeting of the Greenhalge Literary society tonight. The program will consist of a drama, entitled "Cousin Frank," piano duets, vocal and mandolin solos and readings. A hearty invitation to attend is given to all. Come and bring your friends. Admission free.

In regard to the lecture by Dr. Morris in the Methodist church next Tuesday evening on "That Mysterious Man," exchanges speak most highly of his eloquence, the value of his thoughts, and the entertaining way in which he presents them. It is a lecture that no one should fail to hear, as it will aid the church and repay the listener as well.

[OTHER LOCAL NEWS ON SECOND PAGE.]

Richardson's Market.
Less meat and more vegetables this weather is the best; have some choice spring vegetables such as new peas, ripe tomatoes, choice beets, juicy rhubarb, the succulent string beans, etc. Fresh killed poultry, home killed veal, selected cuts of beef, prime pieces of corned beef, the best butter in town, strawberries, full baskets and finely flavored fruit. We will leave you a box daily if you desire during the season.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

Well Rendered and Well Received.

The quarterly term concert at Dean academy on Tuesday evening was enjoyed by a large audience, who manifested their appreciation by abundant applause. The vocal selections have never been surpassed, while the musical numbers were played with brilliancy and finish, indicating close application and excellent instruction. The recitations were remarkably good, Miss Barron carrying off the palm, Miss Ray fairly sharing the honors with her, however. The former was naturalness itself; the latter had an excellent conception, and pleasing and graceful execution. Miss Wilder's bit from "David Harum" was also well received. Miss Tappan's work was unusually fine, sharing with Miss Patterson and Miss Grant the applause of the listeners. Miss Lamont's many friends were thoroughly appreciative of her earnest and conscientious work. Miss Cross sang in excellent voice, and Miss Goddard and Miss Marshall were pleasing complements. The duet by Miss Kellough and Mr. Richardson showed voices well cultivated and blending nicely.

The gem of the evening was the scenes from Barrie's "The Little Minister." Nothing better has been seen upon the Dean stage since the days of "The Criterions." Miss Sherman, the instructor, was perfectly at home in her part and reproduced many of the fine points given by Miss Adams. Her conception was clear and her acting capital. The Lady Babbie's coyness and assumption of dignity were the delightful hits of the play. Miss Bullock took the part of the little minister remarkably well, proving an excellent foil for the gypsy tease. That there was not more of the play was regretted by all. Miss Sherman should give her admirers more frequent opportunity to enjoy her histrionic conceptions. On the whole the entertainment has rarely been equaled, and Mr. Scott, and Misses Sherman and Woltmann have every reason to feel gratified at the results their pupils have attained.

Emerson's Market.
New peas asparagus, string beans, tomatoes, spinach, 15c peck; radishes, lettuce, rhubarb, cucumbers, Bermuda onions, cabbages, 3 cts a pound; new beets and turnips, new potatoes Boiled ham 25 cts a pound. Try our Imperial cheese. Fresh-killed fowls, lamb, veal, pork, and our lobsters are boiled fresh every Saturday morning and received here at 4.30 p. m. Get your selected strawberries here. Fresh cream.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

To Rent—A pleasant summer room, furnished, at Mrs. L. A. Harris', West street. 15

To Rent.—5 room tenement, Central square. Inquire E. B. Sherman, Emmons street. 5tf

Two hundred bushels potatoes for sale at Mt. Vernon farm. Address Box 25, Franklin, Mass. 8,12,15,19*

Three hundred cords of pine trash wood for sale. Edward S. Cook, Central street, Box 212. 15,22,29

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18-tf

Boarders Wanted.—A man and wife or two gentlemen; a nice front room. Apply to A. S. Wales, Dale street. 1,8,15*

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Wanted.—A girl to assist in the care of a child part of the day and some evenings. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 12,15

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15 tf

Cut flowers, wedding bouquets, flowers for graduation, all kinds of funeral designs made up at Slade's green house at short notice. P. O. Box 179.

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

For Sale or to Let—Cottage of eight rooms and barn on Peck street; pleasant view of the town; fruit, and well of good water. Inquire of Peck & Field. 5,8,12

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. See Chas. H. Prince, SENTINEL Office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKINNON, Agent

When It's Fly Time
Then it's high time that you put up your screen doors to keep out the flies. It's cheaper to put in screen doors than to waste time killing flies or buying fly-paper. We have the doors at $1, $1.25 and $1.75. Screens for windows and the wire netting also for sale.
HOSIE BROS.

Views of Residences.
Now, before the trees leaf fully, is the best time to arrange for photos of your home, either exterior or interior. Call and see samples and let me quote prices. Business hours during the summer, 8 to 12 a. m., 1.15 to 5 p. m., 7 to 8 Saturday evenings.
CALKIN, Photographer,
Depot St.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year In Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word; no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

FRIDAY, JUNE 15, 1900.

Never Worked and Never Will.

Down in Stone county, Mo., 30 miles south of Springfield, walled in by Ozark mountains, lives Skinch Painter, who, according to a special in the Chicago Record, took a solemn vow nearly 60 years ago that he would never work. He declared the belief that the world owes a living to every one brought into it and that work is a useless sin. This remarkable character is 70 years old. In his own case he has made positive demonstration of his anti-work theory, for he has never toiled. Yet he lives in absolute contentment and has the natural happiness of the early-day Indians as portrayed in story books. He says he has never suffered from hunger, has never felt the need of money and has never weakened in his determination to abstain from labor. He has literally fished, hunted and fiddled his way through the world. That is what he said he would do when he was ten years old. Skinch Painter was born in the Ozark mountains. He has never been married. He has brothers in adjoining counties who are prosperous farmers. Skinch hasn't seen his kinsmen for a score of years, although they live less than 5 miles away.

Base Ingratitude.

It is sad to see a tendency in some quarters towards industrial unrest with which professional agitators afflict the work-blest laboring classes, says Hardware. Because employment is plentiful on every hand with good pay, they feel as though they can risk weeks of idleness to accomplish some form of coercion towards a harassed employer, which a few years ago would have been regarded high treason against the benevolent manufacturer, who frequently at that time ran his factory at an inadequate profit, only to keep his workmen together, his wheels at work and the fires of his forges lighted. Gratitude toward the dispenser of employment, the provider of the field of labor, the glad patron of the pay roll, is not a distinguishing characteristic among the restless workmen of these indulgent times.

Kissing the Bride.

In the city of Manchester, N. H., the question whether magistrates who are called upon to perform a marriage ceremony should kiss the bride, has become seemingly a burning one. The Union of that city has been publishing many interviews and some communications relative to the question, but it is by no means settled. With characteristic masculine conceit, most of the magistrates who were interviewed took the ground that the kissing of brides should be optional with them; that is, if the personal appearance of a bride pleases a magistrate, then it should be his right to kiss her; if it did not then it should be his right to refrain from exercising his theoretical prerogative. Some discussed the subject in a flippant manner, quite inconsistent with the dignity which should reside in men who occupy judicial positions. They said that the answer to the question depended primarily, in each individual case, upon the physical strength of the bridegroom, and secondarily upon his willingness to see his bride kissed by a strange man.

Service stripes will be added to the uniform of employes of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. A gold stripe will indicate five years of service, and a silver stripe two years. Some of the Baltimore & Ohio conductors will be entitled to nine gold stripes. No other railroad has conductors in continuous service so long.

A Creighton (Neb.) minister offers a new broom to every couple coming to him to be married. That looks like a poor inducement.

The wars of 1899 emphasize the dangers of sharpshooting, and the importance of preventing the needless exposure of officers.

FRANKLIN NEWS.

The theatre building at Hoag pond is being pushed, but difficulty is experienced in getting lumber as fast as wanted. While the building may be far enough along to allow its use at the date desired, there will probably be many things to do to finish up.

Few people realize how much the student life at Dean enlivens the place until the summer months, when the grounds and buildings are deserted. Franklin is fortunate indeed in having the institution here, and its absence would be a distinct loss educationally, financially and socially.

Mr and Mrs. Anthony Viquiert and family and Ernest Artrue returned on Tuesday after spending a ten weeks' vacation visiting relatives in Reims, France, and also viewing the Paris exposition. Miss Leonne Lassaux of Paris accompanied them and will spend a short vacation here.

There is talk of a new summer resort at Wrentham, near Lake Pearl and on the line of the electric railway. There is plenty of capital back of the ownership of the property and the natural facilities are good for an enterprise of the kind. Wrentham is the possessor of many spots which Nature has made delightful to the eye, and with a few modern conveniences for comfort they can be made attractive for the many.

The Sunday morning service at the Universalist church will be devoted to the Sunday school interest. A concert program has been prepared under the direction of a committee for that purpose. The church will be decorated and the services will be full of interest. Among the musical selections will be the following: choir, selected; welcome song, little girls; song, Mabel Snow and Marion Grant; Song, "Birdie's Secret," Esmah Metcalf; song, Bernetle Hawkins; song, Florence Grant; choir, selected.

James S. Toothaker, who lives in the Mount district, expects to have the appointment on rural mail delivery route to be established in connection with the postoffice here. The salary is to be $500, with which the messenger must supply his own team. The route extends from the office here to the Mount district, thence to South Franklin then to Unionville, through Pond street to Goat corner, along Partridge street to the Richardson place, on Lincoln street to Brook street to the vicinity of City Mills, up Chestnut street to the office, a distance of about 18 or 20 miles.

The selectmen met Friday evening with the full board present. The bills approved were mostly for regular expenses and those sent in from the school committee. Representative Burrington appeared for consultation in regard to a proposed bridge at Quincy, the bill for which has passed the senate and is before the house. The bridge is of no particular benefit in this part of Norfolk county, but it is proposed to have the county contribute a large share of the expense, which will be heavy. Judge Ruggles reported to the board that Judge Bond of the superior court, to whom the matter was presented, declined to approve the proposed curfew law.

About fifty members of the Woonsocket Epworth league, together with a large delegation of league members from Holliston, were entertained last Wednesday by the local chapter in the Methodist church. The church was very prettily decorated with an abundance of wild flowers and the committees in charge presented a very entertaining as well as profitable program. The mandolin solos by Prof. Fred. B. Hicks of Woonsocket, the Ladies' quartet from Holliston, readings by Miss Sadie Holbrook of Norfolk, vocal duets by Mrs. C. L. Stewart and Miss Bly of Franklin, together with remarks by the pastors, were among the interesting features. After the entertainment refreshments were served and a social hour followed.

The railroad commissioners gave a hearing in Boston last week on a petition of the Milford, Holliston & Framingham Street Railway company for permission to operate the line of the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket company between Caryville and North Bellingham, as agreed between the companies. The commissioners were apparently favorably disposed toward granting the request, but desired the companies to secure the written consent of the Bellingham selectmen, and to furnish for the commissioners copies of the votes of the company directors whereby the operation of the line was sanctioned. The commissioners gave a hearing yesterday to the railway company for leave to cross the Grafton & Upton steam tracks at grade on South Main street, Milford.

The Late Oliver Dean.

The Boston Globe has been publishing a list of rich men of Boston 50 years ago, taken from a book published at that time. Among the list is the following in relation to the late Oliver Dean:

"Dean, Oliver—$150,000. Commenced poor; physician. Native of Franklin. Ill health obliged him to quit practice and he traveled in Europe. Engaged in the Amoskeag enterprise, was successful, became president of Framingham bank; is now president of the Delaine corporation at Manchester; the founder of Dean."

The widow of Dr. Dean is still a resident of Wrentham and is always ready to assist any good object that comes to her notice.

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. A[illegible]

GRAY STREAKS

Why let all your neighbors and friends think you must be twenty years older than you are? Yet it's impossible to look young with the color of 70 years in the hair. It's sad to see young persons look prematurely old in this way. Sad because it's all unnecessary; for gray hair may always be restored to its natural color by using—

Ayer's Hair Vigor

For over half a century this has been the standard hair preparation. It is an elegant dressing; stops falling of the hair; makes the hair grow; and cleanses the scalp from dandruff.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"I have been using Ayer's Hair Vigor for over 20 years and I can heartily recommend it to the public as the best hair tonic in existence."
Mrs. G. L. ALDERSON,
April 24, 1899. Ector, Tex.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the Vigor, write the Doctor about it. Address,
DR. J. C. AYER,
Lowell, Mass.

RECENT INVENTIONS.

For cutting cheese a new device has a circular table on which the cheese revolves, with a horizontal bar supported on two posts secured to the counter to carry the cutting bar, which is mounted on a lever to descend and cut the cheese.

There has been patented by a woman the combination of a chair and table, the back of the chair being pivoted on two arms attached to the front of the seat, with adjustable legs to support the back when it is swung into a horizontal position.

There has been designed a rotary blacking brush which can be held in one hand to black the shoes without moving the arm, the handle consisting of two pivoted members, on one of which is mounted a revolving shaft carrying the brush, while the other has a toothed head to revolve the brush as the handles are gripped together.

SCRAPS OF SCIENCE.

The prime of life in a man of regular habits and sound constitution is from 30 to 35 years of age; of a woman, from 24 or 25 to about 40 years of age.

One of the most fascinating results of the use of the microscope was the discovery of Professor Ehrenberg that a certain earth or rock in the Barbados is literally composed of minute and beautiful "skeletons."

Du Bonnier, a French physician, recently described before the Paris Academy of Medicine a new method of testing deafness—namely, by applying a tuning fork to the knee or some other part of the bony structure. He said that a sound ear could not hear the note of the fork, but an ear in which disease had already made inroads could perceive it distinctly.

POLITICAL QUIPS.

The presidential office may be easy to fill, but nobody will deny that it is rather hard to get.—Rochester Democrat.

The candidate frequently fixes his fences, but invariably it is the voter who does the rail splitting.—Atlanta Constitution.

People should be careful about throwing stones promiscuously. They might hit a vice presidential candidate.—Chicago Record.

The voters of the United States are growing increasingly independent at municipal elections. The disease isn't one that should be cured.—Hartford Post.

"Take Heed Will Surely Speed."

Be sure to heed the first symptoms of indigestion, nervousness and impure blood, and thus avoid chronic dyspepsia, nervous prostration and all the evils produced by bad blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is your safeguard. It quickly sets the stomach right, strengthens and quiets the nerves, purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood and keeps up the health tone.

All liver ills are cured by Hood's Pills. 25

Does Coffee Agree With You?

If not, drink Grain-O—made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain-O I did not like it, but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." The children can drink it freely with great benefit. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 15c and 25c.

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

An Economical Move.

Mr. Spriggs—My dear, it won't be necessary for you to go to the auction at Mr. Sellont's to-morrow.

Mrs. Spriggs—There may be two or three things there that I want, and, besides, I enjoy going to auctions.

"There won't be any auction there."

"Why not?"

"I stopped in to-day and bought everything he had at private sale."

"Everything? Private sale? Are you crazy? What in the world did you do that for?"

"Because I didn't want you to go tomorrow and pay three or four prices for everything."—N. Y. Weekly.

Appearances Deceitful.

"I struck a new one the other day," said the man who is about to move, "when I went to see a house of which a faithful Irishman was custodian. 'Too small, too small,' I said, as soon as I saw the place.

"'Go aisy, sor,' he replied, 'till I show yez t'rough. Yez'll foind the house much larger on the inside than it is on the outside, sor.'"—Cleveland Leader.

No Apparent Motive.

Jack the Kisser was brought into court.

"Are these the complaining witnesses?" asked the judge.

"We are," they answered.

The judge inspected them.

"Officer," he said, "take the prisoner to the detention hospital for examination as to his sanity. This is not a criminal case."—Chicago Tribune.

A Question of Descent.

O'Brien—And so Jaykers is proud av his descint, is he?

McTurk—Yes; he is terribly stuck up about it.

O'Brien—Well, begorra, Oi've a bit av a descint meself to boast about. Oi descinded four stories wanst whin the ladder broke and niver sphilled a brick!—Baltimore Sun.

Got What She Wanted.

"George," she said, in a nervous whisper, "you must give me time—you must give me time."

"How long?" he hoarsely asked; "a day, a week, a month, a year?"

"No—no, George," and she quickly scanned the sky; "only until the moon gets behind a cloud."—Roxbury Gazette.

Successful.

Hiram—How's your boy Zeke gittin' along down in Noo York?

Silas—Wal, I hain't heard from him in a long time, but I guess he's gone into the noospaper business, coz I read in the paper that he wuz corespondent in a big lawsuit down there.—Town Topics.

The Same Thing.

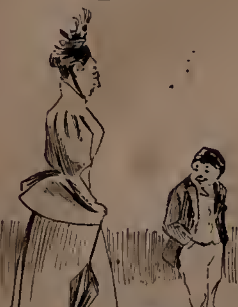
Leon—I want to get a private message to Benidick about our stag racket to-morrow night. I'll just drop him a letter marking it "Personal and Private."

Perkins—Why don't you address it to Mrs. Benidick and be done with it?—N. Y. Evening Journal.

The Test.

If you want to know the age of a horse
You can tell it by his teeth, of course;
But the age of a turkey best is known
Not by his teeth, but by your own.
—Judge.

HE KNEW.



Elderly Spinster (to young reprobate, who has been swearing)—Oh, how can you use such dreadful language? Do you know what becomes of little boys who do so?

Billy—Yes'm; they gits ter be cab drivers!—Fun.

Those Loving Girls.

Maude—Aunt Mary has a lock of George Washington's hair. It has been in our family ever since the revolutionary war.

Clara—Indeed! I wasn't aware that one of your ancestors was a barber.—Chicago Daily News.

One Woman's Way.

"Jack was poor and Clara persuaded me to marry him; she said a true woman always married for love."

"Well?"

"Then she went and fell in love with a rich man."—Chicago Record.

A Field for Action.

Dasherly—I hear that young Blower gave a good account of himself at the front.

Flasherly—Huh! It wasn't anything to the one he gave when he got home.—N. Y. Journal.

Still on the Go.

Yeast—I see that joke about a fellow's stolen umbrella is still going around.

Crimsonbeak—So is the umbrella.—Yonkers Statesman.

Out of the Service.

"So your engagement to the Lafayette avenue millionaire's daughter is off, eh?"

"Yes; I've been mustered out."—Judge.

Clearly Defined.

Bobby—Popper, what is a hostile Indian?

Mr. Ferry—One with some good, arable land.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"He That Any Good Would Win"

Should have good health. Pure, rich blood is the first requisite. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by giving good blood and good health, has helped many a man to success, besides giving strength and courage to women who, before taking it, could not even see any good in life to win.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

The Open Sesame Explained.

Softhead—I say, Cholly, why does a fellah have to wear a necktie that he ties himself, don't you know? Why cawn't a fellah wear a ready-made necktie, don't you know?

Mushbrain—Cawn't you see, me boy, how it is? It's the social test, don't you know.

"Any fellah can afford to buy any sort of a necktie, cawn't he?"

"Ah, yes; but mere sordid wealth doesn't count in society, me boy. It's bwains, culture, wefinement, don't you know."

"What has that to do with the necktie?"

"Can't you see? Society, me boy, admits only those who have bwains enough to tie their own necktie, don't you know."—N. Y. Weekly.

Reserved Her Decision.

"I cannot love you, George, because I understand that you—that you have loved other girls."

"But, Clara, my love for them was in every way justifiable, I assure you?"

"How, pray?"

"Clara," he said, as he restored his arm to her slender waist, "I loved them because I thought they were all like you."

She reserved her decision.—Tit-Bits.

Liked to Be Fooled.

Said Mrs. Fondmother to her son who is unduly partial to the softer sex:

"Don't you put any reliance on what the girls tell you. They are awful liars and will fool you every time."

"Yes, but how nice they do it," replied the enamored youth, with a beatific smile.—N. Y. World.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer of 1125 Howard street, Philadelphia, Pa., when she discovered that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this royal cure: "It soon removed the pain in my chest, and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

Now They Are Strangers.

He—What lovely flowers. Do you know, they remind me of you.

She—Why, they are artificial.

He—Yes, I know; but it requires close examination to detect it.—Chicago Daily News.

Red Hot From the Gun

Was the gun that hit G. B. Steadman of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for 20 years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures cuts, bruises, burns, boils, felons, corns, skin eruptions. Best pile cure on earth. 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot Ease, a powder. It cures painful, smarting, swollen feet and ingrowing nails and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating, callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores; by mail for 25c. in stamps; trial package free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought Correctly Stated.

Young Softleigh (getting shaved)—Are you shaving down, barber?

Barber—Um—yes, I believe you could call it that.—Town Topics.

A Bad Breaking Out.

"Do you believe that love is a sort of sickness, as some doctors say?"

"Well, yes—something of a rash nature."—N. Y. Journal.

Eastman Kodak Co.'s
BROWNIE CAMERAS
$1.00

Make pictures 2¼ x 2¼ inches. Load in Daylight with our six exposure film cartridges and are so simple they can be easily

OPERATED BY ANY SCHOOL BOY OR GIRL.

Fitted with fine Meniscus lenses and our improved rotary shutters for snap shots or time exposures. Strongly made, covered with imitation leather, have nickeled fittings and produce the best results.

Brownie Camera, for 2¼ x 2¼ pictures, . . . $1.00
Transparent-Film Cartridge, 6 exposures, 2¼ x 2¼, . .15
Brownie Developing and Printing Outfit, . . .75

THE BROWNIE CAMERA CLUB.

Every boy and girl under sixteen years of age should join the BROWNIE CAMERA CLUB. Fifty Kodaks, valued at over $500.00, will be given to members of the club as prizes for the best pictures made with the Brownie Cameras and every member of the club will be given a copy of our Photographic Art Brochure. No initiation fees or dues if you own a Brownie. Ask your dealer or write us for a Brownie Camera Club Constitution.

Send a dollar to your local Kodak dealer for a Brownie camera. If there is no Kodak dealer in your town, send us a dollar and we will ship the camera prepaid.

EASTMAN KODAK CO.
Rochester, N. Y.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
SAVINGS BANK,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, CHAS. J. McKENZIE, Vice-Presidents
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, Chas. J. McKenzie, E. P. Chapman, Charles Stewart, George W. Wiggin.

STATEMENT MAY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$559,245 21
Guarantee Fund		27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account		6,268 89
Interest Account		8,811 98
Real Estate Income Account		184 23
Tax account		32 25
		$602,315 35

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		25,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		6,350 00
" " Mortgages		160,310 00
" " Personal Securities		164,870 86
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Bank Books		1,500 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		735 27
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$10,919 15
Nat. Bank of Redemption	9,018 65
Mercantile Trust Co.	12,075 38
		32,013 18
Cash on hand		2,074 97
		$602,315 35

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

CHAS. J. McKENZIE,
Committee of Examination.

June 6, 1900.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhold
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week.......... 50
Single Gallon.......... 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
17-1tT P. O. Box 481.

News and Opinions
OF National Importance.

THE SUN
ALONE
CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, ... $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.

22-1y

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

Franklin and Wrentham
STAGE LINE.

Leave Wrentham P.O. for Franklin at 8.15 a.m. 3.30 p. m. Leave Franklin depot for Wrentham at 9.30 a. m., 4.30 p. m.; connecting with trains for Boston and Providence via N. Y. & N. E. railroad; trains leaving Boston at 7.40, 8.30 a. m. and 3.30 p. m.; leaving Providence at 8.35 a. m.

☞ Orders may be left at Railroad Station.

N. B. WEBBER, Prop.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.

Telephone 1839.

A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS

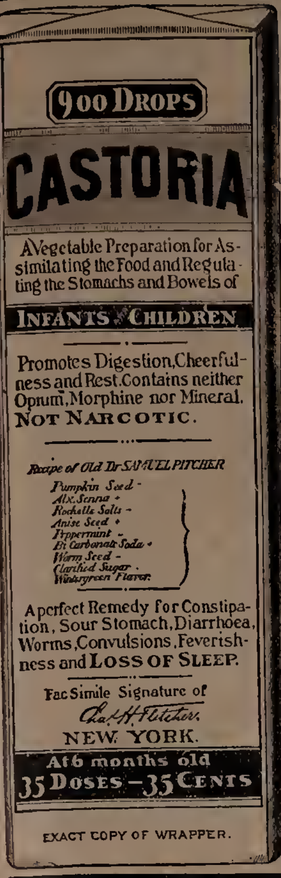
Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co.
Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

m25-4w

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

je8-4w



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna +
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed +
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda +
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar .
Wintergreen Flavor.
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS
EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

HERE'S Something New for Summer Cooking
The handiest, cleanest, safest, coolest and most economical summer cook stove ever sold.
The Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove

Burns ordinary kerosene. Combines the efficiency of the coal range and the convenience and comfort of the gas range at a fraction of the expense of either. An absolutely safe and clean stove; will not smoke, smell or get greasy; can't explode. Can be moved anywhere.
Sold wherever stoves are sold. If your dealer does not have them, write to
STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

COUNTRY AND TOWN.

God made the country and man made the town.
What wonder, then, that health and virtue, gifts
That can alone make sweet and bitter draft
That life holds out to all, should most abound
And least be threatened in the fields and groves?
Possess ye, therefore, ye who, borne about
In chariots and sedans, know no fatigue
But that of idleness and taste no scenes
But such as art contrives, possess ye still
Your element; there only can ye shine,
There only minds like yours can do no harm.
Our groves were planted to console at noon
The pensive wanderer in their shades. At eve
The moonbeam, sliding softly in between
The sleeping leaves, is all the light they wish,
Birds warbling all the music. We can spare
The splendor of your lamps; they but eclipse
Our softer satellite. Your songs confound
Our harmonious notes. The thrush departs,
Scared, and the offended nightingale is mute.
There is a public mischief in your mirth;
It plagues your country. Folly such as yours,
Graced with a sword and worthier of a fan,
Has made, which enemies could ne'er have done,
Our arch of empire, steadfast but for you,
A mutilated structure soon to fall.
—William Cowper in "The Task."

The Yellow Tomatoes

And How They Gave Shape to an Engagement Ring.

When Dominicus Van Brunt first went to the public school in his adopted country, he had the felicity of sitting opposite a little girl with freckles and blue eyes. Her name was Bertha Manderson, which was a difficult name for Dominicus to remember. But it was not at all hard for him to remember the dear little girl with freckles. She wore tiny black tassels at the top of her shoes and white aprons, ruffled and tied upon the shoulders with large, airy looking bows, and the ends of her smooth braids were tied with ribbons now the color of the violet and now the color of the rose.

Dominicus said to himself that in Amsterdam he had never known any little girl so freckled and so dear.

"I wish she would look at me," thought little Dominicus Van Brunt. But he thought it in Dutch, although when he spoke aloud he managed to make himself understood in English. It must be confessed that little American children are too egotistical to be polite. Thinking as they do that they are molded on the right pattern, they are inclined to regard all children differing from them as curiosities. They considered the round faced Dutch boy, with his shy ways and deferential manner to the teacher, a strange little fish indeed. And no one in all the school was more amused than the dainty Bertha, who looked at him covertly out of her gray blue eyes. However, she did not laugh at him. So Dominicus, who did not know that she was amused and who perceived only her aspect of gravity, thought her kinder than the rest and was grateful. If only she would have spoken to him or looked at him as if she were his friend, he would have had nothing more to ask. He could even have been patient with that terrible English language which every one around him was jabbering.

He determined to do something to call the attention of his freckled heart's own to himself, and one day he hurried into the schoolroom the first minute the doors were opened and laid three pear shaped yellow tomatoes on her desk. The scholars came, saw the pretty vegetables, and had little trouble in deciding from what source the tribute came. For who else in a fashionable suburb would have yellow tomatoes, except the son of the Dutch gardener? The school indulged in unrestrained giggling, but Bertha, instead of participating, shot defiance from her gray blue eyes, and, turning with an adorable smile toward Dominicus, carefully fitted one of the yellow tomatoes into her red mouth and devoured it in the same spirit in which a loyal subject drinks to his king. It was evident that Dominicus had been right. Bertha was different from the others. His happiness stained the boy's amiable face scarlet, and while the other boys jeered at him, a number of them felt a distinct pang of jealousy. They were quite alive to the extraordinary favor which had been shown him.

From that day on Bertha, the daughter of a prosperous lawyer and a little maid distinctly conscious of her social opportunities, and Dominicus, the son of the man who raised garden truck, were friends. There came a day when Bertha, having reached the proud age of 10, gave a birthday party on her father's lawn, and insisted on having Dominicus among her guests—a famous day for Dominicus, in which he saw his princess in all the glory of her best white frock, with her hair crimped down her back, and had the rapture of eating cream tarts in her company!

But there was yet a prouder day in which Dominicus was permitted to return this social attention and was allowed to invite Bertha and three other friends to the snowy kitchen of his home back of the garden, where the mother of Dominicus sang beautiful songs to them in a language they could not understand and fed them with crullers and grape juice. Bertha thought she had never seen any room so charming as this kitchen, with its racks of blue plates, its shining pans and its illuminated mottoes upon the wall.

Bertha was not more than 12 when she was sent to a private school, and as the years went by she saw people of quite a different sort from Dominicus and his father and mother and ought, probably, to have forgotten all about them. But it is an undeniable fact, though it may have shown some evidences of vulgarity in her nature, that all the years that she was occupied with other matters, such as boarding school and summer resorts and "coming out" and the gayeties of a winter in the city, she remembered that curious kitchen and the people who lived in it and wondered where they had gone, for it had happened that one autumn, after returning from the seashore, Bertha had discovered that the house back of the garden was empty. It had been a sad moment for her. She had felt the tears come to her eyes as she looked at the untidy piece of ground where the exquisitely kept garden of Jacob Van Brunt had been, and the windows from which the round face of her friend had often smiled at her repulsed her now with their bareness.

It happened that in course of time Bertha had a notion to go abroad, and having the consciousness of her certificate of graduation in her trunk, she was in no haste to return to her home. So she lingered where she pleased, arrogantly directing the movements of her party, which consisted of a maiden aunt and an elderly second cousin. With this double chaperonage she was allowed to do almost anything she pleased.

At length they reached Amsterdam, making headquarters for themselves there and planning to go upon many excursions through the country. It was natural enough that, having a local habitation, they should make some friends in the city, and so it came about that before they had been there long they were invited to dinner by an American lady, Mrs. Truax, whose husband was engaged in some mercantile enterprise there.

The Truax house was a cosmopolitan one, and at it the habitue expected to meet all manner of celebrities and human curios. Bertha, much elated at the prospect, whirled off, accompanied by her decorous relatives, arrayed for the occasion in the most unbecoming of their best silks.

"What dear old frumps they are," Bertha commented to herself. "I think the Amsterdam ladies will like them. They just suit this background."

They seemed to indeed and got on better than Bertha, whose youth condemned her to a subordinate place. This was not as it was in America, Bertha reflected and permitted herself to indulge in a moment of homesickness as she sat apart, her glowing beauty unnoticed by the middle aged people who were paying their respects to her aunt and her second cousin.

"I have delayed for a moment for another guest," Mrs. Truax said. "I wished to present to your niece, Miss Manderson," she said, addressing Bertha's aunt, "a young man who is half an American. Ah, there is the bell now!"

The man at the door announced a moment later:

"Herr Van Brunt."

Bertha turned with an anticipation which she endeavored to subdue. It was not likely that the son of a gardener would be at the home of Mrs. Truax. But in the young man who entered Bertha saw with unmistakable recognition, the amiable, soft eyes, the round face and high brow and quiet, kindly manners of her old friend, borne with the assurance and ease that come of self confidence.

The hostess managed to whisper to Bertha's aunt, and of course Bertha overheard:

"This young man has distinguished himself in landscape gardening. He has just laid out a park for Prince Zagenwell and is much thought of both in Holland and Germany. I hear that the Duke of York is likely to send for him for his new place in Scotland."

Dominicus Van Brunt saluted his hostess with a profound bow. How well Bertha remembered that quaint reverence of manner! He was presented to the guests and at last was led up to Bertha, who suddenly felt as if she were in short frocks, with freckles on her face and braids down her back. He started and flushed and then held out his hand in the good American way, regardless of ceremony.

"What, you are acquainted!" cried the hostess. They explained. The hostess turned in some perplexity to the spinster aunt. She wondered if she had unintentionally committed an indiscretion. But there was no annoyance in the face of the elder Miss Manderson, and the hostess felt at liberty to permit the two young people to go down to dinner together.

The conversation at dinner would not be particularly interesting to recount. But Bertha remembered every word of it. Perhaps Dominicus Van Brunt did too—but it has been impossible to secure his confidence. It is a certain thing, however, that the next day a basket came for the young American lady containing a dozen yellow tomatoes, dropped like eggs in a nest of white daisies. Which was, surely, a curious gift!

Now it is undeniable that Bertha Manderson found Amsterdam interesting, yet for some reason best understood by her sex she remained in it but a short time, hastening away to other points of interest. It is also certain that about the time of her departure a young landscape gardener ran to yews and weeping willows in his designs and accepted with alacrity the opportunity of designing a cemetery for some new American town. But he recovered from his gloom when there reached him from the shores of the Baltic a trinket fashioned of lucent amber, shaped like a yellow tomato. It occurred to him that he ought also to visit the storied benches of the Baltic, and he did so without an hour's unnecessary delay.

And the consequence was, as the children say when they play the old game, that when Miss Bertha Manderson returned to America she wore for an engagement ring a tomato shaped topaz on her third finger.—Exchange

You May Need
Pain-Killer
For ACCIDENTS
Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Wounds, &c., &c.
It gives instant relief and cures quickly.
In case of sudden illness
Cramps
Diarrhœa
Dysentery
and
All Bowel
Complaints
it is a sure, safe and quick remedy.
There's ONLY ONE
Pain-Killer
Perry Davis'.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)
ALL DRUGGISTS.
jan9-ly

The Wires Were Crossed.

Hotel Man (who thinks he is calling down his butcher)—Say, I am shy a heart and a liver, eight ribs and a shoulder. Now I want 'em right away.

Railway Office (which has been connected by mistake)—Sorry, sir, but the wreck has been cleared up.—Baltimore American.

Singularly enough, the British public shows no disposition to lionize Cecil Rhodes.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Kimberley may feel relieved, but Cecil Rhodes does not—especially since his arrival in London, where he was promptly muzzled.—St. Paul Globe.

Cecil Rhodes seems to have shrunk recently. He does not appear to be so big a man in London as he was in Kimberley.—Ridgewood (N. J.) News.

Earmarks of Genius.

"Have you any special literary methods, Mr. Furore?"

"Yes; like all other great writers, I often dip my mucilage brush in my ink."—Chicago Record.

A Huge Success.

"Does Mrs. Buster make a good club president?"

"I should say so; she never wears the same dress twice."—Chicago Record.

A Boarding House Episode.

"I guess I'm a coward," the boarder said,
As he hastily pushed back his chair.
"At the restaurant I'll breakfast instead—Only the brave would tackle this fare."
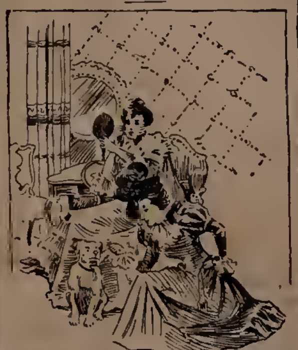
—Chicago Daily News.

INCONSIDERATE.



Lola—Tom is going to be an undertaker. He says some one dies every time he breathes.

Theone—Heavens! Why doesn't he use cloves?—N. Y. Times.

The Turkey.

As he his gaudiness admires,
And struts and lets his cares relax,
He mocks the farmer who perspires
While humbly sharpening his ax.
—Washington Star.

His Failing.

Her Mother—I am surprised at Charles squandering so much money on a phonograph.

The Wife—I am not. He always did like to hear himself talk.—Harlem Life

His Failing.

"Is he what you would call a progressive, up-to-date clergyman?"

"Oh, not at all. I don't believe he ever went slumming in his life."—Chicago Post.

Always.

Little Bobby—Pa, what's a man of the people?

Pa—A candidate for office before election.—Cleveland Leader.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
TRADE MARK
CURE
Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing
SICK
Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured
HEAD
Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head
ACHE
Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.
Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.
CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.
Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.
mar17-lyF

IMPERTINENT PERSONALS.

Hon. Tom Reed is making more dollars than epigrams these days.—Baltimore American.

Isn't it about time for another peacock feather to be pulled out of Li Hung Chang?—Chicago Times-Herald.

Senator Clark's fate is a terrible warning to every man who parts his whiskers east and west.—Minneapolis Journal.

An exchange declares that "Julian Ralph is writing strong English these days." So he is. Some of it is absolutely rank.—Dallas News.

It is a rather grim coincidence that the new president of the Massachusetts Homeopathic Medical society bears the name of Coffin.—Boston Herald.

The Prince of Wales probably feels that it would be just as well for him to go into the Boer war as to take chances of assassination at Paris.—St. Paul Dispatch.

One of Lillian Russell's lovers went over Niagara falls the other day. If her ex-husbands were to take the same route, the channel would be choked.—Atlanta Constitution.

William Waldorf Astor has announced a willingness to sell his English magazine. He has lost his desire to be an angel and with the angels stand.—St. Louis Republic.

Jokai, the Hungarian, has written a new novel in four convulsions on the question whether an old man should marry. The venerable novelist's late marriage to a chit will be recalled with feeling by the emphatic negative of his melancholy conclusion.—New York Press.

TOWN TOPICS.

St. Louis persists in looking at the Paris exposition simply as a pacemaker.—Sioux City Journal.

Chicago's motto is "I Will." Kansas City's motto is "Just Watch Me Do It."—Kansas City Journal.

The recent religious census of Philadelphia reveals the fact that there are but 1,925 Quakers in the Quaker City, not including the baseball nine.—Boston Transcript.

The animals recently purchased for the Chicago zoo at an auction in Cincinnati for $1,200 are nearly all dead. This appears to settle the protracted dispute between Cincinnati and Chicago as to which has the worst climate.—Kansas City Star.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver of Philadelphia was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition; my skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying Electric Bitters, and to my great joy and surprise the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them; only 50c. per bottle at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

To Mothers In This Town.

Children who are delicate, feverish and cross will get immediate relief from Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children. They cleanse the stomach, act on the liver, making a sickly child strong and healthy. A certain cure for worms. Sold by all druggists, 25c; sample free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell-O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 49, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f 8 55 a m, f12 58, f5 21, 6 19, f7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f1 01, 5 25, 6 13, f7 28, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m, 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 6 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; 1 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m. S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

GEO L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9.
Afternoon, 2 to 3.30.
Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS,
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

Because in the case of moth it is the only remedy possible. Our Moth Balls and Camphorine will render furs and other articles of winter clothing absolutely secure against the ravages of these pests. Don't delay action where the emergency is immediate. Today, and not tomorrow, is the Moth Ball time, since mischief once done is irreparable.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Capt. Mark Jamieson of the four-masted ship, Clara Norton, which is now unloading at Portland, Me., a cargo of hard pine from Galveston, Texas, is with Mrs. Jamieson visiting his father, Joseph Jamieson. Capt. Jamieson has recently returned from a trip to Cuba.——George Willard and Miss Ella Blake, grand daughter of Dea. George E. Blake, were married Tuesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, at the parsonage, by Rev. W. J. Minchin.——Mrs. L. C. Ripley, mother of Mrs. Alonzo Cook, has just celebrated her 94th birthday. Mrs. Ripley enjoys excellent health.——Fred Willard is home for a short vacation.——It is reported that the electric road will run through the center on Saturday, connecting with the line at Plainville.——C. E. Dupee's cottage at Bates Beach is nearly ready for occupancy.——Miss Villa Curren of Washington has been in town for a short visit——Mr. and Mrs. W. H Graut of Wakefield have been visiting Mrs W. H Pierce——Jerry A. Cobb and family have moved to Medway.——Frank Pollard of Scituate is visiting his sister, Miss May Pollard.——Mrs Emma Giles is ill with rheumatism at the residence of Mrs. Harriet Giles——Mr and Mrs. W. H. Freeze entertained a party of friends Tuesday evening.——Whist was played until a late hour.——Mrs George Clark and son are in town at George W. Cowden's for the summer——The cottages are filling up rapidly round the two lakes——Wampum lodge, I. O. O. F., are to have their lodge redecorated in a handsome manner——The funeral of Benjamin Chamberlain, who died Saturday, aged 86 was held from the house of Asbael Willard on Tuesday Rev W. J. Minchin conducted the services. The interment was at Franklin.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending June 6, 1900.

Ladies—Miss Florence Dickey Campbell, Mrs. L. F. Daniels, Mrs. Flora B Jones, Mis Lizzie Robinson.

Gentlemen—Erice Nyberg

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Church Services.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D. D., pastor. Children's day service at 10.30. Y. P. C. U. at 6.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 3. Sunday school at 2. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Baptist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev F. B. Sleeper, pastor; theme, "Reflecting God's Glory." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6 15. Preaching at 7; theme, "The Hopeless Tares." Short after service in vestry.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 by S. A Cook, pastor; subject "The Christian's Relation to God's Plan for the Salvation of the People." Sunday school at 12. Junior league at 3 00. Epworth league at 6 30 Evening service at 7 30; subject, "Present Realities and Future Uncertainties"

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. I. W Sneath, Ph. D; theme, "Power of a Good Man in Extremity" Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E at 6 30. Evening service at 7 30; theme, "Babylon or Jerusalem."

Immune.

Grandpa—Don't get scared, Willie; the tiger is about to be fed; that's what makes him jump and roar so.

Willie (easily)—Oh, I ain't afraid of him, grandpa. Papa's the same when his meals ain't ready.—Illustrated American.

One of the most remarkable disappearances of the time is that of Lord Kitchener. A little while ago he seemed ubiquitous, but now he cannot be found even in the dispatches.—San Francisco Call.

He Knew All the While.

Young Sharpshins—I say, dad, what is a simple?

Old Sharpshins—A simple is a medicine compounded of herbs.

Young Sharpshins—Oh, I thought it was the man who took the medicine.—Ally Sloper.

Tonight

Just before retiring, if your liver is sluggish, out of tune and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of

Hood's Pills

And you'll be all right in the morning.

THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND, with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain

Our Store is Light and Cool,

the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

SPECIAL REDUCTION SALE.

Ladies' Tailor-Made Suits.

LADIES' SUIT, sold for $8.50; sale price $5 75.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $9.00; sale price $5.75.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $9.50; sale price $6.98.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $10.00; sale price $7.50.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $10.00; sale price $7.98.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $15.00; sale price $8.75.
LADIES' SUIT SKIRT and JACKET, silk lined throughout; was $17.50, now $11.75.
LADIES' HEAVY WOOL BICYCLE and RAINY-DAY SKIRTS; were $2.00, this sale $1.49.

These are all this season's goods and in the latest style and fresh condition.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.
BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

Firmer in the Faith.

First Politician—Well, I showed that lithograph copy of Senator Swipe's telegram—the one that clearly involves him in the steal—to one of his rural friends.

Second Politician—And what came of it?

"He is a firmer supporter of Swipe than ever. Said he knew Swipe's handwrite like a book and the telegram wasn't his at all."—Cleveland Enquirer.

Why He Soiled Them.

Angry Father (stick in hand, to little Willy)—Why are your clothes soiled so frightfully?

Little Willy (whimpering)—I fell in the mudgutter.

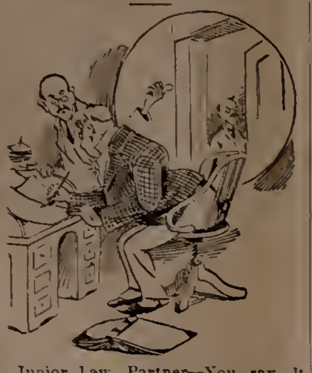
"And with your new pants on?"

"Yes, popper. I didn't have time to come home and change 'em."—N. Y. World.

Not Declined, However.

The daughter of an editor was she;
And when he kissed her (through Love's impish pranks),
Quite absent-mindedly she said to him:
"Your contribution is returned with thanks!"
—Puck.

ABSOLUTELY USELESS.



Junior Law Partner—You say it would be useless to appeal that case of Easymarks to a higher court?

Senior Law Partner—Why, of course it would—he's busted already.—N. Y. World.

Always Occupied.

It comes, the sad season when bitter winds blow
And the shovel our lives must control.
When it isn't at work on the beautiful snow
It is frolicking free in the coal.
—Washington Star.

[illegible]

"That man's attentions to me are most offensive, and he has the reputation of being a fortune-hunter. Do you suppose it is papa's wealth that allures him?"

Her Close Friend (thoughtfully)—Why, what else can it be?—Tit-Bits.

JUST THE WEATHER TO ENJOY A

HAMMOCK.

We have them for 75c. to $4.25.

Oil Stoves, 1, 2 and 3 burners, 50c., 98c. and $1.48.
Screen Doors and Window Screens.
Refrigerator Pans, Watering Pots.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

The Alphabet Advertiser

A for apricots, both dried and canned,
B for biscuits of all the best brands,
C for crackers and clams for chowder,
D for doughnuts and Dalmation powder,
E for extracts of Baker's best make,
F for fish that will make fine fish cakes,
G for groceries kept neat and in shape,
H for honey to eat on wheat cakes,
I for Indian corn meal and ink,
J for fruit juice for a summer drink,
K for Kennedy, whose goods we stand by,
L for lemons that make a nice pie,
M for mince meat, molasses and mace,
N for Nestle's, whose milk suits the taste,
O for onions, a sure cure for the croup
P for potatoes to eat in your soup,
Q for Quaker, those rolled oats so nice,
R for raisins for puddings and rice,
S for sugar, sand soap and saleratus,
T for tubs, tapioca and tomatoes,
U for undoubtedly the cheapest in town,
V for vinegar as sour as can be found,
W for witch hazel that makes one strong,
X for Xebec, a vessel it was used on,
Y for yeast that will raise bread best,
Z for zeal in which we stand the test.

C. L. FALES, Grocer.

not7-F

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,

Jewelers and Opticians

160 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.

dei-Fty

CURTAIN RAISERS.

Kyrle Bellew is about to desert London for Australia.

John W. Ransone will star next season in a piece to be called "The Politician."

Bach's "Matthew" passion is to be given at the Venice Conservatario for the first time in Italian this year.

W. J. McKiernan, the author of "The Gunner's Mate," is writing a romantic play for Melbourne MacDowell.

"The Greatest Puritan" is the title of a new play by an English author, with Oliver Cromwell as the main character.

Thirteen years ago Saint Saens' "Samson and Delilah" was hissed in Berlin. It is to be sung there again, and a better reception is expected.

John J. McNally is writing a stellar piece for Sam Bernard. Reginald De Koven is at work on a "Foxy Quiller" opera for Jerome Sykes.

Frederich Robert Sipp, in his day a violinist and teacher of note and at one time Richard Wagner's teacher, recently died at the age of 93 years.

The Frohmans' "At the White Horse Tavern" company will be continued next year, but the unfortunate "Twelve Months Later" will not figure largely in the bill.

William Seymour, the veteran stage manager and brother-in-law to the late Fanny Davenport, has been engaged to stage several of the important Liebler productions next fall.

Miss Fanny Rice expects to play a metropolitan engagement next season, presenting "A Double Lesson," "The Circus Rider" and "My Milliner's Bill" in one evening's programme.

Frances Drake, well known as both actress and writer, has decided that an engagement in "The Adventures of Lady Ursula" is preferable to a trip to South Africa for war material for magazines.

Hatty Bell, 2:25¼, by Brown Wilkes, has a filly of much promise at the Phoenix stock farm, sired by William Penn, 2:07¼. The young things at the farm are now being jogged into form.

The British undersecretary of war informed the house of commons recently that the standard price paid by the government for cavalry horses ranged from £45 to £50, and in many cases as high as £65 has been paid.

W. C. Whitney, after spending three days looking over his thoroughbreds at La Belle farm, Lexington, Ky., recently returned to New York. His horses are in splendid condition, but he says he will bring them nearer home during the summer.

THE CENSOR.

The crusaders against the bird on the hat do not seem to have winged many of the women.—Dallas News.

Railroads in the United States have about reached the point where we no longer travel; we arrive.—Huntsville (Ala.) Post.

The Paris fair will seem much like a Franco-American exhibition, with the rest of the world taken in to fill up the thinks.—New York Tribune.

The Chicago oculist who removed the wrong eye of his patient sheds another ray of confirmation on Napoleon's apothegm that a blunder is worse than a crime.—New York World.

The currency is increasing at the rate of $1,000,000 a day, but owing to some hitch in the arrangements perhaps its distribution only takes place on pay day, as heretofore.—Pittsburg Times.

Korea would probably be willing to give Russia the slice of territory the latter demands if she were not afraid that it would only serve to whet the bear's appetite for more.—Pittsburg Times.

The New Yorker who has talked his last will into a phonograph may suppose that he has got ahead of the lawyers, but there are experienced litigants who will not jump at any such conclusion.—St Louis Dispatch.

Any person who catches more than 30 brook trout per day in Connecticut is liable to be fined and imprisoned. The people of Connecticut have evidently become tired of the lies of the fisherman.—Chicago, Times-Herald.

Too much rope skipping has killed one girl, and too much waltzing has crazed another. This should be a warning to those who indulge in pleasure or exercise of this kind that moderation is good in all things.—New York Herald.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar coated globule of health that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co.

Your best friend can give you no better advice than this: "For impure blood, bad stomach and weak nerves take Hood's Sarsaparilla."

BUG DEATH...

A NON-POISONOUS POWDER.

Is sure death to potato, squash and cucumber bugs, currant and tomato worms, and other plant and vine-eating pests. It is a benefit to the plant, and the more freely used the better the plant will thrive. For potatoes when blight is prevalent the extra yield will more than pay all expense of Bug Death.

1 lb. pkg., 15c. 3 lbs., 35c. 5 lbs., 50c. 12 1-2 lbs., $1.

Perfection Shaker, 50c.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Are You That One?

LOOKING FOR LATEST STYLES IN

FIGURED LAWNS,
DIMITIES or
FANCY GINGHAMS?

Butterick's Patterns and Delineators for July

..NOW READY..

N. C. NYE,

FLETCHER BLOCK.

Have a Boiled Dinner

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Smoked Bacon, strip	10c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Spinach, peck	25c
Flank	6c	Dandelion	30c
Smoked Shoulders	8c	Lettuce, each	8c

Radishes, bunch....... 5c

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe1-1yS

HEADQUARTERS FOR ALL KINDS OF

SEEDS! SEEDS!

All the 5c. packages of GARDEN SEEDS we sell for 3c., two 5c., or 25c. per dozen. These Seeds are new this year, direct from the CLEVELAND SEED CO.

All kinds of FLOWER SEEDS, 5c. and 10c. per package.

All other kinds of Garden Seeds at the lowest prices—HOLTON, MAINE, EARLY ROSE, HEBRONS, NEW QUEENS.

Before buying your Seeds come and see what we can do for you.

McKinnon's Grocery Store,

CENTRAL SQUARE.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.
ap27S

At

WOODWARD'S

every description of

INSURANCE

can be placed. This

AGENCY

officially represents the

LEADING

American and Foreign

COMPANIES.

P A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass
my4-1yF

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the next-of-kin and all persons interested in the estate of Philip Dolan of Franklin, in said county an insane person:

Whereas, John Dolan, the guardian of said ward, has presented his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, certain real estate therein specified of his ward for his support,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the fifth day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each of you fourteen days at least before said court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this fifth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

je8,15,22

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Edwin J. Pond, late of Providence, in the State of Rhode Island, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Metcalf E. Pond of Franklin, or to some other suitable person,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on Thursday, the 5th day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this 6th day of June, A. D. 1900.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

je8,15,22

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed executor of the will of Henry Bemis, late of Franklin, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bonds, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

HENRY E. RUGGLES, Executor.

Address: Franklin, Mass.
May 31st, 1900. je1,8,15

M Fisher

1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 49. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, JUNE 19, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Mortgagee's Sale	4
Citation	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Hear Dr. Morris tonight.

The National bank shows two new signs.

The haying season has begun in a small way.

A new front is being built to the Foran house on King street.

O. S. Stetson, Jr., has returned from his studies at Worcester.

F. A. Bates and family of Somerville spent the holiday in town.

Mrs. A. H. Morse returned last week from her stay in California.

Mrs. George S. Kingman of New Bedford is a guest at T. B. Allen's.

Go to the Methodist church tonight and hear the eloquent Dr. Morris.

Mrs. Mima Holmes of Somerville has been spending a few days in town.

Prof. H. R. Burrington has gone to his farm in Clinton for the summer.

Charles Hebert, a former proprietor of Hotel Briggs, was in town Thursday.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Swanbeck of Howard street on Friday.

The report of Children's Day exercises of the Universalist church will appear Friday.

Rev. Dr. Hodge and Rev. E. W. Whitney, of Milford, exchange pulpits next Sunday.

Mrs. William Chamberlain of Putnam, Conn., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. P. M. Arnold.

It is expected that the electrics will run to Plainville by way of Wrentham tomorrow.

The sidewalk on Beaver street adjoining the new building will probably be concreted.

Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Welnschenk are stopping with Rev. I. W. Sneath for several days.

Charles G. Dean is attending the Centennial celebration at Clinton, his former home.

O. A. Stanley is spending a few days with his daughter, Mrs. H. M. Howard of West Newton.

Mrs. Gilbert Tweedie, formerly Miss Nellie Sullivan, visited friends in Dean academy this week.

The graduating exercises of St. Mary's school occur Thursday evening, at 7.30, in the Opera house.

A good programme of sports is being prepared by Manager Worthley for July 4 at Indian Rock park.

Eugene Houle has bought the residence owned by O. B. Carter on Washington street, and has moved his family into it.

J. H. Johnson of Boston, New England agent of the Atlantic Coast line, has been visiting his brother, W. S. Johnson.

Rev. Dr. Hodge speaks today at the anniversary of the Murray church, Attleboro, on "The Church of the Twentieth Century."

W. H. Allen of Downington, Pa., has been here a few days, bringing two daughters to stay with their grandfather, C. M. Allen.

Charles F. Nye and B. M. Rockwood will take in the Republican convention at Philadelphia, being called to that vicinity on business.

Miss Mandy Landry of Fall River is visiting her parents on Union street.

Messrs. Thayer and Stewart, with their wives, returned last week from their fishing trip in Maine, after a most delightful experience.

The assessors have made their returns to the town clerk for the number of dogs found and the dog officer will soon be abroad.

O. B. Carter has given up the idea of running a ball team in Franklin this season and the prospect is gloomy for a crack team here. Too bad.

H. T. Hayward has his motor carriage in training again and can be seen these pleasant June evenings with friends gliding along the boulevard.

Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Williams of McCarthy street have moved into the residence formerly occupied by Edward Whittaker on the same street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Bailey, Misses Jessie and Grace Russell and Mrs. Reed of Cambridge worshiped at the Congregational church on Sabbath morning.

Mrs. S. E. Merry, Mrs. Wesley J. Beckett, Miss Sadie Barteaux and Miss May Saunders left this morning for their homes in Nictaux Falls, Nova Scotia.

Mrs. William Howard of Watertown, daughter of Mrs. Stephen Maroney of Washington street was made happy Tuesday over the birth of a baby boy.

The remains of Edward Maker, who died in Worcester last week, were brought here for interment yesterday. The deceased was a relative of Warren King of Chestnut street.

C. Gregori has sailed from New York for a visit to the old folks at home in Italy and to take in on the trip a visit to the Paris exposition. He expects to return in the fall.

The painters are getting in their work on the interior of Hotel Windsor, and the new name to come will have the benefit of shining new paint to add lustre to the signboard.

Deputy Sheriff Fitzpatrick enjoyed an outing down Boston harbor last Thursday, as guest, with other deputies, of Joseph J. Feeley, Esq., of Norwood, on his yacht "Clytie."

At the county convention of Ladies' Auxiliaries, held at East Weymouth on Saturday, Miss Mary A. O'Sullivan, president of the Franklin auxiliary, was chosen county treasurer.

Col. George W. Nason of Boston spent yesterday in town, glad to get away from the noise and bustle on Bunker hill day to the quietness of Franklin and renew old acquaintances about town.

M. F. Conroy turned the postoffice over to his predecessor on Saturday night, and goes out of office with the goodwill and esteem of every patron, as an obliging, competent and faithful official.

The space between the street railway tracks and a few feet on each side at the crossing on Union and Central streets has been concreted by the street railway company, making a decided improvement.

A dozen or more of the friends of Principal and Mrs. E. D. Daniels swept down upon them last Friday afternoon at Lake Pearl, but were made to feel at home at once and enjoyed a most delightful time.

Mrs. Thaddeus Turner is in Curleyville, Conn., called there by the death of A. J. Turner, brother of the late T. M. Turner. The funeral will be held at the Unitarian church, Medfield, on Thursday, at 2 p. m.

Be sure and see the fire extinguished in Central square tomorrow evening by the new method, and you will want one for your house. No danger with it and no safety without it. The display will be given at 7.30.

The new sidewalks on High street in front of Drs. Hodges' and King's residences will be much appreciated. That about the School street schoolhouse, the Baptist church and Mrs. Farnum's residence has already been laid.

The High school baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Sneath at the Congregational church next Sunday evening, and all of the pastors are to unite and participate. An interesting and profitable address is assured.

H. A. Talbot assumed the reins of government in the postoffice on Monday morning, and listened with unvarying patience for a thousand times, more or less, to "Well, you look natural," varied now and then by the originality of the patron.

The big 700-horse-power engine at the Unionville power station is now in operation and will be ready to start for the running of cars to Plainville tomorrow. The 300 horse-power engine has been in operation since the opening of the Caryville route.

Don't forget the attractions at Lake Pearl on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings each week. Manager Enegren desires to provide a pleasant breathing place for Franklinites and the trolley cars permit an hour or two of relaxation at small cost.

Miss Jane Kingston died Monday, at 5 o'clock, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mary Daniels, South Franklin. The funeral services will be held from the home of Mrs. Daniels, Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, with interment at the Union street cemetery.

The Greenhalge Literary society presented a pleasing program before a good-sized audience in the Horace Mann building Friday evening. A drama entitled "Cousin Frank" was was finely acted, and readings, piano and mandolin solos, vocal duets and solos were also rendered by the members.

Rev. W. C. Selleck, of Providence, preached last Sunday afternoon at West Wrentham and Dr. Hodge will preach next Sunday at 4 o'clock. By request, Dr. Hodge will preach his sermon given here a few weeks ago on "The Story of the Ship that Found Herself."

Special requests have come from denominational headquarters that the subject of the missionaries in China be made the special theme for the weekday meetings of this week, and all of the pastors will make the occasion one of special importance, interest and prayer.

A large number of friends had an enjoyable outing at the home of Mrs. William Blake, North Franklin, Thursday. After partaking of an appetizing collation, vocal and instrumental music, dancing, etc., was the order until early evening. Guests were present from Franklin, Woonsocket and Milford.

All who miss the lecture in the Methodist church this evening will lose a rare treat, as Dr. Morris is a speaker par excellence, and his subject, "That Mysterious Man," is treated in a masterly manner. The proceeds are to be devoted toward clearing off the debt, which should add to the interest in the lecture.

There is to be a fine exhibition of an improved method of extinguishing fire without water, in Central square, at 7.30 on Wednesday evening, when a building will be set on fire and put out with dry powder, a most astonishing feat. This extinguisher is attracting attention everywhere and is meeting with ready sale.

The patrons of Lake Pearl listened with delight to Jos. Hickey, the popular Boston tenor comedian, who rendered several popular ballads Sunday evening, including "The Holy City," which called forth an ovation. Mr. Hickey is spending a few days in town at the residence of W. Scott on Summer street, accompanied by his sister.

The lawn party held for the benefit of the Baptist church at the residence of Capt. A. F. Pendleton on Union Friday evening was well attended and proved a most enjoyable affair. The grounds were illuminated with Chinese lanterns. Refreshments were served on the lawn and a fine musical and literary program was rendered.

Friday evening the selectmen appointed J. R. Hosford a special policeman without pay, approved bills and voted to grant permits for the sale of fireworks July 3 and 4. Supt. Blanchard of the electric lighting company appeared in relation to changing the location of the pole at the corner of Central and East streets.

Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Martin, Dr. C. B. and Mrs. J. Hussey, Misses King, Whiting and Eisenhardt went to Providence on Friday to enjoy the class day exercises incident to the graduation of Fred. V. Hussey from Brown university. The program was as follows: Sayles' Memorial hall, 10.30 a. m.; Band concert, 3.30 p. m.; afternoon exercises, front campus, 4 p. m.; planting class tree, 5 p. m.; College songs, Chapel steps, 5.30 p. m.; promenade concert, 8 p. m.; procession, 12 m.

Miss Maude L. Ray graduated from Vassar last Wednesday with gratifying honors, her mother, Mrs. W. F. Ray, and her brother, W. F. Ray, being present to share in her happiness. Last week's New York World contained a picture of her and the following complimentary mention: "Miss Maude Louise Ray, of the class of 1900, is the composer of the class song and parodies sung today. In addition to her musical accomplishments Miss Ray is one of the best athletes at Vassar. She played on the basket ball team of 1900 and to her skill is due many of the victories during the past season. Miss Ray is from Franklin, Mass."

When the Franklin-Medway electric line is in operation the company will run express trains hourly to Boston, making stops only in the centre of each town between here and Boston. There will be seven stops altogether and the run is to be made in one hour and a half, the fare being placed at thirty five cents. Cars that will stop anywhere on the route between Franklin and Boston are to be run half hourly. The line is now fast approaching completion, ground being broken on Main street nearly to School. If there is no further delay on account of rails work on the line should be very nearly finished by next Saturday night.

Eat fish as well as meat. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fishman.

Ray—Broenniman.

Exactly one hundred years to a day after the property now known as "Elm Farm," in Unionville, came into the hands of Maj. Moses Knapp, his great grand-daughter, Eleanor Knapp Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Ray, beneath the large old elm planted by him, was united in marriage to Edward G. Broenniman of New York city, the ceremony being performed by Rev. D. M. Hodge, D. D., and Rev. W. C. Selleck of Providence, the plighting of the troth being repeated after Dr. Hodge, the present pastor of the Grace Universalist church of this place, who also uttered the mystic words, "I pronounce you husband and wife." The double ring service was used, the groom presenting one to the bride and the bride to the groom, Rev. Mr. Selleck reading this part of the marriage service.

The ceremony was performed at high noon on Monday. Above the contracting couple swung an historic American flag, one that had seen service in many a political campaign, having been presented to the Republican party by the bride's grand-uncle, the late Hon. Joseph G. Ray, many years ago. The bride was gowned in white Louisine silk, with bridal veil, and carried a white service book. She was attended by five little bridesmaids, Misses Gertrude Thayer, Gertrude Knapp, Elizabeth Knapp, Helen Knapp and Gladys Mollert, the last named being a half sister of the groom, living in Watertown. They were all daintily dressed in pink, with Greenaway bonnets, and had been chosen instead of some older persons out of respect to the cousin of the bride, Miss Rachel Thayer, who had been selected for this loving service—a pretty compliment to her memory.

The groom was attended by C. I. Ford of New York, with whom he met the bridal party in front of the piazza, on the west side of the house, where the ceremony was performed, Reeves' orchestra of Providence playing the wedding march from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party left the house, and Mendelssohn's wedding march immediately after the ceremony, when the newly married couple returned to the house.

About the lawn were scattered little tables from which bouillon was served, and later the wedding breakfast was enjoyed in the dining room, the Hope club of Providence doing the catering. The exterior of the house was tastefully decorated with mountain laurel, wild flowers, ferns and palms, while inside there was a profusion of choice cut flowers. Here, too, the bridal gifts were displayed, consisting of dainty china, beautiful paintings, costly silverware, delicate bric-a-brac and a wealth of cut-glass, testifying in a measure to the esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Broenniman are held.

Although the wedding was a semi-private one, yet guests were present to nearly the number of 200, from Woonsocket, Fitchburg, Lexington, Pittsfield and Franklin, a brother and sister of the groom, Arnold B. and Miss Lydia Broenniman, coming on from Watertown, Wis. Later in the afternoon the bridal couple left for the wedding tour, their destination and route being kept a profound secret, much to the chagrin of their friends. They will return to New York after their trip, being domiciled at the St. Andrew, one of New York's swell up town hostelries.

Mr. Broenniman is a member of the New York produce exchange, and has a fine position, representing a number of large flouring concerns in Minneapolis. Of the bride little needs to be added, as she is so well known here. She attended school at Dean and also enjoyed a private tutor, going later to Miss Chapin's private school in Boston and to the famous "Elms" in Springfield. She finished her education at Vassar, graduating with high honors in June '99. She has traveled abroad extensively and numbers a host of friends here and elsewhere whose best wishes are for the blessings of a happy union.

To Abandon the Church.

At both masses in St. Mary's chapel Sunday morning Rev. Father Lee read a letter from Archbishop Williams in relation to the church building. In the letter the archbishop states that after considering the matter fully and having conferred with three expert architects as to the advisability of repairing the church, he deems it the wisest course not to undertake the work, as it would be only temporary and a makeshift at best. He therefore decides that the church be permanently closed and all services held in St. Mary's new building hereafter.

The church has been closed since last February, and since that time services have been held in the basement of the new building. Some of the parishioners had requested the archbishop to have the church building repaired and the contents of the letter read Sunday is his final decision in the matter.

Pull up your carpets and buy new,
Sanford's stock will surely suit you.
Sanford Bros., Medway.

A Successful Opening.

Manager Worthley opened the season at Indian Rock park on Saturday afternoon with a ball game and horse trotting, attracting about 600 spectators, who clearly "got their money's worth," as manifested by the appreciation shown. The ball game was between a nine selected in town, and made up of some of our best local players, pitted against the Hyde Park nine. The game was interesting throughout, both sides doing good work, with occasional lapses, which arose rather from lack of practice than inability to play. The umpiring was done by C. E. Emerson, and was mainly satisfactory. It was anyone's game to the close, when it really looked as if Franklin would win, as Jenness was doing good work and had struck out three men in the last inning. But the home team was unable to hit safely, and the Hyde Parks returned home the victors by the score of 6 to 5. Radford, the old Carter player, came with the visitors, but appeared to be having something of an "off" day, except as to hitting. The brothers Fiske, Sam. catching and Wes. at second, did fine work, and Jenness, the Dean pitcher, was "all right." Hathaway played a good game at short, and Grant let nothing escape him in middle. Dilling covered right and Foster left satisfactorily, and Farrel, with one exception, did excellent work at first. Swett of Dean also attended to third without error.

The horse racing divided the attention of the spectators and was as exciting as could be expected. The following is a summary of the events:

2.40 CLASS—Half-mile heats.

Doctor, b. g., J. L. Wood, Milford	1	1	1
Midget, ch. m., Nichols, Wrentham	2	2	2
Norfolk Boy, b. g., Wall, Norfolk	3	3	4
Roderick C., b. g., Clancy, Medway	4	4	3

Time—First quarter, 42, 40, 40; half mile, 1.21, 1.19, 1.20.

FREE-FOR-ALL—Half-mile heats.

S. S. Rich, b. g., Spofford, Franklin	2	1	3	1	1
Charley Macklin, br. g., Heath, Woonsocket	1	3	1	2	3
Blanche White, w. m., Mullet, Attleboro	3	2	2	3	2

Time—First quarter, 38, 39, 37, 38½, 37; half mile, 1.15, 1.17, 1.13½, 1.16, 1.16.

Starter, H. A. Worthley. Judges—E. F. Ware, Roy King, J. F. Dingman.

There was a one-mile open bicycle race, which was closely contested and full of interest from start to finish. Those engaged in the race were J. Victor Norton of Norfolk, Patrick C. Merwin of Medway and Bert Green. Norton finished in the lead, with Merwin a close second. Time, 3.10.

Mr. Worthley, the new manager, proposes to keep these attractions going, and is now arranging for some speedy trotters to appear later. He expects to draw a good many in from out of town who like lively sport.

The Initial Contest.

The Franklin Country club opened the season on its golf links Saturday afternoon with a contest participated in by fourteen of the members, under the handicap arrangement, members playing by twos, the prizes being two cups for first and second prizes, gross and net scores, and a set of golf balls for second best gross score. The winners are indicated below, F. P. Chapman making best net score, L. W. Arnold the best gross score, and W. C. Sherman the second best gross score. After the games a luncheon was served by the ladies of the club in the club house, a most dainty and appetizing repast being set out, and thoroughly enjoyed after the exercises of the afternoon. The party remained till early evening, and had a most delightful time. It is quite likely that these contests will be continued, with something on for every Saturday afternoon.

Player.	Gross.	Handicap.	Net.
F. P. Chapman	100	22	78
L. W. Arnold	92	10	82
W. C. Sherman	96	6	90
P. A. Woodward	119	28	91
E. H. Rathbun	98	6	92
Charles Gilmore	133	40	93
A. D. Thayer	134	40	94
A. B. Palmer	124	28	96
B. M. Rockwood	137	40	97
H. W. Thayer	141	44	97
G. W. Gilmore	132	32	100
C. F. Nye	115	14	101
P. R. Allen	142	40	102
J. H. A. Smith	119	18	103

Fire at 7.30.

G. S. and A. J. Howe Co. of Worcester will demonstrate in Central square Wednesday evening, June 20, at 7.30 o'clock, "The Monarch" fire extinguisher. This extinguisher is simply a dry powdered chemical thrown into the fire, which immediately becomes a gas and instantly extinguishes the fire. A structure 12 feet high, representing the interior of a building, will be used for the demonstration. Chief Engineer McKinnon and the board of fire engineers will be present to witness the test. The general public is invited to be present.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

Dr. Eudora M. Faxon of Boston will meet patients for eye, ear, nose and throat work at the residence of J. W. Faxon, on Pleasant street, Friday, June 22, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Read the Business Announcements.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

Accused of Bigamy.

The arrest of Peter Embser, a printer employed at the Heliotype works, on Friday evening on the charge of bigamy created quite a stir about town when it became known on Saturday. Deputy Sheriff Fitzpatrick and Special Officer Connor arrested Embser on Main street about 8.30 Friday night on a warrant issued by Judge Doe on complaint of Julia Embser of Freeport, Ill., who claims that she was married to Embser at Dansville, N. Y., by Rev. Father Rober of that place nearly nine years ago, that they have lived together at Freeport and Rockland, Ill., and other places in the West since their marriage up to April, 1899, when he left, ostensibly to look for work. Four days after his departure she received a letter from him, but since then had not heard from him.

As is generally known, Embser was united in marriage to a respectable young lady of this town last February, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Lee in St. Mary's church after the bans of marriage had been published on the three Sundays preceding their union.

The defendant was arraigned before Judge Doe in the district court this morning, when the woman who claims to be his first wife appeared against him and testified to the above. She said that her maiden name was Miss Julia McGrath and that after her marriage to Ember two children were born to them, both, however, having died. She did not produce a marriage certificate.

Embser did not make any defense, and Judge Doe found him probably guilty, and held him in the sum of $2,000 for his appearance before the grand jury at the September term of the superior court at Dedham. He was taken away on the 11.40 a. m. train by Deputy Sheriff Fitzpatrick Saturday.

Embser was married to Miss Catherine Kearns, and the couple have been living in apartments on West street. The accused made friends quickly and had a large circle of acquaintances here.

His alleged first wife is respectable appearing, apparently about forty years old and of spare figure. She was not the least embarrassed while giving her testimony, and made a favorable impression. The affair has caused considerable talk throughout the town. Embser's second wife was not in court.

A Waste of Time.

The folly of spending strength and time in the patching up of old things to make them look like new goods is caustically criticised by a correspondent of the Congregationalist in this manner:

No other popular delusion has done so much harm in the home life of America as the "packing box cupboard," unless it be the "barrel chair." Scarcely a week passes in which some woman does not rush into print and give minute instructions how to convert an empty flour barrel into an easy chair, with the aid of a little chintz and some excelsior; or a soap box into a parlor cabinet by the application of sandpaper and shellac. The amount of time needed for these transactions is never taken into account. Of course the author never did it herself, and no one contradicts her in print, for the women who have tried it under her direction are too exhausted by sawing and sandpapering to hold the pen.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

To Rent—A pleasant summer room, furnished, at Mrs. L. A. Harris', West street. 15

To Rent.—5 room tenement, Central square. Inquire E. B. Sherman, Emerson's market. 5tf

Two hundred bushels potatoes for sale at Mt. Vernon farm. Address Box 25, Franklin, Mass. 8,12,15,19*

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. Allen.

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18-tf

Wanted—A young lady or gentleman for a permanent position. Address Lock Box 830, Franklin. 19tf

Wanted — Loan $150, four months, 3 per cent. a month interest and firstclass security. "W," SENTINEL Office.

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

Cut flowers, wedding bouquets, flowers for graduation, all kinds of funeral designs made up at Slade's green house at short notice. P. O. Box 179.

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. See Chas. H. Prince, SENTINEL Office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKINNON, Agent

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 90	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word; no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

TUESDAY, JUNE 19, 1900

After Pretoria, What?

With the steady advance of Lord Roberts toward Pretoria the conviction grows in the public mind, whatever of regret or satisfaction it may occasion, that the end of the struggling Boer republics is not far distant. The Orange Free State is already under the control of the British, and it seems that the Transvaal must soon fall before Roberts' advancing and vastly superior force. It is not unlikely that the Transvaal burghers will make a last heroic stand at the capital of their apparently doomed republic, and no doubt many of them will die in the last ditch rather than surrender their dearly bought liberties. Possibly there will be a long siege at Pretoria, but it is difficult to see how the Boers can ultimately escape either utter annihilation or unconditional surrender.

Sooner or later, as now seems certain, Pretoria must fall, and after Pretoria's fall what then? What shall be the future of the two states whose autonomy will end with the firing of the last gun? Great Britain will unquestionably insist upon exercising sovereignty over them in some form, but how liberal will be the political conditions accorded the fallen foe remains to be seen. The British colonial system embraces a wide range. There are these three distinct classes of colonial governments:

First.—Crown colonies, in which the crown has entire control of legislation and the administration is conducted by officers under the control of the home government, such as Gibraltar, Ceylon and Jamaica.

Second.—Colonies with representative institutions, but not responsible government, the crown retaining a veto on legislation and control over public officers, such as Natal, West Australia and Barbados.

Third.—Colonies with representative institutions and responsible government, the crown retaining a veto over legislation, but no control over public officers, such as Canada, Newfoundland, Cape Colony and Australia.

In which class the Boer states, when the work of subjugation is completed, will fall under the British system is open to question. If they are placed in the latter class and the burghers are given the widest possible independence under British suzerainty, it would doubtless allay much of the apprehension in Europe as to the imperial programme of the London government, and possibly, under such conditions, when the bitterness and resentments engendered by war have passed away, the burghers might live contentedly as subjects of Queen Victoria. Possibly some of them may endeavor to trek farther into the remote interior of the "dark continent," as did their fathers, and there establish homes and an independent government. It is intimated that some of them will migrate to this country, where they can become citizens of a republic, enjoying the privileges of that form of government for the maintenance of which they have fought so strenuously.

The editor of The Leader, published at Larchwood, Ia., who has just entered the matrimonial state, is of the opinion that a married man can get out a better paper than a bachelor. In taking his readers into his confidence on the eve of his marriage he tells them that it will be for their benefit. "To the writer," he says, "the assuming of the marriage vows seems to be an incentive to greater ambition, for greater deeds and nobler achievements, furnishing the noblest purpose for living and working and a better and more fixed purpose in life." Hence he declares: "We believe that the step we have taken will benefit not only ourselves, but our patrons and our friends as well, for if we have before had reason to take pride in our chosen work those reasons are now multiplied tenfold." It will be interesting to note whether this belief on the part of the editor is justified. Other country editors who are contemplating matrimony will do well to get copies of the Larchwood Leader "before and after taking" a wife and watch its course.

MATRON AND MAID.

Over $5,000,000 of Mrs. Hetty Green's enormous fortune is invested within a hundred feet of New York's city hall.

Mrs. Mary J. Furman of Nashville has bequeathed her estate, valued at from $200,000 to $250,000, to Stanford university.

Mrs. John Lowell of West Cornwall, Vt., celebrated her ninety-first birthday recently at a reunion of 165 of her descendants.

By the bequest of Miss Anna H. Man Providence is to come into possession of about $200,000 for the maintenance of Roger Williams park

Mrs. Laura Holtschneider is the only woman alderman in Colorado and is now a candidate for the place of mayor of Buena Vista, that state.

Eleanor Farjeon, a granddaughter of Joseph Jefferson, though but 18 years old, is making a reputation as a writer of opera librettos in London.

Mrs. Russell Sage resigned as president of the Emma Willard association. The reason given was that her strength was inadequate to the demands of the office.

The late Mrs. Mary J. Furman, whose will left $25,000 to Vanderbilt university, also provided for a $26,000 monument to be erected over her grave and that the monument be taken care of by the university.

Annette Essinoff, the wife and pupil of Leschetizky, is a Russian and is one of the most eminent women pianists of the day. Paderewski is said to have declared that he learned more from her playing that from the teaching of her husband.

Miss Phil Pointer of Owensboro has been chosen sponsor to represent Kentucky at the national reunion of Confederate Veterans at Louisville May 30 to June 3. She is the daughter of the late Phil Pointer and is a brunette of striking beauty.

Miss Hester D. Jenkins, daughter of J. H. Jenkins, president of the German National bank of Oshkosh, Wis., has been appointed professor of English in the American college at Constantinople. Miss Gwen Griffiths of the University of Chicago has been appointed to the chair of science at the same college.

Miss Bessie Shirley of Salt Lake City is doubtless the only woman in the world who owns and edits a mining journal. She is but 19 years old. The paper she runs she established herself and has made a success of it. She makes weekly trips to all the neighboring mining centers in search of news and is said to have a good deal of influence.

THE HONEY MAKERS.

In breeding bees the two main points desired are usefulness and color.

Any queen cell after being sealed over can be hatched with artificial heat.

In order to obtain nice comb honey the colony must be very strong in numbers.

A weak colony will never build nice comb honey no matter how liberal the honey flow.

If the colony is weak and the brood chambers not at all full, it is of no use to place the section boxes on.

If a good flight cannot be had reasonably soon after dysentery sets in, the bees are pretty sure to be lost.

Extracted honey is much easier rated for than comb honey. If properly cared for, it will keep good for years.

If one does not practice clipping the queen bees, he is almost certain to be bothered with swarms clustering in difficult and inaccessible places or going off.

If by any means a colony is deprived of their queen, the bees will set to work and raise another if only they have any worker larvæ in the hive with which to do it.

Transferring can be done with more ease and with better results in the spring, as at that time the occupants of the hive are fewest in number and the combs are lightest.—St. Louis Republic.

THE WRITERS.

John Gilmer Speed, the well known writer, is a grandnephew of the poet Keats.

Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett says that, although English by birth, she believes America is the place for work, and, therefore, does nearly all her writing in this country.

Not long ago a friend of Maurus Jokai, the Hungarian novelist, was taking him to task for the plainness of his apartments, to which Jokai replied: "I dislike all luxury except the luxury of leisure for brain work. Most men love luxury because they have no brains."

Count Tolstoi is an enthusiastic cyclist. He declares that he has to thank his bicycle and his vegetarian diet for the robust health he has so long enjoyed. Twenty years ago his physician advised Tolstoi to avoid too much muscular exercise, but the patient was obstinate and did exactly the contrary.

BRITON AND BOER.

Of the last 50 "Boers" captured by the English all were French, Germans or Russians but three.—Wheeling Register.

Still, it does not appear that General Gatacre lost with any more regularity or rapidity than the rest.—Baltimore American.

Both Kruger and Steyn are getting older every day, yet they don't seem to be any nearer Joe Chamberlain's gibbet.—Exchange.

There is a wide difference between a scapegrace and a scapegoat—between Prince Teck and General Gatacre, for example.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

There is a new war on in South Africa. Roberts has opened fire on Buller and Warren. Meanwhile Roberts and Pretoria are very far apart.—New York World.

THE PEDAGOGUE.

President Eliot of Harvard is to spend a month at the Paris exposition.

President Faunce of Brown university announces that the class of '80 has raised a contribution of $1,000 to the general endowment fund of the university.

Brown university has 2,559 living graduates from a total of 5,115. Rhode Island has 910 of them, Massachusetts 614, New York 296, and there is no state in the Union not represented by at least one.

Ex-Postmaster General William L. Wilson, president of Washington and Lee university, who was sent to Arizona last winter on account of illness from which he was not expected to recover, is now much better and will probably completely regain his former good health.

A SECRET KEPT

Poor old Charlie Sefton left the regiment when we were stationed at Delhi and went down to Bombay en route for home. He was our senior captain and the best soldier in the regiment. He was also our best bachelor, for I did not count for much, being only a doctor and small and plain and getting on for 40.

"Whatever you do don't get married," we all adjured as we bade him farewell. Then came the rumor, a week later, that he was still at Bombay, then the telegram to me to go down and serve him as best man.

I went down by the mail train and found awaiting me on the platform Charlie Sefton, who looked so very quiet and so astonishingly happy that I felt a sort of tugging sensation in the throat. Extreme happiness is always alarming.

Miss George, to whom I was duly presented, was not in the first flush of her youth. She was a girl of perhaps 27 and good looking.

She was traveling in India with friends who, it struck me, were not on a very intimate footing. They were all staying at a hotel from which the wedding was to be unobtrusively celebrated. The couple had only been engaged a week. It is the only case of love at first sight—sincere, permanent, convincing—which I have encountered.

My simple duties were duly performed. Charlie Sefton and Eleanor George were declared to be man and wife. I saw the ceremony. I heard the declaration. I appended to the entry in the register my name, which looks more at home on a death certificate. I was deadly sober, as folks are at weddings.

"She is giving up a lot of money to marry me," said Sefton after the ceremony, when he and I happened to be alone for a few minutes.

"And you are giving up a career," I reflected, mindful of many young men married.

But there are some marriages which strike one at once as inevitable. The only question is why the people concerned have not met sooner. This union was of such a description.

The bride and bridegroom went away from the church with that distressingly happy look which makes one feel uncomfortable. They were to sail for home the next day.

I journeyed slowly back to Delhi by a stopping night train, after seeing the last of their boat from the outer pier. As I stepped out of the carriage in the early morning and noted the mist rising from the Jumna two quartermasters of the Peninsular and Oriental steamer Rumana tipped up a plank and precipitated the dead body of Charlie Sefton into the silvery waters of the Arabian sea. He died one day out from Bombay—of cholera. The thing left a shadow over us which lasted all that hot weather.

In due time we forgot Charlie Sefton. The surest proof of the existence of a merciful God is surely the facility with which we are permitted to forget.

Years afterward the whole story was suddenly recalled to me at a garden party in a quiet country village near Beccles, in Suffolk. I was taken to this entertainment—chiefly remarkable for the number of clergy present—as the friend of one of the guests. The house was a long, low building of, I was informed, the Queen Anne period. The host was a genial old chatterbox of an admiral who concerned himself with his own affairs in his retirement and refrained from writing to the newspapers, which pastime is a special weakness of superannuated admirals. He was immensely proud of his home and seized on me, the only stranger present, to observe its beauties. From the lawn I followed the direction indicated by his shaky finger, but instead of noting the carving of a gable committed the indiscretion of looking into an open window on the first floor.

Then the tragedy of Charlie Sefton came back to my mind, for I saw the woman who had married him pinning on her hat before a glass. She did not see me.

I was still with my host when we met Mrs. Sefton face to face.

"Ah," said the old gentleman with genuine delight, "here is my niece!"

Going forward, I held out my hand.

"How do you do, Mrs. Sefton?"

She looked at me quickly, without a glimmer of the eyelids.

"You are mistaken," she said. "I am Miss George."

And, with perfect good breeding, she looked toward her uncle, inviting an introduction. This the old gentleman accomplished with all the ceremony of his day, mentioning the lady's name as Miss George. It was not a sister. I was not mistaken. This was the woman whom I knew to have been a wife for the space of 48 hours. There was the evidence of an internal trouble beneath the eyes, which I remembered and now saw developed as the intervening years would have developed it.

We spoke for a few minutes on indifferent topics.

"The doctor is a great traveler," the old gentleman said. "He knows India, my dear."

"Yes," I added, "I know India."

"Ah," answered the most intrepid woman I have met, "indeed!"

Then my host hurried me off to examine a carved mantelpiece of which I have no recollection at this time. I do not think I even saw it.

"How funny," said the admiral confidentially when we were alone, "that you should have mistaken Eleanor for some one else, especially a married woman! You know there is a little romance about her."

"Indeed?"

"Yes; my brother left her £90,000 on condition that she married a certain man or remained single. Should she marry some one else she forfeits the money. She enjoys her life and her wealth immensely. She travels a great deal and has a house in town. I think she will remain single. The man has married some one else, you know. Interesting, eh?"

"Very," I answered.

I always try to mind my own business.—Exchange.

When the Long "S" Was Abolished.

In the latter part of February, 1800, a London publisher instituted a trifling though welcome improvement in printing. His name was Bell, later the founder of the well known Weekly Messenger, and at the date mentioned he caused to be substituted the short for the long "s" in the setting of certain works he produced. His example was generally followed a year or two later. There is said to be but one public notice where the long "s" is still used—namely, the announcement in the front of the Foundling hospital. This notice was repainted quite recently.—London Chronicle

"Hit the Nail
On the Head."

If you have eruptions, pains in the head or kidneys, stomach trouble and feelings of weariness, "Hit the nail on the head." Hood's Sarsaparilla is the hammer to use. It will purify your blood. The masses praise it for doing this and making the whole body healthy.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

KNEW HER RIGHTS.

"When you get a husband, Susan, you'll find a woman has no rights, excepting to slave for him."

"Well, ma'am, I shall have one right left, and that's my right hand, and if he comes expecting me to slave for him he'll have that, too."—Pick-Me-Up.

Where He Quit.

He led her to the altar
One dreamy, blissful day;
But she began to lead the mo-
Ment that they turned away.
—Chicago Daily News.

Public Works.

American Taxpayer (traveling in Egypt)—What earthly use were all these monstrous pyramids? Why did the Egyptian governments build them? That's what I can't understand.

American Statesman (after reflection)—Mebby there wor a divvy in 'em.—N. Y. Weekly.

Explained at Last.

Mrs. Pressley—Mrs. Bingle says her husband has kissed her regularly every morning and every evening during the 14 years of their married life.

Mr. Pressley—I have often wondered what gave him that expression of settled melancholy.—Chicago Daily News.

A Remedy.

Anxious Parent—Doctor, my daughter appears to be going blind, and she is about to be married.

Doctor—Let her go right on with the wedding; if anything can open her eyes, marriage will.—N. O. Times-Democrat.

A Masculine View of It.

"Isn't my new dress becoming to me?" asked the delighted wife.

"Yes," replied the head of the establishment; "and I suppose the bill for it will soon be-coming to me."—Chicago Daily Record.

Her Worst Fault.

"Isn't it difficult, Mrs. Jones, to get along with a girl that uses such broken English?"

"Oh, I don't mind that so much. It's her broken china that sets me wild."—Detroit Free Press.

Moderation.

"I'd like to hear your definition of moderation," said the skeptical man, to whom Mr. Booce had been orating.

"Well, I am a moderate drinker myself. I always save out enough to pay cab fare home."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Proper Word.

Mrs. Benham—Mother promises to spend a month with us.

Benham—Don't say "promises."

Mrs. Benham—What shall I say?

Benham—Say "threatens."—N. Y. Truth.

Economics.

The Gentleman—I should think you would find it cheaper to smoke a pipe.

The Wanderer—Me friend, you can't pick up smokin' tobaccer on the streets like you kin siggars.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

An Extreme Case.

"Claredon Dawdley is the most hopelessly lazy man I ever knew."

"Doesn' he do anything at all?"

"Do anything? He doesn't even blame his parents for not bringing him up differently."—Chicago Daily Record.

Revenge.

First Dentist—I got even with the photographer who took my picture.

Second Dentist—How did you do it?

First Dentist—When he got into my chair I said: "Look pleasant, please."—N. Y. Truth.

Near-Sighted.

Briggs—I didn't know that you were near-sighted!

Griggs—Near-sighted! Why, I walked right up to one of my creditors yesterday!—Boston Traveler.

CONSUMPTION
never stops because the weather is warm.
Then why stop taking
SCOTT'S EMULSION
simply because it's summer? Keep taking it. It will heal your lungs, and make them strong for another winter.
50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

1817 1900

CARPETS.

Every purchaser of Carpets—whether for the smallest room or the biggest hotel—wants his mind satisfied on three points, namely:

PRICE—QUALITY—STYLE.

It is because we convince our customers as to every one of these requirements that we confidently expect YOUR patronage.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.,
658 Washington Street . . . BOSTON.
Opp. Boylston Street.

Fires in Natal.

In Natal fire still continues to be one of winter's perils. After months of drought plantations become so much timber, and should by chance any field take fire and a "hot wind" be blowing the devastation wrought is widespread if not ruinous.

One "Black Monday" nearly 30 years ago will long be memorable for the destruction wreaked through two counties by the ruthless fire fiend. "Fire breaks" of trees or bare spaces combined with vigilance in suppression have greatly lessened the risks of conflagration, but the dangers of grass fires will long be a menace to the tree planter and pastoralist in the upper districts.

Natal has been described as a "vast meadow." Its hills are clothed from foot to brow with crisp and waving grass. The latter often overtops a man's head. From the earliest recorded times it has been the fashion, and a wasteful, barbarous fashion it seems, to burn these luxuriant pastures.—Cornhill

Whitewash.

A good whitewash is made by putting a piece of lime weighing about five pounds in a granite pan or bucket. Pour on it a gallon of water, allow it to boil and slack until the steaming is over; then take from this two quarts of the liquid lime, put it in a wooden or granite bucket and add sufficient water to make it rather thin. Add a small amount of pure indigo sufficient to give it the proper color; add a teaspoonful of salt and half a teaspoonful of lampblack; stir well. If you wish it colored, add one of the colorings which can be purchased at any druggist's, stating that it is to be used with lime.

Curiosities of the Alphabet.

To those who have never considered the subject it might appear that each letter is of equal importance in the formation of words, but the relative proportions required in the English language are these: a, 85; b, 16; c, 30; d, 44; e, 120; f, 25; g, 17; h, 64; i, 80; j, 4; k, 8; l, 40; m, 30; n, 80; o, 80; p, 17; q, 5; r, 62; s, 80; t, 90; u, 34; v, 12; w, 20; x, 4; y, 20; z, 2.

It is this knowledge of how frequently one letter is used compared with others that enables cryptogram readers to unravel many mysteries.

Your best friend can give you no better advice than this: "For impure blood, bad stomach and weak nerves take Hood's Sarsaparilla."

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

There was a time once when mother's folks used to send provisions to the starving ones in Oklahoma. In this year of our Lord Oklahomans are preparing a corn train to ship to the famine sufferers of India.—Kansas City Journal.

With Years
WISDOM.

The answer to that old query, "What's in a name?" was not hard to define in the case of one justly celebrated Family Remedy that had its origin away down in Maine, which proves that with age comes wisdom about

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

An old lady called at a store and asked for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment; the clerk said "they were out, but could supply her with another just as good." The engaging smile that accompanied this information was frozen stiff when she replied:

Young Man, there is only one Liniment, and that is Johnson's.

Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. There is not a remedy in use which has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Could a remedy have existed for nearly a century, except that it possess extraordinary merit?

Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE
BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.
UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

SUMMER
BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript
(No Sunday Edition).
THE GREATEST PAPER
IN NEW ENGLAND
FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms.

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

THE
NEW YORK WORLD
THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year
FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES'
CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less, - - 10c
5 to 15 miles, - - 15c
15 to 25 " - - 20c
25 to 35 " - - 25c
35 to 45 " - - 30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN
EXPRESS.

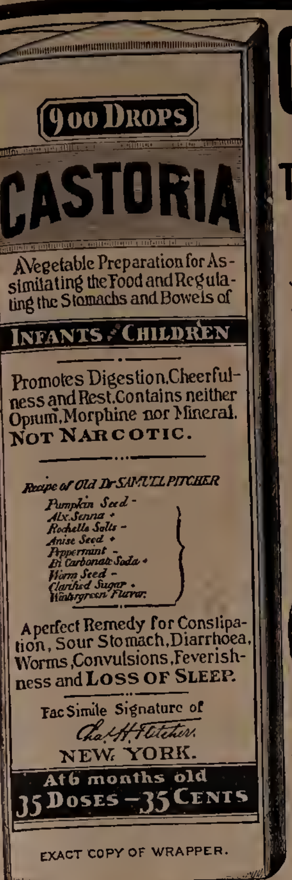
E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON).

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf



900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna +
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed +
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda +
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar +
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES – 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

HOME AGAIN.

Far down the lane
A window pane
Shines mid the trees through night and rain;
The weeds are dense
Through which a fence
Sprawls out, one sees not where nor whence,
And there the springhouse, indistinct of line,
O'er roofed and tangled with a trumpet vine.

No thing is heard,
Ne beast or bird,
Only the rain by which are stirred
The draining leaves
And trickling eaves
Of crib and barn one scarce perceives,
And gardens where old fashioned flow'rs hang wet,
The phlox, the candytuft and mignonette.

Why should I wait?
The hour is late;
She has not heard me at the gate.
Upon the roof
The rain was proof
Against my horse's hurrying hoof,
And when the old gate with its weight and chain
Creaks she will think it but the wind and rain.

Along I steal
With cautious heel
And by the lamp lit window kneel,
And there she sits
And rocks and knits
Within the shadowy light that flits
On face and hair, so sweetly sad and gray,
Dreaming of him she thinks is far away.

Upon my cheeks
Is it the streaks
Of rain, as now the old porch creaks
Beneath my stride?
And open wide
The door flings, and she's at my side.
Dear mother! And, back from the war, her boy
Kisses her face all streaming wet with joy.
—Madison Cawein in Harper's Bazar.

A QUESTION OF METHOD

Young Bowen's Contempt For Army Red Tape.

Young Clancy Bowen brought to New York from his western home a life equipment of so much energy, combined with the unshakable belief that it was easy enough to "do things" if you only "got down on your four legs and exercised," that his friends, both new and old, expect a great deal of him. But they are yet awhile no nearer dropping the objectionable introduction to his name than they were three years ago, when Bowen had no better sense than to spend a week of his precious time in the attempt, according to a promise, to collect an old and outlawed debt from a vanishing person in the east for the benefit of some one "at home." Then and always they called him "young." Only this winter he had an experience which should have been formative. It stunned him, perhaps, but he awoke unchanged.

Bowen's brother, a soldier in the regular army, went to the front in 1898. The stay at home, however, bore a heavier burden of the distresses of the campaign in Cuba than the one who saw the battles. When he read in the newspapers that the army was keenly suffering for food while whole shipfuls of stores remained untapped at anchor a few miles off the beach, the young man seethed with pent up irritation—pent up until he had finished a scrap of breakfast at his boarding house, where there was no one but the landlady, and she deaf, and found the ear of an acquaintance down town.

"Say, what good are those generals? They ain't fit to be pitching hay! Say I'd get a rope on to every one of those ships, one by one, and haul 'em up on shore, and I'd dump 'em out and fill up the brave fellows fighting for their country till they was gorged!"

"You couldn't do that, or anything, not if you was a general," said the other. "Red tape." He repeated the last words decisively. "Red tape!"

"I'd ravel it all out!" cried Clancy and hurried off. That was the man: this is the simple experience:

The brother came back from the war not a bit the worse either for the fasting or the fighting, but the chance of army life did not bring him within reach of Clancy's arms for more than a year. Then, after everything else had been said, the soldier let fall the information that he had been obliged to leave his extra clothing, together with most of his worldly goods, at the barracks in California when he was ordered to the front and regretfully wished he had them now.

"Where did you put the things?" asked Clancy, alive at once, ready to take charge of the matter of getting them back.

"Captain told me to pack my stuff in my company locker, and I did—No. 65, Benicia barracks, Second infantry storehouse," rattled off the soldier.

"Well, all we have to do is to write out to the man, the janitor, or what you call 'em, who keeps care of the building, and ask him to send your duds along—eh, as you have need of 'em here. I'll fix it up for you."

"I dunno," said the other hesitatingly; "that wouldn't be quite right, you writing the letter and all. I'd better ask my captain to write. He'll say 'communicate' to the chaps out west. Then it'll all be reg'lar."

"Oh, well," Clancy sniffed; "that will do, I s'pose. Is your captain a good feller? Will he tend up to it sharp? If not, you'd better let me"—

But the other interrupted decidedly. He would do things in the right way, and it would be better in the end, he said.

Several months passed. Nothing was heard from Benicia barracks. Clancy tried to make his brother "punch up" the captain. He even wrote a fevered appeal himself to the man who, he reckoned, must have taken away those things and sold them, but the soldier would not let the letter be mailed. The brothers nearly split up over this question, for Clancy said he was ashamed that one of his family should have so little "hustle" in him.

"I tell you it's no use to do anything but wait," said the brother in his stupid, firm way. And last week he was proved right. A red inked, blue inked green inked bundle of paper, all pasted together and strung out with a pinned copy of his letter to his captain, came to the soldier. He brought the thing to Clancy at the first opportunity.

"Snakes!" said the young man. "Is that quite all? Conversational, ain't it? Well, let's see. 'Respectfully forwarded to the adjutant, Benicia barracks, with request that a search be instituted for the purpose of finding the clothing said to have been packed away'— That's from your captain, and they call it the first 'indorsement.'" Clancy turned and twisted the wad of papers about until he found what he was looking for, then read:

"'Second indorsement. The box locker referred to was shipped, with all its contents, to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., on Dec. 8, 1899,' and he says he knows you might possibly get it if you applied to the quartermaster at Fort Leavenworth. That's good news. Course they haven't made it take any more journeys since. Now your captain takes a hand. He's respectful, but he puts his paw right down. I see that, 'request that the contents be forwarded as soon as practicable.'

"'Fourth indorsement. Respectfully referred to the quartermaster.' That's at Leavenworth. Now we're getting warm. 'Fifth indorsement. Respectfully returned the adjutant, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas,' he says. Well, he's found your stuff and wants 'authority to ship.' That's what we're after. 'Sixth indorsement. Respectfully forwarded to the assistant adjutant general something or other department of Missouri, requesting authority to forward.' Well, he just very respectfully returns to the quartermaster up there, who returns back to him, and then he returns it to somebody else, who tells 'the commanding officer' at Leavenworth that he can send you your old pants if he wants to, William, but he must be sure and send the papers back." Clancy sighed seriously.

"'Tenth indorsement. Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Respectfully referred.' Oh, respectfully referred, to the quartermaster for his information and guidance. Want to save the wear and tear on the quartermaster's brains. Be cheaper to buy you new duds, I should say. Here's a few more. 'Eleventh indorsement.'" Clancy paused, his brows knitting. "Oh, this is good stuff," he cried out. "It tells the story, all of it. Listen:

"'Respectfully returned to the adjutant, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., with the report that under authority indorsed hereon and in conformity with'—there's a lot of dates and requests that he has to conform to, but he made out to pack your things in a box, and, William, they're a-coming. There's more indorsements, though: 'Respectfully returned to Private William Bowen, inviting attention.' I guess so! Have you got the goods, William?"

"No," said William. "I been reading this."

"And then the adjutant returns respectfully to you, but you don't get it, and then the captain returns respectfully to you, and you do get it, thirteenth and fourteenth indorsements, good, and the box is on the way." Clancy, though abashed, became sarcastic:

"Do you circulate a round robin before they'll let you put on them pants?" he asked.

And a few weeks later he had entirely recovered from the shock. Young Clancy Bowen was himself again. "You'd orter let me write out about your things," he said.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Everybody Knows About

Pain-Killer

A Household Medicine

Used by millions in all parts of the world

A SAFE and SURE REMEDY for

Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Cuts
Dysentery Croup Burns
Sprains and Strains.

Gives Instant relief. Cures quickly.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)

ALL DRUGGISTS.
m10-1y

MEN OF MARK.

Thomas Bailey Aldrich, the poet, has contributed $100 to the Richard Hovey monument fund in Boston.

Murat Halstead has accepted the presidency of a new college of journalism which has just been started in Cincinnati.

D. A. Tompkins, a millionaire cotton mill owner and philanthropist of Mississippi, will build a textile school in Jackson at a cost of $40,000.

Senator Hanna has had set as a scarfpin a ruby which for ages adorned the brow of an East Indian idol. The jewel has been in the senator's family for several generations.

E. Parmlee Prentice, whose engagement to Miss Rockefeller has just been announced, will one day inherit from his father one of the best collections of rare books in America.

Fredérick William Fritzsche of Philadelphia was at one time a member of the German reichstag. There are four other ex-members of that body now living in the United States.

President Kruger, it is said, never goes out of his house without wearing a big major general's scarf over his coat, on which he wears the Prussian order of the Red Eagle of the fourth class and a Portuguese medal.

The Duke of Abercorn, who has taken a prominent part in the entertainment of Queen Victoria, is the premier peer of Ireland and is the possessor of many titles and honors. He enjoys peerages in England, Ireland and Scotland, and his ancestors date back to 1445.

Hammond Lamont, professor of English at Brown university, has resigned from that position and will become managing editor of the New York Evening Post. After his graduation from Harvard in 1886 Professor Lamont engaged for some years in newspaper work in Seattle and Albany.

The story is told that when Senator Clark came to Washington he asked for a suit of 16 rooms at a hotel. The manager protested that that number was impossible—there were only 16 rooms in the whole annex. "Well, how much do you want for the annex?" asked Clark. "Ten thousand dollars." "All right, I'll take it." And he did.

Jeff Davis, an octogenarian negro, who died at Palestine, Tex., the other day, was a former slave of President Davis of the Confederate states. At the close of the civil war the ex-slave went to Palestine from his master's home in Mississippi and lived ever since near the farm of John H. Reagan, the sole surviving member of the Confederate cabinet.

England's oldest actor, James Doel, has just passed another birthday, his ninety-sixth, and is still hearty, although he has retired from the management of the inn of which he was landlord until a few months ago. He made his first appearance upon the stage of the Plymouth theater, in "The Turnpike Gate," when Queen Victoria was little more than a baby.

GEMS IN VERSE.

A Hardworking Woman.

All day she hurried to get through,
The same as lots of women do;
Sometimes at night her husband said,
"Ma, ain't you goin to come to bed?"
An then she'd kinder give a hitch
An pause half way between a stitch
An sorter sigh an say that she
Was ready as she'd ever be,
She reckoned.

An so the years went, one by one,
An somehow she was never done,
An when the angel said as how
"Mis' Smith, it's time you rested now,"
She sorter raised her eyes to look
A second as a stitch she took.
"All right; I'm comin now," says she.
"I'm ready as I'll ever be,
I reckon."
—Kansas City Journal.

The Women of England.

Long since our men went forth, superb and glistening,
Flushed with the fierce expectancy of fight,
But on us women of England, waiting, listening,
Dreaming alone at night—
O Lord, have mercy!

They revel high, to war's grim banquet bidden.
To the dregs they drain life's cup, but we sit here,
Silent, obscure, in cloudy shadows hidden,
Tortured with hope and fear—
O Lord, have mercy!

The little feet that once with sweet caressing
The mother fondled—feet of her only son—
Through what red sea of slaughter are they pressing
Beneath an alien sun?
O Lord, have mercy!

In night illumed alone by the scarlet luster
That lights the valley of death from while to while
We hear the winds of winter rage and bluster
Around our lonely isle—
O Lord, have mercy!

On us who grudge not that which we are giving,
Flesh of our flesh, life of our very life,
Thou, who art Lord both of the dead and living,
On mother, daughter, wife—
O Lord, have mercy!
—Pall Mall Gazette.

The Clod and the Genius.

A genius and a clod one day
Raked the meadows sweet with hay.
The genius said, "I plainly see
That hayseed's not the thing for me."
And he said as his hay rake forth he hurled,
"I'll go snatch laurels from the world."

The clod opined that good, green hay
Was better than laurel any day.
So the genius traveled wide and soared
And hocked sweet sonnets for his board.
The clod's dad died and left a will:
Gave him a farm and a good grist mill.
He sold young pigs and cows and beeves
And never pined for laurel leaves.

The genius came to the farm one day,
And the clod in the meadow raked the hay.
The genius had seen some right hard knocks,
And at the time he was on the rocks.
He had taken his meals, it was plain to see,
With great irregularity,
And a good old fashioned mutton stew
Would beat all the laurel, he thought, that grew.

The clod embraced his long lost twin,
Straightway to the kitchen took him in,
And he said as he watched his brother's greed
That he didn't think laurel was much for feed.
Next day the genius raked the hay
For the clod at a dollar ten per day.
And he said as he mopped his sweating brow,
"Three 'squares' beat laurel anyhow."
—Bismarck Tribune

Scatter Smiles.

Go sing to others songs of hope
And scatter smiles of cheer,
And thou'lt forget to grieve or mope,
For life won't seem so drear;
For love smiles scattered on the way,
Like dew from heaven's skies,
Will bring a balm to saddened hearts
And hope to tearful eyes.

Go sing to others songs of hope
And lend a helping hand,
And thou'lt be happier, happier far
While journeying down life's strand,
And though dark clouds be overcast,
Ah, let thy smiles more beam
And form a rainbow arch of hope
Across life's troubled stream.

Go sing to others songs of hope
And search some heart to heal,
With kindly thoughts and loving deeds
An active soul reveal,
That day by day some brother's load
May lessen through thy love
And some poor soul be filled with bliss
Akin to that above.

Go sing to others songs of hope
And spread thy influence sweet,
And other souls, admiring thee,
Thy example may repeat
Until the fellowship of men
May grow in love and grace,
And when thy mission be fulfilled
Leave earth a better place.
—Lumilla Claire Clark.

A Woman's Work.

When breakfast things are cleared away,
The same old problem's rising,
For she again sits down to think
Of something appetizing.
The dinner she must soon prepare
Or give the cook directions,
And great is the relief she feels
When she has made selections.

When dinner things are cleared away,
The problem that is upper
Is just the same, with one word changed,
"What can I get for supper?"
She wants to give them something new,
And long is meditation
Till choice is made, and then begins
The work of preparation.

When supper things are cleared away,
Again her mind is worried,
For then she thinks of breakfast time,
When meals are often hurried.
She ponders o'er it long until
The question is decided,
Then bustles round till she makes sure
That everything's provided.

That "woman's work is never done"
Has often been disputed,
But that she's worried is a fact
And cannot be refuted.
The worry over what to eat
Is greatest of these questions,
And glad she'd be if some one else
Would make the meal suggestions.
—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

One Thought.

Though time may dig the grave of creeds,
And dogmas wither in the sod,
My soul will keep the thought it needs—
Its swerveless faith in God.

No matter how the world began
Nor where the march of science goes,
My trust in something more than man
Shall help me bear life's woes.

Let progress take the props away
And moldering superstitions fall,
Still God retains his regal sway,
The Maker of the All.

Why cavil over that or this?
One thought is vast enough for me—
The great Creator was and is
And evermore will be.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox in Woman's Home Companion.

A little rule, a little sway,
A sunbeam in a winter's day,
Is all the proud and mighty have Between the cradle and the grave.
—Dyer.

The Cure that Cures
Coughs,
Colds,
Grippe,
Whooping Cough, Asthma, Bronchitis and Incipient Consumption, is

OTTO'S CURE

The GERMAN REMEDY
Cures throat and lung diseases.
Sold by all druggists. 25&50cts.

LAUNDRY LINES.

Borax is especially excellent for use in washing linen, making it beautifully white.

It is claimed that phosphate of ammonia mixed with starch used in the laundry will render the fabric treated with it comparatively fireproof.

HIS LIFE SAVED

By Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I am sure that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy at one time saved my life," says A. E. Lafalette, of Gregory Landing, Clark county, Missouri. "I was in such bad shape that the doctors said I could not live. When I was at the lowest ebb, one of my neighbors brought in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, and I took it and got instant relief. I soon got up and around. That was nine years ago and I am still in good health. Since then that medicine has always been in my house and always will be. It is the best on earth." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Questions in Keeping.

Victim (irritably)—What silly questions you ask.

Barber (severely)—Well, what sort of questions do you expect with a five-cent shave?—N. Y. Journal.

"Take Heed Will Surely Speed."

Be sure to heed the first symptoms of indigestion, nervousness and impure blood, and thus avoid chronic dyspepsia, nervous prostration and all the evils produced by bad blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla is your safeguard. It quickly sets the stomach right, strengthens and quiets the nerves, purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood and keeps up the health tone.

All liver ills are cured by Hood's Pills. 25.

No one would ever be bothered with constipation if everyone knew how naturally and quickly Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach and bowels.

Cures croup, sore throat, pulmonary troubles—Monarch over pain of every sort. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil.

It's a mistake to imagine that itching piles can't be cured; a mistake to suffer a day longer than you can help. Doan's Ointment brings instant relief and permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

The ability to spend $35,000,000 on one public improvement emphasizes the almost unlimited wealth of the city of New York. It is in truth a wonderful metropolis, and no enterprise seems too gigantic for it to undertake.—Baltimore American.

When a man is tortured with backache or lame back he doesn't want to experiment with new and untried remedies.

He realizes that the backache is kidney ache.

The lame back virtually means lame kidneys, and he knows that there's very serious trouble in store if he doesn't get his kidneys to do their duty. In his trouble he naturally turns to

Doan's Kidney Pills

Others all around him have been cured of kidney complaint by this wonderful little remedy. He has the testimony of others to guide him. He KNOWS that Doan's Kidney Pills WILL cure, no matter what form of kidney complaint he may have.

He learns this by reading emphatic evidence like the following:

Mr. H. J. Woodbury, carpenter, of 37 South Chestnut street, Augusta, Me., says:

"I was interviewed in the spring of 1896 by a gentleman who asked me for my experience with and opinions of Doan's Kidney Pills. I told him that I had been greatly annoyed by the action of my kidneys, that the slightest cold always settled there and produced intense suffering, and that Doan's Kidney Pills had cured me. It is now two years and a half since I was first interviewed, and I can conscientiously say, the longer and more fully you know Doan's Kidney Pills the greater faith you have in them. Everyone, as far as I have heard, speaks in the highest terms of their great value."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N.Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 8 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 49, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 8 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, †8 55 a m, †12 58, †5 21, 6 19, †7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, †6 57, 8 03, †9 15 a m; †12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, †8 58, a m; †1 01, 5 25, 6 1?, †7 28, †9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; 1 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m. S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 8 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

GEO. L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G. A. Martin, M. D.,
. . AND . . .
C. B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tf S

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

Because in the case of moth it is the only remedy possible. Our Moth Balls and Camphorine will render furs and other articles of winter clothing absolutely secure against the ravages of these pests. Don't delay action where the emergency is immediate. Today, and not tomorrow, is the Moth Ball time, since mischief once done is irreparable.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.
DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Mrs. O. J. Goodspeed and daughter, Elsa, are spending a few days at Marshfield Hills.——A large picnic from Tremont Temple, Boston, was at Lake Pearl Monday.——Fred Mocella gave a birthday party to a number of his little friends Saturday afternoon.——The W. H. S. alumni will hold their annual ball the end of the month.——Mrs. Sargent and Miss Margaretta Sargent are at J. E. Chamberlin's.——Mrs. Mary A. High of Waterloo, Iowa, and Mrs. Abbie B. Donaldson of Rhinelander, Wis., niece of the late Mrs. Lydia Jennys, are in town.——There will be an exhibition of the work of the scholars of the public schools held in the banquet room Thursday afternoon and evening.

SHELDONVILLE.

C. E. Thomas is out with a new democrat.

Frank Metcalf is riding a new Pierce wheel.

Mrs. Charles Fuller of Pawtucket is visiting relatives in town.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Shelden on Wednesday, June 7.

Miss Alma Scott is convalescent after an illness of three or four weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Falk entertained relatives from Pawtucket Sunday.

A Children's day concert was given Sunday evening by the Sunday school.

Miss Beatrice Provan of West Wrentham is enjoying a visit from her mother and brother of Boston.

Jacob Estey of Boston has rented the parsonage for the summer and will shortly move his family here.

David Chapman of West Wrentham has disposed of his real estate and personal property and gone to Manchester, N. H., where he will reside with his children.

Leon Crowninshield of Providence has just returned from a year's voyage to China and is now visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Outhouse of this place.

A Bible was presented last Saturday evening to Rev. Mr. Hargrove of Brown university by some of his Sheldonville friends. Mr. Hargrove has occupied the pulpit here since Rev. E. E. Barris moved to Stillriver and is held in high esteem by all who have come in contact with him.

THE BARGAIN CENT.

How would you like to be the street car conductor when the proposed half cent coins get real numerous?—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

There is no use for the half cent here, and the government will commit a folly and create a nuisance if it attempts to put such a coin into circulation.—Boston Post.

The proposition to coin half cents is not in accord with the American style of carrying on business. China's infinitesimal coins have not been conducive to a higher civilization nor to the comfort of the class compelled to handle them.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

There are many persons who are not poor, but who are too stingy to give a whole cent for any object, no matter how worthy. Is it unreasonable to suppose that the fountain of charity in such a soul would flow if it could have a chance to gush in half cent spurts?—Washington Post.

The Non-Irritating Cathartic

Easy to take, easy to operate—

Hood's Pills

He Was a Poet.

The man who said that distance lends
Enchantment to the view,
I'll bet referred unto a bill
That was shortly coming due.
—Answers.

A Good Notion.

Hardup (to Good-natured Friend)—Well, old man, I've called upon you to ask you to allow me to be your banker for a time.

Good-Natured Friend—Be my banker! Eh, what? What do you mean?

Hardup—Why, dear boy, your banker keeps your money for you, doesn't he? And if you let me have a fiver I'll promise to keep it as long as you like.—Ally Sloper.

Their Origin.

Johnny—Paw, I know how clams was started.

His Father—Well?

Johnny—After all the other animals was made there was a lot of gristle left, and there wasn't anything else they could do with it, and they made it into a clam.—Chicago Tribune.

Unlike Caesar's Wife.

Smith—Jones says there is something suspicious about his wife's actions.

Brown—Is that so?

Smith—Yes; he says she insists on getting a whiff of his breath every time he is detained downtown late at night.—Buffalo Commercial.

His Reason for It.

Mother—Why, Tommy! you don't mean to say you took a second piece of pie when you were visiting, do you? Why did you do it?

Tommy—I just wanted to show them that I was used to having plenty to eat when I was at home.—Puck.

Perfectly Safe.

Mallaby—Bragleigh boasts that no living man could forge his name successfully to a check and get it cashed. Has he such a very peculiar signature?

Homans—No. But he hasn't any bank account.—N. Y. Truth.

A Matter of Phrase.

"What will your next political move be?" inquired the energetic politician.

"I don't think," said the defeated candidate for congress, "that there's going to be any. I guess I'll stay home."—Washington Star.

Merely Developed Him.

Meekton (bitterly)—You have made a regular fool of me since we were married.

Mrs. Meekton (coldly)—Oh, no. I have merely developed you.—Towe Topics.

Was It Empty?

Goslin—Aw, I have a vewy bad headache this mawning, doncher know.

Cuspid (a dentist, absent-mindedly)—Why don't you have it filled?—Harlem Life.

When Genius Gets a Show.

"Why is it the mind is brighter when a man is past 40?"

"After that age the man gets sense enough not to eat too much."—Chicago Record.

No One Knows.

Little Clarence (after a season of cogitation)—Pa, why are parlor ornaments called ornaments?

Mr. Callipers—My son, I cannot tell a lie; I do not know.—Puck.

A Bachelor View of It.

Miss Quipp—The idea of anything of coral for an engagement memento!

Mr. Quirk—Why, isn't it a cause of many wrecks?—Jewelers' Weekly.

THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND, with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain.

Our Store is Light and Cool, the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

W. S. JOHNSON,
SPECIAL AGENT FOR
The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York,

Assets over - - - $300,000,000
Paid to policy holders over 500,000,000
Insurance in force over - 1,000,000,000

Issues the most liberal and attractive policies on the market, including
Cash Surrender Values, Extended Insurance,
Loan Values, Paid-up Insurance,
Grace in payment of Premiums, etc.

Mr. Asbury Peppers.

"Speaking of the stage," said Asbury Peppers to the boarder who had no chance to escape, "a plump figure is worth a round sum."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Thoughts of Home.

The Sweetheart—And did you sometimes think of me while at the front?

The Soldier—Yes, whenever they blew the "call to arms".—N. Y. Journal.

A Small Chip.

"Young Dealer is getting to be as inveterate a poker player as his father."

"A chip of the old block, eh?"—Philadelphia North American.

Love's Courage.

The microbe has no fears for me;
In fact, I'd think it bliss
To be a microbe, don't you know,
And dwell in my love's kiss.
—N. Y. Journal.

A blessing alike to young and old; Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; Nature's specific for dysentery, diarrhea and summer complaint.

JUST THE WEATHER TO ENJOY A

HAMMOCK.

We have them for 75c. to $4.25.

Oil Stoves, 1, 2 and 3 burners, 50c., 98c. and $1.48.

Screen Doors and Window Screens.

Refrigerator Pans, Watering Pots.

W. E. Crowninshield
2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4mS

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - Prop'r and Mgr.

Acknowledged the Most Charming and Fully Equipped Picnic Grounds in New England . . . .

Avail yourselves of the cool breezes and the charming scenery from the high bluff overlooking the Lake.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

Large hall, with piano, Restaurant, Beautiful Grove and Summer Houses, Dining Pavilion, Stable, etc.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

OPEN EVERY DAY
ALL PRICES MODERATE.

Attractions Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday Evenings.

☞ No Liquor.
je5-3mT

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Hugh Lyons to the Medway Savings Bank, dated November first, 1879, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 515, folio 244, for breach of the conditions thereof and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on at . o'clock p. m., all and singular the following described property.

SATURDAY, the FOURTEENTH day of JULY, 1900,

A certain tract of land containing forty acres, more or less, situated in the westerly part of said Medway, on the westerly side of West street, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at the northeasterly corner thereof at the junction of West and Alder streets, and thence westerly on Alder street to land of E. L. and O. F. Metcalf; thence southerly and westerly on land of said Metcalfs to land of Charles Wight; thence southerly on land of said Wight to land of C. M. Hill, thence easterly on land of said Hill to West street, thence northerly on West street to land of the heirs of Luther Daniels, deceased, thence westerly, northerly and easterly on land of said heirs to West street; thence northerly on said street to the point of departure, being the same tract described in a deed from James Bradly to grantor, dated April 10, 187[illegible], and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, lib. 509, fol. 510. Except such portion of the above premises as have been released (June 3, 1897) to the said Hugh Lyons for a location of the Milford, Holliston and Framingham Street Railway Company.

Terms at time of sale.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
By its Treasurer, W. H. Upton, Mortgagee.
Medway, Mass., June 19, 1900. je19,26jly3

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the next-of-kin and all persons interested in the estate of Ruby Wales of Bellingham, in said county, minor:

Whereas, Varnum B. Rockwood, the guardian of said minor, has presented his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, certain real estate therein specified of his ward for investment,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the fifth day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each of you fourteen days at least before said court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this nineteenth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
je19,26,jly3

POULTRY POINTERS.

Allow no decomposing vegetable matter around the quarters.

Destroy the nest of the sitting hen when the chicks are a day old.

Diarrhea may often be mistaken for cholera, showing nearly the same symptoms.

The rapidity with which fowls multiply renders improvement rapid and inexpensive.

As the season for sudden showers comes on provide for the chicks convenient sheds, under which they can run for protection whenever necessary.

Birds that a fancier would not breed for himself ought never to be sold to another unless it be clearly understood that the birds are not up to the standard.

Use plenty of raw bone, either crushed or in the form of meal. It contains lime, as do oyster shells, and, in addition, contains animal matter of great value.

On the farm, especially where the fowls are given a free range, it is usually not necessary to feed the hens except at night, allowing them to hunt and scratch for their food during the day. In this way they will be kept thriftier and in a better laying condition.—St. Louis Republic.

THE PARIS EXPOSITION.

A fountain throwing up wheat will be one of the features of the Canadian exhibit at Paris.

By the middle of May there will not be a thing left to be done on the exposition grounds, so nearly is everything completed.

A locomotive works at Crewe, England, has just completed its four thousandth railroad engine, and it is to be sent to Paris for exhibition.

Boston is proud of the model of that city which is to be exhibited at the Paris exposition. The model will show the city and the surroundings for 12 miles, and every house, tree, water course and road will be visible.

Old Paris will attract the attention of thousands of visitors. The buildings, churches and streets are peopled with citizens wearing the costumes of the middle ages, the renaissance period and the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries.

RAILWAY RUMBLES.

It costs $550,000,000 every week to run the world's railways.

The Canadian Pacific railway is surveying a new route from Ottawa to Arnprior.

A new system of railway traction has been invented by a New Zealander in which half of the car is underground and half above. It is proposed to construct a conduit of sufficient capacity to receive the truck and running gear.

Russia is getting ready to build a new railway from the south of European Russia to Turkestan. One line proposed goes from Orenburg through the Turgai country and Turkestan to Tashkend. Another starts at Alexandrovsk on the Caspian and follows the left bank of the Amu Daria to Tchardshui on the transcaspian railroad.

SPRING BUDS.

It is pretty nearly time for the man with the lawn mower to appear.—Worcester Spy.

It is an open question now whether the new kissing bug or the old summer girl will get the first inning.—New York Press.

The tree man is around with his bill of $20 for sticking up in the lawn a bean pole that doesn't grow.-

THE DOMINIE.

The Rev. Dr. Reuen Thomas has been pastor of the Harvard church, Brookline, Mass., for 25 years, and his people recently presented him with a purse of $5,000 as an evidence of their esteem.

The Rev. T. H. James, who has been preaching in Oakley, Kan., on a [illegible] salary, recently inherited a fortune in England, and intends to use [illegible] of it to endow a college and a hospital in Oklahoma.

Many of the friends of Archbishop Corrigan expect him to return from his visit to Rome the possessor of the red hat of a cardinal. His claim to the distinction, it is said, will be urged by prominent New York Catholics, who have gone to Rome in advance of his visit.

The Rev. Samuel E. Eastman and his wife, the Rev. A. F. Eastman, have been unanimously elected pastors of the Park church, Elmira, to succeed the late Rev. Dr. Thomas K. Beecher. Mr. and Mrs. Eastman had been Dr. Beecher's assistants for several years previous to his death.

THE PEDAGOGUE.

Professor Arthur Graves Canfield of the University of Kansas has been appointed to the chair of romance languages and literature of the University of Michigan.

The Harvard club of St. Louis has decided to found a $300 scholarship at the university, to be open to graduates of Missouri universities and colleges who wish to follow a graduate course of study at Harvard.

President Eliot of Harvard said recently that a greater proportion of Harvard men were going into journalism and literature than into any other business or profession, except possibly the law. "And it is a good place for them to go," he added.

RAILWAY TIES.

A Toronto street railway company has been fined for not providing rear vestibules on its cars for the protection of conductors.

The electric locomotive, while slow to make its appearance on the railroads of this country, is finding much use on the "industrial" railways of manufacturing establishments.

Special smoking cars are run on Montreal street railway lines. The Broadway cable equipment of New York has also received an addition of 20 cars for the same purpose.

A Good Cough Medicine.

It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to any other. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to myself and customers," says Druggist J. Goldsmith, Van Etten, N. Y. "I have always used it in my own family both for ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following la grippe, and find it very efficacious." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

BUG DEATH...

A NON-POISONOUS POWDER.

Is sure death to potato, squash and cucumber bugs, currant and tomato worms, and other plant and vine-eating pests. It is a benefit to the plant, and the more freely used the better the plant will thrive. For potatoes when blight is prevalent the extra yield will more than pay all expense of Bug Death.

1 lb. pkg., 15c. 3 lbs., 35c. 5 lbs., 50c. 12 1-2 lbs., $1.

Perfection Shaker, 50c.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Have a Boiled Dinner

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs............10c	Smoked Bacon, strip...10c
Fancy Brisket.........10c	Spinach, peck. 25c
Flank 6c	Dandelion.................30c
Smoked Shoulders.....8c	Lettuce, each..............8c

Radishes, bunch........ 5c

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-1yS

GROCERIES AT COST.

Sale now going on at

McKinnon's Grocery Store,

CENTRAL SQUARE.

Stock must be sold to close business.

If you want first-class Groceries at half price don't miss this chance.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary
Summer St., Franklin, Mass.
ap27S

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet FEVERS
Tyhoid

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 50
Single Gallon................................. 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive prompt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
17-tfT P. O. Box 481.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law and all other persons interested in the estate of William B. Nolen, late of Franklin, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, Henry R. Jenks, executor of the will of said deceased, has presented to said court his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offers named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, the whole of two certain parcels of the real estate of said deceased for the payment of debts, legacies and charges of administration, and for other reasons set forth in said petition,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Brookline, in said county, on the twenty-seventh day of June, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each person interested in the estate fourteen days at least before said court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this first day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
je5,12,19

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Sarah O. Whiting, late of Franklin, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said court for probate by Ann O. Bennett of Franklin, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the fifth day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esq., Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

je12,19,26 JONATHAN COBB, Register.

Hattie M Fisher
1 Jan 01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 50. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
S. C. Nye	4
A. B. Chilson	2
J. B. McKinnon	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Mrs. Alice Barcroft of Norfolk, Va., is visiting friends in town.

Mrs. A. J. Bailey has gone to Newburyport for the summer.

Mrs. Washington Hunt of Abington is visiting her daughter, Mrs. M. E. Harrie.

Miss Carrie Fisher is spending three weeks with relatives in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Rev. F. B. Sleeper will exchange with Rev. S. L. Morse of Medfild Sunday forenoon.

Miss Sadie Fulton of Summit, N. J., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jacob Quilter.

Dr. D. E. Baker of Newtonville has been visiting his parents, Dea. and Mrs. E. E. Baker.

The Our Boys nine will play with the Textile team at Unionville tomorrow afternoon.

G. I. Partridge shows us some hens' eggs that are corrugated, presenting a rather unusual appearance.

Officers for the ensuing year will be elected at the meeting of Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Pekins of Newtonville are guests of William G. Cody and family of Union street.

The freshmen team of the High school will play the Medway High school nine, at Medway, tomorrow morning.

Rev. Dr. Hodge preaches Sunday morning in Milford and Rev. E. W. Whitney will preach in Franklin.

The holy communion will be celebrated for St. John's mission, at the rectory, Sunday morning, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Frank Moore, who has been the guest of relatives in Worcester for the past two weeks, returned home today.

The concreters have patched many places in the streets where the concrete had been broken from putting in pipes to the sewer.

Native strawberries, large and luscious, from the bed of Almon Sanborn, causes us to extend to him herewith our sincere thanks.

There will be an exhibition of the class work of the pupils of St. Mary's school in the new building tomorrow afternoon from 1 to 6 o'clock.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Blanchard on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McLaughlin also welcomed a little son into their home on the same date.

E. Lovell Metcalf's store on Central street, which has been vacant for some time, was opened today by William Elkerton, who will conduct a bakery business.

The second team of the High school defeated the Hayward nine, 11 to 7, on Saturday. Palmer and Hood were in the points for the High school and Chilson and Dean for Hayward.

A large number of Franklin people attended the dance held at Lake Pearl Tuesday evening. Mrs. Mabel Tracy at the piano and Miss Bertha Razee, violinist, furnished music for the dancing.

Charles R. Gowen, superintendent of streets, had one hand badly injured last week by a pick in the hands of one of the workmen. The point passed through Mr. Gowen's hand, making a painful wound.

The two large elm trees in front of the Shaw place on Main street have been cut down and the sidewalk lowered to correspond with the grade of the street. They have been a landmark for the past fifty years.

Albert J. Reilly, manager of the O. B. Carter Clothing company, was united in marriage to Miss Annie M. Moore, at the rectory of the Cathedral of the Holy Cross, Boston, on Tuesday evening, Rev. Fr. Lee of St. Mary's church here, performing the ceremony.

Cards have been received by friends here announcing the marriage of Helen E. Richardson to Frederick M. Waite in Boulder, Col., on Saturday, June 23. It is quite likely that they will take a wedding trip east. They will be warmly welcomed here, where Miss Richardson has so many friends.

It is hoped that the baccalaureate sermon at the Congregational church on Sunday evening will be heard by every friend of education in town, as our High school is undenominational, and it will inspire the pupils with fresh vigor if they feel that their friends are interested in their welfare. Fill the church.

Services in the Universalist church at West Wrentham will be held next Sunday at 4 o'clock. Rev. Dr. Hodge will preach. Last Sunday a valuable picture was presented to the society and Rev. Mr. Selleck made remarks appropriate to the presentation. The picture now hangs in the church back of the pulpit.

Next Monday evening at 8 o'clock, in the church vestry, the Methodist people will tender a silver reception to their pastor, Rev. S. A. Cook. This will be in the nature of a "God speed" on the eve of his departure for Europe. A pleasant time is assured and friends of other denominations are cordially invited to unite.

The baccalaureate sermon to the senior class of the Horace Mann High school will be delivered by the Rev. E. L. Atkinson, of Boston, Sunday, June 24, at 7.45 p. m., in the Congregational church. Mr. Atkinson is well known for his practical work among the poor in the city, and an inspiring address may be counted upon.

Last Friday evening the selectman had an interesting discussion over a layout and plan, lately dug from the musty records, of that part of Central street from Summer street to Cross street. The layout gives 44 feet at the upper end and 48 1 2 on the lower portion and was made by the county commissioners fifty-eight years ago.

St. Mary's alumni tendered the graduating class of 1900 a reception at the convent Wednesday evening, when a pleasing literary and musical programme was rendered by members of the alumni and graduating class. Refreshments were served and at the close each graduate received a handsome gift from Sister Angela, their teacher.

Postmaster Talbot can now get your registered letter back, if you like. Under the old registered letter law after the letter passed out of the office where it was registered it could not be recalled without the consent of the one to whom it was addressed. Henceforth registered letters can be recalled at any time before they pass into the hands of the addressee.

There will be a free distribution of tickets for the graduating exercises of the Horace Mann High school, Thursday, June 28, at 7.30, from the south porch of the Horace Mann. Tickets will also be mailed to those requesting, if return stamp is enclosed. The graduating exercises will begin promptly at 8 o'clock Friday, June 29. Seats cannot be reserved after 8.15.

A barrel of cement fell on the right leg of George H. Usher, engineer at Singleton's mill, Wednesday afternoon, while he was assisting in unloading the barrel from Hosie Bros.' wagon. The bones were broken above the knee and Drs. G. A. Martin and Charles Hussey were summoned to attend the injured man. Later he was conveyed to his home in South Franklin.

Capt. J. B. Crocker arrived in town yesterday from Galveston, Texas, from which place he brought a cargo of lumber in the four-masted schooner, Charles L. Davenport. His vessel is now unloading in Philadelphia. He left Baltimore, Md., the latter part of March, with a cargo of coal, for Galveston. He will remain here until the first part of July, when he makes another trip to Texas.

Foreman Kenney of Boston, who has been at work on the new barn now being erected for Mrs. W. F. Ray, fell from the top of the structure, a distance of 30 feet, onto a pile of debris below, while at work on Tuesday. He was hurt about the right shoulder and chest and was injured internally. He was able to walk to his boarding house and later took a train for Boston, where he received medical treatment.

The Massachusetts Forestry association discourages the cutting of shrubs and plants along country roadsides. The country farmer not infrequently feels that it looks more thrifty to keep all such cut down, but the stubby, stumpy aspect that remains after mowing is not very beautiful. We all know how pleasant in country roads is the growth on either side, and the Forestry association advises that where practicable it be let alone.

John Ewen, formerly employed here at Singleton's mill as loom fixer, and who left in March, 1899, to accept a more lucrative place at Waco, Texas, later leaving there to fill a position with the Southwark Woolen Co., Philadelphia, made a brief visit with friends here yesterday, accompanied by Mrs. Ewen. They left in the afternoon for Eastport, Me., the former home of his wife, where they will spend a two weeks' vacation, returning to their home in Philadelphia next month.

Almon Sanborn attended on Tuesday the funeral of his brother in-law, N. W. Sanborn, at the home on Grace street, Malden. The first service was conducted by Rev. H. H. French of the First Congregational church, the second the Knights Templars ritual, under the auspices of Olivet commandery of Lynn, of which the deceased was a life member. Mr. Sanborn said the Masonic ceremony was the most impressive he ever witnessed. Deceased was a 32d degree Mason.

It has been found necessary to limit the audience to the seating capacity of the Opera house at the High school graduations. Formerly, when no restrictions were imposed, so many were obliged to stand that their restlessness and noise seriously interfered with the program. Now, every opportunity is given to those who can appreciate the exercises to secure tickets in season. If no effort is made to secure tickets no right censure can be given if admission is denied.

Manager Enegren has secured for Saturday night the well-known Norfolk orchestra to furnish the music, and a large crowd is expected to be present to enjoy the cooling breezes, the music and dancing. He is also enlarging the seating capacity of his amphitheatre with new seats and other accommodations. Lake Pearl is having a splendid patronage this season, and a large delegation of clerks from Woonsocket have decided to take an outing there shortly. Over 2,000 were there from a number of churches in Boston last week Thursday.

Sheriff Fitzpatrick did a neat job yesterday. He was after a couple of young fellows who had stolen a hen near the crossing and raised a row there after being discovered. They were traced down near the M. M. Daniels farm by the sheriff, but he knew it would be useless to try and capture them single-handed. He got ahead of them and invited them to ride into town. All unsuspecting they accepted, and he took them to Cunningham's barn where he "collared" them. They were mad enough when they discovered how they had walked into the trap. Judge Doe sent them to Bridgewater as tramps.

The feast of Corpus Christi, which occurred last week Thursday, was observed at St. Mary's chapel Sunday afternoon, when after benediction there was a procession of the different church societies and children, with Rev. Father Lee bearing the Blessed Sacrament. The march was from the chapel to the summer house on the church grounds, where was a second benediction. The procession then marched to the rectory, and from thence returned to the chapel, there being a benediction in each. There was a large attendance of parishioners and the services were solemn and impressive.

Everything looks favorable for the opening of the Franklin-Medway line by next Wednesday. The 60-foot and girder rails necessary to complete the line are now on the ground and the work of construction is being hurried. It is possible that a car may be run over the route next Monday. The tracks are laid up near the Crescent House and the wiring men are not far behind. Contractor Gore is doing a fine job, clearing up his work as he goes along, and not a "kick" coming from any one. The main highway to Medway is said to be in even better condition than before the track was laid, which speaks well for the intentions of the company.

An exhibition of the merits of "The Monarch" fire extinguisher was made in Central square by the traveling agent, L. B. Scott, on Wednesday evening, attracting a large crowd of interested spectators. He fired a large box 12 feet high, 5 1-2 feet wide and 3 feet deep, after having smeared it liberally with tar, kerosene and other inflammable substances. When it was well afire, he threw into the bottom of the box about one-third of a tube of dry powder, and the entire fire was out in two seconds. In fact, it was over disappointingly quick. Many of the fire department were present, including Chief McKinnon and Engineers Kelley and Cunningham, and they were very enthusiastic over the work of the extinguisher. A local agent has been selected, who will attend to sales here.

Principal A. W. Peirce of Dean presided at the annual banquet of the Tufts college alumni association, held at Young's hotel in Boston on Monday evening. The large dining room of the hotel was filled to its utmost capacity, 149 loyal alumni representing 41 of the 43 classes that have been graduated from the college. After the tables were cleared Toastmaster A. W. Peirce, '84, in a few introductory remarks, mentioned the long forward strides which Tufts is now taking in the educational world, and announced that this was the largest and most representative gathering ever held by the Tufts graduates. It was a most gratifying affair throughout.

There was a good-sized audience in the Methodist church on Tuesday evening to enjoy Rev. Dr. Morris' lecture on "That Mysterious Man." The speaker soon showed that his subject referred to man himself, and related many of the wonderful things in regard to the human frame, the scientific explanation of seeing and hearing, etc. He also spoke of the marvelous achievements that man had brought about, and some of the things which the future held in store. He presented many of his thoughts in a striking way, and contributed many valuable nuggets of information to his listeners. He was eloquent at times, and showed a magnificent command of language and manner of expressing himself. The lecture was useful, entertaining and satisfactory.

The Children's day service at the Universalist church last Sunday was called by those present one of the prettiest services ever held here. A large audience was in attendance. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns, many roses being used in bouquets and designs. The service began with anthem, scripture lesson and prayer, this devotional service being followed by the baptismal service, administered by Dr. Hodge. Following this came the Sunday school concert, under the direction of Misses Mason and Tower. This showed careful preparation and was of great excellence, the young people acquitting themselves very creditably throughout. The collection was taken by six young misses of the school, and if appreciation shows itself in such offerings then on this occasion the committee and those taking part must feel that their efforts were a success.

The Wrentham Branch.

The Wrentham division of the electric road was formally opened yesterday, cars now making trips every half hour. The first trip over the track was made on Wednesday afternoon, having on board a number of the officials of the road, and of the town, among them being the following: President George W. Wiggin, Treasurer E. K. Ray, Directors J. F. Ray and A. D. Thayer, Contractor W. H. Tylee, Superintendent H. M. Young, Judge O. T. Doe, Overseer of the Poor George E. Emerson, Assessor J. O. Chilson, ex-Selectmen W. M. Fisher and Hiram Whiting, School Committeeman W. A. Wyckoff, Charles J. McKenzie, Herbert W. Thayer, ex Postmaster M. F. Conroy, Sheriff J. B. Fitzpatrick, Cashier F. H. Bartholomew, Editor C. B. Johnson, Express Agent H. M. Grant, Insurance Agent P. A. Woodward, Druggist A. C. Mason, George Baker, P. Reynolds and others.

When the car arrived in Wrentham it was greeted by a large proportion of the inhabitants, who welcomed the innovation with every expression of pleasure and many snap shots of the car and its occupants were taken. A number of the prominent Wrenthamites were taken aboard, Selectmen C. W. Pond and Wm. T. Maintien, ex Representative Daniel Brown, Rev. W. J. Minchin and many others, filling the car to its utmost capacity. The run was made to the Plainville track, and was greeted along the entire route by the waving of hands and handkerchiefs on the part of the residents. The historic elm, over which so much talk had been made, was viewed with interest, and it was generally considered that the wisest course had been pursued in regard to it. The car was then run back through Wrentham to Lake Pearl, where a short stop was made, and then back to Franklin. Everyone aboard the car was pleased with the trip, and the Wrentham people were manifestly delighted with the prospect of quick and speedy transportation between their town and Franklin, the general expression being that most of the trading would be done with Franklin merchants.

Emerson's Market.

New peas asparagus, string beans, tomatoes, spinach, 15c peck; radishes, lettuce, rhubarb, cucumbers, Bermuda onions cabbages, 3 cts a pound; new beets and turnips, new potatoes. Boiled ham 25 cts a pound. Try our Imperial cheese. Fresh killed fowls, lamb, veal, pork. Get your native strawberries here. Fresh cream.

Dr. Eudora M. Faxon of Boston will meet patients for eye, ear, nose and throat work at the residence of J. W. Faxon, on Pleasant street, Friday, June 22, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Pull up your carpets and buy new, Sanford's stock will surely suit you.
Sanford Bros., Medway.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

St. Mary's Graduating Exercises.

The seventh annual graduating exercises of St. Mary's school were held in the Opera house last evening before a large audience, and as in previous years were deeply interesting, the pupils showing by their work that the Sisters' efforts in the mind-training of their charges to a high standard of excellence were crowned with the same gratifying success that has been attained in the past. From the first grade to the ninth the pupils in each acquitted themselves most creditably, the little drama, "Miriam," and operetta, "Grandma's Picnic," affording ample opportunity to all the scholars, both large and small, to display their talents. The Sisters are deserving of much praise for their painstaking and successful labors as reflected in the proficiency of all the pupils taking part in the exercises last evening, and have reason to feel proud of the splendid showing made.

The graduates were: Miss Emma L. Cody, Miss Rose M. Walsh, Miss Anna T. McGroary, Francis E. Walsh, Miss Adele M. Waldemeyer, Cornelius J. McGroary, Miss Kathleen A. O'Donnell, Henry J. Kelley, Henry J. Feeley and Miss Winifred J. Sullivan. The salutatorian was Francis E. Walsh and the valedictorian Miss Adele M. Waldemeyer, both of whom delivered their essays in good voice, with apt gesticulation and without embarrassment.

The order of exercises was as follows:

Entrance March……Selected
Miss D. G. Griffin.
Opening Chorus……White
Senior and Intermediate Classes.
Salutatory……Master Francis E. Walsh
"The Invitation"……Minims
"My First Attempt"……Master Alfred Gunning Drama—"MIRIAM."
Ibraham, a Pharisee,……Master Henry J. Feeley
Saloma, his wife……Miss May E. Fiorani
Miriam, his daughter……Miss Rose M. Walsh
Orpha, his daughter……Miss Kathleen A. O'Donnell
Europa……Miss Emma L. Cody
Tyrah……Miss Sarah M. Costello
Attendants……Misses Anna Kennedy, Anna Brogan
Angels……Misses Velleda LeClaire, Elizabeth Pariseau, Marguerite Cross, Grace Keefe, M. Keefe and Helen Sullivan.
Scene I.—Apartment in Ibraham's house.
Recitation—"The Bells of Shandon"—
Miss Margaret E. Coughlan
Scene II.—Apartment in Ibraham's house.
"Twelve Little Sleepy Heads"—Song and Drill……Babies
Scene III.—Garden of Ibraham's house.
Patriotic Song and Recitation—"To Old Glory."
Masters Willie E. Murphy, Arthur R. Geany, William Feeley and Henry McCabe.
Operetta—GRANDMA'S PICNIC.
(Fifty little boys and girls.)
Grandma……Miss Alice Query
The Queen……Miss Ethel Geaney
The Little Bird……Miss Lillian Sullivan
Two Stars……Misses Nellie Malkemus, Eva Snow
Gypsy……Miss Lillian Cross
"Rockaby, Baby"……Miss Mary Cody
"Boys"……Master Louis Fiorani
"Our Song"……Miss Nellie Bourbeau
Robin Red Breast……Miss Ella Howard
Nightingale……Miss Margaret Williams
Dolly……Miss Bessie Walsh
Lark……Miss Mary Howard
A Satisfied Little One……Miss Maud Granger
Vocal Quartette—"The Professor at Home."
Misses Catherine F. Croston, Annie T. McGroary, Masters Henry J. Feeley and Cornelius J. McGroary.
Valedictory……Miss Adele M. Waldemeyer
"Parting Whispers"……Graduates
Address……Rev. M. J. Lee

Premiums were awarded as follows:

A gold medal and diploma to each of the ten graduates.

Gold medal for Christian doctrine to Arthur R. Geany, eighth grade.

Class premiums for general excellence during the year to Joseph Rogers, eighth grade; Elizabeth Pariseau, seventh grade; Gertrude Neelon, sixth grade; Ella Howard, fifth grade; Mary Peiri, Bessie Walsh, fourth grade; Catherine Shaughnessy, third grade; Marguerite Cross, Joseph Cataldo, second grade; Mary Gilooley, first grade.

Premiums for regular attendance were awarded to Rose Walsh, Emma Cody, Anna McGroary, Francis Walsh, Henry Kelley, Anna Kennedy, Willie Murphy, John McGroary, Arthur Geany, Willie Shaughnessy, Elizabeth Pariseau, Eva Cody, Anna Brogan, Gertrude Neelon, Fred Shaughnessy, Mary Howard, Ella Howard, Mary Lavalley, John Brogan, Bessie Walsh, John Conroy.

Gold medals were donated by Rev. L. Lowney, Rev. William Reardon, Rev. J. I. Lane, Rev. James Meehan, Rev. M. J. Kelleher, Rev. M. J. Lee, Rev. M. J. Sullivan and St. Mary's alumni.

After the awarding of premiums Rev. Father Lee delivered an address, complimenting the Sisters for their faithful and efficient labors as teachers, and congratulating the graduates upon the the high averages attained in all their studies and also upon their splendid deportment. He referred to the necessity of a religious and moral training for the child, and pointed with pride to the success of St. Mary's school in intellectual and moral tuition since its establishment seven years ago.

Richardson's Market.

We are now getting native strawberries, the best to be had. All the choice spring vegetables, such as new peas, string beans, tomatoes, radishes, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, beets and turnips fresh from the market gardens. As usual we have the best cuts of meats, veal, lamb, etc., and choice fowls. Try a can of our 10 cent soups as a first course for Sunday dinner, all kinds.

The Utmost Enthusiasm.

Everywhere in town among Republicans there is the greatest satisfaction expressed at the selection of McKinley and Roosevelt to lead the forces to victory next November. There is no question but that the latter will strengthen the ticket, as his popularity is simply remarkable in the west, which section practically demanded his nomination.

To those who feel that the president has been more or less controlled by outside influences the name of Roosevelt will inspire confidence, as it is felt that with him as vice president the office will no longer be a grave in which to bury ambitious politicians, for "Teddy" will surely be heard from, and he will receive the recognition due the office and originally given it. Any man who today is vice president and tomorrow may be president should be wholly in the counsels of the chief ruler, and should be a wise counsellor as well, so that he could pick up the reins of government just where they may happen to be laid down.

McKinley has been tried and the Republicans of the country have unanimously said in convention that he has "not been found wanting." If elected, as is confidently expected, he will not have a third-term idea affecting his actions and can give the country as nearly a non partisan government as is possible to give.

It is safe to say that Roosevelt will remain prominently in the public eye for the next four years, as his nature will not permit him to do otherwise, and the training in statesmanship which he will receive will largely fit him to receive the higher office four years hence. That he is to leave New York state is regretted by all, as it seemed as if he were leaving a great work undone, and one which could be done by no other than he, but it would have been political suicide and downright stupidity for him to have denied the country the demand it was making of him.

His career has been a remarkable one. Four years ago he was practically unnoticed, and was asking for the routine work of an assistant secretaryship; today the entire country insists that he shall take the second highest office in their gift, and holds out to him the alluring promise that he shall be called up higher, all of which proves that a young man who has the "stuff" in him is bound to rise.

For the moment he is occupying a more prominent place before the country than McKinley. He stands as its leading man, though he has not as yet established himself conspicuously as a leader. That remains to be done, to show the metal that is in him, and to prove to the country that its confidence has not been misplaced. Popular idols have fallen before, and the public is notoriously fickle, but it recognizes sterling honesty, sincerity of purpose and sound common sense. That he is honest he has proven; that he is level headed and sagacious rests with him to prove. This is the opportunity of a lifetime, and to him has come a chance among a million. His star is in the ascendancy, and his future rests with himself alone.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one 11tf

To Rent—A pleasant summer room, furnished, at Mrs. L. A. Harris', West street. 15

Tenement of six rooms over Batchelor's paper store. Inquire of H. E. Batchelor. 22tw

Three good horses for sale cheap. Weight 1100 to 1300. Edward S. Cook, Central street, 22,29

To Rent.—5 room tenement, Central square. Inquire E. B. Sherman, Emerson's market. 5tf

Three hundred cords of pine trash wood for sale. Edward S. Cook, Central street, Box 212. 15,22,29

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. Allen.

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18 tf

Get your round-trip Boston, Providence and Milford tickets of Charles H. Prince at the SENTINEL office.

Wanted — Loan $150, four months, 3 per cent. a month interest and firstclass security. "W," SENTINEL Office.

W. Elkerton opened a first class bakery today in the store formerly kept by E. Lovell Metcalf. Give him a call. 22

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

Cut flowers, wedding bouquets, flowers for graduation, all kinds of funeral designs made up at Slade's green house at short notice. P. O. Box 179.

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table firstclass. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent

At Archers pond a five-room cottage with sleeping accommodations for nine persons, two boats, etc., for the months of July and August, at $30 per month. Address C. W. Pond, Wrentham, for particulars.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 50	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word; no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

FRIDAY, JUNE 22, 1900

The Sandstone Brick Industry.

Burned clay bricks, like natural stone, have served as building material from the beginning of history among nearly all races. Recently a formidable rival has sprung up in the sandstone brick. This brick is the product of quartziferous sand with which a proportionately small amount of lime is mixed, the whole mass being subjected to a high pressure of steam. The result is an extremely hard, water tight product impervious to frost or weather and unaffected by all acids. Like every new industry, sandstone brick making has had many technical difficulties to overcome, the principal one being caused by changes in the weather. In cold, wet weather much poorer results have been obtained than in warm, fine weather.

Chemists and experts have tried to find a way by which a uniform degree of durability would be insured, but thus far with indifferent success.

The American consul at Leipsic, Bernard H. Walker, Jr., reports that a Zurich chemist, Wilhelm Schwarz, has invented a process by which good results can be obtained under all circumstances. Mr. Walker says: "Mr. Schwarz found that it was necessary to give the mixture an exact quantity of moisture as well as to prepare and mix it at a certain temperature so that the combination of the silicic acid in the sand and lime should begin to take place before the mixture is pressed into brick forms. In this way all deleterious aeration of the lime is avoided during the manufacturing process. Mr. Schwarz has invented a process by which the amount of moisture can be regulated—namely, mixing dry sand with lime in a vacuum, so that any aeration of the lime by the carbonic acid of the atmosphere is impossible. At the same time the temperature is raised to and kept at a certain degree by steam heat, and then a certain quantity of moisture in the form of steam is admitted. By this means the preparatory process is safely finished, the action of the steam causing the condensation of the silicic acid in the sand and lime and so giving the proper proportion of cementing particles to the mixture."

If Mr. Schwarz's process shall prove all that is claimed for it, there will begin a new era in the limestone brick industry that will be of great importance to all countries, particularly in regions where there is neither clay nor stone, but where there is plenty of sand.

Pro-Boers and anti-Boers find much to commend in the pluck and determination of the 350 Afrikander women who, as reported in a dispatch from Pretoria, asked the government for arms and ammunition and offered themselves as a guard for the Transvaal capital. They suggested that they be allowed to do the work of the men officials at home, who, they protested, "ought to be fighting at the front." Whether the Boer cause be right or wrong—that is a matter about which a good many people seem to honestly differ—these women possess the courage of their convictions and prove that they have in them the making of heroines of the most resolute type. Indeed the Boer women all through this struggle have proved themselves scarcely less courageous than their fathers, husbands and sons. They are worthy to be the mothers and daughters of the sturdy and heroic race of men who are fighting at tremendous odds to retain the political and religious rights and privileges for which their fathers trekked to the remote mountains and veldts of South Africa.

During their southern trip Mrs. Dewey would not permit the gallant admiral to kiss young ladies over 16 years of age, but she was unable to conceal her surprise at the great number of candidates who were hovering around the 15 mark.

HAIR HELP

So many persons have hair that is stubborn and dull. It won't grow. What's the reason? Hair needs help just as anything else does at times. The roots require feeding. When hair stops growing it loses its luster. It looks dead.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

acts almost instantly on such hair. It awakens new life in the hair bulbs. The effect is astonishing. Your hair grows, becomes thicker, and all dandruff is removed.

And the original color of early life is restored to faded or gray hair. This is always the case.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and am really astonished at the good it has done in keeping my hair from coming out. It is the best tonic I have tried, and I shall continue to recommend it to my friends."

MATTIE HOLT,
Sept. 24, 1898. Burlington, N. C.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Hair Vigor, write the Doctor about it.
DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

His Faith Rewarded.

George had wanted a bicycle for a long time. Last year his birthday was embittered by the fact that he did not get the much-coveted wheel, and so he awaited the day this time with much anxiety. During the week before he regularly and earnestly resorted to prayer that he might have his desire granted. His parents really feared for his faith should he be disappointed. Therefore on the morning of his birthday he found awaiting him by his bedside a beautiful new wheel. "Well," he called out cheerfully, "I thought the Lord wouldn't have the nerve to refuse me this time."—Current Literature.

Apparent Difference.

Johnny—Pa, some of the curious people round here they call "odd" and some of the others "eccentric." What's the difference?

Pa—When a man is said to be eccentric he usually has more or less money. When he is poor a man is simply odd.—Boston Transcript.

Municipal Jealousies.

New Yorker—You are a stranger here, I presume?

Chicago Man (haughtily)—I am from the great city that New York is jealous of.

New Yorker—Ah! And how are things in dear old Lunnon!—N. Y. Weekly.

Heap o' Difference.

Mrs. Jorks (reading the evening paper)—I see that Mrs. Moaner's jewel case has been stolen. I wonder how much it would be worth?

Mr. Jorks—That depends, dear, whether it is Mrs. Moaner the actress or Mrs. Moaner the banker's wife.—Ally Sloper.

Litterateur's Confession.

"To grow long hair I'm tryin',
And the reason must be plain:
To become a social lion
One of course must have a mane."
—Washington Star.

"Hunger is the Best Sauce."

Yet some people are never hungry. Whatever they eat has to be "forced down." There is, of course, something wrong with these people. By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a short time they are given an appetite and then they enjoy eating and food nourishes them. If you find your appetite failing, just try a bottle of Hood's. It is a true stomach tonic and every dose does good.

The best family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

He Don't Believe It.

Mary—Teacher says history repeats itself.

Tommy—Well, I guess it don't. And a feller's got to do some purty hard scrappin' to be able to repeat it himself.—N. Y. Truth.

GOSHEN, ILL.
Genessee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your Grain O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Mocha and Java in our family, but I am free to say I like the Grain O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

Respectfully yours,
A. C. JACKSON, M. D.

Jell-O, the New Dessert, pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

The measure of manhood and womanhood is the compass and purity and splendor of one's desires.—Rev. David N. Beach, Congregationalist, Denver.

Self Mastery by Prayer.

The man of prayer is master of himself and of his resources and can summon the Great God to his support.—Rev. Dr. Lee, Baptist, Cincinnati.

Purity and Goodness.

Purity and goodness alone can master the ills of the flesh, for "to be spiritually minded is life and peace."—Rev. F. E. Mason, Spiritualist, Brooklyn.

Thinking and Character.

Our thinking determines our character. If you wish to be a true, manly man, you must think on manly subjects.—Rev. Dr. Landrum, Baptist, Atlanta.

Enlightenment For Our Souls.

We should enlighten our souls through the revelations which God has given us in his word, in his Son and in his providence.—Rev. D. C. MacLeod, Presbyterian, Washington.

Confession.

Contrition or sorrow for sin is the essential life of this sacrament. Without true abiding sorrow for sins committed confession would be a form.—Rev. F. H. Gavisk, Catholic, Indianapolis.

God's Order In Our Lives.

You cannot make and fix the bounds of life according to order except according to God's order, which is an order of spirit and principle.—Rev. Nathan Hugh Lee, Methodist, Denver.

Personal Influence.

Our influence in this world depends for its value for good or evil on our faith in Christ as it is illustrated in our thought, word and deed as we live before God and man.—Rev. R. F. Eakes Atlanta.

An Ideal That May Be Realized.

The man who purposes great wealth may miss it, or great distinction may fail of it, but the man who purposes to follow Christ here and hereafter may realize his ideal if he will.—Dr. Vosburgh, Baptist, Denver.

Love to God.

Love to God and love to men, daily and everywhere. Such a life will take us to the house of God, there to acknowledge our repeated failures, to seek forgiveness, to ask for help, but the life of service will be lived out among men.—Rev. Edmund Duckworth, Episcopal, St. Louis.

Putting on Christ.

Let us love humility and lowliness; let us burn away our sins with scalding tears of repentance; let us keep our hearts for him alone; let us put on Christ; then when the shadows of this world shall have passed we will see him face to face for eternity.—Rev James T. Coffey, Catholic, St. Louis.

Life's Principle.

Love is the energizing principle of life. God is love, and since man was made in God's image he, too, should exercise love. This is the highest thing man can do, to love. Jesus did not manifest his love by infatuation, but by pity, sympathy and mercy. Love is the life principle.—Mrs. Matilda Fletcher, at the Tabernacle, Denver.

Christ Victorious.

The spiritual baptism of the Son of God was one of heaven's mysteries. The temptation likewise is a mystery. How could Jesus be tempted? And yet in his temptation our Lord, for himself and for every disciple, stands as the victorious Son of God, "tempted in all points like as we are."—Dr. Michael Burnham, Congregationalist, St. Louis.

Salvation.

Salvation means being saved, and it ought to mean saved from sin, not saved from punishment. It ought to mean the good life and not forgiveness for having lived a bad life. There ought not to be any idea akin to magic in our conception of salvation, that God in a supernatural way washes our nature clean from all stain of guilt and magically frees us from evil desire.—Rev. David Utter, Unitarian, Denver.

Power of God's Life in the World.

If you drop a live seed into a bit of mud, if it is a live seed, it will take that mud and build it over into blossom and fragrance with perfect facility. Now, if a bit of vegetable life can do that how is it possible that we are ever such infidels as to imagine that the very life of God planted in the world cannot tackle a little moral mud and convert it into beauty and perfume just as fast as it is the pleasure of his infinite and generous purpose to have it done?—Rev. Dr. Parkhurst, Presbyterian, New York.

Church Popularizing.

The desire to popularize the church is not unrighteous. It is sometimes born of personal ambition of leaders who seek to use her popularity in the attainment of selfish ends, but it is a recognized principle that the success of an enterprise whose end is to uplift the fallen, lighten life's burden and exalt character is measured by its ability to gain and hold the favor of the people who are to be reached, and out of this fact grows the general desire to popularize the church.—Rev. E. M. Smith, Christian Church, Centralia, Mo.

The World's Greatest Book.

The Bible is the greatest book the world has ever known, and I accept it from cover to cover. In the canons of rhetoric and literature it is acknowledged to be without an equal. Science corroborates it, civilization has been possible only by its teachings and its laws of ethics in jurisprudence the world over are taken as the standard, and finally, its great scheme of the world's redemption as outlined in the New Testament stamps it as divine. In my scientific investigation I have never for a moment doubted its great truths and its historic narratives. Tie to it, young man, for in it ye have the chart that shall make you a better man and citizen.—Rev. Camden M. Coborn, at Y. M. C. A. Hall, Denver.

THE CENSOR.

That "they do these things better in France" does not apply to the fatal accident on the fair grounds.—New York World.

Falling into the sea is the latest advertising actress' scheme. Falling off the earth has not yet been tried.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Baseball is good while it lasts. It keeps a boy from smoking cigarettes while he wears the cage over his countenance.—New Orleans Picayune.

The new kissing bug is much larger than the one reported last year, but it is not making anything like as big a sensation.—Philadelphia Ledger.

It is an unfortunate fact that the use of corn for feeding animals is one of the obstacles against its popularization as a food for human beings.—Chicago Record.

If Alaska is ever to have a permanent population, one that will regard the country as a home, the Finns are just the people to start it.—Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

Eddie Reed, a boy preacher of Paris, Ills., has induced several of his fellow townsmen to sign pledges to refrain from the wicked game of draw poker. Little Eddie probably struck a bunch of losers.—Buffalo Express.

"Incircumscriptibleness" is not the longest word in the English language. "Nonintercommunicability" is a longer one, which may appear in the new Oxford dictionary. It will be a great boon to space writers.—Boston Globe.

Yes, human nature is very discouraging. It is hard sometimes to make the punishment fit the crime, but it would seem that the whipping post and wife beating are exactly suited to each other. The experiment is worth trying.—New York Herald.

LITTLE "BOBS."

Lord Roberts' military "net" is one that lets the big fishes escape as easily as the little ones.—New York World.

Even if Lord Roberts has not conquered the Boers he seems to have got the better of the war critics.—Syracuse Post-Standard.

It was well enough for Lord Roberts to call Africa the graveyard of military reputations, but it is scarcely fair for him to become a wholesale military undertaker.—New York Journal.

Lord Roberts' aim sooner or later must be to bring the Boers to face him in a pitched battle. Until he destroys or thoroughly cripples the military power of the federals his job is not ended.—Brooklyn Citizen.

THE ART OF WAR.

"Sniping" is firing by sharpshooters wherever they see an enemy's head or limb.

Troops on outpost duty do not salute their superiors or notice them unless addressed.

There are over 20 rope knots used in military engineering, in addition to which for pontooning and spar bridging there are several different forms of lashing and bracing.

Wide pontoon bridges are steadier than narrow ones. The boats for such structures should not be immersed deeper than within a foot of the top and are placed stem on to the current.

ALUMINIUM.

Music is being printed in one-half the time on aluminium plates as against stones.

A new fashion is coming in of coating stoves with aluminium. The material is practically indestructible.

Dr. Much of Berlin has made a new alloy of magnesium and aluminium, producing a compound like brass, white as silver, which can be turned and bored.

Aluminium, which had no commercial existence a few years ago, was produced in the United States last year to the extent of 5,200,000 pounds, valued at $1,750,000, which is one-tenth of the cost of ten years ago.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Instead of rickety tables for china and bric-a-brac a house decorator advises a narrow shelf across one side of the room upon which to stand jugs and teapots.

The best cure for the disgusting cockroach is to purchase a poison phosphorous paste and spread it on bread. This kills them in a few minutes. They go away to die.

To take the letters and coloring off new flour sacks, put them into the boiling suds after the white clothes are taken out. Let them stand 20 minutes or half an hour; then with very little rubbing they will come out white.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION
GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.
Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

mar17-1yr

"A Miss is As Good as a Mile."

If you are not entirely well, you are ill. Illness does not mean death's door. It is a sense of weariness, a "tired feeling," a life filled with nameless pains and suffering. In 90% of cases the blood is to blame. Hood's Sarsaparilla is Nature's corrective for disorders of the blood. Remember

Hood's Sarsaparilla Never Disappoints

True, But Awful.

First Newspaper Reader (in smoking compartment)—I hear they have nearly reached those poor miners who were entombed by that explosion.

Second Newspaper Reader—Yes, they have ha'pennytrated the wall of rock.

Third Newspaper Reader—You mean penetrated.

Second Newspaper Reader—No, I don't. They're only half way through.—Ally Sloper.

Those Loving Girls.

Maude—Mr. Willing asked me to accompany him to the opera to-morrow evening.

Clara—And you accepted the invitation?

Maude—Certainly.

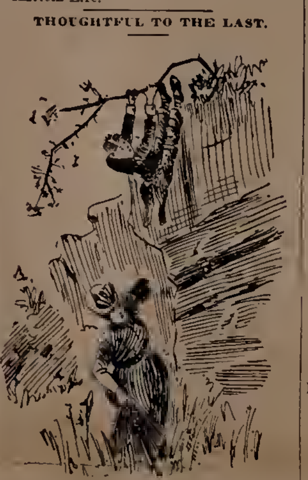
Clara—Strange. He asked me also.

Maude—There's nothing strange about it at all. I told him I wouldn't go without he provided a chaperon.—Chicago Daily News.

Then and Now.

They met; she was a maiden fair and he a faultless swell,
'Twas on the broad plazza of a watering place hotel;
And now that chilly autumn's here, they meet in town once more—
'Tis at the ribbon counter of a Broadway dry goods store.
—Harlem Life.

THOUGHTFUL TO THE LAST.



He—Oh, Mary! I can't hold on any longer.

She—Then wait till I get out of the way. No use losing a husband and a new hat at the same time.—Harlem Life.

Pernicious Inquisitiveness.

"What is a professional, pop?"

"A professional, my son, is one who indulges in a sport where money figures."

"When you go fishing and buy your fish, that doesn't make you a professional, does it?"—Yonkers Statesman.

Impossible.

Patrioticus—There will never be a name like Dewey in French history.

Quibleigh—Oh, I don't know. There might be.

Patrioticus—Never. There is no "w" in French anyway.—N. Y. Journal.

A Juvenile Philanthropist.

Mother—No, Tommy, you mustn't have any more turkey. I'm afraid it might make you sick.

Tommy—Well, if folks didn't get sick the doctors couldn't have any Thanksgiving.—Judge.

With All Improvements.

First Tramp—I hear they are building a new jail, with all modern improvements.

Second Tramp—That won't do us no good. You'll need a pull to get in there.—Fliegende Blaetter.

The Worm Turns.

Mrs. Peck—I wouldn't act like an idiot if I were you, Henry.

Mr. Peck—No, of course you wouldn't, dear, but as you are not me you might at least try to act a little less idiotic.—Chicago Daily News.

Marked Zero.

Teacher—What does the word marsupial mean?

Tommy—Carrying a pouch.

Teacher—Give an example of a marsupial.

Tommy—A tobacco smoker.—Chicago Tribune.

Put to a New Use.

'Twas the first letter written on a typewriter that Rachel had ever received.

"Mamma, mamma!" exclaimed the little lady as the postman left, "I've got a letter that was written on the sewing machine."—Judge.

She Gave Him No Chance.

Bacon—Did you say you hadn't had a chance to speak to your wife about that matter we talked over, last week?

Egbert—That's what I said.

"Well, it seems very strange."

"Oh, no, it doesn't. You don't know my wife."—Yonkers Statesman.

Seeking Information.

"Oh, Mr. Van Dobbs!" exclaimed Mrs. Cumrox.

"What is it?" inquired the artist.

"Would you mind telling me whether this picture is impressionistic or whether it hasn't been finished."—Washington Star.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN SAVINGS BANK,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, CHAS. J. McKENZIE, Vice-Presidents.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.
D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, Chas. J. McKenzie, E. P. Chapman, Charles Stewart, George W. Wiggin.

STATEMENT MAY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors	$559,245 21
Guarantee Fund	27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account	6,268 89
Interest Account	8,831 98
Real Estate Income Account	184 23
Tax account	32 25
	$602,315 35

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		21,719 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		6,350 00
" " Mortgages		166,310 84
" " Personal Securities		164,870 80
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Bank Books		1,500 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		735 27
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$10,919 15
Nat. Bank of Redemption	9,018 65
Mercantile Trust Co	12,075 38
		32,013 18
Cash on hand		2,074 97
		$602,315 35

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

CHAS. J. McKENZIE,
Committee of Examination.

June 6, 1900.

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON).

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	10c
5 to 15 miles,	15c
15 to 25 "	20c
25 to 35 "	25c
35 to 45 "	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

News and Opinions OF National Importance.

THE SUN ALONE CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY, ...BOSTON.

Telephone 1839.

A FINE LINE OF Cotton Mill Oils.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

je22-4w

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

je8-4w

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.

Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

LONGING.

Tell me, ye rocks or heaven's arched skies,
Is there a place where friendship never dies,
Where to our hearts
No knowledge comes of piercing wrongs
Or sad tho'ts crowd in countless throngs
To deaden life's bright dream,
Where doubts dwell not nor fears
Molest our happiness?

Oh, answer back, ye hills, and say
There is a land where endless day
Claims one perpetual song,
Where friendship's flowers live for aye
And hope's refreshing stream
Flows constantly, with love's sail
Furled upon it!

No night ere comes to lead us where
The rocks lay hidden under
Or storms arise in friendship's skies
To tear our barks asunder.
Oh, may'st thou lead us quickly on
Ere tired we grow of waiting
Into that land of love and song
Where joys are unabating.

—A. T. H. in Philadelphia Bulletin.

Madge Marbury's Message

Summer Romance In a City.

"No, I'm tired of seaside romances, so I propose to stay here and see what sort of romance a summer in New York has to offer."

Sam Storrow jumped upon a north bound electric car as he spoke, leaving the man to whom he had announced his plans in a speculative mood.

"I'll bet," murmured Ralph Ralston, as he hailed the next south bound car, "that Storrow's had a row with Madge Marbury."

Since the date, just four years ago, when they had left Harvard, neither Sam Storrow nor Ralph Ralston had settled down to any serious occupation. They had devoted themselves to the somewhat indefinite pastime of "looking around."

It had been the kind of looking around usual with idle men of private means—moderate dissipation and lovemaking, or the pretense of lovemaking, with women who were as well off and as idle as themselves.

But it must be admitted of the two Storrow's life had been much the more innocent, and his affair with Miss Madge Marbury might have resulted in matrimony ere this were it not for the frequency of their petty quarrels, none of which might ever have occurred if they had not had so much idle time to quarrel in.

The excitement of these little tiffs had begun to pall upon him, and when the last one occurred he decided that he would stay in town when Madge went away. In fact, he was hard up for a new sensation.

The electric car whirled him rapidly up Madison avenue. He looked at the monotonous array of drawn shades in the house fronts—inevitable symptom of the summer season—and the thought came to him of the darkened, silent reception rooms so gay with beauty and fashion in winter time. But the butterflies had fled to shore and mountain, leaving Madison avenue to console itself until their return. Miss Madge Marbury had gone to Bar Harbor.

"Goodby, Mr. Storrow," she had said to him just before they parted. "I hope you'll find some romance in the city to compensate you for your self imposed and solitary martyrdom."

These words came back to him now, and the recollection made him feel more than ever resolved to find his romance during his summer in town. He would not have Madge Marbury chaff him on her return.

Ralph Ralston thoroughly disagreed with Sam Storrow as to the relative charms of city and seaside in summer. This was natural, for the two men had never agreed upon any question since the day they first met, and neither bore much love toward the other.

So a few days after the meeting with Storrow Ralston was in the vortex of Bar Harbor's gay life, troubling himself very little about romance and content with agreeable realities.

There was no more agreeable reality than his present proximity to Miss Madge Marbury on the veranda of a cottage that nestled picturesquely up among the pines.

They were enjoying the beauty of the cool Maine night. The intense blue of the heavens gave that suggestion of illimitable vastness which, though the suggestion may be always there, is only borne in on us under the spell of certain moods; the song of the pines kept time with the more distant music of the incoming tide, and the breeze came laden with a mingled fragrance of balsam and odor of ocean brine.

"Can you imagine, Miss Marbury, a more fantastic notion than his staying in town in search of romance when he might be here?"

Ralston had been expatiating upon the eccentricities of Sam Storrow.

"I don't know," she said. "We may find our romance in the most unexpected places."

"I rather imagine that Storrow somehow is not without some definite idea of where to find his romance."

She began to think. If that were so, why should he not find it near her? Her vanity was piqued, and Ralston, being a good tactician, tried to follow up his advantage.

"Of course, Miss Marbury, I am not in Sam Storrow's confidence."

But it takes a very wise man to head off the sudden turns of a feminine train of thought, and his words had just the opposite effect to that he had intended.

She said impulsively: "No; if you had his confidence, you would probably tell me more."

The next moment she regretted her impulsiveness, for it was no part of her policy openly to antagonize him until she had more fully made up her mind as to which of these men—

Well, the thing was to repair her mistake.

"You take me too seriously, Mr. Ralston. You know, women must not be interpreted too literally."

Ralston was far from being inclined to take the sex too seriously, but it was as well that women, for their own peace of mind, should think otherwise. He took his cue from her and answered, with another laugh:

"It would upset any one's seriousness to think of Sam Storrow installed over on the east side in a tenement and going to Tompkins square on band nights in search of the romance of the slums."

"Is that really true?"

"Yes; he has been seen there."

"By whom?" The words escaped her before she could obey an intuition to keep them back.

"You would not have me betray confidences?" he rejoined.

She began to think she had been unjust to him, and when he came and stood close to her she did not push her chair away, nor when he picked up her fan from the next chair, where she had thrown it, did she make any sign of disapproval, and so it was natural that he should presently occupy the chair the fan had vacated.

"After all," he reflected, "you can bring any of these women round if you only go the right way about it."

And, as for her, she had veered back to the old point of view—that as between the two men one had shown his devotion by his presence, whereas the other had found a superior attraction elsewhere.

"If I thought you could betray any confidence, Mr. Ralston," she said now in belated answer to his last query, "I should not want ever to see you again."

He knew what she meant well enough; for, like herself, he was thinking of how very near to victory he had been not longer ago than last night on this same veranda.

Somehow it seemed to have grown darker. The song of the pines swelled into a stronger chorus, and there was a deeper, more sullen, note in the distant booming of the surf.

They were standing together now on the edge of the veranda, and he had taken her hand without any protest on her part. He had drawn her gently and gradually around, so that she was half facing him now, and his other arm, which embraced the post of the piazza at her left, was ready to encircle her neck the moment his instinct should tell him it was safe to make the attempt.

"Miss Madge," he whispered into her very ear, "say that you believe me worthy of all your confidence."

It was the last ditch, and there was plainly a struggle going on within her, for in spite of the cool Maine night her blood coursed so fast that it was a race between her heart and pulse beats.

His purely animal instinct warned him that she was winning a victory this time over herself and over him, and as he tightened his hold upon her hand and let his hand drop from the piazza post across her shoulder she gave a sort of gasp, wrenched herself free from him and darted into the house through the open French window.

* * * * * * *

The band was playing in Tompkins square to the motley east side audience who had poured out from the reeking rooms of torrid tenements as well as from homes of comparative comfort. Decent poverty, squalid need, relative wealth, rubbed shoulders here upon a ground of common equality.

But in a remote corner of the square the electric light played with a rather weird effect upon the strangely determined face of a woman—a refined looking, high bred woman, clearly not in touch with her surroundings. Beside her sat Sam Storrow, his eyes upon the ground. But his companion was keenly alert, and presently, when she saw another woman approaching, she waited until she noticed Storrow give a surprised start of recognition, and then she arose and spoke to the newcomer.

"Miss Marbury," she said, "when I sent you that anonymous letter to Bar Harbor I believed I could reach your heart, although I had never seen you. I brought you here to open your eyes. A week ago Mr. Ralph Ralston, walking with me across the square, pointed out Mr. Storrow, whom I did not know. 'Storrow,' said he in his usual flippant way and as if it were the best joke in the world, 'is slumming for romance this summer in town. Get acquainted with him and show him the tender romance of the slums.' I am one of a university settlement party living among the east side tenements, and I got acquainted with Mr. Storrow and with his story from his own lips.

"Miss Marbury, to Ralph Ralston's propensity for fickle flirtation I owe my romance and its loss. Now it is my turn, and my resolve to spoil Ralph Ralston's romance is no stronger than my resolve that you shall benefit by my experience. Miss Marbury, I am not a man hater, but I still trust I shall never be less than a woman, and my revenge upon Ralston will be sweeter if I know that you have found your romance in one who is worthy of you."

She glanced at Storrow, who sat there dumfounded, while the incandescent globe, glowing with a fitful radiance, illumined the flush of triumph on one woman's face, on the other's the first dawning of the truth.—Chicago News.

You May Need

Pain-Killer

For ACCIDENTS
Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Wounds, &c., &c.

It gives instant relief and cures quickly.

In case of sudden illness
Cramps
Diarrhœa
Dysentery
and
All Bowel
Complaints

it is a sure, safe and quick remedy.

There's ONLY ONE

Pain-Killer

Perry Davis'.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)

ALL DRUGGISTS.

ju10 'y

Righting a Wrong.

Dobber (the artist)—I have called, Mr. Gotcash, to make a confession to which I am driven by the pangs of a gnawing conscience. I grossly deceived you in regard to that pastoral picture you purchased from me two months ago.

Old Gotcash—Did, hey? How, may I ask?

Dobber—Those blotches in the foreground of the painting—you spoke of them as gooseberry bushes. Mr. Gotcash, I—I cannot conceal the truth any longer. They are cows!—London Answers.

Germany is thinking of making an attempt to prohibit the entry of a large number of American prepared food products. Several reasons are given for the restriction, but the real one is that during the year 1899 we sent to Germany for sale over $155,000,000 worth of goods and bought from Germany only $84,000,000 worth.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

Solve the Servant Girl Question

by putting a Wickless Oil Stove in the kitchen. You can keep a girl then. No fire to build in the morning. No wood to chop. No coal to carry. No ashes to worry about. No soot on pans. It makes play of housework. The is doing more to make housekeeping easy than any other stove in existence. Absolutely safe. Burns ordinary kerosene oil. Bakes, broils, boils, roasts, toasts—does anything that any other stove will do, and many things that most stoves can't do. Sold wherever stoves are sold. If your dealer does not have it, write to

Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove

STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

Equalizing Matters.

"Waiter," said the bicyclist at the little country inn, "bring me three eggs and boil them four minutes."

Fifteen minutes elapse, and the waiter returns with one egg.

"Very sorry, sir, our eggs is out. This is the only one we have left—but we boiled it 12 minutes, sir."—Harper's Bazar.

Unconscious of Course.

He had come upon her dozing in a hammock, and when she woke up she accused him of stealing a kiss.

"Well," he said, "I will admit that the temptation was too strong to be resisted. I did steal one little kiss."

"One!" she exclaimed, indignantly. "I counted eight before I woke up."—Chicago Post.

Mortifying Error.

"I was much annoyed at a typographical error in your paper this morning, sir."

"I am very sorry, general. What was it?"

"I told your reporter I was an old plainsman. I am described in your paper this morning, sir, as an old, plain man."—Chicago Tribune.

A Stitch in Time.

Peggy—When I was down town today, I stopped in a lawyer's office, and inquired the price of a divorce.

Polly—What in the world did you want to know the price of a divorce for? You're not married!

"No; but I'm engaged."—Yonkers Statesman.

Impartiality.

His portrait 'midst the news you scan
This is the fame for which men fight.
From the next column glares the man
Who burglarized a bank last night.
—Washington Star.

Ode to a Pipe.

Pipe! Oh, rank and odorous pipe!
Thee will I smoke;
I'd rather have a good cigar—
But, alas! I'm broke.
—Chicago Daily News.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason's drug store.

Observed in Passing.

Newpop—I have noticed that babies always have very open countenances.

Oldpop—Yes; especially about midnight.—Brooklyn Life.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from rectal fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

What He Was After.

"I believe this is a through train?" said the road agent.

"It is," replied the conductor.

"Then I will proceed to go through it," announced the polite robber.—Philadelphia North American.

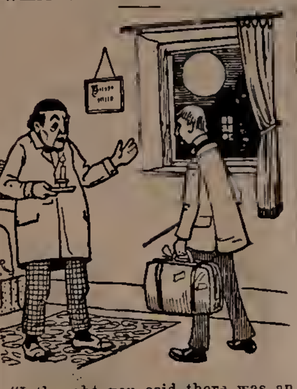
Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot Ease, a powder. It cures painful, smarting, swollen feet and ingrowing nails and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores; by mail for 25c. in stamps; trial package free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Perspiration that annoys may be greatly helped by the use of saleratus. The part affected rub with this ingredient after the skin has been wet. Leave on until after the bath. It can be applied when a bath is not to be taken.

Your best friend can give you no better advice than this "For impure blood, bad stomach and weak nerves take Hood's Sarsaparilla."

WHAT MORE COULD HE WANT!



"I thought you said there was an extensive view from my room?"

"Well, hang it, man! on clear nights you can see the moon—when there is one."—Ally Sloper.

Merely Preliminary.

"Well, Louise, where's your new hat?"

"I haven't any new hat."

"Why, you said you were going downtown to-day to get a new hat."

"Arthur, you never hear anything straight; I said I was going downtown to-day to look at new hats."—Chicago Daily Record.

Time He Was Buried.

"Please, sir," said the energetic office boy to the active member of the firm, "I wants ter get off this afternoon. Me grandfather's dead."

"Is that so, James? When did he die?"

"About five years ago, sir."

To Mothers In This Town.

Children who are delicate, feverish and cross will get immediate relief from Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children. They cleanse the stomach, act on the liver, making a sickly child strong and healthy. A certain cure for worms. Sold by all druggists, 25c; sample free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.

33-tf

J. A. GEB.

House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.

22-1y

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 49, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 58, f5 21, 6 19, f7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f1 01, 5 25, 6 14, f7 28, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; ¶ 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m; Return, 6 04, 8 10, ‡2 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m. S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

GEO. L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

..AND...

C.B. Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m
1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.

92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

Because in the case of moth it is the only remedy possible. Our Moth Balls and Camphorine will render furs and other articles of winter clothing absolutely secure against the ravages of these pests. Don't delay action where the emergency is immediate. Today, and not tomorrow, is the Moth Ball time, since mischief once done is irreparable.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.
DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

The funeral of the late Thomas Hopkins was held Wednesday morning at the Catholic church. The interment was at Franklin.——Elmer David Sawyer and Cora Adelaide Hawes were recently married by Rev. Henry M. King of Providence.——Frank Jordon and Miss S. Annie Naylor were married in Foxboro at 4 o'clock Wednesday by Rev. Fr. Broderick of St. Mary's church. A reception was held in the evening at the residence of the bride's parents.——The first car of the Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket railroad passed through the centre of the village from Franklin to Plainville on Wednesday afternoon. [See Franklin news.]——Mrs. Sally Rowells entertained the Kipling club Friday night.——Mr. and Mrs. Merriweather of Boston are at E. H. Dimond's.——Miss Agnes Plimpton, who has recently arrived from England, is visiting her uncle, F. N. Plimpton.——Mrs. Harriet Rand is in a feeble condition and gradually growing weaker.

CURTAIN RAISERS.

Ada Rehan has played 250 roles.

It is said that the "Belle of New York" has earned $200,000.

John Hare, E. S. Willard and Sarah Bernhardt will visit America next season.

The latest novel to be dramatized is "The S[illegible]nce of Dean Ma[illegible]l," which E. Lewis Scott has prepared for the stage.

Henry Irving's profits for his present tour of this [illegible] are [illegible] variously reckoned all the way from $25,000 to $100,000.

Holger Drachmann, the D[illegible] dramatist, poet and pa[illegible], [illegible] arrived in Chicago. He intends [illegible] the conditions of the laboring classes of America.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the [illegible] actress, is considering an [illegible] Liebler & Co. to make an American tour next season. Mrs. Campbell has never appeared in this country.

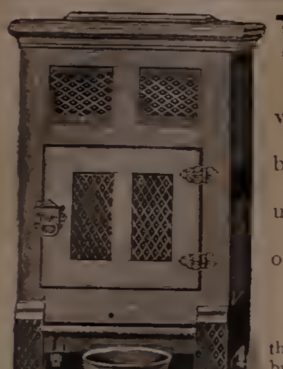
Florence Rockwell has been engaged to play the chief female part in "Mr. Van Bibber," a dramatization of Richard Harding Davis' stories, in which Robert Hilliard will appear next season.

Your Liver

Will be roused to its natural duties and your [illegible] and constipation be cured if you take

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. [illegible] cents.



THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND, with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain

Our Store is Light and Cool,

the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your house the hour you name.

SPECIAL REDUCTION SALE.

Ladies' Tailor-Made Suits.

LADIES' SUIT, sold for $8.50; sale price $5.75.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $9.00; sale price $5.75.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $9.50; sale price $6.98.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $10.00; sale price $7.50.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $10.00; sale price $7.98.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $15.00; sale price $8.75.
LADIES' SUIT SKIRT and JACKET, silk lined throughout; was $17.50, now $11.75.
LADIES' HEAVY WOOL BICYCLE and RAINY-DAY SKIRTS; were $2.00, this sale $1.49.

These are all this season's goods and in the latest style and fresh condition.

Marston Sanborn,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.
BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

HOW TO HURRY.

1. Do nothing that you don't have to do. Cut out the nonessentials.

2. Don't hesitate. Begin at once. When you are through, stop, and begin on the next thing.

3. Don't be too particular what part of the job you begin with. Other things being equal, do what's under your hand first and the next nearest thing next.

4. Don't pause between jobs.

5. Don't go from one job to another until the first is done. "Do one thing at a time." It takes time to change your mind.

6. Do your thinking while you're acting. And think about the work in hand.

7. If you have assistants, use them. At first do only what they can't do, and afterward help them out.

8. Do nothing twice. This makes it necessary to do it right the first time.

9. Don't lay down one tool except to take up another.

10. Beware of looking out the window. That way distraction lies.

11. Don't put things off. Do them when you think of them.

If you'll follow these rules and a few more that you can make yourself, you will be able to reduce your office hours about one-half; you won't think you're hurrying and you won't be bored and worn out by your work.—[illegible]

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. He says: "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone. After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female disease quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a Godsend to weak, sickly, run-down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. druggists.

Where Kissed.

Dollie—Was it a quiet spot where you kissed Mollie?

Chollie—No; it was on the mouth.—Chicago Journal.

A Metamorphosis.

Jack—Miss Ramsey is getting gray.

Dick—Now she will be blue.

Jack—O, no; now she will be blond.—Town Topics.

Stupid Brute.

She—That horrid cook of the Browns has got a hat just like mine.

He—I see no occasion for that to worry you. There is no danger of you being mistaken for one another. Your hair is not the same shade.—Indianapolis Journal.

Accounting for It.

Horrified Mistress—Verena, the guests are not eating their oyster pie. What is the matter with it?

New Cook—I dunno, mem. I put in half a cupful of sugar f'r every pint of eysters. Mebby that wasn't enough mem.—Chicago Tribune.

Valuables.

Mrs. Pelham—So your home burned down the other night! Did you succeed in saving anything?

Mrs. Harlem—Oh, yes, indeed! My husband dragged out a ton of coal before the cellar caught!—N. Y. Evening Journal.

Church Services.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D. D., pastor. Rev. E. W. Whitney of Milford will preach at 10.30. Y. P. C. U. at 6.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 3. Sunday school at 2. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Baptist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. S. L. Morse of Medfield. Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 by S. A. Cook, pastor; subject "Renewing Our Strength." Sunday school at 12. Junior league at 3.00. Epworth league at 6.30.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. I. W. Sneath, Ph. D. Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30. Baccalaureate sermon to High school graduating class, by Rev. E. L. Atkinson of Boston, at 7.45.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending June 20, 1900:

Ladies—S. Elizabeth Pollard, Mrs. David Miller, Mrs. Flora B. Jones, Mrs. S. H. Bratt.

Gentlemen—Frank C. Jones, Edgar Richardson, J. H. White, Cinaid Chiaruzzi, Guiseppe Dicamphsarito.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

At WOODWARD'S
every description of
INSURANCE
can be placed. This AGENCY
officially represents the
LEADING
American and Foreign
COMPANIES.
F. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass
my4-lyF

JUST THE WEATHER TO ENJOY A
HAMMOCK.
We have them for 75c. to $4.25.

Oil Stoves, 1, 2 and 3 burners, 50c., 98c. and $1.48.
Screen Doors and Window Screens.
Refrigerator Pans, Watering Pots.

W. E. Crowninshield
2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4mS

The Alphabet Advertiser

A for apricots, both dried and canned,
B for biscuits of all the best brands,
C for crackers and clams for chowder,
D for doughnuts and Dalmation powder,
E for extracts of Baker's best make,
F for fish that will make fine fish cakes,
G for groceries kept neat and in shape,
H for honey to eat on wheat cakes,
I for Indian corn meal and ink,
J for fruit juice for a summer drink,
K for Kennedy, whose goods we stand by,
L for lemons that make a nice pie,
M for mince meat, molasses and mace,
N for Nestle's, whose milk suits the taste,
O for onions, a sure cure for the croup
P for potatoes to eat in your soup,
Q for Quaker, those rolled oats so nice,
R for raisins for puddings and rice,
S for sugar, sand soap and saleratus,
T for tubs, tapioca and tomatoes,
U for undoubtedly the cheapest in town,
V for vinegar as sour as can be found,
W for witch hazel that makes one strong,
X for Xebec, a vessel it was used on,
Y for yeast that will raise bread best,
Z for zeal in which we stand the test.

C. L. FALES, Grocer.
no17-F

Franklin and Wrentham
STAGE LINE.

Leave Wrentham P.O. for Franklin at 8.15 a.m. 3.30 p.m. Leave Franklin depot for Wrentham at 9.30 a.m., 4.30 p.m., connecting with trains for Boston and Providence via N. Y. & N. E. railroad; trains leaving Boston at 7.40, 8.30 a.m. and 3.30 p.m., leaving Providence at 8.35 a.m.

☞ Orders may be left at Railroad Station.

N. B. WEBBER, Prop.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Cotton soaked in peppermint oil has been found to be effective in getting rid of mice.

Milk jugs should be rinsed out with cold water before being scalded in hot. If hot water is poured in first, the curd sets, and the surface cannot be so easily cleaned.

"Never, never, never," says Harper's Bazar, "buy a chair without sitting down in it and seeing whether it is or is not comfortable and suited to your requirements." Good advice too.

Lamp chimneys, if held over steam and quickly wiped out with a dry cloth which is quite free from lint, will be just as bright and shining as if laboriously washed with soap and water. Of course if smoked black they will require washing.

THE DEACON.

J. W. Moodie, the Scotch soldier evangelist, is addressing large meetings at Cape Town.

Bishop Potter of New York makes it his rule to read a certain amount of Greek every day of his life.

Rev. Dr. Edward Everett Hale celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday in good health at his home in Roxbury, Mass., the other day.

The Rev. C. D. Crane of Portland, Me., thus explained the other day why so many Maine officials permit the illegal sale of liquor: "They know that we will continue to vote as we pray—that is, with our eyes shut."

TRUST THRUSTS.

The sugar trust and the coffee trust are fighting in New York, and the milk trust is doing things here. Taken all together, they should be able to keep the pot boiling.—Baltimore American.

Already the automobile establishments of the country are moving for the formation of a gigantic ironclad trust. Automobile makers thus prove themselves about as rapid as their machines.—Syracuse Post-Standard.

Efforts are being made to establish a permanent "matinee theater" in London. A company has just been registered for the purpose. The idea has been tried before, but never on very energetic or enterprising lines.

Sims Reeves, the superannuated British tenor, who insists on giving concerts although he can't be heard across the footlights, is to receive a pension [illegible] a year from the queen for the rest of his life. Reeves is 81 years old.

Fine Intentions.

"I am determined," said the man who is proud of his boy, "that this youngster shall acquire correct habits of speech."

"The best way to do that is to see that he has good examples."

"Of course. And that's what I'm going to do. I don't intend to let him say 'don't,' and I ain't going to tolerate the use of that vulgarism 'ain't.'"—Washington Star.

A Determination.

I've changed my intentions.
The orator's charm
No longer will win me;
I'm tendin the farm.
I've lost precious moments—
I'm sure of it now—
A follerin politics
'Stid of the plow.

Fur talkin won't hitch up
The bosses, you know,
An speeches won't furrow
The soil, row by row.
The seasons is changing;
I'll quit it, I vow—
This folleriu politics
'Stid of the plow.

—Washington Star.

First Class In Logic, Please Criticise.

"But how," asked the hard featured man who was looking at the pictures, "do you know this is an accurate likeness of Homer?"

"Do you know, sir, of anybody else it looks like?" demanded the artist.

"No."

"Then of course it's Homer."—Chicago Tribune.

The Appetite of a Goat

Is envied by all poor dyspeptics whose stomach and liver are out of order. All such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, gives a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25c. at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

Does Coffee Agree With You?

If not, drink Grain-O—made from pure grains. A lady writes: "The first time I made Grain-O I did not like it, but after using it for one week nothing would induce me to go back to coffee." The children can drink it freely with great benefit. Get a package today from your grocer, follow the directions and you will have a delicious and healthful table beverage for old and young. 15c. and 25c.

BUG DEATH...

A NON-POISONOUS POWDER.

Is sure death to potato, squash and cucumber bugs, currant and tomato worms, and other plant and vine-eating pests. It is a benefit to the plant, and the more freely used the better the plant will thrive. For potatoes when blight is prevalent the extra yield will more than pay all expense of Bug Death.

1 lb. pkg., 15c. 3 lbs., 35c. 5 lbs., 50c. 12 1-2 lbs., $1.

Perfection Shaker, 50c.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Try the Noxall Pulley Belt

..LATEST STYLES IN..

FIGURED LAWNS,
DIMITIES or
FANCY GINGHAMS?

Butterick's Patterns and Delineators for July
..NOW READY..

N. C. NYE,
FLETCHER BLOCK.

CORNED BEEF and VEGETABLES

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Native Beets, bunch	6c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Cabbage, lb.	3c
Thick Flanks	6c	Spinach, peck	10c
Spring Broilers	28c	String Beans, qt	5c
Fresh Killed Fowls	18c	Lettuce, head	5c
Smoked Bacon, strip	10c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.
fe7-lyS

GROCERIES AT COST.

Sale now going on at

McKinnon's Grocery Store,
CENTRAL SQUARE.

Stock must be sold to close business. If you want first-class Grocercies at half price don't miss this chance.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,
Jewelers and Opticians
160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.
de1-Fly

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary
Summer St., Franklin, Mass.
ap27S

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the next-of-kin and all persons interested in the estate of Philip Dolan of Franklin, in said county, an insane person:

Whereas, John Dolan, the guardian of said ward, has presented his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, certain real estate therein specified of his ward for his support,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the fifth day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each of you fourteen days at least before said court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this fifth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

je8,15,22

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, creditors and all other persons interested in the estate of Edwin J. Pond, late of Providence, in the State of Rhode Island, deceased, intestate:

Whereas, a petition has been presented to said court to grant a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Metcalf E. Pond of Franklin, or to some other suitable person,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on Thursday, the 5th day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this 6th day of June, A. D. 1900.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

je8,15,22

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

Hattie M. Fisher 1.1901

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 51. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, JUNE 26, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Fourth of July at Lake Pearl	4
Annual Meeting Benj. Franklin Savings Bank	4
Citation	4
Hoag Lake Park	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 5 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Peck yesterday.

All the schools close for the summer vacation this week.

There will be a special meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., tonight.

Miss Mary Wade has returned from Watertown to live with her mother here.

Mrs. G. P. Cody and Mrs. Toomey of Dedham are visiting at the home of W. G. Cody.

There will be a special meeting of the J. G. Ray Engine company tomorrow evening.

The Misses Ellen and Louise Fiorani of Cottage street are visiting their sister at Reading.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Wilkins entertained over the Sabbath Miss Hilda Lauden of Boston.

Frank Jacobs has just had a cottage built at Lake Pearl, Contractor Rounds doing the work.

Martin Kelley of Pond street has returned from a two weeks' visit with his sister at Fitchburg.

Mr. and Mrs. William Rockwood spent the Sabbath with their son, Julius T. Rockwood, in Malden.

Rev. M. J. Sullivan of Brockton, formerly curate at St. Mary's church, is visiting at the rectory.

The hearing on the W. R. Cook school attendance case has been further adjourned to next Saturday.

Evening service for the rest of the season at the Episcopal church has been changed from 2 to 3 o'clock.

Charles Whittaker and Fred Blake went into service as conductors on the M., A. & W. street railway yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Flynn of Brockton spent Sunday at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ford.

It is understood that Charles Stewart, the straw goods manufacturer, has made an assignment to George W. Wiggin, Esq.

There was a large crowd on the trolleys Sunday and the street railway company did the largest day's business of the season.

Conductor Mathes, who has been laid up for the past six weeks, is now able to be out and will take his train again shortly.

Mrs. S. W. Squire returned from the west Thursday after a visit of eight months with relatives in that part of the country.

Mrs. Mary F. Piper, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Judge Doe, left yesterday to spend the summer at Maplewood, Me.

The trolley ride to Plainville and the Attleboros is a most pleasant one, and that it will prove a popular route goes without saying.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Young of Brandon, Vt., have been enjoying sea breezes at Newport, R. I., a few days.

Mrs. C. W. Howard, formerly of Franklin, Mrs. J. W. Hinkley and Miss Cornelia started Wednesday to visit relatives in northern New Hampshire.

The Franklin fire department has purchased twelve of the Monarch fire extinguishers through L. J. Kelley, who has accepted the agency here.

Charles F. Nye enjoyed the sights at the national convention at Philadelphia last week, and is of the opinion that a remarkably strong ticket has been named.

The act of consecration to the sacred heart was read in St. Mary's chapel, at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, by Rev. Fr. Lee, during the exposition of the blessed sacrament.

Fred A. Darling, who has just built himself an automobile, was on the street Saturday and attracted a good deal of attention. It weighs 1,750 pounds and seems to fill the bill.

Peter Sexton, a former Franklin boy, and now in the service of Uncle Sam as an artilleryman, being stationed at Fort Adams, has been visiting friends in town the past few days.

A large gasoline automobile advertising Dr. Pierce's remedies has been in town a few days. It is one of the Winton make and goes about from place to place in the interest of the concern.

Martin Costello, who is one of the mounted bicycle police of Springfield, returned yesterday after a brief visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Costello of Fisher street.

A man visited the office of the assessors recently to find the assessment value of a piece of property offered to him, and which, it was claimed, was taxed for $1,000. The books showed the assessment to be $60.

O. B. Carter and Manager Worthley are arranging a team to meet the North Attleboro nine for two games on the Fourth of July at Indian Rock park and only crack players will be engaged. We shall speak more of this later.

The Medfield & Medway Street Railway company have petitioned the railroad commissioners for the right to increase their capital stock from $50,000 to $100,000, to cover the extension of their line to Franklin, which is now finished.

Fred. P. Chapman has been confined to the house with a carbuncle upon his neck. It is unnecessary to say that it is unpleasant as well as painful, forcing him in a large measure to give up business for a while. He is now able to be out.

The many friends of Lee Clark Abbott, a graduate of the class of '95, Franklin High school, will be pleased to hear that the young man is finishing a four years' course at the University of Vermont. The exercises of commencement week take place from June 24 to June 28 at Burlington, Vt.

Jerome B. Rhodes, formerly a resident of Canton and a deacon of the First Baptist church in that place, has removed with his family to Franklin, and last Thursday evening was received into membership in the Baptist church here and unanimously elected as a deacon to serve in the same capacity here.

Charles H. Prince, foreman of the SENTINEL office, sails for the Paris exposition this week, planning to be absent about a month. He accompanies Rev. Mr. Cook, who was to have had as his companion Rev. Mr. Shenk, but the latter is detained by business. Mr. Cook will probably be absent two months.

Cards have been sent to friends in town announcing the marriage of A. Cressey Morrison, brother of Mrs. Cora Linn Daniels, to Miss Emma Webster Conway at Plymouth church, Brooklyn, N. Y., on Monday, June 18. Mr. Morrison is very pleasantly remembered by those who have had the good fortune to meet him when he has been in town visiting at Sardia lodge.

A number of the friends of Mrs. C. Slocum gathered at the residence of her brother, David W. Corson, on Saturday afternoon to assist her in celebrating her 84th birthday, much to the delight of the aged celebrant. A very pleasant afternoon was spent, and Mrs. Slocum enjoyed the occasion to the full. In addition to their presence not a few of the guests presented her with appreciative and loving gifts.

Mrs. W. H. Jackson went to Nantasket Beach on Thursday as delegate from the local W. R. C. to assist in forming the new organization to be made up of the various corps in Norfolk county. Plans were decided upon and much of the preliminary business settled. On Wednesday she visited the Soldiers' home in Chelsea and was much impressed by the comfort, neatness and homelikeness of the place.

Rev. and Mrs. Guy W. Miner and son Reginald are spending a few days in New Britain as guests of the rector of St. Mark's church, Mr. Miner taking occasion to attend the 75th anniversary of Trinity college at Hartford. He was graduated from there twenty years ago, this being his first return to commencement, and he is promising himself a good deal of pleasure in meeting his former college mates.

Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Sanger have been entertaining a Japanese friend, A. S. Mihara, who is the manager of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, or Japan Mail Steamship Co., in Hong Kong. He was educated in Japan, where he learned to speak the English language, and has become largely accustomed to our ways and ideas. He wears the American dress and is an intelligent, refined and exceedingly interesting gentleman to meet.

Waldo C. Everett of the Mount, who graduated from the Emerson School of Oratory last month, recently gave a recital under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. at the West Duxbury M. E church, and the Press of that place paid him this compliment: "Mr. Everett as a public reader has received recognition and hearty approval in Boston and elsewhere. His readings aroused great enthusiasm, winning the hearts of his listeners."

Word was received here Sunday of the death of Willard A. Miller at Coney Island, where he has been the past year. He was a son of the late Gilmore Miller and was born at Franklin forty-eight years ago in the Mount district. He was clerk in the meat and provision store of A. B. Chilson for several years. The body was brought here for interment in the Union street cemetery this morning, the service at the grave being conducted by Rev. S. A. Cook.

Capt. J. B. Crocker has always prided himself on his lawn, and when he came home from the salt sea Thursday the hose was all ready for him to wet it down, but he said he had seen enough of water for a day or two and would look around a bit before renovating the door yard. So he went down town and met old friends, who shook him by the hand and congratulated him on the tan he had acquired and the captain said that was much better than holding the end of a hose.

Friday evening the selectmen held a conference with Mr. Fletcher and Mr. Ruggles of the cemetery association in regard to the improvement of the Union street cemetery so far as the appropriation of $600 will allow. It was decided to bring the work at once under the superintendency of Mr. Westland, the superintendent for the cemetery association, directed by the selectmen. Mr. Ruggles made a formal report on the disapproval of the proposed curfew law and the bills on the secretary's table were ordered paid.

As shown by the records in the town clerk's office the month of June is hardly keeping its reputation, locally, as the month of roses and marriages. The former blossom in the same profusion as in the past, but during the two or three years previous to 1900 there has been a falling off in the number of declarations of marriage intentions for this particular month. The annual crop may be just as large, but if so the season has changed somewhat. Perhaps it is due to the climate, which some people believe to be changing from the old style to a new regulation of temperature.

The M., A. & W. company timekeepers have a sure way of taking the time of the Italians at work on the construction of the road. When an Italian is hired, instead of taking his name he is given a small piece of metal with a number stamped on it. Each man has a different number. Every evening when the timekeeper goes around, each man has to show his number. By this method much bother is avoided. The Italians are very frugal and save most of the money which they earn. One of them, in making a deposit at the savings bank here the other day, held up a hand with one finger missing, as a means of identifying himself.

The chapel in the Methodist church was very prettily decorated with palms and roses in honor of the "good bye" reception tendered Rev. S. A. Cook last evening. A goodly number were present and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Everett and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Willard assisted Mr. Cook in receiving. A fine musical and literary program was given, after which remarks were made by Rev. Dr. Sneath and Rev. Frank B. Sleeper, which were highly enjoyed, as both the speakers had crossed the "big pond" and gave many reminiscences incident to their trip. Cake and lemonade were served. Many hearty wishes for a pleasant journey were extended to Mr. Cook.

The annual High school graduation occurs on Friday evening, and the prospect is that there will not be a vacant seat in the hall, as Supt. Daniels has arranged a number of novel features and the pupils may be relied upon to give a good account of themselves. The diplomas are to be presented by William A. Wyckoff, one of the members of the school board. Tickets for admission to the hall are to be distributed on Thursday evening, June 28, at 7.30 o'clock. As the seating capacity of the hall is somewhat less than the usual number who desire to attend, it is important that those desiring tickets should be on hand Thursday [illegible] at the High school.

The state board of railway commissioners met recently and heard the directors of the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket Street railway on matters of grade crossing. The first petition heard was that of the company for the approval of a crossing with the tracks of the Midland division of the Consolidated system at North Bellingham. Fourth Vice President Curtis and Supt. C. N. Woodward of the Consolidated railroad appeared as remonstrants, and President Geo. W. Wiggin of the street car company for the petition. It was shown that there were six passenger trains daily through the town, all of which stopped at the station, and one freight train that did not make a stop. After hearing the testimony Chairman Jackson stated that the board was averse to authorizing crossings of this kind, as under the most careful supervision there was menace to life.

Fred. V Hussey, who was graduated from Brown university last week, has decided to take up the profession of medicine and will go to London this fall, where he will be entered for a four year's course in the St. Thomas Hospital Medical school. This is one of London's famous institutions, and combines with the academic work a good deal of hospital practice, as over 100,000 cases are treated there every year. This, of course, is of inestimable value to the medical student. He will be accompanied by his brother, Dr. C. B. Hussey, who will spend the winter also in London, his course of study involving the spending of the forenoons at the St. Albans Street hospital for children and the afternoons at the St. Thomas hospital. It has long been his idea to devote himself to the diseases of children, and here he will be afforded a fine opportunity. He will be absent till April.

Bradley M. Rockwood returned from the National Republican convention at Philadelphia Sunday morning, having enjoyed a most delightful experience, and one that he will never forget. He had a fine opportunity of seeing the "big men" of the party, Hanna, Roosevelt, Foraker and others, as well as the discredited "boss," Matt. Quay. He was fortunate in securing a good seat in the convention hall, and was present when the nomination speech was made for McKinley. He says that the convention was plainly for Roosevelt, though New England and some other sections would gladly have supported Long. He thinks, with millions of others, that the vice presidential nomination will materially strengthen the ticket, as well as give the office of vice president a new force and power, as Roosevelt is not one to "take a back seat." After the convention Mr. Rockwood enjoyed a couple of days at Atlantic City, Jersey's famous summer resort, and is decidedly enthusiastic as to its charms as a place to get relief from the summer's torrid heat and get a whiff of old ocean's breezes and a roll in her magnificent surf.

Opening of the Medway Line.

Contractor Gore hopes to open the line between Franklin and Medway tomorrow afternoon, as he has been pushing the work the past few days to the utmost limit, it requiring some work upon the Sabbath to get the line in readiness. The last rail was laid on Saturday, and the men were then busied in digging the holes for the iron posts and setting up the poles, stringing wire and clearing up the roadway, trimming trees, etc. The trolley wire was all up by Monday, and a car came down over the line to test the roadbed.

The company has sent out the following to interested ones here: "Dear Sir:—You are cordially invited to the opening of the Medfield & Medway Street Railway Co., Wednesday, June 27th. Cars will leave Dedham for Franklin at 12 o'clock. Return from Franklin to Westwood, where there will be an open air clam bake. Train from Boston leaves at 11.33, connecting with car at Dedham. Yours respectfully, H. Gore & Co."

What the Trolley Means.

Few people realize what a change the introduction of the trolley cars into Franklin means. A year ago the town was absolutely cut off from the outside world except by such transportation as was afforded by the steam cars. Nearby towns were as distant as Boston, unless one owned a horse.

Today one can get out in every direction, and with the exception of City Mills and Norfolk there is almost no town that has not speedy and frequent access to Franklin.

To the northeast is Medway, Dedham and Boston; to the northwest is Milford and South Framingham; to the southeast is Wrentham, the Attleboros, Pawtucket and Providence; to the southwest is Woonsocket and Providence. With the completion of the line to Foxboro early in July an outlet will be had in that direction to Walpole, Mansfield, Taunton and Pawtucket.

From all these towns visitors can now come. From the neighboring ones trade is bound to come. There is not a merchant in town who feels that he is doing all in his power to secure the incoming trade or prevent the home trade from leaving.

The SENTINEL will assist in both. It would seem to be the part of wisdom for the home merchant to use the columns of the SENTINEL for both these ends. Think it over.

Practical and Spiritual.

The annual baccalaureate sermon before the graduating class of the Horace Mann High school at the Congregational church on Sunday evening was largely attended, nearly every seat below and in the gallery being taken It was a union service and participated in by Revs. Sneath, Sleeper and Cook, the latter reading the scriptures and Rev. Mr. Sleeper making the prayer.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. E. L. Atkinson of Boston and was timely, practical and helpful. He took his text from Gen. 18: 26, "And the Lord said, 'If I find in Sodom fifty righteous within the city, then I will spare all the place for their sakes,'" the central thought being the power of righteous men. The speaker congratulated the class of 1900 on living in a town which gave to the world so eminent a divine as Rev. Nathaniel Emmons. He said that for the time being the teacher exercised a greater influence than the preacher. The student of today is to be congratulated that he is coming into possession of the wonders of this closing year of the century. The text put a premium upon righteousness. The Jews had a saying that if all the people kept all the law for one day even the Messianic kingdom would be brought in. Moody said that forty truly good men could turn Boston upside down. The work of the righteous man in this world is to change the kingdom of men into the kingdom of God. That is what education, civilization and Christianity is for.

While religion is old, yet some of the fashions are new. The plan now is to save others. That was Christ's plan and to that end he sent out His disciples. This wonderful fellow feeling is a part of the divine plan. It means "The world for Christ." It is getting to be the belief that the world can be saved. It can be worked and moulded and transformed. We are His ambassadors. We help Christ by helping men. For their sakes was this wealth, this education, this love given to us. The great ideal should be that this life was given to us to give for others. All the world is now open to us as never before. Dr. Emmons would doubtless be astonished to hear it said that we could help God. Whether a laborer, a merchant or a rich man, all have a part in bringing in the kingdom of God. If we are ready for it we shall "find beautiful fighting all along the line." The four things I would emphasize are purity, the capacity for taking trouble, courage, true manhood, so that the world may say in truth, "Here stands a man."

Owing to the absence of Dr. A. J. Gallison in Europe and the temporary illness of F. P. Chapman, the only member of the school board present was William A. Wyckoff. The pupils marched in down the south aisle, while Mr. Wyckoff, Supt. Daniels and the other teachers came down the north aisle. The church was finely decorated with flowers and the music rendered by the choir was fitting and pleasing. On the whole, the record set by this baccalaureate service reached the highest water mark, and augurs well for succeeding ones, which should engross the attention of every friend of education in town.

Saturday's Ball Games.

All the amateur ball players apparently "got in the game" on Saturday and the following contests were pulled off:

A town nine beat a scrub nine from Medway at Indian Rock park on Saturday, 25 to 8

The Hayward team went to North Bellingham Saturday afternoon and defeated the best team there, 11 to 7.

The High school freshmen were defeated, 27 to 8, on the common by a picked nine. Robinson, who pitched for the picked team, allowed the school boys only three hits.

Our Boys rode to Unionville in the afternoon and there met the Textile team. The latter seemed out of form and Our Boys administered a crushing defeat, the score standing 22 to 2 in their favor at the close. The battery work of Williams brothers for Our Boys was a feature.

Talk about the "White Man's Burdens"—but the publishers are having their full share of burdens during these good times. First, through the paper trust, the price of paper has been doubled. Previous to that the type founders got together, and now the ink men have formed a combine. The labor market is stiffer, yet the price of advertising and subscription has not advanced and the desire for complimentary notices and free advertising has not lessened.

At Archers pond a five-room cottage with sleeping accommodations for nine persons, two boats, etc., for the months of July and August, at $30 per month. Address C. W. Pond, Wrentham, for particulars.

Eat fish as well as meat. Shad, sword fish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fish-man.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Pull up your carpets and buy new,
Sanford's stock will surely suit you.
Sanford Bros., Medway.

Attractions at Hoag.

The theatre at Hoag lake was opened Tuesday evening. The scenery for it is being painted and the scenes already painted are of high grade. The curtain is covered with the advertisments of merchants of Woonsocket and in the center is a fine picture of Niagara Falls, with the steamer Maid of the Mist just below the falls. The curtain is 24 by 33 ft.

There are four distinct sets of scenery for the theatre. One is a parlor scene. Another is an outside scene, a wood with spreading trees and pretty foliage. There is a Venice scene with old ruined castles, sheets of water and graceful gondolas on them. The last is an olio drop for the purpose of specialty performances between the acts of a play.

The theatre is a spacious building with a seating capacity of 1250 persons. The entrance to the theatre is at one end of the building, next to the ticket office. One passes into the large auditorium and down a broad aisle. The floor is raised and there is not a poor seat in the house. The first rows, taking 500 seats, will be furnished with theatre chairs, and the price of these will be 10 cents. The other seats will be benches, and one may occupy them for the small sum of five cents. The whole theatre will be lighted with arc lights and the stage will be furnished with 65 incandescent lights. The stage is 66 feet wide and 28 feet deep and will be furnished with 14 wings. The dressing rooms are on the ends of the stage, in a very convenient place. Mgr. Young has booked shows for the coming season and the season will open next Monday with Boone's Entertainers as the attraction. Week after next there will be an opera company there. All the shows will make one week stands.

The grounds around the lake will be improved. Near the entrance to the grounds will be a merry-go-round, like those at Crescent park and at Roger Williams park in Providence. It will be 90 feet across and will have in the center a piano imported from Germany. The land for this is staked out.

There is a beautiful island in the lake. It has been connected with the mainland by a bridge 255 feet long and eight feet wide. The underbrush on the island is to be all cleared up, and a more beautiful spot for a picnic ground can not be found within a radius of a good many miles. The bridge will be strung with many colored incandescent electric lights and the island will be lighted also. The mainland will be lighted with arc lights and the park will be a most inviting place by day and night.

There is a cottage house at the lake, and this will be transformed into a large kitchen and a spacious dining room be built near it. A dance hall is to be soon erected. It has not yet been decided how large this will be, but it will accommodate a large number of couples. There will be boats for hire.

Every afternoon and evening this week there is an opera company giving entertainments, and on Thursday evening the Woonsocket Cornet band furnishes a concert from 7.30 to 8.30. The opera company is one that fills engagements at such resorts and comprises some of the "stars" of the stage. The admission is five and ten cents.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To Let —Tenement of four rooms on Oak street. J. F. Fitzpatrick. 26,29*

Store girl wanted. Address, at once, Box 342, Franklin.

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

Tenement of six rooms over Batchelor's paper store. Inquire of H. E. Batchelor. 22tw

Three good horses for sale cheap. Weight 1100 to 1300. Edward S. Cook, Central street, 22,29

To Rent.—5 room tenement, Central square. Inquire E. B. Sherman, Emerson's market. 5tf

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. Allen.

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18-tf

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Columbia bicycle, 24-inch frame, in first class condition, to be sold at a sacrifice for cash. Charles Spence, 37 Summer street. 26

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

Cut flowers, wedding bouquets, flowers for graduation, all kinds of funeral designs made up at Slade's green house at short notice. P. O. Box 179.

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. See Chas. H. Prince, SENTINEL Office,

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKINNON, Agent

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

TUESDAY, JUNE 26, 1900

Celebration of Louisiana Purchase.

Preparations are already well advanced on the project for celebrating in 1902 the one hundredth anniversary of the Louisiana purchase, which may be regarded as one of the half dozen most important events in the history of the United States. The event will be celebrated with an exposition at St. Louis, which, while a world's fair in the sense established at Philadelphia, Chicago and Paris, will derive its distinctive feature from exhibits illustrating the progress and prosperity of the states carved out of the semicontinental wilderness acquired by Jefferson from France only 100 years ago.

The people of this country know rather than realize what has been accomplished in this marvelous territory, while to other nations a definite presentation of the results achieved will contain many elements of surprise. There will be enough to show. The states belonging to the Louisiana purchase, including Oregon and Washington, supplied 300,000,000 of the 547,000,000 bushels of wheat produced in this country last season. From them, during the war with Spain, came all the horses and mules and all the beef used by the government, and now England is drawing from them the greater part of what she needs for her campaign in South Africa.

The people of St. Louis have raised $5,000,000 by voluntary subscriptions for this fair, the city of St. Louis has appropriated the same amount from its treasury, and a bill pending in congress will, if passed, provide another $5,000,000 to be spent under direct government supervision.

This is a good start, and with the patriotism and enterprise of the west and south to push the undertaking its success is assured. It is the aim of the projectors of the enterprise to make it a world's fair in the broadest sense of the term, and all the world is invited.

Richard Guenther, the United States consul at Frankfort, reports that the scarcity and high price of coal in Europe have given much impetus to the construction of apparatus for the use of liquid fuel—petroleum, benzine and gasoline. The advantages of liquid fuel when properly applied are obvious. There is no smoke, no stoking, no ashes or cinders, no incomplete combustion, the fire can be started or shut off at a moment's notice, a more even temperature can be maintained than by the use of coal or wood, and the fire can be regulated by the mere turning of a single cock. There is no dust or dirt, no spacious coal sheds are required, and there is no danger of spontaneous combustion, as frequently happens with coal. It is claimed that petroleum and its manufactures will soon to a great extent supersede the use of coal for manufacturing purposes, and therefore the supply of petroleum becomes of great importance. Statistics show that the United States and Russia are between them producing in round numbers 120,000,000 barrels per year and that the production of outside countries has of late increased so much that they are able to contribute enough now to bring the world's aggregate annual production to about 150,000,000 barrels. The increased demand for liquid fuel will stimulate the exploitation of oil fields in different lands. Railway companies are trying oil fired locomotives. One steamship line has adopted oil for firing under the boilers of most of its vessels. Nothing seems to be in the way of a more extensive use of oil for fuel except the price.

The Cuban bandits who have operated quite successfully in various quarters of the Pearl of the Antilles could get points from the American manipulators of the Havana postoffice. But, then, with our superior education and wider experience, why shouldn't we be able to do things somewhat better than the ignorant Cubans?

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

The one great thing that constitutes a home, that has the power to create it, is love.—Rev. Minot J. Savage, Unitarian, New York.

Future of Young People.

Early associations and friendships almost surely determine the future of young people. Rev. J. R. Miller, Presbyterian, Philadelphia.

Salvation of a Soul.

What saves a soul is the application of truth to human life and character in such a way as to create righteousness and true holiness. Rev. Madison C. Peters, Baptist, New York.

Progress of Mankind.

Mankind is under the law of evolution. Whether he will or not, he must progress. The world is getting better in spite of the ominous prophecies of the pessimists. Rev. Kranskopf, Rabbi, Philadelphia.

New Idea of Christ.

The new idea of Christ is that his life should permeate the very lives of men; that he is the embodiment of God's conception of what man is to become.—Rev. R. Heber Newton, Episcopalian, New York.

Value of the Better Life.

If we want a better press or a better educational system or better politics or wider and truer charities, the church must first create the better life out of which these may spring. Rev. W. C. Madison, Methodist, Denver.

Value of Jesus' Example.

Jesus' example keeps fresh and alive the enthusiasm of our early ideals and makes us dare to trust God and right when worldliness and unworthy ambitions tempt us with their gilded prizes. —Rev. Richard E. Sykes, Universalist, Denver.

God In Our Circumstances.

Whatever your circumstances may be, God stands inside those circumstances. The secret of overcoming power is that we become conscious of this nearer, stronger environment and co-operate with it; that we should live, move and have our being in God.—Rev. Henry Evertson Cobb, Reformed, New York.

Truth of the Gospel.

What words can adequately characterize a minister who does not preach plainly revealed principles and truth of the gospel which he knows to be true because they are not agreeable to him personally or because he fears they will not meet with the approval of his people?—Rev. J. L. Barton, Congregationalist, Bangor, Me.

Compassion of Christ.

Our age needs most of all the Christ spirit of compassion that would not send the multitude away hungry, but would open all the great stores of plenty, of culture, of liberty, of justice, of humanity, that every soul might be fed. Would you know the life, the peace of God, open your hearts to the compassion of the Christ.—Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas, People's Church, Chicago.

Life In Paradise.

The paradise life will be one of sinlessness. The condition immediately following death is not a preparation for a higher life in the sense that saints are to be kept there until they are prepared for a better life. Paradise is a place of development. It means growth in knowledge and in power and in character. All the imperfections of sin are removed, and the sinless man grows and ever grows up and on toward the perfection of the infinite himself.—Rev. John F. Carson, Presbyterian, Brooklyn.

Young Men's Opportunities.

The man who starts out to get as much as he can and give as little as possible may have some success, but it will not be great. It is not the business of time to serve the man, but it is the business of the man to serve his time. Things of this life worth having will be hard to get. Young men have strength and hope, while old men have memory and experience. Young men should resolve to keep themselves abreast of their fellows, so that when the opportunity they seek comes they will not be found a laggard. Fred W. Lehmann, Central Branch Y. M. C. A., St. Louis.

The "Open Door" For the Church.

As with the nation, so with the church. The Master, with the power or the keys, opens doors for the church to enter. The sphere of influence of the church is bounded only by the world's needs. Christ opened the great door of the church's usefulness when he commissioned it to go into all the earth teaching and discipling in his name. The gospel of the Son of Man is to be given to the world through the church. A door was opened on the day of Pentecost, when waiting multitudes from all parts of the empire heard "the wonderful works of God." This door has never been closed. It still swings wide open waiting the entering in of the church. Rev. Frederick Getty, Methodist, Langhorne, Pa.

"Hunger is the Best Sauce."

Yet some people are never hungry. Whatever they eat has to be "forced down." There is, of course, something wrong with these people. By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a short time they are given an appetite and then they enjoy eating and food nourishes them. If you find your appetite failing, just try a bottle of Hood's. It is a true stomach tonic and every dose does good.

The best family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

No one would ever be bothered with constipation if everyone knew how naturally and quickly Burdock Blood Bitters regulates the stomach and bowels.

Cures croup, sore throat, pulmonary troubles—Monarch over pain of every sort. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

GEMS IN VERSE.

Two Little Girls.

I'm twins, I guess, 'cause my ma say
I'm two little girls. An' one of me
Is good little girl, an the other 'n' she
Is bad little girl as she can be.
An ma say so 'most ever' day.

An she's the funniest ma! 'Cause when My doll won't mind an' I just cry,
W'y, nen my ma she sob an sigh
An say: "Dear good little girl, goodbye!
Bad little girl's comed here again!"

Last time 'at ma act that a-way
I cried all by myse'f awhile
Out on the steps, an nen I smile
An git my doll all fix' in style
An go in where ma's at an say,
"Morning to you, mommy dear!
Where's that bad little girl wuz here?
Bad little girl's gone clean away,
An good little girl's comed back to stay."
—James Whitcomb Riley in Century.

Lincoln.

When Lincoln died, an universal grief
Went round the world. Men loved him in that hour
The north her leader lost, the south her friend,
The nation lost its savior, and the slave
Lost his deliverer, the most of all
Oh, there was sorrow mid the humble poor
When Lincoln died!

When Lincoln died, a great soul passed from earth
In him were strength and gentleness so mixed
That each upheld the other. He was firm
And yet was kind, as tender as a child,
And yet as iron willed as Hercules.
His power was almost limitless, and yet
His mercy was as boundless as his power.
And he was jovial, laughter loving, still
His heart was ever torn with suffering.
There was divine compassion in the man,
A godlike love and pity for his race.
The world saw the full measure of that love
When Lincoln died.

When Lincoln died, a type was lost to men.
The earth has had her conquerors and kings
And many of the common great. Through all
She only had one Lincoln. There are none
Like him in all the annals of the past.
He was a growth of our new soil, a child
Of our new time he was American;
Was of the people from the lowest rank,
And yet he scaled with ease the highest height.
Mankind one of its few immortals lost
When Lincoln died.

When Lincoln died, it seemed a providence,
For he appeared as one sent for a work,
Whom, when that work was done, God summoned home.
He led a splendid fight for liberty;
And when the shackles fell, the land was saved,
He laid his armor by and sought his rest.
A glory, sent from heaven, covered him
When Lincoln died.
—Denver News.

Don't Overwork Your Talking Apparatus.

Speech is silvern, we are told by a thinking man of old,
But a silence he assures the world is golden,
And a maxim never bore more emphatic truth in store
Than this phrase that comes to us from ages olden.
Such a truth should surely find to the chambers of the mind
In its missionary flight an open lattice,
In this modern age when men, nearly one in every ten,
Freely overwork their talking apparatus.

When a too athletic tongue in its music box is hung
As it were by balanced pivot in the middle,
And in propagating sound is forever dancing round
Like a drop of water on a heated griddle
'Tis annoying to the ear and elicits but a sneer
When the fusillade it shoots is leveled at us,
And we fain would place a ban on the freedom of a man
When he overworks his talking apparatus.

Too much liberty of speech is quite apt to overreach
The desired result for which it is intended,
And the cup of our desire by a too great vocal fire
Oft we crack too seriously to be mended.
Friends are never in excess, and with those we now possess
We are liable to lose our friendly status,
And they're apt to pass us by with a glacial sort of eye
If we overwork our talking apparatus.

'Tis the men who have control of their tongues who reach the goal
Of ambition in this life's unceasing battle;
Not the men who think they take half the pie and all the cake
With their voluble and often senseless prattle.
Men whose chinning is arrayed as their only stock in trade
Should be taken by a posse comitatus
And in silent cells immured until permanently cured
Of imposing on their talking apparatus.
—Denver Post.

Homely Philosophy.

If there's anything you'd like,
Be it wealth or be it fame;
If you want to make a strike
And to gather in the same,
Go to work.

Don't get down and lose your nerve,
Grumbling that you have no luck;
You have all that you deserve;
Better have a little pluck.
Go to work.

If you fail, don't rail at fate;
Charge it to yourself alone;
You'll discover, soon or late,
That you reap as you have sown.
Go to work.

Hard old world? Well, grant it so;
Got to face it, though, or quit;
The more reason that you show
You can brave and conquer it.
Go to work.

With success you would be crowned?
Now's the time, then, to begin;
There's no use to sit around,
Envious of those who win.
Go to work.

Failure's for the false and weak;
Fortune's for the strong and true;
Have a message—dare to speak;
Have a purpose—learn to do.
Go to work.

The Lazy Man.

Let other bards twang the harp in praise
Of the man who loves to toil,
Who's always at work at half past four
And who burns the midnight oil.
I think my lute to laud the good sense
Of the thoroughly lazy man
Who never will work unless he must
And who loafs whenever he can.

He watches the struggles of other men
With a calm, superior smile,
For as long as they work he knows he can feel
And smoke his pipe meanwhile.
For [illegible] are of the lazy ones,
[illegible] always be,
And why should he worry and hustle and push
While he gets a good living free?

Oh, the only true philosophy
Is that of the lazy man,
Who never will work unless he must
And who loafs whenever he can.
He has no craven to lay up wealth,
He has no need to save,
For others will care for him all through life,
And others will dig his grave.
—Somerville Journal.

Death stands above me whispering low
I know not what into my ear.
Of his strange language all I know
Is, there is not a word of fear.
[illegible]

"Every Man is the Architect of His Fortune."

"An architect designs, and his plans are executed by a builder. The greatest builder of health is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It lays a firm foundation. It makes the blood, the basis of life, pure and strong. Be an architect of your fortune and secure Hood's as your health builder.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints.

THE DRESS MODEL.

Flaring wing effects are still a dominant characteristic of spring and summer millinery.

Argentine gray is a beautiful color very much like the moonlight and opal grays of last season.

Thin muslin gowns are fitted to the figure below the waist this season in an easy and graceful manner.

In place of the high white linen collar on the pretty afternoon waists of taffeta, china silk, etc., are to be worn those of fine hand embroidered bishop's lawn, linen batiste, or French muslin.

A new English skirt just touches the ground at the back, is less sloped on its front and side gores, and is some inches fuller all around the upper portion than any of the skirt models in vogue for seasons past.

French cashmere, a very light weight of ladies' cloth, and fine French flannel in soft powder pink make pretty house blouses. They are elaborately braided in white soutache and fastened with small round pearl buttons.

A special feature of new millinery is that the blossoms and foliage used for decoration are abnormally large, many of the huge leaves that extend at right angles from the sides of the hat being shaped like those of the begonia.

The season's new wash silks or "silk cheviots," as they are called, appear in soft, beautiful shades of rose, amber and reseda; heliotrope, russet and mignonette; chamois and violet; cream, pink and stem green, and green with delicate touches of red or gold.

The new French foulards are handsome, both in texture and coloring, and so glossy and soft that they look like panne. Some of the more expensive weaves are double width, an advantage which is apparent with the still prevailing style of plaited skirts.

The new sashes which are so fashionable this season are not excessively high priced, considering their quality and their marked vogue. Five yards are often used when the wearer is tall and chooses the Louis XV sash, the deeply fringed ends of which reach quite to the foot of the dress skirt.—New York Post.

TURKEY WINGS.

The sultan of Turkey continues to promise and build ships.—Scranton Tribune.

Like other debtors, the sultan is sur[illegible] any hard [illegible] mna of promise, but he is ver[illegible] when it comes to writing checks.—Pittsburg Chronicle.

Turkey is said to be buying new guns. Ten to one the money she owes us has been pledged to pay the bills.—Baltimore American.

Our children's children will please see to it that Abdul Hamid puts up that indemnity and those buildings.—Detroit Free Press.

Probably it is reasonably safe to say that Uncle Sam will ultimately get the Turkey and the sublime porte the buzzard.—Boston Herald.

Should Turkey ever seriously propose to pay one creditor the others would object. Russia, it may be certain, will never suffer anybody to reap any advantage great or small from Turkey save and except Russia.—Kansas City Star.

THE PEDAGOGUE.

If President Eliot of Harvard lives until next November, he will have held his present office longer than any of his predecessors. He was elected in 1869.

Professor Otto G. Ramsay of the chair of gynecology at Johns Hopkins university has been appointed to this chair at the Yale Medical school, to succeed Professor B. Austin Cheney, resigned.

Sir William Muir, the principal of Edinburgh university, announces his approaching resignation. His tenure of office will be chiefly memorable for his strenuous and successful efforts to obtain for women full privileges in the university.

Dr. Jerome H. Raymond, who is said to be the youngest college president in the United States, has resigned the presidency of West Virginia university. He had requested from the trustees the removal of five professors, whom he charged with incompetency and insubordination. When the board failed to adopt his suggestion, he resigned.

Mme. Sarah Grand has finished her new novel. It is to be called "Babs, the Impossible."

Rudyard Kipling, according to London announcements, is to visit the United States next autumn. The author says he does not lay his former illness against the American climate.

Since Mark Twain announced his candidacy for the presidency other humorists are falling into line, and among the most promising is M. Quad, who promises, if elected, to put a tax on all dialect stories.

Le Gallienne, the poet, was the other day exploring a dangerous cave in a cliff near Hyeres. Swung by a long rope, he was caught in the rocks. It took his companions nearly an hour to disengage [illegible] are noted for hanging on. They weaken your throat and lungs, and lead to serious trouble.

Summer Colds

Don't trifle with them. Take Scott's Emulsion at once. It soothes, heals, and cures.

50c. and $1. All druggists.

1817 1900

CARPETS.

Every purchaser of Carpets—whether for the smallest room or the biggest hotel—wants his mind satisfied on three points, namely:

PRICE—QUALITY—STYLE.

It is because we convince our customers as to every one of these requirements that we confidently expect YOUR patronage.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.,
658 Washington Street . . . BOSTON.
Opp. Boylston Street.

DOESN'T WANT THE EARTH.

"Marriage is a happy state, my dear—but the unmarried are by far the happier."

"I wish to be simply happy; and let those who prefer it be happier."—Ally Sloper.

Out of Sight.

Big umbrella,
Girl and lover;
Rain and kisses—
Under cover.
—Philadelphia Bulletin.

A Desirable Change.

Mr. Soak—But, my dear, I tell you a drink now and again makes me feel like an utterly different man.

His Wife (icily)—Oh, well, in that case I can hardly blame you.—Brooklyn Life.

Just So.

Starboarder—Who is making all that noise?

Mrs. Hashly—It's Rev. L. O. Cutor rehearsing his sermon for to-morrow.

Starboarder—Oh, I see. Practicing what he preaches.—Town Topics.

A Misunderstanding.

Fair Summer Boarder—How many bossies have you, Mr. Whiffletree?

Farmer Whiffletree (sadly)—Four, miss—a wife and three darters.—Judge.

Manners.

"A lady never contradicts, Mrs. Tompkins."

"No, Mr. Tompkins, for a gentleman never gives her occasion."—Chicago Daily Record.

Saved a Cool Thousand.

Wife (proudly)—I saved you $1,000 to-day.

Husband—Saved $1,000? We haven't that much to save. We haven't $100 we can call our own. Hang me, if we have over $10, come to think.

Wife—But you have always said that if you ever had money enough you would build a house.

Husband—Of course.

"Well, for $5 I bought a book showing how to build a $10,000 house for $9,000."—N. Y. Weekly.

Could Tell by the Hour.

It happened at the club.

"This telepathy or thought transference or whatever it is isn't such a wonderful thing after all," he said. "I can sit here with you fellows, and still be conscious of what my wife is thinking about and just about what she is saying to herself."

"Undoubtedly," replied one of the others, "but you couldn't do it if you couldn't see the clock."—Chicago Evening Post.

No Consolation.

"There's no use in being discouraged, Victor," said his young wife. "Remember that when William Cullen Bryant began to write he got only two dollars apiece for his poems."

"Only two dollars!" exclaimed the struggling young literary genius, with bitter emphasis on the "only." "If I could get two dollars apiece for my poems, Arabella, I could make $40 a day!"—Chicago Tribune.

Excels That of a Woman.

Wife (reading the paper)—The giraffe has a tongue 18 inches long.

Husband—Aren't you jealous?—N. Y. World.

A Good Cough Medicine.

It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to any other. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to myself and customers," says Druggist J. Goldsmith, Van Etten, N. Y. "I have always used it in my own family both for ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following la grippe, and find it very efficacious." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week.......... 50
Single Gallon.............................. 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.
t7-1fT

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW

Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE
BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

THE
NEW YORK WORLD
THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week...
...156 Papers a Year
FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

SUMMER
BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript

(No Sunday Edition).

THE GREATEST PAPER
IN NEW ENGLAND

FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms.

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT

Is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.
324 Washington St., Boston.

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

WE TWAIN TOGETHER.

Over wild and lovely lands
We twain together;
Touch of lips and clasp of hands,
We twain together.
Sometimes the hope, sometimes the fear,
The song, the sigh, the smile, the tear,
But evermore your love, my dear,
And we twain together!

Over seas of sad unrest
We twain together;
One's head on the other's breast—
We twain together.
Breathing one sweet or bitter breath,
The light of life, the dark of death,
Until the green sod covereth
We twain together!

—F. L. Stanton in Atlanta Constitution.

THE THREE LETTERS

Dorothy Sargent, Being In Doubt, Left the Choice of a Husband to Chance.

BY LOUISE CLARK.

"Who is she?"

"Old John Sargent's daughter. He died when she was a child, you know, and left his entire fortune to her."

"Why isn't she married?"

"They say she has buried her heart in Charlie Cutter's grave. You remember, poor Charlie was thrown from his horse some five years ago and broke his neck and her heart at one blow. She is a stunner, though, isn't she? No use trying to get her, Billy. Settle down and calm yourself. My sister says she never had a spark of sentiment about her. But now she seems to have lost all interest in anything. Oh, no, not a mean, stingy streak in her nature! She is very generous with her money, but gives as though she did not care a straw what she was giving the dust to—unnatural, very. I am afraid of her myself, but she is a thoroughbred; never saw her do or look a thing out of the way."

"By Jove! I think the girl has a heart within her, and if I were going to be in town this winter I would try and reach it. She walks like a queen. What is she doing here?"

"Going to the cemetery. They say she comes here at all hours of the day, but there is never a flower on Charlie's grave. She makes no outside show. Give me a match."

"Does she live alone?"

"No—a houseful of servants and a cousin or something as a companion. She used to go slumming, but I heard she got mixed up in a row one night and was hustled off to the station house before the policeman found out who she was. Then the whole force went down on their knees, and she was sent home, so they say, in the Black Maria. Anyway, she gets some one else to slum nowadays, and she pays the bills."

"Is she a bluestocking?"

"Certainly not. She is nothing but what a man would want his wife, mother or sister to be, with a couple of millions thrown in. She takes a box by the season at the Savoy and turns it over to the young folks, like a dear that she is; but, by Jove, she would give you the same kind of a nod if she met you as she would her cook, and there would be no more heart or soul in her greeting than in a dish of smoked mushrooms. I hate to have a woman so independent and so polite that one can't catch hold of a straw for a good foundation for criticism. I wish you were going to be here, Billy. If any one could move her, you could. But she is a stunner and no mistake. Here comes Ned in his trap alone too. Good luck. We'll ride home. Hi, Ned! Room for two? Thanks."

Today Dorothy Sargent entered the silent city of the dead with more than sadness in her sweet face, and as she reached the grave that held all that was mortal of the one man she had ever loved she pressed her face against the marble cross and in her anguish cried aloud:

"Help me, dearest!"

Suddenly, as though the load were lifted from her heart and her prayer answered, she sprang from the ground and hurried home.

Going at once to her room, she took from her desk three letters. Bowing her head upon her hands, she whispered:

"Whatever is is right. My love will guide me. I will be satisfied."

A messenger had brought to her the first letter from the National club. She drew it from the envelope and reread the lines she knew she would have to answer:

> Before you opened the envelope which holds this letter, Dorothy Sargent, you knew who was the writer, and you knew what he had to tell you.
>
> By breaking the seal you have proved you are willing once again to listen to me.
>
> I have returned to my native land after an exile of ten weary years. God knows I did my best to give my wife the love she craved, and he knows I did my best to make her happy and was as true as steel to her, but in his wisdom, which I dare not question, he gave her pure mind the power of seeing beyond what I gave her, and the dear child returned to her Maker broken hearted, leaving me and four motherless children to you, my one love, my one thought and my dearest wish.
>
> Would that you were poor that I might give to you what you could not otherwise have!
>
> Nothing but pity for Marion's children, for my children, can tempt you to come to me now. Come! I will make you love me, I will, and you must know it.
>
> No man ever gave to a woman a purer love than is offered to you again.
>
> Give to me this one word I crave in the name of the innocent woman who knew she held the heart that belonged to another. I cry to you—and not in vain! JOHN H. NORTON.

Rigid and white as death, she threw the letter on the burning coals and watched the flames devour the paper till there was nothing left but a gray mass that trembled and fell to pieces as a whiff of wind blew across the grate.

Opening the second letter, she read:

> Dearest—For the years I have known and loved you I have never till now dared to tell you of my love.
>
> You were rich; I was poor. Shame on me that I would so belittle you! As though you did not know an honest man's heart is worth more than Crœsus' wealth.
>
> You know what I have done in the scientific world, but you do not know what I have accomplished has been through you and that for you alone I have succeeded.
>
> I dare now offer to you the heart and life which will go on and on working for you, spurred by the glorious knowledge that you have said, "I love you."
>
> May I come to you and take you in my arms and hold you close to the heart that beats for you alone?
>
> That I have told you of my love makes me happy. That you will bid me come is the prayer of thine, SYLVESTER NEWCOMB.

As the poor girl finished reading this letter she threw it, as she had done the other, in the fire. As she watched it burn, she said aloud:

"I could be happy with him. His profession would be more to him than he imagines, and he might not see I cannot love as he does."

And she read the third letter:

> My Dear Dorothy—You were a little girl when I saw you first. I loved you then because your beautiful eyes were so like those God had given to the woman I was soon to marry. You know of the short year of happiness which was granted me, and you know what a long, weary life I have led since my wife died.
>
> You, dear, have been and are the one woman in this world to whom I can offer myself and what is left of my life and heart.
>
> Thou art not my first love.
> I loved before we met,
> But the vision of that summer dream
> Is pleasant to me yet.
>
> Thou art my last love,
> I will not say my best:
> My heart has shed its outer leaves
> To give thee all the rest.
>
> I do love you, not with the boyhood passion you may crave, but with the true and honest love of a man old enough to be your father. For years I have loved you thus, but would not tell you, dear. I wanted you to have the happiness which a younger man might give you, and I loved you so tenderly I wanted you to have what would please you most.
>
> You know your own heart's story. I do not ask you to tell me anything, but if you will be my wife I will do all in my power to make you as happy as I know you can make me.
>
> Send me one word, dear, and I will promise to watch over the treasure God has trusted to my care if you will bid me come. Faithfully yours, THOMAS SEWELL.

"He asks so little. I ought to be able to live with him and be happy. I shall be making less sacrifice if I say 'Come' to him, and his dear, old, gentle life will be a benediction indeed."

With tears in her eyes she laughed aloud as she threw this last letter in the fire, and while watching it burn she said:

"I can't marry them all."

Taking a sheet of paper in her hand and smoothing it gently, as though giving it a little blessing, she dipped her pen in the ink, and, with a shudder, as though it were with her own blood she were writing, she wrote the one word:

> Come!

Folding the paper, she put it in an envelope and sealed it.

She then drew another sheet from the case before her and wrote upon it:

> My Dear, Dear Friend—I love you too well to give myself to you, and myself is all I have to give.
>
> God grant you may find a woman worthy of your honest love is the prayer of DOROTHY SARGENT.

In closing this letter in an envelope and sealing it, she gave a sigh of relief and took another sheet of paper, on which she wrote:

> No woman living ever grieved more in saying no to a devoted suitor than does your sincere and unhappy friend, DOROTHY SARGENT.

And she sealed this as she had the others and went to the library, leaving all three of her answers on her desk.

Touching the bell in the hall as she passed through, the butler answered her call.

"James, tell Poole to bring me the three letters on my desk. She may stamp them first."

Her maid brought her the letters. Stepping to the table, she bowed her head and whispered:

"God help me to direct these aright."

On one she wrote, "John H. Norton, Esq., National Club."

On the second, "Professor Newcomb, Cambridge."

On the third, "Hon. Thomas Sewell, Hotel Cecil."

"Give these to James to [illegible]ost. I am not at home if any one [illegible] this evening and will dine alone."—[illegible] Herald.

Everybody Knows About Pain-Killer

A Household Medicine

Used by millions in all parts of the world

A SAFE and SURE REMEDY for

Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhoea Colds Cuts
Dysentery Croup Burns
Sprains and Strains.

Gives Instant relief. Cures quickly.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)

ALL DRUGGISTS.
816-ly

Down a Mountain o[illegible] Avalanche.

"We were prospecting [illegible] a mountain in Vancouver," said a S[illegible]e (Wash.) man. "It was in the [illegible] the year, and the earth was soft [illegible]et. When about half way up the [illegible] the mountain, without the slig[illegible] warning an area about 100 feet sq[illegible] seemed to break loose from the rest and darted with lightning speed down the mountain side. The avalanche seemed to be about five or six feet deep and carried with it trees, rocks and bowlders. Fortunately, myself and companions were close to the upper portion of the sliding land and thus escaped being struck. The ride down the mountain side on that avalanche was the most rapid and perilous one I ever want to experience. I rode astride the trunk of a fallen tree, and my friends were clinging tenaciously to its branches. We covered a distance of about a mile in, I should say, about half a minute, although none of us held stop watches. The avalanche came to a stop near the foot of the mountain in a small valley, and, strange to say, none of us was hurt, save one fellow, who was struck on the leg by a bowlder after we had come to a stop. Talk about rapid transit—that ride beat anything I ever experienced or heard of."—Washington Post.

A Woman's Predicament.

The Chicago Post describes the sad case of a woman who was waiting at the "limits car barn" for an Evanston avenue car. There were plenty of Evanston cars, but her transfer check was good only on the avenue line, and she was determined not to pay another fare.

At last, as night approached, she went to a telephone and called up her husband. She told him the situation—that no Evanston avenue cars seemed to be running, that it was getting dark, and she was afraid. What should she do?

"Why, take an Evanston car," he replied.

"But I shall have to pay another fare," she objected.

"Well, what of it? You don't want to stay there, do you?"

"But I can't," she said and hesitated.

"Why not?" he asked.

"Because—because I haven't any money. I just used my last dime in the telephone to call you up."

And then she wondered at the laugh which reached her ears over the wire.

The Pastor's Salary.

They have ways of their own in doing things in dear old Massachusetts, and they cannot be said to be generous ways. In a certain little coast town lives and works a clergyman beloved for his good deeds. From early morning till late at night he is at the beck and call of his parishioners, never complaining, always cheerful. His annual stipend is $200. The summer visitors to this town last year, appreciating the preacher's gentleness and hard work, and noticing his lack of material prosperity, clubbed together and presented to him a purse of $100. The good church folk, of course, heard of it—and when it came time to pay him his yearly salary they tendered him $100 and a receipt to sign for $200! "You have got the other hundred from the summer people," they said. The old man accepted the situation and is working away as hard as ever.—New York Sun.

British locomotive firms have work on hand for 12 to 18 months.

Tokyo, Japan, is to have a fine electric railway system 200 miles in length.

A new automatic electric safety block signal, which will stop a train without the assistance of the engineer or motorman, is now being introduced. It is applicable to any style of motor power.

Retribution.

"Yesterday," said Jabson, "I refused a poor woman a request for a small sum of money, and in consequence of my act I passed a sleepless night. The tones of her voice were ringing in my ears the whole time."

"Your softness of heart does you credit," said Mabson. "Who was the woman?"

Jabson—My wife.—Tit-Bits.

An Explanation.

Says the dominie: "These dames protest they're poor—
Yet see the sumptuous gowns they wear."
"Mayhap they've paid for their gowns, my dear,"
Says the dominie's wife, disposed to be fair
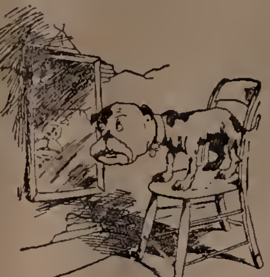
—Detroit Journal.

A TRIFLING DEFECT.



"Oh, how handsome I'd be if it wasn't for these how legs of mine!"—N. Y. Truth.

A Show.

This world is all a fleeting show:
On getting in mankind is bent;
Some get good seats, some standing room,
While many crawl under the tent.
—Harlem Life.

Unveiling the Past.

"I wish now," shrieked the angry young wife, "I wish now, George Whackster, you had married Lucy Jones instead of me! That's what I wish!"

"I would have married her," howled the equally angry young husband, "only she wouldn't marry me, and you would!"—Chicago Tribune.

Judged by His Style.

Jones—How on earth does Bluffem manage to get credit at that swell tailor's?

Brown—The tailor found out that he lived at the Asdorf-Waldoria.

Jones—But how does he manage to bluff the hotel people?

Brown—I suppose they judge him by his clothes.—Judge.

Masculine Intuition.

Mr. Simkins—Our new neighbor, Mrs. Lamkins, is not a very neat housekeeper, is she?

Mrs. Simkins—Indeed she isn't. She lets things lay around every which way. How did you know?

Mr. Simkins—Oh, her husband looks so jolly.—N. Y. Weekly.

Eclipsed.

"That's a very full moon," said the visitor to Hobbletown.

"Full!" sneered the oldest inhabitant, contemptuously. "Mister, you ought ter hev seen how full the moons got way back in the winter of thirty-nine!"—N. Y. Truth.

Completing the Diagnosis.

"I don't know whether you can do anything for my little girl or not," said the caller. "She has a bad case of strabismus."

"I notice she's cross-eyed, too," observed the traveling eye doctor.—Chicago Tribune.

Red Letter Day.

Counsel (to witness, the father of a family)—Why are you so certain, Mr. Branch, that the event occurred on such a date? May you not be mistaken?

"Impossible, sir. It was the day I didn't have to buy any of my children a pair of shoes."—London Punch.

A Chance for Him Yet.

"I've cured Cousin Algernon of his infatuation for that girl who has refused him four times."

"How did you do it?"

"Showed him statistics proving that there are over 3,000,000 unmarried women in this country."—Chicago Record.

RECORD OF THE PAST

No Stronger Evidence Can Be Had.

Look well to their record. What they have done many times in years gone by, is the best guarantee of future results. Anyone with a bad back; any reader suffering from urinary troubles, from any kidney ills, will find in the following evidence proof that relief and cure is near at hand:

Mr. Patrick O. Dwyer, mason, of 62 White street, New Haven, Conn, says: "In 1896 when Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of backache which always bothered me when I caught cold, which hurt me when I stooped, or straightened after stooping, which refused to disappear under treatment of different medicines, I was only too pleased to let the people of New Haven know the fact through our newspapers. Three years from that date, or in the month of May, 1899, I just as ardently recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as I did when they effected the cure mentioned above. My advice to anyone suffering from kidney complaint is, call at a drug store, procure Doan's Kidney Pills, take them as directed, and you will be surprised at the results."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers, price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Save Your MONEY.

To save your money, by getting more for it, ask your dealer in medicine to show you the new 50 cent size bottle of JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. It contains over three times as much as the old 25 cent style, which is a great saving to those who use this valuable family medicine. The superior quality of this old Anodyne has never been equaled.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Fifty years ago this month, Dr. Johnson left with me some Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I remember him distinctly, and could tell you just how he was dressed on that day. I have sold Johnson's Liniment ever since. Can truly say it has maintained its high standard from that time to this. No medicine today possesses the confidence of the public to a greater extent. JOHN B. RAND, North Waterford, Me., Jan., 1891.

As a family remedy it has been used and indorsed for nearly a century. Every Mother should have it in the house for many common ailments, Internal as much as External. Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Chance to Get a Rest.

"Timmins, do you know anything about literature?"

"No."

"Know anything about art?"

"Nothing."

"Know anything about music?"

"Not a rap."

"Good! Come over to my room, pick out a pipe and let's enjoy ourselves."—Chicago Daily News.

It Worried Him.

Mr. Bloggs—You see, my dear, my salary is small and I am not able to save much. I am continually troubled with the thought that if I should die suddenly—

Mrs. Bloggs—Oh, don't bother about that, Henry. You know I've got my old black silk dress that's nearly as good as new.—N. Y. World.

It Does Make a Difference.

Jones—Yes, that's a capital photo, old man; but—er—you seem to look—er—so much younger and more cheerful—jollier altogether, you know, than you do now.

Smith (with a sigh)—Yes, that was taken before I was married. — Ally Sloper.

After the Honeymoon.

Anxious Mother—Why, my dear, what's the matter?

Married Daughter—Boo, boo! My hus—band doesn't lov—love me any more.

"Mercy on us! How do you know?"

"He's—he's stopped kicking my (boo, hoo!) Fi—Fi—Fido."—N. Y. Weekly.

A Bit of Advice.

Mr. Youngling—I come to you for advice. I—I love a girl and she tells me that she returns my love. Now what I would like to know is whether a short or a long engagement would be better?

Mr. Benedict—Make it short, my boy, make it short—the shorter the better. Then, after you are married, your wife will not have a chance to repeat as much tiresome stuff that you said while you were courting her as she would if your engagement were long drawn out.—Cleveland Leader.

Love's Young Dream.

Sweet Girl—Papa, Mr. Poorchap proposed to me last night, and I told him I would marry him, if you were willing.

Father—Send him about his business.

Sweet Girl—He hasn't any.—N. Y. Weekly.

Why She Did It.

"Why is it," they asked, "that you let your husband have his own way in everything?"

"Because," she replied, "I like to have some one to blame when things go wrong."—Chicago Post.

Misunderstood Again.

Mr. Banks—Don't you think my wife paints very nicely?

Miss Milburn—Charming! It makes her look so much younger, I think.—N. Y. World.

Wasn't Necessary.

Singleton—Did you send cards to your friends announcing the birth of your baby?

Benedick—No; none of my friends are deaf.—N. Y. Truth.

The Beginning of Her Rule.

Susie—Papa, what makes a man always give a woman a diamond engagement ring?

Her Father—The woman.—Jewelers' Weekly.

In the Cold, Cold Ground.

Verseleigh—You believe that all poets are born, don't you?

Oldstyle—I do. I believe they're all dead, too.—Town Topics.

HIS LIFE SAVED

By Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I am sure that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at one time saved my life," says A. E. Lafalette, of Gregory Landing, Clark county, Missouri. "I was in such bad shape that the doctors said I could not live. When I was at the lowest ebb, one of my neighbors brought in a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and I took it and got instant relief. I soon got up and around. That was nine years ago and I am still in good health. Since then that medicine has always been in my house and always will be. It is the best on earth." For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

It's a mistake to imagine that itching piles can't be cured; a mistake to suffer a day longer than you can help. Doan's Ointment brings instant relief and permanent cure. At any drug store 50 cents.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 10, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 49, 4 10, 5 11, 6 01, 7 19 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S10 17 a m, 6 17, 7 54 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 58, f5 21, 6 19, f7 25, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 5 45, 9 38 p m. S8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f1 01, 5 25, 6 1[illegible], f7 28, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 20, 10 30 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 23, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 23 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 04, 9 04 a m; 1 08, 4 25, 7 04 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m; 4 35, 6 04 p m. S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m.

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m, S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

GEO. L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; † stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.

House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark. Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton. Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.

Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.

Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

. AND . . .

C.B.Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.

92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

because in the case of moth it is the only remedy possible. Our Moth Balls and Camphorine will render furs and other articles of winter clothing absolutely secure against the ravages of these pests. Don't delay action where the emergency is immediate. Today, and not tomorrow, is the Moth Ball time, since mischief once done is irreparable.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.
DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

The electric cars Sunday were well filled all day and many from out of town availed themselves of the opportunity to visit the village again after an absence of many years.——Miss Mabel Dean returned Monday to her home in Maine.——Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Chamberlin attended class day at Harvard.——Rev. Fred A. Brooks of Boston is to conduct the summer service at Trinity church this season.——The art department at the Congregationalist fair consisted of D. S. Farrington, C. E. Brown, F. A. Shepard, B. F. Hardman and L. F. Perry.——Daniel Brown is making great improvements on his Red Springs property.——Oliver Everett, who gave the drinking fountain to the town, talks of having it removed to Wampum, first getting a vote from the town to do it.

The annual graduation of the High school takes place on Wednesday evening at 7.45, and Principal Symonds promises unusually pleasing exercises. The graduating class consists of twelve members.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Samoa and Alaska.

THE ROYAL BOX.

The Prince of Wales receives on an average between 500 and 1000 letters a day. Over 200 of these are usually begging letters.

Empress Eugenie is the only royal woman owning a steam yacht. Her fine ship, the Thistle, is one of the best known pleasure craft on the Mediterranean.

The sultan of Turkey rises every morning at 6 o'clock and after devoting the first half of the day to work breakfasts at noon. After that he takes a drive or a boat ride in his park and dines at 8.

The Empress Frederick, who has returned to Germany after an absence of nearly six months in Italy, is in better health than when she left home, but for some time during the winter her condition caused much anxiety, and the Emperor William sent a specialist to Spezia from Berlin to see her.

Duty Toward the Church.

The beautiful though useless rainbows are not to be compared to the worm spinning our silks, or the sheep growing the wool, or the great mines filled with gems which will yet flash among the crown jewels, or of the anthracite which will yet flicker upon the hearth. So in your lives try to find your duty toward the church. It has apostolic origin, and there must be good reason for its establishment. Let the organ sound like the singing of the redeemed; let the congregation be the type of Christian fellowship; let the pulpit be the gospel fireside, the Sunday school be the place where you can study God's word, the building be the old homestead where the Father is looking for his prodigal's return and the prayer meeting be the place where you can distribute the bread of life to others and, like the loaves and fishes, have 12 basketfuls to spare.—Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, Presbyterian, Chicago.

Your Liver

Will be roused to its natural duties and your biliousness, headache and constipation be cured if you take

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

Only an Inference.

"Who was Diogenes?" said the teacher to Freddy Fosdick.

"Diogenes was a woman of Athens," replied the boy.

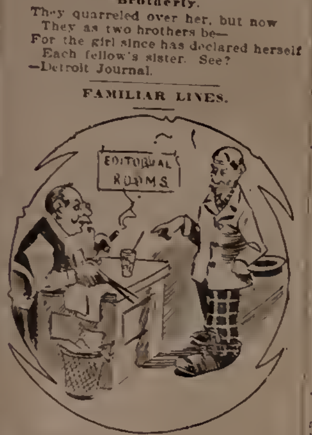
"Freddy, how did you get it into your head that Diogenes was a woman?"

"Because she was always looking for a man."—Judge.

Brotherly.

They quarreled over her, but now
They as two brothers be—
For the girl since has declared herself
Each fellow's sister. See?
—Detroit Journal.

FAMILIAR LINES.



Young Man—I came to inquire whether you have read those jokes yet that I left here a few days ago?

Editor—Oh, often.—St. Louis Republic.

A Quandary.

Loving my friend and loving truth,
By doubts and fears I'm torn in half,
Because my friend has asked, in sooth,
That I should write his epitaph.
—Robert Gilbert Welsh, in Judge

Very Strange.

"Did you know that the scientists have come to the conclusion that a decapitated head can think, although it cannot speak?"

"That's queer, when it is so much easier to talk than to think."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Same Sensation.

Abe Johnson—Did you evah walk ten miles to rob a chicken coop and den find dar was nuffin' in it but a bear trap, a spring gun and a bulldog?

Pete Jackson—No; but I married fo' money once!—Puck.

Monotonously Expensive.

"We had to give our pet dog away."

"Why?"

"Well, he ran away nine times, and every time the same boy brought him back and charged me 25 cents."—Detroit Free Press.

Complimentary.

Jim Jackson—I s'pose yo' knows I's goin' wif de Johnson gal now?

Sam Shindigg—No, I didn't; but I suspected it. I heard she shook Abe Absalom fo' nuffin' at all.—Judge

One or the Other.

"Miss Blobbs is either very intellectual or else she hasn't a grain of sense."

"Why?"

"She didn't say anything about my having on a new hat."—Chicago Record

A Dog's Life.

"I understand that Mrs. Smith leads her husband a dog's life."

"Yes, poor fellow. She pets him from morning till night."—N. Y. Truth.

THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND, with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain

Our Store is Light and Cool,

the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

W. S JOHNSON,
SPECIAL AGENT FOR
The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

Assets over - - - $300,000,000
Paid to policy holders over 500,000,000
Insurance in force over - 1,000,000,000

Issues the most liberal and attractive policies on the market, including
Cash Surrender Values, Extended Insurance,
Loan Values, Paid-up Insurance,
Grace in payment of Premiums, etc.

Hoag Lake
PARK.
Attractions Every Week.

EACH AFTERNOON and EVENING THIS WEEK,

Boom's Enterprises,

With an all star cast of favorite Metropolitan artists. An hour and a quarter condensed version of the two funniest tuneful and most popular

Comic Operas

ever written:

"SAID PASHA"
..AND..
"MASCOTTE."

Band Concert
THURSDAY EVE'G,
From 7.30 to 8.30, by Woonsocket Cornet Band.
je26-tf

Benj. Franklin Savings Bank.

ANNUAL MEETING.

I hereby give notice that the annual meeting of this association will be held at 2 o'clock p. m., at its banking rooms, to elect its officers and transact any other business which shall come legally before said meeting. Six vacancies exist in the membership.

MONDAY, JULY 2, 1900,

There will also be a meeting of the Board of Trustees at 3 o'clock at the same place to hear a report from the Treasurer, declare a dividend and transact any business which shall come legally before said board.

CHARLES W. STEWART,
Clerk and Treasurer.
Franklin, Mass., June 25, 1900 je26-1t

JUST THE WEATHER TO ENJOY A

HAMMOCK.

We have them for 75c. to $4.25.

Oil Stoves, 1, 2 and 3 burners, 50c., 98c. and $1.48.
Screen Doors and Window Screens.
Refrigerator Pans, Watering Pots.

W. E. Crowninshield
2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4mS

Lake Pearl,
WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - Prop'r and Mgr.

JULY 4.

Grand Celebration,

With fine entertainment in the Amphitheatre and a good programme of Sporting events.

EXCELLENT ❊ MUSIC.

DANCING FREE
DURING THE DAY.

Admission --- Adults 25c.
Children 10c.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of John L. Fairbanks, late of Franklin, in said county, deceased.

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said court for probate by Eliza Fairbanks of Franklin, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the eighteenth day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

[illegible]

A SINGULAR DUEL.

A Story Offering a Fine Flight For the Imagination of the Reader.

By Barry Pain.

At 3 in the morning it was already light as the two men came along the cliff path. They walked in silence until they reached a wedge shaped promontory. The path skirted the one side of it and was divided from it by a light fence; on the other two sides was nothing but the sea, roaring on spiked rocks hundreds of feet below.

Age was the chief distinction between them. Halbron was 25 and Safwell 11 years older. Both were men of fine physique and looked in perfect condition. Halbron was perhaps a shade taller and had a trifle longer reach, and Safwell was a little the heavier. Both wore an air of grave determination; in this strange duel there were no elaborate courtesies.

Two miles away a lazy, pretty woman woke for a moment, yawned, and went to sleep again. Both men had the thought of that woman in their hearts.

The older man spoke:

"I mention once more the conditions: You will try to kill me by throwing me over the cliff. I shall try to kill you in the same way. We go on until one is dead or both are dead. The fence constitutes the boundary. It is not permitted to kick or hit with the fist, but everything else is permitted; one may take advantage of the exhaustion or sleep of the other, supposing that the struggle is prolonged; one may resort to any kind of feint. I think I have mentioned everything."

"Now," said Halbron.

For a moment they watched each other with strained eyes, and then Safwell sprang forward suddenly and tried to throw Halbron. He caught him by the ankle to drag him, but Halbron [illegible] himself free and was on his feet again in a moment. He flung himself on Safwell, and the two, locked closely together, spun round and round. The struggle lasted some minutes, neither being able to get the other down. Suddenly they broke away; they had worked right up to the edge of the cliff, and another step would have sent both over.

Instinctively both men rushed back to the fence and flung themselves down panting. Safwell happened for one instant to turn his head, and in that instant Halbron had caught him by the foot and was dragging him. He tried to twist his foot free, but could not; nor could he stop himself with his other foot or by clutching at the short, dry grass. He was within three feet of the edge, and the case seemed hopeless for him. At the best in going over he might be able to clutch at Halbron and drag him over, too; that was his only consolation. But as Halbron was on the point of swinging him over he stumbled and fell, releasing Safwell.

Both men sprang to their feet and faced each other. They were on the narrowest part of the wedge. As Safwell lowered his shoulder to charge he saw Halbron drop and let the force of the charge carry him over. There was a moment's pause, and then Halbron darted back to the fence again. Safwell went after him and once more they locked, every muscle strained in the life and death struggle.

* * * * * * *

It was 7 in the morning. The woman was awake again and angry at being awake, she who usually slept so long and well. After a vain effort to get some more sleep she gave it up and presently rang for her maid. When the fresh sunlight was admitted into her room and she had got her letters and her cup of tea, she had a feeling of unusual virtue in being awake so early. It seemed to herself to be good of her.

Prone on the grass by the fence lay the two men a few yards apart from each other, utterly exhausted. They had been like that for the last half hour. It looked as if it would resolve itself into a trial of endurance, that the one who first slept or swooned would be the one to die. They watched each other carefully; the least movement of the one was suspected and answered by the other. Since the duel began it had gone on in absolute silence; not a word had been spoken. Twenty times the merest chance had saved them both from destruction.

Safwell felt that his strength was giving out; he determined on a plan which would end the fight one way or the other and seemed to give him at least an equal chance with his opponent. His plan was to stand on the extreme edge of the cliff, with his back to his enemy; Halbron would not risk a charge, but would creep up behind him and then push him to send him over. If just at the moment of that push he dropped, Halbron would be certain to stumble over his body and over the cliff; if he dropped too soon Halbron would not stumble and would have a good chance of rolling him over the edge; if he did not drop soon enough then it was certain death.

He rose and went to the edge and looked over, with his back to Halbron. He stood there for some minutes, and then he could hear Halbron softly rise to his feet. He dared not look round. He had to go by the sound alone. It was Halbron's breathing that he heard best; on the grass the footsteps were almost inaudible. Another moment would settle it.

* * * * * * *

I am sorry that I forgot the rest of this story.—Exchange.

The Most Beautiful Flag.

In a village school in the Acadian region of Nova Scotia the young lady teacher, who was from a portion of Canada more remote from the United States than the section she was in, was on one occasion preparing for a little celebration of the queen's birthday—the 24th of May. Calling one of the boys, she gave him a coin and said to him:

"Take this, please, and go out and get us the prettiest flag you can find."

She had no idea, of course, of his procuring anything else than a British flag, and her astonishment was great therefore when the boy came back with a small edition of the stars and stripes.

"What have you there?" the teacher asked sharply. "Did you suppose I sent you for anything else than the flag of your country?"

"Why," answered the boy, "you told me to get the prettiest flag I could find, and there was nothing else so pretty as this!"

The boy's judgment was unprejudiced at any rate, for he was a Canadian.—Youth's Companion.

A blessing alike to young and old; Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry; Nature's specific for dysentery, diarrhœa and summer complaint.

Your best friend can give you no better advice than this "For impure blood, bad stomach and weak nerves take Hood's Sarsaparilla."

BUG DEATH...
A NON-POISONOUS POWDER.

Is sure death to potato, squash and cucumber bugs, currant and tomato worms, and other plant and vine-eating pests. It is a benefit to the plant, and the more freely used the better the plant will thrive. For potatoes when blight is prevalent the extra yield will more than pay all expense of Bug Death.

1 lb. pkg, 15c. 3 lbs., 35c. 5 lbs., 50c. 12 1-2 lbs., $1.
Perfection Shaker, 50c.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist
PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

CORNED BEEF and VEGETABLES
FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Native Beets, bunch	6c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Cabbage, lb	3c
Thick Flanks	6c	Spinach, peck	10c
Spring Broilers	28c	String Beans, qt	5c
Fresh Killed Fowls	18c	Lettuce, head	5c
Smoked Bacon, strip	10c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.
fe7-ly8

GROCERIES AT COST.

Sale now going on at

McKinnon's Grocery Store,
CENTRAL SQUARE.

Stock must be sold to close business. If you want first-class Grocercies at half price don't miss this chance.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board.

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary
Summer St., Franklin, Mass.
ap27S

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Hugh Lyons to the Medway Savings Bank, dated November first, 1879, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 515, folio 244, for breach of the conditions thereof and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on at 3 o'clock p. m., all and singular the following described property:

SATURDAY, the FOURTEENTH day of JULY, 1900,

A certain tract of land containing forty acres, more or less, situated in the westerly part of said Medway, on the westerly side of West street, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at the northeasterly corner thereof at the junction of West and Alder streets and thence westerly on Alder street to land of E. L. and O. F. Metcalf; thence southerly and westerly on land of said Metcalfs to land of Charles Wight; thence southerly on land of said Wight to land of C. M. Hill; thence easterly on land of said Hill to West street; thence northerly on West street to land of the heirs of Luther Daniels, deceased; thence westerly, northerly and easterly on land of said heirs to West street; thence northerly on said street to the point of departure, being the same tract described in a deed from James Bradly to grantor, dated April 10, 1878, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, lib. 509, fol. 10. Except such portion of the above premises as have been released (June 3, 1897) to the said Hugh Lyons for a location of the Milford, Holliston and Framingham Street Railway Company.

Terms at time of sale.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
By its Treasurer, W. H. Upton, Mortgagee.
Medway, Mass., June 19, 1900. je19,26jly3

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the next-of-kin and all persons interested in the estate of Ruby Wales of Bellingham, in said county, minor:

Whereas, Varnum B. Rockwood, the guardian of said minor, has presented his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, certain real estate therein specified of his ward for investment.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the fifth day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each of you fourteen days at least before said court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this nineteenth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.
je19,26,jly3

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Sarah G. Whiting, late of Franklin, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, has been presented to said court for probate by Ann D. Bennett of Franklin, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the fifth day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esq., Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

je12,19,26 JONATHAN COBB, Register.

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 52. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Winders Wanted	1
Lake Pearl	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

High school graduation tonight.

The selectmen will meet this Friday evening.

Native strawberries are of good quality and price.

George H. Croissant is spending a day or two in Palmer.

Edward Stewart is assisting at the Adams express office.

Farmers report the grass crop much better than last season.

Frank Cody is able to be out after a week's illness with malaria.

Mrs. Alfred Briggs is at Onset, where she has pleasant rooms to let.

Division 8, A. O. H., will hold a regular meeting Sunday afternoon.

The new factory at South Franklin is nearly ready for the machinery.

Mrs. W. Green and Miss Annie Kelley are visiting relatives in Woodbury, Me.

Principal Daniels and family have returned from their cottage at Lake Pearl.

Benjamin Jarvis, a well known resident of Franklin several years ago, is in town.

R. Fiorani is entertaining his daughter, Mrs. Annie Michilini, and children of Reading.

Mrs. Annie L. Stebbins starts today on her annual vacation from SENTINEL office duties.

Mrs. Hugh Murphey is confined to her home on Fisher street by an attack of rheumatism.

Misses Emma Holmes and Clara Nixon have arrived home from Bridgewater Normal school.

The Franklin ball team are arranging to play the Gymnasium nine of Woonsocket tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Margaret and Alice Sullivan of Brighton are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Mary Cody, of West street.

Miss Alice Boyles and Miss Eva Stocker of Mr. Watkins' room have a perfect record of attenance for the year.

The friends of Niss Emma Colby will be pleased to learn that she graduated with honors from Wellesley college this week.

Burt Turner of this town has resigned his position in Taft's grocery store, Uxbridge, to accept a similar one in Norwood.

The annual meeting of the Benjamin Franklin Savings bank will be held in the banking rooms on Monday July 2, at 2 p. m.

Henry R. Jenks, E. H. Sherman and N. E. Newell have been appointed appraisers on the estate of the late Parker R. Farr.

Miss Eunice Crocker and Miss Amy Briggs went to Wellesley on Tuesday, to attend the graduation of their friend Miss Emma Colby.

The Carters, which will be made up with mostly the same players as last year, will play at North Attleboro in the morning of July 4.

Cornelius Curran and family removed Monday from Fisher street to the house recently vacated by Uriah McWilliams on McCarthy street.

The High school graduating class at Concordia, Kan., has adopted as its motto this year: "Beyond us lie the sawbuck and the washtub."

A tree in front of the Charles River company mill on Cottage street was struck by lightning Wednesday afternoon and considerably damaged.

Rev. Samuel Halfyard of New Foundland, a student at the Boston University School of Theology, is to supply the Methodist pulpit during the absence of Rev. Mr. Cook.

Frank H. Wilkins of the Horace Mann high school has been elected principal of the high school in Plainville. Mr. Wilkins intends to study for an A. M. degree this year.

Fred Sherborne, the veteran expressman, between Milford and Boston via Franklin, will retire from his accustomed route July 1 next, having sold his interest therein to Geo. Fuller of Boston.

It is understood that the Flax Fibre Co., has purchased the Steel Edge plant in Millis for the further prosecution of their business. Clifford E. Emerson has gone there in the employ of the company.

Sickness may interfere with the graduating exercises of the High school. Miss Mary E. Hudson is sick with quinsy sore throat and James H. Hood is a victim of the mumps. Both are members of the class of 1900.

During the thunder storms of the past few days a number of electric cars have been struck and "burned out," though nothing serious happened to the passengers beyond a slight scare. The expense to the company is quite considerable.

Master Robert Thayer left yesterday for Camp Algonquin, N. H., his second season at this ideal resort, where, in company with fifty other boys, every form of legitimate athletic work is carried out under the watchful eye of efficient instructors.

Two tramps who have been hanging about the storehouse of Enoch Waite for the past few days were arrested by Officer Redpath and Special Officer Cody near the Waite mill early Wednesday evening, and in the district court yesterday Judge Doe sent them to the state farm at Bridgewater.

The success of Monday evening was duplicated Tuesday evening at the theatre at Hoag's Lake when a large and appreciative audience witnessed the production of "La Mascotte." Thursday evening the Woonsocket Cornet band gave another of its fine concerts, followed by the regular performance.

Pupils neither absent or tardy for term ending June 29; Florence Blackmer, Edith Hamilton, Olive Hofer, Lizzie Jose, Shirley Stevens, Mira Smith. Rank of pupils for the year: 1, Mary Woodward, 2, Olive Hofer, Nellie Holmes, 3, Mira Smith, 4, Florence Blackmer, Ida Van Arsdalen.

Rev. Mr. Cook and C. H. Prince left this morning for Boston, where they embark later in the day for a trip to Europe. They take their wheels, and hope to see not a little of the country before they return. They will also take in the Ober-Ammergau exhibition, as well as to see the various foreign cities.

Some trouble was caused the electric railway people at the junction of Central and Chestnut streets at about 10 o'clock Monday night. As a car came near this corner a trolley wire slipped and became entangled in the electric light wire, dragging the big arc light out of place. The electric light company repaired the damage.

The American band orchestra of eight pieces has been engaged for the dancing at the coming lawn party of the St. Mary's society, and the American brass band will furnish an excellent out-door concert from 8 to 10. Various other attractions will be in order and the event promises to be a highly entertaining affair. The tickets are now being rapidly disposed of.

At a meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, A. O. H., held Tuesday evening last, the following officers were elected: President, Miss Mary A. O'Sullivan; vice-president, Miss Isabella Murphy; treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Bourbon; financial secretary, Miss Annie Callahan; recording secretary, Miss Mary Walsh; sergeant at-arms, Miss Agnes Callahan; sentinel, Mrs. Margaret Cullen.

Another capital attraction will be furnished by Gilmour and Roderguez for the summer season of the stock company at the Tremont Theatre, Boston, next week. "Engaged" will be the piece which the Tremont Theatre Stock Company will give next Monday evening. This farcical comedy made its first success at the Haymarket Theatre, in London, and the tremendous success which it made was followed by similar experience on this side of the Atlantic.

Martin Touhey, a weaver in the Ray mill, was found dead in a small building where he roomed belonging to James Follansbee on Union street. He had been drinking for a week, but was in his room Thursday forenoon, and asked for a drink of water. About noon someone going in found him dead. Drs. Martin and Hussey were called, but nothing could be done, as he had been dead two or three hours. His death was probably due to alcoholism.

An Auspicious Opening.

The Medway-Franklin line, which is a branch of the Norfolk Western line, running from Dedham, was formally opened on Wednesday, three cars coming over from Dedham, containing officials of the road, officials of the various towns and interested citizens all along the line.

The car reached here at just 1.40 p. m., the head car carrying the Norwood band, which had discoursed its fine music upon the way. It was a strange sight, indeed, to see an electric car coming down Main street, a thing which it had been asserted could never be done in Franklin. Flags were flying from the various cars and large announcements disclosed the fact to the people along the route that this was "opening day." A large crowd of interested sightseers had also gathered to see the first car come in.

Aboard the cars were the Messrs. Gore, upon whom the success of the enterprise has largely depended, and they showed a perfectly justifiable pride in this auspicious accomplishment of their plans. A short stop was made here to allow the invited guests to get aboard, when the three large cars, each carrying about fifty people, moved off for Dedham, where the Messrs. Gore were to disclose other pleasing features of the trip.

The conductors furnished a delightful diversion for those who were fumically inclined, for at the very outset, instead of appearing with the stereotyped "Fares, please," they appeared with a box of cigars, which they presented the passengers with the compliments of the officials. This they repeated at intervals and it was thoroughly appreciated.

Through Medway, Millis, Medfield to Westwood the cars sped on, taking the steep hills with ease and gliding along at the rate of about four minutes to the mile, frequent stops being made to allow the passengers an opportunity to enjoy the fine scenery en route. All along the line the inhabitants were out to welcome the cars, and some citizens had even taken the pains to trim up with bunting, etc.

Westwood was reached in about an hour and a quarter, no attempt having been made to "speed" the cars. Just beyond the car barn the passengers disembarked and were directed to a grove ~~nearby, where the~~ "second course" was awaiting them. Cooling drinks were served and the guests were invited to sit down to a clambake. This proved to be something decidedly more than a mere bake, as every man was served with a large pan of steamed and steaming clams, but each one was also expected to make away with a whole lobster, to say nothing of the hot potatoes and steamed chicken. In fact, it was an unusually fine spread and one that would have done credit to a seaside resort of A1 reputation. Meanwhile the Norwood band was discoursing popular music, cigars were passed around and every one was made to feel that it was his duty to enjoy himself.

One pleasing incident occurred just here. Supt. Spring, in a neat and appropriate speech, presented to Treasurer Gore, on behalf of the employes of the road, a magnificent bouquet of flowers, which was received by Mr. Gore with a speech of appreciative thanks. Supt. Spring created the impression among all who were brought into contact with him that he thoroughly understood his business, was popular with the employes and was just the man for the place. Indeed, one motorman was heard to remark, "Those Gore brothers and the superintendent are the finest men I ever worked for." It surely seemed like the truth.

After dinner the party was escorted to the car barn where Treasurer F. S. Gore showed them over the entire place, explaining the detail, showing the storage batteries, etc. Then a return was made to the grove, where a procession was formed, headed by the band, and the entire party marched to the car barn, where cheers were called for for the Messrs. Gore and Supt. Spring, who had proven such royal hosts for the afternoon. These were given with a rousing good will and a tiger, and the aforesaid gentlemen looked their appreciation, as if they were receiving much pleasure in conferring it upon others.

Shortly after 5 o'clock two cars started back for Franklin and one was sent to Dedham, so that all the party might be provided for. The run was made home without incident, though there was a good deal of good-natured bantering among the passengers, and laughter and jest was continuous. The return trip was made in just an hour, though this time can be materially shortened.

The objects of interest on the way to Dedham included the town pound in Westwood, built about 1700, and now the central figure of the design on the town's seal; the old Colburn house in the same town, the old Peak house in Medfield, the old fork mill on Rattlesnake hill in the same town; Dean academy in Franklin, views of Buckminster pond and the winding Charles and the outlook from Franklin hill.

The new road is four miles in length, and the total length of the system is 20 3 10 miles. The total cost of construction was about $240,000. The girder rail is used largely and modern four-wheel Brill and Laconia and eight-wheel Newburyport cars. The car barn, waiting room and storage battery buildings are located at Pond Plain in Westwood.

The town was represented by selectman Alfred Clark, his confreres, Messrs. Gallison and McCarthy, having planned to go, but were detained here on a highway matter, much to their regret. Among other guests were G. E. Emerson, F. M. Richardson, J. B. Fitzpatrick. M. F. Conroy, C. B. Johnson, P. H. O'Donnell. E. C. Dean, E. B. Sherman, W. S. Johnson and D. P. Moran. Attorney H. E. Ruggles, who has looked after the company's interests here, was also present with a number of others.

It was announced that cars were to run every half-hour, and the trip to Medway, about four miles, was to be made in fifteen minutes. This will be extremely good time, and will admit of making good connections in all directions, for here cars can be had for Dedham and Boston, Milford and South Framingham, the Bellinghams and Woonsocket.

Everyone upon the car was enthusiastic over the excellent manner in which the entire constructive work had been done, the condition of the roadbed as well as the highway, the contractors actually having left the highway in many places better than before. The ride is a very pleasant one, and the Messrs. Gore have not spared money or time to provide their patrons with a fine road, and one from which satisfactory service is confidently assured. They finished up their work as they went along, and many residents along the route are better off for what the contractors have done for them gratis. This, it is needless to say, is fully appreciated by them. That this line, in common with the Woonsocket line now running into town, is destined to receive a good deal of summer business, as well as a permanent and steady business throughout the year, no one can doubt, and Franklin is distinctly the gainer by the enterprise of Messrs. Gore & Co., who have brought this transportation problem to so successful a completion.

A Historic Church Gone.

An alarm of fire was rung in from box 41 at 5.40 on Tuesday evening, and it was soon discovered that St. Mary's Catholic church was on fire. The firemen were speedily on the ground, a second alarm having been rung in, and they soon saw that all hope of saving the edifice must be abandoned, as it appeared to be all afire inside when it was first discovered.

They directed their streams, six in number, upon the neighboring buildings eight of which caught fire from time to time by flying sparks. Only the absence of a high wind saved these structures. Within an hour from the time of the alarm practically nothing was left of the building but a few thin, badly charred sheathing boards. Nothing was saved from the interior but some vestments, books, candles, etc., the valuable organ, costing about $2,500 seven years ago, going up in the general ruin. The firemen did masterly work under the direction of Chief Engineer McKinnon and were everywhere praised for saving the adjoining buildings, the rectory itself being but about twenty feet from the burning church.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. It was discovered by Rev. Fr. Lee, as he was sitting upon his piazza in company with Rev. Fr. Meehan of Ware and Rev. Fr. Reardon of Amesbury, a crisp, crackling noise attracting his attention. Looking around he saw the flames issuing from one of the front windows. He had been inside the church some time before in company with his guests, showing them its condition, and is completely at a loss to account for the fire, as he used extreme care while going about the church.

There are a number of theories in regard to the possible cause, though it is quite probable that the real cause can never be ascertained. Spontaneous combustion finds many believers, and another one is that it was set on fire by a tramp, who was seen by K. R. Jewett to have gone into the yard some time before the discovery of the fire. Attention was attracted to him because he answered the description of the tramp who shot Conductor Billings upon a freight train at Thompson on Sunday. He was said to have been seen near the Congregational church just previous to going to the Catholic church.

Just how much insurance was carried has not as yet been ascertained, but it is understood to have been about $20,000. The building had not been condemned in the sense that it could not be rendered safe at a reasonable cost, but the archbishop decided that under the circumstances it would be wiser not to repair this for the reason that in the future a new and more modern edifice would be required by this parish. Were it not for the future needs of the parish the church could have been repaired so as to serve for quite a good many years. It was only since last February that it had not been used, owing to the discovery by Father Lee that it was for the present unsafe, and it had been examined a number of times by competent experts, differing, however, somewhat in their decisions.

The church was originally the old Congregational edifice and was the first church in Franklin, being built in 1788, Dr. Nathaniel Emmons having been its famous pastor. While it was owned by the Congregationalists, in 1840, it was moved 80 feet further north, to its present site, and considerably altered. The Congregationalists held services in the building for the last time Dec. 31, 1871, after which time it passed into the hands of the Catholic congregation. Rev. James Griffin became the pastor in 1877. Upon the death of Father Griffin the pastorate was taken by Rev. Father Mulcahey, now at Arlington, and for the past nine years Father Lee has been the rector.

Rev. F. B. Sleeuer will preach at North Bellingham, Sunday afternoon.

Contributions of rare sermons by former pastors have been made recently to the historical room of the Congregational church by Rev. Dr. Hodge, Mrs. Rena B. Richardson and Mrs. Chas. T. Love.

The annual graduation of the High school will take place in the Opera House this evening, where a most interesting programme has been prepared, appealing to all classes of listeners. Faithful work has been done by the pupils graduating and their diplomas have been fairly and honorably earned. A certificate from this High school admits to a number of the colleges, which speaks well for the standing to which Principal Daniels and his corps of efficient instructors have brought the institution.

The following programme was finely rendered by the pupils in Miss Fernald's room at the William M. Thayer school Thursday afternoon, the little ones between the ages of 5 and 9 doing remarkably well: Song, The Apple Story; A Little Boy's Wish; Trumm-Trumm; Bugle Call; The Swing; Chick-a Dee Song: The Sun's Travels; Peasant Song; The Land of Nod; Dancing Song: The Town of Sleep; song, London Bridge; My Bed is a Boat; Blacksmith Song; The Wind; song, Bed in Summer; Winter or Summer; song, The Ring; My Shadow; song, Bye, Baby, Bye; Seven Times One; song, The Bandoline; A Good Play; The Mountain and the Squirrel; song, When You are All at Home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Colgan and the Misses Sarah and Mary Colgan, Maggie Nevins and Wm. Bourbeau attended the wedding of James J. Colgan, a former resident of Franklin, to Miss Margaret Gillan, a popular young lady of Providence, Wednesday. The bride was handsomely gowned in light blue chiffon with white trimmings of same over blue silk and wore flowers in her hair. The bridesmaid, a sister of the bride, was attired in lavender and white of the same. The groom was attended by Mr. Eugene Farley, cousin of the bride. Rev. Father Craig of St. Mary's church, Broadway, Providence, performed the ceremony. A dinner was served to a large number of guests at the home of the bride's parents. The happy couple left at eight o'clock for New York. After their return they will reside in their newly furnished home in Woonsocket. They were the recipients of many costly and handsome presents. They have the best wishes of a host of friends.

Canning is Coming.

If you want nice fruit next winter prepare to can very soon, as fruit is coming on, but don't use your old jars. Our new ones are cheaper, better, and improve the flavor of the fruit. We have the square "Royal" fruit jar, best quality selected glass, with "Lightning" top at 90 cents, $1 00 and $1 25 cents per dozen. There are none cheaper in the end. Window screens at reduced prices.

HOSIE BROS.

Richardson's Market.

We now have a full line of Kennedy's famous crackers, such as Saltines 16 cents, Longbranch 16, Cheese straws 16, Butter thin 16, Golden Gates 10, Soda 10, Cream Toast 10, Graham 10. Also crisp potato chips, ice cold watermelon, cooked ham, choicest butter in town from 23 to 30 cents per pound. Native berries. All the choice spring vegetables, such as new peas, string beans, tomatoes, radishes, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, beets and turnips fresh from the market gardens. As usual we have the best cuts of meats, veal, lamb, etc, and choice fowls. Try a can of our 10 cent soups as a first course for Sunday dinner, all kinds.

The ice cream season is here and with it we come prepared to serve customers with ice cream made by us. We are not the only ones who make it in Norfolk county, but our cream is second to none, and the proof of the pudding is in the eating. Our ice cream parlor at the store is neat and cool. We have a new team on the road and you will find us on the streets when cream is wanted. Ice cream will be furnished in any quantity at short notice and orders taken and delivered.

A. E. WINCHENBACH,
Opera House Block, Central square.

At Archers pond a five-room cottage with sleeping accommodations for nine persons, two boats, etc., for the months of July and August, at $30 per month. Address C. W. Pond, Wrentham, for particulars.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

ANY OLD TIME.

Said the Orthodox clock to the Grace church clock,
From out its modern steeple:
"You run 'on tick' but not on time—
It's wrong to deceive the people."

But the Grace church clock, disturbed by this fling,
Struck out, then and there, in a chime.
"Be sure you're right ere you criticise me;
Your face shows 'a high old time.'

Then up spoke the clock on the Opera house:
"It's wrong for churches to fight;
Don't put up your hands, for I'm no
'lightweight;'
I can prove I'm the only one right."

In the midst of these gibes the steam whistle blew
To show 'twas not losing its head.
"You've got wheels," said the whistle,
"and though I'm a great 'blow,'
It's six when I say so; 'nuff said."

Just "where we are at" there is no one who knows—
We're considering the question whether
It wouldn't be wise for the clocks of the town
To "go on a strike" together.

An Early Morning Fire.

An alarm was rung in from box 6 at 2 o'clock this morning on account of a fire that was discovered in the E. Lovell Metcalf building on Central street, the first floor and basement of which is used as a bakery by William Elkerton, who commenced business there only a week ago. The fire started in a closet in a room above the oven at the rear of the building and spread to beneath the roof.

J. G. Ray engine companies 1 and 3 were at the fire soon after the alarm and had it under control in a short time. But smoke and water played havoc with the stock in the bakery beneath, and the loss from this source and the damage to the building is about $200. The loss to the building is covered by insurance and the stock of Mr. Elkerton was not insured. The fire was undoubtedly caused by spontaneous combuftion. Mr. Elkerton resumed business today.

Emerson's Market.

New peas, asparagus, string beans, tomatoes, spinach, 15c peck; radishes, lettuce rhubarb, cucumbers, Bermuda onions, cabbages, 3 cts a pound; new beets and turnips, new potatoes. Boiled ham 25 cts a pound. Try our Imperial cheese. Fresh killed fowls, lamb, veal, pork. Get your native strawberries here. Fresh cream.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To Let.—Tenement of four rooms on Oak street. J. F. Fitzpatrick. 26,29*

Store girl wanted. Address, at once, Box 342, Franklin.

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

Tenement of six rooms over Batchelor's paper store. Inquire of H. E. Batchelor. 22tw

Three good horses for sale cheap. Weight 1100 to 1300. Edward S. Cook, Central street. 22,29

To Rent.—5 room tenement, Central square. Inquire E. B. Sherman, Emerson's market. 5tf

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. Allen.

Wanted.—A girl to assist in the care of children a portion of each day. Inquire at the SENTINEL office.

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18 tf

Three hundred cords of pine trash wood for sale. Edward S. Cook, Central street, Box 212. 15,22,29

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

Cut flowers, wedding bouquets, flowers for graduation, all kinds of funeral designs made up at Slade's green house at short notice. P. O. Box 179.

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKINNON, Agent.

Lost or Stolen—On Wednesday evening, an English bull dog, clear white; name and address of owner on collar at time of disappearance. Any information respecting the whereabouts of the dog will be thankfully received and due reward given. G. H. Ochee, barber, Central square, Franklin, Mass.

R. R. Tickets.

During my absence my ticket business will be conducted by R. J. Calkin, up stairs over SENTINEL office.

CHAS. H. PRINCE.

Fireworks.

We have the largest and best assortment of fireworks in town and can sell the cheapest. Open all night July 3.

A. E. WINCHENBACH,
Opera House Block,

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 In..	1.00	1.25	1.50	1.75	2.50	3.25	6.00	10.00
2 In..	1.75	2.25	2.75	3.25	4.50	5.75	10.00	16.00
3 In..	2.50	3.00	3.50	4.00	6.00	8.00	14.00	22.00
4 In..	3.25	4.00	4.75	5.50	8.00	10.50	16.00	28.00
5 In..	4.00	5.00	6.00	[illegible]	10.00	13.00	20.00	33.00
6 In..	4.75	6.00	7.50	9.00	12.00	15.00	25.00	39.00
½ col	[illegible]	8.75	10.00	12.00	18.00	24.00	40.00	70.0
1 col.	12.00	15.00	18.00	21.00	30.00	38.00	70.00	125.00

Reading Notices, 1c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 5c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

FRIDAY, JUNE 29, 1900.

Pugilism and Statesmanship.

The announcement is made, apparently in all seriousness, that James J. Corbett will be a candidate for congress in the Twelfth New York district. Speaking of his candidacy, the distinguished pugilist said: "I don't see why I should not run for congress as well as the next man. I have never given the great topics of the day more than passing thought, but I am willing to train for them just as earnestly as I have trained for any other contest."

Mr. Corbett at least is frank, and his willingness to "train" for congressional duties is commendable. That is more than a good many congressmen are willing to do.

While the prize ring has not been the school from which statesmen have been graduated, "Gentleman Jim" has precedent for his political ambition. New York was once before represented in congress by a professional pugilist in the person of John Morrissey, who a third of a century ago served two terms, and there are those who say that there have been worse men in the house of representatives than the ex-prizefighter. England also furnishes a precedent in the person of Thomas Gully, grandfather of the present speaker of the house of commons, who was elected to parliament shortly after retiring from the prize ring.

If elected, Corbett might distinguish himself in more ways than one. He might be useful in settling promptly and effectively election contests and committee room disputes, and occasionally the science of which he is a master might well be employed on the floor of the house. He would have been an especially handy man to have around in adjusting the squabbles during the present session.

Mr. Corbett possesses in an eminent degree the qualifications of some congressmen. One of these is "sparring" over troublesome questions, and certainly no one can deny that he is an adept at sparring. Then there is the matter of "dodging" perplexing issues. His ability as a dodger was amply demonstrated in his recent encounter with Mr. Jeffries.

If "Gentleman Jim" could use his prowess in "knocking out" bad bills, it wouldn't be a bad idea to have him in congress.

Judge Sutherland of Rochester, in giving judgment for a defendant, the proprietor of an automobile, against an action which had been brought for frightening a horse, said: "If one should find it desirable to go back to primitive methods and trek along a city street with a four ox team and wagon of the prairie schooner variety, it would possibly cause some uneasiness in horses unused to such sights. Yet it could not be actionable, in my opinion, if a runaway should result, provided due care were shown not unnecessarily to interfere with the use of the highway. Horses may take fright at conveyances that have become obsolete as well as at those which are novel, but this is one of the dangers incidental to the driving of horses, and the fact cannot be interposed as a barrier to retrogression or progress in the method of locomotion. Bicycles used to frighten horses, but no right of action accrued. Electric street cars have caused many runaways. Automobiles operated without steam by storage batteries or by gasoline explosion engines, running at a moderate speed, may cause fright to horses unused to them, yet the horse must get used to them or the driver take his chances." If the horse is to keep up with the procession, he must get accustomed to the automobile and not "shy" when it appears on the public highway.

Now that a projectile has been discovered that will pierce the heaviest armor we may confidently expect that some one will find a way to make the armor resist it. That has been the experience of the past.

PASSING YEARS

Look in your mirror today. Take a last look at your gray hair. It surely may be the last if you want it so; you needn't keep your gray hair a week longer than you wish. There's no guesswork about this; it's sure every time.

To restore color to gray hair use—

Ayer's Hair Vigor

After using it for two or three weeks notice how much younger you appear, ten years younger at least.

Ayer's Hair Vigor also cures dandruff, prevents falling of the hair, makes hair grow, and is a splendid hair dressing.

It cannot help but do these things, for it's a hair-food. When the hair is well fed, it cannot help but grow.

It makes the scalp healthy and this cures the disease that causes dandruff.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"My hair was coming out badly, but Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped the falling and has made my hair very thick and much darker than before. I think there is nothing like it for the hair." CORA M. LEA,
April 25, 1899. Yarrow, I. T.

Write the Doctor.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you desire from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Address,
DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

THE PARIS FAIR.

The mineral display of British Columbia and the Yukon is particularly fine. The timber exhibit comprises all kinds of Canadian woods from a shoe peg to a saw log.

Vesuvius is situated next to the Champ de Mars railway station, and, besides the eruption and other volcanic display, there is a series of other attractions, including concerts and theatrical performances.

Professor Bernhard E. Fernow of the College of Forestry of Cornell university has been elected an official delegate to the international congress of forestry, to be held in connection with the Paris exposition.

It is said that more than $10,000,000 has been invested in the private enterprises known as "side shows," and the exposition authorities have evidently profited by the experience of the World's fair promoters in letting concessions on the Midway. Most of these "side shows" are backed by stock companies, and their capitalization is enormous.

TOWN TOPICS.

Bay City is said to be the only city in the country where a man must pay two fares if he boards a street car carrying a large grip.—Detroit Free Press.

Perhaps Concord will buy a steam fire engine now that one of the most interesting historical edifices in the town has been destroyed by fire.—Boston Globe.

The admiral's candidacy gives New York a pretense of excuse for abandoning the Dewey arch fund, and New York is quick to take advantage of it.—Washington Post.

Greater New York proposed to asphalt Broadway from Fourteenth street to Forty-second street. Will Bradford permit Gotham's Rialto to eclipse our Main street?—Bradford (Pa.) Era.

Chicago's official sealer has issued orders that all ice must be weighed in the presence of the customer. This practically puts an end to the fun of being the iceman in Chicago.—Buffalo Express.

THE COOKBOOK.

Meat for soup should be cut into small pieces.

Fish is fresh when the eyes are clear the gills red and the flesh firm.

When making tea, if the kettle should have boiled, pour a cup of cold water in and let it boil up again before making, and you will find the tea will be as nice again.

The soapstone griddle must be made very hot before the batter is poured upon it. Such a griddle should be heated gradually, but must be hot enough to bake the cake quickly. Never grease a soapstone griddle. If the cakes stick, it is because the griddle is not hot enough.

THE BOTANIST.

There is no tree which requires less pruning than a cherry tree, either at the time of planting or at any other.

There is a hospital for trees on the banks of the Seine in Paris. Trees which grow weak along the boulevards are taken there to recover.

Most people think milkweed is poisonous, but botanists and other people who know what is good declare that the young leaves, when they are just in the right condition, are a cross between spinach and asparagus and are delicious in a salad.

The Chicago man explained that he had moved into the suburbs in order to keep the wolf from the door.

"Of course," he ba[illegible]led, observing our puzzled looks, [illegible] r to the figurative wolf more pa[illegible]y."

The Eternl or actu[illegible]es were indeed more plentiful [illegible]burbs than they were down tow[illegible]ess plentiful by far than the New[illegible] newspapers would have one sup[illegible]troit [illegible]

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

Riches are the stairs whereby men may climb into the heights of popularity.—Rev. Madison C. Peters, Baptist, New York.

Wisdom.

We can learn wisdom of any one whether we agree with him or not.—Rev. Dr. Gottheil, Rabbi, New York.

Intelligence.

Intelligence is the soil, freedom the air that produces the tree of life that satisfies the soul.—Rev. Thomas J. Dickson, Christian Church, Kansas City.

Honor For Christ.

Honor for Jesus is the believer's desire, but honor for him is best obtained by being an honor to him.—Rev. G. W. Cassidy, Baptist, Walnut Hills, Cincinnati.

Value of Sympathy.

Sympathy is like steam. You should not generate it unless you know how to use it so that it will drive the machinery.—Rev. Dr. O. T. Gifford, Baptist, Buffalo.

Difference In Religion.

The difference in the religion of people is the difference of the God they take into their lives and the extent to which they admit him.—Rev. J. A. McKirahan, Presbyterian, Walnut Hills, Cincinnati.

Pearl of Greatest Price.

One of the greatest blessings is the gift of salvation, the great mystery of redemption. No soul should ever be satisfied without this gift. This is the pearl of greatest price.—Rev. Dr. Ball, Methodist, De Soto, Mo.

Religion of the Future.

The coming religion will be more and more a religion of the people. They will worship God directly, as was intended in the beginning. It will be a religion of absolutism.—Rev. E. E. Hale, Unitarian, Boston.

Wealth's Highest Use.

The highest use of wealth and the ultimate justification of the same is that which makes it a fulcrum under the lever with which society as a whole is raised.—Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, Episcopalian, Chicago.

Christ's Purpose.

Christ proposed to conquer the selfishness and hate and cruelty of the world with the simple principle of love, and, thank God, he is doing it. Since his advent into the world all changes have been improvements.—Rev. J. R. Fisher, Presbyterian, Newark, N. J.

Freest Thinking.

The freest thinking is the thinking that takes in all the facts of life. No man can lay the ax of prejudice at the root of his mental processes and cut off the struggling of man toward God and label himself a freethinker.—Rev. Dr. O. P. Gifford, Baptist, Buffalo.

To Be Christlike.

The mere doing as Christ would do will never make Christians. To be Christian is to be more than imitators. It is to have the same mind in us as in Christ and to be filled with the same glowing ideal.—Rev. Alexander D. MacKinnon, Presbyterian, Boston.

Influence of the Home.

When the philosophers affirm that every sage and seer and statesman has had a great mother or father, they affirm that the home is the foundation of civic power and wealth. The home becomes a temple, marriage is indeed a sacrament, when we recognize that what the parent is today the child will be tomorrow.—Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, Congregationalist, Brooklyn.

More Courage Needed.

A cowardly Christian is a contradiction in terms. Show your colors. I often think that courage is our most needed virtue. We need newspapers which dare to lose subscriptions and advertisers rather than lose their principles. We need courage in politics that will lead a man to look further than a second term. We need ministers who don't ask the past or the powers that be at present what they shall say. I don't asperse the American people. We have courage in the pulpit, in politics and in journalism, but we need more of it.—Rev. Dr. Lyman Abbott, Congregationalist, Brooklyn.

Crisis of Religious Experience.

Improvement of a crisis in life consists largely in taking up in a new way powers and talents that we have used before. A man has personal magnetism. Let him lay it down before the Lord, take it to himself again and use it for God's glory. If a woman can sing, let her lay that before the Lord, take it to herself again and sing for the Lord. This is the principle. When the crisis of a call to service arrives, put the principle into operation. God needs men and women who are willing to surrender to him what hitherto they have used in the service of the world.—Rev. William J. Harsha, Presbyterian, New York.

Sincerity of Prayer.

True prayer is not, then, a substitute for true effort, but an accompaniment of it. It has been defined as "the soul's sincere desire, uttered or unexpressed." Sincerity in prayer involves effort. It means a life purpose in accord with the Master's. Sincerity in prayer to the Lord Jesus Christ means an absence of selfishness—"not as I will, but as thou wilt." It is not an expression of superficial or passing emotion. It must come from the calm depths of a soul waiting on the Lord. There is little or nothing efficacious or worthy in any prayer of words unless it embodies this living feature of sincerity or genuineness. It either means the accompaniment of the prayer of true life or else it is the first movement of the soul to find and follow henceforth the path of true life after having lived a wrong or disorderly life. It means the determination from that time forth to co-operate with the Lord by obedience to his laws and by seeking his strength and inspiration.—Rev. John Goddard, Church of New Jerusalem, Cincinnati.

The Variety Ceased.

"Mrs. Hasher," said the cross-eyed boarder to the landlady, "I hope you will not consider me impertinent if I say that there is not very much variety in your fare."

"Sir," replied Mrs. Hasher, "I used to serve hash frequently, but the young gentlemen objected so strongly that I stopped it."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

None a Total Failure.

"Of course," he said, oracularly, "some marriages are failures—"

Her youth had been left somewhat in the past, but she was still able to blush, which she did, and then hastened to say:

"Not failures. Some may be less successful than others, but you cannot convince me that any marriage is a total failure."—Chicago Post.

A Case of Good Riddance.

"He married you and deserted you," said the lawyer, "and yet you are unwilling to prosecute him, though he has married again."

"Well," said the tired looking woman, "I used to hold a grudge against him fer marryin' me, but his leavin' wiped thet out. Let the other woman prosecute him. She has the wust of it."—N. Y. Journal.

Good Men Not Needed.

Stranger—I should think such an enterprising, public-spirited citizen as Mr. Goodman would be nominated for some important office in this community.

Politician—He'd run well, but we don't need him.

"Don't need him?"

"No. We're always sure of a big majority, anyhow."—N. Y. Weekly.

His Impression.

"Rafferty," said Mr. Dolan, "what's thim primary colors Oi hear me dau'ther Ann tellin' of since she tuck to shtudyin' art?"

"Wull," was the answer, "judgin' be all the primaries Oi wor iver to, Oi should say they wor black an' blue."—Washington Star.

A Suggestion.

Bobbie had been studying his dear old grandfather's wrinkled face for a long time.

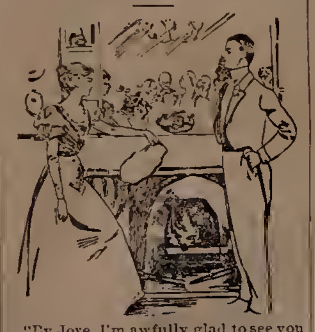
"Well, Bob," said the old gentleman, "do you like my face?"

"Yes, grandpa," said Robbie; "it's an awfully nice face. But why don't you have it ironed?"—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Slow of Comprehension.

The Spaniards comprehend the truth.
And heavily it sets.
The Yankees didn't go to war
To pay somebody's debts.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

DOUBTFUL COMPLIMENT.



"By Jove, I'm awfully glad to see you here, Miss Brown. When I first came in I felt quite nervous—everybody looked so awfully clever."—Punch.

Man.

Man was sentenced to earn
His bread in the sweat of his brow.
But the man who does it is looked upon
As small potatoes now.
—Chicago Daily News.

The Sequence of Events.

"The doctors had a consultation yesterday."

"What was the result?"

"I understand that the family lawyers are now in secret session."—Brooklyn Life.

A Sad Awakening.

"You shall be rich and famous," said the fortune teller.

"Alas!" cried the sitter. "Then I am undone. For my dream was to devote my life to art."—Philadelphia North American.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

TRADE MARK

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint: but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small P[illegible]

mar 7 1yF

"Seeing is Believing."

[illegible]en you see people cured by a [illegible]dy, you must believe in its power. [illegible] around you. Friends, relatives, neighbors all say that Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Medicine, cleansed the blood of their dear ones and they rise en masse to sing its praises. There's nothing like it in the world to purify the blood.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Fashion Note.

"You may say what you please, but Mr Jinkson is no gentleman," remarked Mrs. Portly Pompous to her husband.

"Why, what did he do?"

"When he came to open the door he was in his shirt sleeves, and he sat around that way in the parlor all the time I was there."

"Didn't you have on a shirt waist?"

"Yes."

"Well, he had on as much as you had. He might just as well say you are no lady. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander."—N. Y. World.

She Chose Slavery.

Ethel—I have the choice of being an old man's darling or a young man's slave, and I've decided to be a young man's slave.

Clara—My dear, I think you are foolish, but I wish you happiness.

Clara (a few years later)—What became of that meerschaum pipe brother John gave your husband Christmas?

Ethel—I burned it up.—N. Y. Weekly.

The Word and the Deed.

Mrs. Uptown—This is strange. Here's a letter from the hired girl I discharged the other day for refusing to do things the way I wanted them done, asking me to send her trunk.

Mr. Uptown—There's nothing strange in that.

Mrs. Uptown—Yes; but she signs it "Your obedient servant."—N. Y. Evening Journal.

And Then Start Again.

Saloon Keeper—I can't charge anything more up to you, Mr. Soak. You'll have to pay cash hereafter. I've used a whole leadpencil up charging the stuff you've had.

Mr. Soak—Don't let a little think like a five-cent leadpencil worry you. I'll bring you a new one to-morrow.—N. Y. World.

Not Apprehensive.

First Boarder—The landlady has gone to a food exposition, but I don't think it can possibly affect us.

Second Boarder—Why should it affect us?

First Boarder—Well, of course, if she finds any cheaper kinds of food than we are getting now, we'll have to eat them; but I don't think it's possible.—Puck.

Rolling Passion.

Mrs. Shopleigh—This war tax is not so bad, after all.

Mrs. Trotleigh—How do you make that out?

Mrs. Shopleigh—Why, don't you see? If you write a check for one dollar and put a two-cent stamp on it, that reduces it to 98 cents.—N. Y. Journal.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning" writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung diseases. Only 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason's drug store.

GOSHEN, ILL.

Genessee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your Grain O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Mocha and Java in our family, but I am free to say I like the Grain O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

Respectfully yours,
A. C. JACKSON, M. D.

His Answer.

Snappish Individual (sneeringly)—I suppose you consider yourself a gentleman?

Waiter—No, sir. I don't consider I am anywhere near a gentleman.—N. Y. Truth.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25 cents. Money back if not cured. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., Druggists.

Shake Into Your Shoes

Allen's Foot Ease, a powder. It cures painful, smarting, swollen feet and ingrowing nails and instantly takes the sting out of corns and bunions. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Allen's Foot Ease makes tight or new shoes feel easy. It is a certain cure for sweating callous and hot, tired, aching feet. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores; by mail for 25c. in stamps; trial package free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less, - - 10c
5 to 15 miles, - - 15c
15 to 25 " - - 20c
25 to 35 " - - 25c
35 to 45 " - - 30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25tf

News and Opinions OF National Importance.

THE SUN
ALONE
CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON).

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
SAVINGS BANK.
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, } Vice-Presidents.
CHAS. J. McKENZIE, }
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, Chas. J. McKenzie, E. P. Chapman, Charles Stewart, George W. Wiggin.

STATEMENT MAY 31, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors	$559,245 21
Guarantee Fund	27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account	6,268 89
Interest Account	8,831 98
Real Estate Income Account	184 23
Tax account	32 25
	$602,315 35

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$1,071 25
Bank Stock		27,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		6,350 00
" " Mortgages		166,310 00
" " Personal Securities		164,870 86
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Bank Books		1,500 00
Town-Notes		5,000 00
Expense Account		735 27
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$10,919 15
Nat. Bank of Redemption	9,018 65
Mercantile Trust Co.	12,075 38
		32,013 18
Cash on hand		2,074 97
		$602,315 35

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

CHAS. J. McKENZIE,
Committee of Examination.

June 6, 1900.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

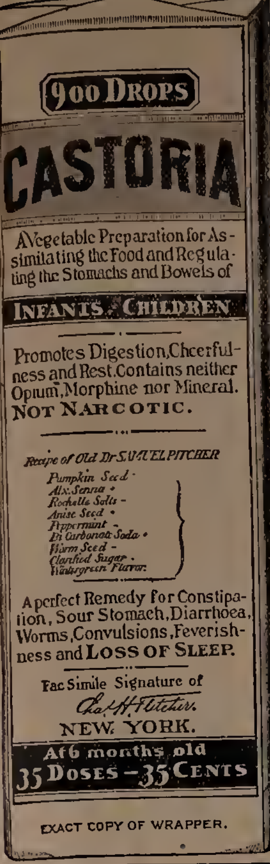
PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co.
Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.
je22-4w

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists
je8-4w

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.
Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.



900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed
Alx. Senna
Rochelle Salts
Anise Seed
Peppermint
Bi Carbonate Soda
Worm Seed
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES – 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

THE FOUR ARMED LADY

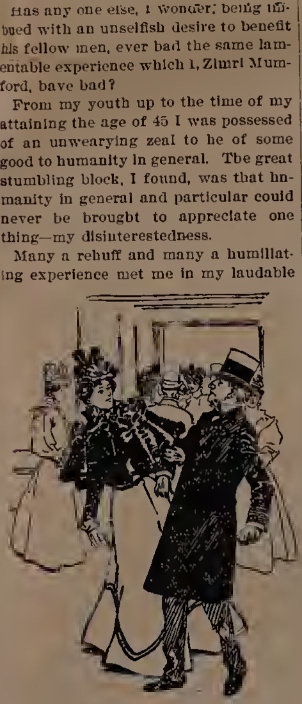
By Francis Livingston

Copyright, 1899, by Francis Livingston

Has any one else, I wonder, being imbued with an unselfish desire to benefit his fellow men, ever had the same lamentable experience which I, Zimri Mumford, have had?

From my youth up to the time of my attaining the age of 45 I was possessed of an unwearying zeal to be of some good to humanity in general. The great stumbling block, I found, was that humanity in general and particular could never be brought to appreciate one thing—my disinterestedness.

Many a rebuff and many a humiliating experience met me in my laudable efforts, but it was not until I encountered the four handed lady that I gave up in disgust.



SHE TOOK MY ARM AND HURRIED ME ALONG.

This happened shortly after I had closed my water store. Ten years ago, having met with indifferent success in a business career, solely from my unwillingness to take advantage of the extreme gullibility and desire to be humbugged of my fellow creatures, I conceived the idea of a water store. I had discovered that many men went into a saloon for a glass of beer simply because there was no place where they could get a glass of water.

Having a small, independent fortune, I put a few thousand dollars into a little place, stocked it with ice tanks, glasses and a marble counter and put out a sign to the effect that drinking water could be had there free of charge.

I at once encountered the violent opposition of the saloon element, but this I had expected. What I was not prepared for was the hostility of the general public. As soon as it became apparent that I was not advertising a new spring water or selling something in connection with my gratuitous distribution of aqua pura, people began to ask where the business end of the thing came in—what I was doing it for, anyhow? My invariable answer—that I was trying to do some good in a small way and that I expected no return whatever—met only with derision. I became a subject for merriment in the comic papers. Some people pretended to imagine that I sold liquor surreptitiously, and in the course of my brief career in the water store I was accused of nearly everything from illicit distilling to selling policy slips. The police used to look in with uncomfortable frequency, and small boys often congregated before my door. The humanitarian idea in connection with my scheme was absolutely rejected.

I have a quick temper, and there were one or two rows in my store. One man who insulted me I knocked down. He had me arrested for assault, and the next day I closed my water store for good.

That ended my attempts to benefit mankind in a public way, but I did not relax my private efforts.

One afternoon I was surprised by having a young and handsome woman come up to me in an excited manner on the street, which was crowded at the time, and ask if she could put herself under my protection for a little while. I consented, and immediately she took my arm and hurried me along, talking volubly and rather incoherently, I thought.

She said some one was following her. I did not see any one near who seemed to be noticing her but one of my old enemies, a policeman. I accompanied her for several blocks. She did not seem to want to leave the avenue, but kept in the thick of the crowd. Suddenly she dropped my arm with a "Thank you" and disappeared into a shop.

I walked on alone for several blocks, wondering who she could be and if she were not a little distraught, when I remembered that I was going out of my way and took a horse car going back in the direction whence I had come.

A little later, to my surprise, the young woman who had so recently asked my assistance boarded the car. She did not appear to see me; but, taking a seat opposite me, she dropped her eyes to the floor and seemed to be lost in thought.

Now, during the short time the young woman's hand had rested on my arm I had noticed (it being ungloved) that it was white and slender, with long, taper fingers. I think there is a great deal of character expressed in the human hand, so I thought to interest myself by studying the hands of my pretty vis-a-vis.

They were now gloved and crossed on her lap, and, to my surprise, instead of the slender, pliant hands I had noticed, these were as characterless as those of a stuffed doll. They seemed to be fairly crowded into her gloves, and while I was wondering how she could so disfigure such naturally pretty members something very singular happened.

My eye was attracted by a movement on the right side of the lady, and while I watched two long white fingers and a thumb stole out from under her cloak and busied themselves in the pocket of the woman sitting next her. Presently they slipped back under the protecting garment holding a purse. I looked closely at the other side and detected a movement there also. All this time the two gloved hands lay [illegible] in her lap and her eyes were [illegible] floor of the car.

This double surprise caused me two separate shocks. The lady had four arms and was a pickpocket. Immediately she arose and started to leave the car. On the instant I decided how I would act. I hurried after the misguided young woman, pausing an instant only to say to the lady whose purse she had taken:

"Madam, if you have lost any of your property, report to police headquarters. Perhaps I can recover it for you."

The lady looked up in surprise, but I did not wait. I sprang from the car and took after the four armed lady.

She had left the avenue and was walking rapidly down a side street when I overtook her.

"I'm afraid you are a bad young woman," I said.

She looked around in astonishment. "What, my elderly protector again?" she said, and began to laugh, but did not pause in her rapid walk. I had difficulty in keeping up with her.

"I saw you take that purse," I said sternly, "and I want you to give it to me."

"What purse? What are you talking about?" she said angrily.

"The purse of that lady who sat beside you. There is no need for you to dissemble," I replied. "If you don't do as I bid you, I will have you arrested."

She shot a wicked look at me from under her black brows, but made no reply.

"It is a shame that you should turn your affliction to such base advantage," I said.

"What affliction?" she asked.

I did not wish to wound her unnecessarily and hesitated before replying.

"The fact that you have two arms more than other people."

She turned away her head, and her shoulders shook. I thought I heard a sound of laughter, but when she turned around she seemed to be crying.

"You don't know what I suffer on account of it," she said, her voice broken by sobs. "People avoid me as a monstrosity. I am very poor, too, and this is the first time I have ever stolen."

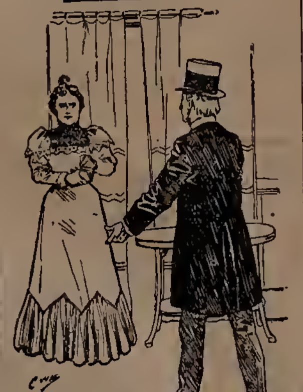
I could not help feeling sorry for her.

"Give me the purse," I said, "and perhaps I can help you."

She put out her hand—one of the pretty ungloved ones—and laid the purse in my extended palm.

"Thank you so much," she said—"no, do not follow me—we shall meet again." And she almost ran away from me.

At the first convenient opportunity I examined the purse. It contained nothing but a little change, a pair of eyeglasses, a key and some visiting cards. The address on the latter was quite near at hand. After waiting awhile to give the owner time to get home I called there. The lady had just returned and was in a state of great excitement. She clutched the purse when I gave it to her and began to thank me hysterically until she opened it, when she cried:



"WHY, THERE'S NOTHING IN IT!"

"Why, there's nothing in it! Where is the money?"

"Madam," I said, "that is just the way it was given to me."

"By whom?"

"By the young woman who took it."

"Oh, I dare say! You and your young woman are a precious pair!"

The front door opened, and her husband entered. The excited lady ran to him and began a most ridiculously misleading account of the whole affair and my connection with it.

"There seems to be something very strange here," said the husband. "When did you discover that my wife was robbed?"

"I saw the woman stealing her purse."

"Why didn't you denounce her then as a thief?"

"Well, I didn't think that necessary. I thought it might be her first offense, as indeed it afterward proved to be."

"Humph! Just wait here a few minutes, will you?"

He went out, and when he returned it was with a policeman.

"I'd like to hear this interesting story of yours told in a police court," said the man.

Despite my indignant protestations I was placed under arrest and taken to the police station, where I was locked up. In vain I sent messages here and there. My lawyer was out of town, and so, it seemed, were all my friends. I was forced to pass the night in that dreadful place, and early the next morning I was arraigned in the police court. We had police justices in those days, and the one before whom I was brought was an old friend—or rather an old enemy. I had faced him once before during the last days of my unfortunate cold water experiment.

Moriarty P. J. glared at me from under his bushy eyebrows as he heard the charge—larceny.

"I've seen you before," he said. "Weren't you up here once for violation of the excise law?"

"I was not," I answered indignantly.

"Are you represented by counsel?"

"No. I don't need any. This charge is too ridiculous."

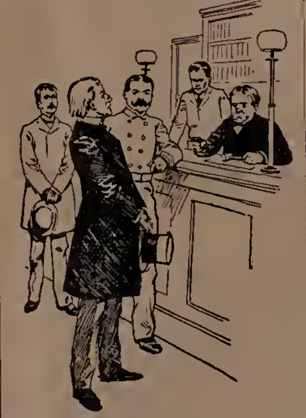
He advised me to waive examination until I could procure counsel, but I demanded that the case proceed at once.

It was astonishing what an array of evil looking things they brought against me.

The detective in a big department store said he had seen a woman, whom he recognized as a shoplifter, acting suspiciously. When she found she was watched, she left the establishment. He followed her and saw her join me on the sidewalk.

The policeman on the post testified that half an hour after the time mentioned by the detective he had observed a woman, who was a well known crook and who was called sometimes "Lady Liza" and sometimes "Slippery Lize," get off a car. I had followed and joined her, and the officer had seen her hand me something.

"That is all perfectly true," I said, "but if this unhappy young woman is in truth a 'well known crook' and not, as I believe, a first time offender, it is singular that neither of these witnesses mentions a most striking personal peculiarity. I refer to the fact that the young woman has the misfortune to have four arms."



"I'VE SEEN YOU BEFORE."

The policeman and the detective both burst out laughing. "Sure, yer honor," said the former, "that's one of Slippery Lize's old tricks. She wears a pair of stuffed arms for show and uses her own to work with under her cloak."

"I think you're a sly one," said Justice Moriarty, frowning at me, "and I'm going to hold you for general sessions."

A young lawyer who, it seems, knew me, and who had come in during the examination, now came forward and spoke privately to the justice. I could not help overhearing part of what he said. He told the justice all about my water store and said that I was well meaning and undoubtedly honest, but here he dropped his voice and tapped his forehead while I caught the words "crank" and "little off."

Justice Moriarty, addressing me, said, "I remember you now, and I'm going to let you off this time, but"—

"I decline," I interrupted, "to accept my disgrace on the ground of any mental deficiency. I am in possession of all my faculties, and if a desire to aid my fellow"—

"You'll take what you can get," shouted Moriarty P. J. in a fury, "and now get out of here double quick! Here's a piece of advice for you, too," he cried, shaking his finger at me. "Keep your nose out of other people's business!"

Of course this was coarsely put; but, smarting as I was under the way my last attempt to help somebody had been misunderstood, I determined to act upon the advice. Thereafter I gave all my thoughts to my own pocketbook, to my own appetites, to my own footsteps. I was astonished to find how much better I got along, and, so far as I could see, others got along just as well as before. I have now changed the old order of my life. I have come to the conclusion that people don't care to be benefited.

At the Charity Bazar.

Jones—What is Newlywed Bigghedd looking so glum about?

Smith—Why the gypsy fortune-teller just told his wife that she would have two husbands, and that the second one would be a very fine sort of a man.

Jones—Ha, ha! And Bigghedd thinks that is a reflection on him, I suppose?

Smith—Oh, no! He thinks his wife must have been married before, and never told him.—Puck.

A Record in Blood.

The record of Hood's Sarsaparilla is literally written in the blood of millions of people to whom it has given good health. It is all the time curing diseases of the stomach, nerves, kidneys and blood, and it is doing good every day to thousands who are taking it for poor appetite, tired feeling and general debility. It is the best medicine money can buy.

Hoods Pills are non irritating. Price 25 cents.

To Mothers In This Town.

Children who are delicate, feverish and cross will get immediate relief from Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children. They cleanse the stomach, act on the liver, making a sickly child strong and healthy. A certain cure for worms. Sold by all druggists, 25c; sample free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

COOL
SIMMERING
SLOW
MODERATE
BRISK
HOT VERY HOT

A Turn of the Valve

You can get any degree of heat you require on a Wickless Oil Stove by a single turn of the valve—from a simmering fire and a slow oven to a hot top and a fast oven. There's no limit to the range of its usefulness. It gives absolute control of cooking whether baking, boiling, broiling, roasting or simply toasting. Can you do more on any coal or gas range? The

Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove

is making summer housekeeping easy. It is giving cooking comfort at low cost. No smoke or smell. Sold wherever stoves are sold. If your dealer does not have it, write to
STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON — 5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 15, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 39, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD — 9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 13, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m. S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

GEO L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays [illegible] f stops on notice to agent or conductor [illegible] except Monday; ¶ runs daily, [illegible] but on Saturday runs two hours later [illegible] given. § Stops only for New York passen[illegible] ☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days, Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G. A. Martin, M.D.,
. . AND . . .
C. B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

You May Need
Pain-Killer
For ACCIDENTS
Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Wounds, &c., &c.
It gives instant relief and cures quickly.
In case of sudden illness
Cramps
Diarrhœa
Dysentery
and
All Bowel Complaints
it is a sure, safe and quick remedy.
There's ONLY ONE
Pain-Killer
Perry Davis'.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)
ALL DRUGGISTS.
ja10-1y

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., ex[illegible] holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
[illegible] first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

Prevention Better Than Cure.

because in the case of moth it is the only remedy possible. Our Moth Balls and Camphorine will render furs and other articles of winter clothing absolutely secure against the ravages of these pests. Don't delay action where the emergency is immediate. Today, and not tomorrow, is the Moth Ball time, since mischief once done is irreparable.

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.
DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

There was a large attendance at the town hall to witness the graduation of the class of 1900, W. H. S. The hall was handsomely decorated with ferns and daises. The following is a list of the graduates: Evelyn Soderberg Johnson, Bertha Eliza White, Bertha Mary Willard, Christina Darling Winter, Mildred Gardner Follett, Anna Lawson Tilson, James Earl Rogers, Louise Adelaide Follett, Merrill Nelson Falk, George Allen Gilmore, Clarence George McEwen, Elton Calvin Metcalf. Addresses were made by Elbridge J. Whitaker, Esq., and Supt. A. B. Cole. The class elected the following officers: President, James Earl Rogers; vice-president, George Allen Gilmore; treas. Bertha May Willard; sec., Bertha Eliza White. The class motto, "Constantia Vencit."——Miss Annie M. Sullivan gave a birthday party for Miss Hellen Keller Wednesday afternoon; the party was conveyed by N. B. Webber to Noon Hill where lunch was served. The party returned home late in the evening.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Spain and Alaska.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending June 27, 1900:

Ladies—Miss Ada Bell, Mrs. Isaac Hagerman, Miss Rosanna Landry, Miss Mame Lyons, Miss M. J. Malaney, Mrs. Martha Stevens, Mrs. Emma Ramsden.

Gentlemen—Frank Sprague Church, Thos. Durkan, Lewis Geoudreton, Jos. McDonald, Jas. McNulty, Frederick D. Monks, H. J. Stewart.

Foreign—Mons. Louis Marceau.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Church Services.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D. D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "The Broken Body." Y.P.C.U. at 6.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. Samuel Halfyard at 10.30 and 7.30. Sunday school at 12. Junior league at 3.00. Epworth league at 6.30.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 3. Sunday school at 4. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Baptist church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. F. B. Sleeper, on "Lost Opportunities." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Preaching at 7 on "National Crisis and Tribulation. A short after service in the vestry.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. I. W. Sneath, Ph. D.; theme, "Chosen to the Inner Circle;" also communion service. No Sunday school. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30; consecration service, to be followed with a short sermon by the pastor upon the topic, "A Woman's Mirror and What She Did With It." No other evening service.

A Frightful Blunder.

Will often cause a horrible burn, Scald Cut or Bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures Old Sores, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, all skin Eruptions. Best Pile cure on earth. Only 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. Druggists.

When you need medicine you should get the best that money can buy, and experience proves this to be Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Smooth Not Broken.

"Tommy," exclaimed Mrs. Fogg, "don't you know it is Sunday? Don't you know it is naughty to make a kite to-day?"

"But, my dear,' interposed Fogg, "don't you see that he is making it out of a religious paper?"

"Oh!" said Mrs. F——, "I didn't notice that."—Boston Transcript.

Constipation

Headache, biliousness, heartburn, indigestion, and all liver ills are cured by

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists 25 cents.

THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND,

with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain

Our Store is Light and Cool,

the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

SPECIAL REDUCTION SALE.

Ladies' Tailor-Made Suits.

LADIES' SUIT, sold for $8.50; sale price $5.75.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $9.00; sale price $5.75.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $9.50; sale price $6.98.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $10.00; sale price $7.50.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $10.00; sale price $7.98.
LADIES' SUIT, sold for $15.00; sale price $8.75.
LADIES' SUIT SKIRT and JACKET, silk lined throughout; was $17.50, now $11.75.
LADIES' HEAVY WOOL BICYCLE and RAINY-DAY SKIRTS; were $2.00, this sale $1.49.

These are all this season's goods and in the latest style and fresh condition.

Marston Sanborn,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.
BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

WINDERS
WANTED
..BY..
WORCESTER TEXTILE CO.
UNIONVILLE, MASS.

Hoag Lake
PARK.

Attractions Every Week.

EACH AFTERNOON and EVENING THIS WEEK.

Boom's Enterprises.

With an all-star cast of favorite Metropolitan artists. An hour and a quarter condensed version of the two tunniest tuneful and most popular

Comic Operas
ever written.

"SAID PASHA"
..AND..
"MASCOTTE."

Sacred Concert
BY THE OPERA COMPANY
Sunday Afternoon and Evening.

je29-toc1

At WOODWARD'S
every description of
INSURANCE
can be placed. This AGENCY
officially represents the
LEADING
American and Foreign
COMPANIES.
F. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass
my4-lyF

JUST THE WEATHER TO ENJOY A
HAMMOCK.
We have them for 75c. to $4.25.

Oil Stoves, 1, 2 and 3 burners, 50c., 98c. and $1.48.
Screen Doors and Window Screens.
Refrigerator Pans, Watering Pots.

W. E. Crowninshield
2 METCALF BLOCK.
my4-4m5

Lake Pearl,
WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - Prop'r and Mgr.

JULY 4.

Grand Celebration.

BATTERY A BAND,
Marine Corps of Artillery,

Providence, R. I., will furnish music. Band Concert to commence at 10 a. m. Music for the pavilion furnished by Fales' Orchestra. Dancing free during the day.

GRAND ENTERTAINMENT
In the Natural Amphitheatre at 3.30 and 8.30 p. m.
Philips' & Miles' All-Star Specialty Co.

BICYCLE RACES
CALLED AT 2 P. M. SHARP

1 Mile Open, for Gents—1st prize, striped Jersey; 2d, bicycle bell.
1 Mile Open, for Ladies—1st prize, bicycle lantern; 2d, cyclometer.
1-2 Mile Dash, boys under 18—1st prize, striped Jersey; 2d, golf hose.
1 Mile Running Race, open—1st prize, running shoes; 2d, gold-headed cane.

A Genuine Rhode Island Clam Bake
WILL BE SERVED.

Admission --- Adults 25c.
Children 10c.

TAKING THE REINS.

In 95 races Woodsbed, 2:09¼, has missed the money only nine times.

A 2-year-old brother to Azmoor, 2:13¼, has been named General Joe in honor of General Wheeler.

George U. Curtis has purchased the gray pacer Gil Curry, 2:09½, and will use him on the road.

The colt by Margrave, 3, 2:15½, out of Cora Lee, by Axtell, is eligible to stakes to the value of $52,000.

It is said that Frank Stannard spent the entire season of 1899 teaching The Swift, 2:09¾, to pace without hopples.

Lucie May, 2, 2:22½, winner of the pacing division of the Kentucky Futurity last year, is being trained at the trot.

Monroe Salisbury's "hearse horse" San Pedro, 2:10¾ pacing, 2:14½ trotting, is now driven on the New York speedway by Frank Ferguson.

Dave McClary will ride in the free for all ranks again this year, as C. W. Lasell has sent Rubenstein, 2:05, to him to campaign this season. The fast Baron Wilkes pacer is now at Hartford.

William Holland, Waterloo, Ia., claims the horse auction championship. On March 27 he sold 4,100 horses at St. Paul in exactly five hours, or nearly 14 horses per minute. The sale aggregated $161,000, or $9 per second.

A 3-year-old by Emperor Wilkes, out of Countess Emeline, by Chimes, has paced a quarter this spring in 0:31, and another by the same sire, out of Psyche, 2:15¼, has stepped a half in 1:08 and a quarter in 0:33. Both youngsters are owned at Reservoir farm, Lexington, Mass.

Miss Bennett again demonstrated her ability to beat the best 2-year-olds [illegible] the Memphis track. With 115 pounds up recently she won the Memphis Stakes in a gallop from Garry Herrman and Bad Scharr, both stake winners, and equaled the local track record for five furlongs, 1:01¾.

POULTRY POINTERS.

To be sure of vigorous, healthy chicks it is best to use for hatching eggs that are less than 15 days old.

Oats are a very useful food, as they stimulate without enervating, and help to make a variety.

While the gizzard of the fowl [illegible] the food, it can only be done [illegible] the aid of sharp, gritty material.

One advantage with the Pekin duck is that they can be raised with only as much water as they need to drink.

Spring chickens at spring prices pay better than fowls sold later on, even though the later birds weigh more.

One advantage with poultry farming is that although but little land is required the harvest comes every day.

Feather pulling is largely due to idleness. It is most apt to occur in active breeds kept confined and given no exercise.

Crowd the growth of the early chickens as fast as possible. The earlier they are sent to the market the better prices they will bring.

Eggshells are good for fowls, but they should be crushed very fine before feeding them or the hens may get into the habit of egg eating.—St. Louis Republic.

Coming of Power.

Power comes when there is a real desire to have it. When such desires take hold of us in a religious life, then we will have power.—Rev. C. L. Wort, Presbyterian, Cincinnati.

Angels' Food.

Whatever we have of youth or health or brains or wealth is our portion of angels' food, yet remember that even angels' food can breed worms and rot.—Rev. E. Trumbull Lee, Presbyterian, Cincinnati.

Influence of Associations.

A man's habits of thoughts, a man's very nature, is changed by his associations. If he makes companions of the coarse and sordid, he will become coarse and sordid.—Rev. H. E. Cobb, Reformed, New York.

Need of a Personal Faith.

What this age is specially needing is that every man get a faith of his own and stand fast by it. Without this anything like stalwart manhood is impossible.—Rev. Dr. Adoniram J. Rowland, Baptist, St. Louis.

Spain's Greatest Need.

Mr. R. P. Olivia, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest Blood and Nerve Remedy, all pain soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. All America knows that it cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nerves, puts vim, vigor and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of the body. If weak, tired or ailing you need it. Every bottle guaranteed, only 50 cts. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. Druggists.

BUG DEATH...
A NON-POISONOUS POWDER.

Is sure death to potato, squash and cucumber bugs, currant and tomato worms, and other plant and vine-eating pests. It is a benefit to the plant, and the more freely used the better the plant will thrive. For potatoes when blight is prevalent the extra yield will more than pay all expense of Bug Death.

1 lb. pkg, 15c. 3 lbs., 35c. 5 lbs., 50c. 12 1-2 lbs., $1.
Perfection Shaker, 50c.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist
PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Try the Noxall Pulley Belt
..LATEST STYLES IN..
FIGURED LAWNS,
DIMITIES or
FANCY GINGHAMS?
Butterick's Patterns and Delineators for July
..NOW READY..
N. C. NYE,
FLETCHER BLOCK.

CORNED BEEF and VEGETABLES
FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Native Beets, bunch	6c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Cabbage, lb.	3c
Thick Flanks	6c	Spinach, peck.	10c
Spring Broilers	28c	String Beans, qt.	5c
Fresh Killed Fowls	18c	Lettuce, head	5c
Smoked Bacon, strip	10c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,
POST OFFICE BLOCK.
fe1-1y8

GROCERIES AT COST.

Sale now going on at

McKinnon's Grocery Store,
CENTRAL SQUARE.

Stock must be sold to close business. If you want first-class Grocercies at half price don't miss this chance.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

The Alphabet Advertiser

A for apricots, both dried and canned,
B for biscuits of all the best brands,
C for crackers and clams for chowder,
D for doughnuts and Dalmation powder,
E for extracts of Baker's best make,
F for fish that will make fine fish cakes,
G for groceries kept neat and in shape,
H for honey to eat on wheat cakes,
I for Indian corn meal and ink,
J for fruit juice for a summer drink,
K for Kennedy, whose goods we stand by,
L for lemons that make a nice pie,
M for mince meat, molasses and mace,
N for Nestle's, whose milk suits the taste,
O for onions, a sure cure for the croup
P for potatoes to eat in your soup,
Q for Quaker, those rolled oats so nice,
R for raisins for puddings and rice,
S for sugar, sand soap and saleratus,
T for tubs, tapioca and tomatoes,
U for undoubtedly the cheapest in town,
V for vinegar as sour as can be found,
W for witch hazel that makes one strong,
X for Xebec, a vessel it was used on,
Y for yeast that will raise bread best,
Z for zeal in which we stand the test.

C. L. FALES, Grocer.
no17-F

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary
Summer St., Franklin, Mass.
ap278

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,
Jewelers and Opticians
160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.
de1 Fly

TAKE ADVANTAGE
Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 53. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, JULY 3, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Monthly Statement Benjamin Franklin Savings Bank	2
Lake Pearl	4
Administratrix' Notice	4
Otto Gas and Gasoline Engines	2
A. C. Dana & Son	4
Hoag Lake Park	4
Fur Felt Finishers Wanted	4
Crowninshield's Store	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Miss Annie Rheuu of Milford is the guest of the Misses Doherty of Cottage street.

Jeremiah Halloran of Weymouth spent Sunday at the home of his mother on Main street.

A number of young people are preparing to take in the summer school at Hyannis this season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Young, who have been visiting at C. W. Stewart's, returned to Vermont yesterday.

Miss Annie Thompson of Woonsocket is visiting at the home of Cornelius Curran on McCarthy street.

Miss Lizzie Donlon has returned to Blackstone after a week's visit with Mr. and Mrs. James Garrity here.

Division 8 A. O. H., will hold a special meeting this evening, when officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Rev. and Mrs. Arthur Sharp of West Somerville have been guests of J. T. Hutchison. Mr. Sharp was formerly located here.

D. Frank Pendergast and Joseph Maroney returned Sunday evening from Providence, where they have been visiting friends.

Campaign flags cannot be swung out this year with the party candidates names upon them, but their pictures can be placed there.

The Carters will play at North Attleboro tomorrow morning, and will present a strong game. A number of base ball enthusiasts will attend.

Miss Viets will be away for a few days vacation and will return about July 11th to finish the season in the millinery department in Sanborn's store.

Saturday night one of the large eight-wheeled cars on the Medway & Franklin street railway carried a little over 500 passengers from 6 till 10.45 p. m.

Mrs. Charles R. Gowen of Pleasant street entertained her father, Mr. Wm. H. Williams and her brother, J. Everett Williams and family of Attleboro, Sunday.

The Franklins were "wallopped" at Woonsocket on Saturday to the tune of 18 to 9. If that team is to represent Franklin it ought to get a winning nine together.

The Harvard quartette of Boston, which has been heard here so many times with pleasure, sang at the Universalist church in Woonsocket last Sabbath, "Lily Sunday."

Griffin court, M. C. O. F., will celebrate the Fourth with a smoke-talk at their rooms in the evening. Foresters from North Attleboro, Medway, Holliston and Walpole will be present.

The M. W. & A. street railway company talk of putting in a switch track near Indian Rock park to avoid the wait which is now necessary here for the Wrentham car to arrive.

The showers Thursday evening put a quietus on the plans for band concerts, and such amusements in this vicinity, and people were more intent on keeping themselves dry than seeking recreation.

When the late Charles J. McKenzie was in business, says a former employe, it was his custom at Christmas to present each married employe with five dollars and the single men with a smaller amount.

Miss Catherine Costello and Michael Costello of West street, attended the High school graduation exercises at Southbridge Thursday evening. Their cousin, Miss Marion Cousins, was among the graduates.

At the meeting of the selectmen Friday bills were approved and sewer matters discussed at some length. The teachers' pay roll for the end of the school year was passed. Anthony Connor was appointed dog officer.

The storm in Franklin Wednesday afternoon caused a slight fire at the shoddy mill. The lightning came in on a wire and it was soon discovered that the roof was on fire. A hose was secured and it was extinguished without much damage.

Have a good time tomorrow, boys, but be careful of fire. Don't take too many chances at getting hurt. The Fourth was made to enjoy but hardly at the expense of a long period of pain. You can be boys and at the same time young gentlemen. Rowdies are always at a discount.

A large congregation at the M. E. church Sunday morning listened to a very helpful sermon, replete with well chosen points and good precepts by Rev. Samuel Halfyard of Newfoundland, who supplies during Pastor Cook's absence. His subject was prayer, and the impression made was a very favorable one.

A large crowd will go to North Attleboro tomorrow to enjoy the Carter-North Attleboro game. As the teams are shifted so much this season the rivalry will be especially keen. Most of the old-time favorites will be in one team or the other, and will have their supporters. Electrics now take passengers to within a short distance of the ground from the Franklin post office.

John Love, an aged and respected farmer of Norfolk, was attacked by a heifer while in his pasture Sunday morning, knocked down and gored. He was in an unconscious state when discovered. A messenger was at once dispatched for Dr. G. A. Martin, who upon his arrival found that Mr. Love had three ribs broken and was suffering greatly from shock. He is 70 years of age, and although somewhat improved today, his condition is still serious.

There is a general feeling of sympathy for Charles Stewart the straw goods manufacturer, that he has been obliged to close his establishment, and it is sincerely hoped that the place may be re-opened under his management or that of some one. It is too valuable a plant to remain closed, and our straw workers here would be sadly disappointed to be obliged to seek work out of town. Mr. Stewart's liabilities are said to be under $40,000, the bad seasons having a decided effect upon the trade.

Francis McKenna, a shoemaker, who kept a cobbling shop and lived on Union street, near Nason's crossing, died at his home at 2 o'clock Sunday morning after a short illness. On Thursday last he went to Medway to visit relatives and was taken ill, and from that time until the end came he had been in a weak condition. He had been a sufferer from malaria. He was about 63 years of age and single. The funeral will be held from St. Mary's chapel tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock.

The case of Willie R. Cook, charged with neglecting to have his child attend school, was partially heard by the district court Saturday morning. Superintendent of Schools E. D. Daniels, W. A. Wyckoff of the School committee, N. E. Newell, truant officer, and John H. Tyler, the transportation agent for the South Framingham district, were the witnesses heard and Mrs. Cook, wife of the defendant, was on the stand when an adjournment was taken to July 5. It was shown that the committee offered to drive the barge to the house of Robert Wyllie for the accommodation of Mr. Cook's children, but Mr. Cook declined to send his children under that arrangement.

F. S. Gore, treasurer of the Norfolk Western electric road, now running into Franklin, is a delegate to the Democratic convention now in session in Kansas City. He is a delegate for the 10th district, was born April 15, 1862, in South Boston. In 1885 he went into business for himself as a paver and a street railway builder, under the firm name of F. S. Gore & Co., and in 1891 merged his business with that of H. Gore & Co., and became and still is a member of that firm. He is also president of the Boston Asphalt company, and is largely interested in street railways, including the Norfolk Western and Medfield and Medway lines. He was a member of the common council from ward 15 in 1892. He was a member of the old ward 15 committee and chairman of the new ward 16 committee until 1899, when he removed to ward 24. He was a delegate to the Chicago convention in 1896.

A Community Saddened.

"Was here; is gone. And thus from earth goes one whose love of life, of home, of friends, was ever keen. No dark and fearsome thought of shores beyond, but one whose hope was clear, whose trust supreme and faith triumphant. We say he is not here. But why speak thus? 'Tis true the form hath gone. Sight is not all. Example lives and inspiration lends to lives that come. He hath not lived in vain."—Trueman.

The story which passed from lip to lip last Friday evening that Charles J. McKenzie had suddenly passed away seemed almost incredible, especially to those who had not known of his illness and to those who had but recently conversed with him, apparently in good health. The cause of his death was angina pectoris. The funeral was held from his late residence yesterday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Hodge of the Universalist church and Rev. Dr. Sneath of the Congregational church officiating.

Mr. McKenzie was in many respects a rare man. He was of a quiet disposition, unostentatious to a degree, open, frank, a hater of shams, a firm friend, and had ever a kindly word for every one. Perhaps no man in town had more friends than he, and no friend had they more worthy. He loved friendship for its own sake, and cared nothing for social or political power. Again and again his friends desired him to take office, always to be met with the same answer; he preferred to serve in a less conspicuous way, but no less to serve.

He was a thorough business man, giving by nature that attention to detail which makes for success, and and so long as he was blessed with good health made himself felt in the manufacturing world. He was possessed of excellent judgment, was a sound adviser and keen judge of men. His counsels were wise and safe and much sought after, as evidenced by the many positions of trust which he held.

His charities were far greater than any one knew. In regard to this his pastor, Rev. Dr. Hodge, pays him this deserved tribute:

"Mr. McKenzie has been an unknown helper to many people, in ways that during his lifetime were not permitted to become known. No man was ever more kindly thoughtful for others, giving and helping, not unwisely and impulsively, but conscientiously and generously, as a man responsible for the right use of what he had, but also his brother's helper. Quiet and undemonstrative, he was yet a man of deeply religious instinct, a churchgoer who worshipped in his own soul and in the deep and earnest endeavor to do his full duty as a man, as in the sight of God, kindly and tolerant, giving full credit to truth and goodness wherever he found them; he was always a faithful servant and supporter of the Universalist church, the teachings of which were accordant with his reason and his sympathies. The place he has left in that church it would be hard indeed to fill."

His devotion to Dean academy is too well known to require comment. He had been for a long time a trustee of Dean and for many years its treasurer. No institution could have asked a more faithful stewardship or a better friend. He gave to its interest not a perfunctory service, but such thoughtful care and generous zeal as ordinary men give only to their own business. In a thousand ways he made the institution the better for his devotion, and every teacher and pupil felt his whole-hearted interest in the school.

The deceased was in the fifty-fourth year of his age, and was born in Woodstock, Vt., in 1846, his father being Justin McKenzie, a succesful woolen manufacturer and one of the proprietors of the Dewey Mills at Quechee, Vt., a plant that is still in existence, and in the conduct of which the son had an interest. He received his education in the district schools, and entered Tufts College when a young man, graduating therefrom in 1868 with high honors.

His business life began shortly after he finished his collegiate course. He came to Franklin in 1872, and in the manufacture of felting he associated himself with Hon. Joseph G. Ray of Franklin and Hon. Oscar J. Rathbun of Woonsocket, R. I., both deceased, under the firm name of Ray, Rathbun & McKenzie, with factories at Nason's crossing.

In 1879 he also became interested in City Mills Felt company. In 1881 he bought out his partners here and changed from felt to woven woolen goods. Later his health compelled him to retire from active business, but since then he has been in many responsible positions of trust, and was at the time of his death custodian of the Dean fund of $25,000 for the benefit of the Universalist church.

Mr. McKenzie married Feb. 24, 1874, Louise, daughter of Eliakim Johnson of Woodstock, Vt., a granddaughter of Jacob Collamore. His widow and a brother, Mr. Frank S. McKenzie, a woolen manufacturer of Woodstock, survive him.

The body was taken to Woodstock, Vt., this morning for interment.

"And there they left him, where he oft had roved
To greet at morn each mountain's purple dome;
In constant sight of the dear hills he loved,
His happy boyhood home."

PERGE MODO.

The High School's Successful and Pleasing Graduation.

Congratulations are surely in order at the pleasing exercises attendant upon the graduation of the members of class of 1900, of the Horace Mann High school, in the Opera House Friday evening. The hall was well filled, the exercises held the close attention of the large audience, and the nature of the exercises was a pleasant relief from what is apt to be given in public graduations.

Principal Daniels and his assistants have surely done faithful work if results are taken into consideration, and Franklin citizens have every reason to feel that the money expended for this High school is wisely used in the selection of the corps of workers.

The decorations, in charge of Miss Ham, were more elaborate than usual, and surely never surpassed in attractiveness and artistic arrangement. The stage was banked with flowers potted and otherwise, the stage doors were relieved by overhanging evergreen porches, festoons of green and color were twined about the room, and back of all on the stage stood out the class motto, "Perge Modo," press bravely on.

As representative of the school Board, William A. Wyckoff spoke of the sudden death of Charles J. McKenzie, who has been so closely identified with education, especially at Dean academy, saying had it been possible the exercises would have been postponed, but owing to the shortness of time for announcement it was not possible.

The following was the order of exercises:

March—"March of the Praetorian Guard"—
Miss Alice Grace Nixon.
Song—"Their Native Land" .... F. Masini
Chorus.
Prayer .... Rev. I. W. Sneath
Essay—"An Old-Time Club."
Miss Maisie B. Whiting, Salutatorian.
Reading—"Diccon's Death"
(To Have and to Hold."
Miss Caroline Guigon.
An Illustration—
"Some of the Physical Features of Franklin."
Miss Angelina M. McManus.
Oration—"Oliver Cromwell."
Miss Mabel H. Aldrich.
Song—"Over the Waves We Float"—
Stephen Glover
Chorus.
Essay—"The Department Store."
Miss Charlotte E. Butters.
Reading—"Modern Improvements at the Peterkins'" .... Lucretia P. Hale
Miss Mary E. Hutchinson.
Songs—"Lullabies."
Miss Clementine S. Guigon.
Stereopticon—"Snap Shots in Scotland."
James H. Hood.
Essay—"Some Geometrical Ideas in Decorative Art."
Miss Ellen J. Butters, Valedictorian.
Presentation of Diplomas.... William A. Wyckoff
Song—"Night" .... A. Ergman
Chorus.
Benediction .... Rev. I. W. Sneath

The first number upon the programme by Miss Nixon showed her mastery of the piano, her excellent interpretation and musical taste. The choruses, under the direction of the musical instructor, Mrs. Hosmer, were finely rendered, particular attention being paid to time and tone. The singers were entirely under the sway of the instructor's baton.

Miss Whiting warmly welcomed the friends to the exercises, saying that their presence indicated the interest in the pupils and the cause of education. She compared the clubs of the present day with those of the olden time, contrasting the conditions and the participants, evidencing close historical study of the personages of that period.

Miss Guigou's recitation was dramatically handled, with clear conception of the author's meaning and delivered with marked degree of histrionic ability. The illustration by Miss McManus was decidedly novel, nothing of the kind having been done here. She exhibited a large relief map; showing all the hills, valleys, streams, lakes, etc., in this section, together with a geological description, which showed a vast amount of time and research, as well as a natural aptitude for such study.

Miss Aldrich gave her hearers an interesting study of the life of Cromwell, his characteristics, his wonderful personality outlining his career, and marking the salient points in his history in a pleasing manner, showing, as well, that she had given this remarkable man a good deal of thought and study.

Miss Butters handled the department store in a manner entirely new to her audience, showing as she did how such a vast number of articles and sales are watched, checked, charged, etc., accompanying her description with large diagrams which indicated every detail of the work. She made it very interesting.

Miss Hutchinson's reading was very enjoyable, the shades of humor being delicately brought out and well recited. The pictures shown by Mr. Hood, 24 in number, were taken by him in a trip abroad, and were accompanied by bits of pleasing historical description, which showed that he had "kept his eyes open" and used them to advantage. This was something new in graduations and was thoroughly appreciated.

One of the especially pleasing things of the programme was Miss Guigou's "Lullabies," as she gave a brief history of music, its various phases, dwelling upon that which especially appeals to children. She sang a number of them very sweetly, in various tongues, with fine vocal expression, and deftness of touch.

Miss Butters showed a number of large charts, extremly well drawn with designs from Greek and Roman art in architecture, showing their relation to each other and how they had been combined to make the pleasing effects obtained. The drawings held the general interest, while the historical portion finely supplemented the artistic work. In bidding the school farewell she said as follows:

"Years ago, in different gardens, seeds were planted. Slowly, year after year, they grew. The master of the garden carefully pruned and watered the [illegible] ers. Some grew tall and fair; others, refusing to grow in the garden, were removed.

"Friends of the schools, we, the class of 1900, thank you for the garden, gardeners and growth. The gardener planteth his hopes with his seeds and later reaps his thought in fruit. What matter if at home the growth were slow? Squashes, in a season, ripen; oaks, in years. What matter if, in pruning, the master's knife cut keep? The fruit grew fairer. What matter if the storm and wind and heat beat upon us? Its endurance gave us strength.

"Today we leave the sheltered garden for a larger life. Today we highly resolve to so live in the days to come that you, our friends, may reap the fruit of your long labors, to so live that at nightfall we may hear the voice of the Master of all saying: 'Well done, good and faithful servants.' Dear teachers, classmates, school committee and friends, farewell.

"Dear schoolmates, your days today are prophetic of good will. Your prophecy prepares your future. Fret not thyself at correction. Does the tree reprove the master's knife when pruning? Does the iron on the anvil complain of the hammer's stroke which fashions it into use? Does the ore murmur at the furnace's heat which melts out its dross? Thus through discipline good becomes better. Schoolmates,

"Press bravely on and reach the goal,
And gain the prize and wear the crown.
Faint not, for to the steadfast soul
Come wealth and honor and renown.
To thine own self be true and keep
Thy mind from sloth, thy heart from soil.
Press on, and thou shalt surely reap
A heavenly harvest for thy toil."

In awarding diplomas Mr. Wyckoff gave the graduates some wholesome and timely advice, reminding them that their work had but just begun, and leaving the impression upon them that the future depended largely upon themselves. He also called the attention of parents to an absolutely necessary factor in education—the hearty and persistent co-operation of the parents. He urged them to visit the schools and watch the progress of the pupils, thus encouraging them and the instructors as well. It is hoped that the earnest words of the school committee will be heeded,

The following are the graduates:

Classical course—Ellen Josephine Butters, Mary Elizabeth Hutchinson, Maisie Blanche Whiting.

English course—Mabel Huntley Aldrich, Caroline Hall Guigon. Angelina Mary McManus.

Commercial course—Charlotte Edna Butters.

The Fourth at Lake Pearl.

Never in the history of this popular resort has so elaborate arrangement been made by manager Enegren to provide amusement, recreation and a general good time as this year. All classes, all ages, all tastes are provided for. Come and have an outing where cool breezes blow. See list of attractions on the fourth page.

I have purchased the blacksmith shop formerly owned by Rogers & Son, on Cottage street, and will continue the business in all its branches at the same stand. Horseshoeing a specialty. I solicit a share of the public patronage.

WM R. NICHOLS.

The ice cream season is here and with it we come prepared to serve customers with ice cream made by us. We are not the only ones who make it in Norfolk county, but our cream is second to none, and the proof of the pudding is in the eating. Our ice cream parlor at the store is neat and cool. We have a new team on the road and you will find us on the streets when cream is wanted. Ice cream will be furnished in any quantity at short notice and orders taken and delivered.

A. E. WINCHENBACH,
Opera House Block, Central square.

Pineapples for preserving, only $1 a dozen. Now is your chance. For the Fourth we have fireworks of all kinds at lowest prices. Come to us for fruit of every kind in season for preserving. Our prices are lowest for quality.

ZENONI & GREGORI.

Eat fish as well as meat. Shad, sword fish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fish-man.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

Read the Business Announcements.

COMMUNICATIONS.

(The editor assumes no responsibility for matter under this caption. This column is entirely at the disposal of the public, avoiding, as far as possible, trivial and controversial matter.)

MR. EDITOR.—On one of the very hot days past previous to the death of our beloved townsman, Mr. Charles J. McKenzie, I overheard him say to Mr. Quilter, who was mowing his lawn, "Take care of yourself Clarence; it is very warm; there is another day coming."

To every toiler passing those grounds, those words should shed their fragrance like the summer flowers, coming as they did from an employer to employee.

No better index could be given of his kindly heart.

E. H. S.

Census Notes.

Counting about seventy-five millions of people is a big job, and would have been quite a job for Messrs. Newell and White, but the fact that it was undertaken by no less than 52,000 enumerators, not to mention several thousand supervisors, special agents and clerks, made the individual burden less weighty than would otherwise be the case.

If reports are creditable some of the census takers experienced a good deal of trouble in their efforts to count noses and obtain facts considered necessary by Uncle Sam. So far as known here Messrs. Newell and White, with few exceptions, found courteous treatment and prompt answers to questions. It is a favorite pastime for citizens to speculate on the probable increase of population over the count ten years ago and estimates are given from 50 per cent. upward. The weather was excellent for the business, both for the taker and the taken. Everything has been in accord—the ideal June day, the courteous greeting of the housewife, even in the midst of her washing, and the gentle thanks of the census man.

In a neighboring town it is reported a woman got angry when Uncle Sam's man called and stoutly refused to give her age. In another house one of the men had jotted down a family of twelve persons, and when he had nearly finished the little girl came home from school and told the enumerator that four of her brothers and sisters he had down were dead a long time, and the poor enumerator knocked off work then and there, and went home and spent a whole evening in scratching the names of the dead people off his list. One of the inquisitive men on going the rounds said that they were not obliged to answer any of the questions themselves, and at times it is not very pleasant to call on a spinster, who, in all probability, has weathered forty or fifty summers, and ask her age, and if she is black or white. The man with the book would rather give her the benefit of the doubt and jot her down as twenty years, but the rules of the twelfth census are rigid and all listed questions were asked.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Store girl wanted. Address, at once, Box 342, Franklin.

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

Wanted.—At Lake Pearl a kitchen girl. A very active girl will receive good wages. Apply to Wm. Enegren, on the grounds.

Tenement of six rooms over Batchelor's paper store. Inquire of H. E. Batchelor. 22tw

To Rent.—5 room tenement, Central square. Inquire E. B. Sherman, Emerson's market. 5tf

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. Allen.

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18-tf

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

For Sale—A new end spring, rubber tired runabout, up to date, will be sold low to make quick sale. Can be seen at 282 Main st., Milford, Mass.

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

Cut flowers, wedding bouquets, flowers for graduation, all kinds of funeral designs made up at Slade's green house at short notice. P. O. Box 179.

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

An auction will be held at J. H. Dingman's, Sheldonville, on Friday at one o'clock, consisting of household furniture of all kinds, stable goods, lot of wall paper, etc., rare bargains, worth driving miles to purchase.

Fireworks.

We have the largest and best assortment of fireworks in town and can sell the cheapest. Open all night July 3.

A. E. WINCHENBACH,
Opera House Block.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

TUESDAY, JULY 3, 1900

The United States consul general at St. Petersburg suggests that a permanent exhibition of American machinery be established at Moscow. It is not a bad idea. Russia is already a large buyer of our machinery and will undoubtedly increase her purchases many fold if our manufacturers adopt a liberal policy of exploitation. The great Siberian railway, in the building and equipment of which American machinery has been largely employed, will be an excellent foreign advertisement, but a permanent exhibition in Moscow, as suggested by the consul general, would serve to keep our machinery constantly before the Russian people. It is a foreign market worth cultivating.

Germany's shortage of coal is strikingly illustrated by the statement that, whereas in the whole year of 1899 only 124 shiploads of English coal landed at Hamburg for German consumers, 548 cargoes have arrived there already this year, and the demand is daily becoming more urgent. The scarcity of fuel is embarrassing many great German industries, and unless the famine is relieved from other sources than England the manufacturing interests of the empire may be forced into a period of restricted operations. It would be interesting to know what efforts American producers of coal are making to profit by this condition in Germany.

The people of the city of New York, who consume about 2,500,000 tons of ice a year, are having a decidedly interesting tussle with the American Ice company, which controls the visible supply in that city and has advanced the price 100 per cent over that of last year. This advance will mean dividends amounting to nearly $4,000,000 on the watered capital of $42,000,000 upon which the ice company does business. With this plum ahead of it the ice trust may be expected to die hard.

An American bar has been opened on the exposition grounds in Paris. The main features of the American bar in foreign parts, say those who have had experience, is the execrable quality of their liquors and the astonishing ignorance of the bartenders in the matter of serving them. It is admitted, however, that they produce about the same sort of a next morning's headache as the American bar on American soil.

A bill has passed the house of representatives authorizing the secretary of agriculture to "prohibit the transportation by interstate commerce of game killed in violation of local laws." There is no reason why it should not become a law. Such a federal statute, properly enforced, would do much to protect game birds from ruthless slaughter by pot hunters. It would not interfere with true sport, and no real sportsman could object to it.

A news item contains the information that a Maryland woman was killed by a needle which she swallowed in a piece of pie. The moral of this incident is obvious. After sewing the lid on a pie preparatory to baking it great care should be exercised in removing the needle.

Irish soldiers in the army of Great Britain can now wear harps, shamrocks or any number of green things they choose. Who would have thought that only the hot air of Africa would start the growth of the shamrock?

It appears "upon information and belief" that Postal Agent Neely's peculations were sufficiently large to enable him to secure bail and eminent counsel. This is where a big thief has the advantage of a little one.

Oom Paul still expects to make the fight interesting up to the twenty-third round.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble: too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Home of Swamp-Root.

O A M

Sympathy.

"What's the matter with Freddie?" asked the boy's father.

"He's worried over his studies. He has an example that says if he has $10 and pays 50 cents for some potatoes and 75 cents for a steak and various sums for other things, how much will he have left?"

"Well, tell him not to bother. I'm not going to have the careless innocence of childhood disturbed by any such useless trouble. It'll be time enough for him to face the awful problems of life when he grows up and has grocery bills of his own."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

She Was Thinking of It.

Mrs. Elverson—Oh, Mrs. Downsleigh, I hear that your daughter Mabel is engaged to Fred Waddington.

Mrs. Downsleigh—Yes; they expect to be married some time during the winter. Why, what makes you look so funny? Do you know anything about him?

Mrs. Elverson—Oh, no; nothing much. I was only thinking. Once when he was a boy I heard our minister say he expected him to come to a bad end.—Chicago Daily News.

An Indistinct Impression.

"I dunno's I exactly agree wif dat speakuh," remarked Mr. Erastus Pinkley, as he was walking home from the lecture with Miss Miami Brown.

"At what point does yoh comprehensiveness get stalled?"

"Well, ef he says he favors de policy of expansion, I dunno's I un'stan's 'im. But ef he favors de expansion o' policy I's right wif 'im."—Washington Star.

Just Before the Wedding.

Perhaps he repented, perhaps he did it only for fun. Said he: "My darling Ethel, what would you say if I were to tell you that I cannot marry you?"

"I would say, my dearest love that I have a big brother who would make it warm for you, and that I have some billets doux that would make it expensive for you, George dear."

"But, you know, I haven't said it."

"I know you haven't, my pet."

"So we'd better get married, hadn't we?"

"I think so, my precious."—Tit-Bits.

Sanitary Item.

Uptown and his friend Westside were in a car on the Sixth avenue elevated. Although it was quite chilly, Uptown pushed up the window.

"Don't do that, you will get pneumonia," expostulated his friend.

"That's precisely what I want. My landlord is a doctor, and if I don't give him something to do pretty soon he will raise the rent on me."—N. Y. World.

A Short Fall.

Mrs. Church—I hardly ever see Tom Backslid at church any more—he must be falling from grace.

Mr. Church—Well, he won't land with much of a thump.—Puck.

Lucky.

Harlem—Yes, they're married now, and living in a flat.

Quizzer—Is his life a happy one?

Harlem—Oh, yes! His wife keeps it warm for him.—N. Y. Evening Journal.

EVERY MOTHER SHOULD Have it in the House

For common ailments which may occur in every family. She can trust what time indorses. For Internal as much as External use. Dropped on sugar it is pleasant to take for colds, coughs, croup, colic, cramps and pains.

I have used your Anodyne Liniment in treating our infant (only six months old) for colic, and our little three year old daughter for summer complaint and bowel diseases generally, and found it to be excellent. JOHN I. INGALLS, Americus, Ga.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Relieves Every Form of Inflammation.

Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. No remedy has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Parsons' Pills

"Best Liver Pill made." Positively cure Biliousness, Sick Headache, all Liver and Bowel complaints. They expel impurities from the blood. Delicate women find relief from using them. Price 25c. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

THE UNDELIVERED LETTER

They were tearing down the Centerville courthouse. One of the workmen found a letter upon which was the faded address "Daniel H. Carter."

"Why, it's to old Preacher Carter!" said some one.

"How do you know?" asked another.

"Why, it's 'Daniel H. Carter,' and his name's Daniel Henry. It must have been sent years before he went to preaching. Let's open it."

"Open it?" said the second speaker. "Is that letter addressed to you? No, sir. It's addressed to Daniel H. Carter, and he's the only man who has any right to its contents. That envelope's got a United States stamp on it, and I don't care how long it's laid there. It means protection to whatever it carries. That stamp would hold good a day after judgment."

The upshot of it all was that the letter was sent across to the building which had been fitted up and was doing service as postoffice in lieu of the old one and sent out by the carrier who had the Rev. Daniel H. Carter upon his route.

The Rev. Mr. Carter was an easy, good natured bachelor and had been pastor at Centerville for almost all the years since he returned from creditable service as chaplain of a regiment during the civil war. It was true that he had passed by all the religiously inclined spinsters and charitable widows in the town, but in spite of this almost unpardonable offense he was well loved and deeply revered, and the church, with the experience of many years, had grown used to its bachelor parson.

That morning when the postman rang his bell he went to the door and received his letter with his usual smile and "Thank you."

To him the envelope seemed rather dusty on one edge and a bit old fashioned, he imagined, but, then, some years had passed over the Rev. Daniel Carter's head and his sight was not so good as it had once been. So, without curiosity, he laid the letter down on his study table and went down to breakfast.

The bread, butter and eggs were particularly good that morning, and the tea was just to his taste, so perhaps the minister lingered a little longer at his morning meal than was usual. It was at any rate a rather long time for a man who had on his study table a letter which had been on the way for nearly 35 years.

But at last the pastor made an end of eating and again sought his study. He picked up the letter and adjusted his glasses with leisurely care. He glanced at the postmark and let his eye roam over the address, but he did not seem to see well, so he took off his glasses, rubbed and polished them and set them on his nose again.

He looked at the handwriting, and as his hand went up to smooth his brow a flash of recognition came into his eyes. His hand dropped quickly, and he looked at the postmark again. Then, with a sudden gasp and the perspiration standing out upon his brow, he dropped into a chair. Only for a moment he sat there staring into vacancy, and then with trembling fingers he tore the missive open and devoured its contents with his eager eyes.

When he had finished it, the letter dropped from his grasp, and he put his hands over his face. His frame shook with sobs and the tears trickled between his fingers. When his paroxysm of grief had about subsided, his voice came muffled from behind his hands in these words:

"Great God, I thank thee that thou hast revealed to me this thing!"

He picked the letter up and read it again. It ran:

> BELMONT.
>
> My Dear Daniel—What! Ashamed to come and tell me yourself! Timid boy! Have you not seen that I love you? It shames my maidenhood to write thus; but, as you say, one can write so much more boldly than one can talk. Yes, I will be your wife. Come to me when you will; it cannot be too soon. ELIZABETH DEERING.

"Elizabeth, Elizabeth!" cried the minister. "How I have paid for my cowardice! I thought you had met my proposal with scorn and deemed it unworthy even of an answer, and I was glad to go into the heat of battle and care for the suffering and dying, to bury the dead and—to try to forget. But in all these years I have not forgotten!"

Then suddenly a thought occurred to him, and he sat bolt upright in his chair. A moment after he had his hat on and was out of the house. Had any of his congregation met him as he went wildly flying down to the station they would sadly have considered the advisability of retaining such a pitifully demented creature as the pastor. His hat was set far back on his head, his hair flying and his coat open wide and an open letter flaring in his hand. He took the train for Belmont. The two towns were so much nearer than they were 30 years ago.

They had grown, and he was hardly out of the suburbs of one before he was into the suburbs of the other.

In the middle of Belmont they set him down. Could any one tell him where a Miss Deering lived? He asked the question with a trembling and failing voice. It had been past 30 years ago, you know.

"Miss Deering—what! Miss Lizzie Deering? Why, any one can tell you where good Miss Lizzie Deering lives. It's right at the end"—

But the interrogated Belmontain stood staring at the man who had dashed off in the direction pointed out before he had had time to finish his sentence.

Who shall tell what subtle instinct drew the minister to the right door? A sweet faced, gray haired woman was sitting near a table sewing. At the unannounced and impetuous entrance of her visitor she half rose and turned very pale.

"Elizabeth, Elizabeth!" cried the preacher. "I have just got your letter!"

Miss Deering let her sewing fall.

"I thought you did not care for me, and I have lived all these years so near you without daring to say a word."

He handed her the letter, and as they held it between them tears dropped upon it.

"Elizabeth, is it too late?" he said.

"I have waited," she said, "because I believed in you. I knew that something had happened that through the mists we could not see. I have kept my love fresh and green, Daniel."

That afternoon she went back with him to the parsonage.—Exchange.

Optical Illusions.

Since recovering from his accident at the Iola brick plant Mr. Kuder sees everything double. What wild exhilaration must Mr. Kuder experience and what powerful self restraint must he exercise when he picks up a pair of aces!—Kansas City Journal.

"Brevity is the Soul of Wit."

Wit is wisdom. Blood is life. Impure blood is living death. Health depends on good blood. Disease is due to bad blood. The blood can be purified. Legions say Hood's Sarsaparilla, America's Greatest Blood Medicine, purifies it. A brief story but it tells the tale.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Never Disappoints

Discipline.

"That child must be taught that it can't have everything it wants," said Mr. Blykins, sternly.

"Yes," said the mother, "but I don't think we ought to devote too much attention to that part of his education. After he grows up it probably won't be many years before he realizes, as most people do, that he's lucky to get anything he wants." — Washington Star.

Starting Him Right.

He (after being accepted)—And now, darling, may I have just one kiss?

She—Will you promise never to ask me again if I let you have just one?

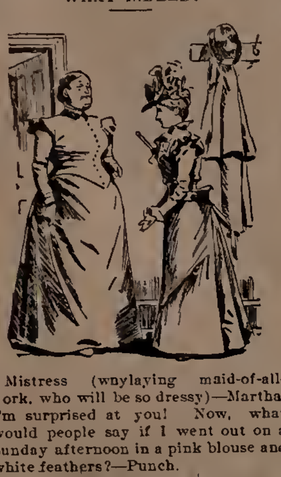
He—Yes; that is, I'll promise not to ask for that particular one again.

She—Oh, well, take it. But I don't see why you want to waste time asking such fool questions.—Chicago Daily News.

The Golfer.

The north wind doth blow
And we soon shall have snow,
And what will the golfer do then, poor thing?
He will hunt up some chap
Who understands that clap trap
And talk it all day unto him, poor thing.
—Cleveland Leader.

WHAT INDEED?



Mistress (waylaying maid-of-all-work, who will be so dressy)—Martha, I'm surprised at you! Now, what would people say if I went out on a Sunday afternoon in a pink blouse and white feathers?—Punch.

Rank Rebellion.

The darling little baby boy presented me of late,
I love with all a father's fond delight;
And yet the little rebel, quite unnatural to state,
Is up in arms against me every night.
—Harlem Life.

The Usual Thing.

Jonks is going to Klondike for the purpose of obtaining wealth enough to enable him to travel in Europe for his health."

"Why, there isn't anything the matter with his health, is there?"

"Not now; but there will be by the time he gets back from Klondike."—Judge.

What He Really Meant.

"I can hardly believe the statement of that fellow who said one trolley car could not hold all the women he has married."

"I do. There might be room for them, but I don't think it could hold them when they got started to discussing the situation."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

An Experienced Man.

"He is quite an adept with the pump," said Clingstone, as Hopkins pumped air into the bicycle tires preparatory to a long run.

"His father was a milkman, and he helped him in the business until he grew up," replied Freestone.—Up to Date.

The First Symptom.

"I'm afraid my wife's affection for me is cooling."

"Why?"

"When she bade me good-by this morning she didn't say: 'Be sure and hurry home as early as possible.'"—Cleveland Leader.

Atmosphere.

Friend (criticising picture) — Your winter effect is excellent; it fairly makes one shiver to look at it.

Artist—No wonder, old man. I began that picture in December, and had to pawn my overcoat to buy the canvas.—Town Topics.

Only Doing One of the Things.

Janitor (to tramp)—Don't you see the sign that says no begging and loitering is allowed here?

Tramp (indignantly)—I'm not begging and loitering. I'm only begging.—N. Y. World.

Nursing Mothers

dread hot weather. They know how it weakens and how this affects the baby. All such mothers need Scott's Emulsion. It gives them strength and makes the baby's food richer and more abundant.

50c. and $1. All druggists.

OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever? CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

1817 1900

CARPETS.

Every purchaser of Carpets—whether for the smallest room or the biggest hotel—wants his mind satisfied on three points, namely:

PRICE—QUALITY—STYLE.

It is because we convince our customers as to every one of these requirements that we confidently expect YOUR patronage.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.,

658 Washington Street . . . BOSTON.

Opp. Boylston Street.

In the Big Race.

The race is not in every case
Unto the swift, they say,
And by that self-same token he
That leads the fastest life may be Passed by the man who "pegs away."
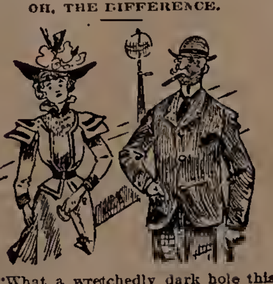
—Chicago Daily News.

OH, THE DIFFERENCE.



"What a wretchedly dark hole this is, now!"

"Do you think so? Before we were married, you always said it was the most delightful in Brighton—so few lamps."—Ally Sloper.

A Sermonette.

Whate'er betide, O murmur not—
Waste no good breath upon your lot;
Lo! while you grumble, flieth time,
Which, well put in, might earn a dime.
—Detroit Free Press.

Poetry and Reality.

He—I'd go through fire and water for you, dear.

She—Never mind that. Would you agree to go through the operation of making fire for me?—Yonkers Statesman.

Often Done.

"What is an investigation, Uncle Rodney"

"Investigation? Why, it's hunting up a lot of blame and putting it on somebody else."—Puck.

A Record in Blood.

The record of Hood's Sarsaparilla is literally written in the blood of millions of people to whom it has given good health. It is all the time curing diseases of the stomach, nerves, kidneys and blood, and it is doing good every day to thousands who are taking it for poor appetite, tired feeling and general debility. It is the best medicine money can buy.

Hood's Pills are non irritating. Price 25 cents.

Itchness of the skin, horrible plague. Most everybody afflicted in one way or another. Only one safe, never failing cure. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store, 50 cents.

One of nature's remedies; cannot harm the weakest constitution; never fails to cure summer complaints of young or old. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test. ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial Scarlet Tyhoid FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week.......... 50
Single Gallon.................................. 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES, P. O. Box 481.

17-tfT

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN SAVINGS BANK.

FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, Vice President.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, Charles Stewart, George W. Wiggin.

STATEMENT JUNE 30, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$564,357 27
Guarantee Fund		27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account		6,268 89
Interest Account		13,108 32
Real Estate Income Account		10 29
		$611,497 56

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		31,350 00
" " Mortgages		159,969 00
" " Personal Securities		164,745 85
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Bank Books		1,500 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Tax account		874 09
Expense Account		1,178 27
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$14,733 01
Nat. Bank of Redemption	2,954 46
Mercantile Trust Co.	64 79
		17,752 26
Cash on hand		2,653 29
		$611,497 56

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

E. P. CHAPMAN,
E. H. SHERMAN,
Committee of Examination.

June 2, 1900.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW

Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH, FRANKLIN, MASS.

E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

THE NEW YORK WORLD

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week...
...156 Papers a Year

FOR ONE DOLLAR.

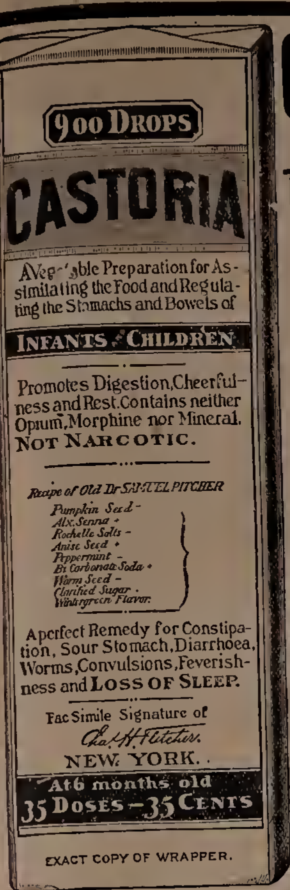
Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.

Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.



900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna +
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed +
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda +
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar.
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

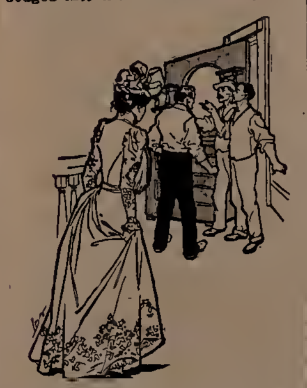
A TRIFLING INDISCRETION.

BY HOWARD FIELDING.

Copyright, 1899, by C. W. Hooke.

The idea of going all alone to a bachelor's apartments gave Miss Weld a feeling of impropriety. It is true that she was going only as far as the door, and her errand was of immediate and great importance; also she had known the young man since her childhood, and she expected to marry him soon, though the engagement was not even suspected by their friends.

In spite of these considerations she felt like a lawbreaker as she approached the building in which Morton had his rooms. She was very much afraid that some one would see her, and she dodged into the hall so hurriedly that she nearly collided with a man in overalls who was coming out with a bucket of whitewash.



SHE CAME HASTILY UPON A GROUP OF MEN.

She knew at once that he must be the janitor, and she was afraid he might sternly inquire what she wanted there at half past 10 in the forenoon. On the contrary, he did not even look surprised, whereupon she was angry with him and more than ever convinced that she was committing an indiscretion.

She felt a woman's impulse to stop and tell this man her errand—that she had just learned that Mr. Morton's best friend was in a peck of trouble, that she had every reason to believe Mr. Morton to be totally unaware of it and that she knew that Mr. Morton would be heartbroken if he should miss the chance to proffer instant help at such a time.

Avoiding this absurdity by a strong effort of common sense, Miss Weld hurried up the first flight of stairs. It was a crazy old building that had once been a great residence. The lower part had recently been remodeled in the interests of trade and the upper part for studios and bachelor dens. Its tenants escaped all restrictions and formalities. There was no one to care about their manners or morals, no one to receive the cards of visitors or aid or hamper them in finding whom they sought.

As she reached the foot of the second flight of stairs a man's head that had not known brush or comb that morning was suddenly thrust out into the hall, and a stentorian voice cried, "Edward!"

"Yes, sir!" responded the janitor's colored assistant, looking over the banister rail above.

Miss Weld had been so startled that she had run up the second stairs as if for her life; otherwise she might have perceived that there was something going on in the hall above and might have turned back. As it chanced, she came hastily upon a group of men, some of them in shirt sleeves and all talking at once.

They blocked the passage that led rearward to Morton's door. Miss Weld knew where his rooms were. She had been in them several times with other young people and adequately chaperoned. She remembered that the hall narrowed running backward from the stairs and that Morton's parlor door was the one on the right at the end of this little corridor.

She thought to pass the group of men, but instantly perceived behind them a more serious obstacle. It was a large sideboard of antique design. Miss Weld perceived at once that the men were moving it into the suit beside Morton's. The door of those apartments was open, and the young lady caught a glimpse of the tenant enveloped in an enormous bathrobe. She had a slight acquaintance with this gentleman, but she had no inclination to meet him under these circumstances. It seemed better to wait until the sideboard should be moved in and the door closed.

Therefore Miss Weld dodged back just as the gentleman started out toward the hall. She knew that he had not seen her, and he could not do so if she remained in the shelter of the wall that curved around with the stairs. The sideboard would prevent his coming out, and she would have to wait only a few minutes. Being somewhat exhausted by the stress of her emotions, she sat down in a niche that had been intended for a statue, having first spread a newspaper over its dusty surface.

"Why in blue bades don't you bring the thing in?" inquired the owner of the sideboard.

"It's stuck, sir," replied one of the men.

Miss Weld heard this with despair. If the sideboard were going to make any trouble, she could not wait for it. Surely it would be better to go away and find a messenger office.

She reflected with pleasure that the sideboard would keep Morton in his rooms. Indeed there was not much danger of his going out. She knew his habits and had counted upon them in coming there. The young man was a writer of stories, and the forenoon was his principal work time. From 9 o'clock till 1, as he had told her, he was nearly always chained to his writing desk.

The young lady ran down the second flight of stairs, and just at the bottom of them she became aware of a familiar voice below. It was the voice of Mrs. Leland Powers, a person of great social consequence and one whose good opinion Miss Weld greatly valued.

"I can't let her see me here!" cried the girl. "Why she's here herself heaven knows, and it's none of my business. But she simply mustn't see me."

She ran nimbly up the stairs again. The rear hall was still barred, but the man whom she feared was no longer visible. She stood looking over the banister railing until she saw Mrs. Powers on the second flight; then she rushed to the third.

"She must stop somewhere," said Miss Weld to herself. "I will keep ahead of her if I go to the roof."

But, glancing up the third flight, she saw, standing at the head of it, Mr. Graham Douglass and Mr. Bertie Hollis, both well known to her and the latter farfamed as a bearer of tales. It was simply impossible to meet them. Far rather would she face Mrs. Powers, who at least might be silent about the encounter.

The girl was leaning upon the banister rather limply when Mrs. Powers reached the top of the stairs. The matron seemed not in the least surprised.

"Good morning, Amy!" she said. "These stairs are perfectly dreadful, aren't they?"

And she passed on. Amy had no time to wonder at this calm and conventional greeting. Her business was to get out of that building at the earliest possible moment. Again she essayed flight, only to be halted by the horrifying spectacle of Mrs. Warner Burton and the two Hayes girls in the hall below. Dollie Hayes was sitting on the second step of the stairs, and the others were standing before her.

To be seen by those people was simply impossible. The fact that she had called upon Mr. Morton might better be published in the newspapers with pictures.

Amy dodged back just in time to escape being seen, and in doing so she came into collision with the janitor's assistant, Edward.

"Will you please see if Mr. Morton is in?" she whispered.

"No, ma'am; he ain't in," replied the black man in an equally cautious tone, "but he'll be right back, and if yoh'd like to wait in his room I'll let yoh in."

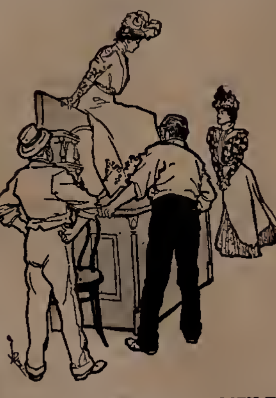
"But how can I get by that thing?" she said, pointing to the sideboard.

As she turned to do so she encountered the gaze of its owner, Mr. James Ormund, who had exchanged his bathrobe for an artist's velveteen jacket and seemed otherwise to be sufficiently clothed, though only his shoulders and head were visible. He was leaning over the lower part of the sideboard, somewhat in the attitude of one of Raphael's cherubs.

"I dunno," said the colored person, "but 'pears to me yoh might climb ober wid a cheer."

"Quite possible, quite possible," said Mr. Ormund. "Good morning, Miss Weld! Just wait a moment, and I'll get a chair—two chairs, in fact."

He ran into his parlor and reappeared with the necessary furniture. One of the chairs he passed across to Edward, who set it down by the sideboard. Miss Weld saw that it would not be very difficult to step from the chair to what was designed as the front part of the sideboard, upon which she could walk across and then descend by the other chair on the far side.



"WHAT IN THE WORLD ARE YOU DOING UP THERE?"

That she should be invited to perform such a feat seemed to her only a natural sequence in this nightmare adventure. It was unreal, but not more so than the preposterous appearance of all these people whom she knew just at the moment when their presence was least desirable and in the last place in the world where she could have expected to find them. It simply couldn't be true. It must be some sort of a dream.

The sound of voices below let her know that her friends were advancing upon her. She sprang up into the chair and thence to the sideboard. Behind it she saw safety.

Just then there was a ripping sound, accompanied by a great jerk upon her skirts. The shock turned her half round, and she sat down upon the higher portion of the sideboard in a manner that was ridiculously easy.

At this moment the round face of Dollie Hayes appeared in her field of vision.

"Why, Amy Weld!" she exclaimed. "What in the world are you doing up there?"

Perhaps the remark of Mrs. Leland Powers may have been lingering in Amy's brain and have unconsciously shaped her ridiculous reply.

"These stairs are so tiresome," she said. "I—I—just stopped to rest!"

"Well, you selected a nice place!" said Dollie. "What was the matter with the chair?"

It is wonderful how readily satan supplies a lie for any human creature's need.

Ordinarily Amy Weld was the most truthful of women, yet at this juncture she found no difficulty in uttering a large and shameless falsehood.

"I was sitting in the chair," she said, "when a horrid mouse ran out of the wall and frightened me nearly to death. So I just jumped right up here."

She gently disengaged her dress from the nail which had caught it and stepped down by means of the chair. The mention of the mouse frightened all question of veracity out of the minds of the other ladies. They ran toward the next flight of stairs, but as they reached the bottom Burton turned and said:

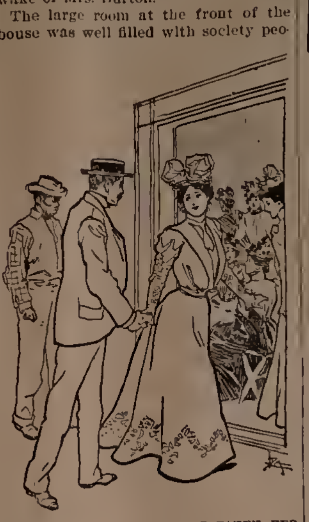
"Of course you're here for Signor Bevanini's concert?"

Amy thought she saw the woman glance backward over the sideboard in the direction of Morton's door, so she hastily replied:

"Why, of course. I'll come right along with you."

She had remembered Signor Bevanini and his habit of giving forenoon recitals for his fashionable pupils and their friends. She had not the pleasure of the signor's acquaintance and had not known that his studio was in that building, but she accepted that fact with relief and plodded up stairs in the wake of Mrs. Burton.

The large room at the front of the house was well filled with society people. At the door Signor Bevanini's "man," in something like livery, was acting as usher, and Amy perceived with horror that the fellow was accepting a ticket from each of the Hayes girls. Mrs. Burton already had hers in her hand.



QUICK AS THOUGHT HE HAD TAKEN HER HAND.

"I—I'm afraid I've left my card at home," said Amy.

"Never mind," responded the elder woman. "Signor Bevanini will remember you."

"I will call him," said the polite servant, leading Mrs. Burton away and leaving Amy standing at the door of that room which seemed to be filled with eyes—great, staring eyes—all turned in her direction.

Of course the signor would remember. He would recall with absolute distinctness that he had not sent any card to Miss Weld, of whose existence he had never before heard.

"The wages of sin is death," murmured Amy, shutting her eyes and leaning against the door jamb, half fainting. "I'll never survive this!"

She was aroused by a voice close to her ear. It was the ebony assistant janitor who spoke—in a stage whisper.

"Mr. Morton has come," he said. And Dollie Hayes, just within the door, laughed aloud.

At this extreme moment, when it seemed to Amy that the eyes of a universe were upon her, Morton himself appeared, coming up the stairs four at a time. Quick as thought he had taken her hand.

Now, it happens that Morton is a very handsome man, endowed by nature with many graces of manner and with dignity enough for four kings. It was perfectly amazing how his presence solved the situation. All the women in the signor's studio were looking enviously at Amy and no longer with a question. The signor came hurrying up and greeted his dear friend Morton, and then he ushered the two into the best place available.

Everybody settled down quietly. Mr. Morton and Miss Weld had come to the concert; that was all.

"I came to tell you about Ernest Hargrave," Amy whispered, "and I've had such an awful time."

"It was splendid of you to come!" he replied. "I wouldn't have missed knowing for anything in the world, but I just happened to hear about him early this morning, and I've been with him ever since."

Hard on the Reporters.

"I had a strange dream the other night," said the major.

"What was 'it?" asked the Young Thing.

"I went to heaven, and as an old newspaper man was interested in their journal up there. It was a miserable thing; not a well-written story in it, and I told St. Peter so."

"What did he say?"

"He said: 'It's not our fault. We never get any good reporters up here.'"

Everybody Knows About

Pain-Killer

A Household Medicine

Used by millions in all parts of the world

A SAFE and SURE REMEDY for

Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Cuts
Dysentery Croup Burns
Sprains and Strains.

Gives instant relief. Cures quickly.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'!
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)

ALL DRUGGISTS.
ja10-1y

A little light work should not make a woman's back ache—

And it wouldn't if the kidneys were right.

Sick kidneys are to blame for three-fourths of the pain and misery in this world.

If all the kidneys in the world could be made strong and healthful, backache would disappear like magic.

Doan's Kidney Pills

Are making well kidneys just as fast as people let them. They never fail. Have cured thousands of men and women.

Read this testimony of their merit.

Mrs. J. F. Jencks, of 532 Bank street, wife of the foreman at the Brown Carriage Co., New London, Ct., says:

"It took five or six boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills to radically cure me of backache, in the winter of 1896, and all I can add to the statement I gave at that time for publication in our New London papers is, the cure then effected has been permanent. I as conscientiously and as emphatically endorse Doan's Kidney Pills to-day as I did when they were first brought to my notice over three years ago. My advice to anyone suffering from either weakened or over-excited kidneys is to procure Doan's Kidney Pills at a drug store, take a course of the treatment, and the results promised will inevitably follow."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

His Rich Trail.

"Dawson's an awfully extravagant chap."

"Yes, he is."

"Has he got much money back of him?"

"I'm afraid he has—more, in fact than he has ahead of him."—Harper's Bazar.

A Woman's Aim.

Bride—If you ever flirt with any other woman, Harry, I will shoot you!

Harry—What! Could you aim a gun at your own husband?

Bride—Yes, I could and would.

Harry (relieved)—Well, then, I should be perfectly safe.—Harlem Life.

A Base Slander.

"It is claimed by the complainant that you assaulted him," said the magistrate.

"He lies, your worship. I never touched him. Bobson and Tibbs picked him up and carried him to the pump. All I did was to work the pump handle."—Tit-Bits.

His Status.

Book Agent—What kind of a man is your neighbor, Mr. Puffedup?

Farmer Hornbeak—Wa-al, I ckackerlate he imagines that there won't be any more wet weather this season unless he withdraws his objection.—Judge.

Not Such a Big Fool.

Emily—I am so unhappy. I begin to see that Arthur married me for my money.

Her Dearest Friend—Well, you have the comfort of knowing that he is not so simple as he looks.—Tit-Bits.

Cure for Cholera Infantum—Never Known to Fail.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Spoiled His Aim.

Towne—While I was traveling in the west whisky once saved my life.

Browne—How was that?

Towne—The desperado who shot at me was full.—N. Y. Journal.

Cuts and bruises are healed by Chamberlain's Pain Balm in about one third the time any other treatment would require because of its antiseptic qualities which cause the parts to heal without maturation. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Builds up the system: puts pure, rich blood in the veins; makes men and women strong and healthy. Burdock's Blood Bitters. At any drug store.

Discovery.

Wilson—Highee has discovered the secret of perpetual motion.

Bradford—What is it?

Wilson—A teething baby.—Harlem Life.

When you need medicine you should get the best that money can buy, and experience proves this to be Hood's Sarsaparilla.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for
BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.
BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.
WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.
NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.
CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.
PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.
HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.
WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.
NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.
New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for
PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m. S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for
MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 58, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.
ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Electric cars pass the hotel every 15 min., for Woonsocket, Milford, and the Attleboros. Electrics for Dedham and Boston every half hour.

GEO. L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: • Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days, Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G.A. Martin, M.D.,

..AND...

C.B. Hussey, M. D.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS

Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

Crescent · House,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.

House and Sign Painter.

Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

DR. C. H. RANDALL,

Physician and Surgeon,

(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)

Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.

∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.

No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.

Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9.
Afternoon, 2 to 3.30.
Evening, 7 to 8.

92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,

CHIROPODIST.

Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.

9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.

HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER

Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,

MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.

Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.

Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.

Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.

Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

DON'T SWEAR. JUST SMILE.

At Your Toes,

that are giving you such excruciating pains from corns, for Schlottenbeck's Corn Cure will give you relief and permanent cure by using it according to directions given.

Schlottenbeck's IS THE BEST AND MOST EASILY APPLIED CORN CURE IN THE MARKET, and will cure bunions, corns and warts.

SOLD BY

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Leon Mayshaw, the youngest son of Mr. Henry Mayshaw died Saturday night at 11 o'clock at the residence of his brother Ernest B. Mayshaw after an illness extending over several months. The immediate cause of his death was consumption. He was a veteran of the Spanish-American war, having enlisted in the marine corps and was stationed at the Charlestown navy yard for two years before the declaration of war. During the war he served on the "Indiana" where he held the position of gunner, having charge of one of the 6 pound guns. He took part in the destruction of Cevera's fleet at the battle of Santiago and afterwards at the bombardment of San Juan, and Puerto Rico; at the conclusion he applied for his discharge and through the efforts of Capt. H. C. Taylor, he received it. Great praise was awarded him for his conduct and ability. He came home and resided here since, but he has never acted the same, the terrible strain he experienced for six months off Key West when he was reduced in flesh fifty pounds told severely and he never fully recovered from the effects. He was very popular with the young people and held in high esteem by all who knew him.

A Change Was Needed.

"Do you think you can support me, George?" she asked, an hour after he had proposed.

"Yes, if you'll get on the other knee," he said.—Tit-Bits.

A Disappointed Pessimist.

"Mr Junks looks even more dismal than usual since his marriage."

"Yes, he must have found wedded life less annoying than he expected."—Chicago Record.

Could Not Explain It.

Master—How was it I saw you handing your friends in the kitchen my best cigars?

Mary—I can't tell, sir, for the life of me; for I'm sure I covered the key-hole.—Tit-Bits.

Financial Enterprise.

"Fitz-Cooper is a close-fisted landlord."

"Close-fisted? If he owned a haunted house he would get a spiritual medium to collect the rent from the ghost."—Puck.

Honest Tom.

Teacher—You have named all domestic animals save one. It has bristly hair, it is filthy, likes dirt and is fond of mud. Well, Tom?

Tom (shamefacedly)—That's me.—The Rival.

All the World Could Hear.

Mrs. Crimsonbeak—My life, John, is an open book.

Mr. Crimsonbeak—That's the trouble; I wish to goodness I could shut you up some time!—Yonkers Statesman.

Information Wanted.

"Will you have some of the sugar-cured ham?" asked the landlady.

"What was it cured of?" asked the new boarder, suspiciously.—Up to Date

Easy to Take
Easy to Operate

Because purely vegetable—yet thorough, prompt, healthful, satisfactory—

Hood's Pills

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - Prop'r and Mgr.

JULY 4.

Grand Celebration.

BATTERY A BAND,

Marine Corps of Artillery,

Providence, R. I., will furnish music. Band Concert to commence at 10 a. m.
Music for the pavilion furnished by Fales' Orchestra. Dancing free during the day.

GRAND ENTERTAINMENT

In the Natural Amphitheatre at 3.30 and 8.30 p. m.

Philips' & Miles'
All-Star Specialty Co.

BICYCLE RACES

CALLED AT 2 P. M. SHARP.
1 Mile Open, for Gents—1st prize, striped Jersey; 2d, bicycle bell.
1 Mile Open, for Ladies—1st prize, bicycle lantern; 2d, cyclometer.
1-2 Mile Dash, boys under 16—1st prize, striped Jersey; 2d, golf hose.
1 Mile Running Race, open—1st prize, running shoes; 2d, gold-headed cane.

A Genuine Rhode Island Clam Bake

WILL BE SERVED.

Admission --- Adults 25c.
Children 10c.

A Case of One.

"How do you keep so young, Mrs. Lighthead?"

"Well, I never worry about my age."—Detroit Free Press.

Guess Again.

Clerk—What kind of gloves, madam—walking gloves?

Miss Wayback—Mercy sakes, no! I don't wear gloves on my feet.—Judge.

Many thousands have been restored to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. If afflicted with any throat or lung trouble, give it a trial for it is certain to prove beneficial. Coughs that have resisted all other treatment for years, have yielded to this remedy and perfect health restored. Cases that seemed helpless, that the climate of famous health resorts failed to benefit, have been permanently cured by its use. Bear in mind that every bottle is warranted and if it does not prove beneficial the money will be refunded to you. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

Pointing Backward.

He picked up the book, opened it haphazard, read a line or two and then threw it down.

"The men who devote their entire time to telling us where they think we came from," he said, "always make me think of a guidepost that is pointing the wrong way."—Chicago Post.

THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND,

with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain

Our Store is Light and Cool,

the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name;

W. S. JOHNSON,

SPECIAL AGENT FOR

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

Assets over - - -	$300,000,000
Paid to policy holders over	500,000,000
Insurance in force over -	1,000,000,000

Issues the most liberal and attractive policies on the market, including Cash Surrender Values, Extended Insurance,
Loan Values, Paid-up Insurance,
Grace in payment of Premiums, etc.

A Hurry Call.

"I called Bigguns a liar right to his face yesterday."

"Is that so? What did he say?"

"I don't know. I happened to be called away before he had time to reply."—Chicago Daily News.

Off for the Honeymoon.

Bridegroom—I am afraid we will look so happy and contented that everyone will know we are just married.

Best Man (consolingly)—Don't worry, old chap; it will be only for a day or two, you know!—Puck.

In His Element.

"What is Squeem's business?"

"He's a starch manufacturer."

"Did he enjoy Boston?"

"Very much; he says the people there are so stiff."—Chicago Record.

Has to Keep Moving.

Parker—One place is just as good as another for a man without money.

Tucker—Yes, and it is fortunate, too, for a man without money can't stay in the same place long.—N. Y. Truth.

Two Views.

He—He that courts and runs away will live to court another day.

She—But he that courts and does not wed may find himself in court instead.—Tit-Bits.

It Seems Not.

"Stubrust the critics say your book shows great promise for your future."

"Future? Great Jupiter—can't a man ever do anything and then quit?"—Detroit Free Press.

Uncompanionable.

"Toby Borgs can't stand his own society a single evening."

"Well—he knows himself better than we do."—Chicago Daily Record.

Never Before Midnight.

He—Does your husband stay out late at night?

She—No; he generally comes in late at night.—Yonkers Statesman.

Hoag Lake

PARK.

Attractions Every Week.

EACH AFTERNOON and EVENING THIS WEEK.

Boom's Enterprises.

ALL-STAR SPECIALTY COMPANY.

Juggling,
Dancing,
Acrobatic Feats,
Music,
Specialties.

je26-tocl

WANTED.

Experienced Fur Felt Finishers,

about July 16th, on Ladies' Felt Hats.

Address HIRSH & PARK,
Medway, Mass.

jly3-1m

WINDERS

WANTED

..BY..

WORCESTER TEXTILE CO.

UNIONVILLE, MASS.

FIREWORKS!

FIREWORKS!

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4m

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Mary A. Cooper, late of Medway, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

HENRY CARTER.

West Medway, July 2, 1900. jly3,10,17

PETER'S CREEK ELECTRIC ROAD

Though Jane French and Susan Lathrop were twin sisters, and though they lived only 15 miles apart, yet they had not seen each other for three years.

Neither of them found it easy to take the horses away from their work for two days, and, even if such a thing could be accomplished now and then, it was impossible for either woman to achieve the journey without some sort of man body as conductor of the expedition.

It must not be supposed that the part of New York state in which this occurred was unenriched by railroad activity. Dear, no! By riding 33 miles, thus describing an acute triangle, and waiting five hours at the junction, it was possible for Jane to go to Susan and for Susan to go to Jane.

"It's preposterous!" said Jane.

"Outrageous!" said Susan.

So they did not visit.

"There's rumors about of one of them electric roads to be built straight along Peter's creek," John Lathrop told Susan, his wife. "That'll take you straight to Jane's, and no changin of cars, [illegible] in."

"Laws!" cried Susan. "How soon'll it be builded?"

"'Bout three years," said Lathrop and laughed. But Susan was serious.

"How many hours'll it take to git from here to there on a 'lectric car?"

"Hours! Minutes, you mean, woman! Less'n 50 minutes'll do the biz."

"What! Me git to Jane in 50 minutes!" It seemed incredible. Then a resolution was born in the economical soul of Susan Lathrop. "I'll wait till that there road is done," she declared. "It'll be a savin."

Jane heard of this resolve and commended it.

"As Susan says," she remarked to her husband, "it'll be real economy to put off visitin till that there road is done."

"Yes," acquiesced Hank French, "when we git the 'lectric it'll be quicker to go anywhere than to stay at home."

"Eh?" said Jane, looking perplexed.

"Yep!" growled Hank. And, vexed at his wife's lack of appreciation of his humor, he relapsed into silence.

But three years is a long time going by. The sisters stood it with what fortitude they could. But a thousand things had happened of which they desired to speak. People had died—people they both knew—and Jane and Susan had had no opportunity to discuss deathbed speeches, likelihood of trances, details of funerals or the situation of the bereaved families. Beula Jones had used Shaker flannel instead of all flannel pinning blankets for her baby, and Susan had had no chance to tell Jane. Lila Gibbs had been married in green poplin—the idea—and Jane had lacked an opportunity to tell Susan. Pete Hines was converted and was almost exploding with his pent up oaths; Si Lewis had taken to drink since he married his second wife. Was it not pitiful that these events had remained undiscussed? Moreover, there were domestic matters of still greater importance—but these it would be a breach of confidence to mention.

The twins got so that the first news they read in The Weekly Herald was that which related to the construction of the electric road. When the teams were put at work upon the roadbed, Susan and Jane were as happy as birds. When the first rails were laid, they exulted like successful politicians the morning after election. Each was busy upon a frock which she intended to wear to the house of the other: each was full of childish anticipation at the thought of giving a surprise to the other.

The time of waiting passed. A morning of rain dawned, and at each end of the road a bright yellow car stood waiting to make its initial journey. Jane, in her new frock, was in one car, bound for Susan's, her arms filled with bundles containing gifts, her heart fluttering like that of a happy girl. Susan, in her fresh gown, was in the other car, destined for Jane's, her lap heaped with presents, her heart dancing like an accepted lover's.

The cars started by the watch, spit blue fire from the furious wheels and green fire from the frantic trolleys and made the run in 58 and 59 minutes respectively, passing each other on the way.

The summer rain turned into a downpour, and all in the deluge Jane climbed the hill to Susan's house, and Susan plodded along the common to Jane's.

"Never mind, Jane," said John Lathrop to his sister-in-law. "You just make yourself to home. Susan'll be back in no time. Don't you move out o' this here house till Sue gits home. She's bin frettin and stewin fur you till I up and said to her I guess she made a mistake in livin with me. It was you she ought to have had."

So Jane staid and looked after Susan's children and cooked for Susan's husband and watched every car for the appearance of her sister.

As for Susan, she broke down for a moment when she found that her journey had been in vain.

"Now see here, Susie," argued her brother-in-law, Hank French; "what use is it to cry? Jane'll come racin home like Maud S when she finds you're here. You stay right where you be."

So Susan did as she was bid and visited with Jane's husband and hemmed Jane's napkins and made a new kind of pickle for Jane out of some overripe string beans.

But on the third day Jane concluded to go home. And on the third day Susan concluded to go home. And so—but that's really the end of the story.

"They're a fool invention to my mind, them 'lectric cars," said Jane to her husband.

Susan dropped tears in the bath as she bathed the children.

"There's too many newfangled things in these parts," she said to the children. "Next time your ma goes anywhere she's goin to drive the horses, and then maybe she'll git somethin that she wants."—Chicago Tribune.

Wholesome Thoughts.

Health and happiness are founded on wholesome thoughts. The mind is master, not the body. Think toward God, and you become godlike; think evil, and every pore is a wide open door through which disease may enter.—Rev. George H. Hepworth, Congregationalist, New York.

Spirit of the Age.

One serious truth confronts us—the public press, our business activities, even our public educational interests, yes, even the pulpit, are more or less dominated by the commercial spirit of the age. The dollar has always been mighty and often more so than today, but it is mighty still, and its power is felt in both public and private life.—Rev. W. C. Madison, Methodist, Denver.

"I suffered for months from sore throat. Eclectric Oil cured me in twenty-four hours." M. S. Gist, Hawesville, Ky.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

BUG DEATH...

A NON-POISONOUS POWDER.

Is sure death to potato, squash and cucumber bugs, currant and tomato worms, and other plant and vine-eating pests. It is a benefit to the plant, and the more freely used the better the plant will thrive. For potatoes when blight is prevalent the extra yield will more than pay all expense of Bug Death.

1 lb. pkg., 15c. 3 lbs., 35c. 5 lbs., 50c. 12 1-2 lbs., $1.

Perfection Shaker, 50c.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

CORNED BEEF and VEGETABLES

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Native Beets, bunch	6c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Cabbage, lb	3c
Thick Flanks	6c	Spinach, peck	10c
Spring Broilers	28c	String Beans, qt	5c
Fresh Killed Fowls	18c	Lettuce, head	5c
Smoked Bacon, strip	10c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

f-7-1yS

GROCERIES AT COST.

Sale now going on at

McKinnon's Grocery Store,

CENTRAL SQUARE.

Stock must be sold to close business. If you want first-class Groceries at half price don't miss this chance.

A HOME

If you have on[illegible] are glad of it; if you [illegible] one you'll be glad to [illegible]e. It is not profitable to [illegible]board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap278

Mortgagee's Sale.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Hugh Lyons to the Medway Savings Bank, dated November first, 1879, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, libro 515, folio 244, for breach of the conditions thereof and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction, on the premises, on at 3 o'clock p. m., all and singular the following described property:

SATURDAY, the FOURTEENTH day of JULY, 1900,

A certain tract of land containing forty acres, more or less, situated in the westerly part of said Medway, on the westerly side of West street, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at the northeasterly corner thereof at the junction of West and Alder streets, and thence westerly on Alder street to land of E. L. and O. F. Metcalf; thence southerly and westerly on land of said Metcalfs to land of Charles Wight; thence southerly on land of said Wight to land of C. M. Hill; thence easterly on land of said Hill to West street; thence northerly on West street to land of the heirs of Luther Daniels, deceased; thence westerly, northerly and easterly on land of said heirs to West street; thence northerly on said street to the point of departure, being the same tract described in a deed from James Bradly to grantor, dated April 10, 1878, and recorded with Norfolk Deeds, lib. 509, fol. 10. Except such portion of the above premises as have been released (June 3, 1897) to the said Hugh Lyons for a location of the Milford, Holliston and Framingham Street Railway Company.

Terms at time of sale.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
By its Treasurer, W. H. Upton, Mortgagee.
Medway, Mass., June 19, 1900. je19,26jly3

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of John L. Fairbanks, late of Franklin, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said court for probate by Eliza Fairbanks of Franklin, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the eighteenth day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

je26,jly3,10

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To the next-of-kin and all persons interested in the estate of Ruby Wales of Bellingham, in said county, minor.

Whereas, Varnum B. Rockwood, the guardian of said minor, has presented his petition for license to sell at private sale, in accordance with the offer named in said petition, or upon such terms as may be adjudged best, certain real estate therein specified of his ward for investment.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the fifth day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to each of you fourteen days at least before said court, or by publishing the same once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said court, this nineteenth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

je19,26jly3

Hattie M Fisher
1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 54. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Marston Sanborn	4
N. C. Nye	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p.m. Saturdays, 6.30 a.m. to 8.15 p.m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a.m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm.

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Amos W. Stone has been appointed a special policeman.

Holy Communion at St. John's rectory at 8 o'clock Sunday morning.

A number from here attended the races at Readville on Wednesday.

George M. Sneath has gone to Dorchester and Cambridge for several weeks.

William J. Whiting and family of Brooklyn, N. Y., spent the Fourth here.

Will H. Sanger, assistant clerk of the senate, was at home here over the Fourth.

Rev. F. B. Sleeper will preach in the chapel at Unionville Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. E. S. Crossman returned yesterday from an extended stay with her sister in Maine.

The Medway-Franklin street railway will need a turnout on the route in order to run half time.

Prof. A. W. Peirce of Dean academy is spending a portion of his vacation at Charlestown, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Waite of Boulder, Col., are visiting her brother, W. S. Richardson.

Patrick McWilliams, who is engaged at Vassalboro, Me., has been spending a few days with his family here.

Mrs. A. J. Turner of Gurleyville, Conn., and Miss Josephine Parks of Boston are the guests of Mrs. T. M. Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Clark of Framingham, former residents in Franklin, will sing in the Baptist church next Sunday.

Mrs. Moses Farnum and daughter Mary left today for their summer stay at sea-swept Nantucket. They are to be envied.

Capt. J. B. Crocker will leave for New York on Monday evening, where he will probably load with coal for some Maine port.

Mrs. Joseph Snodgrass has just returned from a two weeks' outing with his sister, Mrs. E. Childs, of Highlandville.

Mr. George S. Hosie has been appointed deputy tree warden and will look after the trees in the absence of Dr. Hodge.

Judge and Mrs. O. T. Doe will enjoy their summer outing of three weeks or a month at Gooee Necks Rocks, Me., going this week.

Two Italians were arrested Wednesday evening for fast driving, and a man from Bellingham was arrested in a drunken condition.

Dr. A. J. Gallison remembers his friends here with some birds'-eye views of Vienna, Austria, showing it to be a remarkable fine city.

The Douglas camp meeting, which opens in two or three weeks, will have its usual quota of Franklinites, who enjoy these annual holiness gatherings.

Rev. M. J. Mulcahy, formerly pastor of St. Mary's church here, but now pastor of the Arlington Catholic church, was a guest at St. Mary's rectory Wednesday.

W. W. Haslam will preach at Bellingham Centre Sunday morning and evening. In the morning his subject will be "The Ideal Church and the Ideal Congregation."

Willard Everett and family of Lowell have taken the cottage at Lake Pearl vacated by Principal Daniels. Mr. Everett has a responsible position with the Hood company.

Supt. Spring of the Norfolk Western road was in town yesterday, taking a run over the M., A. & W. railroad to get his first glimpse of Lake Pearl. He was accompanied by Mrs. Spring.

The date of the Sunday school picnic of the Congregational church has been set for Wednesday, the 18th of this month. The Baptists go the day previous, both to Lake Pearl.

Quite a good many from here are planning to take in the G. A. R. excursion to Chicago in August, on account of the reduced rates and the pleasure assured by a trip to that hustling city.

Mr. and Mrs. William Dewdney of Providence, who have been visiting at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. O'Sullivan, of Pleasant street, returned home last evening.

Dean academy will be obliged to elect a new treasurer, owing to the death of its late treasurer, Charles J. McKenzie. The institution will have a hard time getting so good a man for the position.

The cars now running between here and Medway do not transfer passengers at that place, but take them right through to Dedham, an improvement which will be thoroughly appreciated.

Mrs. Guy W. Miner and son Reginald have gone to Centreville, down on the Cape, for the month of July. They will be joined at intervals by Mr. Miner, as he can arrange to leave his pastoral duties here.

A large pine tree nearly opposite the shoddy mill on Cottage street, was badly shattered by the lightning Wednesday, and the same bolt went into the picker room of the mill, but did no serious damage.

Every lad in town who rides a wheel should exercise more than ordinary care now that the trolley car is upon our streets. A little caution may save a life or a limb, and a little carelessness may endanger both.

Chief Engineer McKinnon went about among the merchants on Tuesday evening admonishing them not to leave any rubbish around their buildings that might possibly catch fire from the Fourth of July fireworks. A wise precaution.

One electric car got stalled on Main street and another on Cook's hill Wednesday afternoon and a delay of over an hour was the result. This blocked the whole M., A. & W. line for some time. The burning out of fuses was said to be the cause.

J. Ray Wyckoff, Miss Mary Bright, Miss Alice Wiggin, Miss Ellen Butters and Miss Pearl Jacobs are at the summer Normal school at Hyannis, which holds a six weeks' course. This is a healthful as well as helpful method of spending one's vacation.

The new and up-to-date cyclopedia, the International, may be consulted at the Franklin Library. The antiquated "American" has been exchanged for this modern one, giving patrons of the library an American cyclopedia comparing favorably with the Britanica.

Rev. Mr. Sneath expects to spend a week, this month, with his parents in Pennsylvania and will spend one week of his vacation in Franklin. The pastors are arranging to have a clergyman in Franklin during the month of August to attend to marriages, funerals and other requirements.

Since the electrics began their trips nine canines have, it is said, given up their lives in the attempt to block the wheels of the modern transportation method. These dogs were strong in the affections of somebody no doubt, but others do not mourn the decrease in the canine population.

While the names of Clementine Sara Guigon and James H. Hood appeared in the printed programme in Tuesday's issue of the SENTINEL, yet through an oversight their names were omitted from the list of graduates. Miss Guigon graduated in the English course and Mr. Hood in the partial course.

Many of our people remember the late Rev. H. L. Hastings, and it will be learned with pleasure that a "memorial" service is to be held for him at Goshen Park, near Northampton, on August 15, at which that sweet singer of Israel, Ira D. Sankey, will sing. The gospel meetings last from August 10 to 17.

There are rumors of new projects for street railway lines from here to outside points, but there is nothing very definite in them, and it is probable that for the present at least they are merely speculative, without any material basis. The town seems to be as well supplied now as the transportation business demands.

Among the guests at Fairmeadow farm, owned by L. W. Daniels, are C. H. Dunton and family, J. S. Lockwood and family, Mrs. Louise Jenkins, the Misses Stevenson, Walter Gardner, all of Boston, and A. W. Edson and family of New York. The latter will take a bicycle tour through northern Maine next week.

While little Johnny Connors, aged 12, son of Jeremiah Connors, of Alpine place, was driving one of Enoch Waite's horses to a blacksmith shop on Central street Monday the animal became frightened and threw the lad against an electric light pole. He received an ugly cut in the chin, had one arm sprained and was injured about the body.

The "limited" was stopped here Wednesday afternoon to allow the removal of the dead body of Miss Tessie Morris, a girl of fifteen, who had died just as the train started from the Terminal station. The conductor did not think it wise to carry the body through to New York without orders, so it was kept here till later, when it was sent to that city.

Jeremiah Connors, while at work in the Union street cemetery Tuesday afternoon, came across a rattlesnake that was just getting ready to spring upon him. Mr. Connors had a hoe in his hand at the time and with a well-directed blow he succeeded in breaking the reptile's back and crushing out its life. It measured two and a half feet in length and had eleven rattles.

Wednesday evening George Woolford was enjoying a ride on the Wrentham road, and in the vicinity of old pine tree collided with an electric. The carriage was smashed, the horse running away with part of the wheels to the stable here. Woolford was cut on the head, enough to require the services of a surgeon. It is understood that the motorman was blameless.

The little wire finds it hard pulling big cars up Richardson's hill, but it manages to squeeze out. On account of the steep ascent at Franklin and also at Richardson hill, the motormen have been notified not to stop the cars while climbing either of these grades. Passengers wishing to board the cars at either of the hills mentioned above must wait for the cars at the top or at the foot of the hill.

The Foresters celebrated the Fourth by having a smoke-talk at their rooms in the evening. Addresses were delivered by Deputy High Chief Ranger Grady of North Attleboro and members of the local court, and instrumental and vocal music, with the serving of refreshments, filled out the remainder of the program. A number of brother Foresters from Medway and Holliston were present and the event was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

A couple of men got into an altercation on the street here the night before the Fourth, and it seemed as if they had exhausted all the words in the English language, but when it is remembered that Shakespeare had a vocabulary of about 13,000 words, Milton had 9,000, Pope used 7,000, the average business man had about 600, and a common laborer has about 150, it can be seen that probably these gentlemen left a few words unused.

The electric storm in this town Thursday evening burned out several telephone wires on Main street. One flash of lightning cavorted through a bunch of wires in front of the post office, and a piece of wire 16 feet long was completely burned off and dropped to the ground. The conductors pulled down the trolley arms and were stalled for an hour. The dancing at Lake Pearl was postponed until Saturday evening.

Tuesday at Boston the state railroad commissioners had under consideration the petition of the Medfield & Medway Street Railway company for authorization to issue $50,000 of stock and $150,000 of bonds, to be used in liquidating its floating indebtedness. Part of this line has been in operation for a year or more, and the remainder was opened Wednesday. An order was issued authorizing the stock issue. In the matter of the bonds another hearing will be given.

A gang of workmen for the M. A. & W. street railway company are at work on the bridge near C. S. White's residence, Bellingham, and are boarding with various families in that town, as it is thought it will take nearly a month to complete the job. A gang were put at work placing the poles on Monday morning, and Tuesday night had the poles in position up to the residence of B. E. Marble. It is rumored that a car will be run next week as far as the store at least, for the North Bellingham car now wastes enough time in waiting to run that distance.

A crowd is planning to ride to North Attleboro on Saturday to see the game between the Attleboros and North Attleboros. Both nines have got some crack players, and it will not be a walk over for either: North Attleboros will play Weeks on first, Murphy second, Houghton short, Shannon third, Crollns, Clarkson and Gammons in the field, Slattery behind the bat and a new pitcher. Other players, including Woodcock and LeStage, will be on the bench. Against them the Attleboros will play Hazelton first, Fleming second, Landee short, Hafford third, Carney, Williams and Newman in the field. Griffin will be in the box, and Maloney may catch.

The pastor of the Congregational church will take his vacation during the month of August. The following persons will supply the pulpit: August 5th, Rev. T. M. Miles, D. D., of Bristol, Conn. 12th, Rev. Aquila Webb of Everett, Mass; 19th, Rev. Nathan T. Dyer of Ashburnham; 26th, Rev. R. W. Wallace, D. D., of Somerville. Dr. Miles is the pastor of one of Connecticut's substantial churches. Dr. Wallace is pastor of the First church in Somerville and was formerly pastor in Newport, R. I. Rev. Mr. Webb is a graduate of a school of oratory; is not only a speaker, but also an excellent pastor and preacher. Rev. Mr. Dyer is known in Franklin, being the son-in-law of Mr. William Mann.

Our citizens have continually been asking how is it that Franklin never has a slice of the public money for state roads. To be sure, we are not on the main highway between any large cities, yet a good road here is as much of a necessity as elsewhere, and surely Franklin pays its share of state and county taxes in proportion to its wealth and population equally with its neighbor who gets the annual plum. But isn't this state road business something of a "grab," anyway.

One of the most sadly impressive sights witnessed here in a long time was the funeral procession of honor which attended the body of the late Charles J. McKenzie from the house to the station on Tuesday morning, about fifty of our leading citizens marching with measured step and slow behind the encoffined remains of him whom they had so universally respected. Curtains were drawn in the places of business as the body passed through the streets, and after the remains had been placed upon the car, the guard of honor stood with uncovered heads while the train drew out of the station, Mr. Frank McKenzie, brother of the deceased, standing upon the platform, also uncovered, in silent recognition of this last act which our citizens would pay to the memory of his beloved brother and their honored townsman.

Wednesday evening in Foresters' hall the following officers of the Ladies Auxiliary, A. O. H., of this town were installed by Miss Katherine Sheehan of West Quincy: President, Miss Mary O'Sullivan; vice-president, Miss Isabelle Murphy; treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Bourbeau; financial treasurer, Miss Annie Callahan; recording secretary, Miss Mary Walsh; sergeant-at arms, Miss Agnes Calahan; sentinel, Mrs. Michael Callen. After the installation of officers a pleasing concert took place, in which the following local talent took part: Vocal solo, Miss Agnes Sullivan; recitation, Miss Rose Walsh; vocal solos, Misses Assunta and Claudia Micheline; violin solo, Miss Mary Walsh. The programme finished, the hall was cleared for dancing, in which all the members and friends assembled indulged until a late hour. Refreshments were served from 12 to 1.

Now that the schools have closed it would be well for parents to remember that a summer of idleness is the worst thing that can be allowed the lad. Let him have some regular work-time and play time, and he will appreciate each the more. If he can be employed a portion of the each day, so as to earn a little pocket money, it will give him a better idea of the value of money, and make him more independent. There's nothing so entirely happy for the average lad as well-timed work and play. Again there is another feature that ought to be considered. Many a lad wastes hours of time that could be well utilized by having him learn the piano. A few hours a week, under proper tutelage, will give him an insight into the instrument and a love for music that will last him a lifetime. Time spent in that manner is never lost.

Shield Its Eyes.

It is frequently noticed on our streets when babies are taken out for a ride that the sun is allowed to shine in the little one's eyes, and the mother or whoever pushes the carriage seems to mind nothing about it. A physician, in speaking of this matter, said that it pained him exceedingly to see so often on the streets thoughtless mothers, when taking their infants out in baby carriages, expose the little darling's unsheltered face and eyes to the direct blaze of the sunshine. The babe blinks its eyes from the scorching rays, and turns its head this way and that to avoid suffering, but the careless mother pushes on, and if the child gets through without serious injury to its eyes the mother is not to be thanked. The remedy is easy. Shelter the child's eyes with an awning, or place the child in the other end of the carriage with the other end forwards. This is a matter of more importance than mothers are apt to imagine. There is danger of the eyes of the babe receiving permanent injury.—Exchange.

Richardson's Market.

We now have a full line of Kennedy's famous crackers. Also crisp potato chips, ice cold watermelon, cooked ham, choicest butter in town from 23 to 30 cents per pound. Native berries. All the choice spring vegetables, such as new peas, string beans, tomatoes, radishes, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, beets and turnips fresh from the market gardens. As usual we have the best cuts of meats, veal, lamb, etc., and choice fowls. Try a can of our 10 cent soups as a first course for Sunday dinner, all kinds.

Our mattings are made of finest stuff;
This is straight goods and no bluff.
Sanford Bros., Medway.

The Fourth in Town.

Seldom has Franklin seen a more quiet Fourth of July; except so far as the passing of people through the town was concerned. These went through here by the thousands to Lake Pearl and Hoag Lake, many people taking in both resorts during the day. Aside from this Franklin was dead.

Those interested in base ball went to North Attleboro, where they were obliged to witness a defeat to the home team by the score of 9 to 0. The Carter team was handicapped by the absence of strong players, it being difficult to pick up good men so late, owing to the demand for them. In the afternoon they went to Arlington where they were reinforced by a number of the North Attleboro men, as that team had no game for the afternoon. The Carters put up a fine game, and apparently had it won, when the Arlingtons won out in the last inning, 11 to 10.

The crowd that went to Lake Pearl crowded that popular resort to its utmost capacity. It is variously estimated that during the day from 4,000 to 8,000 passed through the gates. Manager Enegren provided the usual park attractions of music, specialties, etc., which with the water and other attractions served to occupy the time of the pleasure seekers.

Hoag Lake was simply overrun with people seeking fresh air and diversion, and this the management provided in unlimited quantities to the estimated number of 15,000 people. All the cars to and from the lake in every direction were crowded to the utmost, and thousands of people enjoyed their first Fourth of July at a resort which will be made popular and attractive if money and time can do it. In the evening the crowd was the greatest since the park has been opened, the band concerts, vaudeville performance, fireworks, torch swinging and other attractions drew the people there and a good night's entertainment was provided. The fireworks were set off by experienced men and were the finest seen in this vicinity in many years.

The day was an ideal one, and only disagreeable feature was the inability of the trolley companies to transfer the vast crowds that presented themselves for conveyance, the unusual demand fairly overwhelming them. At such a time many are sure to be disappointed: this year's experience proved no exception to the rule. But every car was sent out that could be secured, and the companies exerted every effort, consistent with safety to handle the crowds. That there would be delays and possibly many not secure transportation was to have been expected, however disappointing it might prove. But that we were able to get transportation of any kind is at least a source of congratulation, and later the service is sure to be improved, both by the Woonsocket line and the Medway line.

Learning the Lesson.

It seemed as if everyone was on the trolley cars on Wednesday, and some of the delays, owing to the crowds, were very exasperating, though there is no question but that the companies handled the large numbers as well as could be expected. That no one was injured here is a source of congratulation, as many neighboring towns had serious accidents, Webster especially. There seems to be but one solution, and that is to have a telephone upon every car, which will admit of immediate communication with the superintendent's office, so that anxious motormen and conductors may know just what to do, without relying upon chance to run their cars. In the case of the steam roads no train goes out without definite orders, every movement being subject to telegraphic orders. It will come to that, or telephonic orders, in the matter of electric transportations, and then, and not till then, will these terrible trolley accidents cease. In nine cases out of ten cars are allowed to go out upon the main line without waiting for the return cars to reach the switch and a wreck results. If the wreck were confined to the cars alone there would be less cause for public fear, but unfortunately lives are lost and passengers maimed and mangled. Nothing but the greatest care can secure the public against such an accident as that at Webster, which resulted in the killing of two persons and injuring forty-three. The lesson must be learned.

Emerson's Market.

New peas, string beans, tomatoes, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, 3 cts a pound new beets and turnips, new potatoes. Try our Imperial cheese. Fresh killed fowls, lamb, veal, pork. Get your native strawberries here. Fresh cream.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

H. H. Gay has taken the agency for a very valuable work, "South America; its social, industrial and political conditions." It is exceedingly useful as a reference book. Drop him a postal and he will call.

The Democratic Issue.

A prominent Democratic politician in town, discussing the Bryan nomination, asserted this morning that if the issue of free silver is brought definitely to the front in this campaign party success would be an absolute impossibility, from the fact that the states that are not able to give Democratic electoral votes are the ones clamoring for the silver plank, whereas the conservative, but doubtful states, would support the ticket enthusiastically if imperialism and the trusts were made the dominant issues. He insisted that the recent congress had settled the question of free silver for some years to come and party loyalty did not demand any special reiteration of the platform of 1896, for the simple reason that the Democratic convention of that year had ignored its time-honored war cry of free trade, substituting for it the new issue of free silver. If, therefore, it was consistent to drop free trade it would be no less consistent to drop free silver. If the contest is to be waged on the issues of the trusts and imperialism there is no doubt but that the Republican party will gladly welcome the fight and stand its ground on what President McKinley has done, asking no better gauge of battle.

A Test Case.

The case against Willie R. Cook, charged with not having sent his children to school according to the demands of the school law, was concluded in the district court yesterday forenoon, Judge Doe finding him guilty and fining him $5, which he paid. A number of interesting facts were brought out at the trial. A witness had testified that Mr. Cook had asserted that he should not send his children to the Franklin school, as the Bellingham school was nearer. This he denied, but set up the claim that he was not obliged to comply with the law, because the child which had been arrested for truancy had weak eyes, was not in good health, and the school was not within a reasonable distance. All these Judge Ruggles, counsel for the Board, denied, insisting that the Board was possessed of plenary powers, in the matter of assigning studies, and distribution of children, etc. He cited cases in the superior and supreme courts in proof of the rights of the Board in this matter. The fact that the father claimed that the children were receiving instructions from the mother at home did not affect the case. Had the case been decided otherwise it would have opened the door for much abuse, as parents would have refused to send their children to town schools but to nearer schools in neighboring towns, and this town would have been called upon to pay their tuitions. If the parent wishes to pay the tuition the Board will not object to their attending nearby schools, except in unusual cases. Mr. Cook had three children technically truants, but the case was brought against but one, proving that there was nothing personal in the matter, but just that of principle, which the Board has always consistently adhered to.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Store girl wanted. Address, at once, Box 342, Franklin.

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one 11tf

Wanted.—At Lake Pearl a kitchen girl. A very active girl will receive good wages. Apply to Wm. Enegren, on the grounds.

Wanted.—A competent girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. Dr. King, High street. 6

Tenement of six rooms over Batchelor's paper store. Inquire of H. E. Batchelor. 22tw

To Rent.—5 room tenement, Central square. Inquire E. B. Sherman, Emerson's market. 5tf

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. Allen.

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18-tf

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

For Sale—A new end spring, rubber tired runabout, up to date, will be sold low to make quick sale. Can be seen at 282 Main st., Milford, Mass.

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

Cut flowers, wedding bouquets, flowers for graduation, all kinds of funeral designs made up at Slade's green house at short notice. P. O. Box 179.

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Fresh cut flowers at Slade's.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

FRIDAY, JULY 6, 1900

Iron Slag as a Byproduct.

In this utilitarian age we allow very little to go to waste. Many things which a few years ago were regarded as valueless are now utilized. A considerable portion of the revenues of the Standard Oil company and other refiners of crude petroleum comes from what is known as the byproducts, which were originally thrown away. The waste of a few years ago is the profit of today. Aside from the primary product, kerosene, there are obtained from crude petroleum more than a score of byproducts, ranging from the most volatile and almost colorless fluid to the solid and opaque carbon points used in arc electric lighting. These byproducts, it is said, now bring more than enough to pay the cost of producing and refining the oil.

In this connection it is interesting to note that experiments are now being made in Pittsburg which give promise of finding a profitable use for the slag from furnaces, a byproduct which is now worse than useless, as it costs iron manufacturers a great deal of money to throw it away. These experiments are in the direction of utilizing the immense waste from the furnaces in the manufacture of slag cement, which is asserted to have a greater tensile strength than any other cement now manufactured. It does not exactly take the place of portland cement, but by mixing it with the latter the strength and durability of the composition are greatly increased. The development of such an industry would be of very great importance.

It is estimated that the slag thrown away from iron furnaces in the Pittsburg region alone amounts to 1,700,000 tons a year. A considerable portion of this is used for filling in low ground, but even when put to this purpose it costs the furnace owners a large amount of money to have it carted away. To convert this great bulk of material into cement of good quality, selling, say, for $2 a barrel, would mean the realization of many millions of dollars from a waste product. The Pittsburg experiments will be watched with much interest.

It is said that the secret of the new shells, which, it is declared, will penetrate the hardest Krupp armor plate, is merely that they have "soft metal noses." A quarter of a century ago it was known that a tallow candle fired point blank at a pine board an inch thick would pass through it as easily as a steel bullet. This was because a part of the candle formed a cushion or bank around the opening, thus preventing the central part of the candle from bending. The momentum then carried this core through the board. It is said that a soft nosed shell acts the same way. Here is another illustration of the same principle: If you take a needle and hammer it through a cork, it will pass through a penny under the cork without breaking. The cork acts as a protection, preventing the needle from bending. The soft metal at the top of these projectiles acts like the cork around the needle. It seems simple enough, and artillerists will doubtless wonder why no one thought of it before.

Corbett insists that he was whipped by Jeffries because he got careless and permitted the latter to hit him. This habit of carelessness, which cropped out when he met Fitzsimmons, seems to have grown on "Gentleman Jim" so firmly that he will probably never be able to outgrow it.

There were 500,000,000 fowls in the United States last year and the number of eggs laid was estimated at about 1,450,000,000 dozen, or 17,400,000,000 eggs. The value of these fowls and their product is set down at $420,000,000.

Evidently the sultan of Turkey is preparing to plead the statute of limitations against the Armenian indemnity.

BALD SPOTS

Without help, a bald spot never grows smaller. It keeps spreading, until at last your friends say, "How bald he is getting."

Not easy to cure an old baldness, but easy to stop the first thinning, easy to check the first falling out. Used in time, baldness is made impossible with—

Ayer's Hair Vigor

It stops falling, promotes growth, and takes out all dandruff.

It always restores color to faded or gray hair, all the dark, rich color of early life. You may depend upon it every time. It brings health to the hair.

$1.00 a bottle. All Druggists.

"I have used your Hair Vigor and am greatly pleased with it. I have only used one bottle of it, and yet my hair has stopped falling out and has started to grow again nicely."
JULIUS WITT,
March 28, 1899. Canova, S. Dak.

Write the Doctor.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the Doctor about it.
Address, DR. J. C. AYER,
Lowell, Mass.

The World's Way.

To gobble up an island, at the present, seems to be
The purpose of each potentate and plotter:
He longs to plant his flag where'er the bottom of the sea
Sticks up above the surface of the water.
—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Won in a Fair Way.

"Why, Jimmie, my darling boy, you've got the medal for good behavior this week!" said the fond mother, noting the little silver medal on her son's vest.

"Yes, ma," said Jimmie. "Tommy Poland won it, but I told him I'd knock the head off him if he didn't give it to me."—Tit-Bits.

A Parting Shot.

"Woman," remarked the up-to-date maid, "is rapidly becoming man's superior."

"Yes—I don't think," answered the stingy youth, as he lit another cigarette.

"No, of course you don't," she retorted. "How could you?"—Chicago Record.

A Strong-Minded View.

Mr. Meeke—The paper says the judge reserved his decision. I don't see why it is judges invariably put off deciding a point until the next day.

Mrs. M.—Huh! Judges have sense enough to want to consult their wives. —N. Y. Weekly.

A Change for the Better.

Tuttle—I bought my wife a wheel today.

Buttle—She'll do more riding and less cooking now.

Tuttle—I know it; that's why I bought the wheel.—Up to Date.

A Good Hater.

Notting—How can you sit here with that Chaffer woman playing on that confounded piano of hers in the next flat?

Helter—O, I enjoy it. It reminds me that she is Chaffer's wife. I hate Chaffer, you know.—Boston Transcript.

Consolatory.

Miss Sharpe—Believe in vegetarianism? Why, I love good beef!

Cholly—I wish I were beef, you know!

Miss Sharpe—Never mind! You'll grow!—Puck.

Settled Out of Court.

Judge—You say you do not wish to prosecute this defendant for stealing a kiss?

Fair Complainant—No, your honor The property has been restored.—N. Y. Journal.

The Half Was Never Told.

"I know that age is telling on me" said Miss Sereleaf.

"Yes, dear; but you needn't mind so very much. It isn't telling the whole truth," replied Mrs. Caustique.—Tit-Bits.

Forced Upon Them.

Mamma—I wonder why babies insist upon being rocked?

Papa—They don't! If they had their way they'd much prefer to be st[?]led and howl.—Town Topics.

Well Matched.

Mr. Millyuns (engaging valet)—I warn you that frequently I am exceedingly ill-tempered and gruff.

Valet (cheerfully)—That's all right, sir. So am I.—N. Y. World.

Setting Himself Right.

She—I heard that you said to your friend that I was no spring chicken.

He—Neither you are, my dear; you're a duck.—Yonkers Statesman.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems Gleaned From the Teachings of All Denominations.

We should love and serve all men. But it should flow out in fullest measure to him who is poor in spirit.—Rev. R. A. Maynard, Broadway Temple, Denver.

Profanity.

To speak against anything that God has created, anything in nature, is irreligious and irreverent and consequently is profanity.—Rev. Joseph Dennis, Methodist, Buffalo.

Christianity.

Christianity is as a grain of mustard seed, little and contemptible; but, planted, it springs up a great tree under whose shadow all the weary find rest. Rev. E. E. Helms, Methodist, Buffalo.

Survival of Christianity.

One of the strongest evidences of the truth of Christianity is the fact that, despite the errors with which it has so long been weighted, it still survives. Rev. Richard E. Sykes, Universalist, Denver.

Divine Love.

The reservoir of divine love is great and full enough to supply a universal need, but to have its power and blessing we must make the personal connection. Rev. Charles H. Moss, Baptist, Cincinnati.

First Principles.

Cling to first principles and don't worry about nonessentials; grasp the great truths; hold to eternal verities; use the positive method in the treatment of sin. Rev. D. C. Garrett, Episcopalian, San Francisco.

Religious Duty.

Whatever lessens a man's religious fullness, whatever keeps him from manfully doing his full religious duty, that he must abandon, although it were dear as a right hand or eye.—Rev. Dr. S. MacArthur, Baptist, New York.

A View of Liberal Preaching.

On every hand we hear of liberal preaching. Men seem tempted to do or say something that will entitle them to be called broad and liberal, and, as liberal preaching increases, so crime seems to increase.—Rev. E. Dennitt, Baptist, Brooklyn.

The Power of God.

Jesus broke death's dominion forever by the power of his sinlessness, which is only another name for the power of God. Jesus will give to man the life which is fed from within. Our hope of immortality depends upon our partaking of the Christ life.—Dr. L. W. Batten, Episcopalian, New York.

God's Promises.

The Holy Spirit's efficient agency is still our guide and our support. The promises of God in all their variety and richness shall never fail. These facts are as windows of the church which let in the floodlight of God's glory in the church.—Chaplain W. C. Coleman, Methodist, Kansas City.

Power of Music.

Music is a kind of universal language. It is often the means of inspiring and expressing a spirit of devotion. It not only stirs the emotions, but penetrates and arouses the intellect and induces the whole man to yield to its pleadings where simple preaching has proved unavailing.—Dr. W. A. Robinson, Methodist, Cincinnati.

Man's Endeavor to Be Like Christ.

As man was before alienated from the life of God, so upon his return to God his aspirations can be satisfied with nothing less than the life of God as shown forth in Christ, for he well realizes that to endeavor only to be like a man, however good a man he may be, is simply making one image like another.—Rev. F. S. Ballentine, Scranton, Pa.

Bible Truths.

There may be many things we cannot understand in the Bible, but the simple truths, the salient truths, the Calvary truths, the truth that Jesus Christ came into the world to save sinners, are that simple even the little children gather about the mother's knee to hear the stories of the New Testament.—Rev. Frank De Witt Talmage, Presbyterian, Chicago.

Triumph of Christian Faith.

The aim of all is "to get, to gain and to hold." Thus spiritual ideals are dimmed. But the day is coming when we can harmonize the worldly with the heavenly and when we shall forget the gold, gold, gold. It is a spirit born of prosperity that numbs the kingdom of Christ, but the time will come when gold will not rule and the Christian faith will triumph.—Dr. George C. Lorimer, Baptist, Boston.

Music.

Obedience is music in that it is in harmony with the authority of God. If you want to obey God and everything he tells you, you are a sort of celestial harp on which the fingers of God plays. Righteousness is music in that it is in harmony with holiness and truth. Sympathy is music in that it is in harmony with men. Gratitude is music in that it is in harmony with the kindness of God.—Dr A. C. Dixon, Baptist, Brooklyn.

Self Exertion Essential.

What we need is to follow this law of the necessity of effort, not from compulsion, not because we must, but as a law of use, as a law of God and heaven, as a law which he himself follows who has ordained from the beginning that life is motion, that idleness is death, that usefulness is heaven, that uselessness is hell. We need to follow him who feeds the suns continually with their mysterious fuel, who holds the planets in their swift flight; we need to recognize that divine power which, on the other side of the veil, pours forth from the sun of the spiritual world its unceasing effulgence of love and wisdom, renewing the hearts and minds of the angels just in proportion to their ability to return it to him in loving deeds of service to their fellow beings.—Rev John Goddard Church of New Jerusalem, Cincinnati.

"He That Any Good Would Win"

Should have good health. Pure, rich blood is the first requisite. Hood's Sarsaparilla, by giving good blood and good health, has helped many a man to success, besides giving strength and courage to women who, before taking it, could not even see any good in life to win.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Hard Luck.

A poor little fellow called Vaughan
Was playing one day on the laughan.
When a whirlwind came nigh,
Took him up to the skigh,
And none could tell where he had gaughan.
—N. Y. World.

MATTER OF BUSINESS.

She—My father always looks forward to the football season with keen delight.

He—Is he such an admirer of the sport?

She—No. He's a doctor.—Chicago Daily News.

The Logic of Vanity.

A crank is he who'll not agree
With us in our pretense.
The man who'll praise our silly ways
We deem a man of sense.
—Up to Date.

Just What She Wanted.

"My dear," said Growell to his wife the other evening, "this is the second new dress you have had in six months. I'm afraid I will have to check your extravagance."

"Oh, you dear old darling, how good of you!" she exclaimed. "And you'll make the check payable to my order, won't you?"—Chicago Daily News.

Danger of Agreeing.

Clara—That handsome stranger appears to have taken quite a shine to you, Maud.

Maud—Ye-e-s; I can't imagine why.

Clara—Nor I.

Maud—I'll never speak to you again, so there.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Builder of the Language.

Mrs. Upjohn—Our minister is a highly-learned man. I believe he knows every word in the dictionary.

Mrs. Downleigh—That's nothing. Our preacher uses lots of words that ain't in the dictionary at all.—Chicago Tribune.

Rapid Transit.

Mrs. Crimsonbeak—It only takes a snail fourteen days and five hours to travel a mile.

Mr. Crimsonbeak—Yes; but a snail doesn't have to wait and see if it's hat is on straight.—Yonkers Statesman.

Distinction.

"Did you ever in your life see me with a ruffled temper?" she demanded.

"Certainly not, Henrietta," answered Mr. Meekton; "only slightly crimped now and then, that's all."—Washington Star.

Not Shocked.

A Woman—I suppose your husband's death was a great shock to you.

The Widow—Not at all. I didn't attend the electrocution, you know.—N. Y. Journal.

A Definition.

Teacher—What do you understand by insomnia?

Pupil—That's when people stay awake all night trying to go to sleep.—Puck.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE. Brent Good

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

mar17-1yr

Earnest and Outspoken.

"What is your opinion of coercion at the polls?" inquired the young man.

"I am against it!" exclaimed Senator Sorghum hitting his desk in order to emphasize his words. "I think, sir, that trying to get even the humblest citizen to vote your way without paying him for it is an outrage!"—Washington Star.

Alas!

Gladys—What's become of Mabel?

Belle—She's joined the great majority.

Gladys—You don't mean to say she's dead?

Belle—Oh, no! Married a man named Smith.—N. Y. Journal.

Very Evident.

Tommy—Is your grandpa who is visiting you your father's papa or your mother's papa?

Willie—Why, he's mother's papa, of course. Can't you see he's smoking his pipe in the parlor?—Judge.

Had Done Pretty Well.

"I never was much on fiction," said the young man

"My boy," replied the wise father, "have you forgotten the expense account you used to send me when you were at college?"—Chicago Post.

Not Contagious.

He (after a waltz)—Do you know, I could die waltzing?

She (out of breath)—Perhaps you could, Mr. Hopnot; but that's no reason why you should expect others to die with you.—Illustrated American.

She Could and She Would.

"That," observed a friend of the family, "is a very superior woman. She can converse intelligently, I believe, on a thousand different topics."

"Yes," sighed her husband—"and she does."—Tit-Bits.

The Way of the World.

"Who is the lady that has been owing you for such a long time?" asked the dressmaker of her friend, the milliner.

"The wife of old Credley, the 'cash grocer,'" answered the milliner.—Brooklyn Life.

Callow and Inexperienced.

Adele—What do you think? Young Leslie actually proposed to me last night.

Clara—That's nothing. This is his first season and he is popping away at everything.—Town Topics.

At School.

Teacher—What is a fort?

Pupil—A place for soldiers to live in.

Teacher—And a fortress?

Pupil—A place for soldier's wives to live in.—N. Y. Truth.

Public Property.

"What is a secret, Aunt Nan?"

"A secret—well, a secret is something awfully interesting that nobody has ever told anybody, but that everybody knows."—Cleveland Leader.

Her Only Chance.

Mrs. Benham—I'm sorry I married a fool.

Benham—Don't worry about it; you couldn't have married anybody but a fool.—Town Topics.

They Are All Young.

"What a sanguine man Cooper is!"

"Sanguine?"

"He advertised for a middle-aged typewriter girl and expected to get applications."—Tit-Bits.

"Delays are Dangerous."

A small pimple on your face may seem of little consequence, but it shows your blood is impure, and impure blood is what causes most of the diseases from which people suffer. Better heed the warning given by the pimple and purify your blood at once by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine cures all diseases due to bad blood, including scrofula and salt rheum.

The non irritating cathartic—Hood's Pills.

A Brilliant Career.

"Miss Bright has made quite a success on the comic opera stage."

"Decidedly. Five years ago she was an obscure soubrette, and since then she's made enough money to support three extravagant husbands."—Brooklyn Life.

No Right to Ugliness.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run down invalid. Only 50c, at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

Rather Warm.

"Speaking of battles, major," said the bud of a former season, "were you ever in what might be termed a real, serious engagement?"

"Well, rather," replied the major, "I was once engaged to a widow for three weeks."—Chicago Daily News.

Try Allen's Foot-Ease,

A powder to be shaken into the shoes. Your feet feel swollen, nervous and hot, and get tired easily. If you have smarting feet or tight shoes, try Allen's Foot Ease. It cools the feet and makes walking easy. Cures swollen, sweating feet, ingrowing nails; blisters and callous spots. Relieves corns and bunions of all pain and gives rest and comfort. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores at 25 cents. Trial packages free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON)

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.
Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.
ap14 Fu

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less,	- -	10c
5 to 15 miles,	- -	15c
15 to 25 "	- -	20c
25 to 35 "	- -	25c
35 to 45 "	- -	30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript
(No Sunday Edition).

THE GREATEST PAPER IN NEW ENGLAND

FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms."

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT

Is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

News and Opinions OF National Importance.

THE SUN ALONE CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.
Address THE SUN, New York.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY, ...BOSTON.

Telephone 1839.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D.C.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co. Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

je22-4w

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair.
Promotes a luxuriant growth.
Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color.
Cures scalp diseases & hair falling.
50c. and $1.00 at Druggists

jy6-4w

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.

Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

ENVIRONMENT.

A lily grew in a garden fair
From the dust of the city street.
It had no dream that the universe
Held aught less pure and sweet
Than its virgin self, so chaste was it,
So perfect its retreat.

When night came down, the lily looked
In the face of the stars and smiled;
Then went to sleep—to the sleep of death—
As the soul of a little child
Goes back to the clasp of the Father soul
Untouched and undefiled.

A lily bloomed on the highway close
To the tread of the sweeping throng;
It bore the gaze of a hundred eyes
Where burned the flame of wrong,
And one came by who tore its heart
With a ruthless hand and strong.

It caught no glimpse of a garden fair,
It knew no other name
For a world that used and bruised it so
Than a world of sin and shame,
And hopeless, crushed, its spirit passed
As the evening shadows came.

And who can say but the sheltered one
A sullied flower had been
Had its home been out on the highway close
To the path of shame and sin,
And the other forever angel white
Had it blossomed safe within?

—Elizabeth Gallup Perkins in Boston Transcript.

AT THE SIGN OF SAINT LILAC.

How a Go Between Made Two Matches Instead of One.

I had paced the close cut sward at least a dozen times. The sun was already turning his fiery eye toward the west. It was not my lady's way to be unpunctual, and, seeing the nature of her business, I had not looked for delay.

Each time I passed the lilac bush I paused, fancying I heard the scrunch of her tiny shoes over the loose gravel path that led down from the house. And again and again was I disappointed. The hour grew near.

I fumbled in my bosom for her letter, to make a certainty of the matter. I muttered over the words to myself; but I had no need to hesitate upon them, for my lady's fingers could grasp the pen with a lucidity of expression and a comfortable style that in the broad noontide was as good as, nay, better than, any clerk's. It ran:

> Your request is a strange one, dear friend, but I will do myself the pleasure of talking with you at the Sign of Saint Lilac. The place is well chosen, I think, and the hour propitious. Beauclerc will be favorably impressed with my poor looks, have no doubt, despite the cold light of 4 o'clock. What made you choose such an hour—save that you are a man? Still, it is like your kind heart to be scheming for my better fortune, and I will marry your good Beauclerc, provided he will have me and I like the trim of his beard. I kiss the page—here. Deliver the message faithfully or expect no mercy from your little friend.
>
> AUDREY.

I had told her 4 o'clock so that I might enjoy a full hour's speech with her myself and make quite clear the nature of the thing—that Beauclerc, my friend, was an honest and an amiable man and actuated by no unworthy motive in thus leaving me master of his choice in regard to a wife. I had felt diffidence in the business at first, but when I bethought me of poor little Audrey—so lonely and so comfortless up at the big house—my heart had swelled with a monstrous pity, and I had undertaken the commission at a breath.

Beauclerc had reasoned with me thus—that I (being a poorer man and consequently more honest than he) should know better of a fitting helpmate for his declining years. "One must have a woman about the house, friend John," he had concluded, "at the last. 'Tis ill going out of the world leaving behind no one to fight over your fortune or carry on the name, and I will be a docile old beast in harness do you but find me a gentle and patient lady. Nay, marriage is all a lottery; I would have you choose for me; so that I can have the small consolation of not blaming myself overmuch should the venture prove a failure. Dip your hand in Dame Fortune's lucky bag and draw a prize, friend John, for me."

So I had mentally decided upon Audrey, though I could have wished to have been "dipping" for myself. But I wanted to make life brighter—not worse—for my lady and so banished the thought as best I could. But the pricking was there nevertheless.

I glanced at the sundial. It was nigh on to 5. Beauclerc might come at any moment. It was certainly most provoking. I dug my heels vengefully into the turf and had ventured "just like a woman!" betwixt my set teeth when of a sudden I heard a quick, impatient step, and my tryst was at an end. "How late"—

I stopped. It was not Audrey after all, but a stranger. I bowed stiffly and began an apology.

"Sir," said the fair unknown, cutting me very short, "do I address a friend of George Beauclerc?"

"Madame," replied I, with my best bow, "it is my good fortune to name that gentleman on the list of my acquaintances."

"Perhaps I should have said 'the friend,'" continued she, with a heightening color. I noticed her looks more narrowly now that we stood side by side in the shade of the lilac. She was older than my lady, and there was a line 'twixt her white brows that told of a history, yet she was of a trim build and very beautiful still. Meanwhile she eyed me with diffidence. "I scarce know how to make my errand clear to you, sir," she went on presently, "but you have, if rumor lies not, a delicate commission of your friend Beauclerc upon your hands?"

I bowed again.

"We were formerly acquainted," she said and paused. "But, like most friendships, ours had an end. Sir, cannot you guess what I am at so much trouble to make clear? Has George never even mentioned to you so little as my name?"

"Madame," said I, "if so be you are the lady through whom my friend Beauclerc so nearly lost his life, I will be candid with you. In stating the nature of the commission with which I have the honor of being intrusted, my friend expressed one condition—that the lady who would consent to his proposals should not be of the same name as—yourself."

"But if it were all a mistake?" she cried. "If I could prove that it was a mistake? Sir, credit me with a little truth. That letter arranging the assignation which so nearly terminated his life was never penned by me. It was long after I had foolishly steeled my heart against him and had utterly lost his esteem that the truth reached me—that George Beauclerc, so far from being the despicable man I had deemed him, was really smarting under the sense of a deadly affront, apparently offered him by me. But you men will more readily believe a woman faithless than misdoubt that fine thing honor!"

Her words came all in a rush; her voice was so piteous that I could not but feel for and believe her. "The proof, madame?" I asked weakly.

"Is here!" She flourished a paper before me, addressed to Beauclerc. "The true writer of that abominable letter avows himself at last! Yes, it was a gross forgery, sir! See for yourself!" She flung it to me imperiously and triumphant.

I read the letter, and my heart sank for Audrey. Here in truth was the woman that should mate with Beauclerc, if so hap he were willing, and this I was fain to think he would be now that the truth was clear. I handed back the paper with a sigh, yet my heart was lighter than I would have imagined.

"Madame," said I at last, "your case is now my own. Yonder comes Beauclerc. Go you to meet him.' There is my brief. Tell him from me I dare swear that you will do his business more thoroughly than I." I gave her my card, with a bow. Across the back I had scribbled while I spoke, "The bearer, dear friend, is my choice." In a moment I and Saint Lilac were once more alone.

But I trembled when I thought of Audrey. What would she say? Had I not deliberately brought her on a fool's errand? I stood mightily perplexed, my chin in my hand, half hoping that my lady would not come, after all, now that she was so late. Perchance I might get to her home. I could explain then with a better grace, although my knees knocked together at the prospect of the interview. "Zounds," I half muttered, "what a pother I am in, to be sure!"

"'Tis a bad sign you should talk with yourself," suddenly came a voice from behind the lilac. "Either you must be so conceited as to deem no other worthy of your speech or else your wits must be wool gathering."

It was Audrey. I knew her dear tones at the first word. Strangely enough, now that I was embarked on what bid fair to be a perilous time, my spirits revived.

"You offer me a meager choice," I said, rallying. "I will tell you why you find me here so out of conceit with the world"—

"You may spare yourself the trouble, friend John," said she, coming into view. "I have been under the shelter of our patron's wing"—she bowed to the lilac—"all through your strange interview."

"Then you have heard?" I gasped.

"Every word," replied my lady, nodding her little head. I had not dared to raise my eyes, but I could tell from the tone of her voice that her golden curls were shaking at me. "You are a naughty man," she said severely.

I stealthily raised my glance, first taking in her little shoes, then slowly up that dainty form till I reached her soft blue eyes.

"You have made a great fool of me," she went on.

"My dear," said I, gaining a little courage, "listen how much greater fool you have made of me. I love you with all my heart and soul! Not till I was so near to losing you altogether did I know how dear you were. My scheming on your behalf I fancied to be only for the sake of friendship. But I love you—I loved you always. I knew you were not happy, and Beauclerc is an honest fellow and rich, while I—I am too poor—too humble. You would but have been exchanging one misery for another. I have made a rash venture, and I have lost all!"

I looked away as I spoke. I could not meet that gentle reproach in her eyes. "I thought I should have been happy," I stumbled on, "in seeing you happy, and that the next best thing to having you myself would be to find you an interest in life and a home."

Somehow I found her at my side—her hand on my arm. "You can still find me a home, friend John," she murmured, and her voice was the sweetest music in this world. "But, to make me happy—ah, then you must share that home too."

I looked up amazed. "I would not have married your Beauclerc," she went on rapidly—"no, not for all the riches in the world! But I did want to tease you, friend John. Listen. Love is a master—not a servant. We must dance to his pipe, no matter how alluring the gilded palace may seem, no matter how brilliant the diadems that ambition may offer. The honest hearth and the one I love—these are God's gifts that I will not barter for all man's money—no, not if it were heaped right up to the skies! Kiss me, John!"

I did her bidding, the happiest creature on poor old earth, while Saint Lilac waved his hands in perfumed blessing over our heads and sighed with us in sheer contentment.—Vanity Fair.

GEMS IN VERSE.

OLD FAVORITES.

The Gifts of God.

When God at first made man,
Having a glass of blessings standing by,
Let us (said he) pour on him all we can:
Let the world's riches, which dispersed lie,
Contract into a span.

So strength first made a way;
Then beauty flowed, then wisdom, honor, pleasure:
When almost all was out, God made a stay,
Perceiving that, alone, of all his treasure,
Rest in the bottom lay.

For if I should (said he)
Bestow this jewel also on my creature,
He would adore my gifts instead of me,
And rest in Nature, not the God of Nature:
So both should losers be.

Yet let him keep the rest,
But keep them with repining restlessness:
Let him be rich and weary, that, at least,
If goodness lead him not, yet weariness
May toss him to my breast.

—George Herbert.

In Bohemia.

I'd rather live in Bohemia than any other land,
For only there are the values true
And the laurels gathered in all men's view;
The prizes of traffic and state are won
By shrewdness of force or by deeds undone.
But fame is sweeter without the feud,
And the wise of Bohemia are never shrewd.
Here pilgrims stream, with a faith sublime,
From every class and clime and time,
Aspiring only to be enrolled
With the names that are writ in the book of gold,
And each one bears in mind or hand
A palm of the dear Bohemia land.
A scholar first with his book—a youth
Aflame with the glory of harvested truth,
A girl with a picture, a man with a play,
A boy with a wolf he has modeled in clay,
A smith with a marvelous hilt and sword,
A player, a king, a plowman, a lord—
And the player is king when the door is passed,
The plowman is crowned, and the lord is last!
I'd rather fail in Bohemia than win in another land.
There are no titles inherited there,
No hoard or hope for the brainless heir,
No gilded dullard native born
To stare at his fellow with leaden scorn.
Bohemia has none but adopted sons;
Its limits, where fancy's bright stream runs;
Its honors, not garnered for thrift or trade,
But for truth and beauty men's souls have made.
To the empty heart in a jeweled breast
There is value maybe in a purchased crest,
But the thirsty of soul soon learn to know
The moistless froth of the social show,
The vulgar sham of the pompous feast,
Where the heaviest purse is the highest priest;
The organized charity scrimped and iced
In the name of a cautious, statistical Christ;
The smile restrained, the respectable cant,
When a friend in need is a friend in want,
When the only aim is to keep afloat,
And a brother may drown with a cry in his throat.
Oh, I long for a glow of a kindly heart
And the grasp of a friendly hand,
And I'd rather live in Bohemia than in any other land!

—John Boyle O'Reilly.

What Is Time?

I asked an aged man, with hoary hairs,
Wrinkled and curved with worldly cares:
"Time is the warp of life," said he; "O, tell
The young, the fair, the gay, to weave it well!"
I asked the ancient, venerable dead,
Sages who wrote, and warriors who bled:
From the cold grave a hollow murmur flowed,
"Time sowed the seed we reap in this abode!"
I asked a dying sinner, ere the tide
Of life had left his veins: "Time!" he replied;
"I've lost it! ah, the treasure!" and he died.
I asked the golden sun and silver spheres,
Those bright chronometers of days and years:
They answered, "Time is but a meteor glare,"
And bade me for eternity prepare.
I asked the Seasons, in their annual round,
Which beautify or desolate the ground;
And they replied (no oracle more wise),
"'Tis Folly's blank, and Wisdom's highest prize!"
I asked a spirit lost—but O the shriek
That pierced my soul! I shudder while I speak.
It cried, "A particle! a speck! a mite
Of endless years, duration infinite!"
Of things inanimate my dial I
Consulted, and it made me this reply—
"Time is the season fair of living well.
The path of glory or the path of hell."
I asked my Bible, and methinks it said,
"Time is the present hour, the past has fled;
Live! live to-day! to-morrow never yet
On any human being rose or set."
I asked old Father Time himself at last;
But in a moment he flew swiftly past;
His chariot was a cloud, the viewless wind
His noiseless steeds, which left no trace behind.
I asked the mighty angel who shall stand
One foot on sea and one on solid land:
"Mortal!" he cried, "the mystery now is o'er;
Time was, Time is, but Time shall be no more!"

—William Marsden.

Nature's Chain.

Look round our world; behold the chain of love
Combining all below and all above,
See plastic nature working to this end,
The single atoms each to other tend,
Attract, attracted to, the next in place,
Formed and impelled its neighbor to embrace.
See matter next, with various life endued,
Press to one center still, the general good.
See dying vegetable life sustain,
See life dissolving vegetate again:
All forms that perish other forms supply
(By turns we catch the vital breath, and die);
Like bubbles on the sea of matter borne,
They rise, they break, and to that sea return.
Nothing is foreign; parts relate to whole;
One all-extending, all-preserving Soul
Connects each being, greatest with the least;
Made beast in aid of man, and man of beast;
All served, all serving; nothing stands alone;
The chain holds on, and where it ends, unknown.

Has God, thou fool! worked solely for thy good,
Thy joy, thy pastime, thy attire, thy food?
Who for thy table feeds the wanton fawn,
For him as kindly spreads the flowery lawn.
Is it for thee the lark ascends and sings?
Joy tunes his voice, joy elevates his wings.
Is it for thee the linnet pours his throat?
Loves of his own and raptures swell the note.
The bounding steed you pompously bestride
Shares with his lord the pleasure and the pride.
Is thine alone the seed that strews the plain?
The birds of heaven shall vindicate their grain.
Thine the full harvest of the golden year?
Part pays, and justly, the deserving steer:
The hog that plows not, nor obeys thy call,
Lives on the labors of this lord of all.

—Pope.

Life and Eternity.

Life is the veil that hides eternity.
Youth strives in vain to pierce it, but the eye
Of age may catch, through chinks which Time has worn,
Faint glimpses of that awful world beyond
Which Death at last reveals. Thus life may be Compared to a tree's foliage; in its prime,
A mass of dark, impenetrable shade,
It veils the distant view; but day by day,
As autumn's breath is felt, the falling leaves,
Opening a passage for the doubtful light,
Exhibit to the gazer more and more
Of that which lies beyond—till winter comes,
And through the skeleton branches we behold
The clear, blue vault of day!

It Is God's Will.

The heart that trusts forever sings
And feels as light as it had wings;
A well of peace within it springs,
Come good or ill;
Whate'er today, tomorrow brings;
It is His will.

—J. Williams.

Thus conscience does make cowards of us all,
And thus the native hue of resolution
Is sicklied o'er with the pale cast of thought;
And enterprises of great pith and moment,
With this regard, the currents turn away,
And lose the name of action.

—Shakespeare.

Pleasant Work For Spare Minutes.

General Lewis M. Peck, a distinguished veteran of the civil war, a bibliophile, if not a bookworm, was the leading worker on the volunteer committee which prepared the famous index of magazine and other short articles for the Brooklyn library, then under the management of the late Dr. Noyes. This work was an extension of Poole's famous index to periodical literature. Not long after the task was completed the general met at a reception a young woman who had just been elected librarian of a social club.

"I am thinking," she said, "of getting up a nice, complete catalogue of all the leading magazine articles for my library. I have considerable leisure time and like hard work. How long do you think it would take me?"

"It depends upon the amount of your leisure. The last one took 100 men five years each."—Saturday Evening Post.

The Bishop's Whist Game.

I dined one evening at a hotel and sat next to an Episcopal bishop from England. The bishop, if I may be allowed to use such a disrespectful expression, was chortling. He was doing it softly and unobtrusively, but he was undeniably tickled.

The night before he had found himself alone in a Pullman with a prominent rancher and a Japanese student from an American university. They had read all their papers, talked themselves hoarse, and the rancher suggested a game of whist. To get a fourth they enlisted the services of the colored porter on the car.

"The porter played a remarkably fine rubber," said his lordship gleefully. "The Jap had only played twice before, but he picked it up in the most wonderful manner; but I wonder what they would think of such a quartet over in England!"—Blackwood's.

He who has dollars without sense or sympathy will be a curse to the world; he who lays life and wealth on the altar of service receives a hundredfold in this life and has the promise of eternal life in the world to come.—Rev. Bruce Brown, Christian Church, Denver.

You May Need

Pain-Killer

For ACCIDENTS
Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Wounds, &c., &c.

It gives instant relief and cures quickly.

In case of sudden illness
Cramps
Diarrhœa
Dysentery
and
All Bowel
Complaints

It is a sure, safe and quick remedy.

There's ONLY ONE

Pain-Killer

Perry Davis'.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)

ALL DRUGGISTS.

ja10-1y

Her Mistake.

Lady (to tramp)—Now, you've had your dinner, why don't you go right out and saw that wood? What are you waiting round here for?

Tramp—Don't be in a hurry, lady. Do you take me for a slot machine?

Lady—I expect you to act like one.

Tramp—I'm like one of the slot machines that don't work.

And as he walked leisurely out of the yard picking his teeth she was sorry she hadn't let him alone.—Harlem Life.

No Spare Hours.

Mr. Hayseed (arriving at city hotel)—I s'pose I kin hear the gong here when it rings for dinner, can't I?

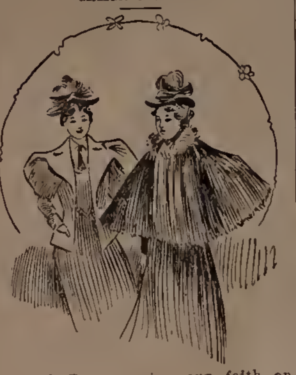
Clerk—We have no gong. We have breakfast from 6 to 11, dinner from 12 to 6, supper from 6 to 11.

Mr. Hayseed—Jehoshaphat! How am I to git time to see the city?—N. Y. Weekly.

His Poor Argument.

"Your money is nothing at all to me,"
The lover impatiently cried.
"Then get out; you haven't a business head,"
Her rich old father replied.
—Chicago Daily News.

MAKING SURE.



Maud—Do you pin your faith on Charlie?

Ethel—I'm not satisfied with pinning. I want a good, hard knot tied.—Philadelphia Press.

An Observation.

Chill breezes now
The tree-tops woo,
The snowbird's note
Is falling due.
—N. Y. Truth.

How It Happened.

Sympathetic Visitor (to prisoner)—My good man, what brought you here?

Facetious Prisoner—Borrowing money.

"But they don't put people in prison for borrowing money!"

"Yes, I know, but I had to knock the man down three or four times before he would lend it to me."—Pick-Me-Up.

Greatly Afflicted.

Mrs. De Platte—How are you all at home, Mrs. Brownston?

Mrs. Brownston—Not well at all. My daughter has la grippe, my country cousin has the influenza, and my servant has a cold in the head.—N. Y. Weekly.

Crowded Out.

When first they wed she gives him half
The clothes-hooks for his share,
But it isn't long till he has to hang
His pants on the back of a chair.
—L. A. W. Bulletin.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with typhoid fever that ran into pneumonia. My lungs became hardened; I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed; nothing helped me; I expected to soon die of consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave great relief; I continued to use it and am now well and strong; I can't say too much in its praise." This marvellous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all throat and lung trouble. Regular sizes 50c. and $1. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

GOSHEN, ILL.

Genessee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your Grain O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Mocha and Java in our family, but I am free to say I like the Grain O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

Respectfully yours,
A. C. JACKSON, M. D.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

An Insinuation.

Hattie—You are looking rather pale of late. Why don't you do as I do, take a two-mile walk every morning for your complexion?

Ella—And do you really do that? I had no idea it was that far to a drug store.—Chicago Daily News.

Bismarck's Iron Nerve

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where stomach, liver and kidneys and bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25c. at A. C. Mason & Co.'s

Business.

He paid her five thousand cold dollars
For damages done to her heart,
And with it she and her true lover
Were able to get quite a start.
—Chicago Record.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m; S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58, a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 28 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m. S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Electric cars pass the hotel every 15 min., for Woonsocket, Milford, and the Attleboros. Electrics for Dedham and Boston every half hour.

GEO. L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-ly

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

DON'T SWEAR JUST SMILE

At Your Toes,

that are giving you such excruciating pains from corns, for Schlotterbeck's Corn Cure will give you relief and permanent cure by using it according to directions given.

Schlotterbeck's IS THE BEST AND MOST EASILY APPLIED CORN CURE IN THE MARKET, and will cure bunions, corns and warts.

SOLD BY

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Rev. William J. Minchin is taking his vacation commencing with July 1st —— A waiting room has been built at the foot of Creek street where the electric cars meet ——Messrs. F. A. Shepard, C. F. Brown and D. S. Farrington entered the North Attleboro county club golf tournament on the club grounds July 4th. ——Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Brown are visiting friends on Long Island.

CARD.

The undersigned desire to thank all the friends for the basket of flowers, especially the residents of Franklin street and the quartette who assisted in our recent bereavement.

HENRY MAYSHAW AND FAMILY.

Those Ill-Natured People.

Clara (haughtily)—I went to the theater every night last week and had a different escort each time.

Rival Belle (vindictively) — You should be more cautious, my dear.

"Cautious?"

"Yes, my dear. Ill-natured people all over town are saying you can't get the same to go with you twice."—N. Y. Weekly

His Greatest Achievement.

"But," remarked the amateur philosopher, "have you ever done aught to make people remember you after the clods have fallen above your head?"

"Well," replied the fellow with a jag. "I just give Bill Simpkins a biff on the nose that I guess he'll remember after I'm done if he's alive then."—Cleveland Leader

The War in Vain.

"I do wish the United States would get possession of the Canary Islands."

"Why?"

"Because it would make good singers cheap, wouldn't it?"—N. Y. Truth

A Libel on Collegians.

Mrs. Benham—I wonder why our boy hasn't written lately.

Benham—He's probably having good luck at poker.—Town Topics.

Headache

biliousness, sour stomach, constipation and all liver ills are cured by

Hood's Pills

The non-irritating cathartic. Price 25 cents of all druggists or by mail of C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Church Services.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D. D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "Hidden Treasures." Y.P.C.U. at 6.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4 Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Methodist church — Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. Samuel Halfyard; subject, "The Christian's Relationship to Christ;" at 7.30 he will preach on "Divine Love and its Results." Sunday school at 12. Junior league at 3.00. Epworth league at 6.30.

Baptist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. F. T. Hazlewood, D. D., of Boston. Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6 15. Preaching by the pastor at 7.30. Theme, "The Glory of Seeing." A short after service in the vestry.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. I. W. Sneath, Ph.D.; theme, "Unconscious Goodness." Sunday school at 12. Y.P.S.C.E. at 6.30, closing with a short address by the pastor. No evening service. All are invited to the meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. The pastor will speak upon "Apelles, the Weighed Man."

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but skin eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them, also old, running and fever sores, ulcers, boils, felons, corns, warts, cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, chapped hands, chilblains. Best pile cure on earth; drives out pains and aches. Only 25c. box; cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

Do you read what people say about Hood's Sarsaparilla? It is now curing all forms of disease caused or promoted by impure blood.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought Sympathetic.

"Yes," said the young man, "literary work is very fatiguing."

"I should imagine so," replied Mrs. Cayenne. "When I realize that some authors have to keep their minds on the stuff they write I feel positively sorry for them."—Washington Star.

THE REFRIGERATORS

Their brand, WHITE MOUNTAIN GRAND, with prices very reasonable.

Ask for Prize Winner $14.50 box.

In soft woods, prices from $6.00 up.

But you know too small a price often means a bad bargain

Our Store is Light and Cool,

the aisles are broad, the stock new and bright, the corners free from dirt, the floors will not soil your skirts.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name

Shirt Waists...

MARKED DOWN.

One lot Shirt Waists, all sizes, marked from $1.00 to 75c.

One lot Shirt Waists, worth 50c., marked to 29c.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

Appointment or Portrait?

Clara—I cannot understand Douglas. He keeps on pulling out his watch and looking at it.

Gertrude—There must be a woman in the case.—N. Y. World.

Progress.

Tourist—Do you—aw—fellaws still shoot men for wearing silk hats?

Pieface Johnson—Not less'n they wears 'em with sack coats.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Great Deal Better.

"Married yet, old man?"

"No, but I'm engaged, and that's as good as married."

"It's better, if you only knew it."—N. Y. Truth.

At the Butcher's.

Customer—Why did you put up that large mirror near the door?

Butcher—To prevent the servant girls from watching the scales.—Chicago Journal.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending July 5, 1900.

Ladies—Miss Clara Giblin, Miss Mary McLand, Miss M. J. Mahoney, Mrs. Julia O'Donnell, Miss E. M. B. Still.

Gentlemen—Frank Eddy, E. A. Hocking, E. R. Killeean, Rev. J. H. Mansfield, D. D., Eric Nyberg, John W. Smith, Sig. Giuseppenicola Mastrandrea.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Hoag Lake PARK.

Attractions Every Week.

EACH AFTERNOON and EVENING THIS WEEK,

Boom's Enterprises.

ALL:STAR SPECIALTY COMPANY.

Juggling,
Dancing,
Acrobatic Feats,
Music,
Specialties.

je29-tocl

WANTED.

Experienced Fur Felt Finishers, about July 16th, on Ladies' Felt Hats.

Address HIRSH & PARK, Medway, Mass.

jy3-1m

WINDERS

WANTED

..BY..

WORCESTER TEXTILE CO.

UNIONVILLE, MASS.

JUST THE WEATHER TO ENJOY A

HAMMOCK.

We have them for 75c. to $4.25.

Oil Stoves, 1, 2 and 3 burners, 50c., 98c. and $1.48.

Screen Doors and Window Screens.

Refrigerator Pans, Watering Pots.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4tS

At WOODWARD'S every description of INSURANCE can be placed. This AGENCY officially represents the LEADING American and Foreign COMPANIES.

F. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass

my4-lyF

"They Say."

Have you heard of the terrible family They
And the dreadful, venomous things they say?
Why, half the gossip under the sun,
If you trace it back, you will find begun
In that wretched house of They.

A numerous family, so I am told,
And its genealogical tree is old,
For ever since Adam and Eve began
To build up the curious race of man
Has existed the house of They.

Gossip mongers and spreaders of lies,
Horrid people whom all despise!
And yet the best of us, now and then,
Repeat queer tales about women and men
And quote the house of They.

They live like lords and never labor.
A They's one task is to watch his neighbor
And tell his business and private affairs
To the world at large they are sellers of wares—
These folks in the house of They.

It is wholly useless to follow a They
With a whip or a gun, for he slips away
And into his house, where you cannot go,
It is locked and bolted and guarded so—
This terrible house of They.

Though you cannot get in, yet they get out
And spread their villainous tales about.
Of all the rascals under the sun
Who have come to punishment, never one
Belonged to the house of They.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox in Youth's Companion.

Overlooked.

He wouldn't look well in a [illegible]
He wouldn't be praised in a [illegible]
His home's neither palace nor [illegible]
He's only a man of today.
He couldn't [illegible]
If carnage and [illegible] were [illegible]
He merely can suffer and labor
A hero of everyday life.

He isn't delightfully daring,
He isn't a maiden's ideal,
His love and devotion declaring
A hero of ballads and steel.
He is merely a man who is fighting
The battle of civilized times—
A battle that's withering, blighting,
Unsung in the troubadour's rhymes.

He's really but one of the many,
Determined and worthy and bold,
Whose struggle's as noble as any
By poet or novelist told;
And later, when Time writes the story
Of those who've been valiant in strife,
A page will be due to the glory
Of heroes of everyday life.

—Chicago Post.

Nature's Miracle.

He who loves not a noble tree
No fellowship may claim from me.
Deep in the earth its great roots spread,
But heaven's own blue surrounds its head.
It holds the joy of summer morn,
The strength of winter's wildest born.
God's birds find shelter in its arms,
Secure from everything that harms.
It bows when south winds wander past,
But breasts unharmed the fiercest blast.
'Tis Nature's miracle to me,
Her fairest work—a noble tree.

How Love Is Increased.

We increase our love by exercising it. This is a law in physical life. It is also the law of our spiritual regime. Love is a muscle that needs to be exercised. We increase our love by having a greater zeal. Zeal is the steam in the boiler of life. Shut off the steam, and the wheel stops; shut off the zeal, and progress ceases. We increase our love by a willingness to risk more. There is too much of a staid conservatism which stands faltering upon the brink of greater enterprises.—Rev. Dr. G. H. Broening, Presbyterian, Wissinoming, Pa.

True Repentance.

If you come to him repentant of your sins, that confirming strength the power of his Holy Spirit will be conferred. Constant prayer and attention to duty are the essence of spiritual well being. We must regulate our appetites and opinions if we are not watchful over our inner thoughts; then our actions may reflect them and be unworthy. Repentance simply does not consist of being sorry for the wrong done; it means making right the wrong. That is true repentance. And to accomplish this the value of daily prayer cannot be too greatly emphasized.—Right Rev. W. F. Adams, Bishop of Easton, Pa., Episcopalian.

Real Wealth.

The only real wealth is that of mind and heart. There can be no real greatness but that of goodness. It is not a question of much or little property, but of moral purpose. The mothers and teachers who pour out their lives over cradles and in schoolrooms, that the world may have better men and women; the honest toilers in coal mines, in shops and fields and stores and offices stand before heaven as noble compared with those who grow rich out of the profits of other men's labor or the scheming politicians who speculate, trade, on the honor of a country and the rights of the people.—Rev. Dr. H. W. Thomas, People's Church, Chicago.

The Broadway theater, New York, it is said, will clean up over $100,000 profit for its owner, Jacob Litt, this season, which will probably be the largest profit ever made in any one year by an American theater.

BUG DEATH...

A NON-POISONOUS POWDER.

Is sure death to potato, squash and cucumber bugs, currant and tomato worms, and other plant and vine-eating pests. It is a benefit to the plant, and the more freely used the better the plant will thrive. For potatoes when blight is prevalent the extra yield will more than pay all expense of Bug Death.

1 lb. pkg., 15c. 3 lbs., 35c. 5 lbs., 50c. 12 1-2 lbs., $1.

Perfection Shaker, 50c.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

CHOICE LINE ..OF.. Linen Skirts,

50c, 75c., $1.00.

Butterick's Patterns and Delineators for July ..NOW READY..

N. C. NYE,

FLETCHER BLOCK.

CORNED BEEF and VEGETABLES

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Native Beets, bunch	6c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Cabbage, lb	3c
Thick Flanks	6c	Spinach, peck	10c
Spring Broilers	28c	String Beans, qt	5c
Fresh Killed Fowls	18c	Lettuce, head	5c
Smoked Bacon, strip	10c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-lyS

GROCERIES AT COST.

Sale now going on at

McKinnon's Grocery Store,

CENTRAL SQUARE.

Stock must be sold to close business. If you want first-class Grocercies at half price don't miss this chance.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

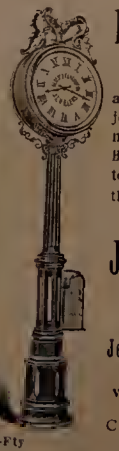
ap27S

The Alphabet Advertiser

A for apricots, both dried and canned,
B for biscuits of all the best brands,
C for crackers and clams for chowder,
D for doughnuts and Dalmation powder,
E for extracts of Baker's best make,
F for fish that will make fine fish cakes,
G for groceries kept neat and in shape,
H for honey to eat on wheat cakes,
I for Indian corn meal and ink,
J for fruit juice for a summer drink,
K for Kennedy, whose goods we stand by,
L for lemons that make a nice pie,
M for mince meat, molasses and mace,
N for Nestle's, whose milk suits the taste,
O for onions, a sure cure for the croup
P for potatoes to eat in your soup,
Q for Quaker, those rolled oats so nice,
R for raisins for puddings and rice,
S for sugar, sand soap and saleratus,
T for tubs, tapioca and tomatoes,
U for undoubtedly the cheapest in town,
V for vinegar as sour as can be found,
W for with hazel that makes one strong,
X for Xebec, a vessel it was used on,
Y for yeast that will raise bread best,
Z for zeal in which we stand the test.

C. L. FALES, Grocer.

no17-F



REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,

Jewelers and Opticians

160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.

del-Fty

TAKE ADVANTAGE

Of the Business Announcement column in the SENTINEL. One cent per word.

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 55. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, JULY 10, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Hoag Lake Park	4
Austin S. Cook & Co., Woonsocket	4
Lake Pearl	4
Administrator's Notices	4
Medfield and Medway Street Railway Co.	4
J. F. Ray, Coal	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Lawn party on St. Mary's church lawn tomorrow evening.

Miss Nellie A. Farr of Wrentham is visiting friends in town.

Miss Minta E. Gowen is visiting in Providence and Attleboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Y. Reed are enjoying a vacation in Maine.

Mrs. Solon Abbott and children are visiting at Hyde Park, Vt.

Miss Sadie Gay of Pawtucket has been the guest of Miss Ethelyrn Rounds.

The Universalists will picnic at Lake Pearl next week, Friday, July 20th.

Farmers are busy gathering their hay crop, which is better than last season.

Miss Mary O'Sullivan of Pleasant street left Thursday for a stay at Narragansett Pier.

George H. Graut has a large number of men employed on the work at Heag pond.

F. M. Ballou has nearly completed his work concreting and will finish this week.

Miss Lulu Hutchinson of Wrentham is visiting the Misses Allen of Garfield street.

The Medway & Franklin street railway has now a turnout at the top of Richardson hill.

The union picnic of the Grange and Farmers' club will be held at Lake Pearl July 25th.

Timothy Healey, Jr., is now in service as one of the conductors on the M., A. & W. line.

Druggist Mason has just put in a water power ceiling fan for the convenience of his patrons.

The electrics bring many visitors to town and strangers are pleased with its appearance.

Mrs. Mary Bradley of Somerville is visiting her daughter, Mrs. P. Lennon, of West street.

Mrs. Uriah McWilliams returned Friday from an extended visit with relatives in Marlboro.

Miss Agnes J. Slade has returned from a pleasant visit with friends at the Oaklands, Lowell.

Miss Mary Maroney of Providence is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. H. Riordan, on Central street.

The Carter Juniors defeated the Hayward nine on the common Saturday afternoon, 13 to 11.

Miss Elizabeth Maher of Providence, is the guest of the Misses Callahan of Washington street.

The Medway road sent over its illuminated cars last evening, attracting a good deal of attention.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hosford were made happy this morning by the advent of a little son into their home.

Mrs. G. P. Mason of Swansea, who has been visiting her son, A. C. Mason, returned home this morning.

Judge Doe and wife have gone to York Beach, Me., for a season to listen to what the wild waves are saying.

Mrs. Lydia Harris and her daughter, Mrs. Robinson, have gone to Cottage City for a stay of several weeks.

Wm. Harrison who left town about six months ago to visit relatives in England, returned to Franklin last week.

Ralph Dean of Watertown is the guest of his sister, Mrs. F. A. Bartholomew, at her residence on Cottage street.

Franklin Grange will have a basket picnic at Lake Pearl Thursday evening, going down on the 7 o'clock car.

The east-bound flyer from Boston to New York stopped here Saturday afternoon to allow Dr. I. D. Warner to get off.

Theodore P. Farr of Rockland, Mass., wife and mother, are in town at the old home on Cottage street for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Whiting are entertaining her brother, Edward Walsh, and family of Brooklyn, N. Y., a few days.

Station agent Judd has gone to Middletown, N. Y., his former home, for a week, accompanied by his daughter Pearl.

Mrs. Mary Shea and sister, Miss Nellie Tigue, of Danielson, Conn., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Feeley of West street.

Friday evening the selectmen approved bills and attended to routine work. Nothing of special importance came before the board.

The M., A. & W. street railway company expect to have the direct trolley line to Milford in operation before the first of August.

Some few years ago the grass on the common sold for $6 or $8. Last year it sold for $1, and this year it is offered for the cutting.

Nathan D. Prince of Danielson, Conn., spent the Sabbath with his sister-in-law, Mrs. C. H. Prince. He was on his way to Nova Scotia for an outing.

Men are at work concreting the walk through the common. They have finished a gutter and walk in the upper part of Beaver street, which was needed badly.

The handsome new barn and carriage house being erected by Mrs. W. F. Ray, on Union street, is nearing completion. When finished it will be the finest of its kind in town.

As the Bassett carriage was conveying Mrs. Bassett and Miss Eisenhardt to the station yesterday noon a wheel broke, but fortunately the occupants escaped injury.

There will be a special meeting of the Ladies' Circle of the Universalist church on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock in the church parlor. All members are requested to be present.

The consolidated railroad has issued a special check to be used exclusively in the checking of bicyles and is for the purpose of readily distinguishing it from the common trunk checks.

E. P. Blackmar is now permanently stationed at Hoag lake for the summer season, having leased land at the entrance to the grounds, erected a building and opened a restaurant.

The Country club held a contest on its links on Saturday afternoon, about half a dozen contestants appearing. The extreme heat doubtless had its effect upon the attendance and participants.

The days of scant berry boxes are numbered. Next year, under the benign edict of the legislature of 1900, the boxes must hold a quart. Old boxes will be called in and their use prohibited.

Mrs. W. F. Ray and family took possession of their cottage at Lake Pearl last week, and are now comfortably domiciled in a brand new cottage near the one occupied by B. M. Rockwood.

Wallace R. Richardson of Matteawan, N. Y., is in town for a short time, renewing old acquaintances. He especially notes our new street railway facilities, and says that Franklin is unusually well favored in that respect.

The Franklin colony at Archer's pond is up to the usual number. The electrics make it much more convenient for those who like to enjoy the fresh water breeze and still attend to business here in the daytime to gratify their desires.

The Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket street railway held a meeting yesterday, a number of important matters coming up for settlement. Nothing definite has been given out as yet, but such as are of public interest will shortly be published.

William J. Whiting and family, of Brooklyn N. Y., who have been visiting his brother here for a few days, go the last of the week to Westport Harbor for a month or more. Their son William J. Jr., is at Camp Algonquin, N. H., with Master Robbie Thayer.

The Sisters of Charity at St. Mary's convent, Sisters Mary Agnes, Loretto, Euphemia, Joachim and Sabina left last Thursday evening for their annual retreat at the mother house, Emmittsburg, Md. Sister Angela left for the same place a week ago.

Active preparations are being made for the lawn party to be held by St. Mary's parish tomorrow evening. A goodly number of tickets has already been sold and the party bids fair to be most successful. It will be held on the church lawn and the American band will furnish music.

Large crowds are attracted nightly to Hoag Lake, as the entertainment this week is said to be unusually fine. It makes a very pleasant way to get fresh air and a pleasing diversion, and Frank Riley one of the Keith stars is calling forth shouts of merriment by his minstrel skit every night.

The Universalist church will be throughly renovated, the pews cleaned, the auditorium recarpeted during the summer vacation. The last service will be held there July 22, the church to remain closed during the absence of the pastor, who will spend his vacation in the Adirondacks, as last year.

Manager Enegren has arranged a pleasant concert at Lake Pearl for Wednesday evening, in addition to the regular evening vaudeville attraction. The concert will be given by the Attleboro band, continuing till about 8.30, when the entertainment commences. Large crowds are now going down nightly.

The will of Sarah O. Whiting, Ann O. Bennett, executrix, bond, $100 has been allowed in the probate court. Administration has been granted on the estate of Parker R. Farr, T. P. Farr of Rockland administrator, in the sum of $2,500, and of Edwin J. Pond, Providence, Metcalf E. Pond administrator, in a bond of $1,000.

Our Boys defeated the Ramblers of Hopedale at Indian Rock park Saturday afternoon, 12 to 7, in an interesting contest. Both teams played good ball, but Our Boys did the best work. Our Boys will play at North Bellingham next Saturday and will play a return game with the Ramblers at Hopedale on the Saturday following.

A picnic of the Medway Congregational, Baptist and Methodist societies was held Friday at Lake Pearl, conveyance being made by special car via Caryville, North Bellingham and Franklin. A very pleasant time was enjoyed by the 325 persons in attendance, and all united in saying that Lake Pearl was one of the pleasantest pleasure resorts, inland anywhere in this locality.

Last week Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock in G. A. R. hall in Medfield, the first of a series of Episcopal services to be held was presided over by Rev. Guy Wilber Miner, rector of St. John's church here, and Christ's church in Medway. There were about thirty members of the denomination present. It is expected that this will be the preliminary steps toward an Episcopal mission in Medfield.

Many of our Universalist friends will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Perrin, wife of Rev. Dr. George L. Perrin, pastor of the Every Day church in Boston. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.30, at that church. She was an efficient helper to her husband. Mr. Perrin has been heard here many times with pleasure, and the sympathy of all his friends here is extended to him.

Division 8, A. O. H., elected the following officers for a term of one year at a special meeting held Sunday afternoon: President, Michael Kearns; vice president, Dennis Feeley; recording secretary, D. Frank Pendergast; treasurer, Matthew F. Conroy; sergeant-at-arms, William O'Connell; sentinel, John Healey; standing committee, John Murray, Patrick Grady, Bernard Callahan, John Keefe, J. Frank Cody.

"I think Dr. A. J. Gallison is having a genial sort of a time in Europe," says Uncle Silas, in the Woonsocket Reporter, and the pictorial correspondenz cartes of his friends around here seem to point that way. When a Down East Yankee who had been there was shown Uncle Silas' complementary from the doctor he remarked, "Beautiful city," and in an excited manner began to describe the size of the beer glasses there, truthfully, no doubt, as a temperance man should.

The King's Daughters and Sons of Norfolk county will hold a picnic July 19th at the "Pond House" in Pondville. This estate has lately been given them by Virgil S. Pond of Foxboro, to be used as a "Home for the Aged in Norfolk county." There will probably be ice cream, home-made candy, and other things for sale, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the Home. Everybody is invited—men, women and children. Let all go and do everything possible to have a pleasant time, and to increase the funds in the treasury of the Pond Home.

George W. Heaton passed away at the home of his brother, Halsey Heaton, on Emmons street, late Saturday night. He had been in poor health for some time and his death was not unexpected. He was about 65 years of age and leaves two brothers, Charles and Halsey Heaton. Up to within a few years ago he had for some time been an inmate of the Odd Fellows' home, but lately had lived here with his brother Halsey. The funeral occurred yesterday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock at the home of his brother Halsey, Rev. F. B. Sleeper officiating. Members of King David lodge, I. O. O. F., attended in a body and at the grave performed the burial service of the order.

MEN OF THE HOUR.

ALBERT D. NASON.

In the series of biographical sketches of "Men of the Hour" being published in the Springfield Daily Union appears the name of Albert D. Nason, formerly of Franklin. We copy a portion of it, as the Nason family is well known in this section of Massachusetts:

Albert Davis Nason, president and treasurer and general manager of the Bay State Corset company, was born in Franklin, Mass., July 13, 1842. The generations of his family are represented successively by a series of enterprising citizens and soldiers, beginning with Willoughby Nason from England, who settled in Ipswich, Essex county, Mass., prior to 1712. Then followed his son, Thomas Nason, who removed to Walpole previous to the year 1740.

ALBERT D. NASON.

A second Willoughby Nason followed and responded to the first call in 1775; was one of the Minute Men of '76, serving three enlistments in 1775, 1776 and 1777. His son, Jesse Nason, born in Walpole Feb. 27, 1776, moved to Franklin in 1792 at the age of sixteen; after him followed his son, George Warren Nason, who was a highly respected citizen of that town. He was actively engaged in general mercantile pursuits and a pioneer in construction of the railroad through Franklin in 1846-9, devoting much of his time to the public service, being a town officer about thirty five years, two of which he represented his town in the state legislature. His wife, the mother of Albert D. Nason, was Peacy Borden Cook of Fall River, a descendent of the Cook-Borden-Durfee families in that part of the old Bay State. Her father was Capt. Benjamin Cook, who with his vessel was engaged in transporting powder and supplies for the American army during the revolution. She died in Franklin in 1886, having survived her husband eighteen years.

Albert Davis was her fifth son. After the completion of his studies in the Franklin schools he entered his father's business, in which he remained until the summer of 1862 then enlisting in C company, Forty-fifth (Independent Cadet corps) regiment, Massachusetts Volunteers. He was a non-commissioned officer, and served his term of enlistment with his regiment in North Carolina, being stationed a part of the time with his company on garrison duty at Moorehead City, N. C., where he acted as commissary of the post. He then served on detached commissary duty under his brother, Colonel George Warren Nason, Jr., at Newburn, N. C. At the expiration of his term of service in the army he returned to his home in Franklin, remaining till January 1864, when he returned to Newburn, expecting to enter the civil service of the United States government, but engaged in wholesale business there from February, 1864 to June, 1866.

One year after the close of the war, finding the habits and discomforts of Southern life at that time disagreeable in many ways, he returned to Massachusetts in the summer of 1866, and engaged in manufacturing in Walpole and Boston in 1867, and was burned out in the big Boston fire, November 9, 1872. He then located in New York city where he engaged in the manufacturing of corsets, organizing the Bay State Corset Co. November 1, 1885, with a partner, their factory being at West Brookfield, this state and their headquarters and sales-office in New York city. They established another factory in this city in February, 1886, and came here from New York to reside in the fall of that year. The Bay State Corset company was incorporated in July 1890, with a capital of $100,000 and Mr. Nason was elected its first treasurer. The company now employs from three to four hundred operatives, producing on an average about 400 dozen pairs of corsets daily.

Since July, 1894, Mr. Nason has been president, treasurer and general manager of the company, and for several years he personally attended to the details of the trade, the largest of the kind in the state. He is also connected with many other corporations, being a director in the Springfield Safe Deposit and Trust company. He was one of the founders of the board of trade, and one of its directors for the first three years of its existence. He is a charter member of Springfield lodge of Masons, having become a Mason in the Revere lodge, Boston, in 1872. He has taken the Rose Croix, which is the eighteenth degree. For four terms he has been the vice-president of the Second congressional district of the Republican club of Massachusetts, and is a member of the Union League club of New York, the Manufacturers' club of Philadelphia, and the Winthrop and Nayasset clubs of this city. The Nayasset club largely owes its existence to his efforts; he has been the second and the first vice president and president of this organization. His very attractive home is at 29 Dartmouth terrace, facing Terrace park, where stands a handsome fountain presented by him to the city.

His wife, whom he married in January, 1865, was Anna Frances Gay, daughter of Wilkes Gay of New York city. She is, however, a native of Franklin, this state, and granddaughter on her mother's side of the late Major Davis Thayer of Franklin. They have two children, Mabel Frances, born December 9, 1866, who is now the wife of George Nye, Jr., of this city, and Albert Warren Nason, who finished his education at Williams college, and now is associated with his father in business. The family attend the South Congregational church. Mr. Nason is a Republican, but his views are broad, and his sympathies are generous. He is a man worthy of his eminently successful career.

About thirty five went from here to North Attleboro on Saturday afternoon to see the first game of the series between that club and Attleboro, and were sadly disapointed at the game. Both nines had been strengthened, and had crack men at play, but North Attleboro had a decidedly "off" day, so that Attleboro won with ease, Lipp the North Attleboro pitcher being hit at will. Had North had another pitcher it would have infused new life into the team and the game might have resulted differently. Each side had secured some of the best players from Tufts and Holy Cross, Hazelton playing first finely for Attleboro, while Griffin of Holy Cross pitched for Attleboro. Fox, Holy Cross' crack short stop played with North. Lauder the ex Philadelphia player, was present and coached for the Attleboro team, but did not play. There are four more games to be played, the next one coming off at Attleboro a week from Saturday, when North will endeavor to redeem its badly shattered reputation.

See McKinnon's adv. on page 4 for bargains in groceries, fixtures, wagons, etc.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

Flowers for the Alden Club.

One of the most wisely directed charities which the Alden club takes in hand is that of sending flowers to Boston, each year, and there is no question but that their efforts in this direction are fully appreciated. Special committees are selected each week, so that the burden falls equally upon the members, all of whom take a personal interest in the work. The club will begin its work this week, and flowers may be left with Miss Bowers and Miss Hodge on Wednesday evening.

South America.

When you come to think about it, how little one knows about South America. I have a book, just issued by George M. Smith & Co., of Boston, which covers the latest interesting facts in regard to that country, covering the Panama canal, the land of the Equator, the great South American desert, the irrigated valleys of Peru, its capital, down the Andes in a hand car, in the heart of the Andes, La-Paz, the Indians, gold and silver mines of the Andes, the city of Santiago, the Chilean frontier, Tierra Del Fuego, the Argentine republic, the trans Andean railway, the pretty girls of Paraguay, wilds of Brazil, the coffee plantations, the mighty Amazon, Venezuela, etc., etc., with scores of fine illustrations beautifully bound and at a moderate price. This book should be in every library. H. W. GAY, Solicitor.

Daughters of the Revolution.

The Fairbanks Chapter, daughters of the revolution, held their last meeting of the summer July 5th. Through the invitation of the Vice-Regent, Mrs. Everett of Lowell and the historian, Mrs. Allen of Walpole, the meeting took place at their camps on the picturesque shores of Whiting's pond, part of Lake Pearl.

Members were present from Lowell, Walpole, Braintree, Hyde Park and Franklin. An interesting paper on one of the chapter's revolutionary heroes was given by Mrs. Metcalf of Walpole. Business concerning the work of the chapter was transacted and then as if by magic a refreshment table decorated with ferns fresh from the woods and loaded with a dainty supper came gliding through a door and stopped in the centre of the rustic dining room before the astonished guests could exclaim at its appearance. It was fully appreciated however, and after the merry banquet was over, a vote of thanks was tendered the hostess and the meeting adjourned till October, subject to the call of the Regent, Mrs. Margaret L. Ray of Franklin, the good-byes were spoken and the party left the sylvan camp for their various homes declaring it one of the most delightful meetings of the year.

The 26th Camp Meeting.

The 26th annual meeting of the Old Douglas Union Camp Meeting association for the promotion of scriptural holiness will be held on its grounds from Friday, July 20, until July 30. No pains will be spared to render this meeting equal in interest to any of the previous gatherings. Prominent clergymen and evangelists from various parts of the country will be present and participate in the services. The singing, as usual, will be under the direction of Mrs. Abbie Lawrence, whose sweet voice in song has charmed multitudes. The singing books, "Good News in Song" and "Songs of redemption," are to be used. It will be highly gratifying to his host of friends to know that Rev. William M. Crawford, who so faithfully filled the position of secretary of the meeting for several years, will again act in that capacity after an absence of two years. Mr. L. E. Paine of Putnam will be caterer again, the satisfaction which he has given the people for the past two years rendering him almost indispensable to the association. This week Friday will be observed as a day of fasting and prayer for God's blessing upon the meeting. The N. Y., N. H. & H. Railroad Co. offers the usual excursion rates. People are already gathering to this delightful spot, which is continually being beautified, and with nature's lavish charms the grove with its hallowed association grows more lovely with each passing year.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Store girl wanted. Address, at once, Box 342, Franklin.

Wanted—A girl to do housework. Inquire at the SENTINEL office.

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

Wanted.—A competent girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. Dr. King, High street. 6

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

Wanted.—A quantity of native strawberries for preserving. Mrs. W. A. Stockbridge, Dean avenue. 10*

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. Allen.

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18-tf

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

For Sale—A new end spring, rubber tired runabout, up to date, will be sold low to make quick sale. Can be seen at 282 Main st., Milford, Mass.

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

Cut flowers, wedding bouquets, flowers for graduation, all kinds of funeral designs made up at Slade's green house at short notice. P. O. Box 179.

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. MCKINNON, Agent.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

Send your boys to Oohee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Eat fish as well as meat. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fishman.

Our mattings are made of finest stuff;
This is straight goods and no bluff.
Sanford Bros., Medway.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word; no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

TUESDAY, JULY 10, 1900.

Dr. Collyer on Religious Tolerance.

Rev. Dr. Robert Collyer, large of heart and brain and ripe in years full of good works and wise counsel, recently preached a sermon which is very pertinent to the troublous disputes that are now raging around the devoted head of orthodoxy. It was on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary of his entry into the ministry, and the theme of the venerable clergyman was, very fittingly, religious tolerance. His text was on "shibboleth" and "sibboleth" as typifying the difference in religious beliefs. He proved by illustrations from his own life how wonderful had been the change in the past 50 years from intolerance to tolerance among people of diverse creeds. Dr. Collyer said:

> In other churches than my own I have those who are of my fle[illegible] and bl[illegible] [illegible] my own [illegible] friends, and I cannot deny them my fellowship or let "shibboleth" and "sibboleth" be the dark line of division between us. I be[illegible] [illegible] in all sincerity as they do now and can understand their hearts by my own, and I say that men and women as good and true as you are can belong to any church.

An interesting part of Dr. Collyer's remarks was the suggestion they conveyed to the members of what are known as liberal churches that intolerance was not necessarily the attribute of orthodoxy alone. T[illegible] undoubtedly a certain ph[illegible] eralism, exe[illegible] sons who d[illegible] that they [illegible] a little ahead of others, that is not at all tolerant. It was against this spirit that the good doctor warned his hearers. As showing that respect for the convictions of others and earnestness in one's own faith are not incompatible Dr. Collyer said:

> Does my brother believe that only the elect shall be saved, and does he want me to fellowship with him on these terms? I will give him the right hand and try to enlarge and readjust all the terms of his faith, both in God and man.

Hold fast to your opinions if they are honest, but not to an arrogant pride of opinion or self consciousness that that opinion alone is right, is a lesson that which may well be taught to the whole church, liberal as well as conservative. Were it thoroughly learned it would not be necessary to wait for a readjustment of creeds to effect a practical unity of church work.

The charge is frequently made by those with a superficial knowledge of facts that systematic education encourages crime. In the current issue of The Educational Review is an article in which Professor Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia university takes the trouble to refute the assertion that public education in the United States has increased the number of criminals against property. In the first place, he says it should be remembered that communities which maintain schools have higher standards as to what is lawful than communities without such a civilizing influence, and therefore more acts are held criminal and more crimes are detected and punished. A greater number of arrests may signify better police administration rather than an increase of crime. When records are carefully kept, it appears that the illiterate population furnishes from six to eight times its proper proportion of criminals. This was established by an investigation of the bureau of education. The history of Massachusetts presents a conclusive answer to the contention that education begets crime. In 1850 the jails and prisons held 8,761 persons, while in 1885 the number increased three times, or to 26,651, an apparent increase in crime. But analysis shows that serious offenses have fallen off 40 per cent, while vigilance in prosecuting is responsible for the apparent increase.

Our four months' war with Spain wasn't much of a war as wars go, but it cost the people of the United States about $150,000,000. England's war in South Africa is carried on somewhat less expensively and in seven months has cost about $125,000,000. War costs more than anything else we have in civilization, and civilization would be very much better off without it.

PUT TO THE TEST.

Public Endorsement is what Counts.

Everybody has their hour of trouble,
But people having any itchiness of the skin
Have many hours of trouble.
Nothing so annoying. Nothing so irritating.
Scratch it, it becomes worse.
Leave it alone and you can hardly stand the misery.
Itchiness comes in many forms.
Eczema and horrid itching piles.
Relief and cure are here at last.
Thousands have put it to the test
Doan's Ointment cures every form of itchiness of the skin.
Read the following statement.

Mrs. E. L. Robinson, of 20 Dillingham street, Bangor, Me., says: "Two very wonderful remedies are Doan's Kidney Pills and Doan's Ointment. Anyone troubled with any of the ailments for which Doan's Ointment is indicated are unwise if they fail to give it a trial. It performs wonders in allaying and curing itchiness of the skin, from whatever cause. Doan's Kidney Pills also proved to be all that is claimed for them. Both preparations are so valuable that we would not be without them in the house, to have in case of need."

Doan's Ointment and Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N.Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

His Horrid Hallucination.

Attendant (in insane asylum)—That poor fellow over there is the most pitiable case in the institution. He weeps and bemoans his lot from morning till night, and nothing can be done to alleviate his distress of mind.

Visitor—What is the nature of his hallucination?

Attendant—He believes that he is the husband of seven wives who are all coming to visit him on the morrow.—Judge.

An Insinuation Resented.

"Did I understand you to say that there was a possibility of our using irregular methods in that county?" inquired Senator Sorghum.

"I may have said something of the kind," answered the voter.

"Well, it's downright libel. I'd have you to understand, sir, that we're so sure of that county that we don't have to use irregular methods."—Washington Star.

A Diplomat.

"Young man," said the lady with the beautiful diamonds, "do you sell alpherbets?"

"Yes, madam," replied the polite salesman of the book department.

"Well, I want one in words of one syllable so I can learn it to my child."

"Yes, madam. How were things in Boston when you left?" he asked, for he was, indeed, an inveterate flatterer—Philadelphia Record.

Too Weighty Compliments.

"What was this row about?" said the policeman.

"It all came about," the father-in-law explained, "by some of those cheeky boys throwing shoes at the bride."

"Well," said the policeman, "that's customary."

"Yes; but not horseshoes."—Odds and Ends.

The Wind-Up.

Mrs. Hayricks—What makes you so sure there won't be no more fightin' Joshua?

Mr. Hayricks—Hain't the board of strategy down to the grocery store disbanded? If that don't settle the hull business, gosh hang it, what will I'd like to know!—Chicago Daily News.

The Law of Approximation.

Blinks—Do you suppose it's ever possible to come anywhere near the size of a man's income?

Jinks—Yes; just take the figure he gives to the assessor, add it to the figure he tells his friends and then divide the result by two, and you'll have it near enough.—Town Topics.

Almost an Insinuation.

The Girl—I want a hat that will go well with my face.

The Milliner—I'm sorry, miss, but we haven't any painted ones.—Yonkers Statesman.

Letting Himself Down Easy.

"I think my old overcoat will do till Christmas."

"Yes; and after Christmas you won't get one because it will be so near spring."—Chicago Record.

Not Soothing.

He—Is this the first time you've ever been in love, darling?

She (thoughtlessly)—Yes; but it's so nice that I hope it won't be the last.

SCROFULA

thin blood, weak lungs and paleness. You have them in hot weather as well as in cold. SCOTT'S EMULSION cures them in summer as in winter. It is creamy looking and pleasant tasting.

50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

AT COZY CORNERS

"Speaking of the garden"— said Miranda.

"I didn't know we were speaking of the garden, my dear," said I.

"Speaking of the garden," repeated Miranda in a tone which I have learned admits of no trivial rejoinder, "how much space did you think we would allow for the flowers this year?"

"Really, my love, I hadn't thought. I suppose a couple of acres or so will be about all we can attend to." I had glanced away from her and forgotten the tone.

"Curtis, I presume you know I was speaking seriously?"

"Really, I beg your pardon," I said quickly. "As much as last year, not too much, possibly a little less—just about what you think necessary." My wife looked at me with a very searching deputy sheriff sort of a gaze. Her father was the head of a vigilance committee out west during the fifties, and sometimes I see the old man's soul in the girl's eyes.

"I don't believe you care anything about it," she said.

Here was a domestic tempest to be stilled, and I awoke to the occasion as a lazy man most always does when he thinks it worth while. I pulled a stool to her chair and for five minutes talked flowers and horticulture with enough zest, I am so conceited as to believe, in earlier days to have won me a position of some sort with a seed store.

"My dear wife and fairy adviser, I assure you with all my heart," said I, "that ever since the wind has had in it the slightest warmth of summer's love I have been thinking about the garden and trying to form couplets containing both the 'rose of Sharon' and the 'bowers of cozy corners.'"

"Umph!" said Miranda.

"True," I continued, undaunted. "You may not believe it, my countenance may not have shown it, even the milkman may not have suspected it"—

She gave me a push, and I sat on the floor instead of on the stool.

"The milkman!" she exclaimed, with a show of indignation.

"A mistake," I cried. "You know I sometimes make them. As I was going to say when you interrupted me"—

"Suppose I did?"

"It's all right; but, as I was going to say, the flower garden has largely occupied my mind since the inception of spring. I had thought I would spade up the east corner of the lot for the small stuff. There on the little slope they will get the early sun and the shade during the hot hours."

"Not so bad," said my wife.

"We can put the roses under the trees again. Down near the creek is some black soil that will make them prosper as never before."

"Go on," she said, and this time she smiled.

"We will have the beds all protected by wire this season. You can order all you want from the catalogue, and we will make an expedition or so ourselves and incidentally waste our money on a few bushels of seed potatoes and the like. Out in the woods I have marked two new specimens for the rockery. Our collection of ferns can be increased by a visit to Randall's creek."

"Lovely!" she cried.

"These in brief, your ladyship, are a few of the suggestions that have occurred to me in connection with the adornment of our landscape. The snowball shall be mulched and trimmed, for its meaning is 'thoughts of heaven;' the calla lily, the violet, the daffodil, the dahlia, which means 'forever thine.'"

"Why the daffodil?" she said. "It means 'deceitful hope.'"

"It will," I replied, "grandiloquently remind me of the elusive visions of my youth."

"It's too bad," she replied, but she laughed as she said so. "And what else, Sir Gardener, shall we behold on your soil?"

"The jonquil, gladiolus and the clematis are among my favorites. The first means 'can you return my love?'"

"I know it. Why didn't you propose by wearing it?"

"I didn't want to be kept in suspense," I replied. "We will have the azalea for temperance, the bittersweet for truth, the daisy for innocence, the nasturtium for patriotism, the violet for faithfulness and raise a bed of flax for domestic industry."

Her laugh now rang out so clear that I felt myself to be a very great diplomat indeed.

"You're a dear old confidence man after all," she said, "and I am only pulling your hair to make you wiser. You have fibbed very badly. You don't know most of those flowers when you see them. But the confiding wife loves the deceitful husband—it's the old story."

She ran to the piano and struck up "Marching Through Georgia." Our dog, the faithful Aggravator, arose and yawned. The cat suggested that it was time to eat.

I opened the west door presently, and a storm was to be seen gathering. Great, black clouds had assembled to pour their vials of replenishment upon the expectant earth.

"Oh, I'm so glad!" she cried joyously. "It's going to be a good old fashioned thunderstorm. We won't have any callers, and we'll make a map of the garden. So hustle, hustle, hustle, and get your work done!"—Chicago Dispatch.

Picking a Horse.

Different people have different ideas concerning horses. Fletcher Robinson tells in Cassell's Magazine of a chat he once had with a sergeant of the British Tenth hussars. The sergeant said:

"Give me a free hand, and I should pick a roan—that is, for good temper and quick learning. Dark grays and blacks are mostly strong and hardy, and so are dark chestnuts. As a general rule, light chestnuts and light bays are nervous and delicate. A rusty black's a sulky pig nine times out of ten. Then, again, there are 'white stockings,' as they call them. You know the old saying, 'One white leg's a bad un, two white legs you may sell to a friend, three white legs you may trust for a time, four white legs you may lay your life on.'"

This does not agree with an old Yankee saying:

One white foot, buy him
Two white feet, try him;
Three white feet, look well about him;
Four white feet, go on without him.

Now, however, the American idea is similar to that of the sergeant, and they say, "Four white feet you can stake your life on him."

"Hit the Nail

On the Head."

If you have eruptions, pains in the head or kidneys, stomach trouble and feelings of weariness, "Hit the nail on the head." Hood's Sarsaparilla is the hammer to use. It will purify your blood. The masses praise it for doing this and making the whole body healthy.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Had a Reason.

Kind Old Man—Are you hurt, little boy?

Boy (crying)—Naw!

Kind Old Man—Lose a penny?

Boy—Naw! Didn't have any.

Kind Old Man—Get a whipping?

Boy—Naw!

Kind Old Man—Then what are you crying for?

Boy—Wanted ter see who'd be th' first chump ter come along 'n' ask thet question.—Brooklyn Life.

Living Up to His Principles.

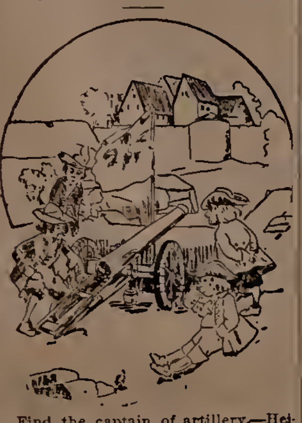
"Look here!" exclaimed the woman who had made a sandwich for a tramp and then thoughtlessly left him alone for a minute within reach of two whole pies, "what do you mean by eating all that pie?"

"Madam," replied the tramp politely, as he let his belt out another hole, "I am a believer in expansion."—Chicago Post.

The Happiest Man.

Who is the happiest man?
Is it he who is wealthy and great?
Is it he that is doing the best that he can,
Or he that governs the state?
Is it he that has won a fair maid for his own?
Or the warrior who makes his foes scatter?
No, no: it is he who is sitting alone
With a woman who knows how to flatter.
—Cleveland Leader.

CLEVER PUZZLE PICTURE.



Find the captain of artillery.—Heitere Welt.

Drowned Out.

Oh, the trump of fame is a megaphone,
Which wonderful might can employ;
But it's quite forgot when you hear the tone
Of a tin horn attached to a boy.
—Washington Star.

Wouldn't Take Chances.

Smith—One can't always judge a man's patriotism by his conversation.

Jones—No, I suppose not.

Smith—Take Brown, for instance; would you call him a coward?

Jones—Well, er—I might if I was sure he wouldn't fight.—Baltimore Life.

Many thousands have been restored to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. If afflicted with any throat or lung trouble, give it a trial for it is certain to prove beneficial. Coughs that have resisted all other treatment for years, have yielded to this remedy and perfect health restored. Cases that seemed helpless, that the climate of famous health resorts failed to benefit, have been permanently cured by its use. Bear in mind that every bottle is warranted and if it does not prove beneficial the money will be refunded to you. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Builds up the system; puts pure, rich blood in the veins; makes men and women strong and healthy. Burdock's Blood Bitters. At any drug store.

Do you read what people say about Hood's Sarsaparilla? It is now curing all forms of disease caused or promoted by impure blood.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Equal to the Occasion.

Mrs. Gossipe—What did you think of the ensemble?

Mrs. Malaprop—Splendid, splendid—indeed, to my taste it was the most delicious thing in the menu.—Town Topics.

With Years WISDOM.

The answer to that old query, "What's in a name?" is not hard to define in the case of one justly celebrated Family Remedy that had its origin away down in Maine, which proves that with age comes wisdom about

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

An old lady called at a store and asked for a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment; the clerk said they were out but could supply her with another just as good. The engaging smile that accompanied this information was frozen stiff when she replied

Young Man, there is only one Liniment, and that is Johnson's.

Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. There is not a remedy in use which has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Could a remedy have existed for nearly a century, except that it possess extraordinary merit?

Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price [illegible] I. S. Johnson & [illegible] Boston, [illegible]

OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever? CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

1817 1900

CARPETS.

Every purchaser of Carpets—whether for the smallest room or the biggest hotel—wants his mind satisfied on three points, namely:

PRICE—QUALITY—STYLE.

It is because we convince our customers as to every one of these requirements that we confidently expect YOUR patronage.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.,
658 Washington Street . . . BOSTON.
Opp. Boylston Street.

PATENTS GUARANTEED

Our fee returned if we fail. Any one sending sketch and description of any invention will promptly receive our opinion free concerning the patentability of same. "How to Obtain a Patent" sent upon request. Patents secured through us advertised for sale at our expense.

Patent taken out through us receive special notice, without charge, in THE PATENT RECORD, an illustrated and widely circulated journal, consulted by Manufacturers and Investors.

Send for sample copy FREE. Address,

VICTOR J. EVANS & CO.,
(Patent Attorneys,)
Evans Building, • WASHINGTON, D. C.

EDISON'S PHONOGRAPH

Better than a Piano, Organ, or Music Box, for it sings and talks as well as plays, and don't cost as much. It reproduces the music of any instrument—band or orchestra—tells stories and sings—the old familiar hymns as well as the popular songs—it is always ready. See that Mr. Edison's signature is on every machine. Catalogues of all dealers, or NATIONAL PHONOGRAPH CO., 135 Fifth Ave., New York.

mh1-eow

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
SAVINGS BANK,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN, Vice President.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, Charles Stewart, George W. Wiggin.

STATEMENT JUNE 30, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors	$564,357 27
Guarantee Fund	27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account	6,268 89
Interest Account	13,106 32
Real Estate Income Account	10 29
	$611,497 56

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,148 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		31,350 00
" " Mortgages		159,960 00
" " Personal Securities		164,745 86
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Bank Books		1,500 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Tax account		874 09
Expense Account		1,178 27
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$14,733 01
Nat. Bank of Redemption	2,954 46
Mercantile Trust Co.	64 79
		17,752 26
Cash on hand		2,652 29
		$611,497 56

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

E. P. CHAPMAN,
E. H. SHERMAN,
Committee of Examination.

June 2, 1900.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE
BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

THE
NEW YORK WORLD
THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.
18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year
FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.

33-tf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative
Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE,
McCARTHY STREET.

22-1y

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

THE OPEN HEART.

Would you understand
  The language with no word,
  The speech of brook and bird,
Of waves along the sand?

Would you make your own
  The meaning of the leaves,
  The song the silence weaves,
Where little winds made moan?

Would you know how sweet
  The falling of the rill,
  The calling on the hill—
All tunes the days repeat?

Neither alms nor art,
  No toil can help you hear;
  The secret of the ear
Is in the open heart.
    —John Vance Cheney in Century.

KOTTENKAMP'S WIDOW.

BY JAMES PEMBERTON GRUND.

When the Franco-Prussian war broke out in 1870, my father was a major general in command of a cavalry brigade in Westphalia and I a student at Bonn. I was barely 17, but determined to take part in the campaign, and sent a telegram to him asking his permission to go, receiving in reply the words: "Of course. Blessing. Father." In 24 hours I had been accepted by the colonel of a hussar regiment as a gentleman cadet, or "avantageur," and after taking part in an action or two was commissioned a "sekondelieutenant" as a matter of course. The fortune of war took my squadron into a charming bit of country near Amiens. We were quartered in and around the Chateau de Magny, the property of one of the prettiest and most amiable of Frenchwomen, the Marquise de Magny, whose husband's family took their name from this estate. There was excellent stabling for our horses at the chateau and in the villages of Magny-le-Grand and Fleurus, one a quarter of a mile, the other a mile from it. Of the four "Zuge" that composed our squadron, one, with the "Rittmeister," old Breisewitz and myself, was at the chateau; two, with Lieutenants Prince Ehrenberg and Von Breitenstein, were in quarters at Magny-le-Grand, and the fourth, Lieutenant von Seckendorf in command, at Fleurus, where, as this village was but two miles from the French advanced posts, there was also a company of infantry. In addition to the highroad, a deep ravine connected Magny-le-Grand and Fleurus, extending beyond the latter village to within a mile of the enemy's advanced posts. The Somme divided the hostile armies, but we in the chateau and the village were on the French side of that river, held out, as old Breisewitz said, on a silver salver to tempt the French to cross the Somme. The chateau was but half a mile from the river, crossed at that point by a wooden bridge with the posts supporting it sawed through, while a powder mine below completed the arrangements for its instant destruction. We sent patrols every two hours day and night up to the French enemy's outposts, with whom they often exchanged shots.

The marquise was a delicate little creature, with fair hair and a pair of bright blue eyes that always seemed to be laughing even when she screwed up her lips tightly into the prettiest pout possible and tried to look stern. Her hair, that defied control, fell over her forehead and almost into her eyes in a way that suggested a highly idealized Skye terrier. Her figure was perfectly proportioned and her complexion of exquisite delicacy, a beauty rarely found in France. Married at 20, her husband died within a year. She had one child, a little girl, Marguerite ("La Princesse Margot" we had nicknamed her) was now 8 years of age and the apple of her eye—a small, graceful, winning, frolicsome creature, a pocket edition of her mother, whom she strongly resembled in appearance and character. The establishment consisted of a housekeeper, old Prosper, the butler; Julie, madame's maid; the cook and some men about the stables. The cuisine was excellent. Prosper put before us every day the best wines in the cellar, while madame, and at luncheon her little daughter, kept us company. The chatelaine treated us more as honored guests than as officers of the enemy's army quartered on her. We all enjoyed it very much, except poor Seckendorf, whose quarters were too far from the house for him to leave his men to join us at dinner. In another squadron of ours that occupied these excellent quarters some time before was a Lieutenant von Kottenkamp, a rather vain but extremely handsome, clever and distinguished looking young officer, who spoke French like a native and who in appearance, with his dark eyes and short, black mustache smartly turned up at the ends, greatly resembled a French marquis painted by Fragonard on a lady's fan. To Kottenkamp, a year or two younger than herself, the lady took a strong liking, and before he had been a week at the chateau he was head over heels in love with her. When he was ordered away and another lieutenant, by no means as good looking, took his place, it was supposed that the task of consoling the lady for Kottenkamp's absence would be a thankless one. This was not the case. She smiled as sweetly on the newcomer as she had on him who had gone, and when the new man was in turn succeeded by a third the same phenomenon was observed. When No. 3 yielded the "pas" to No. 4, the latter semed to inherit all the good fortune of his predecessors. Kottenkamp, however, outranked the others in her affections by seniority, as it were, and she was always known in the regiment as "Kottenkamp's widow." That young man seemed to take the situation quite calmly and never displayed the slightest signs of jealousy.

When I (No. 5) came under the spell, it was otherwise. I took the matter "au grand serieux," even to the extent of proposing marriage, and suffered untold pangs if any one paid court to her. At first she laughed at me, but in a few days seemed to think my offer not unworthy of consideration, and for my own part the fact that she was quite ten years older than I in nowise changed the color of my resolution. I had a fair field. The marked preference she showed for me sent the little prince and Breitenstein into the billiard room half an hour after dinner, whither old Breisewitz also betook himself to watch them play and swallow countless goblets of mulled claret.

The charm of our delightful tete-a-tete goes without saying, but it was too exquisite to last. One morning the marquise tripped up to Breisewitz and myself as we sat in the breakfast room sipping our "cafe au lait" and held out a letter. It was from her lawyer at Lille. Important business relating to her property there demanded her immediate presence. She drove that afternoon to Amiens to obtain from our general a pass through the lines and, returning at dusk, announced her departure for Lille the next morning. Never had she appeared more gracious and amiable as hostess than that day at dinner, which I thought would never end and was glad when old Prosper appeared with the coffee and Breisewitz and the others went up stairs to their everlasting billiards.

As soon as we were alone I drew a low stool close to her chair and, taking her slim white hand in mine, poured into her ear a succession of those well worn platitudes that seem so full of meaning to us at the time we utter them. I cannot recall—and there is unalloyed pleasure in the thought—a hundredth part of the nonsense I talked that night. My wife in the sight of heaven, she should be so after the war in the sight of men. My father could not refuse the prayer of a son who came back to him with the cross of iron and the credit attaching to honorable mention in general orders.

Letting her hands rest on my shoulders, she told me that she, too, saw but one path in life, the one she would travel at my side. My country should be her country, my people her people, and so on. She only made one stipulation, that she be allowed to come to France for a six weeks' visit every second year. Rising, she went to the piano and, after preluding a moment, broke off into a charming little valse of her own composition. I do not know its real name, nor am I sure it had one, but as she always played it when she and one of her adorers were about to part it was known in the regiment as "La Valse des Adieux." Kottenkamp had heard it, and so had the other fellow, and the one that came after him. But, pshaw! what was the use of going into that? It was being played for me, for me alone, and the sounds seemed to get into the marrow of my bones and mingle with it.

Not until the small hours did my charmer and I separate. Taking a tiny watch from her belt, she glanced at it. "Mon ami, it is sweet to listen to you, but the journey to Lille is long and I but a poor, weak little woman. Au revoir!" Her head rested on my shoulder an instant while our lips met, when, breaking from me before I realized what had happened, she was gone. I drew an armchair to the window and lighted a final cigar, watching the bivouac fires beyond Fleurus, where our "Feldwache" lay to their arms. I was happy.

The next morning I rode next her carriage on its way to the French lines, taking with me a trumpeter and a sergeant carrying a white handkerchief tied to the end of a lance as a flag of truce. A staff officer of the French met her at the outposts. He turned out to be an old acquaintance, as she told me, and I looked at him with envious eyes as he took my place beside the carriage and trotted along, chatting with her, on their way to the "quartier general."

We dined a little earlier that night at the chateau, but a game of cards, baccarat or macao, as the Germans and Italians call it, kept us up till past midnight. A long ride in cold weather and a couple of bottles of wine at the end of it are worth all the sleeping potions in the world, and my head hardly touched the pillow that night before I was asleep. I must have slept three or four hours when I found myself sitting upright in bed. One, two, three shots fired in rapid succession not a quarter of a mile from the house and then a volley! The sounds seemed to come from the direction of Magny-le-Grand. In an instant I had sprung out of bed to light candles and tumble into my clothes. Running to the door, I stumbled against my "Bursche," Max, only half dressed, carrying my sword in one hand and my boots in the other. His eyes were starting out of his head.

"Herr Lieutenant, sie kommen!" he gasped.

"Who's coming, idiot?" I asked.

"Die Franzosen, Herr Lieutenant: die Franzosen."

"Well, let them come," said I a little angrily to steady him. "Aren't we ready for them, you donkey?"

By this time the whole chateau was in an uproar. Lights flew from room to room, and there was a great rushing of feet on the stairways. Through the open door I caught a glimpse of old Breisewitz plunging down the stairs four at a time, while making frantic efforts to buckle his sword belt. I rushed after him, followed by Max with a lantern. We made straight for the stables and lost no time in getting out my horses. The courtyard was full of our men. Some of the troopers had saddled in such mad haste that they mounted without waiting to fasten the girths. Two troopers stood by the great gates, ready to swing them back when Breisewitz should give the signal. The old "Rittmeister" was soon in the saddle and, drawing his sword as soon as all was ready, gave the word. The gates swung back on their hinges, and we streamed out to gallop at headlong speed, with sabers drawn, toward the alarmplatz, the place always settled upon when Prussians in time of war go into quarters and where they are to assemble in case of any sudden emergency or surprise. I do not think more than three or four minutes elapsed after I heard the first shots before we were out of the chateau.

The alarmplatz was in our case a little meadow half way between Magny-le-Grand and Fleurus. The firing had steadily increased until now the roll of musketry was continuous. As we approached Magny-le-Grand a lurid glare and heavy volumes of smoke hanging above the place showed us that the village was on fire in a dozen places.

What had happened was that the major in command at Fleurus and our people at Magny-le-Grand had neglected to post sentries near the deep ravine that connected the two places and extended beyond Fleurus toward the French lines. A column of "chasseurs a pied" had taken advantage of this to creep through the ravine past Fleurus and into Magny-le-Grand, which they reached unobserved at 3 o'clock in the morning. The first intimation our men had of the presence of the enemy was to find themselves surrounded. The surprise was so complete that few of the hussars in the village were able to get out their horses. Of those that did the majority were shot down in the attempt to escape, among them Breitenstein, struck down by a bullet as he charged the big ditch that bordered the village on the side nearest the chateau. As Breisewitz and myself, with our men, skirted the village, although the night was dark, it was there as bright as day. Lights were in every window, and through the red smoke we saw shadowy figures of mounted men flying along the single street, while from the houses and both sides of the ravine a withering fire was kept up on the hussars as they ran the gauntlet. Now a horse, now a rider, sank beneath the volleys and fell, only to be struck again and again. Some of the bodies we afterward took up for burial had as many as a dozen bullet holes in them, and on a pile of dirty straw we found the body of the little prince pierced with 16 bayonet thrusts. Of the pattering bullets some fell into our ranks, but there were only one or two slight casualties as we dashed on to the meadow where Seckendorf's "Zug" was drawn up awaiting us, together with a few of the hussars who had escaped from Magny-le-Grand. The roll was hastily called. Of the two "Zuge" in Magny half the men were missing.

We were now a hundred sabers strong, and, as Seckendorf told us the infantry from Fleurus was on the march to join us, we formed in line and advanced at a walk in the direction of the ravine. Here we made some men dismount, who opened fire from their carbines on the French, but the latter were in force, and their cover was too good for us to do them much injury. It was for us a losing game, and we were glad to leave it. The infantry from Fleurus now came up, as well as another body of infantry from villages to our left. These deployed in the fields on both sides of Magny, and the attack began in earnest, while we waited until the French should be driven to the open in order to try a charge. A tremendous rumbling on our right caused us to glance in that direction, and we saw rapidly approaching across the fields a section of horse artillery, the animals at a tearing gallop, the guns leaping and bounding over the frozen mounds as if they were alive. In an instant the section halted, and the guns were unlimbered at about 800 yards from Magny; in another a red glare was followed by a deafening report, and we heard the whiz of a shell that buried itself in the wall of a house and, exploding, scattered the debris in every direction. After half a dozen shots the fire of the French slackened in the village and became more active lower down the ravine. They were in full retreat. We formed in column of "Zuge" and, circling around the village, swooped down on a small detachment separated from the rest, who made no resistance. Our prisoners numbered 3 officers and 57 men. We had trouble to keep the hussars from sabering them in revenge for the massacre of their comrades. We rode through the street at Magny, and a horrid sight it was, incumbered with the dead bodies of 60 or 70 men and horses. We hung on the rear of the French till they reached their lines, when cavalry and artillery came out to their support, and we had to give it up.

We did not return to the chateau, but crossed the Somme to find quarters in the villages beyond. That night we were "alarmed" and marched day and night for the next two days. Then came the battle of St. Quentin, which so crippled Faidherbe that the campaign of the French in the north was at an end. We returned to the Somme, and I crossed it to have a look at my old quarters. Of the chateau and the villages not a trace! The inhabitants had disappeared as if the earth had swallowed them up. "Les camarades," the peasants told me, had been there, and now all was ruin and desolation. Soon there came the armistice, the harbinger of peace. I wrote several letters to Lucienne, some to Lille, some to an address in Paris she had given me. I received no reply. After being passed in review by the Crown Prince Frederick we marched back to Germany to receive the warmest welcome from those whose homes we had helped to defend. Though at first I grieved for loss of my love, I was very young, and time did its work, so that in a couple of years the recollection of her was a pleasure and not a pain. I never mentioned the subject to my father. Why should I? My castles in Spain had crumbled and could never be rebuilt.

Ten years after the war I was in St. Petersburg, where I made the acquaintance of the French military attache, a M. de Bressonville, who had served in the campaign of 1870 as aid-de-camp to Faidherbe. We took a strong liking to each other, and one day it occurred to me to ask him if he knew Mme. de Magny.

"The marquise?" he inquired, with rather a queer look.

"Yes."

He walked to the piano, opened it and struck the opening chords of "La Valse des Adieux." Turning, he fixed me with a questioning eye.

"You know it, I see. So you were one of the happy ones?"

My face flushed, and the tears sprang to my eyes.

"How dare you?" I began.

To my surprise he burst out laughing.

"Mon ami, she was no more a marquise than I am. She was in the 'bureau des information' of our army—a spy, if you care to put it that way. Faidherbe had a high opinion of her cleverness. You fellows were a mine of information, and if she made some sacrifices to obtain it, well, you know, patriotism is like charity. It covers a multitude of sins."—Cornhill Magazine.

When You Bake

do away with all the hot discomfort of former baking days, save yourself work and bother and do your baking in less time, at less expense, by using a

Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove

Burns the cheapest fuel that's sold with absolute safety, without causing dirt or grease, smoke or smell.

Sold wherever stoves are sold—made in various sizes. If your dealer does not have them, write to

STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

Everybody Knows About

Pain-Killer

A Household Medicine

Used by millions
in all parts of the world

A SAFE and SURE REMEDY
for

Cramps Coughs Bruises
Diarrhœa Colds Cuts
Dysentery Croup Burns
Sprains and Strains.

Gives instant relief. Cures quickly.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'!
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)

ALL DRUGGISTS.
ja10-1y

Cure for Cholera Infantum—Never Known to Fail.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Perils of Mediocrity.

Meek Husband—You ought to remember, Henrietta, that you married me for better or worse.

Aggressive Wife—That's just it! I got fooled. You are neither one!—Chicago Tribune.

"Delays are Dangerous."

A small pimple on your face may seem of little consequence, but it shows your blood is impure, and impure blood is what causes most of the diseases from which people suffer. Better heed the warning given by the pimple and purify your blood at once by taking Hood's Sarsaparila. This medicine cures all diseases due to bad blood, including scrofula and salt rheum.

The non irritating cathartic—Hood's Pills.

Cuts and bruises are healed by Chamberlain's Pain Balm in about one third the time any other treatment would require because of its antiseptic qualities which cause the parts to heal without maturation. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 56 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S. 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; [illegible]

Electric cars pass the hotel every 15 min[illegible] Woonsocket, Milford, and the Attleboros. Electrics for Dedham and Boston every half hour.

GEO. L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days. Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G. A. Martin, M. D.,
. . AND . . .
C. B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office—FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M. D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON,
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

DON'T SWEAR. JUST SMILE.

At Your Toes,

that are giving you such excruciating pains from corns, for Schlotterbeck's Corn Cure will give you relief and permanent cure by using it according to directions given.

Schlotterbeck's IS THE BEST AND MOST EASILY APPLIED CORN CURE IN THE MARKET, and will cure bunions, corns and warts.

SOLD BY

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

CITY MILLS.

The Osceola Canoe, Gun and Bicycle club celebrated the anniversary of the destruction of the Spanish fleet last Tuesday evening, providing supper and entertainment in their room, consisting of music, boxing, fencing, recitations, etc., the room being tastefully decorated. Valentine Schaefer, one of the Brooklyn's crew, sang a number of original selections, and his brother, Jacob Seahefer, who was a soldier of the Philippines, together with Hjallmer Aaderson, sang a pleasing selection. Jacob's Spanish rifle attracted much attention. At 5 a. m., Fourth of July morning, the Stars and Stripes were raised to the tune of "America," with cheers for Schley, the naval hero.

Had Her Anyway.

"Sir!" exclaimed the irate parent "how do you explain your audacity in asking me for the hand of my daughter?

"Merely as a courtesy to you, sir," replied the young man. "I assure you I have seen no occasion to regard it as a necessity."—Chicago Post.

Pleasing His Wife.

Jinks—Why do you offer such a large reward for the return of that contemptible pug dog?

Winks—To please my wife.

Jinks—But such a reward will be sure to bring him back.

"No, it won't. He's dead."—N. Y Weekly.

The Domestic Riddle.

Cobwigger—It's a pity a woman hasn't a head for figures.

Mrs. Cobwigger—I quite agree with you. If she had she could tell her husband what she did with that dollar he gave her week before last.—Town Topics.

Complications.

Family Friend—What did Mr. Singlar die of?

Bridget—Indade, Oi don't roightly know which it was, mum. There were siven docthors av thim altogither.—Judge.

Medical Item.

The Doctor—It is easy to tell just what a man's worth as soon as he opens his mouth.

The Patient—I suppose that is why you always look at a man's tongue the first thing.—Yonkers Statesman.

Joys of a Bridegroom.

Mr. Troomer—Where on earth is my new silk hat? I've looked everywhere for it.

His Bride (sweetly)—You said you wanted it ironed, dear, so I sent it to the laundry.—N. Y. World.

'Twas Ever Thus.

Merritt—That dog of mine was very ungrateful.

Cobwigger—What did he do?

Merritt—Ran away the very day I paid the tax on him.—Town Topics.

Interest in the Baby.

Papa—Poor little fellow! It's his teeth that make him cry that way.

Friend—His teeth, eh? What do you do for that? Have 'em filled or extracted?—Puck.

Divorces Are Cheap.

"Are you unmarried?" asked her latest admirer.

"No," replied she candidly; "but in Chicago, you know, one can become so at short notice."—Judge.

Cupid's Witchcraft.

She turns her head and gives a smile
To me behind discerned;
And though I look at her the while,
Yet my head, too, is turned.
—N. Y. Journal.

He Enjoyed It.

Fred—That cigar you gave me did me lots of good.

Arthur—I'm glad of it. When did you smoke it?

"Oh, I didn't smoke it. I gave it to Howard; I hate him, you know.—Harlem Life.

Works the Other Way.

Dyer—Doesn't your spending so much time at the club get you in trouble at home?

Duell—No, it keeps me out of it.—Town Topics.

Changed, Indeed!

For ten long years we had not met,
Now by her side I sit;
My arm steals gently 'bout her waist—
She has not changed a bit.
She has not changed? I guess I'm wrong;
That can be plainly seen—
Just twenty-three her years were then.
But now she's seventeen.
—Yonkers Statesman

Hood's Pills

Do not gripe nor irritate the alimentary canal. They act gently yet promptly, cleanse effectually and

Give Comfort

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Attractions This Week

Morrissey & Proctor, New York Stars.
The Three Renos.
Tom Bryan.

A LAUGHABLE AFTERPIECE

WEDNESDAY EVENING,
Concert by Attleboro Band.

EVERY SUNDAY.
SACRED · CONCERT.

Admission to Amphitheatre, 5c. Reserved Seats, 10c.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N Y., N. H & H R R run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.
Circulars free on application.

THE ROSE - FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE - - FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." - FOR BARGAINS.

GO-CARTS, $8.00 == Nice.

Never heard a baby complain yet. Babies are all right in one of "Cook's Rolling Stock. Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly.

Everybody waits for their car in our store—so nice and cool. Try it.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

MED FIELD AND WAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

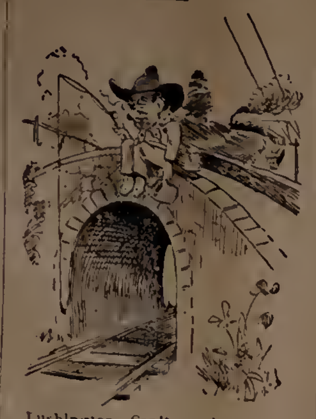
Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

THE NEAR-SIGHTED FISHERMAN.



Lushington—Can't understand it. Been sitting here for hours and ain't had a bite. Guess there are too many steamboats on the river.—N. Y. World.

Give Him a Chance.

Tramp—Could yer give a poor man a pie or cake, ma'am?

Lady—Why, you have a big lunch there now, sir.

Tramp—I know, but de doctor sez I must spend an hour at my meals, ma'am.—N. Y. World.

A Patriotic Fraud.

Fair Ethel wore red, white and blue
Until the war was o'er
She loved her country not so much,
But her soldier lover more.
—N. Y. Truth.

One of nature's remedies; cannot harm the weakest constitution; never fails to cure summer complaints of young or old. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF JULY 9.

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.30.

Boom's Comedians

INCLUDING

Wiley and Hamilton
Frank Riley
The Blanchards
Lambshire

AND MANY OTHERS.

UNDER DIRECTION OF MORRIS BOOM.

je26-toc1

WANTED.

Experienced Fur Felt Finishers,
about July 16th, on Ladies' Felt Hats.

Address HIRSH & PARK,
Medway, Mass.

jly3-1m

WINDERS

WANTED

..BY..

WORCESTER TEXTILE CO.

UNIONVILLE, MASS.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Edwin J. Pond, late of Providence, in the state of Rhode Island, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

METCALF E. POND.

Address Franklin, Mass.
July 7, A. D. 1900. jly10,17,24

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Erasmus A. Pond, late of Rutland, in the state of Vermont, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

METCALF E. POND.

Address Franklin, Mass.
July 7, A. D. 1900. jly10,17,24

GEMS IN VERSE.

OLD FAVORITES.

From the Recesses of a Lowly Spirit.

From the recesses of a lowly spirit,
Our humble prayer ascends; O Father! hear it.
Upsoaring on the wings of awe and meekness,
Forgive its weakness!

We see thy hand—it leads us, it supports us:
We hear thy voice—it counsels and it courts us;
And then we turn away; and still thy kindness
Forgives our blindness.

O, how long-suffering, Lord! but thou delightest
To win with love the wandering: thou invitest,
By smiles of mercy, not by frowns or terrors,
Man from his errors

Father and Saviour! plant within each bosom
The seeds of holiness, and bid them blossom
In fragrance and in beauty bright and vernal,
And spring eternal.

—John Bowring.

The Bore.

Again I hear the creaking step!
He's rapping at the door!
Too well I know the boding sound
That ushers in a bore.
I do not tremble when I meet
The stoutest of my foes
But heaven defend me from the friend
Who comes, but never goes.

He drops into my easy chair
And asks about the news,
He peeps into my manuscript
And gives his candid views,
He tells me where he likes the line
And where he's forced to grieve.
He takes the strangest liberties,
But never takes his leave.

He talks about his fragile health
And tells me of his pains,
He suffers from a score of ills,
Of which he ne'er complains,
And how he struggled once with death
To keep the fiend at bay;
On themes like those away he goes,
But never goes away.

He tells me of the carping words
Some shallow critic wrote,
And every precious paragraph
Familiarly can quote;
He thinks the writer did me wrong,
He'd like to run him through!
He says a thousand pleasant things,
But never says "Adieu!"

—J. G. Saxe.

DON'TS FOR MISTRESSES.

Don't ignore the fact that she needs some time to herself to mend her clothes.

Don't think she will respect and obey you if you never show any consideration for her feelings.

Don't forget to give her occasional outings in addition to her regular afternoon and evening out.

Don't think she is neglecting her duty if she doesn't happen to be occupied every minute of the time.—Union Signal.

Fireproof Paper.

Fireproof paper for printing and writing purposes is manufactured in Berlin by a patented process. Ninety-five parts of asbestus fiber of the best quality are washed in a solution of permanganate of calium and then treated with sulphuric acid as a bleaching agent. Five parts of wood pulp, as used in paper factories, is added, and the whole is placed in the agitating box, with an addition of limewater and borax. After being thoroughly mixed the material is pumped into the regulating box and allowed to flow out of a gate on an endless wire cloth, where it enters the usual paper making machinery. It is easy to apply watermarks to this paper, which ordinarily has a smooth surface, but which can be satin finished, this being more preferable for writing purposes. Paper thus produced is said to resist even the direct influence of flame and remains uninjured even in a white heat.

His Reasoning.

"I am Sherlock Holmes," said the great detective. "I think you can inform"—

"Yes, sir," the man interrupted his caller. "If you'll wait until I've put the baby to sleep, I'll come down and talk to you."

"Ah; your second!" said Holmes, smiling.

"Heavens! How did you guess it?"

"Very simple. If it were your first, you'd wake it up to show it to me. If you had more than two, you'd be at your club about this time."—Philadelphia Press.

What Did She Mean?

Old Gotrox—That new black dress is very becoming to you, my dear.

Young Wife—Oh, yes! I knew black was becoming to me before we were married.—Chicago News.

"I suffered for months from sore throat. Eclectric Oil cured me in twenty-four hours." M. S. Gist, Hawesville, Ky.

Itchness of the skin, horrible plague. Most everybody afflicted in one way or another. Only one safe, never failing cure. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store, 50 cents.

BUG DEATH...

A NON-POISONOUS POWDER.

Is sure death to potato, squash and cucumber bugs, currant and tomato worms, and other plant and vine-eating pests. It is a benefit to the plant, and the more freely used the better the plant will thrive. For potatoes when blight is prevalent the extra yield will more than pay all expense of Bug Death.

1 lb. pkg., 15c. 3 lbs., 35c. 5 lbs., 50c. 12 1-2 lbs., $1.

Perfection Shaker, 50c.

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

CORNED BEEF and VEGETABLES

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Native Beets, bunch	6c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Cabbage, lb	3c
Thick Flanks	6c	Spinach, peck	10c
Spring Broilers	28c	String Beans, qt	5c
Fresh Killed Fowls	18c	Lettuce, head	5c
Smoked Bacon, strip	10c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe1-ty8

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

JUST THE WEATHER TO ENJOY A

HAMMOCK.

We have them for 75c. to $4.25.

Oil Stoves, 1, 2 and 3 burners, 50c., 98c. and $1.48.
Screen Doors and Window Screens.
Refrigerator Pans, Watering Pots.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap27S

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month	$1 00
" " three times per week	50
Single Gallon	05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
17-tfT P. O. Box 481.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

NORFOLK, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next-of-kin and all other persons interested in the estate of John L. Fairbanks, late of Franklin, in said county, deceased:

Whereas, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said court for probate by Eliza Fairbanks of Franklin, who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named,

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Dedham, in said county of Norfolk, on the eighteenth day of July, A. D. 1900, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Franklin Sentinel, a newspaper published in Franklin, the last publication to be one day at least before said court, and by mailing, postpaid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate seven days at least before said court.

Witness, James H. Flint, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-fifth day of June, in the year one thousand nine hundred.

JONATHAN COBB, Register.

je26,jly3,10

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Mary A. Cooper, late of Medway, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

HENRY CARTER

West Medway, July 2, 1900. jly3,10,17

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 56. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Fales, the Grocer	4
A. C. Mason	4
Marston Sanborn	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Clarence Carr and family removed to Woonsocket yesterday.

Miss Georgia Spronl of Waldoboro, Me., is visiting friends in town.

The Red Men installed their new officers last Monday evening.

Miss Florence Monroe of South Boston is visiting at J. J. Stewart's.

Mrs. John Murray and children are visiting friends in Providence.

Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., will hold a regular meeting this evening.

W. M. Fisher is improving his residence by the addition of a piazza.

Miss Caroline Atkins, a former teacher here, is visiting friends in town.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Lennon of West street Tuesday.

Mrs. Jacob Quilter is entertaining Miss Ethel Fulton of Worcester a few days.

Mrs. J. W. Clark and Mrs. O. L. Burley are enjoying an outing at Hyannisport.

Miss Mary Danahay of Providence is the guest of Miss Margaret McMahon of Cottage street.

Miss Annie Kelley of Union street has returned from a two week's vacation with friends in Maine.

Miss Grace Whiting returned to her home in Worcester for the summer vacation yesterday morning.

Leon Pond and E. Leslie Grant are enjoying the cool breezes from the Island house at Lake Pearl.

Frank Rogers of Boston is spending his vacation with his aunt, Mrs. A. C. Willard on Garfield street.

W. A. Pond, who has been ill for some time past, has recovered his health and is now able to attend to business.

Miss Barbara Brown and Miss Nettie Rice of Worcester are guests of Miss Brown's aunt, Mrs. Frank Moore.

Frank Wilkinson of Boston is spending a few days with his friend, Daniel Flaherty, of the Heliotype company.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Grant have been entertaining his father Mr. George Grant of Attleboro, for the past two weeks.

Manager Enegren has secured the Norwood band for a sacred concert at Lake Pearl on Sunday afternoon from 2 till 5 o'clock.

Rev. Frank Everett and daughter Helen have been visiting his father, A. F. Everett. The granddaughter remains here for a time.

Alfred Gove an old veteran, was fined $6 in the district court Milford, Thursday forenoon and taken to Worcester for nonpayment.

Mrs. E. M. Arnold and daughter, Miss Esther Arnold, of Pawtucket, R. I., are on a visit to Mrs. F. M. Richardson of Summer street.

A goodly number of Franklin people attended the picnic given by the Clerks' association of Woonsocket, at Lake Pearl yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Ray are entertaining the Misses Bertha and Beatrice Dutton of Worcester and Miss Maud Richardson of Boston.

Henry Pendergast of Webster, who has been stopping at the home of his uncle, William Pendergast, of McCarthy street, returned home yesterday.

The Our Boys ball team expect to have their hands full in defeating the crack North Bellingham nine next Saturday, yet they appear confident of coming home victorious.

The street railway company is equipping its long cars with double trolley arms, the extra one being placed on the cars as a safeguard in case the other one is disabled.

The hair of manufacturers' clerks is growing gray on account of trying to make out the manufacturers' schedule for the government census.

Mrs. J. W. Bachelor, who fell and broke her wrist last week, is improving and pleased to see her friends, who drop in to cheer her enforced rest.

Tickets are now on sale for the Douglas camp meeting, good going between July 19 and 28, and good returning till Aug. 1st, the round trip being 90 cents.

W. W. Haslam will preach at the Methodist church on Sunday morning, and in the evening the presiding elder, Rev. Dr. Willard T. Perrin, of Boston will conduct the service.

The first annual banquet of the Norfolk Western railway employes was held at 2 o'clock today at the Medfield inn. The banquet was held at 2 a. m., so that all employes might attend.

Floyd Hosie has just launched a new shell on Archer's Pond, measuring nineteen feet and weighing but seventy pounds. It is a very shapely boat, and will carry about a half dozen persons.

A delegation of Red men from Wonewok Tribe went to Norwood Tuesday evening where they assisted in installing the new chiefs of the Norwood Tribe. Fred Aherns, Edward F. Hartman and George A. Dauphinee were the local Red Men present.

Tuesday a man arrived in town via a freight train, and later in the day was taken to the lockup, suffering from the "jim jams." He is a stranger in the place and required the services of a physician at the lockup. He was sent to Dedham for thirty days.

Walter E. Richardson gave a "fish fry" at his summer home, Lake Pearl Thursday night to which his parents, uncle on his father's side and aunt on his mother's side and cousins sat down. A part of the guests were storm bound, returning to the village this morning.

The Grange and the Farmers' club have arranged a union picnic at Lake Pearl on Wednesday, July 25, and some of the best speakers of the grange and state board of agriculture are expected to be present, together with a number of other interesting features. Transportation will be by teams and electrics.

Mrs. Hugh Rogers, who lives on the Medway road, was gored by a bull in the field at her homestead last Tuesday. The bull knocked her down and gored her in the right thigh. Dr. G. A. Martin was called in and found Mrs. Rogers in a weak condition from the wound and shock incidental to the attack. Her condition is still serious.

The Baptist society held a picnic at Lake Pearl Tuesday. Societies from Walpole, Medfield and Bellingham united in the day of recreation. Deacon R. L. McPherson was a most efficient manager upon the occasion, and the day was marked by pleasure until the sunset warned the older people to take the younger people home to bed.

Hon. L. L. Burrington, the Franklin representative, was an advocate for the bill confirming the lease of the Boston & Albany Railroad. He had satisfied himself that the lease would be in the interest of those who depend upon the carrying facilities of railroads. Mr. Burrington's advocacy had weight with his fellow legislators, as usual.

It is hoped the school children will take as much interest in the Alden club flower mission this summer as last. If they will watch Tuesday's issues of the SENTINEL they will know where to carry their flowers every Wednesday evening. Pretty wild flowers are especially acceptable for the little ones of the city who see so few fields and flowers that grow in them.

About twenty of the friends of Roy Hartshorne from Mansfield paid him a surprise visit on Wednesday evening, bringing an orchestra with them. A most delightful evening was spent with music, refreshments, social chat, etc., the party not leaving for home till well toward morning, all voting their surprise lawn party a most emphatic success.

The dilapidated fence round the common has been removed, all but the stone posts which do not add any to the beauty of the place. If they can be taken away and the grass kept clipped, it will be a great improvement. A recent visitor in Franklin, a man of fine taste in all things, said "What a very pretty place your common can be made with a little care and attention."

Manager C. J. Leathers of the telephone exchange has been promoted to a more responsible position. His successor has not as yet been selected. Mr. Leathers has been given the superintendency of the company's exchanges at Beverly, Manchester-by-the-Sea and Pride's Crossing. This is a very responsible position and carries with it a good salary.

Representative Burrington still continues his trips to Boston, as the state legislature holds out late and the hot weather seems to have no terrors for the body celebrated as the Westminster chamber protectors. The amount of the state tax has not been established and the work of the assessors in casting the tax rate for the present year is delayed.

Judge Ruggles is holding court for two or three weeks, and as he has a habit of sending "habituals" up for an indeterminate period, it behooves that fraternity to keep out a watchful eye lest they appear before His Honor charged with intoxication. He considers they can do better work for the county than to lie around here a burden to their family and to the town. The Judge is right.

Tuesday evening while Patrick Casey, employed at St. Mary's rectory, in company with other men, was removing some of the ruins of the old church, recently burned, a rope, which was attached to some of the ruins, and on which the men were pulling, suddenly broke. Casey was the end man and the others were thrown heavily upon him. Dr. J. M. Crowley was called and found Casey's left ankle dislocated.

Liquor agent Fitzpatrick has instituted a new "hurry-up" wagon for the transportation of inebriates. The other day the Medway car dropped off a passenger near the sheriff's house, and the unfortunate laid there in a stupid doze. The officer decided to take him in tow, and accordingly procured a wheelbarrow and carted him off to the lockup, the befuddled passenger not realizing his method of locomotion or the interest he was exciting.

Every person in town who patronizes the trolley cars will be glad to know that in the interests of safety of the public the railroad commissioners have addressed an earnest letter to the leading officials of the electric roads in the state, urging more attention and carefulness on part of all employees, and the adoption of latest improvements in car traffic. The recent accidents have stirred up investigation, which proves the need of the warning.

George E. Bacon of Central street, while cutting poles in the woods the other day, came in contact with some dogwood, and the result was that he had both his hands and arms badly poisoned. He has suffered intensely from the trouble and the services of a physician became necessary, the parts affected having swollen to thrice their normal size. His condition is somewhat improved today and his many friends are hoping he will have an early and permanent relief from his sufferings.

The report has been current in Wrentham that the work of building the street railway line from the Centre to Foxboro would begin this week, or as soon as the Milford & Bellingham stretch was completed. There are about two and a half miles to build at the Wrentham end, and nearly all the iron has been distributed. A number of the rails were afterward taken to make the turnouts for the other line to Plainville. The part i Foxboro has been built some time, but never put in running order.

The readers who consult the advertising columns are home-and-fireside readers. The advertising columns do carry news to them and they read those columns to get that news. The fact that advertisements bring customers to the merchant's counters proves that the news is read and believed. These are the facts that make the country weekly and semi-weekly and daily papers comparatively more valuable as advertising mediums than the city dailies. The rural papers are almost entirely distributed to homes to be read. The advertisement that gets into a home is going to earn money there for the advertiser. The man who is earnest of reaching the family which is the fountain-head of the stream of custom he desires, is the man who advertises in the country newspapers.—Newspaperdom.

An Important Meeting.

At the meeting of the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket street railway company here on Tuesday, the directors were in session five hours. All the directors were present except Frederick Read of Leominster. President G. W. Wiggin, A. D. Thayer, James F. Ray, E. K. Ray, all of Franklin, George Shippee of Milford and W. H. Tylee were all present. It was voted to begin construction at once on the railway from Milford, through Hopkinton to Westboro. A gang of men will be taken off the crew that has completed the road from Woonsocket to Milford and put to work on Dilla street, Milford. The line will be pushed rapidly, and the plan is to have the road completed Sept. 1st. This will give a through line from Worcester through Westboro, Milford, Bellingham, Franklin and Woonsocket to Providence, with side trip to Lake Pearl, Attleboro and other places.

A Painful Accident.

Our people were not a little startled on Wednesday at the report that George E. Emerson had been quite seriously injured while on a trolley car bound for Providence. He left here about 11 o'clock and remembers paying his fare at North Attleboro, bound through Pawtucket.

Just after leaving North Attleboro, as he was changing his seat, he stepped upon the running board and was struck by a trolley pole, close to the track, inflicting a severe scalp wound. He was pitched off the car over a hydrant upon the grass. The car was immediately stopped and by good fortune a physician, Dr. Vance, was passing and Mr. Emerson was given immediate attention. A rubber-tired carriage was procured and he was brought to his home here. He was unconscious only about twenty minutes, but was dazed for quite a long time, and remembered the facts of the accident only indistinctly.

Dr. G. A. Martin was summoned and at first feared concussion of the brain, but this proved not to be the case. He rested fairly comfortable that night, and the doctor expects to have him out again in a few days. The chances are that had he been struck full in the forehead it must have broken his neck. He was very fortunate to get out of it as well as he did.

An examination was made of the scene of the accident by his son Clifford yesterday, and he found that the trolley pole was but three feet from the track and a passenger upon the running board would have to stand parallel with the board to avoid being struck. It is on a slight curve and decline and the car at the time was running without power.

A Successful Lawn Party.

A large attendance, fine illumination, tasteful decoration, excellent music, an abundance of good things to please the palate and varied attractions put forth for the pleasure of those who attended were prominent features of the lawn party held under the auspices of St. Mary's parish on the church grounds Wednesday evening. The evening was an ideal one for a lawn party, and this no doubt helped to swell the numbers who had gathered. Chinese lanterns illuminated the place and the booths, presided over by young ladies of the parish, were decorated with the national colors. A dancing platform had been built on the grounds and here many found enjoyment until the party was over, the American brass band orchestra furnishing the music for the dancers, while the American brass band gave an excellent musical programme. The booths were generously patronized and the affair was a complete surprise in every way. A goodly number were present from Woonsocket, Medway and the Attleboros.

The different committees who arranged the affair and had charge of the tables were: General manager, Miss Elizabeth Lamont; committee on decoration, Misses Margaret Sullivan, Rose Macdermott, Tillie Schafer, Annie Kelly, Elizabeth Pendergast, Annie McDonald, Messrs. Joseph Maroney and William Pendergast. Those in charge of the sandwich table were: Mrs. Thomas Neelon, Mrs Thomas Killillea, Mrs. Daniel Lamont and Mrs. John Coughlin; mineral waters, Thomas Doherty and John Geaney; lemonade table, Miss Sadie Sullivan; candy table, Misses Ella Geaney and Alice Neelou; ice cream and cake, Mrs. Couty, Misses Eliza and Sarah White and Miss Margaret Halloran; peanut table, Misses Margaret Walsh, Mary Savage, Annie Connolly and Elizabeth Murphy. At the fortune-telling booth Miss Margaret Sullivan presided, assisted by Misses Annie McCabe, Mamie Brogan and Jennie Cody. George Cody, aided by Stephen Maroney, Frank Lamont and John Doherty, had charge of the dancing.

Our Subscribers.

We have gone over our subscription books the past week and found many names who are in arrears. Now the subscription in itself is a small matter and one which is easily forgotten, but if the many who have forgotten would remember us this week it would not seem so small to us. We sent out notifications to those who were a little behind and many were very prompt in calling on us and paying up. If you received a notice, please to not think you are the only one we sent such a notice to, but, nevertheless, remember it please, long enough to call on us.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending July 11, 1900:

Ladies—Miss Maggie Flynn (3), Mrs. Isaac Hagerman, Mrs. M. F. Jackson, Mrs. Minnie Johnson, Cozzella Ginseppe.

Gentlemen—Amende Aubi, Wm. Grimshaw, Wm. Hanlon, Ned Johnson, R. J. Reod, Edwin P. Smith, S. Eustacchio Rubeo, Giuseppe Nazia, Nicola Fabiana.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

Send your boys to Ocbee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

THE HAPLESS FRANKLINITE.

O sad is the lot of the Franklin man, to toil and dig and delve;
He's up before the sunrise, retires at stroke of twelve;
Shut in the shop or store or mill—Dame Fortune's most unkind,
And life is just what Dickens says: "One long, demnition grind."

And when the summer comes each year the heat is such a bore
His wife's off to the mountains, the country or the shore.
He stays at home to "run the ranch," a watch to keep o'er all,
But there isn't much of revelry in quiet bachelors' hall.

But when the glad millennium comes and every one has wealth
And brains and wit, good temper and all enjoy good health,
Then all this rustication of wife and hopefuls gay
Will be shared by pater familias. God speed the happy day.

Try the Trolley.

W. R. Richardson and F. M. Richardson took a swing round the circle Wednesday, boarding the electric car at the head of Depot street and reaching Woonsocket on time. From that point they went to Blackstone and called upon their aunt, Mrs. William Miller, and several cousins, where they had a most delightful reception. From Blackstone the brothers proceeded by electric cars to Providence and then by boat to Field's Point. It is only taking up space to relate what occurred at that well-known shore resort. The weight of the earth has lessened at that point and increased at this. Returning to the city with many a golden sand embedded in their apparel and scanty locks, the trip home was made by electric cars by way of Attleboro, Plainville and Wrentham. The circuit covered 80 miles. A score of places of different names were passed through and the brothers agreed on one point if no other, and that was that the village of Franklin eclipsed them all in cleanliness, order, beauty of situation, architecture and home adornment of structure and grounds.

Franklin fair, beyond compare;
Franklin with its perfumed air;
Franklin, where the sun doth shine
On tree and fern and glade and vine.
May thought and action ever wait
Flame-sworded Franklin at thy gate.

REUBEN.

This Is All True.

The following is all true, as every newspaper publisher knows, no matter how careful and conscientious he may be in admission of matter to his columns: "To run a paper without occasionally publishing an item that is detrimental to some person, is like running a railroad without having accidents or mishaps. To do either is a physical impossibility. No man on earth is to so great an extent constantly at the mercy of both friends and enemies as the editor of a newspaper. He must get much of the information concerning transpiring events second or third handed, or not at all. Frequently statements are received from supposedly trustworthy sources which are subsequently found to be without foundation. Not one editor in a thousand wilfully injures either friend or foe by misrepresentation. Go to him and ask for a correction, and nine cases out of ten, if your case is just, you will be received politely, and proper correction will be made with pleasure."

South America.

When you come to think about it, how little one knows about South America. I have a book, just issued by George M. Smith & Co., of Boston, which covers the latest interesting facts in regard to that country, covering the Panama canal, the land of the Equator, the great South American desert, the irrigated valleys of Peru, its capital, down the Andes in a hand car, in the heart of the Andes, La-Paz, the Indians, gold and silver mines of the Andes, the city of Santiago, the Chilean frontier, Tierra Del Fuego, the Argentine republic, the trans Andean railway, the pretty girls of Paraguay, wilds of Brazil, the coffee plantations, the mighty Amazon, Venezuela, etc., etc., with scores of fine illustrations beautifully bound and at a moderate price. This book should be in every library.

H W. GAY, Solicitor.

Canning is Coming.

If you want nice fruit next winter prepare to can very soon, as fruit is coming on, but don't use your old jars. Our new ones are cheaper, better, and improve the flavor of the fruit. We have the square "Royal" fruit jar, best quality selected glass, with "Lightning" top at 90 cents, $1.00 and $1.25 per dozen. There are none cheaper in the end. Window screens at reduced prices.

HOSIE BROS.

If you want the best milk in this town, put up in glass jars at the farm, and delivered by 6 o'clock in the morning, address J. C. McInnis. He also has all kinds of fruit in the season.

If you want bargains don't fail to be present at the auction of household goods at Mrs. A. P. Woodward's at 1.30 on Saturday afternoon.

Our mattings are made of finest stuff;
This is straight goods and no bluff.
Sanford Bros., Medway.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

COMMUNICATIONS.

[The editor assumes no responsibility for matter under this caption. This column is entirely at the disposal of the public, avoiding, as far as possible, trivial and controversial matter.]

A Letter to Boys.

DEAR BOYS: Believing that I will reach the ears of a larger number of you through the columns of the SENTINEL than through my preaching on the Lord's day, I take this method of addressing you. I am glad to know that you are having a good, long vacation from study, to ramble through the woods. May I ask you to be kind to the birds? It is so much more pleasant to have them with us. Life is more cheerful because of their presence. Do not throw stones at them nor kill them. Do not rob their nests of eggs or the young birds. It is cruel and unkind. They are so beautiful in appearance and they sing so sweetly that no one should think of doing them harm. Even if the English sparrow should be killed, as some people say, you and I should not kill them. The town authorities should do it by the proper methods. Let me also remind you that there is a law against robbing birds' nests and killing birds. You can be arrested and compelled to pay a fine. It is never wise to violate the laws of the commonwealth. I have heard lately of a number of boys who, thoughtlessly, I trust, have been guilty of such violation.

Mr. Angell, editor of the Dumb Animals, says that "if there were no birds man could not live on the earth," and "every kind word you say to a dumb animal or bird will make you happier." And so I ask you to be kind to the birds. Let me suggest to you to spend some parts of your vacation in studying about the birds. Ask your parents to buy you a book on birds or go to the library and read about them; then go into the woods and meadows and find out all you can about them. Thus you will learn to love them and will never think of doing them harm. As a lover of birds and boys, I am Very truly yours,

ISAIAH W. SNEATH.

The Tickets Thus Far.

Democratic—William J. Bryan of Nebraska, for president, and Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, for vice president.

Fusion Populist—William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska, for president, and Charles A. Towne of Minnesota for vice-president.

Republican—William McKinley of Ohio, for president, and Theodore Roosevelt of New York, for vice president.

Socialist—Joseph F. Malouey of Massachusetts for president, and Valentine Remmill of Pennsylvania, for vice president.

Prohibition—John G. Wolley of Illinois, for president, and Henry B. Metcalf of Rhode Island, for vice president.

Socialist-Labor party—Job Harriman of California, for president, and Max S. Hayes of Ohio, for vice president.

Social Democrats—Eugene V. Debs of Indiana, for president, and Job Harriman, for vice-president.

United Christian party—Rev. S. C. Swallow of Pennsylvania, for president, and Rev. E. H. Sheldon of Illinois, for vice-president.

Middle-of-the-Road Populists — Wharton Baker of Pennsylvania, for president, and Ignatus Donnelly of Minnesota, for vice-president.

Emerson's Market.

New peas, string beans, tomatoes, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips, new potatoes. Try our Imperial cheese. Fresh killed fowls, lamb, veal, pork. Fresh cream.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Store girl wanted. Address, at once, Box 342, Franklin.

Wanted—A girl to do housework. Inquire at the SENTINEL office.

Dr. J. C. Gallison will sell a light driving horse or exchange for a heavier one. 11tf

Wanted.—A competent girl for general housework. Apply to Mrs. Dr. King, High street. 6

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. Allen.

To Let —Tenement of seven rooms to small American family. Apply to F. B. Croesley, 8 Cottage street. 13*

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 13-tf

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKINNON, Agent.

Read the Business Announcements.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C. B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

FRIDAY, JULY 13, 1900.

TEDDY is the apostle of hustle, while Stevenson is the apostle of dignity. Hustle usually wins.

GEN. HUMIDITY will be the charge d'affairs for the next two months. Everything wilts before him.

WILLIAM WALDORF ASTOR is living grandly up to the first part of his last name. What else could be expected of a man who forsakes his country?

THE man that's down always gets the kicks. Vide Quay just left off the Republican National Executive committee by his friend Hanna. Wait for Quay's revenge.

IT will now be fair weather and clear sailing for the nineteen colleges which are to receive the $2,195,000 which Fayeweather, the leather man left them. The courts have decided that the will must stand.

OPPOSITION to the re-election of Speaker Myers for next year is already developing, and is likely to assume dangerous proportions. It required a good man to follow Bates, and the difference is marked.

BETTING on the election has already begun. This is a little early, and many things may arise to turn the tide before November. Those who bet say a man may do wrong to bet, but he who does not bet is no bettor.

THE story of the plot to assassinate President McKinley was too diaphanous to attract much attention this hot weather, but it served to create a little talk, and if it succeeds in compelling all needed caution on the President's part no harm will result.

THE situation in China grows more alarming every day, and the lack of news creates the impression that things may be worse than they are surmised. Subduing China has not the holiday appearance it had a short time ago, and whatever the outcome, it will cost much men and money to bring the Celestials to terms.

THE higher courts have just decided that a manufacturer can employ any person in his mill ten hours per day, notwithstanding that person may have worked a portion of that same day elsewhere. That seemed like wise judgment, as the ten-hour law was never meant to deprive a laborer of obtaining all the employment per day he was able to perform, notwithstanding some officious labor agitators attempted to dictate just how long a person might work. The lower court that decided that a person's labor must be limited to ten hours must feel "like thirty cents" just about now.

THE ice magnates of Boston, however good men they may be in private life, deserve the execration of all honest people for robbing the poor and then attempting to prevent needed legislation in favor of sweltering thousands whose life depends upon the preservation of their food. But the legislature was not to be scared from doing its duty, and the five cent bill went through, compelling the magnates to sell ice to whomsoever should ask for it. Heretofore they have refused to sell five cent ice, and also would not sell any to those who had been buying of the independent ice men. Justice, though sometimes slow, is bound to come.

WHILE Senator Hoar does not agree with Pres. McKinley on the colonial question, yet he feels that this country is to be guided aright, and prefers to trust the republicans than the Democrats, and consequently is to be found in the party ranks this fall earnestly supporting the republican ticket. No one who knew Massachusetts' senior senator ever thought he would do otherwise. All these years of partisanship do not go for nothing, and at this late day it was not to be expected that the leopard could change his spots. Senator Hoar is right in his last attitude, even if he is thought by many of his friends to have been wrong before. Hoar training with the enemies of his party? Never.

WHILE it is admitted that Bryan is stronger than he was four years ago, yet that proves nothing as compared with the fact that McKinley has won many adherents by his course during the time he has held office. No one imputes to him anything but a desire to do right as he sees it. The campaign promises to open early, as each side will be loath to allow the other an advantage. Manufacturing interests everywhere would greatly dislike a change of administration at this juncture, when so many important questions are under consideration. The democrats are hoping to make large gains in Congress, and thus be able to block legislation in case they lose the presidency. Take it altogether, this promises to be the most exciting and closely contested campaign in years.

STUNTED HAIR

Does your hair split at the end? Can you pull out a handful by running your fingers through it? Does it seem dry and lifeless?

Give your hair a chance. Feed it. The roots are not dead; they are weak because they are starved—that's all.

The best hair food is—

Ayer's Hair Vigor

If you don't want your hair to die use Ayer's Hair Vigor once a day. It makes the hair grow, stops falling, and cures dandruff.

It always restores color to gray or faded hair; it never fails.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"One bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor stopped my hair from falling out, and started it to grow again nicely."
JULIUS WITT,
March 28, 1899. Canova, S. Dak.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor completely cured me from dandruff, with which I was greatly afflicted. The growth of my hair since its use has been something wonderful."
LENA G. GREENE,
April 13, 1899. New York, N.Y.

If you do not obtain all the benefit you expected from the use of the Hair Vigor, write the Doctor about it.
DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

What She Would Want.

"And when we are married," said the beautiful young girl to whom the aged millionaire had just proposed, "will you give me everything I want?"

"Everything, my charmer," replied the old man in an ecstasy of delight at this intimation that she would surrender; "everything that you can ask."

"If I could believe you," she said, doubtfully, "I would not hesitate a minute."

"Why should you doubt me?" he asked.

"Oh, because of the character of the request I would make," she answered. "You mean well, but I'm afraid you might back out. You see, the first thing I should ask after marriage would be for a divorce and alimony."—Chicago Post.

Two Babies.

Mrs. Newma—Oh, I wish you could see Mrs. Wickler's baby. It's perfectly lovely! Such a delicate, sweet little creature as it is! It's a perfect little cherub, with the loveliest eyes, the sweetest little mouth, the cunningest little nose, and eyes of heavenly blue. It looks as if it just dropped from Heaven and every tiny feature had been fashioned by the angels.

Mr. Newma—Is it as nice as our baby?

Mrs. Newma—Mercy! no, not half.—N. Y. Weekly.

No Gentleman.

"Did I understand you to say that dress you admired so much to-day was a dream?" inquired Mr. Smokehart.

"Yes," answered his wife, hopefully.

"Well," he proceeded very kindly, "you keep your mind on it when you go to sleep to-night, and maybe you will dream one of your own."—Washington Star.

Two of a Kind.

Husband (at the breakfast table)—Oh, for some of the biscuits my mother used to make!

Wife (sweetly) — I'm sorry you haven't got them, dear. They would be just about stale enough by this time to go well with that remark.—Chicago Daily News.

An Expert Diagnosis.

Customer—I think there's a hair tangled in the wheels.

Woman Watchmaker (examining portrait in the case)—Yes; I'm sure it should be blond.—Jewelers' Weekly.

Truthfully Speaking.

Miss Young—What did you say when Charley Jagson threatened to kiss every girl in the room?

Miss Olds—I said I would just like to see him try it!—N. Y. Journal.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

If you don't feel quite well, try a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is a wonderful tonic and invigorator. It will help you.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

The Sea Restitution.

The third day out from Havre a fog came up and made the world opaque. For two days it did not lift nor thin, and it was difficult to believe, in spite of the log, that the ship was making any headway at all. It seemed almost as if the world had ceased to be, or as if it existed but in a state of flux, and as if we, enchanted ones, accursed with an immunity from the common destruction, were left to contemplate the nothingness.

Then, to add to our sense of doom, a young baby was said to have died on shipboard. At first every one took it for granted that its mother must have been a steerage, or, at the least, a second cabin passenger. It seemed unlikely that death would be so impertinent as to enter the first cabin. But it was learned that the destroyer had been even more insolent than that—it had taken a child much favored of fortune, the heir to great wealth.

I went to visit Mrs. Morell, the child's mother. She was tall and white, with wide eyes, which must have been beautiful when she was happy. Now a sort of blankness, like that of the air and the sea, had come into them.

I could not see her soul for her sorrow. She offered no confidence; indeed my sympathy could not reach to her dulled sense. Her grief was between us, impenetrable as the fog through which the ship crept cautiously.

"The captain asked me if I would be willing to have my baby buried at sea," she said to me in a voice which reminded me of a mournful bell, "and I told him I had no objection whatever."

"No!" I ejaculated in amazed surprise.

"Nothing is more peaceful than the deeps of the sea," she responded, and it, being night she asked me to walk upon the deck with her under cover of the darkness.

More in sympathy than from curiosity I inquired:

"Your husband is awaiting you in America?"

"Yes," she replied, her voice strangely colorless. "He will be at the wharf. He will expect to see the baby in my arms. He has never seen the baby, you know. I have been with my mother, who lives in Paris, and the day that baby was 3 months old I started for home."

We paused by the bulwark, and she looked down into the shadowy trough of the wave.

"It will make a soft cradle," she said. Her courage wrung my heart.

"Where do you find the strength to endure such a grief?" I cried.

"Indeed," she responded, with the mournful shadow of a smile, "that I cannot tell. It does not seem as if it were really I who has met with this great misfortune. If it were I whose plans have been so altered and whose hopes have been so dashed, surely I would not be tearless like this. It is Adele, my nurse, who weeps."

The next morning the captain read the burial service with solemn accent, and into the colorless sea, through the white vacancy of the fog, the little one was lowered reverently. I stood beside the mother, and I would have sustained her with my arm but that she gently repulsed me. She swayed a little from side to side, but there were no tears on the face that looked out of the quaint pointed hood of her sea cloak. She stared ahead of her at the stupid fog—she looked baffled, into obscurity.

Suddenly, an hour after the funeral, the mist lifted. It rolled up as a curtain rolls up, and it was a saffron color, gleaming and splendid. When it had lifted, a sparkling sea was revealed and a cloudless sky. The world became radiant. It seemed to exult in its beauty. Mrs. Morell cast a look of reproach at this vaunting of nature's youth and joy and went to her cabin.

Through the day messages were sent her and delicate evidences of sympathy, but her maid alone returned thanks. The next morning found her still in seclusion. More than one of us thought of invading that sacred solitude, but at the last forbore.

It was the afternoon of that day that the man on the bridge espied an object upon the horizon at the south. It was a black speck, visible in a short time to all of us.

"It's a ship's longboat," was the verdict at last. "It is manned and flying a flag of distress."

The course of our ship was changed. We went racing through the green water, rejoicing in the zest of the hour, in the action, the event.

Presently we were standing off cautiously from a longboat manned with haggard men.

"Who are you?" shouted the captain as the companion ladder was being lowered.

"All that are left of the crew and the passengers of the Nina Celeste, sir."

"How lost?"

"By fire, sir, two nights ago. The first boat lowered capsized. The women—there were two—were lowered into it. But the men were frightened, the flames made such headway, so they jumped. We are all who remain. Three of us were picked up from the overturned boat, but the others were dragged down in the swirl of the boat; it got to going round and round."

"Was the Nina Celeste a freighter?"

"A freighter, sir, bound from Bermuda to New York, carrying a cargo of lilies and hemp. It was out of its course owing to a fog."

The boat's load came on board—15 pale men—and one of them carried something in his arms.

"What do you carry?" asked the captain. "Is it a child?"

"Yes sir. It is the babe of one of the women who were lost. I was just about to hand it down to her"—

There was a sharp cry from among the crowd of passengers. Mrs. Morell was coming forward, her arms outstretched. She was entirely unconscious of the crowd apparently. Some one whispered to the man who held the babe:

"Her little one was buried yesterday at sea."

The man shuffled his burden awkwardly in his arms and took his hat from his head. Mrs. Morell reached him, and her hands seemed to hover above the coverings of the child's face as an avid bee hovers above a flower.

"It is alive!" she half whispered, after she had bent above it, all trembling. "It is breathing!" It seemed as if she thought that fact a sort of miracle.

She lifted the babe eagerly from the man's arms and, straining it close to her, walked with rapid, uncertain steps toward her cabin, and as she went she, who had hitherto shed no tear, sobbed aloud.—Chicago Tribune.

Prudence.

"Why don't you take steps to have this man who has traduced your character punished? He has unquestionably accused you falsely."

"I know it," said Senator Sorghum, thoughtfully. "But I'm afraid that by making a fuss about things that ain't so I may stir up a lot that are."—Washington Star.

No Need of Any Addition.

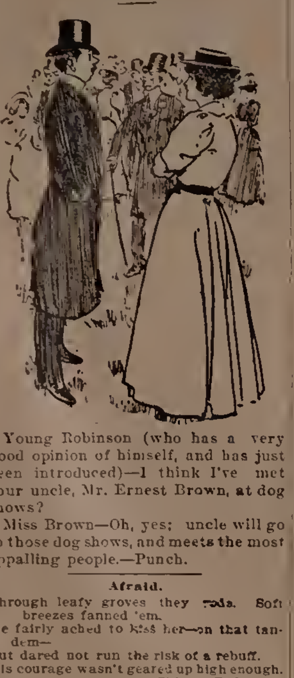
Teacher (to new girl)—Now, Dolly, I'll give you a sum. Supposing that your father owed the butcher £15, 11s. and twopence-half-penny; £7, 3s. to the bootmaker; £14 and 9d. to the milkman, and £31, 19s. and 3d., 3 farthings to the coal merchant—

Dolly (confidently) — We should move!—Stray Stories.

Evened Up.

He worked and schemed with all his might,
Year after year he toiled away.
But nature stopped him and he left
A fair young widow one fine day.
Yet weep not for the man who died!
He ground and hoarded to the end,
But the man who stepped into his shoes
Says money was but made to spend.
—Cleveland Leader.

SORRY SHE SPOKE.



Young Robinson (who has a very good opinion of himself, and has just been introduced)—I think I've met your uncle, Mr. Ernest Brown, at dog shows?

Miss Brown—Oh, yes; uncle will go to those dog shows, and meets the most appalling people.—Punch.

Afraid.

Through leafy groves they rode. Soft breezes fanned 'em.
He fairly ached to kiss her—on that tandem—
But dared not run the risk of a rebuff.
His courage wasn't geared up high enough.
—Chicago Tribune.

Gave Himself Away.

Mrs. Sharpeye (at a hotel)—That couple try to act as if they had been married for years, but I know they are on their wedding tour.

Mr. Sharpeye—Guess not.

Mrs. S.—Yes, they are. He gave her the tenderloin of the steak.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Reminder.

Mrs. Crimsonbeak—How on earth, John, did you remember to deliver my message, to-day?

Mr. Crimsonbeak—Oh, I found a handkerchief on the street, this morning, with a knot tied in it.—Yonkers Statesman.

Strategy.

Jimmy—But what do you do when you git real sleepy? You don't own up to it, do you?

Tommy—Naw—I go to askin' paw fool questions and he makes me go to bed.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Sane View.

"Josephine is so queer! She isn't going to wear mourning."

"Does she give any reason?"

"Yes; she says she doesn't intend to act as if she thought her husband had gone to the bad place."—Puck.

Justifiably Indignant.

The Policeman—A plain drunk, yer honor.

The Prisoner—Plain! Plain! Sure, yer anner, has a chimpanzee like that the right to insult a lady?—N. Y. Journal.

Would Not Satisfy Him.

She—Would you be satisfied if I let you have just one kiss?

He (courageously)—No.

She—Then you may have one.—N. Y. World.

Serious.

Arthur—Are you sure she loves you?

Jack—Yes. When I told her I had no money to marry on she asked me if I couldn't borrow some. — Illustrated American.

Placing the Blame.

"I saw you kissing my daughter, sir."

"Well, it was your own fault; you shouldn't have looked."—Chicago Daily Record.

Her Opinion.

His Fiancee—I don't consider Santiago the most important engagement of the war.

The Soldier—No? Which one?

His Fiancee—Ours!—Puck.

Sure to Do It.

"Are you sure she will marry you?"

"Why, of course. Hasn't her father absolutely forbidden it?" — Chicago Post.

From a Woman's Standpoint.

Mr. Briggs—Does tobacco chewing shorten life, I wonder?

Mrs. Briggs—Don't know. I'm sure, but I hope so.—Town Topics.

Simply Frenzied.

She—My husband is just crazy over music.

He—Where is it? In the flat under you?—Yonkers Statesman.

The Best Promise.

"She is a promising young musician."

"Well, get her to promise that she won't play any more."—Illustrated American.

"A Miss is As Good as a Mile."

If you are not entirely well, you are ill. Illness does not mean death's door. It is a sense of weariness, a "tired feeling," a life filled with nameless pains and suffering. In 90 of cases the blood is to blame. Hood's Sarsaparilla is Nature's corrective for disorders of the blood. Remember

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

She Laid Him Out.

Williamson—I hear that Jagman was so drunk last night that several of you fellows had to take him home on a shutter. Did his wife think he was dead?

Henderson—She must have. She was certainly laying him out when we left.—Harlem Life.

Lessons of Experience.

Mr. Spriggins (gently) — My dear, a Washington man was shot at by a burglar, and his life was saved by a button which the bullet struck.

Mrs. Spriggins—Well, what of it?

Mr. Spriggins (meekly) — Nothing, only the button must have been on.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Painful Oversight.

"Weren't you thrilled, Clementine, when Lady Macbeth came out with that horrible spot of blood on her hand?"

"Yes! wasn't it awful? I couldn't help wishing she had worn rubber gloves."—Chicago Record.

Cold Slaw.

Why praise the rose? the truer queen,
The blossom none can beat,
So surely the chrysanthemum—
It looks good enough to eat.
—Detroit Free Press.

Eating and Sleeping.

Food supplies the substance for repairing the wastes of the body, and gives strength. Sleep affords the opportunity for these repairs to be made. Both are necessary to health. If you can't eat or sleep, take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It creates a good appetite and tones the digestive organs, and gives it the sweet, restful sleep of childhood. Be sure to get Hood's.

Biliousness is cured by Hood's Pills. 25 cents.

Method in His Verbosity.

Rev. Fourthly—Why do you always preach such long sermons?

Rev. Fifthly—So that my congregation will be willing to give me long vacations.—Town Topics.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar coated globule of health that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25c per box. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co.

GOSHEN, ILL.

Genessee Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Dear Sirs:—Some days since a package of your Grain O preparation was left at my office. I took it home and gave it a trial, and I have to say I was very much pleased with it, as a substitute for coffee. We have always used the best Mocha and Java in our family, but I am free to say I like the Grain-O as well as the best coffee I ever drank.

Respectfully yours,
A. C. JACKSON, M. D.

Jell-O, the New Dessert,

pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

An Unexpected Answer.

Parent—Who is the laziest boy in your class, Johnny?

Johnny—I dunno.

"I should think you would know. When all the others are industriously writing or studying their lessons, who is it that sits idly in his seat and watches the rest, instead of working himself?"

"Why, the teacher."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. TRADE MARK.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript

(No Sunday Edition).

THE GREATEST PAPER IN NEW ENGLAND

FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms."

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT

Is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less, - 10c
5 to 15 miles, - - 15c
15 to 25 " - - 20c
25 to 35 " - - 25c
35 to 45 " - - 30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON)

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

News and Opinions OF National Importance.

THE SUN ALONE CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN

On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents" FREE

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co., Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

Mention this paper.

je22-4w

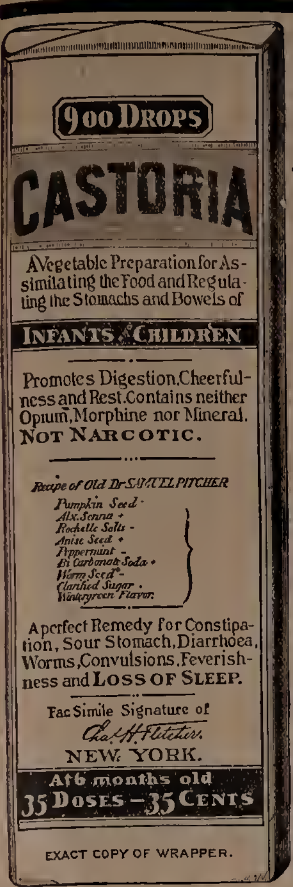
PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

jy6-4w

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.

Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed
Alx. Senna
Rochelle Salts
Anise Seed
Peppermint
Bi Carbonate Soda
Worm Seed
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor.
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES—35 CENTS
EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

Hot meals and cool cooks

You'll not need to regulate your cooking by the thermometer when you get a Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove. On the hottest days you can cook whatever you choose, in whatever way you wish, without suffering any additional discomfort while cooking. The comfort you'll gain is only one of the advantages of using a

Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove

It is handier than a coal stove and cleaner and cheaper. The Wickless Blue Flame Oil Stove is absolutely safe; it burns ordinary kerosene, without wicks and causes neither smoke, smell nor soot.

Made in various sizes for various-sized families; sold at prices to suit any sized pocketbooks—wherever stoves are sold. If the dealer does not have them, write to the
STANDARD OIL COMPANY.

LOVE SONG.

Rich as I am, I am poor in words and must borrow
Red from the rose and spice from the southernwood
Ere I can make of my love 'twixt tonight and tomorrow
The song I should.

When the time of the swallow's new such a bird might bring it,
Chirping low and soft at your window sill,
But I could not trust wild swallow or lark to sing it
As your heart will.

Scent of the lad's love, blush of the rose shall tell it
Into your dreaming ears till the sweet dream go,
Lost amid waking truths that shall help to swell it,
With sweetness deeper than even red roses know.

—Nora Hopper in Black and White.

The Benefactress Of the Wyandots

She Cured Their Sunburns and Secured Their Gratitude.

They were not really the Wyandots, but for the purposes of this story they may be called such, and they did not take themselves seriously as a boat crew. They liked better than anything else in the world to get out on the broad sweep of the Mississippi and at the word of their leader to bend to the oars with a slow, rhythmical movement of the body. It seemed like something apart from the rest of the world—the dull rest of it. When they asked the crews of three western universities to row against them, it was done more in the spirit of hospitality than anything else and because the town was desperately dull and every one wanted a little excitement. It was really the girls who thought of inviting the university crews, and no one really supposed they would accept. It was an experiment merely, made because a number of young persons did not quite know what to do with themselves. But all three universities accepted the invitation of Wyandot college.

Then the town was in a pleasant ferment. The girls all ordered new gowns, houses were cleaned by enterprising homekeepers with the expectation of many guests, for all the visiting fellows were to be entertained. Quite incidentally the Wyandots trained daily on the river and lived at the clubhouse on the campus and ate things which did not taste good. The girls sometimes remembered the crew to say:

"Don't you get left too far behind. You mustn't disgrace us, you know." The girls had known the members of the Wyandot crew all their lives, and it is difficult to appreciate a person who has been known forever.

Only little Hattie Meredith really believed in the Wyandots. Hattie was a pale girl who did not dance because she was not strong enough and who read too much and was too much alone. But nature, who amuses herself with incongruities, placed in this frail body a mind of most adventurous cast. When other girls were dreaming about party gowns or moonlight walks—with the right companion—Hattie was wondering how it would seem to be sailing to the north, past pineclad islands and through lonely, icebound seas to find the utmost solitude at the crown of the world, or she was imagining a tiger hunt from the back of an elephant or how it would seem to stand on a pass of the Rockies and watch the sun follow the wind from the under part of the earth and swing with glorious nonchalance up to its highest place.

Hattie, who could hardly bring herself to speak to strangers at all and who had really never discovered her curious mind to anybody, who was indeed as shy as a dove, had for her secret motto, "Bravado, bravado, and always more bravado." But she told no one. This joke of nature's was unapplauded because unknown.

It had been her greatest diversion for two years past to go across the common, walk over the railroad tracks and watch bid her go home and rest. When she shot along through the pale water and the momentum of those bodies became intense, then something went "Biz, biz, biz!" in Hattie's brain, and she knew a moment of intoxication. She was elate. She liked life unutterably. Then, wearied with her excitement, her body would bid her go home and rest. When she heard that the university crews were coming, she said to herself, "Our boys must be the victors." But she never thought of saying it to any one else. Besides, no one would have cared much about what Hattie Meredith said or thought. No one took much notice of her at any time.

As the days went on she observed the growing power of the Wyandots, but she noticed, too, that they showed signs of the strain. Her cousin, who knew everything, said they were suffering from sunburn.

"They can't sleep nights," said he. "They're going almost crazy. They keep putting on salve, but it doesn't seem to do any good. Actually, some of them are bleeding. If the weather doesn't cloud up, they'll break down before the race comes off, and, though they're not expecting too much, they don't want to make a flunk of it."

"Not sleeping!" cried Hattie with anxiety. "Not sleeping! My sakes, they can't win that way! What do you mean by using salve? It keeps the pores all open and soft, and of course their skin blisters. What they need is cornstarch."

"Never heard of cornstarch being used for burns, Hattie. Guess that's a girl's recipe."

"Yes," confessed Hattie, "it is. Haven't you ever noticed how quickly the girls' noses get well after we have been on a boating picnic? The boys' noses get worse and worse and peel off."

"That's so," confessed the cousin. "Well, cornstarch or no cornstarch, the boys are as near crazy as you can make 'em. They don't know what you say to 'em. I'd as soon go to a lunatic asylum as up to the campus."

That night 11 bags of cornstarch, each one containing a quart, was sent to the clubhouse with a modest note of explanation, and the next day Hattie Meredith, walking along the banks of the river, had the satisfaction of seeing the Wyandots stop in their practice every now and then to whip their arms and necks with the long, white bags.

"What have you heard from the campus?" she asked her cousin a day or two later.

"The fellows are sleeping like tops. They can actually understand a question put to them in plain English now. Some one sent them something that cured the burns."

Hattie blushed deep scarlet.

"Was it you, Hat? Well, of all things. What's come over you, girl?" But he smiled approvingly, and to have your cousin approve of you when he is 18 and you are 17 is rare indeed.

The day came. The town had never been more alive. The visiting crews had been shown every possible honour, and every one was longing for the race to be over that the festivities might begin, for it must be insisted upon that the people had not the usual interest in the race. They had too poor an opinion of their own men, and, while they did not expect the defeat to be one which would cause any of them to blush with shame, yet they apprehended that it would be sufficiently conclusive to forbid anything like a town celebration.

Long trains of flat cars, built up with tiers of seats and drawn by locomotives, had been put upon the tracks, the intention being to run these along beside the boats and at the same pace. On the river, too, there was all available craft, and the shore was lined. Hattie Meredith had secured a place on one of the flat cars and sat there amid a great company of her kinfolk and her friends.

The boats made a clean start, and in 30 seconds the Wyandots dropped behind an appreciable degree.

"There go our boys—backward!" called somebody. Hattie felt as if a hand had clutched her heart. The other boats forged ahead with slight vicissitudes for a few seconds more; then the Wyandots began gaining on them, got bow to bow, nosed ahead cunningly, and then swept on with a full stroke and led the race.

A thrill went through the people. That form of patriotism which stirs the breast of the patron of home sports was awakened in them. Their minds underwent a complete transformation. In a moment they ceased to be disinterested spectators and became fanatical advocates.

"They're ahead! They're ahead!" they screeched. They fell on each other's necks; they shouted to the blue heaven; they waved handkerchiefs, coats, hats, and the locomotives, unwilling to be voiceless amid the popular clamor, whistled their shrillest.

Now at last Hattie, the hero worshiper, felt the thrill for which she had always longed. Now she had the glorious satisfaction of beholding the triumph of her chosen. The ecstasy of enthusiasm which she felt became almost overwhelming, and it is doubtless if she had consciousness enough left to really see the boat when it shot past the stake and the plaudits of the astonished multitude announced the victory of the Wyandots.

There were tremendous jollifications that night. Hattie had been bidden to them, but she was disinclined to go. No young man had asked for her company, and her cousin had, cousinlike, gone off with another girl. She sat in the quiet living room, where her mother rocked and fanned herself peacefully and her father nodded over his paper, and wondered how it would seem to be a popular girl. She concluded it must be pleasant. It must also be exceedingly fine to have a pretty frock. She looked down at her plain lawn with feelings of mixed satisfaction. It was not the sort of frock she would have liked. But then it did not matter. No one would see her in it. She might go out on the front porch and watch the skyrockets, but all things considered perhaps it would be as well to go to bed and forget how lonesome she was.

What was that remarkable noise? A murmur of many voices, a confusion of laughter and the tramp of many feet! It was a most unaccustomed turmoil for that quiet street. Father Meredith sat bolt upright to listen. Mother Meredith stared, with fan suspended and mouth open. Hattie, pale and still as usual, indulged herself in these exciting sounds, but did not let her face show her delight. The sounds ceased apparently just beyond the porch, and on the warm summer air broke a chorus of male voices:

Stars of the summer night,
Far in yon azure deeps
Hide, hide your golden light.
She sleeps,
My lady sleeps,
Sleeps.

Now of all agreeable things there is none more agreeable than the sound of a serenade when young men sing in the bland darkness, and of all serenades none can be so beautiful as the one that is sung to you if you be a girl. Hattie was a girl who had not known many pleasures of the lighter sort—the sort which come from having the world in general and the opposite sex in particular regard you in a complimentary manner. Therefore her delight was all the greater.

Of course it seemed like a dream. It was still more like a vision of that starlit night when she ventured coyly upon the porch and heard the shouts that rent the air at her appearance.

"Cornstarch bags! Cornstarch bags! How can you tell a Wy-an-dot? By his cornstarch bags!" Three times they yelped it—young and old, girls and boys, men and women—for there was a great concourse of merrymakers out among the Meredith maples, and after the last repetition there came the concluding shout, "Hattie Meredith!"

By every course of reasoning Hattie, who had never been in a conspicuous place before in her life, ought to have been overwhelmed with confusion. But she was nothing of the sort. She bowed and smiled and fairly danced, standing on tiptoe to wave her acknowledgments to the farthest member of the crowd, and when the rout turned for the village, running, leaping, laughing, shouting and singing, she of all knew the uttermost emotion of youth and carelessness.

But none took note of this latter victory—the triumph of a soul over its fate' reticence.—Chicago Tribune.

A Blind Man's Memory.

Henry Fawcett, says Sir Edward Russell, had an extraordinary memory for persons. One night Sir Edward was in the house of commons, to hear a debate, under the gallery.

A friend introduced him to Mr. Fawcett, who, learning why he was there, said:

"Oh, then you can look after my old father and tell him who the people are. He is going under the gallery too."

Three or four years later Sir Edward was presented to Mr. Fawcett, who was then chief guest at a political dinner, and said to him in "the usual conventional mumble:"

"I once had the pleasure of being introduced to you, Mr. Fawcett, but it's a long time ago."

"I remember," said he; "you very kindly looked after my father under the gallery at the house."

And this was the memory of a man totally blind.

LAUGHING GAS.

The Snake Season.

Snakes that many months had waited,
While in holes they hibernated,
Have been summoned by the thunder to appear;
From the nooks where they've been hiding
They will through the grass come gliding,
And a lot of startling tales we soon shall hear.

Every twig that now is breaking
Will set timid people quaking
When they saunter through the woods on pleasure bent;
They will run in consternation
And make earnest declaration
That they saw a rattler six feet in extent.

When a man in byways lagging
Feels a thistle's sudden jagging,
O'er his face a sickly pallor soon will spread;
He'll imagine fearful paining
And to helpers be explaining
He was bitten by a monstrous copperhead.

From the strictly rural regions,
Where the serpents swarm in legions—
That's according to the men who till the loam—
There will often come a story
Of a young man's hair turned hoary
By the fright when some great black snake chased him home.

Even out upon the ocean
There will often be commotion,
And the mariners will wildly break for shore,
And then later they'll be saying
That a sea snake they saw playing
Was a half a mile in length, and maybe more.

But while others' yarns are spinning,
Thinking laurels they are winning,
There is one who later on will scoop the stakes;
He's the West Virginia fakir,
Famous as a record breaker,
And he always makes a specialty of snakes.
—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Russell Sage says he finds one of his greatest pleasures in attending missionary meetings. Doubtless he has found some missionary society which limits itself to praying for the heathen.

Careful Maria.

"Maria is the most particular buyer I ever knew."

"Yes."

"She saw that a lot of slightly soiled thermometers were to be sold at Remnant's between 7:15 and 7:45 a. m. on Tuesday only, and so she hurried down there without her breakfast."

"Yes."

"She looked at the thermometers and shook her head."

"What was the trouble?"

"The store was too hot, and the thermometers all registered 80. Maria said she had seen just as good at Sample's at 72."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Girl In the Khaki Dress.

There she goes in the shopping square!
The men look back, the women stare,
The critic's remarks are passing aloud
As she wends her way through the gaping crowd,
But she hears them not, and she cares much less;
She's one of the first in a khaki dress.

She passes the cop on the shopping beat;
He smiles and points out into the street.
"The color's the same," he says, with a grin—
"The same as the mud she's walking in,"
But she hears them not, and she cares much less;
She's one of the first in a khaki dress.

The newsboy grins: "Get on to her nibs!
Now, wudn't dat tickle yer under de ribs.
'Tis awning stuff, wid a mustard smear.
Take it away! It don't go here!"
But she hears them not, and she cares much less;
She's one of the first in a khaki dress.

'Tis a gantlet run for a thousand eyes,
But she braves the "Whews!" and the rude, "Oh, mys!"
And the girls who gape and love to say,
"She looks like a road on a rainy day!"
But she hears them not, and she cares much less;
She's one of the first in a khaki dress.
—Chicago News.

A Cast In His Vision.

"Mamma, is Mrs. Thompson's husband cross eyed?"

"Why, no, my dear. Why do you ask?"

"'Cause when I was out walking with nurse this morning Mr. Thompson stopped us to shake hands with me, and he said, 'What lovely eyes.'"

"Well, you have lovely eyes, my dear."

"Yes, but it seemed funny that every time he said it to me he looked at nurse."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Chestnuts Supplied.

If in this world you wish to star
And be esteemed at highest par,
Don't take the path that Webster took
Or read a page in Browning's book;
Don't try your hand at something new;
A few old musty jokes will do!

If you'd be popular in a crowd
Of girls and have them say aloud,
"He is the brightest chap I know!"
Don't win them with a language flow
Or take Britannia as a cue;
A few old musty jokes will do!

If you attend a banquet grand
And have no ready speech on hand—
No speech to grind out as you eat,
With words both long and obsolete—
Don't let the error worry you;
A few old musty jokes will do!

If you would to the senate go
And have no natural eloquent flow,
Don't let this thwart your worthy aim
To make the laws and carve your name;
A memory good will see you through;
A few old musty jokes will do!
—Chicago News.

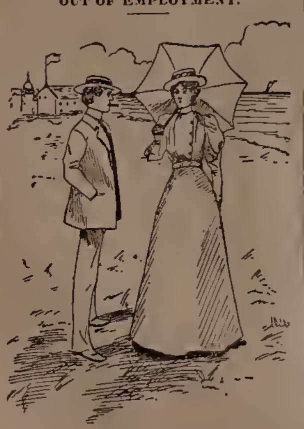
Decidedly Unreal.

"Fine show," remarked the first nighter at the close of the new comic opera. "The comic fisherman was a very realistic character, don't you think?"

"No, I don't," replied the amateur angler; "his lines were too catchy."

You May Need
Pain-Killer
For ACCIDENTS
Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Wounds, &c., &c.
It gives instant relief and cures quickly.
In case of sudden illness
Cramps
Diarrhœa
Dysentery
and
All Bowel Complaints
it is a sure, safe and quick remedy.
There's ONLY ONE
Pain-Killer
Perry Davis'.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.
Sample bottle mailed
(Mention this paper.)
ALL DRUGGISTS.
Ja10-1y

OUT OF EMPLOYMENT.



Ben—I hear De Sponge isn't working now.

Jen—What made him give up?

Ben—The man he was working died.
—Philadelphia Press.

An Infallible Method.

Professor (lecturing on precious metals)—What is the easiest way of determining whether an object consists of gold or silver?

Student—Try to pawn it!—Fliegende Blaetter.

Flattering.

Mr. Elwell—Isn't it strange, but true, nevertheless, that the biggest fools always marry the prettiest girls?

Mrs. Elwell—Oh, now, go on, you flatterer.—London Judy.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on Albert C. Mason & Co., druggist, and get a trial bottle free. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

Coming and Going.

Mrs. Crimsonbeak—There's been a steady stream of men going into that saloon nearly all day long.

Mr. Crimsonbeak—I don't suppose it was a very steady string coming out.—Yonkers Statesman.

Freezing Weather in July

Would cause great discomfort and loss, but fortunately it is seldom known. A vast amount of misery is caused at this season, however, by impoverished blood, poor appetite and general debility. These conditions may be remedied by enriching the blood and toning the stomach with Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine seems to put new life into the whole physical system, simply because of its wonderful power to purify, enrich and vitalize the blood, create an appetite and invigorate the digestive functions. We advise you to get a bottle and try it if you are not feeling just right. It will do you more good than a six weeks vacation. It is the best medicine that money can buy.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell-O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

Try Allen's Foot-Ease,

A powder to be shaken into the shoes. Your feet feel swollen, nervous and hot, and get tired easily. If you have smarting feet or tight shoes, try Allen's Foot-Ease. It cools the feet and makes walking easy. Cures swollen, sweating feet, ingrowing nails; blisters and callous spots. Relieves corns and bunions of all pain and gives rest and comfort. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores at 25 cents. Trial packages free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy N. Y.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.
BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.
WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.
NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.
CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.
PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 39, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.
HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.
WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 29 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.
NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.
New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for
PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 00 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for
MILFORD—8 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.
ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Electric cars pass the hotel every 15 min., for Woonsocket, Milford, and the Attleboros. Electrics for Dedham and Boston every half hour.

GEO. L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given. § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days, Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL.
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

DON'T SWEAR. JUST SMILE.

At Your Toes,

that are giving you such excruciating pains from corns, for Schlotterbeck's Corn Cure will give you relief and permanent cure by using it according to directions given.

Schlotterbeck's IS THE BEST AND MOST EASILY APPLIED CORN CURE IN THE MARKET, and will cure bunions, corns and warts.

SOLD BY

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Mrs. Hughes and Miss Hughes, the former the wife of L. Hughes, the manager of the Atkins sugar plantation at Solidad, Cuba, are guests of C. E. Brown previous to their departure for England, where they formerly resided.——Mr. Hubbard of the Boston firm of Lawson & Hubbard was in town Tuesday as the guest of Daniel Brown. With them was Mr. Cabrer of Ponce, Puerto Rico, a manufacturer of hats in that island, who was accompanied by his interpreter. The former is making a tour of the country.——It is hoped that any of the Franklin cottagers who have amateur pictures of the lakes or views in the village will communicate with the Wrentham correspondent in regard to same.——D. D. G. M. S. W. Cook and suite of North Attleboro will pay an official visit to Wampum lodge next Tuesday night for the purpose of installing the officers of the lodge. D. D. G. M. E. J. Whitaker and suite performed a similar service at Walpole on Thursday.

Old Paths Are the Only Safe Ones.

The old paths only are safe. How shifting the so called new ways have been! One after another they have arisen and had their day and given place to new devices. Materialism, pantheism, deism, spiritualism, universalism and many other isms have had their day. One after another they have stood out on the camera of unbelief and then for the most part have gone out in the darkness of the light. The shifting of the positions of skepticism is like the shiftings of the sand shoals in the Missouri river when the currents are rapid and the tides impetuous. Meanwhile the word of the Lord has remained unmoved.—Rev. Dr. Stephen A. Northrop, Baptist, Kansas City.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

Church Services.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D. D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "The Blessing of Rest." Y. P. C. U. at 6.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4. Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 by W. W. Haslam; at 7.30 by Rev. Dr. Willard T. Perrin, presiding elder of Boston district. Sunday school at 12. Epworth league at 6.30.

Baptist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. F. B. Sleeper, pastor; subject, "Christ, the Faithful High Priest." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Preaching by the pastor at 7.30. Theme, "A Christless Bible." A short after service in the vestry.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. I. W. Sneath, Ph. D.; theme, "Our Ownership of Things." Sunday school at 12. Y.P.S.C.E. at 6.30, closing with a short address by the pastor. No evening service. All are invited to the meeting of the Y. P. S. C. E. The pastor will speak upon "How are Sinners Saved? Do you know?"

After Dinner

To assist digestion, relieve distress after eating or drinking too heartily, to prevent constipation, take

Hood's Pills

Sold everywhere. 25 cents.

THE ROSE = FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE = = FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." = FOR BARGAINS.

GO=CARTS, $8.00 == Nice.

Never heard a baby complain yet. Babies are all right in one of "Cook's Rolling Stock. Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly.

Everybody waits for their car in our store—so nice and cool. Try it.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

MEDFIELD AND WAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

Special and Important.

All our Trimmed Hats at half price. All our Straw Hats in fancy shapes, Flowers and Fancy Trimmings of all kinds marked to about half price. Children's 25c. Straw Hats 12½c.

Our Milliner will remain till the 21st inclusive. This will give all who wish late Millinery a chance to obtain a stylish hat very cheap.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

Explaining His Failure.

There is a man about Washington you see him at the capitol, at the hotels and at some of the clubs who used to be famous and influential, but is now without money or influence and lives on loans that from time to time he is able to secure from [illegible] friends. The other day he [illegible] a certain senator for $25, when the latter said:

"Tom, you have been borrowing money from me for 25 years, and you have never paid me back a cent. How long do you propose to keep it up?"

"Until you get me something to do," replied the borrower frankly.

"That is impossible," replied the senator. "You ought to understand that a man of your record cannot [illegible] office and should go to some place where people don't know you and seek employment."

"I don't understand it," replied the borrower bitterly. "Everybody seems to be down on me and to stand in my way. When I first knew you, senator, I was way up at the top of the heap, and you were a friendless and unknown man at the bottom. Now you are at the top, and I'm at the bottom, and I can't understand how it has happened. It certainly isn't my fault."

"No, Tom," said the senator kindly. "It isn't your fault; it's your misfortune. An inscrutable Providence gave you a mind which is unable to tell right from wrong, and you have been a blank poor guesser."—Chicago Record.

Sarcastic Cabby.

The London cabby is quick witted, glib tongued and clever at sarcasm, and when he begins to use bad language the very Landseer lions in Trafalgar square turn tail and quake. When a certain sort of man, the horsy rake who loves London and lights, "goes broke," he takes to cab driving as naturally as a duck to water, and the streets swarm with cabbies who have received university educations and have been in their day well to do and of good social positions.

The Londoner knows that he cannot score off cabby under any circumstances and so leaves him to fight his never ending battles with brother cabbies, bus drivers and policemen. One morning Mr. Bradley Martin was crossing Pall Mall near the Carlton club, and a cab coming down the street at a good pace came within an ace of spiking the wealthy American with one of its shafts. The cabby pulled up only in time to save the situation.

Mr. Bradley Martin leaped to the pavement and, turning in anger to the cabby, shouted angrily, "Who the deuce are you trying to run down?"

Cabby gazed in contempt and sorrow upon the flushed pedestrian and replied: "Blest if I know, gov'nor. You're a new species to me."—Saturday Evening Post.

Red Hot From the Gun

Was the gun that hit G. B. Steadman of Newark, Mich., in the Civil War. It caused horrible ulcers that no treatment helped for 20 years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. Cures cuts, bruises, burns, boils, felons, corns, skin eruptions. Best pile cure on earth. 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF JULY 9.

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.30.

Boom's Comedians

INCLUDING

Wiley and Hamilton
Frank Riley
The Blanchards
Lambshire

AND MANY OTHERS.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je30-tocl

WANTED.

Experienced Fur Felt Finishers,

about July 16th, on Ladies' Felt Hats.

Address HIRSH & PARK,
Medway, Mass.

jly3-1m

A Free Show.

Tommy—Goin' to the show ter-night, Johnny?

Johnny—Naw. We're goin' to have a free show at our house to-night. Pa's goin' to put down a carpet.—Harlem Life.

A Mean Thing.

"Do you call this angel-cake, Katharine?"

"Yes; isn't it good?"

"Of course, dear; but I didn't know there were any iron-jawed angels."—Detroit Free Press.

Might Have Been Worse.

Poor Nebuchadnezzar! He had to eat grass,
But his case might have been even sadder alas!
For if he hadn't eaten the grass, like as not They'd have made him push lawn mowers over the lot.
—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Nothing Wonderful.

Yeast—There's a lady pianist at the museum who plays with her toes.

Crimsonbeak—Umph! That's nothing; my baby does that!—Yonkers Statesman.

...OUR...

Effervescent Lithia Tablets

...CURE...

CHRONIC RHEUMATISM,
GOUTY CONDITION
AND
CHRONIC STOMACH DISORDERS.

25c. Bottle....

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

CHOICE LINE ..OF.. Linen Skirts,

50c, 75c., $1.00.

..NOW READY..

Butterick's Patterns and Delineators for August.

N. C. NYE,

FLETCHER BLOCK.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

CORNED BEEF and VEGETABLES

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Native Beets, bunch	6c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Cabbage, lb.	3c
Thick Flanks	6c	Spinach, peck	10c
Spring Broilers	28c	String Beans, qt	5c
Fresh Killed Fowls	18c	Lettuce, head	5c
Smoked Bacon, strip	10c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-tyS

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board.

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

JUST THE WEATHER TO ENJOY A

HAMMOCK.

We have them for 75c. to $4.25.

Oil Stoves, 1, 2 and 3 burners, 50c., 98c. and $1.48.

Screen Doors and Window Screens.

Refrigerator Pans, Watering Pots.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap27S

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,

Jewelers and Opticians

160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.

del-Fly

At WOODWARD'S every description of INSURANCE can be placed. This AGENCY officially represents the LEADING American and Foreign COMPANIES.

F. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.

my4-lyF

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW

Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 57. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, JULY 17, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Hoag Lake Park	4
Monthly Statement Benjamin Franklin Savings Bank	2
Lake Pearl	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	8.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Mrs. T. A. Clark is improving.

The condition of H. M. Bullock is considered very serious.

Wm. Williams of Providence spent Sunday in town with friends.

Rev. Wm. J. Reardon of Amesbury is the guest at St. Mary's rectory.

W. A. Young has charge of the refreshment booth at Hoag Lake park.

St. Mary's Alumni will meet in the new building tomorrow evening.

Division 8, A. O. H., will hold a special meeting on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cody and children have been visiting his father at Dedham.

Miss Ida Wood of Pawtucket was the guest of Miss Maud Stott over the Sabbath.

A great many people in the village took to the electrics last night to escape the heat.

Station Agent Judd and daughter have returned from their vacation in New York state.

There will be a small huckleberry crop attributed to a late frost and the prevailing drought.

Mrs. A. L. Pierce and two children of Wallingford, Conn., have been visiting at G. I. Peck's.

Mrs. Tracey is enjoying a vacation from "hello" duties and Mrs. J. E. Duprez is taking her place.

Miss Mary Sheehan of Washington street has fully recovered from her recent severe illness.

Mrs. John Murray and children returned yesterday from a visit with friends in Providence.

After next Sunday the Universalist church will be closed during the remainder of July and August.

Miss Sadie Reed of Valley Falls is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams of Fisher street.

Miss Elizabeth Maher returned to Providence Sunday after a week's visit with the Misses Callahan.

The Misses Mary and Norah Kelley of Union street left Saturday for a weeks' visit with relatives in Fitchburg.

The employees and friends of Mrs. Lena Holbrook have presented her with an elegant full length mirror, a birth day gift.

Mrs. M. A. Pond, and her daughter, Mrs. L. Barker, with her two children are here from Providence for the summer.

Mrs. F. H. Bartholomew and son Freddie are at Ocean Spray, Winthrop, for an outing, being joined by Mr. Bartholomew over the Sabbath.

At a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H., Friday evening two candidates were initiated and four applications for membership received.

Flowers for the Alden club baskets may be left this week with Mrs. LaVaucha Morse, Mrs. Carl B. Johnson or Mrs. Sneath on Wednesday evening.

Capt. J. B. Crocker left town for Philadelphia Thursday evening. He will sail in a few days from that city for Bangor, Me., with a cargo of coal.

Miss Annie Thompson of Woonsocket, who has been a guest of Mrs. Cornelius Curran of McCarthy street, for the last few weeks, returned home Saturday.

The Congregationalists will picnic at Lake Pearl tomorrow going down on the electrics. A fine programme of sports has been arranged.

Mrs Michael J Burke, who has been on a visit with her parents on Fisher street, returned to her home in Rockland last Friday. Her sister accompanied her.

A. L. Bacon has recovered from his recent indisposition due to poisoning from dogwood and is once more able to busy himself about his fertile truck farm.

A former resident of Franklin, who is sojourning in town, says he once had aspirations to play "Rip Van Winkle." He has not now. To quote him, "I am Van Winkle."

Golf still seems to create enthusiasm yet among Franklin players. Perhaps when the atmosphere gets a little more uncomfortable it may cause a drop in the golf temperature.

Our Boys and the North Bellingham ball team did not play Saturday owing to the indisposition of the N. B. twirler. Our Boys will play at Hopedale next Saturday afternoon.

The condition of George E. Emerson improves daily, though he is not as yet able to leave his bed, the severe blow he received upon the head somewhat interfering with restful nights also.

Saturday morning a break in the water pipe on Garfield street sent a flood of water across the street and down the line until the gate was closed. Workmen were engaged all day repairing damage.

An improvement is contemplated on the Medway line, that of having the cars connect directly with the Milford, Holliston line instead of making passengers walk about three hundred feet in Medway.

The fine large trees and the stone curbing at James F. Ray's is proving a godsend for those who have to wait for the Medway cars, the cooling shade and place to sit down being thoroughly appreciated.

The prospects are that an unusually large number will attend the picnic of the Farmers' club and Grange at Lake Pearl next week Wednesday, the trolley affording such ready access to the delightful place.

R. C. Crafts was stricken with diphtheria at his rooms in Fletcher block on Saturday, and on Sunday Dr. Martin removed the patient to his brother's house, fumigating the rooms, and quarantining the Crafts' house.

The business prospects of Franklin are better than they have been for some time, now that the several electric railways under way and projected are in operation, and it gives the town a greatly increased business look.

When your grocer charges you more for your sugar, just remember that he is not to blame, but the sugar trust having lost about $3,000,000 by fire recently have got to get it out of some one, and you are one to pay your share. Nice, isn't it?

Drs. Martin, Hussey, Abbott and Crowley performed an operation for appendicitis on Albert Mann of City Mills on Monday morning; the patient is doing as well as could be expected, as he was found to be in quite a serious condition.

Saturday noon a big tree near the residence formerly occupied by L. F. Metcalf on Eagle hill, toppled over and carried down two wires, the trolley and feed wires of the company and for three hours the passengers had to change cars at that point.

Fred. P. Chapman, chairman of the Republican town committee, attended the meeting held in Boston last week in the interests of Samuel L. Powers of Newton, as candidate to succeed Congressman Sprague at Washington. Mr. Powers will probably go.

There was a large crowd at Lake Pearl on Sunday to enjoy the cooling breeze and listen to the Norwood band. This gave such excellent satisfaction that Mr. Enegren has secured the band for next Sunday afternoon, also giving a concert from 2 o'clock till 6.

A number from here are planning to attend the 21st annual session of the New England Chautauqua at Montwait, South Framingham, July 15, and continue until the 28th inclusive. The prospectus sent out shows the advantages of a day or week at the assembly.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sherman entertained about thirty-five of their friends at the Chilson farm near Hoag Lake on Friday evening, and what with the clam chowder, and other refreshments, games, social chat and hilarity, it seems impossible to improve upon the general good time.

A carryall containing William White and family and Mrs. Edward Burke of Peck street was upset at the corner of Cottage street and Central square Sunday morning and the occupants thrown out, but all fortunately escaped unhurt. The accident was due to the breaking of a rear wheel.

Passengers going to New York will be interested to know that the New Haven road has put on a "dollar line" boat to New York, to meet the rate made by the Joy steamship company, sailing Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays from Lonsdale wharf, Providence. The New York boats, with the $3 rate are still running as usual.

Just get aboard the electrics for a bit of fresh air and a breeze and note if you ever saw the country at this season of the year look finer than at the present time. The frequent rains have kept the foliage and the grass in an unusally luxurant condition, the frequent washings of the face of nature giving it a continuous spring like appearance.

A golf contest was held on the Franklin club links on Saturday, eleven contestants appearing. The first prize was carried off by Charles A. R. Ray, the second by L. W. Arnold, and Joseph P. Bassett and A. D. Thayer were tied for the third place. A qualifying contest will be held shortly for entrance into the coming contest at North Attleboro.

Sunday was a big day at Hoag Lake. From the middle of the day until late at night thousands were carried to and fro. The Cornet band concerts at intervals during the day were delightful, and the selections were remarkably good. The concerts are as much of an attraction to the park as any one thing and no doubt will continue to please during the summer.

The petition before the Bellingham board of selectmen from the citizens in the vicinity of Crooks' corner asking that the council require the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket street railway to grant five cent fares from Crooks' corner to the center of Woonsocket has not yet been acted upon. The selectmen, however, expect to take some action in the matter before long.

The trustees and interested friends of Dean academy held a business meeting at 50 Bromfield street, Boston, last Thursday to select four new trustees. Two gentlemen were selected from Franklin, Edward H. Rathbun, and Adelbert D. Thayer. Bernard F. Merriam of South Framingham was also elected trustee and treasurer; one vacancy still remaining to be filled later.

The Universalist Sunday school will go to Lake Pearl Friday morning for its annual picnic. A special car will leave at 8.45. All members of the school wishing free transportation and admission to the grounds must take this car. Friends of the school can take this car by paying regular fare. At 2 p. m. there will be a free excursion, to all taking the special car in the morning, to Hoag Lake. This is to be a basket picnic.

The New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad company is unwilling to establish gates and maintain a flagman at the Franklin street crossing in West Medway, as petitioned for since the fatal St. George accident two months ago. The company, however, has arranged with property owners, and will replace the high wall, which prevents a view of an approaching train, with a wire fence.

Wallace R. Richardson is at work upon a memorial of "The Franklin Dead." Mr. Richardson, from his extensive acquaintance and contact with the people of the town in former years and his well-known literary ability, is better qualified for a work of this character than any one who could be chosen. The memorial will be issued at the SENTINEL office and will be canvassed by the author. Copies can also be obtained at the SENTINEL office the issue of which will be duly announced in the SENTINEL.

The district court expected to have seven alleged poker players upon whom to pass judgment this morning, but the victims failed to appear, by advice of counsel. They were caught redhanded on Sunday morning about 2 o'clock in a room in a building in the rear of Dana's block, officers Fitzpatrick, Connors, Jewett and Davis making the raid. It is understood that warrants have already been issued for their arrest, though on Sunday morning they were allowed to go on their own recognizance, with the understanding that they would appear this morning. Judge Doe was on the bench.

Thieves entered the grocery store of McCabe & Cody, on Union street, some time last night, and made off with $10 worth of cigars, 15 pounds of tobacco and about $4 in change which was in one of the tills. An entrance was effected through a rear window. The safe was forced open in a bungling manner and consideraly damaged, but there was no money in it. A box containing about $10 which was near the candy counter was overlooked. The theft was discovered when Mr. Cody opened the store this morning and Deputy Sheriff Fitzpatrick was called in and is now endeavoring to locate the thieves.

The local lodge of Red Men will be interested to know that on Wednesday afternoon last the great chiefs of the great council of Massachusetts, Improved Order of Red Men met and declared the following officers elected: Great prophet, William A. Jordan of Wollaston; great sachem, Frank M, Collester of Winchendon, great senior sagamore, Preston Friend of Gloucester; great junior sagamore, Charles E Bigelow of Leominster; great chief of records, Alexander Gilmore of Swampscott; great keeper of wampum, Charles G Warren of Malden; great representatives, William A. Jordan of Wollaston, Nelson Sherburne of Springfield, Herbert M Hatfield of Lynn and Alvin G. Weeks of Fall River.

The census of the town has been completed, but nothing is yet definitely known as to the number of population. The enumerators are not allowed to impart information, if they have any, and all that is surmised may be right or may be wrong. Some people look for a substantial increase over the number in 1895, but when it is remembered that since that time the town undoubtedly decreased several hundred during the two or three years when all business here was dull, such a result can hardly be expected.

Mrs. Almira Sargent Hubbard, widow of the late Sabin Hubbard, died at the residence of her son, Adin S. Hubbard, in Providence, on Friday last, aged 74 years. She was a native of Franklin and was married to Mr. Hubbard March 24, 1847. She leaves two sons, Ernest E. of Boston and Adin S. of Providence. She was a sister of H. S. Sargent, a former well-known resident of South Franklin. Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard resided here until Mr. Hubbard's death. The funeral was held in Providence Monday morning, Rev. Dr. Sneath officiating, and the body was brought here for interment, brief services being held at the grave. The bearers were William Austin of Brockton, Edwin Sargent of Foxboro, Stephen Sargent of Worcester and Lavader Sarfient of Brookfield, being four nephews of the deceased.

The New Plan.

It is now probable that the Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket railway company will not build the road from Milford through Hopkinton to Westboro. The plan is to have the Milford, Holliston & Framingham road construct and operate a single trolley line from Milford to Hopkinton at the corner of Main and Cedar streets in that town. There the Milford line will connect directly with the Westboro and Marlboro line, whose officials have agreed to extend their line from Westboro to Hopkinton through Woodville, thus getting the continuous line between Franklin and Westboro.

Owing to few grade crossings, it is estimated that thus the M., H. & F., road can build the Hopkinton road at least $10,000 in cash cheaper than the Attleboro company. This route when completed will make an almost continuous route from Fitchburg to Providence by way of Clinton, Berlin, Westboro, Hopkinton, Milford, Franklin and Attleboro—the only link to be built being 3 1-2 miles from Berlin to Northboro, and it is expected that this will be built.

To furnish the adequate power for the Hopkinton line and also its Uxbridge line, the M., H. & F. directors will add a new 600 or 700 horse power engine with adequate dynamo, etc., to its Milford power house which will practically double the power of the local station. It is expected that work in Milford will be commenced as soon as possible on or after Aug. 1st, and be pushed to completion rapidly, so that the road can be in operation before December.

There are a variety of rumors afloat as to the continuance of the Ray interest in the new road, the death of one of them recently, and the ill health of another being given as causes for their withdrawal from further undertakings. Those who are authority for the above report aver that the line will still go through, the Ray interests being taken either by parties representing the Ferguson syndicate, operating the South Middlesex road from Hopkinton to Natick, or the Kelsey interests, now operating the Milford, Holliston & Framingham road.

In Milford it is considered probable that Frank Mars, a former superintendent of the Milford, Holliston & Framingham company, will be the superintendent of the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket company when it commences operations between Franklin and Milford, now expected to be not later than Aug. 1st. Mr. Mars has been one of the men in charge of construction, and has shown himself thoroughly competent.

Mr. Young, who in any event is expected to remain as superintendent of the Woonsocket street railway, will probably, however, be superintendent as long as E. K. Ray performs the general manager's duties.

After a conference lasting three hours between C. W. Shippee of Milford, representing the Milford, Attleboro and Woonsocket Street Railway company, and the Hopkinton selectmen Saturday night the latter refused to make any further concessions to the company. The franchise expired at midnight, and no company now has any right of way over the proposed route from Milford to Westboro in Hopkinton. How this will affect the other companies to the recent deal is not stated.

ADVERTISING.

[Contributed.]

Two brothers started out in life;
Each had a store, each had a wife.
John says: "Every man shall know
The kind of goods I have to show.
If bargains, I shall deem it wise
In every case to adv[illegible]ise."
He advert[illegible]
In most [illegible]
He owes h[illegible]
To a timely use of p[illegible]

The other brother, James [illegible] say:
"Advertising does not [illegible]
The editor must have his bread,
But from my store he shan't be fed."
Day after day, year after year,
What trade he had did disappear,
Until, appalling to relate,
His waning stock, both small and great,
Did have to go to satisfy
His creditors, forever nigh.

And John, who did a fortune carve,
Sees that his brother does not starve.

Faces the Future.

William Harrison, aged about 55, who had been at one time employed in the finishing department at the Singleton mill, committed suicide in his room at the Franklin House shortly after 9 o'clock Friday night by shooting himself through the forehead. A 38 calibre revolver was used and death was instantaneous.

At the time mentioned Proprietor Alfred Briggs and a number of the male guests of the house were seated in the office, which is directly beneath the room that had been occupied by Harrison, when the report of a revolver was heard, followed by a noise indicating the fall of a body in the room above. Mr. Briggs and the guests at once hastened to Harrison's room and there found him lying on the floor, face downward, with a revolver beside him. Medical Examiner J. C. Gallison was immediately summoned and after viewing the body gave a permit for burial. Special Officer Cody was at the hotel soon after the occurrence and remained all night.

The suicide was deliberate, as Harrison left a letter addressed to John Lawson, a friend, in which he requested that his body have decent burial, and telling Lawson that he would find $30 in his trunk to defray a part of this expense and that the remainder could be obtained by communicating with his relatives in England. In a portion of the letter Harrison referred to being in ill health, and wrote that as he knew there was no hope for recovery the end might better come now.

Harrison was a native of England and unmarried. On July 9 he returned from a trip to his former home and had been in ill health for some time past. The funeral was held at 4 p. m. on Saturday, W. W. Haslam reading the Methodist commital service at the grave.

Killed by a Pair of Scissors.

Percy C. Redpath, aged 14 years, a son of Andrew Redpath, a former resident here, died at Olneyville on Friday from a wound inflicted with a pair of scissors by a shopmate named Michael Drungoole the day previous while both were at work in the Bannigan rubber works at Olneyville. The medical examiner found that death was due to a puncture of the intestines. Drungoole, who is 18 years old, was arrested and locked up. The remains were brought here yesterday afternoon and interred in the Union street cemetery. The boy was a nephew of Night Officer William Redpath and his father had been employed in the Hood rubber works when located here.

One story of the occurrence is that while young Redpath was sprinkling the floor, using a wet sponge, some of the water was accidently thrown upon Drungoole, who in a fit of anger picked up a pair of scissors near at hand and threw them at the boy, one of the points penetrating his side. Drungoole, however, says that both were "fooling" at the time, that the scissors slipped from hand and that he had no intention of throwing them.

The vacation season is now at hand, and strangers come to town for a season, and our people go away for a season of rest, if they are fortunate enough to have opportunity to do so. The SENTINEL columns are always open for the announcements of new arrivals as well as departures. We should be glad to have a column of personals every week. Some people are modest about making such announcements, but it is perfectly proper and in many cases desirable, for some one may come to town whom some old acquaintance here may desire to meet, and of whose presence they would have no knowledge but for the annoucement in the local paper. Friends may desire to call on some resident in town who may be away for a season, and they are saved time and trouble if it is announced that they are away. So bring in the announcements and throw away false modesty.

If you want the best milk in this town, put up in glass jars at the farm, and delivered by 5 o'clock in the morning address J. C. McInnis. He also has all kinds of fruit in the season.

Do You Want to Go to West Point?

The Secretary of the Massachusetts State Board of education has been requested by Hon. George F. Hoar and Hon. Henry Cabot Lodge to arrange for a competitive examination of young men desiring to be nominated as candidates for cadetships at large from Massachusetts in the U. S. Military Academy at West Point.

[illegible] ator is entitled under a recent [illegible] to recom- [illegible] the Secre[illegible] With the approval of Sena[illegible] Hoar and Lodge the following gentlemen have been appointed to conduct the examination, and they have consented to serve: William C. Bates, superintendent of schools, Fall River; Col. Charles K. Darling, U. S. Marshal for the district of Massachusetts, Fitchburg; Rev. Dr. Rush R. Shippen, Brockton; Dr. Julian A. Mead, of the state board of health and Surgeon at the Watertown Arsenal, will serve as medical examiner. The examination will be held at the state house, in Boston, on Thursday, July 19, at 9 a. m., in the examination room of the Civil Service Commission, No. 15.

Candidates are requested to furnish statements or references, or both, as to their educational record and their character.

Circulars of information, giving the character of the examinations in detail, with specimens of questions, may be obtained upon application to the Superintendent of the Academy at West Point.

The young men selected for nomination at this examination must pass an examination by the authorities at West Point on Wednesday, July 25, 1900, before their final appointment as cadets.

The following qualifications are demanded: "No candidate will be admitted who is under 17 or over 22 years of age, or who is deformed or afflicted with any disease or infirmity which would render him unfit for the military service, or who has, at the time of presenting himself, any disorder of an infectious or immoral character. Accepted candidates, if between 17 and 18 years of age, should not fall below 5 feet 3 inches in height and 100 pounds in weight; if between 18 and 19 years, 5 feet 3 1-2 inches in height and 105 pounds in weight; if over 19, 5 feet 4 inches in height and 110 pounds in weight. Candidates must be unmarried and well versed in reading, in writing, including orthography, and in arithmetic, and must have a knowledge of the elements of English grammar, of descriptive geography (particularly of our own country) and of the history of the United States

A certain family for good and sufficient reasons had changed from the Methodist to the Congregationalist denomination. The youngest member of the family had made the change with the others without understanding the hidden reasons. It so chanced that at the table one day he made an unkind remark about a playmate. His father asked, "Is that showing a Christian spirit?" "Why, we are not Christians now, answered the small boy, "we are Congregationalists!"—Exchange.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Lost.—A cane with curved handle, between here and Caryville. Address C. W. Stewart. 17

For Sale—An open buggy and two second hand harnesses all in good condition. T. B. Allen.

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18-tf

Wanted.—A horse, weight 1100, must be a good worker and driver, safe and kind. Call at 61 Central street. 17*

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

To Let—A tenement of five rooms on Alpine street. Inquire on the premises or at Mrs. Burnham's, cor. Peck and North Park streets. 17 tf

Hay, at Maple Farm, all good; 95 cts. to $1.10 per hundred delivered to any part of town. Orders at Chilson's market. O. S. Stetson. 15-tf

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Rose's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKINNON, Agent.

Clears His Name.

A watch having disappeared from my house a few weeks ago at the same time a boarder, Jacob Schaefer, left, suspicion fell upon him. Later the watch was found, and I take this method to clear Mr. Schaefer of all knowledge of its disappearance and leave his good name untarnished. T. A. GRANGE.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Our mattings are made of finest stuff;
This is straight goods and no bluff.
Sanford Bros., Medway.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year In Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 [illegible]	[illegible]
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 [illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
3 in..	2 50	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
4 in..	3 25	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
5 in..	4 00	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col.	7 00	[illegible]	[illegible]	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word; no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

TUESDAY, JULY 17, 1900

An interesting side light is thrown on the question of providing arms and armor plate for national defenses by an article recently published in the Frankfurter Zeitung, which contains a statement made by a competitor of Krupp with reference to the profits made by the latter in his contracts with the German government. He says that some time ago Krupp furnished field guns at $1,145 each. Competitors afterward received an order for the same kind for $464.30 each. Thereupon Krupp reduced his price from $1,145 to $452.38. For shrapnels Krupp received $2.03. His competitors furnished them at $1.19. It is an error to say that Krupp alone can furnish nickel plates for the navy. The process of manufacture is no secret, but is known by every intelligent manufacturer. If there were competition, the nickel plates could be obtained at half the price paid to Krupp. The German navy department, however, prescribes conditions which make competition impossible. Testing grounds are required of the same dimensions as those of Krupp, which belong to the government and have been rented to him. The necessary provisions for testing 24 centimeter guns would cost between $500,000 and $750,000; for 15 centimeter guns, $75,000. Without previous assurances on the part of the government nobody would risk such an investment.

Ten or 12 years ago Wayne county, N. Y., supplied the mint market of the world, doing an extensive business in the peppermint oil industry. The production of this oil is said to have added more to the wealth of the county than did even the apple crop, for which that section is famed. The Rochester Chronicle reports that very little mint is now being raised there and that the mint stills are rapidly becoming extinct. The business has moved westward. The reason for the decay of this once flourishing industry is attributed to the sugar beet. Farmers are finding it more profitable to raise beets and are converting their acres to their cultivation. If the Wayne county farmers were able to make money producing mint and are now able to make still more in raising sugar beets, they certainly have no cause for complaint, though, upon the theory of the wisdom of diversifying crops, it would be well for them to keep up their mint beds and stills, while devoting the larger acreage to the sugar beets.

The movement in behalf of free lectures in the public schools in various sections of the country should be encouraged by what has already accomplished in this line. The New York city board of education began a course of free lectures a few years ago, and during the first season 186 lectures were given, which were attended by 22,149 people. So rapidly has the movement grown that the board has now 500 lecturers on its list, and nearly 500,000 persons attend the lectures every season. The number of lectures has increased to 1,066 in a season. Thousands of young people are compelled to leave school before they have graduated. The free lectures are an inestimable boon to them. It is found that the great working classes almost exclusively make up the audiences at the free lectures.

Lord Roberts is proceeding toward Pretoria in an ice wagon, which he calls a cable cart—not an imposing chariot of war, surely, though it doubtless answers the purposes. Modern warfare seems to be losing much of the glamour and picturesqueness which characterized the battles of the earlier stages of the world's history.

President Hadley's idea of socially ostracizing the trust magnates appears not to have led any of the summer resort hotels to bar them from eligibility as guests.

PUT TO THE TEST.

Public Endorsement is what Counts.

Everybody has their hour of trouble,
But people having any itchiness of the skin
Have many hours of trouble.
Nothing so annoying. Nothing so irritating.
Scratch it, it becomes worse.
Leave it alone and you can hardly stand the misery.
Itchiness comes in many forms.
Eczema and horrid itching piles.
Relief and cure are here at last.
Thousands have put it to the test
Doan's Ointment cures every form of itchiness of the skin.

Read the f[illegible] M[illegible] gham [illegible] says: "Two very [illegible] remedies are Doan's Kidney Pills and Doan's Ointment. Anyone troubled with any of the ailments for which Doan's Ointment is indicated are unwise if they fail to give it a trial. It performs wonders in allaying and curing itchiness of the skin, from whatever cause. Doan's Kidney Pills also proved to be all that is claimed for them. Both preparations are so valuable that we would not be without them in the house, to have in case of need."

Doan's Ointment and Doan's Kidney Pills are sold by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N.Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Its Drawback.

Thrice lucky he, on Christmas gay,
Whose bank account's extensive
We'd be less pensive were the day
Itself not so expensive.
—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Carefully Considered.

"What," inquired the psychological student, "do you regard as the chief end of man?"

"Well," answered Mr. Blykins, "it depends on what you want the man for. If you want him to do brain work it's his head, and if you want him to run errands it's his feet."—Washington Star.

Premonitory Symptoms.

Gertie—Papa, will our new mamma go mad after awhile?

Father—What a question! Why do you think such a thing?

Gertie—Well, I heard her tell the cook yesterday that she got badly bitten when she married you!—Tit-Bits.

Far Worse.

Sniggleton—I'm in trouble. My landlady told me I'd have to settle up or leave.

Giggleton—Why, you're in luck, old fellow. I'm in a worse fix than that. My landlady told me I'd have to settle up before I could leave.—Harlem Life.

Lesser Evil.

Billy—I understand you've bought a dog to keep burglars away.

Freddy—Yes.

Billy—You are not troubled any more at night then, I suppose?

Freddy—Only by the dog—Boston Traveler.

Surely.

Johnnie—Pa, where does a man get a theory?

Pa—In his head, my son.

Johnnie—Well, doesn't it hurt his head when a theory is exploded?—N. Y. World.

Help for the Unemployed.

Miss Million—I have thought of a lovely way to help the poor striking tailors.

Mrs. Billion—What is it, dear?

Miss Million—I am going to make all my own gowns.—Town Topics.

A Model Lover.

Ethel—Are you sure that all his thoughts are of you?

Edith—Oh, yes! Why, he has just lost his position on account of inattention to business!—Puck.

Feminine Irony.

Gerald—What would you say if I were to kiss you?

Geraldine—I don't know; but I can prepare a speech if you think it worth while to wait.—Town Topics.

Their Identity.

Jack—I saw a couple very close together last night and kissed them both Tom—What! Did you know them?

Jack—Well—er—yes, slightly. They were Molly's lips.—N. Y. World.

Among Old Chums.

Mrs. Newed—Was I nervous, dear, during the ceremony?

Her Friend—Well, a trifle at first, darling, but not after William had said "yes."—Tit-Bits.

Eating and Sleeping.

Food supplies the substance for repairing the wastes of the body, and gives strength. Sleep affords the opportunity for these repairs to be made. Both are necessary to health. If you can't eat or sleep, take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It creates a good appetite and tones the digestive organs, and gives it the sweet restful sleep of childhood. Be sure to get Hood's.

Biliousness is cured by Hood's Pills. 25 cents.

Itchiness of the skin, horrible plague. Most everybody afflicted in one way or another. Only one safe, never failing cure. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store, 50 cents.

One of nature's remedies; cannot harm the weakest constitution; never fails to cure summer complaints of young or old. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

GRANDMOTHER'S ROMANCE.

We all came to the old chateau for grandmother's funeral—children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She was buried in the corner of the cemetery which she had chosen long ago, and after the sad ceremony we returned to the old house. Here were memories for all of us. For three generations she had held children in her arms, soothed their sorrows, listened to their joys, and now they were all met to mourn her absence from the old place so dear from its associations with her.

I mounted the great staircase and entered the room from which they had just taken her. Here were my earliest recollections of her. I recalled how, as a little girl, I would come in in the morning as soon as I was dressed saying "Good morning, grandmother." I always found her dressed, for she was an early riser. She would leave her chair by the window and go to the big, old fashioned wardrobe, which looked so immense to me, and take from it the expected dainty.

With what awe and respect had this wardrobe filled my childish heart! It seemed to me a perfect treasure house for all that a child holds dear. On my birthdays my presents came from this storehouse, and I imagined it always full of delightful things and regarded grandmother as almost a fairy.

With these remembrances in my mind I opened it now. It was full of fragrant linen scented with lavender, except for a little shelf at one side, where lay several papers. I picked up a roll of yellow writing paper tied with a pink ribbon and carried it to the light. Had I any right to read the pages? They were discolored by age, but I knew the writing. Could grandmother have any secrets which she would wish to keep after death? Even as I debated I had untied the ribbon and discovered that I held a diary in my hands, and the first words in it were of love, sweet, pure and tender; the first love of a young girl. I could not resist, and I read the pages as I stood there in the fading light, which laid before me the romance of my grandmother.

It was in the month of June, 1812, on a beautiful evening, when even the flowers exhale more strongly their subtle perfumes and the human heart has a desire to open. Here in the twilight of the old garden grandmother heard the first words of love.

Beneath the deeper shadow of the trees, wrapped in the sweet odor of the flowers, two figures, a young girl and a young man, walked side by side with slow steps.

"Yes, Clarisse, I am going," said the young man. "And what difference does it make? Suppose I never return from the war? Who would care? I am alone in the world."

"You have friends, Horace."

"None."

"And I?" said she very low.

"You!" cried he. "You would care least of any."

There was a long silence. The gravel sounded beneath their slow tread. The night fell little by little. Horace heard a stifled sound and turned.

"You are crying, Clarisse?"

"You hurt me so!"

"Do you love me?"

She faltered, and his arms caught her and held her against his beating heart. Unresisting, she raised her face to his, and their lips met in a long kiss—the first.

Horace left the next morning.

She waited long for him. The remains of the grand army returned without him. Still she hoped on. Years passed, and the war ended. Many who had been imprisoned returned, but still he delayed. She pictured him buried beneath the snow with numberless others who had dropped exhausted along the line of the terrible march.

Her parents urged upon her the duty of selecting a husband from the suitors who surrounded her. She resisted as long as possible, then yielded, vanquished by their insistance and by the certainty of his death. She gave her hand to Count d'Estrarville.

It was ten years since the kiss given beneath the trees. She was sitting on a bench in the garden when a stranger approached her along the path. As he neared her she recognized him. It was Horace.

He came toward her with outstretched arms, then stopped, as though surprised at the coldness of her greeting.

"It is too late," she said; "I am already married.

He explained the reason of his long absence. Captivity, Siberia, the mines, all the frightful sufferings he had gone through, sustained always by a belief in her love and her loyalty to the unspoken vow made in the twilight of the garden. Never had he lost the hope that he would some day return to find her waiting for him—that their lives, so long divided, would be at last united forever.

"You lied to me that night when you said you loved me!" he cried, the bitterness of his disappointment making him cruel.

"No," she said. "I loved you, and I shall always love you. It is just for that reason that you must continue dead to me. I cannot trust myself with you."

And he left her.

This was the story of grandmother's life as I read it from the old diary. I remembered an old man who lived in the neighborhood and whom we children called "The Chevalier." I identified him with Horace. When grandmother became a widow and when she was an old lady to us, he came to live near her, and they spent many long hours together in the sweetest and purest companionship. I understood that the two old friends were dear to one another because their affection had been founded upon something more than friendship. They were too old to have aught to fear from gossiping tongues, and they had so much time to make up that they could not deny themselves the saddened pleasure of daily intercourse.

I put the little diary safely back in the old wardrobe and left the dear old room. —From the French—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Looked Up the Case.

"I see," said the chief of detectives, "that a watch has been stolen over in North Denver. I want you to look up the case."

A day or two afterward the detective sent out returned.

"How about that watch?" asked the chief.

"Here it is," said the sleuth as he handed it over.

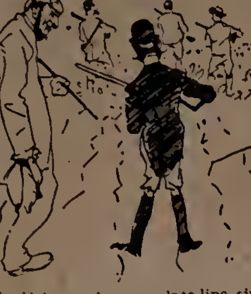
"But the works are gone."

"Yes. I let the pawnbroker keep them. You said you wanted me to look up the case."—Denver Republican.

Unfathomable Mystery.

"Nothing so hard, but search will find it out,"
The poet writes—untrue, beyond a doubt;
When she the truth would hide, no bard nor sage
Can learn the figures of a woman's age.
—Chicago Record.

AMONG THE PARTRIDGES.



"You'd better 'urry up into line, sir, or you'll bag some big game."—St. Paul's.

A Frequent Epitaph.

No more he'll ever greet us,
He now is with the blest;
He got appendicitis,
And the doctors did the rest.
—Judge.

Pointing Out His Fiancee.

Askem—Where's the rich heiress you're engaged to?

Tellum—You see that lovely girl in pink at the other side of the room?

Askem—Yes; I say, old man, what a superb—

Tellum—Well, it isn't she. It's that grand old ruin in yellow sitting next her.—Tit-Bits.

Implacable.

Attorney—You can sue him for breach of promise, madam, but it seems to me preposterous to claim $250,000 damages.

Fair Client—I want to get so heavy a judgment against him that he'll just have to marry me—the scoundrel!—Chicago Tribune.

Lucky She Mentioned It.

Lady (engaging cook)—And I suppose you will want me to find you in drink?

Irish Applicant (misunderstanding) —Faith, I hope you won't, mum; I usually goes straight to bed and sleeps it off when I've taken a drop too much.—Ally Sloper.

He Kept His Job.

Boss—See here, William, this is the twentieth time you've been late, and unless you've got a good excuse you're going to be fired.

William (the porter)—I stopped into church on my way downtown and prayed for the improvement of your business.—N. Y. World.

Indicating Calmness.

Wife—Look here, Emil, if your colleague's wife gets a new hat I must have one too.

Husband—Keep calm about it. We have come to an agreement that neither of you is to have one.—Fliegende Blaetter.

There Are Many Others.

"I saw an item in a paper, the other day, to the effect that Mark Twain frequently goes without eating for a whole day."

"Well, what of it? That's a common habit with people who produce literature for a living."—Cleveland Leader.

Didn't Want Him to Begin.

Brown—Don't be afraid of him! That dog never bit anybody in his life.

Jones—That's good; but I'd hate to see him get into bad habits just now. —Puck.

Very Low Indeed.

"Is the new rector high church?"

"Hardly. I saw him the other day wearing tan shoes with a silk hat."—Town Topics.

Never Comes to Some.

Friend—What is Inspiration?

Author—A sudden desire to work hard.—N. Y. Journal.

Foiled.

Restaurant Guest—Everything you have brought me is stone cold.

Polite Waiter—Here is the mustard and pepper, sir.—Illustrated America.

The Effects of War.

Johnny (underneath)—I've got enuff! Let me up, will yer?

Eddie (on top)—If yer'll gimme yer jackknife an' ten marbles fer an indemnity, I'll declare peace.—Puck.

Recriminations.

Mrs. Weddcash—You know I made you what you are.

Weddcash — That's right, woman; gloat over your work!—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Getting Even.

Doctor—You're a long time paying my account, sir.

Hardup—Well, you were a long time curing me.—Tit-Bits.

Looking Backward.

"What are the most striking things you saw while you were in Europe?"

"The people who were always striking me for tips."—Chicago Daily News.

Is Baby Thin this summer? Then add a little SCOTT'S EMULSION to his milk three times a day. It is astonishing how fast he will improve. If he nurses, let the mother take the Emulsion. 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever? CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

1817 1900

CARPETS.

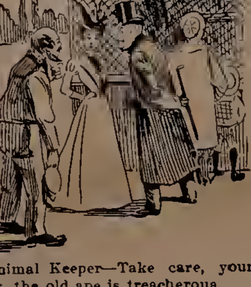
Every purchaser of Carpets—whether for the smallest room or the biggest hotel—wants his mind satisfied on three points, namely:

PRICE—QUALITY—STYLE.

It is because we convince our customers as to every one of these requirements that we confidently expect YOUR patronage.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.,
658 Washington Street . . . BOSTON.
Opp. Boylston Street.

EXCUSABLE ANGER.



Animal Keeper—Take care, young lady, the old ape is treacherous.

Elderly Gentleman—Your insolence shall be reported. How dare you insult me?—Meggendorfer's Blaetter.

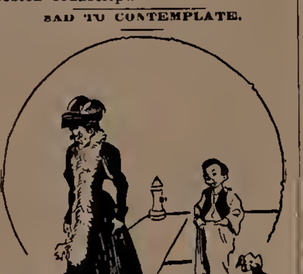
Evidence of the Truth.

Hicks—Bowers has been telling me some of his war experiences.

Wicks—And I suppose you believe all his yarns.

Hicks—Oh, yes; they were so uninteresting I'm sure they must be true.— Boston Transcript.

SAD TO CONTEMPLATE.



The Boy—Ter tink o' her havin' er cold million an' me too young ter marry!—N. Y. Truth.

Cure for Cholera Infantum—Never Known to Fail.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

And Then He Blushed.

Merritt—What makes you think I believe that first impressions are lasting?

Cora—Because you have kissed me only once this evening.—Town Topics.

Cuts and bruises are healed by Chamberlain's Pain Balm in about one third the time any other treatment would require because of its antiseptic qualities which cause the parts to heal without maturation. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN
SAVINGS BANK,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN,
LESTER L. BURRINGTON,
WALTER M. FISHER,
DR. GEORGE KING, Vice Presidents.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin.

STATEMENT JUNE 30, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$564,357 27
Guarantee Fund		27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account		6,268 89
Interest Account		13,108 32
Real Estate Income Account		10 29
		$611,497 56

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		31,350 00
" " Mortgages		159,968 00
" " Personal Securities		164,745 86
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Bank Books		1,500 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Tax account		874 09
Expense Account		1,178 27
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$14,733 01
Nat. Bank of Redemption	2,954 46
Mercantile Trust Co	64 79
		17,752 26
Cash on hand		2,652 29
		$611,497 56

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

E. P. CHAPMAN,
E. H. SHERMAN,
Committee of Examination.

June 2, 1900.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE.. ..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices:

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 60
Single Gallon.............................. 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

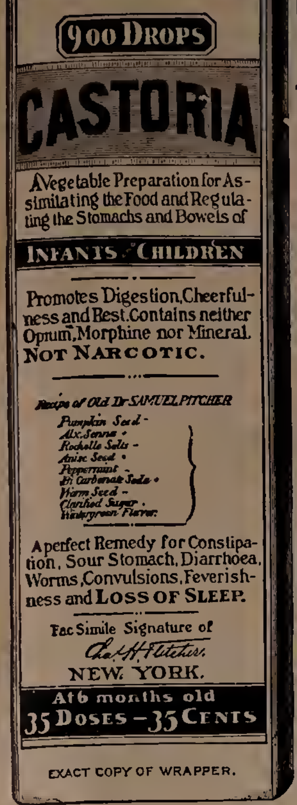
HUBERT H. GATES, P. O. Box 481.

17-tfT

THE
NEW YORK WORLD
THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.
18 Pages a Week...
...156 Papers a Year
FOR ONE DOLLAR.
Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.



900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna -
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed -
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda -
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar -
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES — 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

GEMS IN VERSE.

Why Cats Wash After Eating.

You may have noticed, little friends,
That cats don't wash their faces
Before they eat, as children do
In all good Christian places.

Well, years ago a famous cat,
The pangs of hunger feeling,
Had chanced to catch a fine young mouse,
Who said, as he ceased squealing:

"All genteel folks their faces wash
Before they think of eating!"
And, wishing to be thought well bred,
Puss heeded his entreating.

But when she raised her paw to wash,
Chance for escape affording,
The sly young mouse said his goodby
Without respect to wording.

A feline council met that day
And passed in solemn meeting
A law forbidding any cat
To wash till after eating. —Outlook.

Tommy Atkins and Pieter.

Tom—
"Our queen wears a glorious crown and gorgeous robes of state."

Piet—
"Oom Paul wears a shocking bad hat and garments of ancient date."

Tom—
"Our queen has a golden scepter. On her empire the sun never sets."

Piet—
"Oom Paul has a pipe for a symbol. He rules whatever be gets."

Tom—
"Our queen has hosts of foot and horses in khaki and red and blue."

Piet—
"Oom Paul has an army of farming men in miscellaneous hue."

When Tom sticks Piet with his bay'net or Piet plugs Tom with a ball,
Tommy hurrahs for his queen, and Pieter cheers loud for Oom Paul.
Piet helps Tom when he's wounded, prays o'er his grave when he's dead.
When Piet is down, Tom lends a hand and joins when his service is read.
No rage or hate 'twixt Piet and Tom the moment the battle is done,
But sorrowing kin on either side mourn father and brother and son.
Fighting for empire or fatherland, neither guilty of wrong,
Poor Tom and Piet for slaughter meet. "How long, O Lord, how long?"

Tom—
"Our queen cannot be blamed for this. She always hated war."

Piet—
"Oom Paul kept peace as long as he could. He never thirsted for gore."

Tom and Piet—
"Who brought us here in battle array?
Who forced us to mangle and slay?
We wonder and fight. Let historians tell
Who should get billets on judgment day
For quarters in deepest hell."
—George Crouch.

The Weed's Complaint.

"It's rough,
I tell you whut, an tough. Five times
I've taken root this spring an tried to grow,
But ev'ry time I git a start, along
That smarty comes a-brandishin his hoe—
An chop! An there I am again. They might,
I think, at least jest let a feller be,
Who wasn't doin nothin, but they seem
To have a spite agin me, I can see,
An I don't git no chance," said the weed.

"Of course,
If I was both'rin anybody—but I ain't;
Ain't bonin favors an ain't makin any blow.
I'm peaceable an quiet an jest try
To git along the best I know;
I wasn't even planted, but jest growed
All by my lonely—wasn't helped a speck,
As others are; but the less I ask,
It seems, the more I git it in the neck,
An I don't git no chance," said the weed.

"An then,
Jest see that dude, the cornstalk. Coddled till
It makes one tired to see. Why, do know,
He'd die if he's not babied so! Gee whiz!
If I but had that show, or half the show,
That he has! Wouldn't I grow? I guess yes.
I'd top the fence in no time. Spread? Oh, my!
An smile? I'd pay for care, I would, an be
The pride of this whole garden 'fore I die.
But I don't git no chance," said the weed.
—L. F. Fogg in Cleveland Leader.

On the new railway built from Sfax to Gafsa, Tunis, by the French company to its phosphate mines, passengers will not be hauled beyond Mezuna unless they sign an agreement not to hold the company for any damages that they may sustain.

Judge Not.

Oh, men, who are good, who are honored and great,
Be kind to your brothers of lowly estate!
If masters, then be not in tasking severe;
If rulers, then rule men in love and not fear;
And if ye be fathers, wise, learned and strong,
Lead the little ones tenderly, slowly along.
Ere you sneer at the humble or punish the base
Pause and think for awhile. "Put yourself in their place!"

Fair lady, so haughty, so chaste and so cold,
Kept safe from harm in love's sheltering fold,
Ere you turn from your frail, erring sister with scorn
Think how she was tempted and how she was born.
Her ruin may date from a smile or kind word,
The first that her poor, hungry heart ever heard.
Then pause ere you taunt her with sin and disgrace;
How if you had been tried? "Put yourself in her place!"

Proud man, whom the white robes of ermine enfold,
As you weigh others' sins in the balance you hold.
Ere you crush the last spark in a heart doomed to bleed
Let mercy come in for a moment and plead,
Ere you sentence "for life" a poor brother to dwell
With the ghosts of the sins that shall people his cell,
Think why you are honored and he in disgrace.
What is hid in your heart? "Put yourself in his place!"

"Put yourself in their place!" Yea, have mercy on all
Who through love or through hate, good or evil, shall fall.
Who knows in the light of a judgment divine
Which soul shall be whitest, the sinner's or thine?
Fear to judge lest you stand at the heavenly door
To see harlots and publicans go in before,
While you cover with guilty confusion your face
And cry when too late to be put in their place!
—Phœbe Cary.

The Touchstone.

A man there came, whence none could tell,
Bearing a touchstone in his hand;
And tested all things in the land
By its unerring spell.

Quick birth of transmutation smote
The fair to foul, the foul to fair;
Purple nor ermine did he spare,
Nor scorn the dusty coat.

Of heirloom jewels, prized so much,
Were many changed to chips and clods,
And even statues of the gods
Crumbled beneath its touch.

Then angrily the people cried,
"The loss outweighs the profit far;
Our goods suffice us as they are;
We will not have them tried."

And since they could not so avail
To check this unrelenting guest,
They seized him, saying, "Let him test
How real is our jail!"

But, though they slew him with the sword,
And in a fire his touchstone burned,
Its doings could not be o'erturned,
Its undoings restored.

And when, to stop all future harm,
They strewed its ashes on the breeze;
They little guessed each grain of these Conveyed the perfect charm.
—William Allingham.

Mother and Child.

The wind blew wide the casement, and within—
It was the loveliest picture—a sweet child
Lay in its mother's arms, and drew its life,
In pauses, from the fountain—the white round
Part shaded by loose tresses, soft and dark,
Concealing, but still showing, the fair realm
Of so much rapture, as green shadowing trees
With beauty shroud the brooklet. The red lips
Were parted, and the cheek upon the breast
Lay close, and, like the young leaf of the flower,
Wore the same color, rich and warm and fresh—
And such alone are beautiful. Its eye,
A full blue gem, most exquisitely set,
Looked archly on its world—the little imp,
As if it knew even then that such a wreath
Were not for all; and with its playful hands
It drew aside the robe that hid its realm,
And peeped and laughed aloud, and so it laid
Its head upon the shrine of such pure joys,
And, laughing, slept. And while it slept, the tears
Of the sweet mother fell upon its cheek—
Tears such as fall from April skies, and bring
The sunlight after. They were tears of joy;
And the true heart of that young mother then
Grew lighter, and she sang unconsciously
The silliest ballad-song that ever yet
Subdued the nursery's voices, and brought sleep
To fold her sabbath wings above its couch.
—William Gilmore Simms.

Great honors are great burdens, but on whom
They are cast with envy he doth bear two loads.
His cares must still be double to his joys
In any dignity, where, if he err,
He finds no pardon, and for doing well
A most small praise, and that wrung out by force.
—Ben Jonson.

THE FOSTER MOTHER.

[After the French.]

Sleep, little one! Again I feel the thrill
A babe's soft hand can in my breast awaken.
Hide in my bosom, thou art not forsaken;
Sleep, little one! Thou hast a mother still.

My lips I press to thy sweet brow anew;
Sleep, little one, I am thy mother too!

Mine to protect, to cherish and to rear;
Why should the baby hand, the flaxen hair,
Set me a-dreaming of a bygone care
And make a faroff sorrow seem so near?

Wake, little one! Too much am I beguiled,
Too near, too close, the little hands are wrestling,
Too soft, too warm, the little head is nestling,
For I am not thy mother, O my child!

Wake, little one! Thy mouth too sweetly smiled,
For I am not thy mother, O my child!

Yet do not wake; sleep on; full well I know
God, in my heart maternal love renewing,
Intended not for my poor heart's undoing
Nor builds again a joy to lay it low.

Sleep, little one! 'Tis sweet to feel the thrill
A babe's soft hand can in my breast awaken.
Hide in my bosom, thou art not forsaken;
Sleep, little one! I am thy mother still.
—Edwin H. Keen in Outlook.

A Son's Self Sacrifice

There died recently in France a man whose life formed part of a strange history. Jean Goujon was the son of a laborer employed in the conservatory of Pere Lachaise, Paris. At the age of 15 Jean was sent to prison for purloining the pocketbook of a mourner at a funeral. Two years later he was helping his father in decorating graves, when M. Diaz, a wealthy man, visited his daughter's tomb. While M. Diaz was arranging for decorations Jean saw the well filled pocketbook which he carried. Jean followed him to a convenient spot, stabbed him and tore the pocketbook from the dying man's pocket. Three days later Jean was spending money freely in Mother Tarratan's den in the Rue Serpente.

"What man did you plunder?" asked Jacques Reverin, one of his companions. "Was it you who carved the man in Pere Lachaise the other day?"

Jean laughed and when it was dark asked Jacques to go out with him on the Pont Neuf. Just before reaching the Quai du Louvre Jean stabbed his friend in the back and ran. Jacques was indebted to the thick leathern braces which he wore for his life. They turned the blade, and he was wounded only slightly. Some time later Jean was captured, convicted of the crime and sent for six years to the galleys.

In 1844 Jean was at liberty. He went to Pere Lachaise, where his father still worked and, removing some bricks from the rear of a furnace, hauled out a pocketbook containing several thousand francs, the chief part of the proceeds of the robbery of M. Diaz. He put the money in his pockets and returned the book to its hiding place.

"There's no place like a cemetery either for quickly acquiring wealth or safely depositing it," he said to his father, with a grin.

Jean was now 23. He was tall, well built, with dark complexion and curling black hair. The first joint of the third finger of the right hand was missing, and there was a long, white scar on his forehead just under the hair, which could be easily made to conceal the mark. On the day mentioned he was about to quit the place where his father was at work when a form darkened the door. Jean started, for he recognized Jacques Riverin, whom he had stabbed over six years before.

Jean turned aside and said to his father in a low tone as he handed him something:

"Here, take this money and hide it for me!"

The old man put the money in his pocket. Then, walking to one side, he dropped it into a box nailed to the wall, in the lid of which was a slit for the reception of orders. He knew how to recover it when safe to do so.

Riverin, followed by three officers, advanced toward Jean, and as he drew near Riverin said:

"Seize him! This is the murderer of M. Diaz!"

Addressing Jean, who was speedily secured by the officers, Riverin said:

"That charming old lady, Mme. Tarratan, has revealed all she knows, and right here, back of the furnace, must be the proofs of your crime."

The hiding place in the chimney was readily found and the empty pocketbook produced. It bore part of M. Diaz's name on the flap, from which a piece was missing.

"Your dear friend, Mme. Tarratan, has the missing piece," said Riverin.

Jean was tried for the murder of Diaz. Mother Tarratan testified that Jean gave her the pocketbook to keep for him and that later he snatched it away, leaving part of the flap (which she produced) in her hand. Afterward they made up, and Jean told the old woman where he had hidden the book with most of the money. When Jean came out of prison, he went to a rival den, and this aroused Mme. Tarratan's anger, and she betrayed him to his enemy, Riverin.

"It is clear," said the judge, "that your father knew of your crimes. Your father's suspicions must have been aroused when he saw you take his pruning knife."

"It was not his knife!" Jean answered in anger. "I picked it from the grass"—

This was a fatal blunder, and his conviction speedily followed. He was sentenced for life. On parting with his father he said:

"Take care of the money. When you receive a message from me, get the money and come at once to the place named."

"How long first?" the old man asked.

"That depends; certainly within a year," Jean replied.

Old Goujon lived in the rear of a sausage shop in the Rue St. Maur. He owned a big black dog, which sat at the window all day and showed his teeth at the children. His master when he left of a morning flung an old coat on the floor and told the dog to watch it. In the lining of the coat was his son Jean's money. So long as there was life in the dog no one but his master could touch that coat with impunity.

In March, 1845, when old Goujon reached home at dusk he found a slip of paper which had been thrust under the door. It contained these words: "An old friend wishes to see you this evening at 9 at Tignetonne's, Rue de Charron, near Rue Ste. Marguerite."

Just before 9 o'clock Goujon was at the appointed place and found an old woman, eating blood pudding and drinking sour wine. Presently a priest entered and ordered a small bottle of red wine. After sipping his wine the priest said, apparently to the world at large:

"Nine o'clock, and no news from Pere Lachaise." The landlord stopped in the act of drawing a cork and scowled. Old Goujon drew a roll of bills out of his pocket and looked at them.

"Poor Jean, poor Jean!" muttered the priest. "His own father has forgotten him."

Goujon patted the roll of bills and made a sign to the priest. He took no notice, drank his wine, paid his score and left. Goujon followed him outside, and the next moment he found himself in the hug of the priest, who said:

"Come along, father. I escaped only yesterday week and have had a hard time. You remember old Father Berneval, who used to bury the faithful at the cemetery until he scandalized the place and his profession by getting drunk? I found him out, and, remembering how I used to smuggle the brandy in for him, he put the note under your door and fixed me up in ecclesiastical style, as you see. Come with me to his abode in Mount Simon St. Franc, and we will talk."

Thither they went and had a long conversation. When they separated, Jean said, "And now for a new life!"

* * * * * * *

In 1845 Theophile Theroud went to reside in Strassburg. He went into business and married and brought his old father to live with him. Seven children were born, all of whom died except the oldest, Henri. M. Theroud became a great railroad man. He was chosen president of a scientific society, and his portrait was published in many periodicals. He lived in fine style, and his son gave promise of becoming a celebrated engineer.

It came to pass that one Riverin, already mentioned in this history, had mended his ways and was selling newspapers and other reading material on the Rue St. Lazaire, Paris, near to the station of the Railroad of the West. It was his custom to pass his leisure moments in looking over the pictorial periodicals, and one day his attention was attracted by the likeness of Theophile Theroud, railroad magnate, and so forth.

"I could swear that was Jean Goujon," he said to himself.

Then he read the words accompanying the portrait and commented as he read, thus: "'He first settled in Strassburg in 1845'— The very year Jean escaped from prison—'For many years his father lived with him— Old man Goujon disappeared at the same time—'and up to the close of his life, three years ago, it was the great delight of the old gentleman to cultivate flowers'— That was old Goujon's business in a fashion at Pere Lachaise. If this is Jean, my future is made. If I go and identify him, he will pay handsomely for the keeping of the secret, for he is only an escaped convict and can be sent to prison any time to serve out his sentence."

Riverin went to Strassburg. After he had taken a good look at M. Theroud he said: "He's my man. The top of the third finger of the right hand is gone. I will change my name. My identity also ceases, and now I am—who am I? Paul Desmoulins? Ah, that is a grand name! He will pay me handsomely—at least 200,000 francs. I will never return to Paris. I will retire to a quiet place and marry. Why not? I am only 48. M. Desmoulins, you must get your cards engraved and prepare for a career."

M. Desmoulins called on M. Theroud. The same evening M. Theroud left the house and did not return until late. His son saw that he was excited and wandering and heard him walking his room nearly all night. He went to business next day as usual. In the evening he again left the house, and his son followed him. He saw his father meet a man in an adjacent wood. The two talked excitedly. The son heard an outcry and saw his father strike three or four blows with some weapon at the other man, who fell. M. Theroud stood over the prostrate form and struck three or four more blows. Then he turned away, rushed toward the park in which his home stood and entered it.

* * * * * * *

"I know not who this man is," said M. Theroud when examined before the authorities. "He had private business with my son, and several nights in succession my son left the house, evidently to meet him. Early in the morning my son came to my room and said:

"'I have killed a man. He is my enemy and pursued me. You will find his body in the wood adjoining the park.' He then quitted my house and went I know not whither. I have never heard of him since."

A hunting knife owned by the son was found near the body, and the doctor testified that such a weapon had inflicted the wound which caused the death of the man.

M. Theroud lived on honored and respected, having the sympathy of all his fellow citizens. Before his death he confessed his crime, the guilt of which his son had assumed. All his former evils were enumerated. As to Paul Desmoulins, or Jacques Riverin, he said:

"I promised him 250,000 francs for silence and absence from France forever. He demanded more. Finally it must be half my fortune, the right of perpetual residence in my home. His demands and threats drove me mad. On my first meeting with him he seized me by the throat and threatened my life. On the next meeting I armed myself with a knife. I had no intention of killing him unless he assailed me, but when he threatened me with exposure on the morrow unless I agreed at once to his rapacious demands I lost my reason and slew him."

The son, who had never been farther than Switzerland and had repeatedly been visited by his father, returned soon after his father's death. He cleared up all his father's business and retired to a small town in Champagne, where he died only recently, leaving all his fortune to charitable institutions. — Brooklyn Citizen.

Cooking Morality.

"Poor rations are demoralizing," says a prominent army officer. And it is true that when a man does not get in his food the stimulating nourishment which his nature craves he becomes demoralized and seeks in other stimulants the satisfaction of the craving of his stomach for well cooked, nourishing food. A man disappointed in his meal can console his hunger with something to drink. This gives him spasmodic activity and fictitious strength for a brief time, but when the reaction comes leaves him worse off than ever. Is it not correct to argue that a breakfast unfailingly good, composed of elements that stimulate and nourish the body, has a moral as well as a physical benefit?—Sallie Joy White in Woman's Home Companion.

Save Your MONEY.

To save your money, by getting more for it, ask your dealer in medicine to show you the new 50 cent size bottle of JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. It contains over three times as much as the old 25 cent style, which is a great saving to those who use this valuable family medicine. The superior quality of this old Anodyne has never been equaled.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Fifty years ago this month, Dr. Johnson left with me some Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. I remember him distinctly, and could tell you just how he was dressed on that day. I have sold Johnson's Liniment ever since. Can truly say it has maintained its high standard from that time to this. No medicine today possesses the confidence of the public to a greater extent. JOHN B. RAND, North Waterford, Me., Jan., 1891.

As a family remedy it has been used and indorsed for nearly a century. Every Mother should have it in the house for many common ailments, Internal as much as External. Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

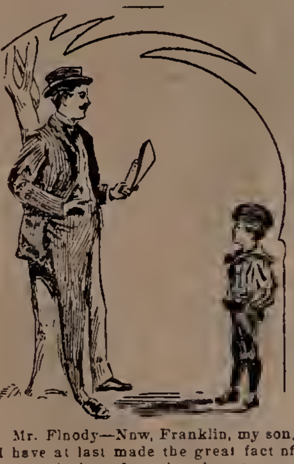
A. D. 1925.

"The Tudhams, I understand, are very distinguished people."

"Distinguished?"

"Well, perhaps that isn't the proper word, exactly. Extraordinary would probably be better. They haven't had a divorce on either side of the family for two generations back."—Chicago Daily News.

HAD MADE IT CLEAR.



Mr. Floody—Now, Franklin, my son, I have at last made the great fact of the evolution of species clear to you, have I not?

Franklin Floody—Oh, yes, papa; I understand! Before I was born, you and mamma were monkeys.—N. Y. Truth.

The Difference.

Col. Frogeeter (of Paris, France)—When the lie is passed in my country each man sends for his best friend to act as second. Is that the formula in Kentucky?

Col. Bludgud (of Paris, Ky.)—Well, hardly, sah. When the lie is passed in Kentucky the survivor sends for his best friend to go bail for him, suh.

Many thousands have been restored to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. If afflicted with any throat or lung trouble, give it a trial for it is certain to prove beneficial. Coughs that have resisted all other treatment for years, have yielded to this remedy and perfect health restored. Cases that seemed hopeless, that the climate of famous health resorts failed to benefit, have been permanently cured by its use. Bear in mind that every bottle is warranted and if it does not prove beneficial the money will be refunded to you. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Builds up the system; puts pure, rich blood in the veins; makes men and women strong and healthy. Burdock's Blood Bitters. At any drug store.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Divorce has been granted a Kansas City man on the ground that his wife was in the habit of breaking plates over his head. It is surprising how little ingenuity some men have. He might have worn a padded skullcap and lived with the woman of his choice long and happily.

The postmaster at Needmore, Fla., has been arrested for embezzlement. Living in a town with that name, he ought to be able to plead extenuating circumstances.

A Few Words about Pain-Killer

A prominent Montreal clergyman, the Rev. James H. Dixon, Rector St. Judes and Hon. Canon of Christ Church Cathedral, writes:—"Permit me to send you a few lines to strongly recommend PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER. I have used it with satisfaction for thirty-five years. It is a preparation which deserves full public confidence."

Pain-Killer A sure cure for Sore Throat, Coughs, Chills, Cramps, &c.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c.
There is only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis.'

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.
BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.
WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.
NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 33 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.
CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.
PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.
HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.
WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.
NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.
New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for
PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for
MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.
ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

Electric cars pass the hotel every 15 min., for Woonsocket, Milford, and the Attleboros. Electrics for Dedham and Boston every half hour.

GEO. L. CONNOR, P. T. M.
A. C. KENDALL, G. P. A.

Explanation of signs: *Daily and Sundays; f stops on notice to agent or conductor; ‡ daily except Monday; ¶ runs daily, including Sunday, but on Saturday runs two hours later than time given, § Stops only for New York passengers.

☞ Limited Express leaves Park square, Boston, for New York at 1 p m. Runs on week days, Arrive in New York at 6 00 p m same day. Leaves New York at 1 p m; arrives in Boston at 6 00 p m same day.

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE, McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

G. A. Martin, M.D.,
. . AND . . .
C. B. Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office—FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A. J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.
M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,
....BOSTON.
Telephone 1839.
A FINE LINE OF
Cotton Mill Oils.

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.

DON'T SWEAR. JUST SMILE.

At Your Toes,

that are giving you such excruciating pains from corns, for Schlotterbeck's Corn Cure will give you relief and permanent cure by using it according to directions given.

Schlotterbeck's IS THE BEST AND MOST EASILY APPLIED CORN CURE IN THE MARKET, and will cure bunions, corns and warts.

SOLD BY

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

WRENTHAM.

Miss Margaret K. Bates will entertain the Holly club Friday evening.——Fred C. Stewart, principal of the Brewster High school, is spending a few days with the Misses Gerould.——Rev. Mr. Trotter, wife and children of Bristol, R. I., have rented Daniel Brown's summer cottage for the season.——Dr. George W. Adams of Auburndale preached Sunday at the Congregational church. Rev. W. J. Minchin is expected home Monday, having spent two weeks of his vacation at Winthrop.——Prof. Thomas Whittemore of Tufts college has been the guest of Wm. Newell.——Fred M. McIntire, son of Judge Charles J. McIntire of Cambridge, is visiting relatives here.

Ardup Freees His Mind.

"No, sir. Not a cent!" was the reply of young Ardup's opulent but untouchable relative. "I've lent you more money already than you will ever pay back. You can shift for yourself henceforth. The difference between us is that I am provident, and you are improvident."

"The difference between us," vengefully retorted young Ardup, with his hand on the doorknob, "is that I'm a man of moderate means, and you're a man of immoderate meanness!"

Then he fled.—Chicago Tribune.

Advice.

Old Doctor—Now, my boy, let me give you a word of advice before you cut loose and hang out your shingle.

Young Doctor—I shall be glad to receive it, I assure you.

Old Doctor.—Whenever you are called upon to prescribe for a woman make her hold out her tongue, so that you may study it thoroughly. This will seldom help you to determine what her trouble is, but a woman can't talk while she has her tongue out.—Chicago Daily News.

Quack-Quack!

Great Editor—Why in the world don't you advertise your address in the newspapers?

Eminent Physician—People would think me a quack. Why don't you sign your name to the articles you write for your paper?

Great Editor—People would think me a goose.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Screw Loose Somewhere.

Husband—Why don't you wear your new dress?

Wife—It is unbecoming, or else it is out of style, or possibly it is a horrible misfit, I'm not sure which; but I must look like a fright or a simpleton in it.

Husband—Why so?

"All my friends praise it."—N. Y. Weekly.

Something Unusual.

Mrs. Giles—I wonder what is wrong with Mrs. Spooner's husband?

Mrs. Miles—I don't know, I'm sure. I never noticed anything wrong.

Mrs. Giles—You didn't! Why, he treats her with so much respect that you would think they were total strangers.—Chicago Daily News.

Wise.

"Don't you think that fellow who broke his engagement because the girl went to the jeweler and inquired the price of the ring a little sensitive?"

"I think he was wise. A woman like that would be wanting her husband to keep an account of his private expenses."—Indianapolis Journal.

A Misunderstanding.

"How soon will father be home?" asked the boy who had a large book on his knees.

"Very soon," answered Mrs. Cumrox. "Do you wish to ask him something?"

"Yes. I want to ask him if he ever saw what this man calls an ornithorhynchus. It has a body like an otter, web feet and a face like a duck's."

"Freddie! I am sorry it should be necessary to assure you that your father never drinks."—Washington Star.

An Object of Pity.

"It is a terrible thing to be nearsighted."

"Can't dodge your creditors?"

"That's not the worst. I'm always walking into the parlor when my wife has company."—Chicago Daily Record.

Tonight

Just before retiring, if your liver is sluggish, out of tune and you feel dull, bilious, constipated, take a dose of

Hood's Pills

And you'll be all right in the morning.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Attractions This Week

Afternoons at 3.30, Evenings 8.30.

Leonard & Fulton
Mulligan's Masquerade Co.
Three Shamrocks
That Girl of Paris
English comedian, Sefton
Miss May Deagle, singing and dancing.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON,
Concert by Norwood Band.

ADMISSION to the Grounds, 10c. Children, 5c. Reserved Seats in Amphitheatre the 5 and 10c. extra.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

THE ROSE = FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE = = FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." = FOR BARGAINS.

GO-CARTS, $8.00 == Nice.

Never heard a baby complain yet. Babies are all right in one of "Cook's Rolling Stock." Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly.

Everybody waits for their car in our store—so nice and cool. Try it.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

MEDFIELD AND WAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning. Last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly13-18

His Clever Answer.

"I learn," she said reproachfully, "that you were devoted to no fewer than five girls before you finally proposed to me. How do I know that you didn't make desperate love to all of them?"

"I did," he replied promptly.

"You did!" she exclaimed.

"Certainly," he returned. "You don't suppose for a minute I would be foolhardy enough to try for such a prize as you are without practicing a little first, do you?"—Chicago Post.

Candor.

"What is your opinion of the popular songs of the present time?" asked the young woman.

"O," replied Willie Wishington, "I guess I'm like most people on that point. I enjoy 'em, but I don't like to own up to the fact in the presence of my musical friends."—Cleveland Leader.

No Formalities.

"Come and dine with us to-morrow," said the illiterate old fellow, who had made his money and wanted to push his way in society.

"Sorry," replied the elegant man, "I can't. I'm going to see 'Hamlet.'"

"That's all right," said the hospitable old gentleman, "bring him with you."—Illustrated American.

Embarrassing.

"You know in our country," said the eminent Chinaman, "it is considered the height of courtesy to present a man with a burial casket."

"Yes," answered the young emperor, "but these relations of mine are becoming altogether too polite."—Washington Star.

Jogging His Memory.

Slopay (telling story)—As I went down for the third time every event of my life passed before me like a flash.

Lenditt (interrupting, hastily)—Say, old man, you didn't remember borrowing that V of me, year before last, did you?—Puck.

If you don't feel quite well, try a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is a wonderful tonic and invigorator. It will help you.

"I suffered for months from sore throat. Eclectric Oil cured me in twenty-four hours." M. S. Gist, Hawesville, Ky.

Pyny-Pectoral stops the Tickling and quickly allays [illegible] the throat.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF JULY 16

Afternoons at 3.15. Evenings at 8.30.

Boom's Comedians

INCLUDING

Brooks Bros., comedians, from Keith's, Boston.
Barry and Russell, the "Dago" and "Monk," from Weber & Fields', New York.
Henrietta Dreyer, prima donna soprano, from Keith's, Boston.
Bartelmas, the foot juggler, from Ringling Bros.' Circus.
Nick Brown, pianist,

AND MANY OTHERS.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je26-tocl

No. 1207.

REPORT of the condition of the FRANKLIN NATIONAL BANK, at Franklin, in the state of Massachusetts, at the close of business, June 29, 1900.

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts		$[illegible] 99
Overdrafts, secured and unsecured		12 92
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation		100,000 00
Stocks, securities, etc.		48,000 00
Due from National banks not reserve agents		32,021 69
Due from approved reserve agents		7,012 85
Checks and other cash items		2,3[illegible] 62
Notes of other National banks		3,000 00
Fractional paper currency, nickels and cents		48 73
Lawful money reserve in bank, viz
Specie	$[illegible] 00
Legal tender notes	[illegible] 00	[illegible] 00
Redemption fund with U. S. treasurer 5 per cent of circulation		4,995 00
Total		$[illegible],141 80

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in	$[illegible] 00
Surplus fund	20,000 00
Undivided profits, less expenses and taxes paid	[illegible] 09
National bank notes outstanding	[illegible],250 00
Due to Trust Companies and Savings Banks	[illegible] 81
Dividends unpaid	[illegible] 00
Individual deposits subject to check	[illegible],844 70
Certified checks	85 00
Exchange accrued	97 20
Total	$[illegible],141 80

State of Massachusetts, County of Norfolk, ss.

I, F. H. Bartholomew, cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

F. H. BARTHOLOMEW, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of July, 1900.

HENRY E. [illegible], Notary Public.

Correct. Attest:

EDGAR K. RAY,
EDWARD H. RATHBUN,
HARRY T. HAYWARD,
Directors.

He Obeyed the Rule.

Arthur, who is forbidden to speak at the table, had his revenge the other day. As dinner began he was very uneasy, and finally said: "Ma, can't I speak just one word?"

"You know the rule, Arthur."

"Not one word?"

"No, Arthur, not until your father finishes the paper."

Arthur subsided until the paper was finished, when he was asked what he had to say.

"Oh, nothing! Only Nora put the custards outside the window to cool, and the cat has been eating them up!"—Tit-Bits.

Correct Diagnosis.

Doctor—Good morning, Mr. Lover! What can I do for you?

Mr. Lover—I—I called, sir, to—to ask for the hand of—of your daughter.

"Humph! Appetite good?"

"Not very."

"How is your pulse?"

"Very rapid when—when I am with her. Very feeble when away."

"Troubled with palpitation?"

"Awfully, when I think of her."

"Take my daughter. You'll soon be cured. Ten dollars, please."—N. Y. Weekly.

"I never saw a man carry economy to such an extreme," said a Dreyfus partisan. "He is positively parsimonious."

"You mean that member of the French army?"

"Yes. He is continually talking about saving his honor."—Washington Star.

The Helping Hand.

The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world, the poets cry:
But the hand of fate, I take it, is the hand that makes good pie.
—Detroit Free Press.

A Good Reason.

"Why don't you come in?" said the wife mockingly from the second-story window, as he fumbled in his pocket for his latch-key.

"I haven't got openers," he replied, sadly.—Harlem Life.

Wanted to Be Sure.

Jones—Why are you praying for rain?

Brown—I had my roof fixed to-day, and I want to see if it's all right before I pay for it.—N. Y. Truth.

Short-Lived.

"When we were married," sobbed the young wife, "he said he loved me with a love more enduring than the everlasting granite!"

"And it didn't last?" queried the sympathizing friend.

"Last!" echoed the young wife, drying her tears. "It didn't last as long as a cedar block pavement!"—Chicago Tribune.

At the Club.

"Those two fellows over in the corner seem to have a very interesting subject. They've been talking at each other as hard as possible for an hour and a half."

"Yes; one of them has a little boy who has just learned to walk and the other's baby cut its first tooth day before yesterday."—Chicago Daily News.

...OUR...

Effervescent Lithia Tablets

...CURE...

CHRONIC RHEUMATISM,
GOUTY CONDITION
AND
CHRONIC STOMACH DISORDERS.

25c. Bottle....

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-8

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-8

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

CORNED BEEF and VEGETABLES

FOR SATURDAY.

Thick Ribs	10c	Native Beets, bunch	6c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Cabbage, lb.	3c
Thick Flanks	6c	Spinach, peck	10c
Spring Broilers	28c	String Beans, qt	5c
Fresh Killed Fowls	18c	Lettuce, head	5c
Smoked Bacon, strip	10c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe3dy8

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

JUST THE WEATHER TO ENJOY A

HAMMOCK.

We have them for 75c. to $4.25.

Oil Stoves, 1, 2 and 3 burners, 50c., 98c. and $1.48.

Screen Doors and Window Screens.

Refrigerator Pans, Watering Pots.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap27S

WANTED.

Experienced Fur Felt Finishers,

about July 16th, on Ladies' Felt Hats.

Address HIRSH & PARK,
Medway, Mass.

jly3-1m

At WOODWARD'S
every description of
INSURANCE
can be placed. This AGENCY
officially represents the
LEADING
American and Foreign
COMPANIES.

F. A. WOODWARD, Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.

my4-1yF

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Mary A. Cooper, late of Medway, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

HENRY CARTER.

West Medway, July 2, 1900. jly3,10,17

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Edwin J. Pond, late of Providence, in the state of Rhode Island, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

METCALF E. POND.

Address Franklin, Mass.
July 7, A. D. 1900. jly10,17,24

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Erasmus S. Pond, late of Rutland, in the state of Vermont, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

METCALF E. POND.

Address Franklin, Mass.
July 7, A. D. 1900. jly10,17,24

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 58. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
A. B. Chilson	4
Administratrixs' Notice	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM
North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "
MAILS CLOSE FOR
Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

J. P. Farmer of Sioux Falls is at Dr. King's.

Miss Myrtle Cook is visiting friends in Webster.

The big chimney at Dean academy is being repaired.

Judge Doe will resume his outing in Maine tomorrow.

Cars to Medway and Dedham now run hourly and half-hourly.

Our Boys play the Ramblers at Hopedale tomorrow afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Waite left today for their home in Boulder, Col.

H. W. Hosie and family are enjoying ocean breezes at Winthrop, Me.

E. C. Dean took a day off yesterday, Boston being his objective point.

The Universalists are at Lake Pearl and Hoag for their annual picnic today.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Stewart are entertaining Rev. E. P. Marvin of Lockport, N. Y.

The ice men say those two hot days took the profits off the business for two weeks.

Miss Margaret Kane of Providence is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lemier, Peck street.

John Dunning has returned from Washington, where he has been caring for his brother.

W. A. Pond has sold for B. B. Blaisdell a farm of 105 acres to William A. South of Salem.

Joseph Curran of Hopedale is visiting his father, Cornelius Curran, of McCarthy street.

W. H. Miller and wife of Hopkinton are guests of Mrs. J. W. Heaton, Emmons street.

Prepare to attend the Farmers' club and grange picnic at Lake Pearl next Wednesday.

T. B. Allen has just bought 225 cords of trash wood of Pond & Tingley near Spring Pond.

"Is it hot enough for you?" How many times have you heard this remark of late?

North Attleboro and Norwich will cross bats on Monday for the finest game of the season.

Miss Gertrude Newell of Sheldonville has been on a visit to Mrs. Arthur Miller of Dean avenue.

William A. Stanley went to Providence Thursday to attend a club dinner and celebration.

The cars for Providence daily take on people of the town who delight in the succulent bivalve.

Mrs. William Miller of Blackstone is on a visit to her niece, Miss Olive Miller, of South Franklin.

W. B. Sommers of New Haven is visiting his parents here, Capt. and Mrs. Rudolph Sommers.

Miss Margaret Reardon of Medway is visiting at the home of William Savage on Washington street.

The ladies in the finishing room of Hayward's mill are arranging for an outing at Lake Pearl tomorrow.

A large number of the employes of the Stewart hat works now find employment in the hat factory in Medway.

Florence, the three-year-old daughter of Mrs. Maria Rollinson of Ray street, died Wednesday of cholera infantum.

John Q. Hennigan, the new inspector of steam and electric roads for the rail road commission, was in town yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Broeunlman of New York city have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Ray, at Elm farm.

A number from here are going to Attleboro tomorrow to witness the second game of the series between that team and the Norths. A hot game is expected.

Dr. J. C. Gallison has cut down one of the fine shade trees in front near his house, so as to erect an ornamental stone gatepost. The trees are very thick, anyway.

When the meetings of the Masonic bodies are resumed after the summer vacation it is expected the members will find a new carpet and other improvements.

According to the reports on the street it seems very doubtful whether Charles Stewart resumes business at the Thayer shop at the corner of Union and Central streets.

Hon. L. L. Burrington has received and accepted an appointment as superintendent of public schools in Peabody, Mass. He will begin his new duties in September.

James O. Chilson has sold his farm on Chestnut street, through Pond's farm agency, to William Everett from Leominster, Mass. The sale included stock and tools.

A. Cressey Morrison and wife, Miss Julie Bachelder of Lowell and Mr. C. Kirker of Paterson, N. J., are guests of Mrs. Cora Linn Daniels at Sardia Lodge, Wrentham.

The Douglas campmeeting opened today, and with the ease of access, cheap fare and excellent accommodations there it is expected a good many from Franklin will attend.

There is a great deal of interest evinced in the forthcoming production of Mr. Richardson, which transcends in its scope any effort of like character ever published in this town.

Seth Blake is seriously ill at his home. For the past week he has had many severe head hemorrhages. A man attendant is acting in the capacity of a nurse as Mrs. Blake is an invalid.

N. A. Ferrer and Anthony Connor were installed noble grand and vice-grand respectfully of King David lodge Wednesday evening. E. J. Whittaker of Wrentham was the installing officer.

Some prostrations from the heat are reported in town, although no serious consequences have followed, but several people will probably expose themselves to the sun's rays in summer less in future.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Rathbun are rejoicing over the advent of a son and heir into their household on Wednesday morning, and the congratulations they have received are numerous, sincere and welcome.

Mr. Davis Thayer, Mrs. Dr. A. J. Gallison and son Thayer left yesterday for Cottage City, where they will occupy their cottage for a few weeks, Mr. Thayer running home occasionally to attend to matters here.

G. H. Grant and his men have worked overtime the past few evenings at Hoag lake so as to finish the dance hall at which they have been at work, in time for the Woonsocket clerks' outing yesterday afternoon.

The Misses Mary, Lucy and Rose Rabitor and Miss Nancy Lefleur left Tuesday for a visit with friends in Montreal, Can. Miss Lefleur will remain until next December and the Misses Rabitor will return in September.

The Medway-Medfield electric railway company has built a platform under the trees at the end of their route here for the convenience of passengers alighting from the cars, made necessary by the very long step to the ground.

H. M. Bullock still remains in a very precarious condition, with the chances against him. If he should recover somewhat there is little likelihood that he would ever be a well man again. The difficulty appears to have been a succession of slight shocks.

The entire floor of the Ray stable is being laid in cement and the carriage room in asphalt, making it at once clean, smooth and free from dust, etc. The stalls are iron and laid in cement, so as to insure solidity. It will be a model building both outside and in.

The third day of 90's in the shade raised the record, the mercury ranging from 95 to an even 100 at 1 p. m. Wednesday. There was considerable of a breeze to make conditions more tolerable than it would otherwise be, but outdoor labor was suspended on many jobs.

William Corbett, at the corner of Oak and Pond streets, reports the loss of 28 hens killed by a dog early Tuesday morning, and others of the flock maimed and damaged. It seems as though a dose of hot lead could be prepared while a canine was disposing of that number of fowls.

The American Flax and Fibre Co. is rushing the repairs on the old steel edge factory in Millis. Looms and cards have been moved there from Franklin and several carloads of flax have arrived from Dakota. Mr. Hathaway of Franklin is the superintendent of the factory.

The Lake Pearl management is offering special inducements to the public in the line of excellent theatre attractions and park pleasures. Saturday evening dancing will be an attraction, and on Sunday afternoon from 2 till 6 o'clock the celebrated Norwood brass band will give a grand sacred concert.

Miss Angelina Cataldo, daughter of Joseph Cataldo, 18 years of age, was hit in the ribs with a shuttle Wednesday morning while at her work at her loom in Singleton's mill. Miss Cataldo fell to the floor in a faint. She was removed to her home and a doctor was called and found the accident not serious.

The Bellingham selectmen went to Hoag Lake last Sunday and requested that the flying horses be stopped. The request was not acceded to and the selectmen said that it was a desecration which could not be permitted, and they felt it their duty to see that it did not occur again. Just what their action will be has not developed yet.

Five of the persons charged with playing cards Sunday appeared before Judge Doe yesterday morning and plead guilty. Attorney Ruggles explained the matter to the court on behalf of the offenders, and they were let off with a fine of $10, which they paid. The person charged with running the place has skipped out, but will be arrested should he return to town.

The orchard of Elm Farm was gay with a merry party of ladies on Wednesday afternoon last. Forty members of the Murray Universalist ladies circle of Attleboro came with their baskets for a luncheon at the Elm Farm. Mrs. Ray invited the ladies of the Franklin society to meet them and a few responded. In spite of the heat there was a royal good time and the ride home in the electrics was bracing and cool.

Much to the regret of the people of the West Medway Methodist church, Rev. J. P. Chadbourne has been obliged to resign the pastorate on account of ill health. During the year and a half that Mr. Chadbourne has been here, he has done much for the upbuilding of the society, the Sunday school being flourishing. He is a young man of exceptional ability and one whom this village can ill afford to lose. Rev. Arthur Wright of Milford will take his place.—Milford Journal.

Our assessors announced that the tax rate this year will be somewhat larger than last owing to the larger appropriation at the March meeting. Last year the rate was $15 per $1,000, and this year it is $16. They would have been glad to have made the same rate, but insist that that matter is entirely out of their hands so long as they do not make the appropriations. $16 is not bad compared with many of the towns about us, and taken into consideration what we get for our money expended.

Lake Hoag and "Pleasure Island" are steadily gaining in popularity under the able management of Joseph G. Ray. The hobby horses are the best this side of Narragansett Pier. The dancing pavilion although not yet completed is ready for use, and the white cottage by the lake furnishes anything ordered from a sandwich to a chowder. Everything is quiet and orderly making a delightful place for an outing. Next week's Casino entertainment will be "The Minstrels" an excellent company of twenty in the circle.

Each year H. H. Gates puts in some improvement at Sunnyside, so as to do his work more quickly and profitably. He has just put in a hay carrier which enables him to dispose of a large load of hay in any portion of his barn with ease and dispatch. He certainly is a progressive farmer, and he realizes that it is not wise to try to raise everything that will grow simply because he calls himself a farmer. He has tried the various crops and knows just what his land is adapted to raising, and that is the secret of all crop success.

Representative L. L. Burrington can now enjoy a well-earned rest, as the legislature adjourned Tuesday after the second longest session in the history of the state, surpassed only by that of 1883, the Gov. Butler's year, when the great and general court remained in session until July 27. It is learned by way of the secretary of the state that the governor has signed 479 acts and 108 resolves and sent in nine vetoes, all of them sustained by the legislature. Many wise measures passed, though there were some unaccountable "somersaults" executed. On the whole there is little to criticise.

Edward M. Stewart passed away on Thursday at the residence of his son, William G. Stewart, on Main street. Mr. Stewart had been in delicate health for some time past, but had only been confined to his bed for the past few weeks. Deceased was born in Nova Scotia in 1813 and came to Boston in 1844. He was actively engaged with Rev. Alex. Blakie in church work and was one of the founders of the First United Presbyterian church of Boston and was a ruling elder of that church for upwards of twenty years. He leaves a widow and family to mourn their loss The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 30 from the residence of his son. Relatives and intimate friends are invited.

Since the M. A. & W. Co. is not to build from Milford to Westboro it looks now as if a new company, in which W. B. Ferguson of Malden, formerly president of the Milford, Holliston and Framingham street railway company would do it. But the Kelsey interests, which control the M. H. & F. road, have already applied for franchises to build the road, and a clash seems inevitable. The M. H. & F. company would seem to have the advantage, inasmuch as it was in the field first and has had dates for hearings appointed. It would be an interesting state of affairs if the Kelsey company should secure a location from the selectmen of Milford and the Ferguson crowd should get franchise rights in Hopkinton This is really the first street railway war that Milford has experienced and the outcome of it will be watched with interest.

If the contemplated improvements at the Opera House materialize this season there is no question but that Franklin can attract a better class of entertainments and they will be well patronized. The fact that a fine company comes here and is not able to put on some of its best scenery destroys much of the pleasure of the audience, and companies do not like to play where they cannot do themselves justice. Another feature is to be taken into consideration, and that is the out of town custom which can be attracted here if properly catered to. Otherwise our people will be drawn to Milford or Woonsocket, and it is certain the electrics will be arranged so that all could get back after the entertainment in either place. Therefore, it behooves the management to do all in its power to keep the people here by good attractions, well staged, and at the same time attract patrons from Wrentham, the Medways, Bellingham, etc. The thing can be done, and we trust it will be.

The Congregational Sunday school, in charge of Superintendent Richardson, picnicked at Lake Pearl on Wednesday, going down on the electrics in large numbers. There the day was most delightfully spent with sports, refreshments, riding the flying horses, bathing, bowling, etc. The stage entertainment also attracted a good many, there being nothing objectionable about it whatever. The whole affair was a signal success. The following was the result of the athletic sports: One hundred yard dash, won by Edwin Russell, George Sneath second; three-legged race, won by William Winters and Frank Ledbury, Arthur Stewart and George Sneath second; running broad jump, won by Howard Winters, Alden Abbott second; high jump, won by James Hood, Alden Abbott second; ladies' walking race, won by Miss Linna Ferrer, Miss Campbell second; girls' driving contest, won by Miss Elizabeth Marshall, Miss Edna M. Winters second; canoe race, won by Floyd Hosie and William Stewart; potato race, won by Arthur Mason, Ernest Abbott second; ladies' driving contest, won by Mrs. C. L. Stewart.

High School Boy Suicides.

Richard H. Sumner, a former pupil of our High school two or three years ago, and son of Fred. H. Sumner, now of Jamaica Plain, shot himself at his grandfather's in Foxboro on Wednesday morning.

Recently it has been noticed that he was despondent, but there was no fear of his taking any action which would tend to suddenly end his life. He had taken a shotgun that had not been used for sometime and shot himself through the heart, death being instantaneous.

The suicide was about 18 years of age, and was undoubtedly a severe sufferer from illness. He left a note saying that God only knew what he had suffered during the past six months; he had decided he could not bear the suffering any longer, and thought it best to end it all at once.

Canning Is Coming.

If you want nice fruit next winter prepare to can very soon, as fruit is coming on, but don't use your old jars. Our new ones are cheaper, better, and improve the flavor of the fruit. We have the square "Royal" fruit jar, best quality selected glass, with "Lightning" top at 90 cents, $1.00 and $1.25 per dozen. There are none cheaper in the end. Window screens at reduced prices.

Hosie Bros.

Richardson's Market.

Everything that the market affords can be found at this establishment this week. New vegetables coming in daily, fruit, etc. 'Nuff said.

If you want the best milk in this town, put up in glass jars at the farm, and delivered by 5 o'clock in the morning, address J. C. McInnis. He also has all kinds of fruit in the season.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

American Hearts Beat High.

Paris, July 4, 1900—Midnight

To the Editor of the Sentinel:—

I have spent several of the recent years of my life in Europe and up to now have been so well able to control myself that I have never inflicted upon my old Franklin friends "a letter from abroad" through the columns of the press, and for which self-sacrifice on my part I trust they are truly grateful. I must, however, at the close of this Fourth of July day, tell a little tale about what Dr. Gallison and I have both declared to be the most glorious and enthusiastic Fourth of July we have ever known, and all in the gay city of Paris. We arose this morning to find many public and private buildings bedecked with the "Stars and Stripes," little steamers dashing to and fro on the river Seine with the same fair emblem floating at their sterns, and to meet thousands of Americans on the streets with the "red white and blue" attached to their person, while the weather was all that could be asked for. We began the celebration by attending the unveiling of the Lafayette statue, presented by the school children of United States, to the Republic of France, in the garden of the Tuileries. The presentation speech was delivered by our commissioner, General Peck, at the close of which the great American flag which enshrouded the statue was drawn away, and Sousa's band rendered for the first time, "Hail to the Spirit of Liberty." which Mr. Sousa composed for this occasion. President of France, Loubet, then made a very fine speech accepting the gift in the name of the French people. Thousands of Americans were on the spot, and when the band struck up "The Star Spangled Banner" all rose to their feet with one accord and remained standing, the men hatless, till the last notes had died away. After this ceremony was over Sousa formed his band into line of march and, followed by mounted French police, marched through the Place de l'Opera and the boulevards to the exposition grounds. The procession was followed by thousands of people, among them hundreds of Americans, young and old, the doctor and I in the midst of the vast throng, right in the middle of the streets. As a small boy I have "followed the band" many times through the streets of old Franklin, but never in all my life did I enjoy this boyhood pleasure as I did today hustling along through the streets of Paris, thousands of miles from home, surrounded by gay young men and pretty American girls, the "stars and stripes" all above, around and about us, and all cheering and keeping time to the tunes of the "Washington Post" "The Stars and Stripes Forever," "Liberty Bell," etc.

Try and imagine. Try and feel the enthusiasm that was in us during this tramp through the streets of Paris. I don't believe you can do it. We left Sousa at the exposition entrance and went to the United States building, which is located on the "street of nations." This building is headquarters for Americans while visiting the exposition, and multitudes of them were to be seen there today. It contains a United States post office, information bureaus, a fine American restaurant and several lounging and reading rooms, furnished by different states and presided over by real genuine Americans, male and female. We crowded through a dense throng of Americans and made our way up to the Massachusetts rooms, where we found the walls adorned with such familiar pictures as those of our grand old state house, Benjamin Franklin, etc., and the reading tables were piled with Boston newspapers. After loitering here awhile we went over into the New York rooms and shook the hand of Miss Hamlin of Dean academy, who was very glad to meet people from home, and the pleasure was not all on her side, either. We then went into the restaurant, which, like all other parts of the building, was crowded with Americans. We were given seats right near a table occupied by United States Commissioner General Peck, his family and suite; also no less a personage than that worthy Christian gentleman, Archbishop Ireland, whose hand we had the pleasure of shaking and hearing him say he was glad to meet us because we came from near Bunker Hill. Hurrah for Bunker Hill!

We were all entertained throughout dinner by two men from Kentucky, who played on banjo and mandolin and sang many of our old familiar favorites, including "Swanee River," "Hot Time," etc. Just try and screw your imagination up to the point where American enthusiasm and good fellowship ran rife in that restaurant today. After doing our whole duty here—I wish all of our duties were as easy—we went out into one of the grand squares in the exposition grounds to once more enjoy a concert by Sousa's band. An immense crowd of people from all corners of the globe were at the concert and Sousa was obliged to give encore after encore. The people went wild over the "Washington Post" march, "Georgia Campmeeting" and other rag-time music, and when Soloist Pryor played "Because I Love You" on the trombone the applause was simply tremendous. I must not forget to mention something that occurred at this concert. We were standing near a group of American fellows, and when Sousa ended one of the favorite airs, one of the chaps showed his appreciation by whistling very loudly through his fingers, a very common thing in America; but in France it is a sign of derision, and means here what hissing does at home. He was immediately surrounded by indignant Frenchmen, who denounced him in the most decided manner; in fact, they almost came to blows, and it was some time before they seemed to understand that our American friend was applauding and not deriding Sousa.

But two grand concerts and a street parade were not enough of Sousa's band and American music, for the 4th of July in Paris, so the day's celebration was brought to a close by another grand concert given on the Place de l'Opera, directly in front of the Grand Opera House, and bordering the Boulevard. The concert began at 10 p. m. and just closed at at midnight. It was here that we got into the biggest crowd we have yet seen in Paris, all there to hear our American band of which we Americans are so proud. We are making quite a stay in Paris and "doing" the city and exposition thoroughly, but of these I'll say nothing, as you can read all about them in the guide books. But such feelings of patriotism and pride in flag and country, you cannot find those in guide books, but must look into the hearts of the Americans who have spent their 4th of July in Paris, of whom I have the pleasure of being one.

Yours very truly,

Walter A. Hawkins.

Interesting Find.

Tuesday, as some of the workmen were engaged in removing some of the debris left from the burning of St. Mary's church, Rev. William Reardon of Amesbury, who is a guest at St. Mary's rectory, found some medals under one of the granite stones. The medals, four in all, were found in the right hand corner, and must have been placed there when the corner stone was laid. Some iron and wood which was discovered in the same place led to the opinion that the medals were in a box, probably iron, lined with wood, and that it decayed with age. The dates on the medals were 1833, so they were likely in their resting place 67 years. The inscription on two of them could be plainly read. One of these stated that the medal was awarded to the "Robinson and Jones" family for their skill in making brushes, and on the opposite side appeared the picture of a pig. The other was awarded to the Adam's family of Boston for skill in manufacturing trunks. On the opposite side of this was the picture of a donkey, over which was written the word "firmness" and on its side the letters "Lt'd." Whether this was the box originally placed by Dr. Dean under the corner stone when the church occupied the old Congregational site and again placed under the church in its Catholic location is not known. Rev. Fr. Lee now has them in his possession and prizes them highly as interesting relics.

Emerson's Market.

Watermelons on ice, raspberrries, summer squash, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips, new potatoes. Try our Imperial cheese. Fresh killed fowls, lamb, veal, pork. Fresh cream.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

225 cords of trash wood, pine and oak for sale at Allen's wood yard.

Place wanted to do cooking; private family. Address Franklin House, Franklin, Mass. 20*

For Sale.—A fine family residence, corner of Crescent and Alpine streets. Inquire of W. A. Wyckoff. 18 tf

Wanted.—A horse, weight 1100, must be a good worker and driver, safe and kind. Call at 61 Central street. 17*

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

To Let—A tenement of five rooms on Alpine street. Inquire on the premises or at Mrs. Burnham's, cor. Peck and North Park streets. 17 tf

Lawn Mowers—Don't try to mow your lawn with a dull mower. Bring it to Ruse's machine shop, and he will put it in perfect order. It will cut better, quicker and with far less exertion.

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over Sentinel office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class. "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKinnon, Agent.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

Our mattings are made of finest stuff;
This is straight goods and no bluff.
Sanford Bros., Medway.

Send your boys to Ocbee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Read the business announcements

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 00	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word; no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

FRIDAY, JULY 20, 1900

The Story of a Poem.

The man who used to write in a garret and burn the midnight taper, though he received but little for his toil, still had the respect of publishers, who held his genius in high esteem. How different the fate of the writer today! One of them sent an Easter poem, on which he prided himself, to a great editor. The great editor replied:

"We regret that your Easter poem, which is a good one, arrived after we had made up the forms for our Easter number. Can't you work it over to fit the Fourth of July next—introduce a few American flags and a box of firecrackers? Or you might switch it around into a Christmas poem, throwing in a country dance or something lively. If you'll do either, just send it on, and check will be forwarded."

When the author got that letter, he lost his temper and his religion.—Atlanta Constitution.

A Good Natured Reformer.

If I was foreteller of the weather, you bet
I'd behave in a way the most curious yet.
I'd tear up my maps, and I'd turn in and break
All the instruments used when them weather sharps make Observations. I'd just predict sunshine and showers
And winds with caresses for languorous flowers.
Of course there'd be storms which our patience would test,
But I'd simply be cheerful and hope for the best

If I was the almanac man, I would try
To change the amount of the years as they fly,
Increasin the sum of our holiday joys
And reduce the hours which stern duty employs.
I'd celebrate Christmas 'bout four times a year,
And two Sundays a week on the books would appear;
I s'pose that there'd soo[illegible]
But I'd change things a[illegible]
my way;

—Exchange.

A Matter of Regret.

"It's a great pity," said the man who has taken a deep interest in the plans to suppress dogs.

"What's a pity?"

"That we can't go farther than the mere prevention of hydrophobia. Just think how much cheerier this life would be if nature had only made the grip germ big enough to muzzle."—Washington Star.

End of Century Epitaph.

Here lies a poor woman who always was busy;
She lived under pressure that rendered her dizzy.
She belonged to ten clubs and read Browning by night,
Shone at luncheons and teas and would vote if she might.
She served on a school board with courage and zeal;
She golfed, and she kodaked and rode on a wheel.
She read Tolstoi and Ibsen, knew microbes by name,
Approved of Delsarte and loved to shoot game.
Her children went in for the top education;
Her husband went seaward for nervous prostration.
One day on her tablets she found an hour free;
The shock was so great that she died instantly.

—Pick Me Up.

His First Season Out of Town.

"As I reached home last night I saw our cow running off down the road."

"Well?"

"I chased her a mile and a half in a pouring rain."

"Catch her?"

"Yes. But when I got the old thing back to our yard I found out she wasn't our cow."—Indianapolis Journal.

The Spider's Invitation.

"Will you walk into my parlor?"
Said the spider to the fly.
"'Tis the prettiest little parlor
That ever you did spy.
The carpet has been taken up
And shaken in the sun,
The curtains have been taken down
And laundered, every one.
The paper on the walls is new,
The rugs from dust are free,
For now, at last, I am quite through With cleaning house, you see."

—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not Even Once.

Mabel (approval of new evening dress, which has just arrived from the dressmaker)—Oh, mother, how lovely! Do wear it tonight!

Mother—No, dear, not tonight. This is for when ladies and gentlemen come to dinner.

Mabel—Mother, dear, do let's pretend, just for once, that father's a gentleman!—Punch.

The Average Man's Failing.

The trouble with the average man
Is not so hard to find.
It isn't that his heart is wrong,
He's just a little blind.
He wants to do the best he can,
But doesn't think, and so
A lot of aches and sorrows fall
To people here below.

—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Family Standby.

Nodd—This servant question is a great nuisance, isn't it?

Todd—Awful! But I'm out of it. My cook has been with us so long that she is just like one of the family.

"How long?"

"Two weeks."—Detroit Free Press.

FALLING HAIR

Does this illustrate your experience? And are you worried for fear you are soon to be bald?

Then cease worrying, for help is at hand. You need something that will put new life into the hair bulbs.

You need a hair food, such as—

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

It brings health to the hair, and the falling ceases.

It always restores color to gray hair. You need not look at thirty as if you were fifty, for your gray hair may have again all the dark, rich color of youth.

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"I am a barber by trade and have had a great deal to do with your Hair Vigor. I have found that it will do everything that you claim for it. It has given me the most complete satisfaction in my business." HENRY J. GEORGE,
March 22, 1899. Kansas City, Mo.

Write the Doctor.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the Doctor about it.
Address, DR. J. C. AYER,
Lowell, Mass.

A Self-Interested Prescription.

Uncle Erastus—Want to know how to cure that wart, sonny? Take a dime an' throw it over your shoulder an' walk away. You mustn't look after it, an' you mustn't know where it went.

Charlie—Well, I guess I'll try it some other time, uncle. If I threw it over my shoulder while you were around I'm afraid I would know where it had gone.—Harlem Life.

Hard to Find.

[illegible] hard to find. There's a good deal of heroism in this world."

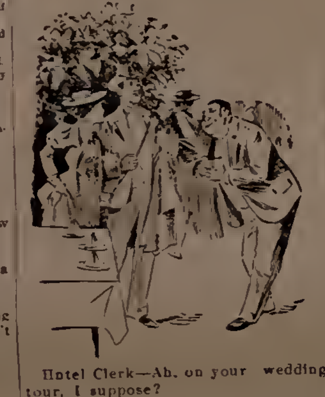
"Yes; but she wants a hero with money."

"Oh, that's different. Two ideals in one."—Chicago Post.

Before and After.

Like a candidate for office is the man who loves a maid.
He is free to promise everything before;
And, likewise, after taking, he forgets the part he played,
Nor is under obligations any more.
—Chicago Daily News.

A SCHEME THAT FAILED.



Hotel Clerk—Ah, on your wedding tour, I suppose?

Guest—Quite right; but we must nevertheless insist upon having a first-class dinner.—Fliegende Blatter.

Crowded Out.

He never told his love because
Her lively tongue made such a din
That, though he much desired a pause,
He found no chance the girl to win.
—Chicago Tribune.

Practical Remedy.

Caller (with manuscript)—Then you can't use the poem? May I ask what ails it?

Editor—Well, it lacks what might be called the true poetic fire.

Caller—Couldn't that be—ah—imported it in some way?

Editor—Well, you might try sticking it in the stove.—Chicago Tribune.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system.

Price 75c. per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Testimonials free.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Church Services.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4. Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Methodist church — Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. S. Halfyard on "The Christian Race." No evening service. Sunday school at 12. Epworth league at 6.30.

Universalist church.—Rev. Dwight M. Hodge, D. D., pastor, will preach at 10.30 on "The Difference Between a Man and an Angel." Last service before vacation. Y. P. C. U. at 6.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev. I. W. Sneath, Ph. D. Sunday school at 12. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6.30, closing with a short address by the pastor. No evening service.

Baptist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. F. B. Sleeper, pastor; subject, "The Law of Forgiveness." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Preaching at 7.30; subject, "Strength and Weakness." A short after service in the vestry.

SHELDONVILLE.

Mrs. Thayer of Ashland is visiting Mrs. Mary Sheldon.

Mrs. I. M. Patten is visiting at Rev. E. Harris' of Still River.

Mrs. G. Sheldon is entertaining a friend from Dorchester.

Miss Laura Arnold of Waltham was at her house here last week.

Miss Lena Newell is spending a week with friends in Providence.

C. E. Thomas wheeled to Plymouth Saturday, returning Monday.

Lyman Parmenter has returned from a two weeks visit in Fall River.

Mrs. D. C. Cudworth is enjoying a visit from her mother of Chicago.

Fred Brown of Beverly is visiting at C. E. Pitman's of West Wrentham.

There are a number of boarders at Pine Hedge summer boarding house.

Fred Laporte has moved into the tenement recently vacated by Chas. Nash.

Oscar Mowry of Providence is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Roxy Farnsworth.

Miss L. B. Bittinger is visiting relatives in Cambridge and West Roxbury.

Esther Thomas has returned from a visit with Florence Crane of Rumney, N. H.

A cottage prayer meeting was held Tuesday evening at the home of S. D. Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Moceason and children of Boston are at J. W. McEwen's for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Oliver have gone on a driving trip to South Framingham and vicinity.

Rev. Charles J. White of Woonsocket will occupy the pulpit at West Wrentham Universalist church next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Esley of Boston, Misses Nellie and Lucy Borden of Fall River are visiting at Mrs. E. F. Parmenter's.

Some of the young people from here attended the picnic given by Miss Grace Brown at Red Spring cottage, Lake Pearl, W[illegible]

[illegible]d Effect.

[illegible]dn't you come to school yesterday?

Tommy Traddles—Please, I was sick.

Teacher—What was the matter with you?

Tommy Traddles—I was sick of school.—Harlem Life.

Unsophisticated.

First Tramp—When you wuz a boy did you ever expect to be in dis business?

Second Tramp—No;—in me childish innocence I t'ought it wuz necessary to work fer a livin'.—Puck.

Further Explained.

"Did you say that gentleman made his fortune by some important discoveries in medical lore?"

"Yes," answered Miss Cayenne. "He discovered a new way to advertise a reliable recipe."—Washington Star.

Its Equivalent.

Physician—I don't believe you are carrying out my directions at all. I limited you to one ten-cent cigar a day.

Patient—That's all right, doctor. I smoke ten one-cent stogies. It's the same thing.—Chicago Tribune.

Strong and Swift.

Farmer Lott—I see Neighbor Skinner's cheese took a prize at the fair.

Farmer Shott—Well, all Skinner has to do is to unchain his cheese and it's apt to get there.—Yonkers Statesman.

Yes, Indeed.

The growth of the cannon cracker tends Encouragement emphatic
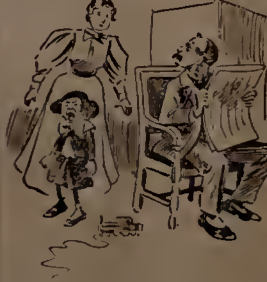
To the thought that fool killing eventually
Will be quite automatic.
—Detroit Journal.

KNOCKING, GENTLY KNOCKING.



Mrs. Peck—I have a mind of my own.

Henry Peck—Not all of it.

Mrs. Peck—Why not?

Henry Peck—You just gave me a piece of it.—Chicago Daily News.

His Mark.

He started out to make his mark,
And in the wheat pit tried his luck:
With warning words men still point out
Then dented spot whereon he struck.
—Chicago Daily News.

Perfect Impunity.

Thirsty Thornton—Dese blind men have got er snap.

Soiled Sammy—Dat's so. Dey don't run no risk when dey looks fer work.
—N. Y. Journal.

A New Arrangement.

Dorothy had been taken to the henhouse and had seen the hens on their nests, which were arranged one above the other. On reentering the house she exclaimed, delightedly: "Oh, mamma! grandpa's got a whole book case full of hens."—Judge.

No Mistake About It.

Guest (angrily) — Say, landlord, you've made a mistake somewhere. This bill is about double what it ought to be.

Landlord (suavely)—Oh, no, there is no mistake, sir. I counted every item twice to make sure.—Town Topics.

A Champion.

Mrs. Ipsley—They say your husband is one of the best golf players in this town.

Mrs. Wanston—Oh, yes, he is a thorough master of it. Why, he can actually talk the language in his sleep.—Chicago Daily News.

Those Dear Girls.

"How do you like this engagement ring Mr. Poppers gave me?" asked the summer girl.

"I always admired it," said her dear friend, "and hated to part with it when I broke with Mr. Poppers early in the season."—Philadelphia Record.

Hit It the First Time.

Mrs. Matchman—Look how earnestly Rose and Mr. Beach are bidding each other good night at the gate. I am sure there's something between them.

Mr. Matchman—So am I; it's the gate.—Judge.

Conceit.

Just what conceit is often puzzles me
Or vice or virtue I can't tell, although Whene'er I mention it my friends but smile
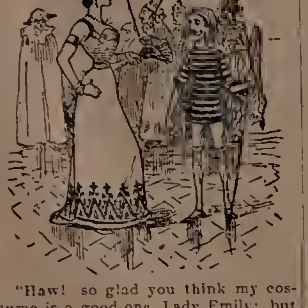
And say, of all men, that I ought to know
—Harlem Life.

WORTH SEEING.



"Haw! so glad you think my costume is a good one, Lady Emily; but I should like you to see me as Hercules."

"Yes; I would not miss that for worlds."—Ally Sloper.

A Distinction.

They say he's right who cards eschews,
That gambling is a sin;
It's gambling only when you lose,
Amusement when you win.
—Judge.

In Deadly Earnest.

"He says he intends the world shall hear from him some day."

"Indeed!"

"Oh, yes. He's learning to play the trombone."—Chicago Post.

Of Course They Do.

Greene—Do they play golf in Germany?

Redd—Oh, yes; haven't you ever heard of the Frankfurter links?—Yonkers Statesman.

Reason Enough.

Graham—Going to move? What for?

White—They've got a baby next door to my house, and it makes so much noise my dog can hardly get a wink of sleep at night.—Boston Transcript.

Couldn't Keep Them.

"Yes," said the first theatrical manager, "I'm changing my bills weekly."

"You're in luck," said the other manager. "I have to change my bills the minute I get them."—N. Y. Journal.

At the Shrine of Taste.

"Do tell me, Etta! Is it true? They say your engagement with Mr. Smith is off!"

"It is true. It was broken off at my request. His name would not hyphenate well with mine. Think how Etta Black-Smith would sound."—Chicago Tribune.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

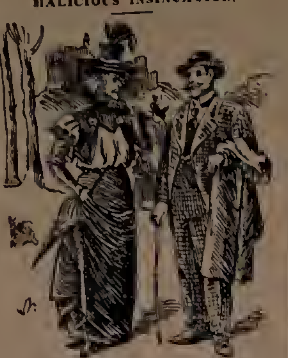
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE
Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

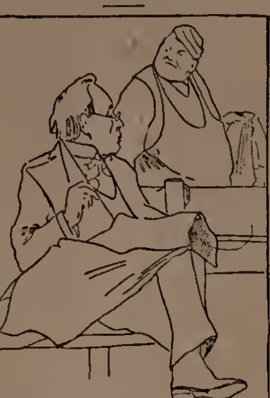
MALICIOUS INSINUATION.



Miss Elderly—Do you remember the time when we went to dancing school together?

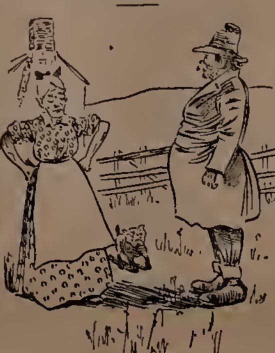
Oldboy—Quite well. Why that was scarcely 40 years ago.—Fliegende Blaetter.

WHY HE WISHED IT LARGE.



Professor—Walter, bring me a sirloin steak, and have it a large one. I'm so nervous to-day that every little thing annoys me.—German Comic Paper.

ANOTHER ONE OF THEM.



Old Mrs. Hankypank—Why, ain't you the same tramp I gave one of my darter's cooking school pies to last year?

Lionel Montmorency—Yes'm, but, Lord bless you! it didn't hurt me—I'm an immune.—N. Y. Evening Journal.

Bad Form.

"What a painful, shocking way to take one's self out of the world it must be to drink carbolic acid," remarked the young woman in the fur jacket.

"Shocking?" replied the young woman in the yellow buskins. "It's worse than that. It's disgraceful. It's the way the servant girls commit suicide!"—Chicago Tribune.

A Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost me $5.00 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at A. C. Mason's drug store.

Balsams from the Northern Wood are in Pyny-Pectoral, the certain cure for coughs.

Try Allen's Foot-Ease,

A powder to be shaken into the shoes. Your feet feel swollen, nervous and hot, and get tired easily. If you have smarting feet or tight shoes, try Allen's Foot-Ease. It cools the feet and makes walking easy. Cures swollen, sweating feet, ingrowing nails; blisters and callous spots. Relieves corns and bunions of all pain and gives rest and comfort. Try it today. Sold by all druggists and shoe stores at 25 cents. Trial packages free. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy N. Y.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

BUCHANAN, MICH., May 22
Genesse Pure Food Co., Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—My mamma has been a great coffee drinker and has found it very injurious. Having used several packages of your Grain-O, the drink that takes the place of coffee, she finds it much better for herself and for us children to drink. She has given up coffee drinking entirely. We use a package of Grain O every week. I am ten years old.

Yours respectfully,
FANNIE WILLIAMS.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON)

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.
Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.
ap14-Ftf

LOW RATES
3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION
APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less, - 10c
5 to 15 miles, - - 15c
15 to 25 " - - 20c
25 to 35 " - - 25c
35 to 45 " - - 30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript
(No Sunday Edition).

THE GREATEST PAPER IN NEW ENGLAND
FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms."

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT

Is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

News and Opinions OF National Importance.

THE SUN ALONE CONTAINS BOTH.

Daily, by mail, - - - - $6 a year
Daily and Sunday, by mail, $8 a year

The Sunday Sun

Is the greatest Sunday Newspaper in the world.

Price 5c. a copy. By mail $2 a year.

Address THE SUN, New York.

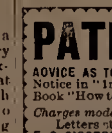
HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW
Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

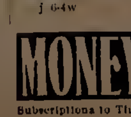


CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co. Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

jly20-4w

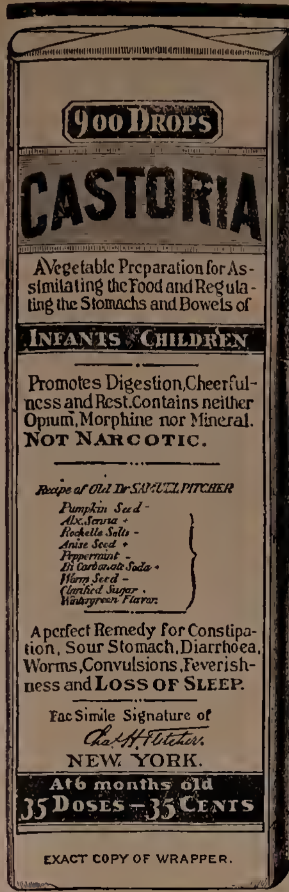
PATENTS
DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.



PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Cleanses and beautifies the hair.
Promotes a luxuriant growth.
Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color.
Cures scalp diseases & hair falling.
50c, and $1.00 at Druggists

j 6-4w

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.
Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum.



900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed
Alx. Senna
Rochelle Salts
Anise Seed
Peppermint
Bi Carbonate Soda
Worm Seed
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor.
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES — 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

GEMS IN VERSE.

"Only a Private Killed."

A face upturned to the copper sky,
A tight clenched hand and a glazing eye,
A red, red splotch on a blouse of blue—
Only a private—nothing new—
"Only a private killed."

A sunbrowned cheek that is glassy pale,
A choking gasp and a half sobbed wail;
"Tell mother"—his heart to hers must call.
Only a private lost—that's all—
"Only a private killed."

Dead—with a smile in his clear brown eyes,
Grim and motionless there he lies.
Dead—for his country's flag's fair fame—
Only a private. What's his name?
"Only a private killed."

Only a mother's heart somewhere
Torn with grief for her boy so fair—
The boy whose smile she will never see.
It was a cheap bought victory—
"Only a private killed."
—Baltimore American.

Tit For Tat.

He'd popped the vital question, her answer had been prompt,
And on his breast was glued her little head,
While through their love thrilled bosoms the god of rapture romped
As swiftly on the happy moments sped.
Then, turning up her glances to mingle with his own,
This query at her darling one she shoved,
Her accent half a dove coo and half a doubtful moan,
"Am I the only girl you ever loved?"

He swallowed a lump that arose in his neck,
His face wore a secondhand blush;
His voice seemed a sad, unavailable wreck,
Refusing to banish the hush,
And into her eyes came a flicker of pain,
Her lips pursed in questioning pout,
And quickly she fired the same query again,
Her bosom all riddled with doubt.

Then came an inspiration like lightning from the skies;
His heart retreated to its usual place.
He sent his counter glances deep down into her eyes;
The hot, rose tinted blushes quit his face.
Like retributive music the painful sentence ran
And struck her pinky ears with cruel spat
As quietly he asked her, "Am I the only man
You ever fired that old conundrum at?"

She snuggled again awful close to his breast;
The beat of her blushes he felt
Clear through his shirt front and reversible vest
Till he thought they would blister his pelt,
And he grinned like a fiend from adown the dark stairs,
Where the red fire unquenchingly burns,
And they handled their subsequent sparking affairs
Without going behind the returns.
—Denver Post.

The Law of Being.

So long as the earth on its axis shall turn
And circling its orbit shall go,
So long as the sun on its summers shall burn,
So long as its rivers shall flow;
So long as the tide of its oceans shall rise
And ebb and its mountains endure,
So long as the stars shall begem the night skies,
We shall bear the sad wail of the poor.

And they who today are the poor shall be rich,
And they who are rich shall be poor,
And this is the wisdom of heaven by which
The safeguard of being is sure;
And if there were neither apparent extreme
Of station and wealth to compare
Our lives' very sameness to mortals would seem
A penance too grievous to bear.

But through the mutations of being there flows
This law of infinite degree,
And herein creative intelligence shows
What mankind has e'er failed to see,
That were it not for this arrangement, all wise,
Our consciousness never would gain
The thrill of sensation, and even our eyes
In darkness would ever remain.

Consider a moment just what it would mean
(If such a thing ever could be)
If there were no contrast in life to be seen,
In man or in flower or tree;
No varying shade in the red of the rose,
No change in the violet's blue,
No sickness or trials, no grievance or woes,
No false to compare with the true.

Or think if, for instance, fair Sympathy had No object on which she might spend
Her bountiful treasures, no suffering, sad,
No penury where she might lend;
Ah, soon would her beautiful face among men
Be seen nevermore, for 'tis said
That she can live only by giving, and then
Sweet Sympathy soon would be dead.

So, were there no hatred there could be no love,
No false, there could never be truth;
Were there no below there could be no above,
No oldness, there could be no youth;
No joy could we know had we never a pain,
No sweet could we taste without sour,
And were there no losing there could be no gain,
No weakness, there could be no power.

And thus in this law of duality rest
The very foundations of life
And those who are ever cast down and distressed
Because there are sorrow and strife
Should learn to discern, if they're not all too dull,
That naught can the matter amend,
For if some great power this law should annul
Our very existence would end.
—Emile Pickhardt in Boston Globe.

An Angel Unawares.

Suppose for every act of love and duty
An angel in the path of life should lay
A lovely rose of sweet perfume and beauty;
Ah, even then, how bare would be the way?

Suppose for every kindly word unspoken,
For every fault which careless hands had done,
For every resolution made and broken,
A thorn beneath our erring feet had grown—

Ah, then the way would be one stretch of anguish,
With only here and there a flower to cheer;
Our feet would falter and our spirits languish,
And life would be a burden hard to bear.

But seldom are we outwardly rewarded
According to the deeds which we have done;
"The pure in heart" are by the world discarded,
The wicked harvest where the good have sown.

And yet to every heart in darkness hidden
There comes an angel, whom we cannot see,
Who strives to keep us from the paths forbidden
And in the narrow way where faith may be.

His name is Conscience, and he brings us roses—
Sweet roses, borrowed from the brow of Peace—
Or thorns on which remorseful thought reposes,
Regrets whose sharp tormentings never cease.

Then let us strive temptation's storm to weather;
Let every thought and every deed improve
Till Conscience finds no cruel thorns to gather,
But crowns the soul with joy and peace and love.
—T. R. Shelton in Richmond Religious Herald.

Death.

Death is a name. Death is the portal
Unto a higher way.
Life is eternal. Man is immortal.
Rising victorious,
Radiant, glorious,
Out of the clay;
Out of the bounds of time,
Into the realms sublime,
Into a golden clime,
Into the day.
—Denver News.

The Watermelon Way.

I up en gone at de breakin er de day,
En I plowin up de grass so dat he'll never come ter hay,
En I wish de furrow lead me ter de watermelon way,
Kaze I hongry fer de melon in de mawnin!

I up en gone at de breakin er de day;
Dar's fishin in de river, but I ain't got time ter stay,
En I pray de road'll lead me ter de watermelon way,
Kaze I hongry fer de melon in de mawnin!

Oh, I wish dat I wuz livin whar de watermelon stay
'Stid er follerin de furrow at de breakin er de day,
Kaze de road I knows de bes', suh, go de watermelon way,
En I hongry fer de melon in de mawnin!
—Atlanta Constitution.

Knocked Silly.

"My dear," said Growells, "you are simply talking nonsense."

"I know it," replied his better half, "but it's because I want you to understand what I say."—Chicago News.

Bored.

I say that life's a hollow show,
That nothing's worth while here below
Or any other place;
But when I have on all my rings
And some sweet gown of filmy things
And lots of lace,

And go to dine with Mrs. Rich
And half the men are trying which Shall be the one
To make me talk the most and laugh,
Why, life's not a bad thing by half;
It's rather fun.
—Town Topics.

How They Did It.

"Mamie wouldn't sing for us because she wanted to be teased."

"And did you tease her?"

"Oh, terribly! We didn't ask her again."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Her Peculiar Advantage.

When, in a case of strife, the politician's wife
Desired, in her sweet, witch way, to flout him,
No common things she said, but held him while she read
What opposition papers said about him.
—Chicago Record.

Lowliness is young ambition's ladder,
Whereto the climber upward turns his face.
But when he once attains the upmost round
He then unto the ladder turns his back,
Looks in the clouds, scorning the base degrees
By which he did ascend.
—Shakespeare.

IN THE CATHEDRAL.

The city's burning heart beats far outside
This dim cathedral, where the mystic air
Vibrates with voices of impassioned prayer
From generations that have lived and died.
Calm saints, despairing sinners, here have cried
To heaven for mercy; myriad lives laid bare
Their secret places, yielding to Christ's care
The burden, where his sacraments abide.
Soft from the jeweled windows falls the light,
Touching the incense laden atmosphere
To glory, while a deep antiphony
Rolls from the organ to the arches' height.
To soul and sense a Presence liveth here
Instinct with power of immortality.
—Katharine Coolidge in Atlantic Monthly.

Ordered to Africa

By Clifford Mills.

A Touching Sketch of a Young Man Going to the War.

Mother rose softly, slipped on her dressing gown and slippers and stole along the corridor to Bob's room.

Bob lay, six feet of British manhood, yellow haired, straight limbed, deep chested, sound asleep.

Bob smiled and awoke and saw mother looking down upon him.

"My baby! My boy!" mother murmured. "Oh, my darling!"

Bob bore it with admirable grace, but he did not like it—not a little bit—and as soon as he could be wriggled himself free and asked the time.

There was time and to spare, and mother said if he did not mind she would like to read one of the morning psalms to him; it would comfort her, she said. And Bob consented, like the gentleman he was, and lay still while she read, thinking what pretty hair she had—it fell in a long plait right below her waist. Then she kissed him again and went. And when he was quite sure he could count on isolation Bob got up and wandered among the litter of uniform cases and portmanteaus that lay about the floor. Then he took up his Glengarry and, putting it on, regarded his reflection in the mirror with complacency. And his pride must be excused, for he was a newly fledged subaltern of 20 years, recalled from leave to rejoin his battalion, which sailed on the morrow for the seat of war.

A knock came at the door, and his sister, his junior by three years, entered the room. It was easy to see she had been weeping, but Bob expected as much and in his heart did not resent it. He put his arm round her waist and kissed her.

"Nearly time to be off!" he cried with almost brutal cheerfulness and turned to strap his portmanteau, whistling a martial ditty.

Nell sat down on the edge of the bed and surveyed the array of baggage with mixed feelings. She was very proud of Bob. He was a dear hero. But if only the war were over and he back again, crowned with glory! Other girls' brothers had gone, and—well, she would not let herself think. She wished she had been kinder to Bob in the days gone by. Now the little unthought of omissions would be ghosts to haunt her conscience till he was back again. She would like to have told Bob she was sorry, but she knew he would laugh at her for a little goose, and, besides, it would look as if she felt this was indeed goodby. So she choked back the lump in her throat and sat with brave eyes stoically watching Bob, who stood in the window examining his revolver.

But strive as she would she could not check the thoughts that the sight brought to her mind. Bob with a revolver in his hand—yes, but far away in the midst of the din and smoke of battle, surrounded by the foe; dauntless, wounded, bloody—dying, dying! With a little cry, she rose to her feet.

Bob, who had been taking careful aim at the gas globe, turned at the sound. "Hello!" he exclaimed. "What's up, Nell? You look as if you had seen a ghost." Then his eyes followed her gaze. "Little coward!" he cried teasingly. "I believe you got funky at the sight of this revolver."

Nell stopped short on her way to the door; then she gave a queer little laugh. "Well, perhaps I did," she said and went quickly from the room.

Bob went back and finished his packing. Then he caught up his portmanteau and helmet case and went down stairs.

In the hall Perkins, the manservant, met him and hurried forward, with a scared face. "Oh, sir," he cried reproachfully, "you shouldn't, really, sir. I wouldn't have had it happen for worlds, sir," he said pathetically as he took the case and portmanteau from Bob's hands.

"Oh, it is all right, Perkins," Bob answered, with splendid condescension; whereupon one of the housemaids, who was a witness of the scene, hurried off to the kitchen below.

"He's down," she exclaimed breathlessly, "a-carrying of his own portmanteau and looking as handsome and cheerful for all the world as if he was a-going to be married instead of off to the war!"

"Poor dear!" said cook as she turned the chops. "Poor innocent dear!"

Perkins hurried down at this moment. "To think," he cried tragically, "as he's strapped his own traps and carried down his own portmanteau, and he off to the war! I'd have lost a whole month's wage sooner than this here should have happened. Supposing he's killed, and I've got to remember that he waited on hisself the last morning!"

"Ain't he cheerful?" said Mary, the housemaid. "He don't look as if he meant to be killed."

"Oh, they none of 'em means to be killed. But that don't make bullets blank cartridges," Perkins answered grimly.

In the meantime mother had dressed. She had borne up bravely throughout. Once, though, her lips had trembled. That was when the sound of Bob's gay whistling had reached her ears. But even then loving pride had flashed into her eyes and choked down sorrow. Her boy was brave—brave and true—and duty, she knew full well, would find him a hero.

She wondered if father, who was in the dressing room, could hear the sound. She would like to have called to him, only she was just a little hurt at his apparent unconcern at his son's departure. But, after all, she thought, he was only a man; he could not know a mother's heart; his breast had not pillowed the little sunny head in the years gone by; he had not cried with joy when the little feet had taken their first unsteady steps across the floor. How well she remembered that day, and how proud she had felt of her son! He was such a fine, big baby. She had placed him against a chair, and he had looked up at her with round eyes of wonder. Then, when her meaning came to him, he had not hesitated a moment; he had thrown back his little head and, with a scream of delight, walked bravely forward right into her loving, waiting arms. And now—now—She brushed aside her tears, for she heard father coming.

Father entered the room quickly, but paused on the threshold. To tell the truth, he had thought mother down stairs. He had been trying to remember that day when Bob had ridden the new pony for the first time so pluckily whether the lad had been breeched or not. He knew the picture was on mother's dressing table, and he had come in to look at it, and there stood mother with the photograph in her hand.

"Humph!" exclaimed father. "So you have not gone down?" And his voice was not conciliatory, for he felt that every one that morning, himself included, was wearing his heart on his sleeve, and a sense of lost dignity was irritating him.

Mother's heart swelled at the tone. She put down the photograph and looked up at father with a look in which reproach and sorrow mingled, and then suddenly she turned aside, and her hands busied themselves among the brushes and trays on the dressing table, for her quick eye had detected that father was wearing odd boots—a buttoned and a laced up one. To think of it! He, the soul of precision, to thus betray himself! But there his abstraction stood confessed. And, oh, how mother loved him for it! He had been such a stoic too! Well, there was no accounting for man's ways; but, thank God, he had put on odd boots that morning! She no longer felt lonely in her grief. He cared, too; his heart was aching also for their son's departure. Oh, those blessed odd boots!

But she knew his nature and stood for a moment wondering how best to tell him of his mistake without annoying him. And presently mother, on her way down stairs, tapped at the dressing room outer door. "One of your lace boots," she said. "I stumbled over it. I have put it down outside." Then she waited until she heard father swearing softly to himself. Then she knew matters would right themselves and went down stairs.

At breakfast somehow nobody had much to say. Bob wanted to talk, but felt that his one topic—his luck at being sent to the front—would not be exactly congenial to his listeners. So he refrained and ate a hearty breakfast.

He would carry the memory of his last meal away with him to the faroff land. The tender face of mother, smiling bravely from behind the bubbling, steaming urn; the dainty spread table, the pleasant, luxurious room, with its handsome pictures; the broad bow window, from which he could see the dear old garden where he had played as a child; the loving eyes of Nell beaming upon his across the table. Yes, home was home, although he was the luckiest subaltern in the service.

By and by the trap was at the door, and the servants gathered in the hall to wish him good luck and godspeed. Bob shook hands with them all and thanked them, and then he stood with mother in the porch—alone. He could not see her face distinctly for the mist across his eyes, and the next moment he and father were walking quickly down the drive, along which the dogcart was going slowly forward to await them at the gates beyond. Father remarked that the new gamekeeper was giving satisfaction and that there was every prospect of the covers yielding better sport the next autumn.

"We shall have you home again before then, my boy," he said.

"Rather, sir," answered Bob. "We shall not take long to settle this little affair."

At the lodge the gamekeeper's four boys were standing in a row. They had three cornered paper hats on their heads and wooden swords in their hands, and they greeted Bob with sundry salutes and hurrahs. And Bob laughed and gave them a penny each. "You must keep up your drilling," he said. "We shall be wanting new recruits in the regiment by and by."

And then the gate was opened, and Bob climbed to the back seat of the cart. Far away, at the house, something fluttered white from a window, and Bob took out his handkerchief and signaled back again. Then the boys cheered afresh, and the trap turned into the lane, and home was already a thing of the past.

As they drove through the village there was not a doorway that had not some one standing on the threshold to bid him godspeed.

"'Tis the young squire off to the war!" they cried one to the other, and the men's eyes flashed and their voices rose, but the women's eyes filled with tears as they saw him drive past. "God keep him," they said, "and comfort his mother's heart!" For they knew that the men gave willingly their lives for their country, but that the gift of the women was something dearer than life.

And all the while Bob's heart was singing to him. He did not know that the song had come down to him from the long ago time when the sea kings had gone forth with their battle songs to be the terror and conquerors of distant lands. He did not know. But so it was, and 'twas a goodly heritage, of which Bob in his joy and impatience recked little.

So the station was reached and the last goodby spoken, and father grasped Bob's hands. "You will—do your duty," father said. "I am sure of it."

And Bob's face flushed. "Thank you, sir," he answered in a husky voice. "And—my love—to mother."—Pall Mall Magazine.

The Voyder.

The voyder was a large dish in which were collected the broken victuals, which were removed from the table with a large knife with a broad, flat blade, called the voyder knife, from vider, to empty, clear or make void.

"The Boke of Nurture," by Hugh Rhodes, the date of which is 1577, one of the curious set of handbooks of manners and etiquette reproduced by the Early English Text society, speaks of these vessels as follows: "See ye have voyders ready for to void the morsels, that they doe leave on their trenchers. Then with your trencher knyfe take off such fragments and put them in your voyder, and then sette them downe cleane agayne."

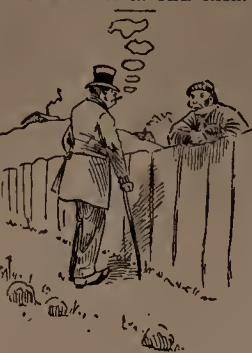
Few silver ones remain, but some large brass voyder or dishes which have probably been so used may still be seen, of the history of which nothing is known by their present owners.—"Old English Plate," by W. J. Cripps.

To the Strict Letter.

"Mary," said the lady of the house, "you didn't put any salt in this bread."

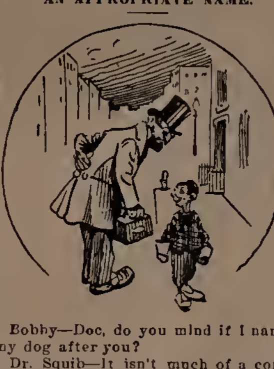
"But," replied the new girl, "didn't the master say yesterday he wouldn't have nothing but fresh bread on his table, mum?"—Philadelphia North American.

THE FACTS IN THE CASE.



"Did he leave his wife much?"
"Every night."—Boston Herald.

AN APPROPRIATE NAME.

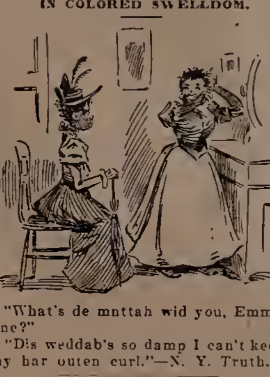


Bobby—Doc, do you mind if I name my dog after you?

Dr. Squib—It isn't much of a compliment, Bobby. Is he a good dog?

Bobby—No. But he's a lalapoloosa for killin'.—Philadelphia Press.

IN COLORED SWELLDOM.



"What's de muttah wid you, Emmeline?"

"Dis weddah's so damp I can't keep my har outen curl."—N. Y. Truth.

Glorious News

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile of Washita, I. T. He writes "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved—that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists. Guaranteed.

His Accompanist.

Robbins—Who is that fellow who always accompanies Old Soque?

Higbee—A snake charmer.—Harlem Life.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from rectal fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co., druggists.

Jell-O, the New Dessert, pleases all the family. Four flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. At your grocers. 10 cts. Try it today.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

You never read of such cures elsewhere as those accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla, did you? It is America's greatest medicine.

Cheap Generosity.

Mamma—See how willing baby is to give me a piece of candy.

Johnny — Huh! He knows you're only pretending to take it.—Puck.

You May Need
Pain-Killer
For Cuts Burns Bruises
Cramps Diarrhœa All Bowel Complaints
It is a sure, safe and quick remedy.
There's ONLY ONE
Pain-Killer
Perry Davis'.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

AN ADVERTISEMENT
Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m; 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 16, f5 26, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD — 9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m; 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 45, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 03, 9 03 a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m; 1 12, 4 30, 5 28, 6 55 p m; S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m; 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 6 35 p m.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices.

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week............ 50
Single Gallon............ 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.
17-tfT

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.

Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.

S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative
Paper Hanging.

FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED

SHOP AND RESIDENCE,
McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST

Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J. Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m. 12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tf8

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
CHIROPODIST.
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.

Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment — M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, G. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.

MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

DON'T SWEAR. JUST SMILE.

At Your Toes,

that are giving you such excruciating pains from corns, for Schlotterbeck's Corn Cure will give you relief and permanent cure by using it according to directions given.

Schlotterbeck's IS THE BEST AND MOST EASILY APPLIED CORN CURE IN THE MARKET, and will cure bunions, corns and warts.

SOLD BY

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.

DANA BLOCK.

The Anarchist Is Right.

Mrs. Binks—A noted anarchist of Chicago says that people will wake up some fine morning, and find that Russell Sage has lost every dollar.

Mr. Binks—That's so, every word of it.

"My goodness! When will it be, do you think?"

"When he dies."—N. Y. Weekly.

Declared His Intentions.

Fond Mother—Has Sig. Arturo, with whom you have been dancing all the evening, at last declared his intentions?

"Yes, mamma."

"Thank goodness! And what did he say?"

"He declared he would never get married."—Roxbury Gazette.

Argument.

"Leonidas," exclaimed Mrs. Meekton, suddenly interrupting herself, "do you remember how this argument started?"

"Yes, Henrietta. You said that I always insisted on arguing a point and I said that you did, and then the conversation gradually developed."—Washington Star.

Spiteful Thing.

Maud—Young Mr. Swift called to see me last night.

Irene—Swift? I'm not sure I know him. He has a long, dark, curling mustache, hasn't he?

Maud—No, but he has the next thing to a mustache.

Irene—What's that?

Maud—A nose.—Chicago Tribune.

Read the Business Announcements

NORFOLK.

Electric lights are looked for in Norfolk soon.

Sarah F. Holbrook is at the summer normal school, Hyannis.

The grange will hold their field day at C. O. Green's on Aug. 14.

The hook and ladder company have bought the old North school house.

The Pomona grange will hold a field day at Norumbega park next Wednesday.

The same teachers who taught in the public schools last year have been re-engaged. Miss Holbrook will have an increase of salary.

List of Unclaimed Letters.

Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Franklin for week ending July 18, 1900:

Ladies—Mrs. W. W. Bailey, Parthenia, L. Chadwick, Mary A. Egan.

Gentlemen—John Hubbard, Joe Regeli, M. F. Sullivan, Fred W. Smith, C. H. Sturtevant, N. Yacter, Harry Sutherland, Willard H. Young, Guiseppe Nanni, Domenico Visenone.

Persons claiming the above will please say "advertised" and give date of above list.

The Non-Irritating Cathartic

Easy to take, easy to operate—

Hood's Pills

THE ROSE = FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE = = FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." = FOR BARGAINS.

GO-CARTS, $8.00 == Nice.

Never heard a baby complain yet. Babies are all right in one of "Cook's Rolling Stock. Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly.

Everybody waits for their car in our store—so nice and cool. Try it

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,

67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

MED FIELD AND WAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning; last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tfS

Special and Important.

All our Trimmed Hats at half price. All our Straw Hats in fancy shapes, Flowers and Fancy Trimmings of all kinds marked to about half price. Children's 25c. Straw Hats 12½c.

Our Milliner will remain till the 21st Inclusive. This will give all who wish late Millinery a chance to obtain a stylish hat very cheap.

Marston Sanborn,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

Agent for New Idea Patterns, 10c.
Agent for New Home Sewing Machine.

BUTTONS MADE FROM YOUR OWN CLOTH.

Had Seen One.

"Did you ever see a horse race that you could say was absolutely honest?"

"I think I did, wunst," said Rubberneck Bill. "The feller what was ahead had stoled the hoss."—Indianapolis Journal.

Can You Tell Why

You have constant headaches, are nervous and sleepless at night and feel tired in the morning? Your blood isn't carrying the right materials to your nerves and other organs. Begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood enricher, and you will soon realize a change. You will feel better and stronger, will relish your food and enjoy refreshing sleep.

Nausea, indigestion are cured by Hood's Pills.

Before and After.

Singleton—Before she married you your wife was always very pensive.

Benedick (sadly)—Yes; but she's expensive now.—Brooklyn Life.

The Appetite of a Goat

Is envied by all poor dyspeptics whose stomach and liver are out of order. All such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills, the wonderful stomach and liver remedy, gives a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25c at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

Hoag Lake PARK.

WEEK OF JULY 16

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.30.

Boom's Comedians

INCLUDING

Brooks Bros., comedians, from Keith's, Boston.
Barry and Russell, the "Dago" and "Monk," from Weber & Fields', New York.
Henrietta Dreyer, prima donna soprano, from Keith's, Boston.
Bartelmas, the foot juggler, from Ringling Bros.' Circus.
Nick Brown, pianist,

AND MANY OTHERS.

UNDER DIRECTION OF

MORRIS BOOM.

je26-1ocl

REPAIRING

Do you ever have any watch, clock or jewelry repairing that no one cares to do? Bring it to us. Nothing too difficult. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Jalbert & Farrington,

Jewelers and Opticians

160 MAIN ST.,
WOONSOCKET, R. I.
Sign of the Electric Clock.

del-Fly

WANTED.

Experienced Fur Felt Finishers,

about July 16th, on Ladies' Felt Hats.

Address HIRSH & PARK,
Medway, Mass.

jly3-1m

At

WOODWARD'S

every description of

INSURANCE

can be placed. This

ACENCY

officially represents the

LEADING

American and Foreign

COMPANIES.

F. A. WOODWARD Dana Block, Franklin, Mass.
my4-lyF

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Sabin Hubbard, late of Franklin, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

E. E. HUBBARD, Administrator.

Address 111 Devonshire street, Boston, Mass.
July 1, 1900. jly20,27,3

Couldn't Translate It.

"Is that your baby?" asked the interested party. "What a cute little child! What is he saying now?"

"I don't know," replied the perplexed father. "You see, his mother carries the code book."—Philadelphia North American.

Suggests Itself.

Amateur Scientist—Can you explain to me the reason why so many people become insane?

Guyer—The answer ought to suggest itself—they have no reason.—

Revised to Suit.

"My motto," said the new boarder, "is to pay as you go."

The landlady shook her head.

"It wouldn't do in my business," she said. "A man might hang around a month and then forget his motto. My motto is pay Saturday night or go."—N. Y. Journal.

[illegible] [illegible]ient.

[illegible] singing make a [illegible]

[illegible] fellow it was just [illegible] Illustrated Amer

...OUR...

Effervescent Lithia Tablets

...CURE...

CHRONIC RHEUMATISM,
GOUTY CONDITION
AND
CHRONIC STOMACH DISORDERS.

25c. Bottle....

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

CHOICE LINE ..OF.. Linen Skirts,

50c, 75c., $1.00.

..NOW READY..

Butterick's Patterns and Delineators for August.

N. C. NYE,

FLETCHER BLOCK.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-S

Coal! Coal!

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,

DEPOT STREET.

jly10-S

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

Chilson's Market

◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆◆

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef,	10 to 12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe7-ly8

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,

48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

☞ Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Attractions This Week

Afternoons at 3.30, Evenings 8.30.

Leonard & Fulton
Mulligan's Masquerade Co.
Three Shamrocks
That Girl of Paris
English comedian, Sefton
Miss May Deagle, singing and dancing.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON,

Concert by Norwood Band.

ADMISSION to the Grounds, 10c. Children, 5c. Reserved Seats in Amphitheatre 5 and 10c. extra.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

☞ Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

JUST THE WEATHER TO ENJOY A

HAMMOCK.

We have them for 75c. to $4.25.

Oil Stoves, 1, 2 and 3 burners, 50c., 98c. and $1.48.
Screen Doors and Window Screens.
Refrigerator Pans, Watering Pots.

W. E. Crowninshield

2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4mS

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary

Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap278

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.

Hattie M Fisher 1Jan0

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 59. FRANKLIN, MASS., TUESDAY, JULY 24, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Lake Pearl	4
The Plant Line	1
Commissioners' Notice	4
Hoag Lake Park	4
Crowninshield's Store	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	6.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Farmers' picnic tomorrow.

Garden products are scarce and consequently high.

The electric line to Milford may be opened this week.

Mrs. Leonard Cutler of Worcester has been visiting Mrs. A. H. Morse.

F. E. Smith and family of Somerville have been visiting relatives here.

Edgar A. Williams of West Somerville has been visiting at C. M. Allen's.

All forms of vegetation are suffering for want of rain, pasturage especially so.

Native harvest apples are in the markets and will be plentiful in a few weeks.

Miss Margaret Leahy of Uxbridge is visiting the Misses Curran of McCarthy street.

There is every indication of a big chestnut crop, as the trees are laden with blossoms.

Miss Margaret Lahey of Cambridge is the guest of the Misses Curran on McCarthy street.

The will of John Fairbanks, Eliza Fairbanks, executrix, in a bond of $7,000, has been allowed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Turner of Dorchester are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sherman.

Miss Margaret Maroney of Union street is enjoying a two weeks' vacation in Boston and Quincy.

Miss Eva L. Spence is spending a vacation with relatives and friends in Boston and Winthrop.

Mrs. Sadie Raymond of East street returned Saturday after a week's visit with friends in Worcester.

Miss Sadie Raymond of East street returned on Saturday after a week's visit with friends in Worcester.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fairfield entertained Mr. and Mrs. Fred. D. Fellows of Worcester over the Sabbath.

Mrs. John Clewley and son Chester of Providence are on a visit to kinspeople in Franklin and Wadsworth.

George Worth, after spending a week's vacation with relatives here, has returned to his home in Boston.

Our Boys went to Plainville Saturday and defeated the team there in a ten inning contest. Score, 19 to 16.

Mrs. Oliver Ingalls and family of New London, Conn., are the guests of Mrs. Nelson Corbin of Central street.

M. F. Conroy is assisting at the freight station during the absence of George Guptill, who is on a vacation in Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Thayer and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Whiting have been spending a few days at Narragansett Pier.

G. Warren Choate of Boston, Dean '90, is now a member of the brokerage firm of Norman, Cameron & Co., 27 State street.

George Bradley and Miss Emma Bradley of Somerville were guests of their sister, Mrs. P. Lennon, of West street on Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Doherty, saleslady in Sanborn's store, left last week for a two week's vacation with relatives in South Boston.

The American band orchestra (five pieces) will furnish music for the dancing at Lake Pearl on Thursday and Saturday evenings.

Flowers for the Alden club will be left at Mrs. Fred Chapman, Miss Lovering, Mrs. Dinsmore, Mrs Winchenbach, Wednesday, July 15, Walter Florani has purchased the confectionery store formerly owned by Otis Corbin, in Central square. He took possession yesterday.

A large crowd enjoyed the Norwood band concert at Lake Pearl last Sunday, appreciative of the enterprising management of the place.

Mrs. J. E. Razee's brother, Carroll Sargent, with three friends from Salem, James Robinson, Arthur Lord and Arthur Miles, are camping at Lake Pearl.

The funeral of little Florence Rollinson took place Friday morning at 9 o'clock from the home of her mother on Ray street. The interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Ernest Daniels, son of the late Amos Daniels, died at the home of William Lowell on King street, Sunday after a lingering illness with consumption. He was 28 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hecht and young son of Willimantic, Conn., who have been guests of Mrs. Arthur Nelson of Arlington street, the past two weeks, have returned to their home.

A number of dog owners, after a reminder, have remembered that there is a license tax upon the animals, and a number still neglect their annual contribution to the sheep fund.

A number from here went to North Attleboro yesterday to see that team trim the Norwich, Conn., team, the champions of the state league, 8 to 6. "Bobby" Sherman umpired.

We are getting quite a little business in our stores here from Medway, made possible by the five cent rate from that town. The rate from Medway to Milford is 10 cents and to Woonsocket 15.

Shouldn't wonder if there would be surprise pictured on the countenances of some mothers if they knew the state of affairs surrounding their daughters these summer evenings in certain localities.

Geo. S. Cook entertained the following guests from Providence on Sunday: Charles S. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Taylor.

The assessors find that the valuation list this year exceeds somewhat that of last year, the figures being $3,346,545, as against $3,223,045. That is encouraging, even though that the tax rate be a trifle higher.

Word has been received here of the safe arrival of Rev. Mr. Cook and C. H. Prince in Liverpool. After a visit about the city they went to London to be present at the big Christian Endeavor convention in session there.

Wrentham people had the pleasure last Friday morning of seeing W. K. Vanderbilt whizz through their town on his $12,000 automobile, making the run from Newport to Boston, 75 miles, in two hours and forty seven minutes.

The Unionville Sunday school enjoy an outing today, taking a trolley trip to Franklin, and then to Hoag Lake for refreshments, games, etc. The promoters of the affair have arranged that it shall be an ideal time for the school.

The Heliotype and the Trowbridge teams came together at Indian Rock park Saturday afternoon and a battle royal was the result. It took eleven innings to decide the contest, the Helios coming out ahead finally by a score of 11 to 10.

The Haywards went to North Bellingham on Saturday, where they beat that team 10 to 5 in a hotly-contested game. The Haywards were out to win and didn't propose to come home defeated. The team is developing some good players

Patrick Casey, employed at St. Mary rectory, and who dislocated his ankle while removing some of the debris of the old church a while ago, is slowly improving, but it will be eight or 10 days yet before he will be able to place his foot under him.

Richard H. Sumner, the young man who shot himself Tuesday in Foxboro, was a resident of Franklin about two years ago and was well liked by all who knew him. He was employed during his stay here in the bicycle shop owned by Lapoint on Main street.

Our young lads are taking advantage of this torrid weather to go swimming, but the danger appears to be that they will stay in too long or go in too frequently. Some of them boast of having been in as many as four or five times a day. Better be careful, boys.

The Sisters of Charity finished their retreat at Emmetsburg, Md., on Thursday, the feast of St. Vincent de Paul. From now on they they will attend the summer boarding school at Emmettsburg, which all the Sisters of the order attend during the summer months.

After several months' post graduate work Dr. Solon Abbott has been selected to conduct the woman's clinic in the Homeopathic Dispensary, Boston, on Wednesdays, in place of Dr. Currier, who is to be away for several weeks. This is a special distinction and one that the doctor fully appreciates.

Our Boys played at Plainville instead of Hopedale on Saturday, the game with the Ramblers of the latter place having been cancelled at the eleventh hour. The game at Plainville was lively and interesting, and it took 10 innings to decide it, Our Boys finally winning, 19 to 16

Sunday night a portion of the sidewalk on Main street in front of Hosford's store caved in to a depth of about two feet. An excavation was made at this spot last week for a sewer pipe and it is supposed that the hole was not properly filled in after the pipe had been laid. The walk was repaired yesterday morning.

If you want a day of genuine enjoyment and practical profit as well take in the Farmers' club and Grange picnic at Lake Pearl tomorrow. Last year there were 1,200 people there and this year promises to bring out even larger numbers. The entertainment in the afternoon in the amphitheatre is one of the attractions, in addition to the speaking.

That refreshment booth at the brow of Eagle hill, remarks Uncle Silas, is near where, in the old times, the weary traveler could obtain Plantation bitters, if he knew the ropes. Think of it; a comfortable ride to Lake Pearl for five cents, and in the old times a four-mile jolt for from 15 to 25 cts., and ache in every bone in your body. Truly, "the world do do move."

Lake Pearl presents some fine attractions this week in the way of amusement, as the management has secured a famous lot of entertainers in Al and Mamie Anderson, the black mascots; Frank Cushing and Millie Castino, acrobats; Howard and Sheafe, with Edison's biograph; Frank Clayton, America's greatest funmaker. These are worth a trip to the lake to see.

The poles on the M., A. & W, street railway are now up to the end of the road on South Main street, Milford. The arms on which the trolley wire is hung over the tracks are also all up, and as soon as four poles are set up between the Cadman farm and Howard street, the wires will be put up rapidly. It looks now as if the road would surely be running by Aug. 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Whiting and daughters, the Misses Frank, Eva and Maisie Whiting of Central street leave Wednesday morning for Long Island, Portland Harbor, Me., to be gone a month. William McLean and daughter, Mrs. Annie Burnham, Miss Nannie Burnham and Master Earl Briggs will accompany them. The trip to Boston will be by the electric cars and from Boston to Portland by boat.

Rev. Mabel MacCoy Irwin, who will be remembered here as having delivered an address in the Opera House, is making preparations to sail for the Klondike. She goes into the northwest, as an assistant to an authoress who has spent three years in Africa. The ladies will visit Cape Nome and the Klondike region to gather material for an interesting book pertaining to the gold hunters and their environments.

The Medway & Medfield electric railway has put a signboard where the line terminates on Main street announcing the different towns through which the cars pass. Two electric lights have also been placed beside it, and in the evening the names can be easily read. A number of seats also accommodate the passengers while waiting for cars. The painters also have their work of painting the poles along the line and also the bridge on the way to Medway finished.

Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock, as a young son of the late Jason Tower was driving down Central street in a buggy, the horse became unmanageable upon the approach of an electric, when opposite the house occupied by James Reardon. The horse, which is a spirited one, succeeded in freeing himself from the buggy, but not before it was badly damaged. Fortunately the boy, with the exception of a slight scratch on one of his legs, escaped without injury.

John Anderson filled up with liquor, abused his horse, endangered the lives of persons in the street and ended up by smashing his wagon last Saturday morning. Officer Jewett pulled him in and Judge Ruggles tried him at Walpole Monday on three charges—fast driving, cruelty to animals and drunkenness. He was fined $25, in default of which he went to Dedham for three months. He worked in Hardyville, but had been employed here by Robert Stewart upon his milk route at one time.

Judge Ruggles had to smile in court in Walpole last week. A man arrested in a neighboring town for drunkenness when asked to state his residence, insisted that he was from "No-where." The [illegible] recorded the place of residence [illegible] given. The [illegible] "No-[illegible] was arraigned [illegible] Judge's q[illegible]oped that the home of the defendant appeared upon the map as Franklin, a fact which aroused considerable amusement in the court room. That's where he hit us.

J. Q. Hennigan, who was here last week, inspector of steam and electric roads, has been in the plumbing business of late, and for eight years has been a selectman of North Attleboro, an office that he resigned last week. He was formerly and for many years in the railroad service, having been an engineer, conductor, operator and agent at different times. He has been assigned to the counties of Bristol, Norfolk, Barnstable Dukes and Plymouth, and to the districts of South Boston, Roxbury, West Roxbury and Dorchester.

The Universalist Sunday school held its annual outing Friday in the shape of a basket picnic at Lake Pearl and Hoag Lake. In the morning a special car, which was well patronized, left Main street at 8 45. Every member of the school on this car was allowed free transportation and admission to the grounds; others paid the regular fare. All enjoyed themselves with the different amusements to be had at the lake during the morning. At 2 p. m. those that availed themselves of the special car in the morning took a free excursion to Hoag Lake, where a most enjoyable time was spent.

The fifth edition of Derrah's official street railway guide has come to the SENTINEL desk. The book is larger and more complete than ever, many new or extended lines having been added. This official guide is all but indispensible to those who would attempt any extended trip by trolley. The completed roads are clearly traceable on the Guide map, and the most complete, comprehensive and reliable instructions for "getting there" are found in its pages. It can be bought for only twenty cents here and it will be as useful to the average family as would be an intepreter in a foreign land.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Congregational parsonage by Rev. Dr. Sneath Sunday morning, uniting Mrs. LaVancha Morton Morse of this place to Robert Nimo Russell, Esq., of San Francisco. Mr. Russell is a Kentuckian by birth but has been a resident of California a number of years. He is a lawyer by profession, a gentleman of culture, a rare conversationalist and of striking personality. They will remain east for some time, but will spend the winter in California, where he is interested in mining and oil. Mrs. Russell will be greatly missed here, where she has actively interested herself in looking after aged and sick people. Her friends here and elsewhere trust that the future may have for her much of happiness and good fortune.

An Unfortunate Affair.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mrs. Harry Corson and Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Corson because of the circumstances whereby Harry S. Corson finds himself in Cranston jail as a result of a housebreaking raid in company with W. S. Nickerson of this place last Thursday night at the residence of Walter Fiske of Cumberland Hill. Mr. Fisk was going home at dusk, when he saw two men drive from his yard. He thought it peculiar, and when he saw that somebody had gained admittance to his home he concluded the men in the team knew something about it, and harnessing his horse started after them toward Valley Falls. Getting officers and arriving at Valley Falls they saw the much-wanted men in the team a short distance ahead of them, and in Central Falls they caught up to the team and took them into custody. They were taken back to Valley Falls and placed in the bridewell. A bag in their wagon contained silverware belonging to Mr. Fisk valued at $25.

The hearing is being held today and especial efforts are being made in Mr. Corson's behalf, this being his first offense. Nickerson was arrested early Thursday morning in Woonsocket for drunkenness and was discharged Thursday afternoon.

Norfolk County Home for the Aged.

A delightful picnic was held at Pondville, July 19th on the grounds of the "Pond Home," the place which has been donated to the Norfolk county King's Daughters for the purpose of establishing a "Home for the aged." Over 150 were present from all parts of the county. The trustees announced that Mr. James McIntosh of Needham had contributed $1,000 toward the "Home." If a few other citizens of Norfolk county show a like spirit, the needed repairs would soon be made and some of the aged, worthy ones of the county would find a restful, permanent "Home." The treasurer's address is Mrs. Clara J. Marsh, Needham, Mass.

Eat fish as well as meat. Shad, swordfish, mackerel, blue fish, butter fish, halibut, clams and lobsters. Paine, the fishman.

Send your boys to Ochee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

THE MINISTER.

When the minister comes the house is neat;
All the arrangements are complete.
There is everything good in the home to eat
And dispositions all are sweet.

When the minister goes there's a different scene.
Father and mother both are mean,
The children are cross and full of spleen,
And then things are just what they seem.

Oh! that the minister might stay.
Life then were one grand holiday;
No evil thing would we ever say,
And nothing to do but feast and pray!

REUBIN.

A Worthy Object.

Last Sunday morning Rev. C. P. Osborne, field secretary of the Boston Seaman's Friend society, spoke in the Congregational church concerning the unique and interesting work of that society among the men of the sea. His text was from 1 Kings xviii., 43: "Go up now, look toward the sea," and he spoke in substantially as follows:

"The sea is well worth looking at. It has a strange fascination and enchantment, especially for the young. From places far inland young men, won by its charms, come down to the coast and give themselves to the joys and sorrows of a sailor's life. They are separated from the counsels of parents, the teachings of church and Sunday school and the restraining influence of home, and are exposed to the gravest moral perils. They need some one to take the place of pace of parent, counsellor and friend. This is the mission of this society. It aims to have every ship in port visited by its missionaries, and every sailor, fireman and stoker invited to the social and religious privileges of its chapels. Indeed, at Vineyard Haven its missionary visits ships at anchor in his naphtha launch to bring men to the chapel. The society works for all the varied needs of the sailor. For his bodily needs the relief work is carried on at all seasons, and especially after the storms of winter. Shipwrecked men are fed, clothed, sheltered and cared for, often in large numbers.

"For the sailor's intellectual needs there are tables loaded with papers, magazines and writing materials, and a package of good reading is given every man when he sails. For the sailor's social needs there are Monday afternoon receptions, where a committee meet the men with music, song, games, etc., and there are Tuesday evening concerts and entertainments, with now and then a rousing sailors' supper, where two hundred and fifty men are served and music and entertainment follows. It is often the case that the sailor's social salvation is a long step towards his spiritual and eternal salvation. For the sailor's religious needs there is ample ministry. Every day, when men enough are present, a little prayer meeting in the morning and an hour of Bible study in the afternoon. Every evening, except Saturday, some kind of a meeting and Sunday the usual meetings, and almost always an after meeting in the bos'n's locker, in which almost always some of the men ask for prayers and determine to begin the new life. It is found that the sailor is above all men receptive and responsive and when converted has the courage of his convictions."

The speaker illustrated his points by incidents taken from sea life, and in closing expressed the conviction that nowhere is there any evangelistic work so full of hope and promise and yielding such returns as this interesting work among the men of the sea.

Minstrels at Hoag Lake.

The attraction at Hoag Lake this week will be Boom's New York minstrels, including interlocuter Cris Green; bones, J. C. Matthews, Frank O'Day; tambo, Ed Swan, F. E. Thompson; Columbia quartette, first tenor, Walter Stockwell; second tenor, Ed Stockwell; baritone, James J. Cardiff; bass, Joseph Kaufman. Specialties, Olin, Swan and O'Day, comedians, vocalist and dancers, in "All Alone," Matthews and Thompson in burlesque trapez act; Columbia quartette; Chris Green, the "Rough Rider musical Coon," in repertoire of funny songs, funny stories, etc.

In Memoriam.

Mr. Richardson's production is now ready. It is an attractive booklet and contains eight pages of reading matter. It will be valuable for preservation or to send to former residents of the town who are in touch with fine sentiment and the perpetuation of the delightful memories of those who have passed to the spiritual world. Sent postpaid to any address on receipt of 10c. a copy. Orders may be sent to the SENTINEL or W. R. Richardson, Franklin, Mass.

A carload of brewery grain received every Tuesday at Metcalf's station, where any quantity can be purchased. Good for milch cows, hens or hogs. Great saving on grain. Inquire at the station.

Read the Business Announcements.

Beautify the School Grounds.

We clip the following from the Youth's Companion:

"Rural schoolhouses frequently stand small and weather-beaten, beside the country road. Many of them look about as they did twenty-five or fifty years ago, although they have a flag above them now, which was not there when the men of today were children.

"How familiar the grounds about the building are! They consist of a half or quarter of an acre of land, selected possibly because it was good for little else—not a tree to offer a hand's breadth of shade, or a shade or vine to break the monotony or to hide the unsightly outbuilding. Does it seem, then, a poor insignificant thing, this plain little building in its patch of barren ground?

"It is the most tremendously significant thing in the whole history of the United States. It is the cradle of American education, the nursery which has always fostered, and still fosters, the national doctrine of equal rights for all.

"Under its roof the judge's son and the cobbler's boy fare alike, and grow up to know and respect each other. Men whose only educational advantages were a few years on the rude benches have won success in every department of human activity. At a gathering of about three hundred successful business and professional men of a prominent city, it was ascertained that about nine-tenths came from the country.

"Is it, then, unreasonable to urge that the rural school grounds be made more attractive by the planting of trees and shrubs? With little expense the bare ground about the building can be converted into a place of beauty. The pupils themselves, with the aid of teachers and friends, can do it. Is it not a work well worth undertaking? Moreover, it believes that the growth of the imagination and the artistic nature will result; that the finer sense will be developed and the character of those who do the work will be strengthened; that a love of the beautiful will be imparted which will last through life, and manifest itself in the homes which these pupils shall build in future years.

"From almost every rural school have gone forth into the world men and women who have won success in life. We are very sure that many of these, if they were acquainted with your plans, would be glad to share with the pupils of today in the honor and pleasure of embellishing the grounds of the old schoolhouse.

"It is not generally known, but it is an interesting fact that it has been very largely through the earnest desire and efforts of the pupils themselves that our national flag now floats over so many of our public schoolhouses. If the pupils of our rural schools will now take up the work of beautifying the school grounds with trees and shrubs, the movement can be made as popular and far-reaching in its influence for good.

"Some one, however, in each school must lead in the movement. Who will win this honor in your school? The pupils must insist that the school grounds shall be beautified. If the pupils show any earnest desire to carry out this work, they are sure to find willing helpers among the farmers and friends of the school. Women's clubs will always be glad to aid you. If there is an organization of the Grangers in your town, it will feel honored by a request for advice or assistance.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 24 tf

100 cords trash hard and pine limbs, at Allen's wood yard, School street.

New milk, skimmed milk and cream for sale at Dr. T. L. Martin's. 24

To Let—Small tenement, corner Dana block, $1.25 per week, A. C. Dunn druggist 24-tf

Wanted—A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. W. C. Sherman, High street. 24-tf

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

To Let—A tenement of five rooms on Alpine street. Inquire on the premises or at Mrs. Burnham's, cor. Peck and North Park streets. 17 tf

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKINNON, Agent.

The Plant Line will run a cheap excursion to St. Johns, good going by La Grande Duchesse, Saturday, July 28, and returning by any steamer within thirty days. Tickets and all information at 290 Washington street or 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

If you want the best milk in this town, put up in glass jars at the farm, and delivered by 5 o'clock in the morning, address J. C. McInnis. He also has all kinds of fruit in the season.

The Franklin Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	16 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 50	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in.	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
½ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 00
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year, twice a week, $7.50 per year.

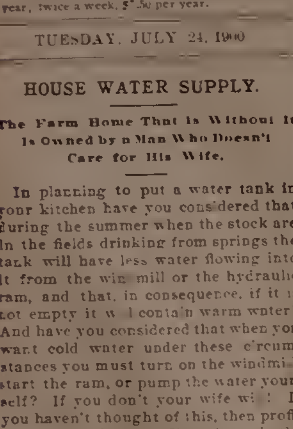
TUESDAY, JULY 24, 1900

HOUSE WATER SUPPLY.

The Farm Home That Is Without It Is Owned by a Man Who Doesn't Care for His Wife.

In planning to put a water tank in your kitchen have you considered that during the summer when the stock are in the fields drinking from springs the tank will have less water flowing into it from the windmill or the hydraulic ram, and that, in consequence, if it is not empty it will contain warm water? And have you considered that when you want cold water under these circumstances you must turn on the windmill, start the ram, or pump the water yourself? If you don't your wife will! If you haven't thought of this, then profit by my experience. "Experience is the name a man gives to his mistakes."

The tank in the kitchen had survived its usefulness, was worn out, and a new one had been decided upon. The mistake was made when the old one was put in; it should never have been put in the kitchen.



TANK FOR WATER SUPPLY.

I bought a large galvanized steel tank with a capacity of about 150 gallons, and set it up outside the kitchen in the woodshed, the bottom being 18 inches above the faucet at the sink. A box was built around it large enough to allow a packing of six inches of sawdust above, below and at the sides. This material was applied after the pipe connections had all been well tested to see that they did not leak. It was put around the tank to keep the water cool during the summer by preventing access of the warm air to the sides, and to prevent freezing in the winter.

The tank is one of the kind used for heating water in connection with a range, and as it stood when I purchased it it had four openings—two at the top, one at the side and one at the bottom. One of the holes at the top opens into the tank direct, and was to be used for the outflow of warm water. The other is attached to a pipe on the inside of the tank which was to carry the cold water nearly to the bottom. The hole in the side was for the inflow of water as it came heated from the fire. At the bottom was to be attached the pipe that led to the firebox where the water was to be heated.

But I didn't want the water hot, and therefore had no need of this arrangement of the pipes. My ends, I thought, would be best gained by turning the tank upside down and plugging the side opening. This I did. The pipe that comes from the hydraulic ram I then attached to the supply pipe (A), so that the fresh water enters the opening that was originally at the bottom, but is now at the top of the tank. The outflow pipe (B) was then screwed to the cold water pipe which runs inside the tank, and the pipe (C) which runs to the sink was fastened to the original hot water pipe.

Whenever the hydraulic ram is working the water flows in and there is a constant supply of fresh, cool water all summer. By turning a tap in the supply pipe I can shut off the water from the tank and force the water to the large cistern in the garret when the supply in it from the roof becomes exhausted.

The outflow pipe empties into the sewer, and, like the tank and the other pipes, is well inclosed in sawdust.—M. G. Kains, in Farm and Fireside.

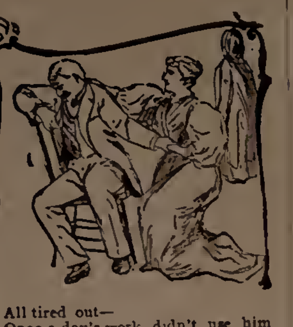
Free from Temptation.

"Dead men tell no tales."

"That's because they are not invited out to dinner."—Chicago Daily Record.

Lunatics as Inventors.

Some important inventions have been discovered by lunatics.



All tired out—

Once a day's work didn't use him up so—

Now he comes home with an aching back, aching head, aching limbs, feeling tired, miserable, discouraged.

It's the kidneys.

The backache is kidney ache, tired kidneys—

They are not filtering the blood as they should—are leaving the uric acid and other poisons in the system—

The kidneys must be strengthened—

Well kidneys make a well man.

Doan's Kidney Pills

Make well kidneys—they are not a new medicine—not an experiment—they've been tested and thousands endorse their merit. Here's a case of it:

Mr. J. W. Parker, carpenter in the wood turning department of the Fitchburg Car Shops, Fitchburg, Mass., says: "In the month of February, 1896, I was asked by a gentleman who called on me to publicly give my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. What I gave him for publication has appeared in our Fitchburg papers. I was interviewed a second time over two years afterwards when I told my interviewer the following: Ever since my original statement appeared in the Fitchburg papers I have been repeatedly asked by people in the shops where I work, on the street, and by callers at my house if the said statement were true. I often wished it were in Halifax, and in allowing my name to appear as an endorser of Doan's Kidney Pills during the coming year, I want it thoroughly understood that they proved of great benefit and from my experience I can conscientiously say they are one patent medicine upon which people can depend to do as represented."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

GOOD CROP OF WHEAT.

Some Things That Cannot Be Neglected if Profitable Results Are Expected.

One essential in growing a good crop of wheat is to have the soil prepared in good tilth. One advantage in plowing early is that a better opportunity is offered of getting the soil into a proper condition for the seed. The under soil should be fairly well packed, and the surface, to the depth of four or five inches, prepared in fine tilth.

The disc and smoothing harrows are good implements to use in preparing the seed-bed.

When conditions will admit, reasonably early seeding is best. But there is no advantage in sowing the seed until the soil is in a good tilth, and unless there is sufficient moisture in the soil to induce a good germination of the seed. Of course, wheat as well as many other kinds of grain will lie in the ground when the soil is dry without germinating, and yet when rains come to moisten up the ground the seed will germinate. But there is risk of loss, and lying in the ground weakens to some extent the vitality of the seed.

It is best, therefore, to defer the seeding until there is sufficient moisture. Another item that may make it desirable to defer the seeding is the risk of injury from Hessian fly. Many good farmers consider that if the seeding can be put off until there is one good frost the risk of injury from fly is greatly lessened.

Another item in making a good crop is to use good seed. For nearly all crops seed should not only possess sufficient vitality to germinate readily under seasonably favorable conditions, but to send forth a vigorous, thrifty plant.

Seed should be carefully selected, and only the best be used. In sowing care should be taken to distribute the seed as evenly as possible over the surface. One advantage in using a drill is that the seed is not only distributed more evenly, but is covered at a more uniform depth.

Because wheat is low in price is the strongest reason why all reasonable care should be taken to secure a good yield. A good yield may return a small profit, even at a low price, while a light yield and low prices mean a positive loss.

The quantity of seed depends somewhat upon the time of sowing, the quality of the seed and the condition of the soil at the time of seeding. If sown in good season with the soil prepared in good tilth, five pecks to the acre will be plenty. This quantity should be increased as the quality of the seed covers with late sowing and poor conditions of the soil. So with late sowing and unfavorable conditions seven pecks to the acre will not be too much. —St. Louis Republic.

Barred.

"He would be a factor in politics, with his brilliant mind, but for one thing: he has no balance."

"In the bank?" — Cincinnati Enquirer.

Room for Doubt.

Dewtell—"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away."

Downtrod (recently widowed)—Oh, I don't know about the "giveth."

You never read of such cures elsewhere as those accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla, did you? It is America's greatest medicine.

CASTORIA.

Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

THE HARPOONER.

The ship moved on in silence through the tranquil waves of the north Pacific—the old Arctic, the lucky ship of the whaling fleet. A man was standing near the forecastle, shading his eyes with his hand and peering out ahead. He was tall and strongly built, his face marked by the tattooing instruments in use in the north seas. Yet he was an American and had the air of a model sailor, as indeed he was—Nat Myers, harpooner in the captain's boat and king of the forecastle. No man of all the crew had more influence, but it was not the influence of fear, for the men loved him. With the strength of an ox, he had the calm, even temper so often seen in men of giant build, as if, knowing his strength, he would not use it against his weaker brethren.

Standing upon the forecastle by his side was a boy about 12 years of age—a beautiful lad, with brown, curling hair, sunny blue eyes and delicate face. "How do you feel since you have been in the Pacific?" said Nat.

"I get stronger every day."

"You've been coddled too much and swallered too much candy and sech truck. Once let me git you so you can eat salt horse like a man, and you are all right."

Georgie Betts was the captain's nephew, and the doctors had said that the only thing which would save his life was a sea voyage, and they gave him in charge of Captain Jacobs. That worthy passed him over to Nat Myers.

"Take care of him, Nat," he said.

At first Georgie fairly hated the old salt, who forced him to eat salt pork and bolt tough corned beef dignified by the names of "salt horse" and "mahogany," when it was almost impossible for him to eat. He complained to his uncle, who grimly said that he had nothing to do with the matter.

"But he'll kill me, uncle!"

"No, he won't, my boy. He'll make a man of you."

As the days went on, and Georgie grew more accustomed to life on board ship, he really began to like his tormentor. He had gained so much strength that he could run up the rigging like a cat, and the smartest men on the ship could not catch him when he was once upon the ratlines. And by the time they had passed the Sandwich Islands, although a delicate looking boy, he was stronger than he had ever been in his life.

"Lookee here—we are going to have the biggest storm you ever see."

"Pshaw! There never was a fairer day."

"Lookee, my son," said Nat in a threatening manner. "'Member what I told ye about conterdicting me?"

Three hours later, when the first mate had the deck, and Nat was standing on the topgallant forecastle, with Georgie by his side, the squall burst upon them with sudden fury. The first wave which came aboard crushed in the rail and swept the decks, and Georgie Betts was carried out into the boiling ocean.

It was broad daylight, and Nat, with a cry like that of a wild beast robbed of her young, hurled himself over the rail, holding in his hand a light plank, the only thing which he could seize. They saw him rising upon the top of a great wave, and then Georgie Betts came into view beyond him, struggling for his life.

"Bear up, my lad!" they heard him cry through the roar of the tempest. "Old Nat is coming!"

The boy, who, slight as he was, was a strong swimmer, tossed his hand in the air as a signal that he heard.

The crew of the Arctic could do nothing, for it required all their strength and skill to save the ship. A dozen voices together volunteered to man a boat.

"No, lads," said the captain sadly. "No man can love his nephew better than I do mine. I will not risk half a dozen lives for two. Besides, the ship would run a boat out of sight in half an hour, even if we could lower one. Bear a hand on the braces—meet her, meet her, you at the wheel; don't let her fall off!"

And the Arctic sped on before the awful gale, leaving Nat Myers and Georgie Betts at the mercy of the angry sea. The old sailor struggled on, and at last, with a cry of joy, he saw the boy clutch the end of the board.

"That's right, my son," he said. "Cheerily, cheerily, lad!"

"The ship is away," said Georgie sadly as he saw the Arctic rush on before the wind.

"Never you mind, sonny." And he passed his arm about the lad, and, stripping off his belt, raised the boy so that he lay upon the board and then bound him to it, face down, but in such a position that he could raise his head a foot or more from the board. He was swimming beside the board, pushing it before him.

"Why don't you get on the board, Nat?" said Georgie uneasily.

"Never mind me," replied Nat. "I'm all right, you see."

But, although he spoke so bravely, he felt in his heart that he had made his last voyage. The weight of his heavy sea clothing was dragging him down, and he knew that the board would not bear them both.

"I'll die for him," he thought. "It may not save him, but I can do that."

He shifted his hold on the board and moved up until his face was close to that of Georgie Betts.

"Kiss me, lad," he said, "and, if you escape, don't forget old Nat Myers."

The boy raised his head and pressed his lips to those of the old sailor.

"I love you, Nat," he said.

Then Nat Myers, with a smile upon his face, fell back to his old position. Once Georgie spoke to him, and he answered. The storm had ceased, but the waves were running high, and an hour passed on. Then, a league distant, Georgie Betts saw the white sails of the Arctic returning in search of those she had lost. With a glad cry the boy turned his head to look back at Nat, but the sea was a blank. The brave man had died in silence sooner than bear down the frail support of the boy he loved. And the children of Georgie Betts love the memory of that brave old sailor who died for their father's sake.—Exchange.

Uncle Allen.

"The reason why truth is so often found at the bottom of a well," averred Uncle Allen Sparks, "may be that truth has failed to speak up."—Chicago Tribune.

Usually Entertaining.

"She's such a gossip."

"Hears everything, does she?"

"Oh, no; just the inventive kind, you know."—Chicago Post.

Poverty and Pride.

Mr. Minks—Have you called on the new neighbors next door?

Mrs. Minks—Indeed I haven't, nor I won't, neither. They're the trashiest kind of people—poor as church mice, I'll warrant. They sends their washin' out.

"What of that?"

"I s'pose they is ashamed to show the rags in their own yard."—N. Y. Weekly.

So Unkind of Mrs. Jenkinson.

Wife—Dear me, it's a rainy Saturday, and I'll have the children racing about the house all day and breaking things.

Husband—What have you usually done on rainy Saturdays?

Wife—I have usually sent them in to play with Mrs. Jenkinson's children, but she has moved away.—Stray Stories.

A Work of Art.

She's a charming little witch,
And she does a fancy stitch
On a crazy patchwork cushion that is the envy of her mother;
But it would make you smile,
To behold the wondrous style
In which she stitched a patch upon the trousers of her brother.
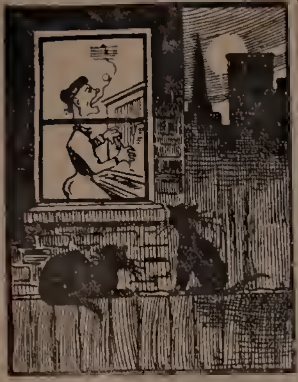
—Chicago Daily News.

OTHER VICTIMS.



Thomas—My dear, it's a shame the way that creature howls! If I had a bootjack I'd throw it at her, and then perhaps we'd get some sleep.—N. Y. World.

A Cynical View.

This life is a delusive cheat:
When we have solved the question
Of what is safe for us to eat
We die of indigestion.
—N Y World.

Easily Remedied.

"What is the matter?" asked the prima donna's friend. "You don't seem nearly as clever and original as you used to be."

"I'm so glad you mentioned it, dear. I haven't been reading the papers lately; but I'll change my press agent at once."—Washington Star.

Business Transaction.

"I see by the papers that old Bullion's heiress was married yesterday to that French count."

"That so? Who gave the bride away?"

"Nobody. She was sold. It was discovered this morning that he is not a count."—Omaha World-Herald.

Not Realism.

"I thought you said this was a realistic novel."

"Isn't it?"

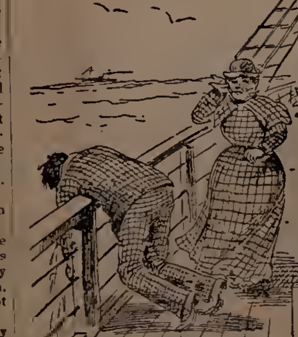
"Judge for yourself. It contains the statement that they were married and lived happily ever afterward."—Chicago Post.

Under the Influence.

Mr. Bender—Marcha, I shaw something th-that made m-m-my hair sthand up straight.

Mrs. Bender—Well, that shows your hair is better off than you are. It can stand up straight.—Chicago Daily News.

ON THE OCEAN BLUE.



Mr. Pitcher—Oh, let me die!

Mrs. Pitcher (in disgust)—Yes, that is just like you; you never could hold your own.—Harlem Life.

Too True.

"The world owes me a living," said the energetic man
With a twinkle in his eye, you'd scarce detect it.
"But it comes to me in payments on the 'small installments' plan,
And it takes a lot of hustling to collect it."
—Brooklyn Life

Don't Stop

taking Scott's Emulsion because it's warm weather. Keep taking it until you are cured.

It will heal your lungs and give you rich blood in summer as in winter. It's cod liver oil made easy.

50c. and $1. All druggists.

OTTO

From Maine to California and from Florida to Cape Nome, OTTO Gas and Gasolene Engines are the recognized STANDARD. Thousands of satisfied users are ready to testify to this. The REASONS are obvious. RELIABILITY, ECONOMY IN FUEL, SLIGHT COST OF MAINTENANCE and DURABILITY tell the story. Do YOU need power for any purpose whatever?

CONSULT US.

The Otto Gas Engine Works.

New England Branch: 19 Pearl St., Boston, Mass.

1817 1900

CARPETS.

Every purchaser of Carpets—whether for the smallest room or the biggest hotel—wants his mind satisfied on three points, namely:

PRICE—QUALITY—STYLE.

It is because we convince our customers as to every one of these requirements that we confidently expect YOUR patronage.

John H. Pray & Sons Co.,

658 Washington Street . . . BOSTON.

Opp. Boylston Street.

A Born Diplomat.

Little Jack and Daisy are finishing a plate of peaches. There are only two left—one of them fine and luscious, the other small and unripe.

Daisy—Is 'oo gweedy?

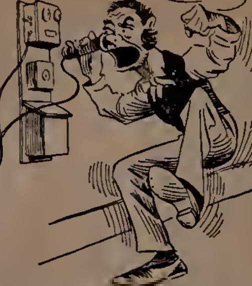
Jack—No, I'se not gweedy.

Daisy—Then 'oo choose.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Just a Way They Have.

The girl who keeps her birthday,
When a merry little elf,
Keeps it still when she grows up,
But keeps it to herself.
—Chicago Daily News.

A TELEPHONIC PARADOX.



"Don't you hear me? I say this thing must be on the dead quiet. On The Dead Quiet!!"—N. Y. World.

Discontent.

A man may jes' as well work on,
It makes no difference how small
De task may be. Befo' it's done
He'll wish he hadn't none at all.
—Washington Star.

She Would and She Wouldn't.

"Ah, if I were only a man!" sighed Mrs. Porkby.

"What would you do?" asked Porkby, gruffly.

"What—er—well, I wouldn't chew nasty tobacco, any way."—Judge.

Pessimistic.

Mrs. Wigwag (reading society paper) —The bride was supported to the altar by her father.

Wigwag—Yes, and it's ten to one he'll keep on supporting her.—Philadelphia Record.

Cure for Cholera Infantum—Never Known to Fail.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered. The child is now vigorous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail.—Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Cuts and bruises are healed by Chamberlain's Pain Balm in about one third the time any other treatment would require because of its antiseptic qualities which cause the parts to heal without maturation. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Itchiness of the skin, horrible plague. Most everybody afflicted in one way or another. Only one safe, never failing cure. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Days of Comfort, Nights of Rest if you take Pyny-Pectoral for that cough.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

SAVINGS BANK,

FRANKLIN, MASS.

D. THAYER, JR., President.
GEO. W. WIGGIN,
LESTER L. BURRINGTON,
WALTER M. FISHER,
DR. GEORGE KING, Vice Presidents.
CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk and Treasurer.

Dividends declared the first Monday in January and July, payable on and after the 15th of said months.

Money may be withdrawn at the option of the depositors. The treasurer may, however, require a notice if necessary, in accordance with the Statute Law.

Bank open daily from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

BOARD OF INVESTMENT.

D. Thayer, Jr., E. H. Sherman, A. D. Thayer, E. P. Chapman, B. M. Rockwood, George W. Wiggin.

STATEMENT JUNE 30, 1900.

LIABILITIES.

Due Depositors		$564,357 27
Guarantee Fund		27,752 79
Profit and Loss Account		6,268 89
Interest Account		13,108 32
Real Estate Income Account		10 29
		$611,497 56

ASSETS.

Town and City Bonds		$7,071 25
Bank Stock		27,779 32
Railroad Bonds		156,262 50
C. F. Boynton account		3,023 72
Real Estate by Foreclosure		20,748 00
Loaned on Bank Stock		31,350 00
" " Mortgages		159,960 00
" " Personal Securities		164,745 86
" " Railroad Stock		11,000 00
Bank Books		1,500 00
Town Notes		5,000 00
Tax account		874 09
Expense Account		1,178 27
Bank Furniture		600 00
Bank Deposits:
Franklin National Bank	$14,733 01
Nat. Bank of Redemption	2,954 46
Mercantile Trust Co.	64 79
		17,752 26
Cash on hand		2,652 29
		$611,497 56

We, the undersigned, have this day examined the books and vouchers of this bank and find they correspond with the above statement.

E. P. CHAPMAN,
E. H. SHERMAN,
Committee of Examination.

June 2, 1900.

THE

NEW YORK WORLD

THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION.

18 Pages a Week . . .
. . . 156 Papers a Year

FOR ONE DOLLAR.

Published every Alternate Day except Sunday.

The Thrice-a-Week Edition of THE NEW YORK WORLD is first among all "weekly" papers in size, frequency of publication and the freshness, accuracy and variety of its contents. It has all the merits of a great $6 daily at the price of a dollar weekly. Its political news is prompt, complete, accurate and impartial, as all its readers will testify. It is against the monopolies and for the people.

It prints the news of all the world, having special correspondence from all important news points on the globe. It has brilliant illustrations, stories by great authors, a capital humor page, complete markets, departments for the household and women's work and other special departments of unusual interest.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,

....BOSTON.

Telephone 1829.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

PATENTS

DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE

Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

If you want to buy or sell anything, have lost anything, or wish to make any fact known, advertise in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL. Good results always follow.

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

AVegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion,Cheerfulness and Rest.Contains neither Opium,Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna -
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed -
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda -
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar -
Wintergreen Flavor.

Aperfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

FacSimile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.

At 6 months old
35 DOSES - 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

A SONG OF THE SEA.

I'll sing you a song of the sea,
With waves sparkling and bright,
And the breeze blowing light,
And our dear native land on the lee.
How sweet is the song of the sea!
With friends looking out on the quay,
Their 'kerchiefs and hands waving free
And bright smiles and welcome for thee.
How sweet, how sweet,
How sweet is the song of the sea!

I'll sing you a song of the sea,
When the sky lowers dark
O'er the stricken bark
As she drifts o'er the desolate sea.
How sad is the song of the sea,
When overhead hangs the dim cloud
Like a pall o'er the dead sailor's shroud
As he sinks in the vast wand'ring sea.
How sad, how sad,
How sad is the song of the sea!

I'll sing you a song of the sea,
When the fierce lightnings flash
And the stormy winds dash,
And the rock shore looms on the lee;
How dread is the song of the sea!
When the hearts of the bravest will quail
As they shrink from the furious gale
And the wrath of the menacing sea,
How dread, how dread,
How dread is the song of the sea!

"REST AND CHANGE."

A Couple Tired of Housekeeping Seek Comfort In a Boarding House.

BY KYLE HARRINGTON.

"Suppose we rent the house and board for the winter. I am heartily sick of this eternal round of work, with poor help and often none at all."

Mrs. Barker stooped and blew the dust off the mantel mechanically. "If I get a good girl, her mother is sure to send for her because the children are sick, or perhaps some one offers her higher wages. Besides, we live too far out to suit most of the help."

"None too far to suit me, Mrs. B. I only wish we were two miles farther," and the man adressed arose and gave his chest a resounding thump. "After being down town in that confounded smoke all day it is a relief to draw a full breath out here."

Mrs. Barker transferred her field of operations from the mantel to the lapel of her husband's coat and flicked away an imaginary grain of dust. "Yesterday I had an opportunity to rent the house furnished, and for my sake, Arthur, I do wish you would consider it favorably. The Browns will give us $50 a month, and just think how far that would go toward paying our board."

"But I hate boarding—positively despise it. I had enough of it before I found you."

She girdled his neck by clasping her thumbs and fingers around it, remarking by the way that she had a good notion to choke him. The man distended his eyes and went through all the violent symptoms of strangulation.

"Oh, yes, we'll board and eat hash," he gurgled, "if you say so; but, then, I will not stir even one step to find a boarding place. That is settled once for all." He unclasped her fingers and drew her hands within his own.

"Then I will. I would like nothing better than going out this very morning. Shall I? Please say yes; there's a dear."

"Of course. Put on your rainy day skirt and trot all over the city, but mind one thing. My salary will not warrant an expensive place."

Mrs. Barker hurried through her duties and was on her quest soon after her husband left. She was armed with sundry addresses which she had clipped from the morning paper, all of which places she visited, comparing accommodations and prices with businesslike dispatch.

For a week she kept up an assiduous hunt and at last found what she considered a most desirable place. However, before announcing the fact to her liege she summoned to her aid all the tact she could command. The old and undisputed way to a man's heart she never questioned, so a most excellent dinner of his favorite dishes was set before him. She believed also in the potency of a cheerful grate fire and the easy chair and slippers as adjuncts, not forgetting the choice Havanas that leaned temptingly toward him from the quaint smoking jar at his elbows.

"And so you think, Helen, you have found an A No. 1 home for us, do you? Where is it?"

"Down town, at the Outlook."

"Down town! Didn't I say that I wouldn't go down town under any circumstances?"

"Yes, to be sure; but you must remember how convenient it will be and how much car fare you will save. It will be such a decided change," lowering her voice to its most alluring tone, "and I shall have time to go to the library and do so much reading I have so longed to do, and, dear Arthur, we will read together and go out together"—

"Have a devil of a time of it."

She dropped into a low seat at his feet and looked reproachfully up into his face, which, it must be confessed, was in harmony with the sentiment expressed. Her lip trembled and her eyelids quivered.

"There, there, poor tired dear! Yes, yes; we'll have just the coziest, happiest times in the world. Of course we will. I am an old bear and you are a blessed angel!" And by way of demonstration he gave her a regular bear's hug. Then he pushed her back on the low seat and began all over again.

"Are there many boarders? You know I hate boarders and boarding and the whole business. It gives me a sty on the edge of the eyelid just to read the advertisements, 'Wanted, boarders.' Did you say the house was chock full?"

"I am sure there are not very many, and they are nice ones, too, I should judge from those I met in the hall. You know the house has a good reputation. We can be as exclusive as we please. We are not obliged to mix with any of them."

"I should say not. I am not a good mixer. How many rooms have you secured?"

"Now, my dear, you must remember I had economy in view, so I engaged only one room, but there is a beautiful folding bed with a handsome plate glass mirror, so I can see just how my dresses hang, and when the bed is swung back we shall have the pleasantest, most delightful sitting room imaginable. You see, it is a front room, and the outlook is fine."

"One room with an outlook! Good heavens! You don't mean to say we are to be cooped up in one room after all this? And he waved his hand majestically, as though indicating an expansive castle instead of the little ten room house which it actually was. Perhaps it was more to his mental vision, since "every man's house is his castle," and Arthur Barker's title to this one was good.

"Have you forgotten, dear, that you told me at the last moment that your salary would not support anything luxurious? I had that in view when I took only one room."

"You would much better have had an alcove in view at least, to let us out a little. But it is too late now. It looks as though we were in for it."

About a week after this conversation the "careful mover" deposited within the little room at the Outlook three trunks, a shirt waist box, a writing desk, a dressing table, a vigorous rubber plant and various odd pieces of bric-a-brac.

When Mr. and Mrs. Barker finally arrived, they looked at each other in amazement. Mr. Barker at last made a break. "Don't be at all backward, Mrs. B. Walk right in, or fly in, or crawl, or wriggle—any way to get in." The poor woman sidled in at the invitation, and together they began to unpack, while Steve, the man who went at everybody's beck and call, edged and zigzagged the trunks off to a storeroom, while their contents strewed the couch, chairs, dresser, mantel and floor.

"What in the name of common sense do you expect to do with all this plunder? I supposed you rented our house furnished, and here you've brought along enough to stock up a boarding house."

Mrs. B. knew better than to argue the point. She began instead to fill the drawers of the dresser, which were fortunately broad and deep.

"I suppose the wardrobe closet is a good large, square one, with a window and shelves."

"Really, Arthur, I forgot about the closet. I never even peeped into it."

"Let us see what it is like." And Mr. Barker opened the door, to be confronted by a wall only two feet away. Then he made a plunge into it lengthwise, while the hooks on either side caught him in the sleeves and collar and impaled him by thrusting themselves maliciously into every loose fold of his clothing, smiting his ears and pulling his hair until smothered imprecations issued from the darkness.

"I swear!" he gurgled as he elbowed and fisted his way out. "How are we ever to get our clothes out of there if we ever manage to get them in? The only way to do is to tack up some lat[illegible] by some electrical contrivance m[illegible] transparent, then put a hook [illegible] foot pole and pitch in for them. [illegible] these gray trousers, tailor [illegible] dress suit, silk petticoat, lam[illegible] Good gracious, Helen, squeez[illegible] you hand up a single dud! The [illegible] on Devil's island wasn't a cir[illegible] to it. Oh, ye gods and little fishes [illegible] were you thinking of when you [illegible] quarters as these?"

Mrs. Barker sank helplessly into a seat, the picture of mute despair.

"I don't know, Arthur. I could not have been thinking at all. Whatever shall we do? Let us go back home."

"Home, Helen! We haven't any. Our house is rented, and we are without a roof to shield our heads."

When the folding bed was let down that night, Mr. Barker barked his shins against a rocker, and in trying to move it out of the way upset the lamp on the center table, which spilled its contents over an embroidered table cover and finally bumped on to the floor. His wife caught up the first thing at hand to absorb the oil, and it proved to be her best shirt waist.

During the night a hilarious boarder sang snatches of a song with the refrain:

Oh, I love her, I love her! I will build my house where the robins nest.

Through the long "witching hours", these sounds were wafted through the thin partition at intervals until Mrs. Barker heaved a sigh and, throwing up her arms, wailed, "Oh, dear, what shall I do?"

"Get up and go out to the front window and revel in the outlook! Get up anyhow and fold up the bed and see how your skirts hang."

She was pretty mad inside by this time, and she kept so very still Mr. Barker soon fell asleep, to awaken again at a fresher dulcet strain.

"Mrs. B., is he loving her still and building his house? I only hope his wife will rent it after he gets it built. Good Lord, I should like to kick him into South Africa!"

The next morning as Mr. Barker kissed his wife goodby he tried hard to smile, but since he could not he frowned.

"Doesn't it seem kind of good not to pay out any car fare this morning?" she asked as she tried to press out the wrinkle on his forehead.

"Oh, yes; almost as good as being carried off in a patrol wagon free of charge. Helen, forgive me, but what in thunder are we here for?"

"For rest and change," she murmured. But the same morning she followed up an address two miles farther out than their home and secured two good sized rooms and a private bath. It is but fair to add that these conveniences also included a square closet of considerable size, furnished with drawers and shelves.

Mrs. Barker wisely concluded it was not the highest economy to save car fare, and by way of reminder her husband presented her with a receipt for a month's board in advance at the Outlook.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Unappreciated Genius.

The lives of three great painters, Rousseau, Millet and Troyon, like that of Corot, says W. J. Stillman in The Atlantic, show how completely the French public, so proud of its intelligence of art, ignored the best qualities of it till outsiders pointed to them. Troyon told me that for the first ten years of his career he never sold a picture, but lived by painting for Sevres. The prosperity of Millet came from the patronage of American collectors, led by the appreciation of a Boston painter, William Hunt. I well remember his famous "Sower" on the highest line in the salon, so completely skied that only one who looked for a Millet was likely to see it, while Rousseau, at the time I speak of, was glad to accept the smallest commission and sold mostly to American collectors. Nor is it otherwise with the Rousseaus, Millets and Troyons of today. The public taste and the banal criticism of a journalism, at best the late echo of the opinions of the rare wise man, discover genius only when it has ceased to have the quality of the new and unforeseen.

Proved Genuine.

Tess—Do you really believe her complexion is genuine?

Jess—There's no doubt of it. I saw the box. The label on it said, "None genuine without our signature," and there was the signature right enough.—Philadelphia Press.

According to the Evidence.

"Well, that's what I call an appropriate verdict," remarked Jilson the [illegible] evening, as he threw down his [illegible]

"What is it?" asked his wife.

"Why," he replied, "you know the defaulting cashier of the Steenth national bank committed suicide when the shortage was discovered?"

"Yes, I remember," said Mrs. J——, "but what of the verdict?"

"This morning," answered Jilson, "the coroner's jury brought in a verdict of death from exposure."

EVERY MOTHER SHOULD Have it in the House

For common ailments which may occur in every family. She can trust what time indorses. For Internal as much as External use. Dropped on sugar it is pleasant to take for colds, coughs, croup, colic, cramps and pains.

I have used your Anodyne Liniment in treating our infant (only six months old) for colic, and our little three year old daughter for summer complaint and bowel diseases generally, and found it to be excellent. JOHN I. INGALLS, Americus, Ga.

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Relieves Every Form of Inflammation. Originated in 1810 by an old Family Physician. No remedy has the confidence of the public to a greater extent. Our book on INFLAMMATION free. Price 25 and 50c. I. S. Johnson & Co., Boston, Mass.

Parsons' Pills

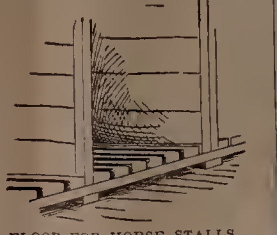
"Best Liver Pill made." Positively cure Biliousness, Sick Headache, all Liver and Bowel complaints. They expel impurities from the blood. Delicate women find relief from using them. Price 25c. I. S. JOHNSON & CO., Boston, Mass.

LIVE STOCK

HORSE-STALL FLOOR.

Sensible Method of Construction Which Prevents Animals from Staining Their Coats.

Where mares are kept a tight floor in the stall is not especially inconvenient, but with horses the case is otherwise. For them such a floor as is shown in the accompanying illustration is best suited for keeping their coats from becoming stained. The stable floor beneath the flooring of the stall should slope a little so that the liquids that run through the openings in the stall flooring will be conveyed down behind the stall, where they may be absorbed in the litter. The pieces of which the stall floor is made may be five inches wide, laid one-half inch apart. They are shown farther apart than this in the cut in order to make the matter plain. There should be four cross bearings under the stall floor if two-inch stuff is to be used.—American Agriculturist.



FLOOR FOR HORSE STALLS.

MILLET FOR SOILING.

A Crop Furnishing Valuable Feed for Dairy Cattle, Young Stock, Sheep and Poultry.

Millet, says a bulletin of the agricultural department just published, is fed principally as a hay and soiling crop. The forage ranks well with that of other grasses in the nutritive content, and its palatability is about that of the average for the coarser sorts. For digestibility, millet forage compares favorably with that from other coarse grasses.

Already widely grown as a hay crop, millets deserve more general use for soiling. They are particularly valuable for feeding to dairy cattle, young stock and sheep. There are many sections of the country where this crop can be made to supplement the pastures in such a way as to allow a material increase in the number of stock that can be kept on the farm.

On account of the heavy yield of forage and the good quality of the product, millets are excellent grasses for use in the silo. Frequently a good crop of millet can be raised under conditions which would not admit of growing corn for ensilage, and in such instances it becomes of especial value. One of the best methods of preserving this crop is by the use of the silo. Those who have tried this method have obtained excellent results. A fine quality of ensilage may be made by using barnyard millet and a leguminous crop like soy beans or clover. The seed of the foxtail millets is widely used as food for fowls and birds, but is seldom fed to stock. It has, however, been used in feeding young stock, such as calves, with a fair degree of success. The seed is excellent food for laying hens.—Farmers' Voice.

SORE MOUTH IN PIGS.

A Dangerous Disease Unless Radical Steps Are Taken When It Makes Its Appearance.

Canker, or nursing sore mouth, is a troublesome disease, and if not promptly attended to proves fatal, says the Swine Journal. It may, and we think it usually does, arise from impurity in the milk of the sow or from poison on her teats and udder obtained by running in tall, wet grass or poison vines. The first symptoms are lumps on the sow's udder, and sometimes sores; next will be noticed blisters on the lip, tongue and mouth of the pig; the tongue and lips become swollen, and the roof and sides of the mouth inflamed and covered with deep red or white blisters. Treatment: Catch the pig and swab its mouth out thoroughly with a solution of carbolic acid and water sufficiently strong to make the flesh upon the arm tingle. Apply it with a rag, or a small piece of sponge tied on a stick. A strong sage tea applied in the same way is good, and in addition take powderd sulphur, put it into a large straw, hold the pig's mouth open and blow the dry sulphur in. Apply these remedies frequently and bathe the sow's teats and udder with a weak solution of carbolic acid. Keep litters that have it away from other pigs. Care, close attention and the frequent application of the above remedies will rarely fail to cure if taken in time. The sow should be fed sulphur in her slops.

Paring Hoofs of Sheep.

Many farmers are keeping sheep this year for the first time in many years. To all such it may be wise to suggest paring the hoofs early in the spring, or before they are turned out to pasture. In the barnyard, always treading on soft, fermenting manure, the sheep's hoofs grow too long and develop foot rot if it is pastured on low, wet land. On rocky, high and dry land, the sheep wears off its hoofs on the sharp edges of the rocks. It is probably instinct that teaches the sheep at night to seek a high and dry place to sleep upon.—Farmers' Review.

Hens three years old are not profitable to keep except they are of the small laying varieties.

GOD'S BURIED WORKMEN.

God buries His workmen, but carries on His work.—Wesley.

As dips the sun below the placid sea,
His day's work done; as the retreating wave
Lays down his load, and hastens to his grave
Sighing, yet well content some use to be;
As the magnanimous rain, impartial, free,
Expires on field and forest but to save;
So are the lives of God's true toilers brave
Closed, yet continued through eternity.

In the high deeds they set themselves to do,
Though uncompleted here, their spirits live;
Their patience checks our fancies fugitive.
Their voices call us to a loftier view
Of God's great purpose, which alone can give Strength to endure and courage to pursue.
—George J. H. Northcroft, in American Methodist Magazine.

PUT HIS FOOT IN IT.

Mr. Footinit—You are the first woman I ever loved.

Miss Ripe (reproachfully)—How can you say that when you have had a wife before?

Mr. Footinit—Pshaw! She was a mere girl when I married her.—N. Y. World.

AN EFFECTIVE THREAT.

Tommy (to his mother, who is chatting with a friend)—Say, mamma, if you ain't going to start pretty soon I'm going to tell the lady what you said about her this morning.—Fliegende Blaetter.

As to Prices.

"Do you believe in the doctrine that every man has his price?"

"No. Many an egotist has put his price so high that he wouldn't be able to get it if he lived a thousand years."—Cleveland Leader.

Can You Tell Why

You have constant headaches, are nervous and sleepless at night and feel tired in the morning? Your blood isn't carrying the right materials to your nerves and other organs. Begin taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood enricher, and you will soon realize a change. You will feel better and stronger, will relish your food and enjoy refreshing sleep.

Nausea, indigestion are cured by Hood's Pills.

One of nature's remedies; cannot harm the weakest constitution; never fails to cure summer complaints of young or old. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

"I suffered for months from sore throat. Eclectric Oil cured me in twenty-four hours." M. S. Gist, Hawesville, Ky.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought Resented.

Drummer—Mr. Greatman was very much charmed with this place! In his book he calls it a quaint and sleepy old town—

Native (indignantly)—Well, it may be quaint, but I don't see nothin' sleepy about a place where everybody's up at four in the morning!—Puck.

The Whole Story in one letter about

Pain-Killer

(PERRY DAVIS'.)

From Capt. F. Loye, Police Station No. 5, Montreal:—"We frequently use PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER for pains in the stomach, rheumatism, stiffness, frost bites, chilblains, cramps, and all afflictions which befall men in our position. I have no hesitation in saying that PAIN-KILLER is the best remedy to have near at hand."

Used Internally and Externally.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c. bottles

AN ADVERTISEMENT

Simply tells the public what you have got. If you never tell the people don't expect them to ask you. That's all there is to it.

New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad

— AND CONNECTIONS. —

EASTERN DISTRICT.

JUNE 10, 1900.

PASSENGER TRAIN SERVICE. (DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAYS, UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED.)

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

BOSTON—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41 a m; 12 50, 5 01 (Ex.) 6 05, 9 38 p m; Sundays, 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 07, 8 30 a m; 12 04, 3 39, 4 34, 5 19, 6 22, 6 57, 8 17, 11 17 p m. Sundays, 9 19 a m, 5 19, 7 10 p m.

BLACKSTONE—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return 8 35, 11 25 a m; 4 41 p m.

WALPOLE—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 00, 9 15, 11 41, a m; 12 50, 5 01, 6 05, 9 38 p m. S 8 26, 8 55 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, 8 48, a m, 12 48, 4 13, 5 15, 6 01, 7 13 7 30, 9 10 p m; 12 12 a m. S 10 17 a m, 6 17, 7.58 p m.

NORFOLK—5 15, 6 57, 8 03, 9 15 a m; 12 50, 6 05, 9 38 p m; S 8 26 a m; 5 26 p m. Return, f8 55 a m, f12 56, f5 25, 6 10, f7 21, 9 18 p m; 12 21 a m S 10 25 a m; 6 25 p m.

CITY MILLS—5 15, f6 57, 8 03, f9 15 a m; f12 50, 6 05 9 38 p m. S 8 26 a m, 5 26 p m. Return, f8 58 a m; f12 59, 5 29, 6 13, f7 24, f9 21 p m; 12 24 a m. S 10 29 a m, 6 29 p m.

PUTNAM—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. S 8 11 p m. Return 7 30, 10 35 a m; 3 50 p m. S 7 35 p. m.

HARTFORD—9 15 a m; 4 25, 7 45 p m. Return, 5 10, 8 30 a m, 1 55 p m.

WOONSOCKET JUNCTION—6 20 p m. Return, 7 46, 8 40, 11 30 a m.

NEW YORK, all rail—9 15 a m; 4 25 p m. Return 5 00, 11 00 a m.

New York, via Norwich Line, 7 45 p m. Return New Pier 36, North River, 6 00 p m.

Providence Extension.

Trains leave FRANKLIN for

PROVIDENCE—7 0[illegible], 9 0[illegible] a m; 1 05, 4 26, 7.03 p m., S 8 58 a m, 8 13 p m. Return, 6 04, 8 10, 12 04 a, m 4 50, 6 06 p m. S 7 35 a m, 7 05 p m

MILFORD BRANCH.

Trains leave Franklin for

MILFORD—9 18 a m, 1 12, 4 30, 5 38, 6 55 p m. S 6 37 p m. Return, 6 35, 8 21, 11 13 a m, 3 48, 6 03 p m. S, 8 00 a m.

ASHLAND—4 30 p m. Return, 7 50 a m; 5 35 p m.

ANALYZED! And Stood the Test.
ESTABLISHED! And Highly Recommended for a Spring and Summer Drink

Malarial
Scarlet
Tyhoid
FEVERS

Can be prevented to a great extent by the use of the

SUNNYSIDE..
..Spring Water.

References and testimonials can be furnished on application by responsible parties.

This Pure Spring Water will be delivered to your house or office fresh from the spring every morning, at the following prices

One gallon every week day, per month......$1 00
" " three times per week 50
Single Gallon.......... 05

All orders left at Dean's will receive promt attention.

HUBERT H. GATES,
P. O. Box 481.
17-tf

Crescent · House,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
Pleasantly Located.
Heated by Steam.
Table First-Class.
S. T. CAPRON, Prop'r.
33-tf

J. A. GEB.
House and Sign Painter.
Plain and Decorative Paper Hanging.
FIRST-CLASS WORK GUARANTEED
SHOP AND RESIDENCE,
McCARTHY STREET.
22-1y

G.A. Martin, M.D.,
..AND...
C.B.Hussey, M. D.
PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS
Office--FLETCHER'S BLOCK, MAIN ST
Hours from 8 to 9 a. m. 1 to 2 and 7 to 8 p. m.

DR. C. H. RANDALL,
Physician and Surgeon,
(Cor. Main and Emmons Sts.)
Hours—8 to 9 a. m., 1 to 2 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m.
∴ Diseases of Nose and Throat a specialty

A.J.Gallison, M.D.
PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.
Office No. 2 Dean avenue. Hours 8 to 9 a. m 1 to 2, 7 to 8 p. m.
12-tf

DR. J. CUSHING GALLISON.
No. 2 Dean avenue, Franklin.
Office Hours: Morning, 8 to 9. Afternoon, 2 to 3.30. Evening, 7 to 8.
92-tfS

MRS. E. F. STETSON,
'CHIROPODIST.'
Painless Removal of Corns, Bunions and Ingrowing Nails.
Office hours from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of each week.
9 MAPLE ST.—Near brick schoolhouse.
18-tf

O. F. METCALF & SONS.
HAY, GRAIN AND LUMBER
Shop Work and Cases.

MEDWAY SAVINGS BANK,
MEDWAY, MASS.

M. M. FISHER, President. Vice-Presidents A. M. B. Fuller, A. Park, S. G. Clark.
Clerk and Treasurer, W. H. Upton.
Committee of Investment—M. M. Fisher, W. H. Cary, Sumner Robbins, S. G. Clark, W. P. Clark, O. R. Drake, W. L. Palmer.
Dividends declared and payable the first Monday in June and December.
Bank open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m., except holidays.
MONEY TO LOAN
On first-class Bonds and Mortgages.

DON'T SWEAR
JUST SMILE

At Your Toes,

that are giving you such excruciating pains from corns, for Schlotterbeck's Corn Cure will give you relief and permanent cure by using it according to directions given.

Schlotterbeck's IS THE BEST AND MOST EASILY APPLIED CORN CURE IN THE MARKET, and will cure bunions, corns and warts.

SOLD BY

A. C. DANA & SON. Pharmacy.
DANA BLOCK.

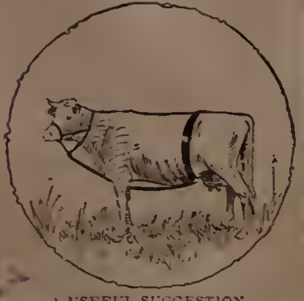
WRENTHAM.

Mrs. Sarah Tilson, widow of the late Frank Tilson, died Monday morning after an illness extending over a period of ten years, the immediate cause of death being from a cancer. She was in her 81st year.——D. D. G. M. S. W. Cook and suite of North Attleboro installed the officers of Wampum lodge Tuesday evening. A light lunch was served.——An entertainment will be given in Hawes chapel Wednesday night for the benefit of the bazar for the Congregational society.——Rev. J. W. Alexander preached at the Congregational church Sunday.——I. W. Pond and family are spending their vacation with relatives in Maine.——Mrs Margaret K. Bates entertained the members of the Holly club at her summer residence Friday afternoon from 4 until [illegible] o'clock.——The members of the Holly club are to be the guests of Mrs. Bates at Elmshade Friday afternoon from 4 to 9.——The ladies of Trinity Guild cleared over $1[illegible] at the recent fair.

TWO USEFUL HINTS.

How to Keep Cows from Sucking Themselves and Fouling Platforms Where Gutter Is Used.

To Prevent a Cow from Sucking Herself.—I had a fine Jersey heifer that got into the habit of sucking herself. I put a web halter on her and strap around her in front of the udder, then took a jockey stick such as used when a team is driven with a single line, just long enough to reach from halter to strap, in front of and just near enough to udder not to touch, passing between front legs. I kept it on her for about two months, then took it off, and in about three months she resumed the habit.



A USEFUL SUGGESTION.

To Keep Cows from Fouling Platform Where Gutter Is Used.—Place a scantling or pole across just above the point of shoulder just high enough so as not to touch when standing at the manger. Cows will soon learn to step back and make their deposits in gutter. Since using above do not find it necessary to wash udder as formerly, as they keep clean.—D. M. Neikirk, in Ohio Farmer.

The Combination Too Strong.

"Your mother agrees with me exactly, Johnny," said his father, proceeding to trim the twigs from a tough switch. "She thinks, with me, that you need a good trouncing, and you are going to get it, my son."

"Yes," bitterly exclaimed Johnny. "You and maw always agrees when it comes to lickin' me. You and maw's the whole thing. I don't never have no show. This family's run by a trust!"—Chicago Tribune.

TYPEWRITING done at THE SENTINEL office.

A Foregone Conclusion.

"What a tall girl Brigham's daughter has grown to be! She must be six feet at least."

"Yes, but she's a mighty nice girl and the little fellow that's going to marry her will be a lucky chap."

"Who is he?"

"I don't know."

"But you just spoke of him as a little fellow."

"Well, being a tall girl, she wouldn't marry any but a little fellow, would she?"—Chicago Daily News.

An Acquired Talent.

"Ma, Mr. Boxer was speakin' about pa's gettin' a medal for the way he fought at Santiago, an' he said pa wasn't a natural born fighter."

"What else did he say?"

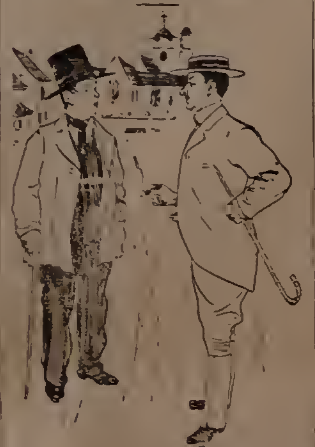
"He said pa acquired it all since he was married."

"Well, you just run right over to Mr. Boxer's and tell him I want to see him as quick as he can get here."—Cleveland Leader.

A Seasonable Suggestion.

Now as the prudent family man
For winter makes his preparation,
He sees 'twould be a first-rate plan
For folks to have a coaling station.
—L. A. W. Bulletin.

A NOVEL MAUSOLEUM.



"That's a good-sized hat of yours, John."

"Ah! Master George. I bought that hat 12 years ago to bury the missus in!"—St. Paul's.

Capable of Anything.

Bacon—Do you think he will take the initiative?

Egbert—Why, that fellow would take anything!—Yonkers Statesman.

Still Worse.

"It's just as folks said it would be. He deserted her last week."

"Left her without a pang, I suppose."

"Worse than that. He left her without a penny."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

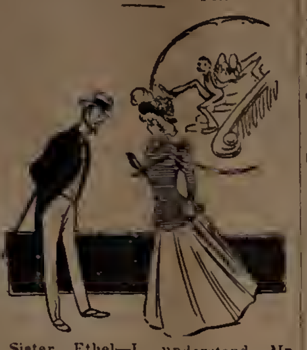
No Gripe, Pain

Or discomfort, no irritation of the intestines—but gentle, prompt, thorough healthful cleansing, when you take

Hood's Pills

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents.

AN INVOLUNTARY SPRING.



Sister Ethel—I understand Mr. Noodle sprung from a fine old house.

Brother Jack—Yes. I'm told his father kicked him into the street.—N. Y. World.

Spend your vacation on old ocean instead of the dry, hot country. Take the Plant Line to the Provinces and see something of a foreign land. Don't feel obliged to take a stateroom; a free berth in the cabin is better than the average farm house quarters. A fourteen hundred mile cruise inside of a week. Stop over allowed. Living in the Provinces cheaper than staying at home. Send for advertising telling all about it, to J. A. Flanders, New England agent, 290 Washington street, E. H. Downing, agent 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston.

Hoag Lake

PARK.

WEEK OF JULY 23

Afternoons at 3.15.
Evenings at 8.30.

BOOM'S NEW YORK MINSTRELS.

UNDER DIRECTION OF MORRIS BOOM.

je28-tocl

PLANTLINE

TO THE PROVINCES.

Cheapest and Best Ocean Trip Out of Boston.

1400 MILES FOR $18.00.

Points of interest include HALIFAX, STRAITS OF CANSO, CAPE BRETON, BRAS D'OR LAKES, PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND and NEWFOUNDLAND. Elegant steamships La Grande Duchesse, Halifax and Florida. From north side Lewis Wharf for HALIFAX, HAWKSBURY and CHARLOTTETOWN, every Tuesday, 12 noon. Every Saturday 2 p. m. New line to SYDNEY every Friday 10 a. m. Illustrated advertising free.

J. A. FLANDERS, N. E. Agent,
290 Washington St., Boston.
E. H. DOWNING, Agent,
20 Atlantic Ave., Boston.
jly24 tno24

WANTED.

Experienced Fur Felt Finishers,
about July 16th, on Ladies' Felt Hats.

Address HIRSH & PARK,
Medway, Mass.

y3-1m

NOTICE.

Estate of Sarah P. M. Wiley, late of Medway, in the county of Norfolk, deceased, represented insolvent. The subscribers having been appointed by the Probate Court for said county commissioners to receive and examine all claims of creditors against the estate of said Sarah P. M. Wiley hereby give notice that six months from the twenty-seventh day of June, A. D. 1900, are allowed to creditors to present and prove their claims against said estate, and that they will meet to examine the claims of creditors at the store of A. Malder, Central street, Holliston, on the thirty-first day of August next, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

DANIEL W. BALL.
ALOISE MALDER.
Commissioners.

Holliston, July 21, 1900. jly24,31,au7

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Edwin J. Pond, late of Providence, in the state of Rhode Island, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

METCALF E. POND.

Address Franklin, Mass.
July 7, A. D. 1900. jly10,17,24

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed administrator of the estate of Erastus A. Pond, late of Rutland, in the state of Vermont, deceased, intestate, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bond, as the law directs. All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same, and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to

METCALF E. POND.

Address Franklin, Mass.
July 7, A. D. 1900. jly10,17,24

So Sarcastic.

Willie—I once knew a girl who nearly died from ice cream poisoning.

Nellie—The very idea! I would never have dreamed of such a thing happening to a girl of your acquaintance.—Indianapolis Journal.

Very Green.

She—Did your grandfather live to a green old age?

He—Well, I should say so! He was buncoed three times after he was 70.—Harlem Life.

A Musical Family.

Patience—Did you say that she came from a musical family?

Patrice—Yes; she has a brother who is a drummer and her father is a tutor.—Yonkers Statesman.

In the South Pacific Isles.

Umbopo—The king has ordered his chief cook to seize his majesty's mother-in-law, and after boiling her to pass her through a strainer.

Umslopogas—Evidently another case of strained relations.—N. Y. Journal.

He May Be Deceived.

"How sober he seems to-night," said Gaswell to Dukane, alluding to Spiffin.

"But appearances are deceitful," replied Dukane.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

A Good Match.

"Aren't you sorry for that man Miss Kabbitt is going to marry? She's such a talker."

"Sorry for him? Land, no! He's a barber."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Not Untimely.

The Friend—And did no physician attend your husband during his last illness?

The Widow—No; poor John died a natural death.—N. Y. Journal.

A Pleasant Reminder.

"I'm afraid that if you marry my daughter she'll learn to forget me."

"If you feel that way you might let her see your name on a check about once a month."—Town Topics.

Something Awful.

Quizzer—Are times so very hard?

Guyer—Yes, indeed! Why, a man told me to-day that he couldn't even collect his own thoughts.

Many thousands have been restored to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. If afflicted with any throat or lung trouble, give it a trial for it is certain to prove beneficial. Coughs that have resisted all other treatment for years, have yielded to this remedy and perfect health restored. Cases that seemed helpless, that the climate of famous health resorts failed to benefit, have been permanently cured by its use. Bear in mind that every bottle is warranted and if it does not prove beneficial the money will be refunded to you. For sale by Albert C. Mason, druggist.

Builds up the system; puts pure, rich blood in the veins; makes men and women strong and healthy. Burdock's Blood Bitters. At any drug store.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher
The Kind You Have Always Bought

...OUR...

Effervescent Lithia Tablets

...CURE...
CHRONIC RHEUMATISM,
GOUTY CONDITION
AND
CHRONIC STOMACH DISORDERS.

25c. Bottle....

ALBERT C. MASON, Druggist

PUBLIC TELEPHONE STATION.

FALES, the Grocer

NEVER FAILS THE HOUSEKEEPER.

Choice, not Cheap, Goods Our Specialty.

All of Kennedy's Famous Crackers and Cookies in 5 and 10c. packages for luncheon or picnic. See our list.

FALES, the Main Street Grocer.

no17-8

Coal! Coal!

Now is the time to lay in your Winter stock, as the

PRICE WILL ADVANCE IN A FEW DAYS.

JAMES F. RAY,

The Coal Dealer,
DEPOT STREET.

jly10-8

FOR SALE.

Two Grocery Wagons, one Grocery Pung, Harnesses, all Fixtures suitable for grocery business. Also, stock of Groceries. Will be sold in whole or part.

Apply to J. B. McKINNON.

A HOME...

If you have one you are glad of it; if you haven't one you'll be glad to have one. It is not profitable to pay board,

FOR...

what you pay in that way will go a long way towards paying for the very furniture you are using. Probably you would prefer to select more modern furnishings.

$5.00...

per month will pay for furniture and carpets enough to furnish a modern home with all the necessities and comforts enough to make the ordinary mortal supremely happy. We charge no interest. We only ask your promise to pay a little at a time as you earn it and you have the goods set into your house at once.

The Weeks Furniture Co.,
48 NORTH MAIN ST.,
Near Opera House.
WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Store open Wednesday and Saturday evenings.

Lake Pearl,

WRENTHAM, MASS.

WM. L. ENEGREN, Jr., - - Proprietor
S. N. STEPHENS, - - General Manager

Attractions This Week

Afternoons at 3.30, Evenings 8.30.

Al and Mamie Anderson, the black mascots.

Frank Cushing and Millie Castino, the novel acrobatic creators.

Howard & Sheafe, with Edison's biograph.

The fun-maker; Frank Clayton, in an act full of action.

ADMISSION to the Grounds, 10c. Children, 5c. Reserved Seats in Amphitheatre 5 and 10c. extra.

Boating, Bowling, Shooting, Swings, Natural Amphitheatre, Bicycle Track, Flying Horses, Donkey Cart, etc. Pettee, the popular photographer, will be open for business for the season and Prof. Stevens of Boston has been engaged for the season to amuse young and old with a Punch and Judy entertainment.

Electric cars will run to the Lake and trains on the Wrentham branch of the N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. run within five minutes' walk of the Lake.

Churches, societies, military organizations and private parties can obtain the use of the grounds by applying to W. L. Enegren, Jr., Wrentham, Mass.

Good accommodations for horses.

Circulars free on application.

THE CANNING SEASON

Is at hand. You can find Glass Jars, Rubbers, Preserving Kettles, Porcelain-Lined Kettles, Fruit Tunnels, Stew Pans, great and small.

Also a fine lot of Water Sets.

CALL AND EXAMINE

W. E. Crowninshield
2 METCALF BLOCK.

my4-4m8

Farming Machinery

Farmers of this section will find it to their advantage to inspect our line of McCormick Mowers, Rakes and Reapers, the Osborn Mower and Disk and Spring-Tooth Harrows, the Morgan Spading Harrows, the Reynolds Hay Spreader, Wierd's Plows and other farming machines at prices to suit the times. No wide-awake farmer can afford to work without some of these machines.

As always, we shall be headquarters this season for HORSES. Heavy Draft and Driving Horses suitable for all purposes.

T. L. MARTIN, Veterinary
Summer St., Franklin, Mass.

ap278

Business Announcements in the cent-a-word column in the SENTINEL are invariably read.

THE ROSE = FOR LOVE.
SUNRISE = = FOR BEAUTY.
"COOK CO." = FOR BARGAINS.

GO-CARTS, $8.00 == Nice.

Never heard a baby complain yet. Babies are all right in one of "Cook's Rolling Stock. Assortment is complete.

Same Good Old Terms--A Little Down, Then $1.00 or 50c. Weekly.

Everybody waits for their car in our store—so nice and cool. Try it.

AUSTIN S. COOK & CO.,
67 and 69 MAIN ST., WOONSOCKET, R. I.

Free delivery at your home the hour you name.

MEDFIELD AND MEDWAY ST. RY. CO.

CARS LEAVE Franklin for Medway, Millis, Medfield, Westwood and Dedham at 7 a. m. and every half hour until 10.30 p. m. RETURN, leave Dedham at 6 a. m. and every half hour until 9.30 p. m. Last car Franklin to Westwood 11 p. m.

SUNDAYS—First car one hour later in morning, last car one hour earlier in evening, each way.

Cars connect at Medway with cars for Milford and So. Framingham. Cars connect at Dedham for Norwood, Walpole, Forest Hills, Hyde Park and Boston.

Time table subject to change without notice.

EDW. C. SPRING, Sup't.

jly10-tf8

Chilson's Market

Sirloin Steak	25c	3 lb. pails lard	33c
Rump "	25c	5 lb. pails lard	50c
Round "	18c	Bacon, strip	12c
Thick Ribs, C. Beef, 10 to	12c	Smoked Shoulder	11c
Fancy Brisket	10c	Haxall Flour, every barrel warranted	$5.00
Thick Flanks	6c

Best Butter in Town.

CHILSON,

POST OFFICE BLOCK.

fe-1y8

Hattie M Fisher 1 Jan 01

The Franklin Sentinel.

VOL. XXIII. NO. 60. FRANKLIN, MASS., FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1900. SINGLE COPIES 3 CENTS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

	Page
Annual Meeting Benj. Franklin Savings Bank	2
N. C. Nye	4
Marston Sanborn	4
W. S. Johnson, Special Agent The Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York	4

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Office Hours from 6.30 a.m. to 7.30 p. m. Saturdays, 6.30 a. m. to 8.15 p. m. Sundays from 9 to 10 a. m. Money Order Department from 6.30 a. m. to 7 p. m.

MAILS OPEN FROM

North, South East and West	7.20 A. M.
North, South, East, West, Sunday	9.30 "
Providence	7.20 "
Eastern States and Provinces	9.30 "
West and South	12.00 P. M
Eastern States and Provinces	1.25 "
" "	4.40 "
West and South	5.10 "
Providence	8.40 "
Boston and East	6.40 "
Milford	6.40 "

MAILS CLOSE FOR

Providence	9.05 A. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	8.45 "
West and South	9.00 "
Milford	9.00 "
Eastern States and Provinces	11.30 M.
West and South	4.15 P. M.
Eastern States and Provinces	4.50 "
North, South, East and West	7.15 "

Sunday Mail closing in all directions at 5 P. M.

HENRY A. TALBOT, P. M.

Franklin, Mass., June 18, 1900.

FRANKLIN ELECTRIC FIRE ALARM.

BOX 6—Corner Cross and Central streets.
8—Central street, head of Summer street.
13—Corner Emmons and Main streets.
23—Arlington street, near corner Wachusett street.
24—Nason's Crossing.
32—Corner Union and Central streets.
41—Union street, near Beaver, opposite St. Mary's Church.
43—Corner of Garfield and Crescent streets.
Two Blasts—Fire out.
One Blast—Testing apparatus.

Directions for Giving an Alarm

Being sure that a fire actually exists, go to the nearest box, unlock, pull down the hook and let go. The apparatus works automatically. Close the box and remain until the firemen arrive to direct them to scene of the fire

Electric Railway Service.

Electrics leave the post office for Woonsocket at 6 a. m. and every hour thereafter till 10.45 p. m. For Wrentham and Attleboro, 6 00 till 10.15 p. m. For Lake Pearl at 12.45 p. m. and every half hour thereafter till 10.15. During forenoon car makes no connection at Eagle Hill for the Lake. For Medway and Dedham at 7 a. m and every half hour till 10.30 p.m. Sundays, time of starting on both lines one hour later.

FRANKLIN NEWS IN BRIEF

Latest Local Events and Personal Items of Interest to Readers.

Charles A. Briggs left today for an outing at Portland, Me.

Miss Edith Hodge is spending a few weeks at East Machias, Me.

Miss Bessie McBain of Dorchester is visiting Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Martin.

James E. Ryan and Miss Maud E. Pierson were married in Millis on Wednesday.

Mrs. A. C. Mason is the guest of Dr. and Mrs. D. P. A. Jacoby at Newport, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Stowers of North Andover Depot are visiting friends in town.

Miss Hattie Bly of Union street has accepted a position as clerk in Fairfield's bakery.

The condition of A. H. Mann, who was operated upon for appendicitis, is improving

Miss Nellie and Henry Byrnes left Tuesday for a month's stay at Dartmouth, N H.

Mrs D. M. Hodge left yesterday for a few weeks' visit to her old home at Jeffersonville, N. Y.

E. A. Bryan, clerk in Mason's drug store, is spending a couple of weeks at Summerside, Nova Scotia.

Mr. Micheline of Reading, Penn., has been the guest of his father-in-law, R. Fiorani the past few days.

Miss Mary Murphy and Miss Annie Connors of Watertown are visiting at the homes of their parents here.

Our Boys will play the North Bellingham team tomorrow. The battery for the Franklin team will be Feeley and McKenzie.

Mrs. E. E. Waite, in company with her neice, Miss Cora Waite of Providence, are spending a two weeks' vacation at Nantucket.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Judd have been entertaining his sister, Mrs. Charles H. Wheat, her husband and child, from Windsor, N. Y.

Sophie M. Edderly passed away at her home in Norfolk, Tuesday, at the advanced age of 80 years. The funeral was held yesterday.

Ten of the members of the Franklin Country club qualified last Saturday to play in the golf tournament at North Attleboro tomorrow.

Jacob Schafer, of City Mills, brother of Romy and Valentine Schafer, left Wednesday evening for Germany, on a visit to his relatives there.

Miss Annie Cody and Miss Theresa Darling of Dedham have been the guests of Mrs. Wm. G. Cody, corner of Union and Central streets.

The recently elected officers of Divison 8, A. O. H., will be installed next Monday evening. Refreshments will be served after the ceremonies.

The celebrated Norwood Brass band will give a sacred concert next Sunday and every Sunday for the rest of the summer at Lake Pearl from 2 to 5 p. m.

Miss Ella Daniels, accompanied by her brother Oscar of Lincoln street, left town Wednesday for New York, where they will spend a vacation of a few weeks.

Miss Emma Estelle, wife of Thomas died at Norfolk, Monday, aged 29 years. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Moore officiating.

The funeral of Ernest Daniels was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock Rev. I. W. Sneath conducting services at the home of Wm. Lowell, on King street.

Harry Bates, a former Franklinite, employed by Parker, Holmes and Co., has left that place to accept a position in the office of Samuel Ward Co's. stationery store.

Hayward's mill shut down Wednesday in order to make necessary repairs. It is expected operations will be resumed in about ten days, during which time a new dryer will be put in.

Ames Lodge, No. 3, A. O. U. W., of Woonsocket has arranged for an electric car to accommodate Franklin people who desire to join them in their anniversary excursion around Beaver Tail Light next Saturday.

The many friends of Mrs. Clark P. Harding of Medway, formerly Miss Mame Turner of this town, will be pleased to learn that both Mr. and Mrs. Harding are rejoicing over the birth of a baby boy, born Sunday.

The librarian of the public library desires that all of the books be returned to the library on or before Tuesday, July 31, for the annual examination. The library will be open only on Saturday evenings during August, as usual.

A Newfoundland dog owned by Mrs. Naylor, who lives on the Wrentham road, got in the way of an electric car Wednesday night and met his death. This is the tenth canine killed in Franklin and vicinity since the line has been opened.

An individual appropriated Charles Badger's horse and A. D. Thayer's wagon late last evening to carry four persons to Wrentham. He smashed a wheel near the high school and the entire party "lit out" and have not been caught.

Rev. F. B. Sleeper will preach next Sunday forenoon on "The Glory and Power of the Gospel." In the evening he will give a short discourse on "Success in Christian Work." This will be the pastor's last Sunday in his pulpit before his vacation in August.

Walter M. Mack, who has been in the employ of W. S. Dinsmore, for a number of weeks, has resigned his position and secured a place at Hoag Lake as stage manager. Mr. Mack has been before the "boards" a number of years in this capacity and he will no doubt prove a successful manager.

Mrs. Annie Gallison Hawkins has arranged a picnic for a number of the young people in town and her little son Brunelle will be the young host. It will be held at "Villa Gallison," on the City Mills road, from 2 till 5 tomorrow afternoon, an ideal place for the young lads and misses to enjoy themselves.

The state tax this year amounts to $1,500,000. The apportionment to vicinity towns is: Franklin, $1725; Grafton, $1395; Hopedale, $1965; Hopkinton, $1050; Holliston, $915; Medway, $795; Mendon, $315; Millis, $390; Upton, $600; Uxbridge, $1275; Westboro, $1665; Ashland, $645; Bellingham, $420; Blackstone, $1485; Milford, $3150.

A large force of men is engaged in building a reservoir in the rear of Ray's mill, which is to be used in connection with the mill for fire purposes. This acquisition is something that was badly needed, as the water service for fighting fire could have been better. A number of George H. Grant's men are also at work building a new coal bin for the concern that will hold when finished 1,000 tons.

Charles Bly, while in company with some others on an outing at Kingsbury's pond Monday, was kicked badly, but fortunately not seriously, in the face by his horse. The horse had been standing for some time and became nettlesome on account of the flies bothering him. In attempting to rid himself of some of these he kicked around considerably, and Bly, who happened to be close at hand, received one in the head.

The state railroad commissioners have authorized the following bond issues, the petitioners being the Medfield & Medway and the Milford, Attleboro & Woonsocket street railway companies. The sum desired in each case was $100,000, the bond to be guaranteed by a first mortgage, to run 20 years and pay 5 per cent. interest. The former company will soon ask for a franchise up Holliston street, up vine, Lane and Evergreen streets to Winthrop street in Medway, thence to Holliston.

A number from here are planning to attend the Elks Carnival and Fair to be held at Combination Park, Medford, from July 30 to August 4 inclusive. One of the finest programmes ever arranged has been prepared by the various committees, with horse, bicycle and automobile racing, continuous vandeville of the world's greatest stars in the various lines, combining a feast of amusement, instruction and pleasure Thousands of dollars have been spent to make this a success, and all of New England will be drawn upon as patrons. One day is as good as another and all are good.

The coming of the electric cars to town has made sad havoc among the livery stables. A visit to the different liveries of a Sunday afternoon nowadays will betray the fact that scarcely a horse is out, whereas in the past, before the advent of the cars, to insure a rig for a Sunday afternoon one would have to make himself known at the stables a week in advance. Even then the case was doubtful, and likely, when Sunday came, it would be a rig that had done service for a number of years Now it is different—at the eleventh hour the best in the stable is brought forth.

Supt. Walter F. Patridge displayed the national colors Monday in honor of his mother and father, who came to visit him Sunday night. Geo. I. Partridge was 78 years old Monday, and his wife is 74. Mr. Partridge was born in Franklin and has lived there most of his life. The old couple still enjoy good health and are the parents of nine children, six boys and three girls. Walter F. Partridge, who has for a number of years been superintendent of the Knowlton straw shop, will prove a delightful entertainer for his aged parents during their stay here.—Upton cor., Milford Journal.

As an illustration of the care which the M. A. & W. railway is taking in the interest of safety we note that Conductor Griffin had been relieved from duty and Motorman Tyler has been placed on waiting orders as the result of a Sunday evening episode. The car on which these men came from Plainville reached the Hoag's pond switch at about 7 o'clock. There they should have waited for the regular Franklin car. Noticing a Hoag lake special car on the track and mistaking it for the regular Franklin, the car from Plainville proceeded to the Rand's crossing switch, where two cars were found waiting for the Hoag lake special.

While the farmers were at their picnic at Lake Pearl Wednesday it was "nuts" for the boy who links arms with the berry pail. There was the freedom of the pasture for him, with no foreboding thought of the man with the blue overalls, tucked in the high old boots, the white head surmounted by the white straw hat, and the half dozen lathes torn hurriedly from the hencoop clutched vigorously in his hand. Wednesday the boy could, to his heart's content, thin the bushes, knock any number of stones off the wall, let the bars down and the cows out to graze by the road, and last of all, but not the least, get a cool, refreshing drink at the old well and then enjoy the fun of winding up the pail again, only to let it afterward down and listen as it bounded noisily from one stone to another until it reached the bottom.

The Farmers' club and grange picnic was held Wednesday at Lake Pearl. The electrics were well patronized throughout the day with members and friends of the club and many went by teams. In the morning every one present satisfied themselves by meeting and greeting old acquaintances, contemplating the natural beauties of the park, enjoying the flying horses, merry-go-rounds, boating and dancing. At noon a spread in the form of a good old-fashioned basket lunch was partaken of. A little disappointment was felt by a few on account of the non-appearance of out of town speakers, who were expected, but failed to arrive. This was forgotten in the theatre where a very clever show was rendered for an hour in the afternoon and thoroughly appreciated by all. The rain sent some home, while many stayed to enjoy the dancing. The picnic was a success.

One of our brightest housewives says she makes it a rule of her domestic economy to pay cash for everything, or settle all bills at the end of the week or month; to examine the supplies as they come in to see if they are in good condition, and of the quality ordered. Then put them away in their special receptacles and in the atmosphere best adapted for their preservation; be as careful in the use of groceries which have been bought in large quantities as though they had been bought in small parcels; to buy fruit, vegetables, game, poultry, meat and fish when they are in season, instead of paying high prices for unseasonable delicacies which are not at their best; to use all "left-overs." Tiny scraps of meat and vegetables, and even a spoonful of gravy, will all contribute to material for croquettes and soups; and a teaspoon of jam or jelly will serve to flavor a pudding or sauce.

A number from here have been "working" the railway company for a ride to Woonsocket for ten cents, the fare being but five to Hoag and five thence to Woonsocket, stopping over one car at Hoag to do the job. A Woonsocketer tried it on Tuesday evening to his sorrow. His name was T. F. Sweeney. He rode from here to Hoag lake and jumped off, but took the same car for Woonsocket. He was asked by the conductor for his fare, and he in turn asked for a transfer, as they change crews at Bellingham switch, and if a passenger is not provided with a transfer another fare is collected. The transfer was refused by the conductor, and Mr. Sweeney refused to pay his fare unless he received a transfer. An argument of short duration followed, and when the railroad bridge, which the car passes under, between Bellingham and Hoag lake was reached he was put off the car. He threatens legal procedure.

The farmers in that part of the township where Frank H. Randall watches the rising sun consider that one man benefits his neighbors as well as himself by keeping a dog. The dog is an intelligent canine, and although he speaks only the dog language, it has a mission, to which it steadily devotes itself. Its motto is death to skunks and woodchucks, and it has shown its ability in its particular line by bringing in during the past year 162 of these animal pests, occasionally two at a time. As a result the vicinity, a year ago overrun with these destroyers of the farmers' produce, is becoming a place where the tiller of the soil has to fight only boys, worms and the weather to get some return for his labor.

Summer street has an old landmark in the Haywood house. It is one of the oldest buildings in town, and tradition gives it the credit of once serving as a hotel, with the story that while devoted to the service of the public one traveler tarried there and was never seen afterwards. This is a tradition so bound up in the uncertainty of old times that no particulars of name or nation of the individual have come down to us of the present generation. Since former times the house has been enlarged, but it retains much of the appearance and many of the characteristics of the ancient days when Taunton and Worcester stages used to pass the door. It has been in the hands of the Haywood family for many years.

One thing that deserves immediate attention of some persons who have the right to look after it, is the free use of indecent language that can be heard from the boys wherever two or three are together. The boys seem not to know that there is any law in regard to to it and care not who bears their swearing and vile talk. It would be a good plan to put up in public places copies of the law in regard to the use of improper language and the punishment for using bad language in the hearing of any one, especially when passing along the streets of the town. No boy can use indecent talk in any way if those who hear him report him to the officers Several half-grown boys need to stop at once for their use of bad language has been so public it will no longer be passed over.

One Released, One Held.

Harry Corson returned home Tuesday noon a free man, friends having arranged matters so that at the trial his release was assured. The case was tried in the district court at Central Falls Tuesday morning, where he and William S. Nickerson were charged with breaking and entering in the daytime and the larceny of silverware valued at $25 at the home of Walter E. Fiske of Cumberland Hill.

Harry was called before the court, but his case was discontinued on payment of costs, for it was stated by the police, who have worked up the case, that Nickerson was the one that raised the window and entered the house, while Corson remained outside. The charge against Corson was the same as that against Nickerson

The latter was identified by Deputy Frank Viall at the state prison as having previously served a term at that institution. The charge against him was read, having pleaded not guilty and demanded a hearing when arraigned last Friday morning in the court. To the charge he again pleaded not guilty, and waived examination. He was adjudged probably guilty and was held in the sum of $500 for appearance before the grand jury, at the September term.

A woman, Mrs. Jennie M. Blanchard, also from Franklin sat beside Nickerson in the court room during the hearing. When officer Samuel Wild was about to lead Nickerson away to return him to jail the woman threw herself upon Nickerson and created a scene by begging the officers not to take him away. She kissed Nickerson and cried at the thought of his being imprisoned. The officers gave her all the opportunity for leave taking that was possible and when the officer was about to leave the court room he had to separate Nickerson and the woman by force.

Legal Newspaper Decisions.

1. Any person who takes a newspaper regularly from the post office, whether directed to himself or another, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay.

2. If a person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrearages or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and collect the whole amount, whether it is taken from the office or not.

Sweet peas at Slade's greenhouse.

The Walking is Good.

The opening of the trolley line to Foxboro has been anxiously awaited, but has not as yet materialized. The grass still grows around the rails lying along the highway gutter, and a director of the M., A. & W. said the other day that there was no knowing when construction would begin.

Matters are a trifle complicated in regard to putting in the line. Last year, when the Foxboro company had built to the Wrentham town line, and thought the M., A. & W., was slow in building to meet them, a local company was formed in Wrentham, back of which was the Foxboro company, and application made for a franchise to Lake Pearl.

As a result of this move and the opposition to it by the M., A. & W. a compromise was made and it was understood that the latter company would build to the Foxboro line by the present month. Then the Foxboro company went into the hands of a receiver, so that there was no one to enforce the agreement, if so inclined. The present status of the matter seems about like this: The contractor for the M., A. & W. has been looking the ground over, but the highway in many places is narrow and the Wrentham town fathers say the railway company must widen it at its own expense. The company says: We will move no walls and pay for no land, but will build if we can have these concessions. The owners of the land say: When we give you land and pay for moving our own walls so to fence the land which we give you, please send us a postal. So the land owners are serene, the selectmen are serener and the M., A. W. is serenest.

Antiques in Franklin.

There is material enough in town to fill a large antiquarian hall, and if the specimens could be collected together and placed on exhibition they would afford instruction and no end of amusement to the rising generation. There are spelling books and readers, bibles and newspapers which bear the imprint of more than a hundred years ago. Tomahawks and Indian arrows, bear traps, skates, snow shoes, bonnet blocks, foot stones, warming pans, brass candlesticks, cranes for fire-places, spinning wheels, pictures and household and farming implements are in great variety, many of which are grotesque and cumbersome; articles of wearing apparel, head gear and gold and silver ornaments, swords and rifles, to say nothing of china ware and plate. Many of these articles were in use before the declaration of American Independence. In several of the old farmhouses in town are chairs and tables, closets of drawers and clocks now in daily use more than a hundred years old.

In some future issue of the SENTINEL its many readers may have more clearly defined some of the antiques now stored away in dusty attics. The Alfred Metcalf house on King street and Henry Peck's house on Prospect street, South Franklin, are rich in these adjuncts of a former time and are too valuable to be longer hidden under a bushel. By the kind permission of these gentlemen the SENTINEL may expect a treat ere long.

W. R. R.

The Christian Endeavor societies of Norfolk county are agitating the question of a county convention. One of the arguments for such a gathering is stated to be that "many Endeavorers who cannot afford to attend the International conventions in this way could more closely come in touch with the work at large, and would also have an opportunity to imbibe the inspiration which is enjoyed at such large gatherings." A number of societies have already voted to support a convention taking in this field of labor by sending delegates and assisting financially.

Emerson's Market.

Watermelons on ice, raspberrries, summer squash, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, cabbages, new beets and turnips, green corn. Try our Imperial cheese. Fresh killed Chicks and fowls, lamb, veal, pork.

Canning is Coming.

If you want nice fruit next winter prepare to can very soon, as fruit is coming on, but don't use your old jars. Our new ones are cheaper, better, and improve the flavor of the fruit. We have the square "Royal" fruit jar, best quality selected glass, with "Lightning" top at 90 cents, $1.00 and $1.25 per dozen. There are none cheaper in the end. Window screens at reduced prices.

HOSIE BROS.

Advertising is business news. It tells the things which are of great daily importance. It is of more account to the frugal housewife to know where to get certain necessary commodities at a less price than usual than to know of the troubles in Siam and Alaska.

If you want the best milk in this town, put up in glass jars at the farm, and delivered by 5 o'clock in the morning address J. C. McInnis. He also has all kinds of fruit in the season.

Send your boys to Ocbee's barber shop for a "clip." They will be more comfortable.

Cut flowers, all kinds of funeral designs well made up at Slade's greenhouse. Roses in small or large quantities.

COMMUNICATIONS.

[The editor assumes no responsibility for matter under this caption. This column is entirely at the disposal of the public, avoiding, as far a possible, trivial and controversial matter.]

MR. EDITOR:—It is about thirty years ago that the Franklin Register first made its appearance. It was the first weekly paper published in the town and it met with great success. There was hardly a business man in town but what advertised in its columns; there were few copies sold in the streets, as most every one was a subscriber. For a time the Register was very ably conducted, but the management sought other avenues for money-getting to the neglect of the patrons, and consequently the paper fell to a non-paying basis. The Franklin SENTINEL, inaugurated by two young men of moral force and mental energy, next appeared and the Register soon closed its doors to its young and stronger rival. There have been other newspapers with Franklin headlines started, but one after another they collapsed. Through all the changes of management the SENTINEL has ever been in close touch with the people, and there are many names on its subscription list today of many people who have never missed an issue since Vol. I, No. I. There are very few country papers that have the local matter that the SENTINEL does. There are about seven hundred and fifty lines of local matter, as any one can see by counting on the first page. To have some adequate conception of the work in gathering this amount of matter, to say nothing of setting and distributing the type, just set about going from point to point and putting into concise shape fifty eight hundred words, for this is what it amounts to. And this has to be gone over with for every issue.

If your readers wish to know what they are getting for three cents let them examine any publication of like character in the state. That the people of the town appreciate the SENTINEL is evidenced on the day of publication by the large numbers who may be seen on the streets and in doorways eagerly devouring its contents.

OBSERVER.

The Congressional Contest.

In our last issue we gave some reasons for our belief that Brookline would not, the present year, press the nomination of one of its citizens for congressional honors. The old 9th Congressional District, to which Brookline and Newton belonged, was made up of portions of Middlesex, Worcester and Norfolk counties. The present district is made up of the same counties, to which has been added a part of Suffolk county. During the last twenty years there have been ten republican congressional nominations. Of these ten, eight have been given to the county of Norfolk, two to the county of Worcester, and none to the county of Middlesex. Of the eight given to the county of Norfolk, six have been given to the town of Brookline.

Now to say that the nomination the present year shall not only be given to the county of Norfolk, but also to the town of Brookline, to the exclusion of Middlesex county, would be certainly appear very unjust and unfair. It must be borne in mind that Middlesex county has always been loyal to the republican ticket, and that more than once it has saved the defeat of the party during the period referred to. If our republican friends in Brookline will carefully and candidly consider the situation, we feel confident that they will acquiesce in the nomination this year being awarded to the county of Middlesex.—Newton Graphic.

Richardson's Market.

Everything that the market affords can be found at this establishment this week. New vegetables coming in daily, fruit, etc. 'Nuff said.

BUSINESS ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Good wages for a girl to do housework. Inquire at SENTINEL office. 24 tf

100 cords trash hard and pine limbs, at Allen's wood yard, School street.

To Let—Small tenement, rear Dana block, $1.25 per week, A. C. Dana druggist 24-tf

For Sale—Coal of all kinds and prices right. A. M. Haggart, Central street, near the bridge. 17Ttf

Good rooms and board may be had at the Franklin House at low rates, from $3.50 to $4.50. A. Briggs, Prop. 7tf

To Let—A tenement of five rooms on Alpine street. Inquire on the premises or at Mrs. Burnham's, cor. Peck and North Park streets. 17 tf

Mileage books to let on Boston and Maine and N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R., trip tickets to Boston, Milford and Providence, all at a saving from regular fare. At Calkin's Studio, over SENTINEL office.

I shall be pleased to greet all old friends of the hotel and many new ones, and will treat them right. Table first-class "All the comforts of home," at Hotel Windsor. J. B. McKINNON, Agent.

The Plant Line will run a cheap excursion to St. Johns, good going by La Grande Duchesse, Saturday, July 28, and returning by any steamer within thirty days. Tickets and all information at 290 Washington street or 20 Atlantic avenue, Boston.

A carload of brewery grain received every Tuesday at Metcalf's station, where any quantity can be purchased. Good for milch cows, hens or hogs. Great saving on grain. Inquire at the station.

Read the Business Announcements.

The · Franklin · Sentinel.

Published Tuesdays and Fridays.

CARL B. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor

MRS. C.B. JOHNSON Associate Editor.

Subscription Price $2 a Year in Advance.

Entered at the Post Office at Franklin, Mass., as second-class matter.

Secretaries of associations will confer a favor by sending us as early in the week as possible such matters as interest the public—election of officers, entertainments, etc.

Contributors would confer a great favor by sending in their articles intended for publication as early in the week as possible.

Contributions of local news are always thankfully received at the SENTINEL office, such as society, church, manufacturing, agricultural and personal items.

ADVERTISING RATES.

space.	1 Wk.	2 Wk.	3 Wk.	1 Mo.	2 Mo.	3 Mo.	6 Mo.	1 Yr.
1 in..	1 00	1 25	1 50	1 75	2 50	3 25	6 00	10 00
2 in..	1 75	2 25	2 75	3 25	4 50	5 75	10 00	16 00
3 in..	2 50	3 00	3 50	4 00	6 00	8 00	14 00	22 00
4 in..	3 25	4 00	4 75	5 50	8 00	10 50	18 00	28 00
5 in..	4 00	5 00	6 00	7 90	10 00	13 00	20 00	33 00
6 in..	4 75	6 00	7 50	9 00	12 00	15 00	25 00	39 00
¼ col	7 00	8 75	10 00	12 00	18 00	24 00	40 00	70 0
1 col.	12 00	15 00	18 00	21 00	30 00	38 00	70 00	125 00

Reading Notices, 10c. a line. Business Announcements, 1c. a word, no notice less than 15c.

Business and Professional Cards, to occupy one-half inch space, once a week, $5.00 per year; twice a week, $7.50 per year.

FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1900

It has been proposed in New York to prohibit by law the publication of scandalous matter found on the persons or in the possession of suicides or of those who have attempted suicide.

Posthumous Scandals.

This, says Youth's Companion, would be a good thing to do. Persons who take their own lives are often insane. If not actually deranged, their minds are in so morbid a condition as to unfit them for calm and accurate statement. It often happens that, with the intention of explaining their act, they leave a letter or scrap of paper which reflects cruelly upon the character of one or more living persons. The sensational newspapers print the letter under glaring headlines, and the injured person has no redress. A mere denial counts for little, and there is no defense against the calumnies of the dead. It would be well if newspapers would voluntarily go farther than the proposed law would compel them to do and would refuse to print the details of suicides. It does not concern the public to know precisely why or in what way some unhappy person has taken his own life. To have the horrors of such deaths enlarged upon and embellished, and perhaps illustrated with shocking pictures, is demoralizing to the public taste. It intensifies the sufferings of the family and friends, whose grief is already heavy; and it does no good to any human soul. Sometimes it unsettles weak minds with a craving for similar notoriety, and so occasions new suicides. It may not always be possible to suppress reports of suicides altogether, but newspapers which have a proper regard for their influence in the community will minimize them as far as may be.

A full-sized grain of corn bearing on it a sprout half an inch long was a few days ago removed from the ear of 12-year-old Kenneth Stubbins, of Chrisville, O., after having remained in the lad's ear seven years. On the day mentioned the boy was seized with a violent earache, and it became so painful that a physician was called. Upon examination, the doctor discovered some foreign substance in the ear, which when removed, proved to be a sprouting grain of corn. On Halloween seven years ago, when young Stubbins was a mere baby, it is said, he was standing in the door of his home, and some merrymakers, in passing, threw at him a handful of corn. One of the grains was thought to have gone into his ear at the time, but after an ineffectual effort to remove it, it was believed it had come out of its own accord.

The war department has lately published a list of the officers and men of the United States army who have received medals or been especially commended for gallantly during the last two and a half years. Two of the 5[illegible] officers whose names are mentioned, and 33 of the enlisted men, are colored. In view of the relatively small number of negro troops in the army, this is a record of which our dark-skinned brother may well be proud. Evidently the color-line is not drawn at the firing-line.

The famous Bonaparte trees on Washington Heights, New York, are dying. There are only about 3[illegible] remaining out of the original 4[illegible]. The trees, which are known as African cypress, supposed to be identical with the gopher trees of Scripture, were intended for the garden of the Tuileries, but when Napoleon was sent to St. Helena the trees were brought to New York by Stephen Jumel, a merchant prince of that city.

A young woman lately had the color of the pupil of her eye restored by tattooing with India ink at the Miami (O.) medical college. Years ago an ulcer involving the cornea, and encroaching upon the pupil, left an unsightly white scar. The patient suffered a three days' ordeal during the process of tattooing.

STARVED HAIR

Slow growth of hair comes from lack of hair food. The hair has no life. It is starved. It keeps coming out, gets thinner and thinner, bald spots appear, then actual baldness.

The only good hair food you can buy is—

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

It feeds the roots, stops starvation, and the hair grows thick and long. It cures dandruff also. Keep a bottle of it on your dressing table.

It always restores color to faded or gray hair. Mind, we say "always."

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"I have found your Hair Vigor to be the best remedy I have ever tried for the hair. My hair was falling out very bad, so I thought I would try a bottle of it. I had used only one bottle, and my hair stopped falling out, and it is now real thick and long."
NANCY J. MOUNTCASTLE,
July 28, 1898. Yonkers, N. Y.

Write the Doctor.

He will send you his book on The Hair and Scalp. Ask him any question you wish about your hair. You will receive a prompt answer free.
Address, DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

TWO-WHEELED CART.

Material for the Construction of One Can Be Found Lying Around on Every Farm.

The wheelbarrow is one of the things no farmer who has much feeding or other heavy carrying to do can be without unless, of course, he has something better. For nearly everything, a two-wheeled cart is handier and easier to handle than the barrow. There may be such a thing on the market but I have never seen it. At any rate, there is the material for the construction of one on nearly every farm, and the farmer himself can construct it on some rainy day or idle spell. For running gears, a broken-down, or disused cultivator—most farmyards have two or three—furnishes the best of wheels. A handy width is from three to four feet, varying, of course, with the use the cart is to be put to. If to be used by the boys of the farm it should not be large. The handles are bolted to the axle, and a frame made of 2 by 4's bolted to the axle and handles. This frame should set so that about a third of its length will reach in front of the axle. This will give the proper balance when pushing a load. A platform of inch boards is nailed to the frame, and an end put up by means of straps of iron, to insure strength. Removable sideboards are made of wide boards. Holes are bored three along each side of the platform. Pins are driven into the bottom of the sideboards to correspond and fit into the holes in the bottom of the platform. At the upper side, on the front end of the board, is a staple into which a hook, fastened to the front end of the box, slips when in place and holds it firm. There are many places about a farm where this cart will be found convenient. Fig. 1 shows the cart complete and Fig. 2, one of the sideboards.—Ohio Farmer.

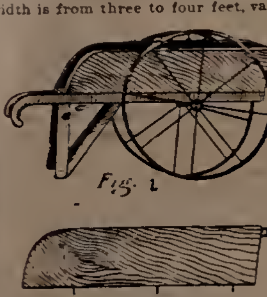

Fig. 1

Fig. 2

TWO-WHEELED GARDEN CART.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

WEST & TRUAX, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.
WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Price 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists. Testimonials free.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Pimples on the face are not only annoying, but they indicate bad blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures them by purifying the blood.

Church Services.

St. John's Church (Episcopal)—Evening Prayer with Sermon at the Baptist church at 4. Sunday school at 3. Rev. Guy W. Miner, Rector.

St. Mary's Roman Catholic church.—Low mass at 9; high mass at 10.45; meeting of sodalities and Sunday-school at 10. Rev. M. J. Lee, rector.

Methodist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. S. Halfyard on "Winning Souls." No evening service. Sunday school at 12. Epworth league at 6.30.

Congregational church—Preaching at 10.30 by the pastor, Rev I. W. Sneath, Ph.D. Sunday school at 12. Y.P.S.C.E. at 6 30, closing with a short address by the pastor. No evening service.

Baptist church—Preaching at 10.30 by Rev. F. B. Sleeper, pastor; subject, "The Glory and Power of the Gospel." Sunday school at 12. Young People's meeting at 6.15. Preaching at 7.30; subject, "Success in Christian Work." A short after service in the vestry.

SHELDONVILLE.

Miss Alice Walsh of Clinton is visiting at B. H. Guild's.

Vera Cook of South Franklin is visiting at B. M. Follett's.

Chas. Barnaby of Dorchester is visiting his cousin Arthur H. Thomas.

Miss Bertha Reed and mother of Boston spent Sunday with C. E. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nash of Charlestown spent Sunday among friends here.

Miss L. B. Hittenger has been enjoying a visit from her cousin of Des Moines, Iowa.

Rev. Wm. Sheafe Chase of Woonsocket will occupy the pulpit at West Wrentham next Sunday.

Mrs. Alice Flint fell last week breaking one of the small bones in her ankle. Dr. Martin is reducing the fracture.

Mrs. Lydie Williams formerly of this place, was brought here last week for interment, from Wrentham where she died.

Broken Bric-A-Bracs.

Mr. Major, the famous cement man, of New York, explains some very interesting facts about Major's cement. The multitudes who use this standard article know that it is many hundred per cent. better than other cements for which similar claims are made, but a great many do not know why. The simple reason is that Mr. Major uses the best materials ever discovered and other manufacturers do not use them, because they are to expensive and do not allow large profits. Mr. Major tells us that one of the elements of his cement costs $3.75 a pound, and another cost $2 65 a gallon while a large share of the so called cements and liquid glue, upon the market are nothing more than 16 cent glue, dissolved in water or citric acid, and in some cases, altered slightly in color and odor by the addition of cheap and useless materials. Major's cement retails at fifteen and twenty-five cents a bottle, and when a dealer tries to sell a substitute you can depend upon it that his only object is to make a larger profit. The profit on Major's cement is as much as any dealer ought to make on any cement. And this is doubly true in view of the fact that each dealer gets his share of the benefit of Mr. Major's advertising which now amounts to $5000 a month, throughout the country. Established in 1876. Insist on having Major's. Don't accept any off hand advice from a druggist. If you are at all handy (and you will be likely to find that you are more so than you imagine) you can repair your rubber boots and family shoes, and other rubber and leather articles, with Major's rubber cement and Major's leather cement. And you will be surprised at how many dollars a year you will save. If your druggist can't supply you, it will be fowarded by mail; either kind. Free of postage.

Travel When the Rates are Low.

Never before have the steamer passenger rates to Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, been as low as $3 for the round trip. Since that rate went into effect hundreds of people who heretofore believed that they could not afford to visit Nova Scotia have engaged passage via the Yarmouth Steamship Company's line, which has four sailings each week between Boston and Yarmouth. Those who have not secured passage should do so at once as the $3 rate is not guaranteed for any length of time. The ocean sail, the cool night on water, the attractions of the Acadian province and the change of surroundings are all beneficial to those seeking a rest. For particulars regarding Yarmouth line excursions inquire at the tourist agencies 201, 298 and 322 Washington street, or of H. F. Hammond, agent of the Yarmouth Steamship Company, 49 Lewis wharf, Boston.

No Danger Whatever.

"Don't on any account sleep on an empty stomach'" was the advice of a physician to a patient.

"No danger o' that," was the reply; "I always sleep on my back!"—Tit-Bits.

One Woman's Wisdom.

Mrs. Diggs—How is it you are so successful in managing your husband?

Mrs. Briggs—Oh, I simply feed him well and trust to luck.—Chicago Daily News.

Dire Vengeance.

She—I heard about the elopement. Has her mother forgiven them?

He—I think not. I understand she has gone to live with them.—Collier's Weekly.

Are All Alike.

De Caverly—Prodigal sons all appear to have one trait in common.

Van Clove—What's that?

De Caverly—They like fatted calves.—Town Topics.

Prompted by Experience.

Wife—I wish I could get something to keep the rats from coming into the house.

Husband—Why don't you do your own cooking?—Harlem Life.

Never Say Die.

Man's head goes into mourning
In quite a different way
In token of departed years
It dons a robe of gray.
—Chicago Tribune.

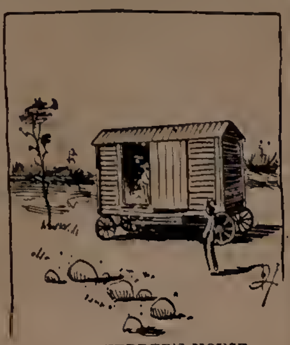
To the Deaf.

A rich lady, cured of her deafness in the head by Dr. Nicholson's Artificial Ear drums, gave $10,000 to his institute, so that deaf people unable to procure the ear drums may have them free. Address No. 5666, The Nicholson Institute, 780 Eighth avenue, New York, U S A. j'27

GOAT HERDER'S HOUSE.

Just the Thing for Southwestern Farmers Who Are Engaged in the Angora Business.

Angora goats are great browsers, eating off the leaves of bushes and trees as high from the ground as they can reach when standing on their hind legs with their front feet up in the trees. Such browsing gives a park-like appearance to any area on which they are feeding to any extent, and that is especially true of the vicinity of their bedding ground. It is therefore of great advantage to change the bedding ground frequently to an entirely new "camp," and this is most conveniently done by sheltering their herder in a movable house, as shown in the illustration.



GOAT HERDER'S HOUSE.

I used to have a tent for the purpose, but this has many objectionable features, mainly because it necessitated building a fence around it to keep cattle from tearing it. It is also impossible to keep out tramps, who sometimes help themselves to the herder's provisions or blankets during his absence. The size of the house is six by ten feet and six feet from floor to eaves, and all that is necessary is to load the "camp tricks," hitch on two horses, and pull it to the fresh camping ground. The herder locks it when taking the flock out to graze in the morning, and I have never yet had it tampered with. It has been in constant use for 15 years.—American Agriculturist.

AWFULLY SAUCY!

"And where is it to be for the holidays this year, Miss Leftonshelf?"

"Oh, I've decided to go to the Isle of Man."

"Really! A case of Mahomet going to the mountain, eh?"—Ally Sloper.

IN SOBER EARNEST.

Mother—Has Lord Noazoo exhibited as yet any signs of affection?

Daughter—Yes, he has tried to find out how much papa is worth.—Illustrated American.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured

HEAD

Ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head

ACHE

Is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents; five for $1. Sold by druggists everywhere, or sent by mail.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York.

Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

mar1-1yF

Eastman Kodak Co.'s

BROWNIE CAMERAS

$1.00

Make pictures 2¼ x 2¼ inches. Load in Daylight with our six exposure film cartridges and are so simple they can be easily

OPERATED BY ANY SCHOOL BOY OR GIRL.

Fitted with fine Meniscus lenses and our improved rotary shutters for snap shots or time exposures. Strongly made, covered with imitation leather, have nickeled fittings and produce the best results.

Brownie Camera, for 2¼ x 2¼ pictures, - -	$1.00
Transparent-Film Cartridge, 6 exposures, 2¼ x 2¼, -	.15
Brownie Developing and Printing Outfit, - -	.75

THE BROWNIE CAMERA CLUB.

Every boy and girl under sixteen years of age should join the BROWNIE CAMERA CLUB. Fifty Kodaks, valued at over $500.00, will be given to members of the club as prizes for the best pictures made with the Brownie Cameras and every member of the club will be given a copy of our Photographic Art Brochure. No initiation fees or dues if you own a Brownie. Ask your dealer or write us for a Brownie Camera Club Constitution.

Send a dollar to your local Kodak dealer for a Brownie Camera. If there is no Kodak dealer in your town, send us a dollar and we will ship the camera promptly.

EASTMAN KODAK CO.
Rochester, N. Y.

THE VALUE OF COWS.

It Depends on Their Capacity to Consume Feed and Convert It Into Butter Fat.

The value of a cow should never be assed on her size, as this is a poor criterion to judge by. The value of a dairy cow depends on her capacity to consume feed and turn it into butter fat. The cow that cannot assimilate a large quantity of feed can never be a good butter cow, as we cannot get from the cow more than we can get into her in the way of those feeds which produce butter.

Last winter at an institute H. B. Gurler said the cow that makes 250 pounds of butter can be credited with a profit equal to the amount received from 50 pounds. The cow that makes 300 pounds of butter should be credited with 100 pounds and is worth twice as much as the 250-pound cow. The cow that makes 350 pounds is worth three times as much as the one that makes 250 pounds and six times as much as the 225-pound cow. These figures are not exact, however, for they imply that the 350-pound cow would not eat more than the 225-pound cow, which is not the case. The cow that weighs 1,000 pounds must have a certain quantity of feed to maintain the vital forces before she can turn any of her feed into milk and butter fat. After this is supplied the surplus she consumes goes either to storing up fat in her own body or to the production of butter fat.

Herein lies the difference in cows. One will not eat enough beyond the needs of her body to make much butter. Such a cow is of no value. Another will eat enough, but it is stored up in the shape of increased weight. This kind of a cow should be sent to the butcher. Another will eat a large quantity of feed and all she consumes beyond her own needs becomes butter fat. Such a cow is the one everyone who makes butter is glad to get. Such cows dairymen should try to breed. No matter what their breeding may be they are valuable.

A Thousand Tongues

Could not express the rapture of Annie E. Springer of 1125 Howard street, Philadelphia, Pa., when she discovered that Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption had completely cured her of a hacking cough that for many years had made life a burden. All other remedies and doctors could give her no help, but she says of this royal cure: "It soon removed the pain in my chest, and I can now sleep soundly, something I can scarcely remember doing before. I feel like sounding its praises throughout the universe." So will every one who tries Dr. King's New Discovery for any trouble of the throat, chest or lungs. Price 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free at A. C. Mason & Co.'s drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

Dolly's System.

When Dolly played her lively airs
In days of old, when we were courting,
I simply couldn't sit them through;
They always set my feet cavorting;
But when we married Dolly found
Her system needed more perfection;
Now Dolly looks, and, lo, I dance,
Poor fool, too weak to raise objection!
—Philadelphia North American.

A Frightful Blunder.

Will often cause a horrible Burn, Scald Cut or Bruise. Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the best in the world, will kill the pain and promptly heal it. Cures Old Sores, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, all skin Eruptions. Best Pile cure on earth. On 25 cents a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by A. C. Mason & Co. Druggists.

What Shall We Have for Dessert?

This question arises in the family every day. Let us answer it today. Try Jell O, a delicious and healthful dessert. Prepared in two minutes. No boiling! No baking! Simply add a little boiling water and set to cool. Flavors: Lemon, orange, raspberry and strawberry. Get a package at your grocers today. 10 cts.

BUCHANAN, MICH., May 22
Genesee Pure Food Co, Le Roy, N. Y.:

Gentlemen:—My mamma has been a great coffee drinker and has found it very injurious. Having used several packages of your Grain-O, the drink that takes the place of coffee, she finds it much better for herself and for us children to drink. She has given up coffee drinking entirely. We use a package of Grain O every week. I am ten years old.

Yours respectfully,
FANNIE WILLIAMS.

Pyny-Pectoral Soothes Sore Lungs and makes tender throats well and strong.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas H. Fletcher

ANNUAL MEETING

OF THE

Benj. Franklin Savings Bank.

At the annual meeting of the Benjamin Franklin Savings Bank, held Monday, July 2, the report of the Treasurer was read and accepted.

Eugene N. Thain and Marston Sanborn were elected members of the corporation and the following officers elected:

President—Davis Thayer, Jr.

Vice Presidents—George W. Wiggin, Lester L. Burrington, Walter M. Fisher, Dr. George King.

Trustees—Davis Thayer, Jr., Lester L. Burrington, Henry R. Jenks, William Rockwood, Bradley M. Rockwood, Charles Stewart, George W. Wiggin, Dr. George King, Adelbert D. Thayer, Edward H. Sherman, Dr. J. Cushing Gallison, Elisha P. Chapman, Joseph P. Bassett, Charles W. Stewart, James O. Chilson, Orestes T. Doe, Eugene N. Thain, Harry T. Hayward, Horace W. Hosie, Walter M. Fisher.

At a meeting of the Trustees, held the same day, it was voted to declare a dividend of 1 3-4 per cent. on all deposits having remained in the bank during the six months next preceding, and 7-8 of 1 per cent. on all deposits having remained in the bank during the three months next preceding, after which the following officers were elected:

Clerk and Treasurer—Charles W. Stewart.

Assistant Clerk and Treasurer—Charles L. Stewart.

Board of Investment—Davis Thayer, Jr., George W. Wiggin, Elisha P. Chapman, Edward H. Sherman, Charles Stewart, Adelbert D. Thayer, Bradley M. Rockwood.

CHAS. W. STEWART, Clerk.

July 25, 1900. 1t

SUMMER BOARD WANTED

By the many thousand readers of the

Boston Evening Transcript

(No Sunday Edition).

THE GREATEST PAPER IN NEW ENGLAND

FOR SUMMER RESORT ADVERTISING.

A few insertions of your card will surely bring the BEST CLASS of boarders, who willingly pay Fair Prices for Good Accommodations.

Many unsolicited testimonials from highly pleased advertisers who have filled their houses season after season by using the Boston Transcript are received each year. We quote from one, dated May 1, 1900:

"Received so many nice replies to the advertisement in the Transcript that I could have filled a big hotel, or at least two or more farm houses of ten rooms.

COTTAGES AND HOUSES WANTED FOR THE SUMMER

If you have one or a FARM to let this season an advertisement in the Transcript will bring you an excellent tenant. Full information on application.

THE EVENING TRANSCRIPT is a clean and well-edited daily paper, with all the legitimate news, besides many special articles on interesting and timely topics. If you have not seen a recent issue send for sample copies.

Boston · Transcript · Co.,
324 Washington St., Boston.

BOSTON AND FRANKLIN EXPRESS.

E. F. WINSLOW, Prop.
(Successor to RAZEE & SON)

Orders leave Franklin at 8.05 and 9 a.m. Goods returned by freight at 2.30 same day.

Franklin Office at Razee & Son's old stand, Post Office Block.

Boston Offices, 75 Kilby St., 105 Arch St. and 15 Merchants' Row.

ap14-Ftf

LOW RATES

3 MINUTES' CONVERSATION

APPROXIMATELY AS FOLLOWS:

For a distance of 5 miles or less, - - 10c
5 to 15 miles, - - 15c
15 to 25 " - - 20c
25 to 35 " - - 25c
35 to 45 " - - 30c

Rates for greater distances in proportion.

Apply for schedule of rates to

New England Telephone & Telegraph Company.

au25F

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW

Enclosed · Arc · Lamps

Now in service at the Bresnahan Grocery Company, People's Clothing Company and O. B. Carter store? If not, look at, admire and order them for your own store.

MAKE YOUR STORE BRILLIANT AND ATTRACTIVE.

Woonsocket Electric Machine & Power Co.

UNION ELECTRIC LIGHT BRANCH,
FRANKLIN, MASS.
E. L. BLANCHARD, Local Supt.

VACUUM OIL COMPANY,

....BOSTON.

Telephone 1839.

A FINE LINE OF

Cotton Mill Oils.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS

Original and Only Genuine. SAFE. Always reliable. Ladies, ask Druggist for CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH in RED and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with blue ribbon. Take no other. Refuse Dangerous Substitutions and Imitations. Buy of your Druggist, or send 4c. in stamps for Particulars, Testimonials and "Relief for Ladies," in letter, by return Mail. 10,000 Testimonials. Sold by all Druggists. Chichester Chemical Co.,

Mention this paper. Madison Park, PHILA., PA.

jly20-4w

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Cures scalp diseases & hair falling. 50c. and $1.00 at Druggists.

[illegible]

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and Substitutes are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Harmless and Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS
Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
In Use For Over 30 Years.
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

BATTLES.

Nay, not for fame, but for the right
To make this fair world fairer still,
Or lordly lily of a night,
Or sun topped tower of a hill,
Or high or low, or near or far,
Or dull or keen, or bright or dim,
Or blade of grass, or brightest star,
All, all are but the same to him.

Oh, pity of the strife for place!
Oh, pity of the strife for power!
How scarred, how marred, a mountain's face,
How fair the fair face of a flower!
The blades of grass beneath your feet,
The bravest sword—aye, braver far
To do and die in mute defeat,
Thou bravest conqueror of war!

When I am dead say this, but this:
He grasped at no man's blade or shield
Or banner bore; but, helmetless,
Alone, unknown, he held the field.
He held the field with saber drawn,
Where God had sent him in the fight,
He held the field, fought on and on
And so fell fighting for the right.
—Joaquin Miller.

An Amusing Woman

She Was Amusing Because She Laughed at Love.

Lucy Armitage had been born in a queer little town in Ohio, and no one who ever lived there had appreciated its queerness so thoroughly as she. Indeed she was so diverted even by her dearest friends that she made herself rather unpopular. People wanted to like her, but it was difficult when she was laughing at them. They always forgave her, however, when she laughed at some one else. And without reservation they admitted that she was the brightest girl in town. So they made a great lamenting when she left there with her family—her family was more or less of an incident—and came to Chicago. Lucy was sorry to leave the little town, too, when she found that she would be lamented. She began to attach some importance to herself, a thing she had previously failed to do because of all the absurd creatures in a world of absurdity she had seemed the most ridiculous. If she had entertained an ambition, she laughed herself out of it. Her attitude toward herself, as well as toward the world, was that of a mocker. And if a ray of sentiment dared to find its way into her mental compound she gave chase to it with derisive mirth.

She did whatever she attempted well. In the village there had been only the home duties to offer vent to her activity, and she excelled in these. When other girls blundered in breadmaking, Lucy turned out white and feathery loaves. When experienced housewives fretted about the monotony of fare, Lucy invented new dishes. She could make dresses and embroider, and mow the lawn, and curry the horse and drive a nail. Oddly enough, none of these things had satisfied her—not even the drawing of nails. They had not seemed worth while, and she had not been interested in her own achievements, but when she got to Chicago and found what an awful hurry everybody was in she got in a hurry, too, though she laughed all the time at the senseless fret and rush and made caricatures of Chicago street scenes on the edges of her schoolbooks. She, who had been an indifferent student, took a fancy to hustle herself through high school, and, that over, she cast about her for some further fields of work. She had decided to become a part of the breathless and preposterous procession.

She went around and looked at the city and made up her mind about men and women and business and politics and religion with the splendid ease and dogmatism of the young. She sent away a number of ardent lovers.

"Love?" said Lucy. "It's an illusion Any one over 40 will tell you that."

"But you are under 20," said one of the protesting ones.

"An accident!" cried Lucy. "A mere blunder on my part. It will take me 20 years of my life to rectify it, and I shall be so busy doing it that I really shall be able to think of nothing else."

To herself she said:

"When I marry, it shall be for—for reasons of state, so to speak. I shall marry a capable, brilliant, physically perfect man. I believe in the survival of the fittest. I believe in the selection of species. This girlish sentiment that entraps other girls shall not waylay me."

And for once she did not know that she was amusing.

One morning she awoke with an idea.

"I am going to be a nurse," she said. The more she thought of the idea the better she was pleased. For what other purpose had that magnificently strong body been given her? She felt as if she could radiate strength and courage. She was taken for probation on the merits of her general bearing and intelligence.

"But I'm afraid you are too fond of excitement," the head nurse said kindly. "You seem to have high spirits. I fear you will not be able to stand the discipline and the confinement."

But it seemed to Lucy the place for high spirits. It appeared to be, moreover, the most exciting of places—as stirring and vital as a battlefield. Here were real tragedies, not mimic ones. Here was the actual heroism. She was interested to absorption. There was, moreover, plenty to laugh at—the pomposity of the doctors, the solemn reverence with which they regarded themselves even in the face of outrageous blunders and erroneous diagnoses and futile experiments, the hypochondriacal whims of the patients, the dry sloughing off of all moral responsibility on the part of the nurses, who came to regard themselves as automata set in motion by the physicians. This phase of the comedy humane was deliciously funny to Lucy. She made herself both friends and enemies by her ill advised merriment.

"Doctors are absurd," she commented frequently. "I have never seen anything so owlish and so ineffective as doctors. The way they set up theories before which we all fall prostrate and the manner in which they knock the same theories over presently while we servilely applaud is truly entertaining. I am glad I came."

"You won't stay if you don't exercise more control of your tongue," one of the truly obedient nurses once said to her.

"Oh, well," said Lucy, "the cars still run by the hospital. I can get away."

But for all her nonsense she was soon counted one of the best probationers the hospital had ever known. Her steadiness of nerve was remarkable. Her pulse remained when she witnessed or assisted at an operation. It seemed as if she could divest herself of her own personality entirely for the purpose of serving the inert creature on the operating table. The majesty of life seemed a poem to her at such moments. To preserve at any cost the fragile, divine, mystic, elusive thing which all the science in the world could never synthesize seemed to her half godlike. The physicians gave her extravagant praise.

"But still I do not like doctors," she said.

Sometimes she did not like patients either. There was one old lady, for example, who never could divest herself of the idea that Lucy was a common servant and that whatever else she did she must never sit down. One day the girl had been on her feet for hours waiting upon the patient, rubbing her, feeding her and caring for her in fifty ways, and at length even her firm young body ached in every bone. She dropped into a chair for a few moments of needed rest.

